ACKNOWLEDGMENT

We acknowledge with appreciation the cooperation given by Mr. David V. Kerns, Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau, with the Statutory Revision and Bill Drafting Department of the Attorney General's office in exchange of indexes, summaries, and revision of sections and chapters, which have improved the field of continuous law reform.

We also acknowledge the fine service rendered by the following Special Assistants to the Attorney General before and during the 1963 Session of the Legislature in preparing either daily bill summaries for the Reference Bureau or drafting bills, resolutions and other statutory materials in the Statutory Revision and Bill Drafting Department.

PREFACE

The official Florida Statutes printed in three volumes and published every two years following the regular session of the legislature, is the most efficient system known to keep all of the general laws in an up-to-date convenient form for speedy reference. This system was promoted by prominent members of The Florida Bar first in 1939 when the existing Florida statutory law was revised and adopted as the official statutory law of Florida, and again in 1949 when the system was reestablished. A conference with a committee of attorneys, representing The Florida Bar in 1948, convinced me that the legal profession in Florida and governmental agencies in particular, needed an improved method for quick access to Florida statutory law. A qualified director for the Statutory Revision Department was immediately appointed when I became Attorney General in 1949. The excellent response received from government officials and attorneys throughout the state upon the reactivation of the continuous revision system reflects a keen interest in the active use of this important legal tool.

The recommendation of the Florida Bar Committee on Revision that we print the statutes in three volumes has met with universal approval; therefore this policy will be continued. Numerous requests have influenced us to include the United States Constitution, the Florida Constitution, and other miscellaneous matter in Volume III along with the general index. This should be more convenient for reference purposes.

The efficient drafting of bills in statutory form by specially trained personnel in our office for members of the Legislature, and improved methods of editing coupled with experience on the part of a selected editorial staff, has already resulted, not only in expediting the preparation of material for publication, but has exerted considerable influence on improving the wording and the mechanical process of statutes.

The practicing attorneys, governmental departments, and the judiciary have contributed many helpful suggestions for continuous improvement in the index so necessary in finding the law. We appreciate the many letters received concerning the use of "The Official Florida Statutes" and the numerous comments since we are constantly seeking ways and means for making this publication more useful for those who use it.

I commend the personnel of the Statutory Revision Department for the excellence of their work, and the members of The Florida Bar and the Legislature for promoting and supporting Florida's efficient continuous revision plan for keeping our statutory law up-to-date.

RICHARD W. ERVIN
Attorney General

An explanation of the subject matter, purpose, plan, and the organization of

THE OFFICIAL FLORIDA STATUTES 1963

BIENNIAL PUBLICATION

The official Florida Statutes, in three volumes, are printed every two years in a completely new revision to keep the statutory law up-to-date.

The biennial plan of printing statutes is a plan which has been in successful use in some states for over fifty years. It is a preventive and a cure for the overgrowth of statutes. Since many of our statutes are short lived, the dead sections are removed and buried each two years. This procedure makes room for new statutes. The amendments and new laws of each succeeding legislature are meshed in with the standing statutes. Subject matter is gradually consolidated and often revised into single chapters, reducing the volume of reading matter.

The biennial edition of the statutes also affords members of the legislature a complete compilation of all the active general law enacted from 1885 through 1963 in a form convenient for study and improvement. Legislators can better acquaint themselves with what the law is and can amend or reject changes with understanding. A section or chapter method of revision with intelligent legislative judgment usually results in a gradual improvement of existing law.

The legislature has authorized the inclusion in this edition of the state-wide laws enacted at any special or regular session since 1961. These new laws have been edited but not changed. New decimal section numbers are assigned when the general law is converted into statutory form. History notes are added to record the legislative chapter and section of the law, which becomes a part of the general statutory law of the state.

The legislature at each session officially adopts all previously published session laws in statutory form. The 1963 laws included in statutory form are prima facie evidence of the existence of such laws until officially adopted by a subsequent legislative act in 1965.

FORMER REVISIONS AND COMPILATION

The laws of general application of the territory of Florida and of the State of Florida have either been compiled unofficially or revised under authority of law and adopted as official statutes in the following publications to wit: Duval's Compilation of Territorial Laws, 1840 (compilation); Thompson's Digest, 1847 (compilation); Bush's Digest, 1872 (compilation); McClellan's Digest, 1881 (compilation); Revised Statutes (R. S.) 1892 (revision enacted as a law); General Statutes (G. S.) 1906 (revision enacted as a law); Revised General Statutes (R. G. S.) 1920 (revision enacted as a law); Compiled General Laws (C. G. L.) 1927 (compilation unofficial); Official Revised Florida Statutes (F. S.) 1941 (revision enacted as a law); the Florida Statutes of 1949 (F. S. '49) (consolidation of '41 statutes and supplements); Florida Statutes of 1951, 1953, 1955, 1957, 1959 and 1961.

CONTENTS OF STATUTES

The Statutes of 1963 adopted by chapter 63-2, contain all the active Florida statutory law enacted since 1885, completely up-to-date through the regular session of 1963. It is the complete official edition of Florida statutory law. (Section 16.19 F.S.).

All amendments of the Florida Statutes together with new legislation enacted by the 1963 legislature, have been compiled and included in this edition (Section 16.44(6)(d), F.S.). The history notes following each section detail the source of the law from date of enactment to date of the present publication; including the section and chapter number as enacted.

ADOPTION OF STATUTES AND GENERAL LAW

All laws in this edition passed prior to 1963 have been officially adopted as statutory law in their present form. The effect of legislative adoption is to cure any technical defect with reference to title, form, etc. (McConville v. Ft. Pierce Bank and Trust Co., 101 Fla. 727, 135 So. 392; Christopher v. Mugen, 61 Fla. 513, 55 So. 273; 63 Fla. 1, 58 So. 486, 89 Fla. 119, 103 So. 414, error dismissed 46 S. Ct. 23, 269 U.S. 594, 70 L.Ed. 430).

LOGICAL ARRANGEMENT OF TITLES AND CHAPTERS

The object of any arrangement of statutes is to facilitate the finding of the law. Two methods of arrangement are in general use in the United States namely: The "logical," grouping of related subjects together, as found in most digests, and the "alphabetical," as used in Corpus Juris and American Jurisprudence. A few states use a combination of both methods. A majority however prefer the "logical" arrangement which we have adopted and use in the Florida Statutes.

We have found it advisable to divide several chapters into parts (Part I, Part II, etc.) based on logical organization or related subject matter.

ALPHABETICAL CHAPTER INDEX

An alphabetical chapter index will be found in the fore of Volumes I and II. This index gives direct reference to all chapters. Chapters are alphabetically listed together with the chapter number.

NUMERICAL INDEX TO TITLES AND CHAPTERS

The "Analysis of Florida Statutes by Titles and Chapters" in all three volumes will afford a quick reference to the chapters grouped under the "logical organization" system. Familiarity with this index will save much time.

It lists by chapters groups of related subjects in a general subject field, in numerical order. Should a chapter be repealed, transferred, or expired by law, the chapter number is followed by the word (repealed), (transferred) or (expired). When vacancies occur in the numerical order, the unused numbers have been reserved for future use. A reference to this index will quickly inform one whether a chapter is still active.

Chapters have retained their original numbers except where transferred or revised.

NUMBERING SYSTEM

The decimal numbering system of identifying sections in each chapter is used in Florida.

All chapters are grouped by general subject matter and each is given a number. This chapter number appears in each section to the left of a decimal point. The section number appears to the right of the decimal point. Thus section 12 of chapter 16 would be section 16.12 in the chapter.

In adding a new section preceding section 1 (16.01) of chapter 16 it would become:

(New) Section 16.001
(Old) Section 16.01

In adding a new section between two already existing sections it would appear as:

(Old) Section 16.01		(Old) Section 16.12
(New) Section 16.011	Or	(New) Section 16.121
(Old) Section 16.02		(Old) Section 16.13

The system provides for vast expansion with addition of new sections as needed without necessity for a complete renumbering of existing sections or reorganization of titles and chapters.

INDEX TO SECTION SUBJECTS AT BEGINNING OF EACH CHAPTER

At the beginning of each chapter you will find a Numerical Index to section subjects within the chapter. Should skips appear in section numbers, the section has been repealed or deleted by law or transferred.

When sections have been deleted the section number together with history notes, giving the chapter number of the general session law authorizing the deletion, is transferred to the "Table of Repealed and Inactive Sections" in Volume III. Our policy is to assign new section numbers to new matter rather than reassign used section numbers. History notes will give full information on any deviation from this policy.

HISTORY NOTES AND CROSS REFERENCES

History notes have been carefully compiled, checked for accuracy with original session laws, and brought completely up-to-date. Beginning with the 1957 edition of the Statutes history notes will cite the researcher to the particular paragraphs or subsections affected by each amendment. The lawyer will find them dependable and convenient to use.

Immediately following history notes, related or qualifying laws are frequently noted in the form of cross references.

GENERAL INDEX

An index has never been prepared which has been entirely satisfactory to all members of the bench and bar. It is doubtful whether that Utopia will ever be reached.

No index can contain every possible entry. An index of such size would be incapable of practical use. On the other hand, to index the law only in those places where the user of statutes should logically look would not be sufficient because many persons are not logical in searching an index. We have attempted to reach a happy medium between the logical and the practical approach by selecting catch-words and titles that are commonly used. Cross references have been reduced to a minimum and a direct reference given to the chapter or section whenever possible in every cross reference.

We have revised the index so that it will be workable for the greatest number of persons. The checking plan which we follow insures that no section has been omitted. Every section has been properly indexed under several heads.

We have attempted to use a noun as a catch-word wherever possible instead of an adjective, preposition, a conjunction or an adverb.

The subject matter with which one is concerned will generally give a key to the spot in the index from which to begin the search.

The index is based on a logical arrangement of the statutes. The user will meet with greater success by looking in a place where it should logically be rather than relying upon alphabetical uncertainties of the index.

All indexes at best are inconvenient and time consuming. Continued improvement can and will be made through suggestions and cooperation of the bench and bar with your Statutory Revision Department.

TABLE OF STATUTORY CHANGES MADE BY THE 1963 LEGISLATURE

A table of statutory section changes made by the 1963 regular session of the legislature will be found on the inside fly leaf of Volume I printed on yellow paper. This table will give, (1) the number of the section when any change has been made in a section or subsection, (2) the type of change made whether amended, repealed, new or transferred, and (3) the number of the session law authorizing the change. This table provides a convenient method of quickly finding out whether the law has been changed in any section or chapter.

(If the section is not listed in this table the law was not changed.)

TRACING TABLE

A table, tracing the classification of general laws into the Florida Statutes, will be found in Volume III. This table indicates where a particular section of a law has been assigned in the statutes. The word "omitted" shown in place of a statute section number, indicates that the act is a local or special act or a general act of local application and is not in the statutes. To find an omitted chapter, consult the volumes of the General or Special Session Laws.

TABLE OF REPEALED AND INACTIVE SECTIONS

Preceding the General Index is a table showing repealed and inactive sections.

When a statutory law is repealed or transferred through revision to a new location in the statutes the former section number becomes inactive. All inactive section numbers have been removed from chapters in the statutes and placed in this table, along with history notes to repealed sections. Normally when a section becomes inactive the former assigned number is seldom used again. As new statutory material is added new section numbers are assigned. When a chapter is revised, consolidated or transferred and sections are reassigned a new location, generally the sections get new numbers.

The table provides a consolidated, ready source of statutory reference to all inactive sections along with useful data relating to the disposition of material formerly included therein.

TABLES OF COURTS

A new tabulation of state, district and county courts revised in 1959 and arranged according to jurisdiction beginning with the supreme court down to the small claims courts will be found in Volume III. It will give information concerning, the date of term of court, and type of courts in each county.

This tabulation is also arranged alphabetically by counties. A reference thereto will save time in determining the courts existing throughout Florida in each of the sixty-seven counties.

CENSUS AND MORTALITY TABLE

The 1960 Federal Census and the most recent mortality table will be found in Volume III.

FLORIDA CONSTITUTION

The Constitution of Florida in Volume III with index has been brought up-to-date through November 1963 amendments. The index has been meshed in with the General Index in order that a person searching for a subject may find references to both the constitution and the statutes in one index. The combined General Index has proven to be time saving and a convenient reference to statutory and constitutional provisions relating to the same general subject matter.

CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES

Upon the request of numerous lawyers and agencies, the Constitution of the United States with index is printed in Volume III.

COURT RULES, INTEGRATION RULES AND CODE OF ETHICS

The court rules, integration rules and code of ethics have been omitted from this edition. They have been printed both by the Supreme Court through West Publishing Company, and by the Florida Bar for distribution to attorneys, and this omission will eliminate a very substantial and unnecessary cost of duplication.

STATUTORY REVISION

Statutory revision technique works primarily with form rather than substance. The Statutory Revision Department of the Attorney General's Office often suggests a revision of chapters where improvements are desirable, but no change in an existing statute is made without legislative approval. The initiation of actual revision of substantive law should be sponsored by attorneys, judges, legislators, or administrators through specialized committees whose members are in close touch with the practice or enforcement of present law. The revisors always assist when called upon, and are interested in all projects and suggestions which eliminate unnecessary statutes, repetition of words and technical defects in the statutes.

Continuous revision places responsibility for ferreting out conflicts, duplications, and eliminating verbosity, circumlocution, obsolete sections, ambiguities, and many other technical faults generally found in session laws. Revision includes constant and continuous work toward the reclassification and consolidation of subject matter. It aims toward changing the wording of a law so that essential clearness and harmony will exist in order that logical arrangement and compactness of the statutes may be obtained. Continuous revision aims toward simplicity in statement and understanding of meaning by the use of, and arrangement of, words and phrases. It helps avoid rhetorical flourishes and ornamentations as existed under the common law, and aims toward setting forth in clear cut and understandable language the present up-to-date law.

The revisor's office is a clearing house where lawyers, judges, legislators, and administrators may help make better statutory law. Persons calling attention to errors, omissions, conflicts and other defects found in the law, can materially help this department to improve our Florida Statutes.

Much valuable time can be saved in original research by reference to the improved General Index in the official Florida Statutes for subject matter reference and then reading the latest up-to-date complete statutory law on the subject in the volumes of the "Florida Statutes."

TITLE I

CONSTRUCTION OF STATUTES

CHAPTER 1

DEFINITIONS

1.01 Definitions.

1.01 Definitions.—In construing these statutes and each and every word, phrase, or part hereof, where the context will permit:

(1) The singular includes the plural and vice versa.

(2) The masculine includes the feminine and neuter and vice versa.

(3) The word "person" includes individuals, children, firms, associations, joint adventures, partnerships, estates, trusts, business trusts, syndicates, fiduciaries, corporations and all other groups or combinations.

(4) The word "writing" includes handwriting, printing, typewriting and all other methods and means of forming letters and characters upon paper, stone, wood, or other materials.

(5) The words "lunatic", "insane persons" and other like terms include idiots, lunatics, insane persons, non compos mentis and persons of deranged or unsound mind.

(6) The words "negro", "colored", "colored persons", "mulatto" or "persons of color", when applied to persons, include every person having one-eighth or more of African or negro blood.

(7) The word "oath" includes affirmations.

(8) Reference to any office or officer includes any person authorized by law to perform the duties of such office.

(9) Reference to the population or number of inhabitants of any county, city, town, village or other political subdivision of the state, shall be taken to be that as shown by the last preceding official decennial federal census, beginning with the federal census of 1950, which shall also be the state census and shall control in all population acts and constitutional apportionments, unless otherwise ordered by the legislature.

(10) The words "public body", "body politic" or "political sub-division" include counties, cities, towns, villages, special tax school districts, special road and bridge districts, bridge districts and all other districts in this state.

1.02 Legal time.

(11) Crude turpentine gum (oleoresin), the product of a living tree or trees of the pine species, and gum-spirits-of-turpentine and gum resin as processed therefrom, shall be taken and understood to be agricultural products, farm products and agricultural commodities.

(12) The term "natural barrier" when used with reference to the possession of real estate shall include any cliff, river, sea, gulf, lake, slough, marsh, swamp, bay, lagoon, creek, saw-grass area, or the like.

(13) The words "registered mail" shall include certified mail with return receipt requested.

(14) Whenever the terms "agriculture, agricultural purposes, agricultural uses" or words of similar import are used in any of the statutes of the state, such terms shall include horticulture and floriculture, horticultural purposes and floricultural purposes, horticultural uses and floricultural uses, and words of similar import applicable to agriculture shall likewise be applicable to horticulture and floriculture.

History.—§1, 2064 RS 1892; GS 1, 2580; RGS 1, 8939; CGL 1, 5858; §1, ch. 16297, 1933; CGL 1936 Supp. 1(1); §1, ch. 17750, 1937; CGL 1940 Supp. 1365(43); subsection (12), §1, ch. 24139, 1947, transferred from §1.03; (13) n. by §1, ch. 57-98; (14) n. by §1, ch. 61-486; (9) §1, ch. 63-572.

1.02 Legal time.—In all laws, statutes, orders, rules and regulations of this state, relating to the time of performance of any act by any officer or department of this state, whether in the legislative, executive or judicial branches, or relating to the time within which any rights shall accrue or determine, or within which any act shall or shall not be performed, by any person subject to the jurisdiction of this state, it shall be understood and intended that the said time shall be the United States standard time of the zone within which the act is to be performed or the right shall accrue or determine.

CHAPTER 2

COMMON LAW IN FORCE; REPEALING STATUTES

- 2.01 Common law and certain statutes declared in force.
 2.02 Certain laws abrogated saving vested rights.

2.01 Common law and certain statutes declared in force.—The common and statute laws of England which are of a general and not a local nature, with the exception hereinafter mentioned, down to the fourth day of July, 1776, are declared to be of force in this state; provided, the said statutes and common law be not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of the United States and the acts of the legislature of this state.

History.—§1, Nov. 6, 1829; RS 59; GS 59; RGS 71; CGL 87.
 cf.—§92.03, The unwritten law of the United States and of the several states, etc.
 §678.52, Warehousemen and warehouse receipts.
 §§775.01—775.03, Common law of England.

2.02 Certain laws abrogated saving vested rights.—All the laws and ordinances in force in this state to the 22nd day of July, 1822, are repealed: provided, nevertheless, that all causes of action arising under and founded on, any of said laws and ordinances, shall be judicially

- 2.03 Certain proceedings valid.
 2.04 Repealed statute not revived by implication.

determined according to the principles and rules of said laws and ordinances, anything in these statutes to the contrary notwithstanding.

History.—§2, Nov. 6, 1829; RS 60; GS 60; RGS 72; CGL 88.

2.03 Certain proceedings valid.—All proceedings which have heretofore been had and done in the different courts of this state in accordance with the provisions of §§2.01 and 2.02 are declared to be good and valid.

History.—§3, Nov. 6, 1829; RS 61; GS 61; RGS 73; CGL 89.

2.04 Repealed statute not revived by implication.—No statute of this state which has been repealed shall ever be revived by implication; that is to say, if a statute be passed repealing a former statute, and a third statute be passed repealing the second, the repeal of the second statute shall in no case be construed to revive the first, unless there be express words in the said third statute for this purpose.

History.—Nov. 2, 1828; RS 62; GS 62; RGS 74; CGL 90.

6.01 Assent to terms of admission into the union.—The State of Florida assents as by the statute approved July 25, 1845, to the terms of admission of this state into the confederacy and union of the United States, and to the provisions of the acts of congress respecting the public lands of the United States in this state.

History.—Ch. 14, 1845; RS 6; GS 4; RGS 4; CGL 4.

6.02 United States authorized to acquire lands for certain purposes.—The United States may purchase, acquire, hold, own, occupy and possess such lands within the limits of this state as they shall seek to occupy and hold as sites on which to erect and maintain forts, magazines, arsenals, dockyards, and other needful buildings, or any of them, as contemplated and provided in the constitution of the United States; such land to be acquired either by contract with owners, or in the manner hereinafter provided.

History.—§1, ch. 25, 1845; RS 7; GS 5; RGS 5; CGL 5. cf.—§§6.06, 253.21, Swamp and forest lands. §§264.06-264.10, Everglades National Park.

6.03 Condemnation of land when price not agreed upon.—If the officer or other agent employed by the United States to make such purchase and the owner of the land contemplated to be purchased, as aforesaid, cannot agree for the sale and purchase thereof, the same may be acquired by the United States by condemnation in the same manner as is hereinafter provided for condemnation of lands for other public purposes, and any officer or agent authorized by the United States may institute and conduct such proceedings in their behalf.

History.—§2, ch. 25, 1845; RS 8; GS 6; RGS 6; CGL 6. cf.—Ch. 73 for uniform procedure in condemnation suits.

6.04 Jurisdiction over such lands; how ceded to the United States.—Whenever the United States shall contract for, purchase or acquire any land within the limits of this state for the purposes aforesaid, in either of the modes above mentioned and provided, or shall hold for such purposes lands heretofore lawfully acquired or reserved therefor, and shall desire to acquire constitutional jurisdiction over such lands for said purposes, the governor of this state may, upon application made to him in writing on behalf of the United States for that purpose, accompanied by the proper evidence of said reservation, purchase, contract or acquisition of record, describing the land sought to be ceded by convenient metes and bounds, thereupon, in the name and on behalf of this state, cede to the United States exclusive jurisdiction over the land so reserved, purchased or acquired and sought to be ceded; the United States to hold, use, occupy, own, possess and exercise said jurisdiction over the same for the purposes aforesaid, and none other whatsoever; provided, always, that the consent aforesaid is hereby given and the cession aforesaid is to be granted and made as aforesaid, upon the express condition that this state shall retain a concurrent jurisdiction with the United States in and over the land or lands so to be ceded, and every portion thereof, so far that all process, civil or criminal, issuing under authority of this state, or of any of the courts or judicial officers thereof may be executed by the proper officers thereof, upon any person amenable to the same, within the limits and extent of lands so ceded, in like manner and to like effect as if this law had never been passed; saving, however, to the United States security to their property within said limits and extent, and exemption of the same, and of said lands from any taxation under the authority of this state while the same shall continue to be owned, held, used and occupied by the United States for the purposes above expressed and intended, and not otherwise.

History.—§3, ch. 25, 1845; RS 9; GS 7; RGS 7; CGL 7.

6.05 Transfer of title and jurisdiction over land owned by state.—Whenever a tract of land containing not more than four acres shall be selected by an authorized officer or agent of the United States for the bona fide purpose of erecting thereon a lighthouse, beacon, marine hospital or other public work, and the title to the said land shall be held by the state, then on application by the said officer or agent to the governor of this state, the said executive may transfer to the United States the title to, and jurisdiction over, said land; provided, always, that the said transfer of title and jurisdiction is to be granted and made, as aforesaid, upon the express condition that this state shall retain a concurrent jurisdiction with the United States, in and over the lands so to be transferred, and every portion thereof, so far that all process, civil or criminal, issuing under authority of this state, or any of the courts or judicial officers thereof, may be executed by the proper officer thereof, upon any person amenable to the same, within the limits and extent of the lands so ceded, in like manner and to like effect as if this law had never been passed; saving, however, to the United States, security to their property within said limits or extent. The said lands shall hereafter remain the property of the United States and be exempt from taxation as long as they shall be needed for said purposes.

cf.—Ch. 17937, Acts 1937, for certain described land in Putnam County declared to be state property.

6.06 United States may acquire state lands for national forests.—The consent of the state is given to the acquisition by the United States, by purchase, gift, or condemnation with adequate compensation, of such lands in Florida as in the opinion of the federal government may be needed for the establishment, consolidation and extension of national forests in the state; provided, that the state shall retain a concurrent jurisdiction with the United States in and over lands so acquired so far that civil process in all cases, and such criminal process as may issue under the authority of the state against any person charged with the commission of any crime without or within said jurisdiction, may be executed thereon in like manner as if this section had not been passed.

History.—§1, ch. 8564, 1921; CGL 9.
cf.—Ch. 17938, Acts 1937, for conveyance of land in Putnam County to United States.

6.07 Power conferred on congress to legislate with respect to state lands acquired for national forests.—Congress may pass such laws and make or provide for the making of such rules and regulations, of both a civil and criminal nature, and provide punishment therefor, as in its judgment may be necessary for the administration, control, and protection of such lands as may be from time to time acquired by the United States under the provisions of §6.06.

History.—§2, ch. 8564, 1921; CGL 10.

6.08 Boundary between Florida and Alabama.—The line commencing on the Chattahoochee river near a place known as "Irwin's Mills", and running west to the Perdido, marked throughout by blazes on the trees, and also by mounds of earth thrown upon the line, at distances of one mile, more or less, from each other, and commonly known as the "Mound line" or "Ellicott's line", and by these names distinguished from another line above, running irregularly at different distances not exceeding one and a half miles from the "Mound line" and marked by blazes only, and known as the "Upper line", or "Coffee's line", is the boundary line between the States of Florida and Alabama.

History.—§2, ch. 165, 1848; RS 2; GS 2; RGS 2; CGL 2.
cf.—Art. I, Const., Boundaries of Florida.

6.081 Florida - Alabama boundary redefined.—

(1) The middle of the Perdido river at its mouth, as defined by the constitutions of the states of Alabama and Florida, is at latitude 30° 16' 53" north and longitude 87° 31' 06" west as the control point; the boundary line at the mouth of Perdido river is fixed, as nearly as may be, in the axis of the mouth of said river, passing through the control point and running north and south and having as its northern terminus a point of latitude 30° 17' 02" north and longitude 87° 31' 06" west, and as its southern terminus a point 1,000 feet due south of the control point; from the northern terminus of the boundary line at the mouth of the river, the boundary up the lower portion of said river be a straight line to a point at latitude 30° 18' 00" north, longitude 87° 27' 08" west, thence by a straight line to a point in the center line of the intracoastal canal at longitude 87° 27' 00" west; the seaward boundary between Florida and Alabama extends from the south end of the boundary line at the mouth of Perdido river, thence south 0° 01' 00" west to the seaward limit of each respective state; and shall be deemed, taken and declared, and is hereby deemed, taken and declared to be the boundary line between the states of Florida and Alabama, at the mouth of the Perdido river and adjacent thereto, and shall be deemed and taken as such by the authorities and people of this state.

(2) Nothing herein contained nor any operations of the provisions of this section shall prejudice the rights or claims of private individuals to any of the lands herein involved whether such rights or claims arise or exist upon the basis that the lands herein defined as being within the boundaries of the State of Alabama were previously a part of the State of Florida or included within the boundaries of the State of Florida or otherwise.

History.—Comp. § 2 and 5, ch. 28141, 1953.
cf.—Boundary.—Consent given by Public Law 351—83rd Congress; House Joint Resolution 347.

6.09 Boundary between Florida and Georgia.—The line run and marked by B. F. Whitner, Jr., on the part of Florida, and G. J. Orr, on the part of Georgia, is the permanent boundary line between the States of Georgia and Florida.

History.—Resolution No. 16, Feb. 8, 1861; RS 3; GS 3; RGS 3; CGL 3.
cf.—Art. I, Const., Boundaries of Florida.

6.10 Confirmation of certain grants of Georgia.—The titles of bona fide holders of land under any grant from the State of Georgia prior to December 22, 1859, in the territory formerly claimed by the said state, which land is within the State of Florida by the line specified in §6.09 remain confirmed so far as this state had the right and power to confirm the same as provided by the act of December 22, 1859.

History.—§2, ch. 1017, 1859; RS 456; GS 645; RGS 1229; CGL 1785.

6.11 Boundary of Florida, east coast.—Wherever the coast line of the state, both along the east coast of the mainland and along the Florida Keys, is in direct contact with the waters of the Atlantic ocean or the Florida straits, which latter is an arm of the Atlantic ocean, the seaward boundary of the state is hereby fixed, defined, and interpreted as, and is hereby extended to, a line three geographical miles distant from said coast line. The term "coast line" means the line of ordinary low water along that portion of the coast which is in direct contact with the open sea and the line marking the seaward limit of inland waters.

History.—Comp. §1, ch. 29744, 1955.

10.04 Legislative apportionment.—

(1) The 1963 legislature shall be composed of the legislators elected pursuant to the constitution of 1885, as amended, and of the additional legislators as provided for in §§10.01 and 10.03, as amended at this special session of the legislature. Any representative or senator elected in the 1962 general election pursuant to the constitution of 1885, as amended, shall serve in said office for the term for which he was elected. The terms of office of members of the senate shall be for four years and the terms of office of members of the house of representatives shall be for two years. Any senator now serving shall complete his term to which he was elected; provided that the resignation or death of any legislator elected at or prior to the 1962 general election shall create a vacancy. The additional legislative offices herein created shall be filled by and at a special election to be held in the affected counties or districts, as provided by law; provided, however, the registration books for the elections provided herein shall close at 5:00 p.m. on the fifteenth day before the first primary election and remain closed for the remaining second primary and general election. The senators elected from the new even-numbered districts shall be elected for a term ending with the general election of 1966 and the senators elected from the new odd-numbered districts shall be elected for a term ending with the general election of 1964; thereafter all senators shall be elected for four year terms.

(2) The legislature shall hereafter reapportion its representation in the state senate at such times as may be required by the constitution of Florida.

(b) The chief clerk shall be elected by the members of the house of representatives for a term of two years, commencing with the first Tuesday after the first Monday in April of the odd-numbered years so as to coincide with the convening of regular sessions of the legislature.

(c) The speaker and the committee on house administration shall approve a budget for the continuing operation of the office of chief clerk. This budget shall include the compensation, payable monthly, of the chief clerk and employees of the office. Sums provided in this budget shall be disbursed by the comptroller, upon requisition prepared by the chief clerk in the regular order and countersigned by either the speaker or the chairman of the committee on house administration, from the general appropriation for the expense of the legislature.

(d) The chief clerk shall, with the advice and consent of the committee on house administration, employ such persons as may be necessary to the efficient and economical management of the office in the performance of its assigned duties. The chief clerk and employees may, upon authorization by the speaker or the chairman of the committee on house administration, attend such meetings of duly constituted legislative committees or other groups as will be in the interest of the house. Such authorized trips may be compensated at the rate and manner prescribed by law for state employees.

(2) The sergeants-at-arms of the senate and of the house of representatives and the secretary of the senate, appointed under rules of the house or senate and other necessary personnel, shall be entitled to compensation preceding, during and following any regular or special session of the legislature, for such time as is necessary to open offices, to prepare stored property for use during the ensuing legislative session, to otherwise arrange for the orderly conduct of the business of the senate and house, to care for and store such property, and to carry out the details of their offices, as approved by the committee on legislative management of the senate or the committee on house administration of the house, respectively, or as provided for by resolutions adopted by the senate or the house, respectively.

(3) For the purposes of carrying on the financial business of the legislature the president of the senate, the speaker of the house, the chairman of the senate committee on legislative management, and the chairman of the house committee on house administration shall have the power to assign duties and to sign requisitions pertaining to legislative salaries and legislative expenses incurred as authorized. From the date of the general election next preceding the legislative session until and after their appointment during the legislative session, these duties shall be performed by the president and speaker designate and the chairmen designate of the senate and house.

(4) (a) There shall be created a permanent office of secretary of the senate. The secretary shall be appointed for a term of two years. The duties of the secretary, in addition to keeping open an office during the interim between sessions of the legislature, shall be to generally supervise all matters pertaining to senate business. Additional duties may be assigned to him by the president of the senate, or the president designate following his election, and he may be called on to assist any interim committee, either as secretary or in furnishing clerical assistance during the interim to any interim committee where appropriations provide payment for such employment.

(b) The secretary shall, with the advice and consent of the president and the chairman of the committee on legislative management and population, employ such persons as are necessary to the efficient and economical management of the office in the performance of its assigned duties. The secretary and employees, upon authorization by the president or the chairman of the committee on legislative management and population, may attend such meetings of interest to the legislature, or duly constituted legislative committees or other groups in the interest of the senate. Such authorized trips shall be compensated at the rate and manner as prescribed by law for state employees.

(c) The president of the senate, and the chairman of the legislative management and population committee, shall determine the salary of the secretary and the budget of the secretary's office, which shall be disbursed by the comptroller upon requisition prepared by the secretary in regular order and countersigned by either the president or the chairman of the committee on legislative management and population, from the general appropriation expense of the legislature.

(5) From the date of the general election next preceding the legislative session until and after their appointment during the legislative session, the president-designate of the senate and the speaker-designate of the house may authorize any committees which have been appointed by them in their respective houses to hold such public hearings or meetings as they may determine are necessary and authorize travel and per diem expenses incurred by the members in the amount provided in §11.13 (3), certified by the chairman of such committee and approved as provided in §11.17. The speaker-designate and president-designate are authorized to incur such travel and per diem as are necessary in preparation for the next session of the legislature. The expenses of such committees and for the speaker-designate and president-designate shall be a proper charge to the legislative expense appropriation for the ensuing session of the legislature.

(6) There shall be created a permanent office of sergeant-at-arms of the senate. The sergeant-at-arms shall be appointed for a term of two years. The duties and salary shall be determined by the president of the senate or the president-designate, following his election. The salary shall be paid from the general appropriation expense of the legislature.

(7) The office of sergeant-at-arms of the house of representatives shall be kept open twelve months in each year. The duties and salary of the sergeant-at-arms shall be determined by the speaker or speaker-designate for the house. The salary shall be paid from the appropriation for legislative expense. The sergeant-at-arms upon his election, shall serve at the pleasure of the house of representatives until his successor is appointed.

History.—§3, ch. 19626, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 103(3); §3, ch. 20839, 1941; §5, ch. 21933, 1943; §§1, 2, ch. 57-51; (4) by §1, ch. 59-462; (5) n. by §1, ch. 59-75; (6) n. by §1, ch. 61-524; (7) n. by §1, ch. 63-293.

11.151 Biennial legislative appropriation; house speaker-designate, senate president-designate.—From the date of the general election next preceding the legislative session there is created and appropriated for each biennium out of legislative expense an unrestricted discretionary contingent fund of five thousand dollars for the president-designate of the senate and five thousand dollars for the speaker-designate of the house to be used by each during the biennium and until the next regular general election in carrying on official duties.

History.—§1, ch. 63-328.

11.161 Legislative expenditures; rental equipment.—The comptroller is hereby authorized to pay such sums as are certified by the chairman of duly appointed committees in charge of legislative expenditures and contracted for on a rental basis as authorized by properly enacted resolutions passed by the house or senate. Such sums may be paid monthly or annually and charged to the legislative expense appropriated in §11.12(2).

History.—§1, ch. 26980, 1951.

11.17 Approval of vouchers for legislative expenses.—

(1) Salaries of members of the senate and house of representatives shall be prepared in payroll form by the comptroller and approved by the president or president-designate and certified by the secretary of the senate or approved by the speaker or speaker-designate and certified by the clerk of the house of representatives, as the case may be.

(2) Vouchers covering all other expenses of the senate and house of representatives and of all committees thereof, lawfully incurred, shall, unless otherwise provided by law, be approved by the president or president-designate and the chairman of the committee on legislative management and population and attested by the secretary of the senate, or approved by the speaker or speaker-designate and the chairman of the committee on house administration and attested by the clerk of the house of representatives, as the case may be.

(3) All vouchers covering legislative expenses shall be audited by the comptroller and, if found to be correct, state warrants shall be issued therefor.

11.19 Legislative reference bureau created.—There is hereby created a legislative reference bureau for the use of the members of the legislature.

History.—§1, ch. 25369, 1949.

11.20 Same; purpose.—The general purpose of the legislative reference bureau shall be:

(1) To assist the legislature of this state in the proper performance of its official functions by providing its members with impartial and accurate information and reports concerning the problems presented to them as such members of the legislature and by providing digests showing the practices of other states and of foreign nations in dealing with similar problems.

(2) To secure information for the members of the legislature of this state by cooperating with the legislative reference services in other states, and with the existing interstate reference bureau maintained by the American legislator's association and by the council of state governments.

(3) To provide the legislature with staff facilities comparable in quality and adequacy to those which the legislature provides for other departments of state government, and to provide such other adequate, expert assistance as may be necessary to assist the legislature in performing its required functions.

(4) To conduct courses and prepare manuals for the enlightenment of officers and employees of various governmental units concerning their official duties and obligations. Fees and costs which may be assessed by the council in connection with such projects may be charged as an expense of the office of such officers or employees. Expenses of attending such courses may also be charged as an expense of the office.

(5) To perform such additional services for members of the legislature as may be required in assisting the members in performing their official duties.

History.—§2, ch. 25369, 1949.

11.21 Legislative council to administer.—

(1) The general administration and responsibility for the proper operation of the reference bureau shall be in the hands of a legislative council, composed as follows:

The speaker of the house of representatives of the state and the president of the senate of the state shall be members of the legislative council. The speaker of the house of representatives shall appoint one member of the house of representatives from each congressional district of the state as such congressional district existed on January 1, 1960, and the president of the senate shall appoint one member of the senate from each congressional district of the state, as such congressional district existed on January 1, 1960, which representatives and senators shall be members of the legislative council, to serve at the pleasure of their respective branches of the legislature. In the event the state is represented in the house of representatives of the congress by a congressman or congressmen at large, the speaker of the house of representatives and the president of the senate shall appoint a representative and senator respectively from the state at large for each such congressman at large. In the event that either the president of the senate or the speaker of the house of representatives shall be incapable or ineligible to serve as heretofore designated, the president pro tempore of the senate or speaker pro tempore of the house of representatives shall serve in the place or stead of the president of the senate or the speaker of the house of representatives respectively.

(2) In the event of a vacancy occurring in the council, the same shall be filled as provided for original appointments, except that such vacancy occurring or continuing after any general election shall be filled by a majority of the remaining members of the legislative council as a whole.

(3) The legislative council shall meet at such times and at such places as shall be necessary to the proper exercise of its functions and shall have the power to adopt rules and regulations concerning its organization and the operation of the legislative reference bureau. The legislative council shall provide rules for the establishment and operation of select or standing committees of the council. The chairman of the council shall appoint the members of such committees from the membership of the council; in addition, each select committee may consist of not more than two members of the house not members of the council, appointed by the speaker and the chairman of the legislative council, and not more than two senators not members of the council, appointed by the president of the senate and the chairman of the legislative council. Each such additional member of a select committee of the legislative council shall be entitled to an equal vote in matters considered by such committee, but shall not be authorized to vote as a member of the legislative council.

(4) Action by a majority vote of the legislative council shall control and be conclusive on any matter properly concerning the legislative reference bureau or council.

(5) The members of the legislative council and members of committees of the council, whether members of the council or not, shall serve without compensation, but shall be reimbursed for traveling expenses as provided in §112.061.

History.—§§ 3, 8, 10, ch. 25369, 1949; sub §§(1)-(3), §1, ch. 26333, 1949; §1, ch. 26770, 1951; sub §§(3), (5), §§1, 2, ch. 29673, 1955; (1) a. by §1, ch. 61-480; (5) §19, ch. 63-400.

11.22 Legislative reference bureau director; assistants.—

(1) The legislative reference bureau shall be in charge of a director employed by the legislative council, and his employment shall be at the pleasure of the council. He shall be chosen without reference to political affiliations, solely on the grounds of fitness to perform the duties assigned to him. The director and all other employees shall have been residents of the state for three of five years last preceding their appointment; but the legislative council may waive the residence requirements for citizens of the United States by a two-thirds vote of all members. The director shall be paid a salary to be fixed by the legislative council. The director shall be reimbursed for traveling expenses as provided in §112.061.

(2) The director shall employ such technical, clerical, and stenographic assistance as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of §§11.19-11.27 and shall fix the compensation of each, subject to the approval of the legislative council. Such employees shall be reimbursed for traveling expenses as provided in §112.061.

History.—§§ 4, 5, ch. 25369, 1949; §1, ch. 28165, 1953; § 19, ch. 63-400.

11.23 Location of bureau; facilities available; interchange of research.—

(1) The legislative council and reference bureau shall be provided with adequate quarters in a state-owned building in the capitol center, conveniently accessible to the members of the legislature. The determination of such location and the adequacy of quarters within the capitol center shall be made by a committee composed of the secretary of state, the president of the senate, the speaker of the house, and the chairman of the legislative council. The bureau shall be kept open such hours as may be designated by the legislative council. The facilities of the state library and of the state institutions of higher learning and of any other libraries maintained by the state shall be available for the use of the bureau. Each state department shall, upon the request of the director, furnish to the legislative reference bureau such documents, material or certified copies thereof and other information as may be desired by the members of the legislature or as may be necessary for the legislative reference bureau to perform its functions.

(2) The legislative reference bureau shall cooperate with the legislative reference bureaus of the other states and shall interchange information and research material with them through the interstate reference bureau, and may, in the discretion of the legislative council, participate with other states in the maintenance of the interstate reference bureau, and any reasonable expenditures for its maintenance as determined by the legislative council shall be deemed a necessary expense of the legislative reference bureau of this state.

History.—§6, ch. 25369, 1949; sub §(1), am. §3, ch. 29673, 1955.

11.24 Services to be performed.—The legislative reference bureau shall perform the following services for the legislature:

- (1) Provide a comprehensive research and reference service on legislative problems;
- (2) Summarize and digest information relating to legislative matters of the federal government, and also the states of this country, and their political subdivisions;

(3) Prepare reports setting forth the social and economic effects of statutes enacted in this and other states;

(4) Maintain a legislative reference room and a small working library, with a minimum of duplication of books and facilities provided by the state library;

(5) Assist and cooperate with any interim legislative committee or commission created by the legislature;

(6) Cooperate and maintain an exchange service with legislative reference bureaus and corresponding services of other states and, when desirable, exchange information with the federal government, foreign governments, and with local units of government in this state; cooperate with the interstate reference bureau maintained jointly by the American legislator's association and by the council of state governments, and also with other agencies which carry on research in governmental problems;

(7) Advise the presiding officers or members of either house of the legislature upon any question of parliamentary law or legislative procedure submitted by any of them;

(8) Upon request, advise members of the legislature as to the economic or social effect of any proposed legislation.

(9) To conduct courses and prepare manuals for the enlightenment of officers and employees of various governmental units concerning their official duties and obligations. Fees and costs which may be assessed by the council in connection with such projects may be charged as an expense of the office of such officers or employees. Expenses of attending such courses may also be charged as an expense of the office.

(10) To make special studies for counties and municipalities as the council may direct, the costs of which may be assessed against the county or municipality requesting the same and paid as a municipal or county purpose.

History.—§7, ch. 25369, 1949.

11.25 Disbursements; salaries and expenditures not subject to control of state budget commission.—

(1) No money hereafter appropriated or accruing to the legislative reference bureau may be disbursed by the comptroller except by warrant upon the state treasurer pursuant to vouchers approved by the legislative council or its duly authorized agent; all receipts by the legislative reference bureau as herein authorized shall be deposited in the state treasury to be disbursed only as authorized by §§11.19-11.27.

(2) The legislature hereby declares and determines that the legislative council has been and shall continue to be a committee of the legislature with interim powers and not an agency of government within the intention of the legislature as expressed in chapters 28115 and 28231, acts of 1953, and that no power shall rest in the budget commission to release or withhold funds appropriated to the legislative council in the general appropriations act or other acts of the legislature, but same shall be available for expenditure as provided by law and the rules or decisions of the legislative council.

(3) (a) The legislature hereby declares and determines that the legislative reference bureau has been and shall continue to be a group of employees selected by the legislative council, as provided by law, employed by the legislature and the legislative council to perform such services as may be provided by law or directed by the legislative council and is not an agency of government within the intention of the legislature as expressed in chapters 28115 and 28231, acts of 1953, and the state budget commission had and shall have no power to determine the number or fix the compensation of such employees or exercise any manner of control over such employees. The selection of such employees, the determination of qualifications and compensation of such employees, and the establishment of policies relating to the work of such employees, including hours of work, leave and other matters shall be the sole prerogative of the legislative council.

(b) The legislature hereby ratifies and confirms all action taken by the legislative council relating to the selection of employees in the legislative reference bureau and the fixing of salaries of such employees in stated amounts or by the adoption of a salary plan or schedule, including the salary of the director as provided in §11.22, as of the date of this determination of such matters by the legislative council.

(c) The provisions of this subsection shall be deemed retroactive to the extent necessary to carry out the intent of the legislature as expressed herein.

History.—§9, ch. 25369, 1949; sub. §§(2), (3) comp. §§1-4, ch. 29659, 1955.

11.26 Director; employees; restrictions on employment.—

(1) Neither the director nor any other employee of the legislative council or of the legislative bureau shall: (a) Reveal to any person outside of the bureau or council the contents or nature of any request for services made by any member of the legislative council, except with the written consent of the person making such request; (b) Urge or oppose any legislation; (c) Give legal advice on any subject to any person, firm or corporation, except members of the legislature; (d) During his employment by the council or the bureau, be associated or interested in the private practice of law in any manner, nor be personally engaged in any other business for profit.

(2) A violation of any provision of this section by any employee of the bureau shall be sufficient cause for his or her immediate dismissal; provided, that this section shall not be a limitation on the authority of the legislative council to dismiss or change its employees.

History.—§11, ch. 25369, 1949.

11.27 Appropriation.—A biennial appropriation shall be made for the uses and purposes of the legislative reference bureau, to be expended only as herein authorized.

History.—§12, ch. 25369, 1949; §1, ch. 26869, 1951.

11.281 Permanent study committees of legislative council.—In order to provide a continuous development of information, the legislative council may maintain the following permanent study committees: Appropriations and auditing, education, finance and taxation, governmental organization, health and welfare, personnel and retirement, public safety, roads, and state institutions. When the council finds it warranted for special purposes or subjects, it may also appoint select committees as provided in §11.21.

History.—§1, ch. 61-290.

11.282 Membership and appointment of permanent study committees.—Each such permanent study committee shall be authorized to consider and make recommendations on any legislative problem arising in its subject area. Each such committee shall be composed of ten members, selected as follows: Three senators not members of the legislative council, two of whom shall have served in the session of the legislature prior to their appointment on a standing committee of the senate concerned with the subject area of the study committee; three representatives not members of the legislative council, two of whom shall have served in the session of the legislature prior to their appointment on a standing committee of the house of representatives concerned with the subject area of the study committee; and two senators and two representatives who are members of the legislative council. Noncouncil senators shall be appointed by the president of the senate and noncouncil representatives shall be appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives. Legislative council members shall be appointed by the chairman of the legislative council. Appointments to the permanent study committees shall be made within sixty days after the adjournment of each regular session of the legislature and vacancies occurring thereafter shall be filled by the person making the original appointment or his successor or successor-designate.

History.—§1, ch. 61-290.

11.283 Permanent study committees; officers meetings.—Each permanent study committee shall organize at a meeting called by the chairman of the legislative council for a date within ninety days after the adjournment of the regular session and shall elect from among its members a chairman and a vice-chairman. Said committees shall meet at such subsequent times as it shall determine, not less than twice prior to the next succeeding regular session and shall abide by the general rules and regulations adopted by the legislative council for the operation of the committees of the legislative council.

History.—§1, ch. 61-290.

11.284 Permanent study committees; powers and duties.—It shall be the duty of each continuing study committee to gather, compile, assemble and prepare for orderly, clear and concise presentation to the legislative council and the legislature such information as may assist the legislature in establishing sound, reasonable and judicious laws in their subject areas. Each such committee is authorized to invite public officials and employees and private individuals to appear before the committee for the purpose of submitting information to it. Each such committee shall be authorized to maintain a continuous review of the work of the state agencies concerned with its subject area and the performance of the functions of government within each such subject area, and for this purpose, to request reports, from time to time in such form as the committee shall designate, concerning the operation of any state agency and presenting any proposals or recommendation such agency may have with regard to existing laws or proposed legislation in its subject area. The committees shall review the constitution and statutes, court decisions, and attorney general's opinions as they may affect governmental functions in their respective subject areas, and may review administrative rules to determine whether they are consistent with legislative intent in interpreting, complementing or making specific the particular laws involved. In order to carry out its duties each such committee is empowered with the right and authority to inspect and investigate the books, records, papers, documents, data, operation, and physical plant of any public agency in this state.

History.—§1, ch. 61-290.

11.285 Appointment of advisory committees by permanent study committees.—Each such committee is authorized to designate such advisory committees as it determines to be needed, to be selected from or composed of such groups of individuals as it may determine and to submit such reports at such time and in such manner as the parent committee shall prescribe. Any advisory committee appointed hereunder shall conduct its operations, make its study, and submit its report in accordance with the general rules and regulations promulgated by the legislative council.

History.—§1, ch. 61-290.

11.286 Reports of permanent study committees.—Prior to the convening of each biennial regular session of the legislature each such committee shall prepare a report or reports of its findings, recommendations, and proposed legislation and submit same to the council, the speaker-designate of the house of representatives and the president-designate of the senate.

History.—§1, ch. 61-290.

11.287 Assistance to committees.—In accordance with §§11.19-11.27, the legislative reference bureau is hereby authorized and required to furnish to each such committee such technical and clerical assistance, within the limitations of appropriated funds, as may be necessary to carry out its duties and functions, including, when needed, the employment of technical specialists for the temporary assistance of the legislature and the executive officers charged with the administration of a program or agency within the subject area of a committee. The legislative reference bureau shall assist the committees in the preparation of their reports, provide such assistance to their meetings as they shall direct, and maintain and preserve their reports and records, so as to provide a continuity of information from biennium to biennium. All costs incurred in the performance of the committees' studies shall be expenses of the legislature and of the legislative council and reference bureau.

History.—§1, ch. 61-290.

11.288 Special functions of permanent study committees.—The permanent study committees of the legislative council shall have the following special functions and special authorities, respectively:

(1) APPROPRIATIONS AND AUDITING COMMITTEE.—

(a) The appropriations and auditing committee shall meet with the state auditor from time to time, not less than three times each year, and review the work of the state auditing department and the completed audits of the department. It shall gather and compile such information as may assist the legislature in establishing a sound, reasonable and judicious appropriation for the operation and maintenance of each of the various state functions during the succeeding biennium.

(b) Not less than two members of the staff of the legislative reference bureau shall be assigned to the committee, one of whom shall be assigned to the appropriation committee of the house of representatives and one of whom shall be assigned to the appropriation committee of the senate as soon as they are needed by said committees and after said committees have been so designated by the speaker-designate and the president-designate of the respective bodies, to assist said appropriations committees prior to and during any session of the legislature.

(2) EDUCATION COMMITTEE.—During the 1961-63 biennium, the education committee shall make a thorough study of education at all levels and report its findings and recommendations, including proposals for corrective legislation, to all members of the legislature not later than March 1, 1963. The objectives of this study shall include:

(a) The goals, philosophies and responsibilities of public education,

(b) A re-examination of the state's responsibility for education at each level,

(c) The financing of education, fiscal problems, and needs in future years,

(d) An evaluation of the basic public school program which the state is supporting,

(e) The feasibility of consolidating all state school programs and appropriations into a single program,

(f) A complete rewriting of the state school law to simplify it, and

(g) Such other problems in education as become apparent during the course of the study.

(3) FINANCE & TAXATION COMMITTEE.—

(4) GOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZATION COMMITTEE.—The governmental organization committee shall gather and compile such information as may assist the legislature in establishing sound, reasonable and judicious laws for the economic and efficient operation and maintenance of the various functions of state government. It shall, upon request, work with and assist local government units and officers in resolving problems pertaining to them and their functions, powers, duties and operations.

(5) HEALTH AND WELFARE COMMITTEE.—

(6) PERSONNEL AND RETIREMENT.—

(a) The personnel and retirement committee shall maintain a general legislative review over the personnel practices of all state agencies, the administration of all state personnel systems, and all retirement systems supported by state funds. Its subject area shall include but not be limited to such conditions of state employment as attendance and leave regulations, job classification and pay plans, administrative policies governing pay raises, promotion and discharge, personnel procurement and training, and outside employment and to such matters relative to state retirement systems as membership requirements, authorized benefits, the present method and alternate methods of financing such systems and the present status of social security coverage of public employees. It shall keep the legislature informed regarding the state's responsibility relative to employment and retirement systems, the financial impact and the legal implications of present laws and proposed legislation in these fields. It shall act as a channel through which the administrators charged with administering public personnel and retirement systems, including those for law enforcement officers of the state and of the several counties of the state, may communicate to the legislature their plans, problems, and recommendations.

(b) In order to carry out the functions assigned it hereunder the committee is authorized to make continuous actuarial studies or to prepare annual actuarial balance sheets of the various retirement systems, or both, as it may deem necessary, and it is hereby granted the following specific authority:

As soon as practicable following its appointment for the 1961-63 biennium and at such later times as the legislature may direct, the committee shall cause an actuarial study to be made of all retirement systems supported by state funds. It is authorized, with the approval of the legislative council, to enter into appropriate contracts with such actuarial firms and under such terms and conditions as it may determine. The findings and recommendations of such an actuarial study shall be furnished by the committee to the members of the legislature. The cost of such actuarial studies shall be paid by the legislative council, but, by agreement arrived at between the council and the agencies administering the retirement systems, pro rata portions of such cost may be contributed from the respective funds charged with the costs of administering such systems. This section shall be authority for such agreements and for the payments herein provided.

(7) PUBLIC SAFETY.—

(8) ROADS.—

(9) STATE INSTITUTIONS.—

History.—§1, ch. 61-290.

11.29 State personnel and retirement committee of the legislative council.—

(1) There is hereby created a standing committee of the legislative council to be known as the state personnel and retirement committee, composed of ten members to be appointed as follows: The president of the senate shall appoint three members of the senate; the speaker of the house of representatives shall appoint three members of the house of representatives; the chairman of the legislative council shall appoint four members of the legislative council, two of whom shall be members of the house of representatives and two of whom shall be members of the senate. Such appointments shall be made as soon as practicable after this act shall become law. When said appointments have been made for the 1961-63 biennium and each biennium thereafter, the committee shall meet at the call of the chairman of the legislative council, elect a chairman and vice-chairman, and shall organize in such manner as shall be necessary and compatible to carrying out the purposes of this law. The committee members shall be appointed at each biennial regular session of the legislature and shall serve from the end of the session in which they are appointed until the end of the next biennial regular session of the legislature. Vacancies occurring during the interim period shall be filled by the officer making the original appointment.

(2) The function of the state personnel and retirement committee shall be to serve the legislature by:

(a) Studying and having general legislative review over all state agencies with respect to their personnel practices and over the administration of all state personnel systems and all retirement systems supported by state funds;

(b) Acting as a channel by which the administrators concerned with administering the state's personnel and retirement systems may communicate their plans, problems, and recommendations to the legislature;

(c) Undertaking such studies and preparing such reports as may be needed to keep the legislature informed regarding its responsibilities relative to the state's employment and retirement systems, and advise the legislature regarding the financial impact and the legal implications of the present laws and any new legislation which may be proposed in these fields, including specifically, recommendations regarding retirement provisions for law enforcement officers of the state and of the several counties of the state.

(3) It shall be the duty of the committee:

(a) To gather, compile, assemble and prepare for orderly, clear and concise presentation to the legislature through the council, such information as may assist the legislature in establishing sound and judicious legislation covering the operations of the state's personnel and retirement systems. Provided further that an actuarial survey shall be made during the 1961-63 biennium. Such information shall include but not be limited to the following:

1. The conditions of employment existing in the various state agencies, such as:

a. Attendance and leave regulations.

b. Job classification and pay plans.

c. Administrative policies governing pay raises, promotion and discharge, personnel procurement and training, and outside employment.

2. The membership requirements and benefits authorized in existing state retirement systems, the present methods and alternate methods of financing these systems, and the present status of social security coverage of public employees.

3. The administrative rules, attorney general's opinions and court decisions which relate to the employment and retirement of state employees.

(b) As soon as practicable following its appointment for the 1961-63 biennium and at such later times as the legislature may direct, to cause an actuarial study to be made of all retirement systems supported by state funds. In order to carry out this assigned duty the committee is authorized, with the approval of the legislative council, to enter into appropriate contracts with such actuarial firms and under such terms and conditions as it may determine. The findings and recommendations of such an actuarial study shall be furnished by the committee to the members of the legislature. The cost of such actuarial studies shall be paid by the legislative council, but, by agreement arrived at between the council and the agencies administering the retirement systems, pro rata portions of such cost may be contributed from the respective funds charged with the costs of administering such systems. This section shall be authority for such agreements and for the payments herein provided.

(c) To meet from time to time, not less than twice each year, and review the work of the state agencies concerned with retirement and personnel administration. The administrators of these agencies shall be invited to appear before the committee and present reports in such form as the committee shall designate, reviewing the operations of their agencies and presenting any proposals or recommendations they may have concerning existing laws or proposed legislation in their fields.

(d) Prior to the convening of each biennial session of the legislature, to submit to the council, the speaker-designate of the house of representatives, and the president-designate of the senate, a report of the findings and recommendations of the committee.

(4) The committee may designate such advisory committees as it determines to be needed, to be composed of employees representing the various categories of employment (such as teachers, state employees, county employees and fee officers, judges and justices, highway patrolmen, sheriffs, and constables) and other employee groups which ask to be heard or which have special employment or retirement problems or points of view which they desire to present to the legislature. The advisory committees shall submit their reports at such times and in such manner as the state personnel and retirement committee may prescribe.

(5) In accordance with §11.20, the legislative reference bureau is hereby authorized and required to furnish to the committee such technical and clerical assistance as may be necessary to carry out its duties and functions, including, when needed, the employment of a full time actuary to make continuous actuarial studies or to prepare annual actuarial balance sheets of the various retirement systems, or both, for the use of the administrators and of the legislature. All costs incurred in the performance of the committee's studies shall be expenses of the legislative council and reference bureau.

13.01 Commission on interstate cooperation; composition.—

(1) There is hereby established the Florida commission on interstate cooperation. This commission shall be composed of fifteen regular members, namely:

The five members of the senate committee on interstate cooperation,

The five members of the house committee on interstate cooperation, and

The five members of the governor's committee on interstate cooperation.

(2) The governor, the president of the senate and the speaker of the house of representatives shall be ex officio honorary nonvoting members of this commission. The chairman of the governor's committee on interstate cooperation shall be ex officio chairman of this commission. The chairman of the senate committee on interstate cooperation shall be ex officio first vice-chairman of the commission, and the chairman of the house committee shall be ex officio second vice-chairman of the commission.

(3) Its members and members of all special committees which it establishes shall serve without compensation for such service, but they shall be reimbursed for their traveling expenses incurred in carrying out their obligations under this law as provided in §112.061, from the appropriation for legislative expenses.

History.—§§1, 8, ch. 28292, 1953; (3) by §1, ch. 57-203; (3) §3, ch. 63-400.

13.02 Senate committee on interstate cooperation created; members.—There is hereby established a standing committee of the senate of this state, to be officially known as the senate committee on interstate cooperation, and to consist of five senators. The members and the chairman of this committee shall be designated in the same manner as is customary in the case of the members and chairman of other standing committees of the senate. In addition to the regular members, the president of the senate shall be ex officio an honorary nonvoting member of this committee.

History.—§2, ch. 28292, 1953.

13.03 House of representatives committee on interstate cooperation; members.—There is hereby established a similar standing committee of the house of representatives of this state, to be officially known as the house committee on interstate cooperation, and to consist of five members of the house of representatives. The members and the chairman of this committee shall be designated in the same manner as is customary in the case of the members and chairman of other standing committees of the house of representatives. In addition to the regular members, the speaker of the house of representatives shall be ex officio an honorary nonvoting member of this committee.

History.—§3, ch. 28292, 1953.

13.04 House and senate committees; terms; functions.—The said standing committee of the senate and the said standing committee of the house of representatives shall function during the regular sessions of the legislature and also during the interim periods between such sessions; their members shall serve until their successors are designated; and they shall respectively constitute for this state the senate council and house council of the American legislators' association. The incumbency of each administrative member of this commission appointed by the governor shall extend until his successor is appointed.

History.—§5, ch. 28292, 1953.

13.05 Governor's committee on interstate cooperation, members.—

(1) There is hereby established a committee of administrative officials and employees of this state to be officially known as the governor's committee on interstate cooperation, and to consist of five members. Its members shall be:

- (a) The budget director.
- (b) The attorney general or an assistant attorney general designated by him.
- (c) The director of the legislative reference bureau.

(d) Two other administrative officials or employees to be designated by the governor.

(2) The governor shall appoint one of the five members of this committee as its chairman. In addition to the regular members, the governor shall be ex officio an honorary nonvoting member of this committee.

History.—§4, ch. 28292, 1953.

13.06 Designation.—The committees and the commission established by this chapter shall be informally known, respectively, as the senate cooperation committee, the house cooperation committee, the governor's cooperation committee and the Florida commission on interstate cooperation.

History.—§9, ch. 28292, 1953.

13.07 Functions of commission.—It shall be the function of this commission:

(1) To carry forward the participation of this state as a member of the council of state governments.

(2) To encourage and assist the legislative, executive, administrative and judicial officials and employees of this state to develop and maintain friendly contact by correspondence, by conference, and otherwise, with officials and employees of the other states, of the federal government, and of local units of government.

(3) To endeavor to advance cooperation between this state and other units of government whenever it seems advisable to do so by formulating proposals for, and by facilitating

- (a) The adoption of compacts,
- (b) The enactment of uniform or reciprocal statutes,

(c) The adoption of uniform or reciprocal administrative rules and regulations,

(d) The informal cooperation of governmental offices with one another,

(e) The personal cooperation of governmental officials and employees with one another, individually,

(f) The interchange and clearance of research and information, and

(g) Any other suitable process.

(4) In short, to do all such acts as will, in the opinion of this commission, enable Florida to do its part in forming a more perfect union among the various governments in the United States and in developing the council of state governments for that purpose.

History.—§6, ch. 28292, 1953.

13.08 Powers and duties of commission.—

(1) The commission shall establish such committees as it deems advisable, in order that they may confer and formulate proposals concerning effective means to secure intergovernmental harmony, and may perform other functions for the commission in obedience to its decisions.

(2) Subject to the approval of the commission, the member or members of any special committee shall be appointed by the chairman of the commission. State officials or employees who are not members of the commission on interstate cooperation may be appointed as members of any such special committee, but private citizens holding no governmental position in this state shall not be eligible.

(3) The commission may provide such other rules as it considers appropriate concerning the membership and the functioning of any such special committee.

(4) The commission may provide for advisory boards for itself and for its various committees, and may authorize private citizens to serve on such boards.

(5) The commission shall report to the governor and to the legislature within fifteen days after the convening of each regular legislative session, and at such other times as it deems appropriate.

(6) The commission, by contributions from the state to the council of state governments, may participate with other states in maintaining the said council's district and central secretariats and its other governmental services.

(7) The commission may appoint a secretary who shall serve without compensation except that he shall be reimbursed for traveling expenses as provided in §112.061. The secretary shall keep records of commission activities and assist in preparing the biennial reports.

History.—§§7, 8, ch. 28292, 1953; (7) N. by ch. 57-307; (7) §19, ch. 63-400.

13.09 Council of state governments as joint governmental agency.—The council of state governments is hereby declared to be a joint governmental agency of this state and of the other states which cooperate through it.

History.—§10, ch. 28292, 1953.

CONSTITUTIONAL GOVERNMENT

13.20 Florida commission on constitutional government; legislative declaration.

13.21 Same; creation.

13.22 Same; duties.

13.20 Florida commission on constitutional government; legislative declaration.—It is declared:

- (1) The most nearly perfect system of gov-

13.23 Same; powers.

13.24 Same; compensation and traveling expenses of members.

ernment for free men ever devised by human ingenuity is that embodied in the constitution of the United States, under which a central authority exercises those powers of government, but only those powers of government, necessarily administered on a nation-wide basis, and the several states, responsive to the needs and desires of their people, exercise all of the other powers of sovereignty.

(2) For the protection of the liberties of the people and the orderly administration of public affairs it is necessary that the proper fields of authority exercised by the national government and those of the states be thoroughly understood by the people and clearly stated in national and state constitutions.

This was done at the foundation of the nation.

(3) Many persons have adopted and are active in propagating philosophies of government destructive of this principle.

(4) In recent years the growing complexities of the social order has indicated the wisdom of some expansion in the powers of the central government beyond those exercised, or properly permissible, under the constitution of the United States as originally conceived and written. Instead of awaiting the amendment of the constitution by the method therein provided, many of these powers have been exercised through the expedient of placing a warped and unjustified construction upon the federal constitution.

(5) Too often those actively opposing unjustified expansion of the powers of the federal government have been aroused by personal interest and for this reason their motives have been questioned and their effectiveness impaired.

(6) The tremendous expenditure of money by the national government begun for the purpose of relieving the emergency of a great depression started a trend by promoting a tendency of the people to look to that government for relief of all economic problems without a proper realization of the fact that the inevitable result of this practice is to increase the burden of taxation and enlarge the powers of the central government over the lives and destinies of the people.

(7) It is a duty of the state to its people to preserve, for the benefit of its citizens, the powers of the state; to protect its inhabitants from unjustified assumption of authority over them by any government, even that of the United States. To this end it is the duty of the state to keep the people informed of the activities of the state and national government to the extent necessary that they may wisely exercise their responsibilities as free men and women in a democratic community.

History.—§1, ch. 57-797.

13.21 Same; creation.—There is hereby created a commission of seven persons to be known as the "Florida commission on constitutional government." One member shall be a member of the state senate appointed by the president of the senate, one member shall be a member of the state house of representatives, appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives. The other members shall be appointed by the governor. The members shall be appointed for a term of four years. A vacancy in the membership of the commission shall be filled by appointment for the unexpired term in the same manner as the original appointment. The members of the commission shall elect from their number a chairman and secretary.

History.—§2, ch. 57-797.

13.22 Same; duties.—It shall be the duty of the commission to:

(1) Encourage an appreciation of the necessity of maintaining the proper scope of the respective powers of the government of the United States and of the several states.

(2) Call the attention of the people to all acts of the government of the United States and each of its departments which invade the proper fields of state sovereignty.

(3) Support the demand that all necessary expansion of the powers of the federal government not clearly within those granted to it by the constitution of the United States be provided for by amendment to that constitution adopted in the manner provided in that document.

(4) Assist in the preparation and submission to the congress of the United States of a proposed amendment to the constitution of the United States clarifying the rights of the states and the limitations upon the powers of the United States, and providing appropriate safeguards to the people from unwarranted assumption of authority by any department of the federal government.

(5) To cooperate with officers and citizens of other states in bringing about a better understanding of the dangers which threaten the system of government under which the people of the United States have enjoyed the greatest measure of freedom, of security, of progress in every field, that the world has ever witnessed.

History.—§3, ch. 57-797.

13.23 Same; powers.—In order to carry out these duties the commission shall have the power to:

(1) Utilize such means, without limitation, as it shall deem most expedient to acquire and disseminate detailed information designed to accomplish the end for which it was created.

(2) Organize, or cause to be organized, an agency of interstate or nation-wide character committed to the principles of:

(a) A strong central government endowed with all powers which are clearly and specifically granted by the constitution of the United States.

(b) The full protection of the rights of the sovereign states by amendment to the constitution rather than by judicial decree.

(c) Strong and truly sovereign states endowed with the inherent power to exercise state functions without federal interference.

History.—§4, ch. 57-797.

13.24 Same; compensation and traveling expenses of members.—Membership on the commission shall not constitute a state office, but a designation of a distinguished citizen of the state to render a public service under authority of this law. Members of the commission shall not be paid any compensation but shall be reimbursed for their traveling expenses as provided in §112.061, upon requisitions to be approved by the governor. All expenses of the commission shall be paid from appropriations to be made by the legislature for that purpose.

History.—§5, ch. 57-797; §1, ch. 61-24; §4, ch. 63-400.

PART III

STATE QUADRICENTENNIAL

13.60 Creation, powers, duties, etc.

13.60 Creation, powers, duties, etc.—

(1)(a) There is hereby created the Florida quadricentennial commission, hereinafter referred to as the "commission." The commission shall be composed of fifteen members designated and appointed as follows: The speaker of the house of representatives and the president of the senate; ten commissioners shall be appointed by the governor of the state; the chairman of the quadricentennial commission of Pensacola, and two of the members of the Florida board of parks and historic memorials, shall perform the duties of the commission, in addition to their duties in connection with such commission and board, shall be selected by the governor to serve as members of this commission. It is recommended that the governor in appointing commissioners shall select, as far as possible, residents of counties or cities that have announced an intention to form or have organized a quadricentennial commission under general or special laws. Each commissioner appointed by the governor of the state shall serve for a term of four years. The speaker of the house of representatives and the president of the senate and the commission designated from the Florida board of parks and historic memorials, shall serve as members during their current terms, and upon expiration of such terms, their successors shall serve in their stead. The term of the chairman of the quadricentennial commission of Pensacola, as a commissioner hereunder, shall expire on December 31, 1959, and his successor shall be appointed by the governor.

(b) The commissioners shall not receive compensation for the performance of their duties, but shall receive per diem and travel expenses as provided in §112.061, when engaged in the performance of the duties of the committee.

(c) The commission, when organized, shall adopt rules, regulations and by-laws to govern its procedures and may amend and revoke the same; shall elect from its membership a chairman, first vice-chairman, second vice-chairman, secretary and treasurer, to serve for such periods as may be provided by the by-laws of the commission. The chairman shall be the chief executive officer of the commission and either vice-chairman may perform the duties of the chairman in his absence, or in event of his disability. The commission may appoint an assistant secretary and an assistant treasurer and such officers shall not be required to be selected from the membership of the commission.

(2) The commission shall promote and sponsor a state-wide quadricentennial public celebration commemorating the 400th anniversary of the permanent colonization of the state; and may stage historical festivals and shall assist county and city quadricentennial commissions in planning, staging and operating national and international expositions, industrial and agricultural displays and in operating trade fairs and the staging of educational, cultural, artistic and historical exhibits. The commission, when requested, shall make necessary research in connection with historic events and points of historic interest in the state and assist in the planning for fiestas, pageants and parades of the quadricentennial celebrations in the several cities and counties of the state during the period of such celebration. The commission shall coordinate the activities of the several cities and counties so as to provide progressive celebrations from city to city and county to county during the period commencing with 1959 and ending in 1965 so that each community in which a matter of historical significance or in which an historic shrine is located may be enabled to participate. The commission shall promote the trade and commerce of the state by scheduling celebrations and attractions in such a manner as to attract visitors, tourists and potential residents to the state.

(3) The commission is hereby declared to be a public body, exercising public and essential governmental functions as set forth in this law and having all powers necessary or convenient to carry out and effect the purposes and provisions of this law, including, without limitation, the following:

(a) To sue and to be sued; to adopt a seal and alter the same at pleasure; to exist until December 31, 1966; to make and execute contracts and other instruments necessary or convenient to the exercise of the powers of the commission; and to make and from time to time amend and repeal by-laws not inconsistent with this law; to carry into effect the powers and purposes of this commission.

(b) To make and from time to time amend and repeal rules and regulations, with respect to any celebration, that uses or desires to use the word "quadricentennial" in its name, or in describing the celebration or festival.

(c) To grant licenses or permits to city and county quadricentennial commissions to stage a quadricentennial celebration in said county or city, as the case may be, and to prescribe the dates during which such celebrations may be conducted. No city or county, or agency or department thereof, and no quadricentennial commission, without a permit or license granted as above specified, shall advertise or purport to stage any celebration designated as a quadricentennial celebration.

(d) To approve, amend, modify, limit or restrict any plan submitted by a city or county quadricentennial commission with respect to the character of any celebration, and the event or events to be commemorated and to prohibit the use of the word "quadricentennial" in connection with any celebration or event commemorated which has not been approved by the commission.

(e) To own and acquire property, real and personal, and any interest therein or right pertaining thereto, by purchase, lease, donation, gift or transfer and to acquire, construct, reconstruct, improve, alter, repair, maintain, operate, sell, convey, lease and dispose of any building, structure or facility.

(f) To enter into contracts with any person, firm or corporation, and the state, the United States, and any foreign government or any agency or department thereof, and any county and municipality or any agency or department of either.

(g) To accept donations and contributions of public and private sources, and to enter into contracts with respect thereto, and to borrow money and pay interest thereon.

(h) To employ adequate personnel for the operation of the commission; provided, however, the merit system and pension laws, rules and regulations shall not be applicable to any such personnel.

(i) To prepare annual budgets and from time to time amend the same; to enter into agreements with consultants and others for the performance of services deemed necessary or desirable by the commission.

(j) To adopt an official flag, seal, or other emblems, and to copyright the same in the name of the commission. The commission may grant a lease or license to utilize such seals and other emblems and devices upon such terms and conditions as seem proper to the commission.

(4) All agencies and departments of the state and all political subdivisions shall cooperate with the commission in accomplishing the objectives of this law.

(5) Any state department or agency and any county, municipality or agency or department of either, and any public body corporate is authorized to contribute funds for the purpose of defraying, in whole or in part, the expenses and operations of the commission, and such commission shall be authorized to accept contributions from other public and private sources.

- 13.62 Creation.
- 13.63 Membership, organization and expenses.
- 13.64 Duties.
- 13.65 Powers.
- 13.66 Obligations.
- 13.67 Audit of accounts.
- 13.68 City or county not liable for debts, etc.

13.61 Legislative intent; definitions.—

(1) IT IS HEREBY DECLARED:

(a) That the state was discovered by Juan Ponce de Leon in 1513 and thereafter in 1521 he, as captain general and governor of "the island of Florida," financed and attempted to make a settlement on the west coast of the state, but upon landing, de Leon having been mortally wounded, a colony was not established and the project was abandoned; and

(b) That Lucas Vasquez Ayllon in 1524 sought to colonize an area on the Atlantic seaboard, called Chicora, and the settlers had scarcely landed when they were killed by hostile Indians, terminating this expedition; and

(c) Thereafter Panfilio de Narvaez was granted the right to explore and settle the area west of the Perdido river and east of Texas, but after marching through Florida in 1528 to the bay of Horses, he built and embarked on barges for New Spain (Mexico); he and all of the expedition were killed or lost at sea, except four who journeyed on foot to Mexico; and

(d) Thereafter Hernando de Soto, as cap-

13.69 Directors or commissioners not liable personally.

13.70 Cooperation between commissions.

13.71 Property of commissions; public property.

13.72 Repeals.

13.73 Authority to appropriate and tax.

tain general and governor of "La Florida," commanded and financed an exploratory expedition in 1539; the governor died on the banks of the Mississippi river, and his followers abandoned further exploration and moved forward to New Spain; and

(e) Thereafter in 1549 Father Cancer de Barbastro, a Dominican priest, sought with several other priests to enter La Florida and pacify the Indians by preaching the gospel, but he also lost his life at the time of landing and the project was abandoned; and

(f) That Philip II of Spain, being apprehensive that a settlement would be attempted on the Atlantic seaboard by France or Scotland, ordered the first governmental directed and financed expedition for the purpose of making two settlements, one at Achuse (Pensacola) and one at Point Elena on the Atlantic coast; and

(g) That on November 1, 1558, Don Tristan de Luna y Arellano, a man of great military stature (who was previously second in command of the Coronado expedition searching for the seven cities of Cibola), was appointed captain general and governor of Florida; he landed on August 14, 1559 at Pensacola commanding 1500 colonists, 500 of whom were soldiers and the remainder were women, children, public officials, artisans, interpreters and servants; La Florida consisted of all of that territory east of a north and south line drawn 50 leagues west of the mouth of the Espiritu Santo (Mississippi) river; and

(h) That hurricanes, famine, sickness and other misfortunes befell this colony, and in April, 1561, Angel Villafane relieved Don Tristan de Luna, said Villafane becoming the fourth captain general and governor of La Florida; and

(i) That the settlement of Pensacola continued until late in 1561, or the early winter of 1562, at which time it was abandoned and the colonists were returned by Villafane to New Spain; and

(j) That in 1562 Ribault landed in a vessel at a point near Jacksonville, and claimed the territory for the king of France; and

(k) That in 1564 Fort Caroline was constructed near said point, but the garrison was destroyed in 1565 by Pedro Menendez de Aviles, Adelantado and captain general of Florida, and the fort was occupied by his Spanish troops; and

(l) That the period of permanent colonization by Spain that commenced in Pensacola in 1559 and culminated with the first permanent settlement in 1565 at St. Augustine, the oldest city in the United States and Canada; and

(m) That it is fitting that the 400th anniversary of the Spanish and French colonization should be celebrated in Florida, and in each county and city thereof; and

(n) That said celebration and the exhibits in connection therewith will be of great historical and educational value to the people of this state, and will attract many visitors to our state and will materially contribute to the educational, recreational, historical and economic welfare of the people of this state and the several counties and cities thereof; and

(o) That the city and county celebrations can be accomplished in a satisfactory manner only by the creation of a governmental agency to take charge of, manage and conduct these celebrations so that they may be maintained upon a high plane and with uniform standards throughout the state, so as to reflect credit upon each community and the state; and

(p) That such public bodies should exercise public and essential governmental functions in carrying out and effectuating the purpose and provisions of this law.

(2) DEFINITIONS.—The following terms, wherever used or referred to in this law, shall have the following respective meanings for the purposes of this law, unless a different meaning clearly appears from the context:

(a) "City" or "municipality" shall mean any city or municipality of the state duly incorporated under general or special law.

(b) "Commission" or "quadricentennial commission" shall mean any of the public governmental agencies created hereunder.

(c) "Facility" or "quadricentennial facility" shall mean and include, among other establishments not enumerated, any land, buildings, bridges, structures, equipment, machinery, installations, concessions, ships, airships, motor vehicles, amusement devises authorized to be owned, maintained, operated or sold by the commission, boardwalks, sea walls, breakwaters, bulkheads, causeways, wharves, docks, piers, yacht basins and jetties; sewerage systems, water systems, fire fighting systems and equipment, power lines and cables, gas systems and any other utilities desirable or convenient for the development and service of the area and persons, businesses and improvements thereon; streets, roads, alleyways, sidewalks and other public ways, parks, playgrounds, recreation, exhibition, museum and amusement buildings and centers, bathing beaches, bath houses, swimming pools, auditoriums, theaters, pavilions, athletic fields, golf courses, and other buildings which will contribute to the health, welfare and recreation of the public; hotels, restaurants, eating places, cottages, homes, dwellings, tourist camps, trailer parks and other places of lodging and eating places of all kinds, taxicabs, buses and transportation systems; office and store buildings, warehouses, depots, stations and all other kinds of business or commercial properties, and administration buildings and offices for use of the commission.

(d) "Governing body" or "legislative body" shall mean the city council, the city commission or other legislative body charged with legislative functions in the governing of any city and shall also include the board of county commissioners, if action is taken hereunder by it to authorize a commission to function in a county.

(e) "Mayor" shall mean the mayor of the city or municipality and chairman of the board of county commissioners, if action is taken to authorize a commission to function in a county.

(f) "Obligations" are defined to mean any promissory note, debenture, revenue certificate, certificate of indebtedness, time warrant, revenue bond and any other evidence of indebtedness or obligation, whether similar or dissimilar to those enumerated but shall not be construed to include any bond which requires approval by freeholders before the issuance thereof.

(g) "Site" or "quadricentennial site" shall mean any area described in a resolution adopted as provided in §13.62(2).

History.—§1, ch. 59-511.

13.62 Creation.—

(1) A quadricentennial commission for each municipality or county shall constitute a public body politic exercising public and essential governmental functions as set forth in this law and having all powers necessary or convenient to carry out and effect the purposes and provisions of this law, is hereby created, but no commission shall exercise such powers until the provisions of paragraphs (a) or (b) have been complied with, as follows:

(a) In each municipality there is hereby created a public body corporate and politic to be known as "quadricentennial commission of the city of _____," provided, however, that such commission shall not transact any business nor exercise any powers hereunder until or unless the governing body of the city by proper resolution shall declare that there is need for a commission to function in such municipality. The determination as to whether there is such a need for such commission to function may be made by the governing body on its own motion; or shall be made by the governing body upon the filing of a petition signed by fifty residents of such municipality asserting that there is a need for a commission to function in such municipality and requesting that the governing body so declare; and

(b) In each county there is hereby created a public body corporate and politic to be known as "quadricentennial commission of _____ county"; provided, however, that such commission shall not transact any business or exercise its powers hereunder until or unless the governing body of the county by proper resolution shall declare there is need for a commission to function in such county. The determination as to whether there is such need for a commission to function may be made by the governing body on its own motion, or shall be made by the governing body upon the filing of a petition signed by fifty residents of the county asserting that there is need for a commission to function in such county and requesting the governing body to so declare.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions, if a county quadricentennial commission is authorized to function prior to the authority being granted to any commission by a municipality located therein, then such county quadricentennial commission shall function throughout the entire county both within and without the corporate limits of the municipality therein and no quadricentennial commission of any municipality shall transact any business or exercise its powers so long as said county quadricentennial commission is functioning pursuant to resolution of the county, but if any municipality has adopted the required resolution to authorize a quadricentennial commission to transact business and exercise its powers within a municipality located in said county, prior to the adoption of a resolution by the governing body of the county, then in such event, the city quadricentennial commission may function throughout the county in which it is located and if both a city and county commission are authorized to function in any county, both commissions shall be authorized to transact business, and exercise their individual powers, but the activities of the commission authorized by the county to transact business, shall confine its activities to those parts of the county that are located without the corporate limits of any such municipality which has authorized the transaction of business by a city quadricentennial commission and such city quadricentennial commission shall exercise its activities to those within the corporate limits of the municipality for which it was created.

(d) The governing body, of either a municipality or county, may adopt a resolution declaring that there is need for a quadricentennial commission if it shall find that significant events during the history of the state occurred at any time within the borders and boundaries of the municipality or county; that the celebrating or emphasizing of such events will be of benefit to citizens of the community from a historical, recreational, educational, cultural and economic standpoint; and that the citizens of the city or county, as the case may be, will receive benefits by the holding of such a celebration and exhibition including the attraction of visitors and tourists and the settlement of persons within the municipal or county boundaries.

(e) In any suit, action or proceeding involving the validity or enforcement of or relating to any contract of the commission, the commission shall be conclusively deemed to have become established and authorized to transact business and exercise its powers hereunder upon proof of the adoption of a resolution by the appropriate governing body declaring the need for the commission. Such resolution or resolutions shall be sufficient if it declares that there is such a need for a commission and finds substantially the foregoing terms (no further detail being necessary), that any or all of the above enumerated conditions existed in the county or city. A copy of such resolution duly certified by the clerk of the circuit court or city clerk or officer occupying a similar position, shall be admissible in evidence in any suit, action or proceeding.

(2) Any quadricentennial commission duly authorized by resolution to transact business and exercise its power in the manner heretofore set forth, shall have all the powers necessary or convenient to carry out and effectuate the purposes and provisions of this law including without limitation the following:

(a) To sue and be sued; to adopt a seal and to alter the same at pleasure; to have perpetual existence and succession; to make and execute contracts and other instruments necessary or convenient to the exercise of the powers of the commission; and to make and from time to time amend and repeal by-laws not inconsistent with this law, to carry into effect the powers and purposes of the commission.

(b) To make and from time to time amend and repeal rules and regulations which shall be effective within any areas, located within or without the limits of any incorporated city, depending upon the governing body that authorized the commission to transact business, selected and developed as a quadricentennial site or upon which facilities as herein defined shall be maintained and operated. The selection of any such site shall be evidenced by the adoption of a resolution describing the boundaries of such area, and declaring the same to be a quadricentennial site. That the rules and regulations adopted and promulgated hereunder may include, without limitation, rules and regulations designed and intended:

1. To regulate and restrict the height, size, type of construction, location and use of buildings and other structures, and to establish and enforce a satisfactory building code.

2. To promote health and safety by adopting and enforcing rules and regulations relating to health, sanitation, and safety generally, and to sources of water supply; sewage, garbage, trash and waste disposal; and prohibiting or regulating the keeping of pets, animals, fowls and the like; and to provide for any or all of the foregoing and to require the use of services and facilities provided by public utilities for any of the foregoing at such reasonable charges as the commission may fix and to prohibit and prevent the use of private or other such services and facilities. The violation of any of such rules and regulations is hereby declared a nuisance and a menace to health and safety and may be suppressed or abated by any legal method.

3. To adopt and enforce rules for the regulation of traffic and the use of all improvements, projects and things placed on the project site.

4. To enforce all reasonable rules, regulations, building codes and the like by injunction or any other appropriate legal or equitable remedy.

5. To regulate the character of businesses, including without limitation the sale of alcoholic beverages (in counties where such sales are permitted) and the hours where any business can or must be operated and conducted, and to adopt such regulations as may be necessary for the protection of the lives of persons and property and for the preservation of peace and quiet.

(c) There shall be displayed in at least one public place on the project site or sites a copy of the rules and regulations; that all rules and regulations adopted under authority hereof shall have the force and effect of law and in event of violation thereof the offender shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished as provided by law.

(d) To promote and sponsor a quadricentennial public celebration commemoration of the 400th anniversary of the permanent colonization of Florida during the period commencing January 1, 1959, and including December 31, 1969 and to assist cities and counties in connection with celebrations staged by them, and in the operation of national and international expositions, industrial and agricultural displays, trade fairs and educational, cultural, artistic and historical exhibits, fetes, fiestas, parades, pageants, athletic contests and contests of speed and skill, motor vehicle, motor boat, sail boat and airplane races and exhibitions; provided, however, if there shall be created by law a state commission or authority, vested with the power to license or regulate or to coordinate such municipal and county celebrations with each other, no quadricentennial celebration shall be conducted without a license or permit from such state commission or authority nor in any manner except in accordance with regulations adopted by such commission therefor.

(e) To own and acquire property, real and personal, and any interest therein or right pertaining thereto, by purchase, lease, donation, gift or transfer and to acquire, construct, reconstruct, improve, alter, repair, maintain, operate, sell, convey, lease and dispose of any building, structure or facility.

(f) To enter into concession contracts for the operation of the facilities and any activities specified in §13.62(2) (d) and (g).

(g) To improve and develop the property acquired by such commissions and in connection therewith to subdivide said property into lots and to acquire, construct and operate sewage and water facilities and facilities for the transmission of gas, water and electricity and for the disposition of sewage, to construct, manage and operate trailer courts, hotels and motels within the project site and to operate transportation facilities within and without the project site.

(h) To enter into contracts with any person, firm or corporation and the state, the United States and any foreign government or any agency or department thereof, and any county and municipality or any agency or department of either.

(i) To enter into development, operating and management of contracts and leases for the construction, maintenance and operation of facilities as may be necessary or desirable, or in the furtherance of the development of properties acquired.

(j) To invest any funds held in reserve or sinking funds not required for immediate disbursement, in property or securities of which industrial savings banks may legally invest funds subject to their control; to purchase its own obligations at a price not more than the principal amount and accrued interest; and all obligations so purchased may be cancelled if such cancellation is not prohibited by the terms of the obligations or any agreement, contract or indenture pertaining thereto.

(k) In event the commission shall determine the interests of the community so requires, to grant a lease, sublease or license to the United States, Florida, any county, any municipal or private corporation or any person for a nominal consideration or other consideration as it deems proper, in order to procure the establishment of a facility essential or desirable in the interest of the public.

(l) To accept donations and contributions of public and private sources, and to enter into contracts with respect thereto, and to borrow money and pay interest thereon.

(m) To employ adequate personnel for the operation of the commission; provided, however, merit system and pension laws, rules and regulations, shall not be applicable to any such personnel.

(n) To acquire property by lease for a term of ninety-nine years or less and to grant leases for a term of occupancy of ninety-nine years or less and such leases may be granted upon such conditions as the commission shall deem proper.

(o) To buy and sell to consumers water, gas and electric power or to grant a concession and right to others so to do within the area of the project site or within the boundaries of any lands owned by the commission; and

(p) To adopt policies, rules and regulations for the award of contract, either negotiated or on competitive bidding, and no statute, rules, regulation or policy of any city, or county, or of the state, relating to or governing contracts by public bodies shall apply to contracts or the awarding thereof by any commission; but no contract shall be let by the commission to any officer, or any member or employee of the commission.

History.—§2, ch. 59-511.

13.63 Membership, organization and expenses.—

(1) A quadricentennial commission shall consist of a board of five commissioners, each of whom shall be appointed by the governor to serve for a term of four years or until a successor shall be appointed and qualified.

(2) The commission when appointed and organized shall elect a chairman, first vice-chairman, second vice-chairman, secretary and treasurer, each to serve for a term of two years; a majority of the commission shall constitute a quorum of the board at any regular or special meeting. No salary shall be paid to commissioners but they shall be reimbursed for traveling expenses as provided in §112.061. Each commissioner shall give bond for faithful performance of his duties in such amount as the commission shall determine, which shall be not less than ten thousand dollars, the premium on such bonds to be paid by the commission.

(3) The board of commissioners shall be charged with the general management of the affairs of the commission and shall exercise the powers and privileges granted to it by law.

History.—§3, ch. 59-511; (2) §19, ch. 63-400.

13.64 Duties.—The commission, with reference to the activities it is charged with conducting, shall:

(1) Prepare a program or proposal for the acquisition or construction or operation of facilities, considered necessary or desirable in accomplishing the objectives of this law.

(2) Supervise the construction, alteration, extension or repair of any facility.

(3) On or before July 1 of each year, prepare an annual budget containing an estimate of receipts and disbursements for its fiscal year, beginning October 1 and ending on September 30, and a separate budget for each facility operated by it. A copy of said budget shall be presented to the governing legislative body of any municipality or county contributing funds, property, exemptions or concessions to said commission. A summary of the budget containing the major items of estimated receipts and expenditures may be published by the commission or the board of county commissioners.

(4) Prepare and adopt amended budgets when required.

(5) Operate, as far as practicable, within any such budget.

(6) Submit periodic reports to the governing legislative body of any municipality or county contributing funds, property, exemptions or concessions to said commission.

(7) Establish bank accounts and special funds as required and withdraw from bank deposits and funds maintained by it such sums as may be necessary for the operation of the commission.

History.—§4, ch. 59-511.

13.65 Powers.—The commission shall have the power to issue obligations as herein defined for the purpose of obtaining funds in order to exercise the powers herein granted or to enable it to perform or better perform its duties hereunder and accomplish the objectives of this law, including, without limitation, the acquisition of property or procurement of operating funds, and when such obligations are issued, may covenant in the obligations or any contract or indenture pertaining thereto:

(1) To pledge all or any part of the gross or net revenues derived from the operation or ownership of facilities.

(2) To pledge all or any part of the rental received from the lease of facilities to any person, firm or corporation or revenues derived therefrom by contract or otherwise.

(3) To pledge all or any part of donations or contributions received from private and public sources.

(4) To pledge the excess revenues from the ownership or operation of its other facilities.

(5) To establish a sinking fund to be used exclusively for the payment of interest and the retirement of such securities or obligations.

(6) Against pledging all or any part of the rents, fees and revenues received by reason of the ownership or operation of any facility, or against mortgaging all or any part of its real or personal property to which its right then exists or may thereafter come into existence or against permitting or suffering any lien on such revenue or property.

(7) To limit its rights to sell, lease or otherwise dispose of any of its property or any or all of its facilities; and to covenant as to what other additional debts or obligations may be incurred by it.

(8) As to the issuance of such obligations in escrow or otherwise, and as to the use and disposition of the proceeds of such securities.

(9) To provide for the replacement of lost, destroyed or mutilated instruments, and against extending the time for payment of its obligations or securities or interest thereon and to redeem the obligations and securities, and for their redemption, and to provide the terms and conditions thereof.

(10) As to the rents and fees to be charged in the operation of any facility, the amount to be raised each year or other period of time, by rents, fees and other revenue, and as to the use and disposition to be made thereof; to create or authorize the creation of special funds for moneys held for construction or operating costs, or debt services, reserves or other purposes, and to covenant as to the use and disposition of the moneys held in such funds.

(11) To prescribe the procedure, if any, by which the terms of any contract with the holders of the obligations may be amended or abrogated, the amount of obligations the holders of which must consent thereto, and the manner in which such consent may be given.

(12) As to the use of any or all of its real or personal property, the maintenance and replacement thereof, the insurance to be carried thereon, and the use and disposition of insurance moneys received; to covenant as to the rights, liabilities, powers and duties arising upon the breach by it of any covenants, conditions or obligations and to covenant and prescribe as to events of default and terms and conditions upon which any or all of its obligations issued under the provisions of this law shall become or may be declared due before maturity and as to the terms and conditions upon which such declaration and its consequences may be waived.

(13) To designate a trustee or trustees and to vest in such trustee or trustees, or the holders of such obligations, or any proportion of them, with the right to enforce the payment of the obligations or any covenants securing or relating thereto; to vest in a trustee or trustees the right, in event of a default by the issuer to take possession and use, operate and manage the facility, or, any part of such facility or facilities and to collect the rents and revenues arising therefrom, and to dispose of such moneys in accordance with the agreement of the issue with said trustee; to provide for the powers and duties of a trustee or trustees and to limit the liabilities thereof; and to provide the terms and conditions upon which the trustee or trustees or the holders of such obligations, or any proportion of them, may enforce any covenant or rights securing or relating to the securities or obligations.

(14) That in event of default of payment of principal or interest of any obligations issued hereunder, upon application of the holders of not less than twenty-five per cent of the principal amount then outstanding for the holders of the obligations of any issue of obligations, or upon application of the trustee or trustees designated in any contract or agreement executed by the issuer, to consent to the appointment of a receiver for the facility or facilities which participated in the distribution of the proceeds of such obligations or securities and further consent that the court appointing said receiver shall include in any order appointing such receiver, in addition to such powers as the court may deem proper, the right to enter into and take possession of said facility and operate, maintain or repair the same, and to establish, levy, maintain, and collect fees, tolls, rentals, and other income from the ownership, control and operation of said facilities, and to receive all revenues in the same way as the issuer might itself have done and dispose and apply revenues so collected and received in such manner as may be directed.

(15) (a) That if the commission owns, constructs, acquires or operates more than one facility, it may issue the obligations and pledge to the payment thereof all or any part of the receipts from one or more than one facility; and

(b) Any obligations issued under authority of this law may be subordinated to any other obligation issued by an issuer without affecting the validity thereof.

(16) To include in any deed to property a provision that such property is conveyed subject to all of the rights, privileges, terms, provisions and conditions in the obligations (as defined herein) contained or in any obligation or resolution, contract or indenture authorizing the issuance of any such obligation, and any such rights, terms, privileges, provisions or conditions shall be covenants running with the title to the land, and that upon breach of any of the terms, provisions, or conditions contained therein all of the rights and privileges of the holders of the obligations or the trustees or trustee designated in any resolution, contract or agreement, adopted or executed by the commission in connection with the issuance of obligations may be exercised and enjoyed to the same extent as if the property described in said deed had not been conveyed by the commission.

13.66 Obligations.—

(1) Obligations of the commission shall be authorized by its resolution and may be issued in one or more series and shall bear such date or dates, mature in such time or times, bear interest at such rate or rates, be in such denomination or denominations, be in such form, either coupon or registered, carry such conversion or registered privileges, have such rank or priority, be executed in such manner, be payable in such medium of payments, at such place or places, and be subject to such redemption (with or without premium) as any such resolution, contract, agreement or indenture may provide; provided, however, no obligation shall be issued which shall mature more than thirty years after the date of issue.

(2) Such obligations may be sold at not less than ninety-five per cent of the face value at public sale, held after publication of notice once at least ten days prior to the sale, in a newspaper having general circulation in the city and county where the commission is authorized to function and may be sold to any other purchaser by a privately negotiated sale and without competitive bidding at not less than par value, provided not less than ten days public notice, by one publication in a newspaper having general circulation in the county, is given of the intention to make such private sale. Full information shall be made available to any citizen of the city or county wherein the commission is authorized to function, upon written demand, with respect to the terms, provisions, conditions, limitations, maturities, and interest rate of the obligation proposed to be issued and the terms of such proposed sale.

(3) In case any officer or officers of the issue whose signature appears on obligations or coupons shall cease to be an officer before the delivery of the obligations, such signature shall, nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if such officer had remained in office until such delivery. Any provision of any law to the contrary notwithstanding, any obligation issued pursuant to this law shall be fully negotiable.

(4) In any suit, action or proceeding involving the validity or enforceability of any obligation of an issue or the security therefor, any such obligation reciting in substance that it has been issued by the issuer to aid in the acquisition, construction, extension or repair of any facility or facilities, shall be conclusively deemed to have been issued for such public purposes.

(5) No officer, director, member or former director of the issuer, nor any person executing the obligation, shall be liable personally on the obligations by reason of the issuance thereof. The obligation (and such obligations shall so state on their face) shall not be a debt of the county, the state or any political subdivision, authority or commission (other than the commission created hereby) and neither the county, nor the state or any political subdivision thereof except the commission, shall be liable thereon, nor in any event shall the obligations be payable out of any funds or properties other than those of the issuer. The obligation shall not constitute an indebtedness within the meaning of any constitutional or statutory debt or bond limitation or restriction.

(6) Obligations of an issuer may be validated in the same manner and to the same extent as provided in chapter 75.

History.—§6, ch. 59-511.

13.67 Audit of accounts.—The books and accounts of the commission shall be audited annually and a copy thereof shall be maintained in the office of the commission. The audit shall be open for the examination of the public at all reasonable times. A copy of the audit will be forwarded to the governing legislative body of any municipality or county contributing funds, property, exemptions or concessions to said commission.

History.—§7, ch. 59-511.

13.68 City or county not liable for debts, etc.—The commission shall have no power, without the consent of the county or the municipality where said commission is authorized to operate to bind or commit such county or municipality in any manner for the debts, liabilities, obligations, acts or omissions of the commission or any of its officers or employees and all persons dealing with the said commission are hereby given full notice of this limitation.

History.—§8, ch. 59-511.

13.69 Directors or commissioners not liable personally.—No director or commissioner shall be held personally liable or accountable for any debts or liabilities, either ex contractu or ex delictu of the commission, resulting from the exercise of the power and authority herein granted.

History.—§9, ch. 59-511.

13.70 Cooperation between commissions.—The commission is hereby authorized to contract with any commission of an adjoining county or city to jointly exercise with respect to any facility or facilities herein defined, the powers and duties vested in said commission.

History.—§10, ch. 59-511.

13.71 Property of commissions; public property.—All property or rights therein owned by the commission shall be deemed to be public property held and owned for a county purpose if the commission is authorized to function within a county, and a municipal purpose if the commission is authorized to function only within a municipality; and in event of a conveyance of the property to either by a commission, or assignment of any lease or license of property upon which a facility is located, or the abolition of the commission without provision to the contrary, said property and ownership thereof shall be vested in the appropriate county or municipality based upon which authorized the particular commission to function; provided, however, if at the time of acquisition of said property all indebtedness of the commission has been paid or if the said indebtedness shall subsequently be paid, then the said county or municipality acquiring the property, when no such indebtedness exists, shall prorate the net income from such property between each other according to the amounts contributed to the commission by each, until the one not acquiring the property has been reimbursed in full for any contributions made to the commission, and after such reimbursement, all revenues shall inure to the benefit of the one acquiring the property; provided further, if any facility is constructed on leased property, the commission may transfer said facility and lease to the county or city and until the expiration or termination of said lease, said county or municipality may exercise all of the rights herein granted to a commission with respect to said facility.

History.—§11, ch. 59-511.

13.72 Repeals.—All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are repealed, provided, however, §§13.61-13.71 shall not repeal chapter 57-2043, nor any special law creating a municipal or county quadricentennial commission or authority; provided further, the provisions of §13.62(2) (p) shall apply with equal force to the quadricentennial commission of Pensacola created under chapter 57-2043.

History.—§13, ch. 59-511.

13.73 Authority to appropriate and tax.—The board of county commissioners of any county in which a quadricentennial commission is authorized to transact business under any general or special law and any municipal corporation within any such county, may budget, appropriate, expend and contribute property, services and funds to any such quadricentennial commission and as an incident thereto, any such board of county commissioners and municipal corporation is authorized to assess ad valorem taxes therefor.

History.—§1, ch. 59-517.

PART V

FLORIDA AVIATION STUDY AND ADVISORY COMMISSION

13.76 Florida aviation study and advisory commission.

13.76 Florida aviation study and advisory commission.—

(1) COMMISSION CREATED.—There is hereby created the Florida aviation study and advisory commission (hereinafter called the "commission").

(2) MEMBERSHIP DEFINED.—The commission shall be composed of two members of the Florida house of representatives to be appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives, two members of the Florida senate to be appointed by the president of the senate, and three members of the public at large to be appointed by the governor.

(3) POWERS AND DUTIES.—

(a) The commission shall, as soon as possible after being appointed, engage in a study of the field of aviation as it relates to Florida, including the collection and evaluation of facts, formulation of goals, and development of a long range program for the fostering and promotion of aviation in the state; and shall do all other acts and things necessary to be able to recommend possible changes in the laws governing and affecting aviation.

(b) The commission shall attempt to organize its recommendations into a comprehensive plan designed to aid the progress of aviation in the state, and shall report its findings and its plan of recommendations to the 1965 session of the legislature.

(c) The commission shall inquire into and make recommendations concerning any and all aspects of aviation; including, without limitation, ways and means of fostering and developing airports and aviation throughout Florida, methods of most effectively making use of such federal aid funds as may be available for purposes related to aviation, a thorough analysis of the relationships and delineations of responsibility and control of aviation between federal and state governments under existing laws, methods of financing the maintenance and upkeep of an adequate network of airports and aircraft facilities throughout the state, and methods which are now available or which may be developed for the financing of the acquisition of aircraft on a more widespread basis.

(4) ASSISTANCE.—The Florida development commission shall furnish the commission necessary technical, administrative, and clerical assistance.

(5) MISCELLANEOUS.—

(a) The members of the commission shall serve until the close of the 1965 session of the legislature at which time the commission shall cease to exist.

(b) The members of the commission shall serve without pay but shall be reimbursed for expenses pursuant to the provisions of §112.061.

(c) The members of the commission shall elect a chairman and a secretary from among their number, who shall be responsible for conducting the meetings and affairs of the commission and for keeping records thereof.

(d) Each member of the commission shall have an equal voice in the operations thereof and in the final formulation of a plan of recommendations to be presented to the 1965 session of the legislature. Any member or members disagreeing with such final plan of recommendations in any respect may file a minority plan of recommendations identified as such.

| 14.051 Title of person upon whom duty of governor may devolve. | 14.20 Citizens advisory committee on the aged. |

14.01 Governor authorized to employ persons to protect life, liberty and property.—The governor may employ as many persons as he, in his discretion, may deem necessary to procure and secure protection to life, liberty and property of the inhabitants of the state, also to protect the property of the state.

History.—Ch. 1660, 1868; RS 68; GS 69; RGS 83; CGL 104.

14.02 Governor may preserve peace and order by military force.—The governor may, in cases of insurrection or rebellion, violence, disorder or insecurity of life, liberty and property, support and preserve the public peace and order by the military force of the state.

History.—§1, ch. 1745, 1870; RS 69; GS 70; RGS 84; CGL 105. cf.—§250.28, Order for troops to aid civil authorities.

14.021 Governor; promulgation and enforcement of emergency rules and regulations.—

(1) The governor of Florida is hereby authorized and empowered to promulgate and enforce such emergency rules and regulations as are necessary to prevent, control, or quell violence, threatened or actual, during any emergency lawfully declared by him to exist. In order to protect the public welfare, persons and property of citizens against violence, public property damage, overt threats of violence, and to maintain peace, tranquillity and good order in the state, these rules and regulations may control public parks, public buildings, or any other public facility in Florida, and shall regulate the manner of use, the time of use, and persons using the facility during any emergency. These rules and regulations shall have the same force and effect as law during any emergency, and shall remain in effect during a period of time and in such manner, and shall affect such persons, public buildings and public facilities as in the judgment of the governor shall best provide a safeguard for protection of persons and property where danger, violence and threats exist, or are threatened among the citizens of Florida.

(2) Whenever the governor shall promulgate emergency rules and regulations, such rules and regulations shall be published and posted during the emergency in the area affected, and copies of the rules shall be filed with the secretary of state for public record.

(3) The governor shall have emergency power to call upon the military forces of the state or any other law enforcement agency, state or county, to enforce the rules and regulations authorized by this law.

(4) The powers herein granted are supplemental to and in aid of powers now vested in the governor of this state under the constitution, statutory laws and police powers of said state.

(5) This section shall take effect immediately upon its becoming a law and shall continue in full force and effect until July 1, 1965.

History.—§§1-4, 6, ch. 31389, 1956; (5) §1, ch. 61-239.

14.022 Governor; emergency powers to quell violence.—

(1) The governor of Florida is hereby authorized and empowered to take such measures and to do all and every act and thing which he may deem necessary in order to prevent overt threats of violence or violence, to the person or property of citizens of the state and to maintain peace, tranquillity and good order in the state, and in any political subdivision thereof, and in any area of the state designated by him.

(2) The governor when, in his opinion, the facts warrant, shall, by proclamation, declare that, because of unlawful assemblage, violence, overt threats of violence, or otherwise, a danger exists to the person or property of any citizen or citizens of the state and that the peace and tranquillity of the state, or any political subdivision thereof, or any area of the state designated by him, is threatened, and because thereof an emergency, with reference to said threats and danger, exists. In all such cases when the governor shall issue his proclamation as herein provided he shall be and is hereby further authorized and empowered, to cope with said threats and danger, to order and direct any individual person, corporation, association or group of persons to do any act which would in his opinion prevent danger to life, limb or property, prevent a breach of the peace or he may order such individual person, corporation, association or group of persons to refrain from doing any act or thing which would, in his opinion, endanger life, limb, or property, or cause, or tend to cause, a breach of the peace, or endanger the peace and good order of society, and shall have full power by appropriate means to enforce such order or proclamation.

(3) The governor, upon the issuance of a proclamation as provided for in subsection (2) hereof shall forthwith file the same in the office of the secretary of state for recording, which proclamation shall be effective upon issuance and remain in full force and effect until revoked by the governor, and he is hereby authorized and empowered to take and exercise any, either or all of the following actions, powers and prerogatives:

(a) Call out the military forces of the state (state militia) and order and direct said forces to take such action as in his judgment may be necessary to avert the threatened danger and to maintain peace and good order in the particular circumstances.

(b) Order any sheriff or sheriffs of this state, pursuant to a proclamation as herein provided, to exercise fully the powers granted them, and each of them, under §30.15(7) (suppress tumults, riots and unlawful assemblies in their counties with force and strong hand when necessary) and to do all things necessary to maintain peace and good order.

(c) Order and direct the state highway patrol, and each and every officer thereof, to do and perform such acts and services as he may direct and in his judgment necessary in the circumstances to maintain peace and good order.

(d) Authorize, order or direct any state, county, or city official to enforce the provisions of such proclamation in each and every and all of the courts in the state by injunction, mandamus, or other appropriate legal action.

(4) The governor is hereby authorized and empowered to intervene in any situation where there exists violence, overt threats of violence to persons or property and take complete control thereof to prevent violence, or to quell violence or any disturbance or disorder which threatens the peace and good order of society.

(5) The powers herein granted are supplemental to and in aid of powers now vested in the governor under the constitution, statutory laws and police powers of said state.

(6) This law shall take effect immediately upon its becoming a law and shall continue in full force and effect until July 1, 1965.

History.—§§1-6, ch. 31390, 1956; (6) a. by §2, ch. 61-239.

14.03 Governor's private secretary.—The governor of this state may appoint and commission a fit and proper person to hold his office during the pleasure of the governor, as private secretary of the governor, and as clerk for the executive department, and who shall attend daily, during office hours, at the capitol, and perform such duties in the office of the governor as he may be directed by the governor to perform.

History.—§3, ch. 3, 1845; RS 71; GS 72; RGS 86; CGL 107.

14.05 Salary of officer upon whom duties of governor shall devolve.—When the powers and duties of governor shall devolve upon the president of the senate, or upon the speaker of the house of representatives, as provided in §19, Art. 4 of the constitution, the president of the senate or the speaker of the house of representatives, as the case may be, during the time that he shall exercise the powers and perform the duties of governor, as therein provided, shall receive the same salary as the governor would have received during said time.

History.—§1, ch. 19060, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 108(1).

14.051 Title of person upon whom duty of governor may devolve.—Whenever the duties of the office of governor has heretofore, or may hereafter, devolve upon the president of the senate, or upon the speaker of the house of representatives, he shall be deemed the governor of Florida and be designated and referred to as the governor of Florida.

History.—§1, ch. 61-442.

14.06 Governor authorized to employ clerical assistance for departments of state.—The governor of the state may employ clerical aid to work in any department of the state under the supervision and direction of the head of such department whenever in the judgment of the governor such additional help is necessary for the proper conduct of the business and affairs of such department, and when the same has become necessary by reason of the increase in the business of such department and was not foreseen and adequately provided for in the general appropriations bill. And the governor is further authorized to employ such persons as may be required from time to time to make such investigations as may, in the judgment of the governor, be necessary or expedient to efficiently conduct the affairs of the state government, especially to make investigation and report of matters concerning taxation and finance throughout the state.

History.—§1, ch. 11369, 1925; CGL 109.

cf.—§18.10 Deposit of money in the banks of the state.

14.14 Speaker of house of representatives disqualified while acting as governor; who to act.—Should the powers and duties of governor devolve upon the speaker of the house of representatives, pursuant to §19, Art. IV, of the constitution of Florida, and at such time there be no duly qualified speaker of the house of representatives, or in case of the impeachment, removal from office, death, resignation or inability of the speaker of the house of representatives to discharge the powers and duties of governor, such powers and duties shall devolve upon the secretary of state.

History.—§1, ch. 23697, 1947.

14.15 Governor elect; inability to discharge duties; succession.—In the event of the death, resignation or inability to discharge his official duties of the governor-elect, the governor then in office shall continue until a successor is elected and qualified as hereinafter provided.

History.—§1, ch. 24291, 1947.

14.16 Special election for governor.—Within five days after receiving notice of the death or disqualification of the governor-elect, the secretary of state shall order a special election to be held on the first Tuesday in February next ensuing for the purpose of electing a governor. Candidates shall qualify ten days prior to the date of such election. At said election, should any candidate receive a majority of the votes cast, he shall be declared elected governor. If no candidate receives a majority of votes cast, a further special election shall be held on the third Tuesday of said month. The two candidates receiving the highest votes in the first special election shall be placed on the ballot for the second election and the candidate receiving the highest number of votes cast at said second election shall be declared elected governor.

History.—§2, ch. 24291, 1947.

14.17 Governor; term of office.—The governor so elected shall assume office on the first Tuesday in March next following his election, and shall hold office for the remainder of the term.

History.—§3, ch. 24291, 1947.

14.18 Governor; inability to discharge duties; succession.—In the event the person elected governor, pursuant to §14.16, shall die, resign or be unable to discharge his official duties, the powers and duties of governor until the next general election for members of the legislature shall devolve upon the president of the senate. If there be no president of the senate or the president of the senate be unable to discharge such duties, such powers and duties shall devolve upon the speaker of the house. If there be no legally qualified speaker of the house or if the speaker of the house be unable to discharge such duties, the powers and duties shall devolve upon the secretary of state. At the next general election for members of the legislature, the governor shall be elected for the residue of the term and shall take office upon election.

History.—§4, ch. 24291, 1947.

14.20 Citizens advisory committee on the aged.—There is created a standing committee, to be known as the "citizens' advisory committee on the aged," to be composed of nine persons to inquire into, examine and advise the governor on the needs and problems of the aged residents of the state. Members of the said committee shall be appointed and selected by the governor on the basis of their demonstrated interest in the health, welfare, and happiness and the maintaining of adequate living standards for elderly persons in the state. The members of the said committee shall serve at the pleasure of the governor. The governor shall designate the chairman, vice-chairman and secretary of the said committee. The said committee shall be advisory in character and shall not be delegated any administrative authority or responsibility. The members of the said committee shall serve without compensation but shall be reimbursed for traveling expenses as provided in §112.061.

16.01 Residence, office and duties of attorney general.—The attorney general shall reside at the seat of government, and shall keep his office in a room in the capitol; he shall perform the duties prescribed by the constitution of this state, and also perform such other duties appropriate to his office, as may from time to time be required of him by law, or by resolution of the legislature; he shall, on the written requisition of the governor, secretary of state, treasurer, or comptroller, give his official opinion and legal advice in writing on any matter touching their official duties; he shall appear in and attend to in behalf of the state, all suits or prosecutions, civil or criminal, or in equity, in which the state may be a party, or in any wise interested, in the supreme court and district courts of appeal of this state; he shall appear in and attend to such suits or prosecutions in any other of the courts of this state, or in any courts of any other state, or of the United States; he shall have and perform all powers and duties incident or usual to such office, and he shall make and keep in his office a record of all his official acts and proceedings, containing copies of all his official opinions, reports and correspondence, and also keep and preserve in his office all official letters and communications to him, and cause a registry and index thereof to be made and kept, all of which official papers and records shall be subject to the inspection of the governor of the state, and to the disposition of the legislature by act or resolution thereof.

History.—§2, ch. 2, 1845; ch. 1845, 1871; RS 85; GS 87; RGS 101; CGL 125; §7, ch. 22858, 1945; §7, ch. 59-1. cf.—§§20, 22, 27, Art. IV; §10, Art. XVI, Const., 1885.

16.02 Appointment of person to act in case of disability of attorney general.—In case of the disability of the attorney general to perform any official duty devolving on him, by reason of interest or otherwise, the governor or attorney general of this state may appoint another person to perform such duty in his stead.

History.—§3, ch. 2, 1845; RS 85a; GS 88; RGS 102; CGL 126.

16.05 To report on laws.—The attorney general shall make a written report to the governor five days before the first day of every session of the legislature, as to the effect and operation of the acts of the last previous session, the decisions of the courts thereon, and referring to the previous legislation on the subject, with such suggestions as in his opinion the public interest may demand, which report shall be laid before the legislature by the governor with his first message.

History.—§5, ch. 2, 1845; RS 88; GS 91; RGS 105; CGL 129.

16.07 Not to receive fee for defending offender.—It shall be a misdemeanor in office for the attorney general to take or receive any fee for defending any supposed offender in any of the courts.

History.—§6, ch. 2, 1845; RS 89; GS 92; RGS 106; CGL 130.

16.08 To have superintendence and direction of state attorneys.—The attorney general shall exercise a general superintendence and direction over the several state attorneys of the several circuits as to the manner of discharging their respective duties, and whenever requested by the state attorneys, shall give them his opinion upon any question of law.

History.—§1, ch. 2098, 1877; RS 90; GS 93; RGS 107; CGL 131.

16.09 To prescribe regulations as to the reports of state attorneys.—The attorney general shall prescribe the time and manner in which regular quarterly reports shall be made to him by state attorneys, and they shall comply with his instructions in this respect.

History.—§3, ch. 2098, 1877; RS 91; GS 94; RGS 108; CGL 132.

16.10 To receive supreme court reports for office.—The clerk of the supreme court shall deliver to the attorney general a copy of each volume, or part of volume, of the decisions of the supreme court, which may be in the care or custody of said clerk, and which the attorney general's office may be without, and take the attorney general's receipt for the same. The attorney general shall keep the same in his office at the capitol, and each retiring attorney general shall take the receipt of his successor for the same and file such receipt in the treasurer's office; provided that this shall not authorize the taking away of any book belonging to the supreme court library, kept for the use of said court.

History.—Ch. 3264, 1881; RS 92; GS 95; RGS 109; CGL 133.

16.19 Florida Statutes, 1963, adopted.—The accompanying revision, consolidation and compilation of the public statutes of 1961 of a general and permanent nature, excepting tables, rules, index and other related matter contained therein, prepared by the statutory revision department of the attorney general's office under the provisions of §16.44, together with the corrections, changes, amendments and repeals, is adopted and enacted as the official statute law of the state under the title of "Florida Statutes, 1963," which may be cited as "Florida Statutes, 1963," "Florida Statutes," or "F.S. '63."

History.—§1, ch. 20719, 1941; §1, ch. 22000, 1943; §1, ch. 22858, 1945; §1, ch. 24337, 1947; §1, ch. 25035, 1949; §1, ch. 26484, 1951; §1, ch. 27991, 1953; §1, ch. 29615, 1955; §1, ch. 57-1; §1, ch. 59-1; §1, ch. 61-1; §1, ch. 63-2.

16.20 Statutes repealed.—Every statute of a general and permanent nature enacted by the state or by the territory of Florida, and every part of such statute not included in Florida Statutes, 1963, as adopted by §16.19, as amended or recognized and continued in force by reference therein or in §§16.21 and 16.22, as amended, is repealed.

History.—§2, ch. 20719, 1941; §2, ch. 22000, 1943; §2, ch. 22858, 1945; §2, ch. 24337, 1947; §2, ch. 25035, 1949; §2, ch. 26484, 1951; §2, ch. 27991, 1953; §2, ch. 29615, 1955; §2, ch. 57-1; §2, ch. 59-1; §2, ch. 61-1; §2, ch. 63-2.

16.21 Laws or statutes not repealed.—

(1) No special or local statute, or statute, local, limited or special in its nature, shall be repealed by the Florida Statutes, now or hereafter adopted, and, for the purpose of this saving from repeal any statute of the following classes shall be taken to be included in such exception, namely:

(a) Any statutes for or concerning only a certain county or certain designated counties.

(b) Any statute for, or concerning or operative in only a portion of the state.

(c) Any statute for or concerning only a certain municipal corporation.

(d) Any statute for or concerning only a designated individual corporation or corporations.

(e) Any statute incorporating a designated individual corporation, or making a grant there-to.

(f) Any statute of such limited or local application as makes its inclusion in a general statute impracticable or undesirable.

(g) Road designated laws.

(h) Severability section in any law.

(2) The foregoing enumeration of classes of statutes not repealed shall not be construed to imply a repeal of other statutes which are local, limited or special in their nature.

History.—§3, ch. 20719, 1941; am. §3, ch. 22000, 1943; §3, ch. 22858, 1945; §3, ch. 24337, 1947; §3, ch. 25035, 1949; (1) §3, ch. 26484, 1951; §3, ch. 27991, 1953; (1) (h) §3, ch. 59-1.

16.22 1963 statutes not repealed.—Statutes enacted at the 1962 and 1963 extraordinary or special sessions of the legislature and at the 1963 regular session of the legislature are not repealed by the adoption and enactment of the Florida Statutes, 1963, by §16.19, as amended, but shall have full effect as if enacted after its said adoption and enactment, except those laws passed during the 1962 and 1963 extraordinary or special sessions and at the said 1963 regular session which are amendatory of laws omitted from said Florida Statutes.

History.—§4, ch. 20719, 1941; §4, ch. 22000, 1943; §4, ch. 22858, 1945; §4, ch. 24337, 1947; §4, ch. 25035, 1949; §4, ch. 26484, 1951; §4, ch. 27991, 1953; §3, ch. 29615, 1955; §3, ch. 57-1; §1, ch. 57-233; §4, ch. 59-1; §3, ch. 61-1; §3, ch. 63-2.

16.23 Rights reserved under repealed statutes.—The repeal of any statute by the adoption and enactment of Florida Statutes, 1963, by §16.19, as amended, shall not affect any right accrued before such repeal, nor any civil remedy where a suit is pending.

History.—§5, ch. 20719, 1941; §5, ch. 22000, 1943; §5, ch. 22858, 1945; §5, ch. 24337, 1947; §5, ch. 25035, 1949; §5, ch. 26484, 1951; §5, ch. 27991, 1953; §4, ch. 29615, 1955; §4, ch. 57-1; §5, ch. 59-1; §4, ch. 61-1; §4, ch. 63-2.

16.24 When statutes effective.—The Florida Statutes, 1963, shall take effect immediately upon its adoption at the 1963 session of the legislature. Until the publication of the Florida Statutes, 1963, incorporating the changes adopted as provided in §16.19, the Florida Statutes, 1961, shall be prima facie evidence of said statutes.

History.—§6, ch. 20719, 1941; §6, ch. 25035, 1949; §6, ch. 26484, 1951; §6, ch. 27991, 1953; §5, ch. 29615, 1955; §5, ch. 57-1; §6, ch. 59-1; §5, ch. 61-1; §5, ch. 63-2.

16.27 Conflict of laws.—If any section in the civil part of the Florida Statutes, creating a crime or prescribing a punishment, conflicts with any section in the part relating to crimes, the latter shall prevail.

History.—§9, ch. 20719, 1941; §7, ch. 25035, 1949; §7, ch. 26484, 1951.

16.43 Permanent statutory revision, legislative drafting and reference department created.—

There is created a permanent statutory revision plan, and a legislative drafting service of this state, designated as the "statutory revision department," which department shall be under the supervision and control of the attorney general. In connection with the operation of this department, the attorney general shall select a duly qualified person and fix his compensation, who shall be designated as an assistant attorney general and have the direct supervision and control of the said department. The said director, with the advice of the said attorney general, shall select and employ the operating personnel of the said department and fix their compensation.

History.—§1, ch. 22012, 1943; §1, ch. 25034, 1949.

16.44 Powers, duties and functions of the attorney general in the statutory revision department.—The powers, duties and functions of the attorney general in the control and maintenance of the permanent statutory revision department shall be as follows:

(1) To conduct a systematic and continuing study of the statutes and laws of this state for the purpose of reducing their number and bulk, removing inconsistencies, redundancies and unnecessary repetitions and otherwise improve their clarity; and to facilitate their correct and proper interpretation; and for the same purpose to prepare and submit to each regular session of the legislature reviser's bills, and bills for the amendment, consolidation, revision, repeal or other alterations or change in any general statute or laws or parts thereof of a general nature and application of the preceding session or sessions which may appear to be subject to revision. Any revision either complete, partial or topical, prepared for submission to the legislature, shall be accompanied by revision and history notes relating to the same, showing the changes made therein, and the reason for such recommended change.

(2) To carry on the arrangements and identification of the general statutes and laws of the state, as adopted in the Florida Statutes, and the contents of the same, by adding thereto, in the future and in proper place, all new matter belonging therein; this new material to be compiled, revised and republished biennially in continuation of the present systems, matters, tables and other material as contained in the Florida Statutes.

(3) Reviser's bills shall not deal with nor carry forward into the Florida Statutes, any statute of any of the following classes, namely:

(a) Statutes relating to, for or concerning only one or more counties or parts thereof, except in cases where the subject matter of the statute relates to the creation or jurisdiction of state or county courts;

(b) Statutes relating to, for or concerning and operative in only a portion of the state, except in cases where the subject matter of the statute relates to the creation or jurisdiction of state or county courts;

(c) Statutes relating to, for or concerning only a certain municipal corporation;

(d) Statutes relating to, for or concerning only one or more designated individuals or corporations;

(e) Statutes incorporating a designated individual corporation or making a grant thereto;

(f) Road designation laws.

(4) To make complete biennial revision of the general statutes and laws of the state, to conform with the numbering system, style, contents and other characteristics of the Florida Statutes, provided, such new revision shall be known as "Florida Statutes, 19____," showing the year of its enactment.

(5) The published edition of the Florida Statutes, shall contain the following:

(a) The Florida Statutes, as adopted and enacted, together with the laws of a general nature enacted at any current session of the legislature and directed to be embodied in said edition.

(b) The Florida Constitution.

(c) Complete indexes of all the material in the volume.

(d) Such other matters, notes, data, and other material as may be deemed necessary or admissible by the statutory revision department for reference, convenience or interpretation.

(6) In carrying on the work of the statutory revision department and in preparing the Florida Statutes for publication:

(a) The Florida Statutes shall be continued in the form as adopted herein.

(b) All amendments made to any section or chapter, or any part thereof, of the Florida Statutes or session laws of this state by any current session of the legislature, wherever such amendments in express terms refer to sections or chapters of said statutes or session laws, shall be incorporated with the body of the text of the Florida Statutes.

(c) All sections, chapters or titles of the Florida Statutes or session laws of this state which are expressly repealed by any current session of the legislature shall be omitted.

(d) All laws of a general and permanent nature which are of general application throughout the state enacted by any current session of the legislature shall be compiled and included, assigning thereto in all appropriate places, such chapter and section identification, by the decimal system of numbering heretofore embodied in the Florida Statutes, as is appropriate and proper, but all chapters and sections so compiled shall be indicated with a history note, clearly showing that said section or chapter was not a part of the revision at the time of its adoption and indentifying such material by the abbreviation "comp." giving the proper legislative session law chapter and section number. The matter included under the authority of this subsection shall be incorporated as enacted in any current session and shall be prima facie evidence of such law in all courts of the state.

(e) Any two or more sections, chapters or laws, or parts thereof, may be consolidated;

(f) Any section, chapter or law, or part thereof, may be transferred from one location to another;

(g) The form or arrangement of any section, chapter or law, or part thereof, may be altered or changed by transferring, combining or dividing the same;

(h) Subsections, sections, chapters and titles may be renumbered and reference thereto may be changed to agree with such renumbering;

(i) Grammatical, typographical and like errors may be corrected and additions, alterations and omissions, not affecting the construction or meaning of the statute or laws, may be freely made;

(j) All statutes and laws, or parts thereof, which have expired, become obsolete, been held invalid by a court of last resort, have had their effect or have served their purpose, or which have been repealed or superseded, either expressly or by implication, shall be omitted;

(k) All statutes and laws general in form but of such local or limited application as to make their inclusion in the Florida Statutes or any revision or supplement thereof, impracticable, undesirable or unnecessary shall be omitted therefrom, without effecting a repeal thereof;

(1) All things relating to form, position, order or arrangement of the revision, not inconsistent with the Florida Statutes system, which may be found desirable or necessary for the improvement, betterment or perfection of same, may be done.

(7) (a) To award contracts, from time to time, for setting type, for meshing existing type with new or existing type, for editorial work in the preparation of copy and other necessary material, for printing and binding, and pay expenses only of members of revision committees appointed by the attorney general to assist in revision of whole titles or chapters and pay for such other things as are authorized to be done and performed by the statutory revision department under the laws of this state.

(b) Contracts for printing and binding of any volume of the Florida Statutes shall only be awarded to the lowest and best responsible bidders who are equipped and qualified to do such printing and binding upon bids submitted pursuant to not less than twenty-eight days' notice thereof in one or more newspapers published in this state as defined by chapter 49.

(c) Each such bid for printing and binding shall be accompanied by a certified check, in an amount to be fixed by the statutory revision department but not less than five hundred dollars, to evidence the good faith of the bidder.

(d) The successful bidder shall be required to post a good and sufficient bond, in such sum as the statutory revision department may fix, to guarantee the prompt and faithful performance of the obligations under the said bid and contract made pursuant thereto.

(e) The contract for printing and binding aforesaid shall contain a provision that only the number of copies therein specified will be printed and that all copies printed will be delivered to the secretary of state.

(f) The contract may contain such other and further provisions as may be deemed necessary or proper by the statutory revision department to insure prompt, speedy and efficient execution of the said printing and binding.

(g) Publication of notices of intention to award contracts for work or services other than printing and binding aforesaid, is not required.

(8) To maintain a bill drafting department for the benefit of the members of the legislature and the state officials, boards and agencies.

(9) To exchange Florida Statutes, and other available publications, with the officers, boards and agencies of other states and of the United States.

(10) To prepare alphabetical indexes for the journals of the legislature and in this connection to employ competent indexers, who shall be attaches of the legislature to be paid as other attaches are paid.

(11) To exercise all other powers, duties and functions necessary or convenient for properly carrying out the provisions of this law and all other laws relating to the statutory revision department.

History.—§2, ch. 22012, 1943; §2, ch. 25034, 1949; §7, ch. 27991, 1953; §6, ch. 29615, 1955; (7), (8) r. and subsequent subsections renumbered by §12, ch. 59-1; (5)(c) r. and (9)a. §1, ch. 63-517. cf.—§11.14 Compensation of officers and attaches.

16.46 Publishing Florida Statutes; price, sale; revolving trust fund; disposal of obsolete statutes.—

(1) The statutory revision department shall continue the statutory revision system heretofore adopted in this state and shall bring the general acts of the legislature within the revision system, as promptly after the adjournment of the legislative session as possible.

All continuing and supplementary work contemplated in this chapter to be done by the statutory revision department shall include, operate upon and apply to new and additional matter belonging thereto from whatever source the same may originate and come, all new material to be issued following the regular legislative sessions of the legislature; provided, however, that reviser's bills shall be prepared for introduction in each convening regular session of the legislature.

(2) All Florida Statutes shall be delivered by the printer to the secretary of state, who shall distribute copies to state agencies and personnel as provided by law, and sell to purchasers at a price to be fixed by the statutory revision department upon the basis of actual cost per set for printing and binding, plus twenty per cent and plus postage costs. Any officially approved law school book store at any law school in Florida may purchase sets of the Florida Statutes from the secretary of state at cost for resale, provided that purchase of statutes for resale shall not exceed two hundred sets. All volumes shall be sold at the established state price.

(3) All moneys collected by the secretary of state from such sales shall be deposited in a revolving trust fund which shall be established by the comptroller for the purpose of paying the printers' contract cost for the preparation and publication of the statutes and cost of packaging and postage for mailing, and for contract costs of other legal indexes and publications prepared by the statutory revision department as required. Any payment on a contract entered into as provided in §16.44 from this fund shall be requested by the director of the statutory revision department approved by the attorney general and the request for payment approved by the budget commission.

(4) All moneys received for the sale of other books printed by the attorney general and paid for out of the revolving trust fund shall be deposited back in this fund. Free distribution of legal matter shall be determined by the attorney general based upon need and circumstances.

(5) The balance of money in the revolving trust fund at the beginning of each biennium shall not be in excess of seventy-five thousand dollars. Any excess of the balance shall be transferred to the general revenue fund. An amount sufficient to bring the revolving trust fund up to seventy-five thousand dollars is appropriated and shall be transferred from the general revenue fund for the purposes set forth in this section.

(6) The secretary of state is directed to take inventory of obsolete statutes in his custody upon delivery of the latest official statutes following each regular legislative year and is authorized to destroy obsolete volumes in his possession reserving only five sets for reference.

History.—§4, ch. 22012, 1943; §4, ch. 25034, 1949; §8, ch. 27991, 1953; §1, ch. 29675, 1955; (2) §1, ch. 57-793; (5) §6, ch. 57-1; (3)-(5) §2, ch. 61-119; (5) §1, ch. 61-532; (2) §2, ch. 63-517.

16.47 Type and plates used in printing.—

(1) All type and plates used in printing contracted for under the authority of this law shall become the property of this state and shall be preserved by the original caster, and stored in set-up form at the expense of such original caster to be insured by said caster against the hazards described in subsection (3) of this section and thereafter so insured by any printer using the same; and shall be at all times subject to the order and control of the statutory revision department, as long as such original caster or subsequent printer has the possession thereof; provided, however, that the statutory revision department may dispose of any such type when in its opinion advisable for lack of further practical use.

(2) All such type shall be available for use in making plates for printing by the state, its officers, departments and agencies; provided, that such use shall be done under the supervision of the statutory revision department for the purpose of regulating and controlling the same. The statutory revision department may withhold the use of its type and plates from other state departments when in its opinion the good quality of same will be deteriorated as a consequence thereof.

(3) The statutory revision department shall not permit such type and plates to remain in the custody of any printer for storage, except for a reasonable time, but shall keep the same in storage in a safe and suitable place at Tallahassee, insured against loss by fire, breakage or theft, and no department of the state government shall be permitted the use of same except upon conditions requiring it to transport the type or plates at its own expense, and to keep same insured against the losses aforesaid, while away from the regular state storage, and agreement to return the same to such regular state storage immediately after its use by said department.

History.—§5, ch. 22012, 1943; §5, ch. 25034, 1949.

16.48 Departmental appropriation.—A departmental appropriation shall be biennially appropriated by the legislature sufficient to pay for editing, revising, printing, publishing, binding, selling and distributing of the statutes and for other publications, prepared by the statutory revision department and published, and for the carrying out of the duties to be done by or under the direction of the statutory revision department, and all expenses in connection therewith, required or authorized from time to time, including regular salaries and necessary and regular expenses of the statutory revision department.

All sums received from the sale of such publications shall be paid into the general revenue fund of the state and shall become a part thereof.

History.—§6, ch. 22012, 1943; §1, ch. 22768, 1945; §7, ch. 24337, 1947; §2, ch. 26869, 1951.

16.50 Copyrights.—The statutory revision department shall have copyrighted, on behalf of the state, all editions of Florida Statutes and supplementary matter thereto. The use of such copyright material or data for publication by private persons, firms or corporations may be authorized by the statutory revision department only in event proper and adequate compensation is secured to the state, and upon such terms and contracts as are recommended to and approved by the attorney general. All revenue derived from this source shall be paid into and become a part of the general revenue fund of the state.

History.—§8, ch. 22012, 1943; §7, ch. 25034, 1949; §9, ch. 27991, 1953.

16.501 Distribution of free copies.—Copies of Florida Statutes and any supplementary matter thereto shall be furnished free only to the officials specifically designated.

(1) One set to:

(a) Each justice of the Florida supreme court; each judge of the district court of appeals; each judge of the circuit court; each judge of a criminal or a civil court of record; each judge of a county court or county judge's court; each judge of a separate juvenile court.

(b) Each justice of the supreme court of the United States; each judge of the fifth circuit court of appeals of the United States; each federal district judge residing within the state; the attorney general of the United States; each United States district attorney and assistant within the state; each Florida senator and representative in congress.

(c) Each prosecuting attorney and assistant in the circuit courts and courts of record; each prosecuting attorney in the county court; the clerk of the circuit court; the sheriff, the assessor of taxes, the tax collector, the superintendent of public instruction, and the supervisor of registration in each county.

(d) One set to each member of the senate and house of representatives.

(2) Sets of the Florida Statutes may be requisitioned as needed for official use:

(a) By the governor, the several cabinet officers of the state, by the legislative council for staff members, the statutory revision department for staff members, any board, bureau or commission under the jurisdiction of the governor or the cabinet, as required for the chief executive officers or department directors and attorneys in such offices, and one set to the executive officer of any board, bureau, commission, institution or agency created by law.

(b) By the supreme court library, and one set to the general library of each state supported university or junior college.

(3) Copies to the law libraries respectively, of Florida agricultural and mechanical university for negroes, Stetson university, the university of Florida and the university of Miami heretofore designated a state depository by §283.23, upon requisition by the dean of the law college computed on the basis of one set for every ten students enrolled, during the previous school year, based upon the average enrollment as certified by the registrar.

(4) Copies, not exceeding one copy for each member of the faculty of the law colleges respectively, of Florida agricultural and mechanical university for negroes, Stetson university, the university of Florida, and the university of Miami as requisitioned by the dean of the law college.

History.—§1, ch. 29736, 1955; intro. para., (1), (2), §3, ch. 63-517.

16.51 Legislative advisory committee.

There shall be a joint legislative revision committee appointed by the president of the senate and the speaker of the house respectively for each regular session of the legislature, composed of four members from the senate and four members from the house of representatives. This committee shall assist the attorney general and work with the statutory revision department, in an advisory capacity, during each session of the legislature and between the regular sessions thereof, relative to the work of statutory revision and legislative drafting and the committee shall be reimbursed for traveling expenses as provided in §112.061.

History.—§9, ch. 22012, 1943; §3, ch. 26869, 1951; §19, ch. 63-400.

16.52 Participation in preserving constitutional integrity of state.

(1) In order to provide for independent action and co-operative participation by the state in a program of concerted action among the states, and independent procedure to oppose any existing or proposed federal legislative encroachments upon constitutional state powers, it is hereby made a duty of the attorney general of this state to make a study of federal legislation—existing and proposed—to determine whether such legislation has resulted, or may result, in objectionable or harmful encroachments upon the constitutional integrity of state governments, and with due regard to this state's full contribution to the national war effort, in cooperation with the attorneys general of other states, or alone, to pursue that course best calculated in his opinion, to preserve and safeguard the constitutional state powers of the government of this state. He shall furnish to each of the several representatives in the congress from this state, a written statement giving the reasons for any action being considered, or about to be taken hereunder at the time; and if possible, shall procure the assistance of such representatives therein and therefor.

(2) It shall be the duty of the attorney general of this state to render opinions to the representatives in congress from this state, on any question arising within the scope of the subject matter of this act.

(3) In performing the duties imposed upon him under the provisions of this section, the attorney general is hereby authorized to employ therefor the services of the council of state governments, a national conference organization, or its successors in name or organization, or any other similar organization, in such manner not inconsistent with the powers and duties of his office, as he may deem desirable; provided, that the cost of such employment, if any, shall be paid from the attorney general's necessary and regular appropriation.

17.041 County and district accounts and claims.

(1) It shall be the duty of the comptroller of this state to adjust and settle, or cause to be adjusted and settled, all accounts and claims heretofore or hereafter certified to him by the state auditor, against all county and district officers and employees, and other persons, firms and corporations, entrusted with, or who may have received any property, funds or moneys of a county or district, or may be in any wise indebted to or accountable to a county or district for any property, funds, moneys or other thing of value, and to require such officer, employee, person, firm or corporation to render full accounts thereof, and to yield up such property, funds, moneys or other thing of value according to law to the officer or authority entitled by law to receive the same.

(2) On the failure of such officer, employee, person, firm or corporation to adjust and settle such account, or to yield up such property, funds, moneys or other thing of value, the comptroller shall direct the attorney for the board of county commissioners, the county board of public instruction, or the district, as the case may be, entitled to such account, property, funds, moneys or other thing of value, to represent such county or district in enforcing settlement, payment or delivery of such account, property, funds, moneys or other thing of value.

(3) Should the attorney for the county or district aforesaid be disqualified or unable to act, and no other attorney be furnished by the county or district, or should the comptroller otherwise deem it advisable, such account or claim may be certified to the attorney general, by the comptroller, to be prosecuted by him at county or district expense, as the case may be, including necessary per diem and travel expense in accordance with §112.061, as now or hereafter amended. Such expenses, when approved by the comptroller, shall be paid forthwith by such county or district.

(4) Should it appear to the comptroller that any criminal statute of this state has or may have been violated by such defaulting officer, employee, person, firm or corporation, such information, evidence, documents, and other things tending to show such a violation, whether in the hands of the comptroller, state auditor, county or district, shall be forthwith turned over to the proper state attorney or county solicitor for his inspection, study and such action as he may deem proper, or the same may be brought to the attention of the proper grand jury.

(5) No such account or claim, after it has been certified to the comptroller, may be settled for less than the amount due according to law without the written consent of the comptroller, and any attempt to make settlement in violation of this subsection shall be deemed null and void. A county or district board desiring to make such a settlement shall incorporate the proposed settlement into a resolution, stating that the proposed settlement is contingent upon the comptroller's approval, and shall submit two copies of the resolution to the comptroller. The comptroller shall return one copy with his action endorsed thereon.

(6) No settlement of account of any such officer, employee, person, firm or corporation, with the county or district, or any of their officers or agents, made in an amount or manner other than as authorized by law or for other than a lawful county or district purpose, shall be binding upon such county or district unless and until approved by the comptroller, or unless more than four years shall have elapsed from the date of such settlement.

(7) Nothing in this section shall supersede the continuing duty of the proper county and district officers to require any officer, employee, person, firm or corporation to render full accounts of and to yield up according to law to the officer or authority entitled by law to receive the same, any property, funds, moneys or other thing of value as to which such officer, employee, person, firm or corporation is in any wise indebted to or accountable to such county or district. The provisions of this section provide for collections and recoveries which the proper county or district officers have failed to make, and for correction of settlements made in an amount or manner other than as authorized by law.

History.—§1, ch. 59-145.

17.05 May examine under oath parties and privies to accounts.—The comptroller of this state may demand and require full answers on oath from any and every person, party or privy to any account, claim or demand against or by the state, such as it may be his official duty to examine into, and which answers he may require to be in writing and to be sworn to before himself or before any judicial officer, or justice of the peace, or clerk of any court of the state, so as to enable such comptroller to decide as to the justice or legality of such account, claim or demand.

History.—§5, ch. 8, 1845; RS 97; GS 101; RGS 114; CGL 144.

17.06 Disallowed items and accounts.—The comptroller shall erase from any original account all items disallowed by him; and when he shall reject the whole of any account he shall write across the face of it the word "disallowed," and the date, and file the same in his office or deliver it to the claimant.

History.—§2, ch. 146, 1848; RS 98; GS 102; RGS 115; CGL 145.

17.08 Accounts, etc., on which warrants drawn, to be filed.—All accounts, vouchers and evidence, upon which warrants have heretofore been, or shall hereafter be drawn upon the treasury by the comptroller shall be filed and deposited in the office of comptroller.

History.—Ch. 351, 1851; RS 100; GS 104; RGS 117; CGL 147.

17.09 Application for warrants for salaries.—All public officers who are entitled to salaries in this state, shall make their application for warrants in writing, stating for what terms and the amount they claim, which written application shall be filed by the comptroller as vouchers for the warrants issued thereupon.

History.—§1, ch. 1567, 1866; RS 101; GS 105; RGS 118; CGL 148.

17.10 Record of warrants paid.—The comptroller shall cause to be entered in the warrant register a record of the warrants paid during the previous month, and shall make such entry in the record so required to be kept as shall show the number of each warrant paid, in whose favor drawn, to whom paid and the date of payment.

History.—§1, ch. 1536, 1866; RS 103; GS 107; ch. 7270, 1917; RGS 119; CGL 149.

17.11 To report warrants paid.—The comptroller shall make in all his future annual reports an exhibit stated from the record of warrants paid during the fiscal year, and the several heads of expenditures under which said warrants were paid.

History.—§3, ch. 1536, 1866; RS 104; GS 108; RGS 120; CGL 150.

17.12 Authorized to issue warrants to tax collector or sheriff for payment.—Whenever it shall appear to the satisfaction of the comptroller of this state, from examination of the books of his office, that the tax collector or the sheriff for any county in this state has paid into the state treasury, through mistake or otherwise, a larger or greater sum than is actually due from said collector or sheriff, then the comptroller may issue a warrant to said collector or sheriff for the sum so found to be overpaid.

History.—Ch. 1762, 1870; RS 105; GS 109; RGS 121; CGL 151.

17.13 To duplicate warrants lost or destroyed.—The comptroller is required to duplicate any comptroller's warrants that may have been lost or destroyed, or may hereafter be lost or destroyed, upon the owner thereof, his agent or attorney, presenting the comptroller the statement, under oath, reciting the number, date and amount of any warrant or the best and most definite description in his knowledge, and the circumstances of its loss; provided, if the comptroller deems it necessary, the owner, his agent or attorney, shall file in the office of the comptroller a surety bond, or a bond with securities, to be approved by one of the judges of the circuit court or one of the justices of the supreme court, in a penalty of not less than twice the amount of any warrants so duplicated, conditioned to indemnify the state and any innocent holders thereof from any damages that may accrue from such duplication. Any duplicate comptroller's warrants issued in pursuance of the above provisions shall be of the same validity as the originals were before their loss.

History.—§1, 3, ch. 1758, 1870; RS 106; GS 110; RGS 122; CGL 152; §1, ch. 24280, 1947.

17.14 To prescribe forms.—The comptroller of this state may prescribe the forms of all papers, vouchers, reports, returns, and the manner of keeping the accounts and papers to be used by the officers of this state, or other persons having accounts, claims or demands against the state, or intrusted with the collection of any of the revenue thereof, or any demand due the same, which form shall be pursued by such officer or other persons.

History.—§12, ch. 8, 1845; RS 107; GS 111; RGS 123; CGL 153.

17.16 Seal.—The seal of office of the comptroller of the state shall be the same as the seal heretofore used for that purpose.

History.—§7, ch. 8, 1845; RS 108; GS 112; RGS 124; CGL 154.

17.17 Examination by governor and report.—The office of comptroller of the state, and the books, files, documents, records and papers shall always be subject to the examination of the governor of this state, or any person he may authorize to examine the same; and on the first day of January of each and every year, or oftener if called for by the governor, the comptroller shall make a full report of all his official acts and proceedings for the last fiscal year to the governor, to be laid before the legislature with his message, and shall make such further report as the constitution may require.

17.18 Statement of defaulters.—The comptroller in his annual reports to the governor shall make a full statement of all defaulters, showing the name of the defaulting officer or party against whom the claim exists, the name of the sureties upon the bond, the several heads under which the default arises, the total amount of the claim of the state, the state attorney to whom forwarded, and when forwarded, the amount realized therefrom, and, in case an execution has been delivered to the sheriff, he shall give the name of the sheriff as well as the report of the sum realized from him, or a statement of the reasons for his failure to realize in the event of such failure. A copy of the said tabulated statement of defaulters shall be published in a newspaper at Tallahassee.

History.—§1, ch. 2083, 1879; RS 110; GS 114; RGS 126; CGL 156.

17.19 Duty to examine as to the sufficiency of bonds of state officers.—The comptroller of the state, within ten days of the first day of January and June of each year, shall carefully examine as to the sufficiency of the bonds of the various state officials, and if by reason of the death, assignment, or insolvency of any of the sureties on the bonds of said officials, he has reason to believe that the sufficiency of said bond has become impaired, he shall at once report the same to the governor, who shall thereupon call upon and require such official or officials to execute and file with the proper officer a new bond for the same amount and under the same conditions as his former bond. If the comptroller shall fail to perform the duties required herein he shall be liable to the state for any loss that may be sustained by the state, by reason of such failure, such sum to be recovered by suit against such comptroller.

cf.—§137.07, Liability for loss, neglect of duty.

17.20 To charge state attorneys with claims in their hands.—The comptroller of this state shall charge the several state attorneys of this state with all claims which he may place in their hands for collection of money for and on behalf of the state, or which he may otherwise require them to collect. Said charges shall be evidence of indebtedness on the part of any state attorney against whom any charge is made for the full amount of such claim to the state, until the same shall be collected and paid into the treasury, or the legal remedies of the state exhausted, or until said state attorney shall make it fully appear to the comptroller that the failure to collect the same did not originate from any neglect of his, and the comptroller shall have made proper entry of satisfaction of such charge against such state attorney.

17.21 Not to allow any claim of state attorney against state until report made.—The comptroller shall not audit or allow any claim which any state attorney may have against the state for services who shall fail to make any report which by law he is required to make to the comptroller of claims of the state which it is his duty to collect.

History.—§3, ch. 1413, 1863; RS 113; GS 117; RGS 129; CGL 159.
cf.—§27.11 Report upon claims committed to state attorney.
§27.08 Surrender of papers, etc. to successor by state attorney.

17.22 To notify attorney general of forwarding claim to state attorney.—Whenever the comptroller forwards any bond or account or claim for suit to any state attorney, he shall advise the attorney general of the fact, giving him the amount of the claim and other necessary particulars for his full information upon the subject.

History.—§2, ch. 2083, 1877; RS 114; GS 118; RGS 130; CGL 160.

17.25 May certify copies.—The comptroller of this state may certify, under his seal of office, copies of any record, paper or document, by law placed in his custody, keeping and care; and such certified copy shall have the same force and effect as evidence as the original would have.

17.26 Cancellation of state warrants not presented within one year.—

(1) If any state warrant issued by the comptroller, countersigned by the governor, against any fund in the state treasury, is not presented for payment within one year after issuance thereof, the comptroller may cancel the same and credit the amount of such warrant to the fund upon which it is drawn; provided, that if the warrant so canceled was issued against a fund which is no longer operative, then the amount of such warrant shall be credited to the general revenue fund. The state treasurer shall not honor any state warrant after same has been canceled.

(2) When the payee or person entitled to any warrant so canceled by the comptroller requests payment thereof, the comptroller may upon investigation, issue a new warrant therefor, to be paid out of the proper fund in the state treasury. There is appropriated a sufficient amount for the payment of any new warrant issued to replace a voided warrant charged against an expired appropriation or charged against a fund which is no longer operative.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 22006, 1943; (1) §1, ch. 29645, 1955.

17.27 Microfilming and destroying records and correspondence.—

(1) The state comptroller may destroy general correspondence files over three years old and also any other records which are over ten years old and which the state comptroller may deem no longer necessary to preserve.

(2) The state comptroller may photograph, microphotograph or reproduce on film, in such manner that each page will be exposed in exact conformity with the original, the following records, and other records and documents as he may select: paid warrants, paid vouchers, warrant registers, general ledger, revenue ledger, appropriation ledger, treasurer's receipts, estate tax certificates, estate tax final clearance sheets, state retirement ledger, county retirement ledger, retirement membership records, register of cancellations and restorations, abstract of accounts ledger, tax certificate ledgers, tax assessors' and collectors' commission ledgers, depository ledgers, cash receipts, and jurors and witnesses advance register.

(3) The state comptroller may destroy any of said documents after they have been photographed and filed and after audit of his office has been completed for the period embracing the dates of said instruments.

(4) Photographs or microphotographs in the form of film or prints of any records made in compliance with the provisions of this section shall have the same force and effect as the originals thereof would have, and shall be treated as originals for the purpose of their admissibility in evidence. Duly certified or authenticated reproductions of such photographs or microphotographs shall be admitted in evidence equally with the original photographs or microphotographs.

cf.—§1, Art. XVI, Const., 1885.

18.05 Annual report to governor.—The treasurer shall make a report in detail to the governor as soon after the first day of July of each year as it is practicable to prepare same of the transactions of his office for the preceding fiscal year, embracing an itemized statement of the receipts and payments on account of each of the several funds of which he has the care and custody.

History.—§2, ch. 3563, 1885; RS 122; GS 127; RGS 138; CGL 168; §1, ch. 23094, 1945.

18.06 Examination by and monthly statements to the governor.—The office of the treasurer of this state, and the books, files, documents, records and papers thereof, shall always be subject to the examination of the governor of the state, or any person he may authorize to examine same. The treasurer shall exhibit to the governor on or before the tenth day of each month, a trial balance sheet from his books and a statement of all the credits, moneys or effects on hand on the day for which said trial balance sheet is made, and said statement accompanying said trial balance sheet shall particularly describe the exact character of funds or credits, and shall state in detail the amount in currency, coin, drafts, checks, orders, receipts, bonds, coupons or other credit memoranda which he may have representing cash and not yet entered upon the books of his office, and such statement shall be certified and signed by the treasurer officially.

History.—§3, ch. 3563, 1885; RS 123; §1, ch. 4588, 1897; GS 128; RGS 139; CGL 169.

18.07 To keep record of warrants and coupons paid.—The treasurer shall keep a record of the warrants and coupons which he pays, which record shall contain a description of the same, date of payment and to whom such warrants were paid.

History.—§4, ch. 3563, 1885; RS 124; GS 129; RGS 140; CGL 170.

18.08 To turn over to the comptroller all warrants paid.—The treasurer shall turn over to the comptroller all warrants drawn by the comptroller and paid by the treasurer as soon after the close of each calendar month in which such warrants are received by the treasurer as the treasurer shall have recorded such warrants and charged the same against the accounts upon which such warrants are drawn; and when such warrants have been delivered to the comptroller, the comptroller shall credit the treasurer's accounts with the amounts thereof, giving the treasurer a certificate or receipt setting forth the amounts of such warrants and the dates of such credits.

History.—§5, ch. 3563, 1885; RS 125; GS 130; RGS 141; CGL 171; §1, ch. 23093, 1945.

18.09 Exhibit to legislature.—The treasurer shall exhibit to the legislature at its regular sessions, an exact statement of the balance in the treasury to the credit of the people of the state, with a summary of the receipts and payments of the treasury during the preceding two years.

History.—§6, ch. 9, 1845; RS 126; GS 131; RGS 142; CGL 172.

18.091 Legislative sessions; additional employees.—

(1) Hereafter during any period of time the legislature of Florida may be in actual session, the state treasurer is empowered to employ not more than two persons to assist in performing the services required of the state treasurer in connection with legislative expenses as provided in §11.12. The salaries to be paid such employees of the state treasurer shall not be in excess of the highest salary paid by the house of representatives or the state senate for secretarial services; and the salaries for said employees shall begin with the convening of the legislature in session and shall continue for not more than seven days after the close of the legislative session; provided, that recesses of the legislature not in excess of three days shall be considered as time during which the legislature is actually in session.

(2) In addition to the regular biennial appropriations for the state treasurer, there is hereby appropriated for use of the state treasurer from the general revenue fund, from time to time as necessary, sufficient sums to pay the salaries of the above-described employees of the state treasurer.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 57-2.
cf.—§11.12 Salary, subsistence and mileage of members, expenses authorized by resolution, appropriation.

18.10 Deposits of money in the banks of the state.—The governor, comptroller, and state treasurer acting as the state finance committee may deposit the money of the state or any money in the state treasury in such banks of the state as will offer satisfactory collateral security; provided that a sufficient amount shall be maintained in demand accounts in banks designated by the committee for operational purposes; the excess above such required amount may be deposited in interest-bearing time deposits in banks of the state designated by the committee as state depositories under such terms and conditions and at rates that may be determined from time to time by the committee; and provided further that such rates shall be within the limits allowed by federal banking regulations. In determining the terms, conditions and interest rates of the time deposits the following factors shall be considered:

(1) The prevailing rate of U. S. treasury bills;

(2) The value of the services performed by the banks to the state;

(3) The value accruing to the economy of the communities of the state as a result of the state depositing its funds in banks of the state.

Provided, however, in the event the committee determines that a majority of the banks of the state are unwilling to accept the interest-bearing time deposits on the terms, conditions and rates determined, then by unanimous consent of the committee such funds may be invested in short term direct obligations of the U. S. treasury due within one year from date of purchase, and maturing on dates the funds are anticipated to be needed. Interest earned on any such investments shall be credited to the state general revenue fund. If at any time funds are found to be needed before the maturity dates of such investments, sufficient securities to meet such needs may be sold at current market rate, such sale to be authorized by vote of the majority of the committee. If any capital loss is experienced as the result of the sale of securities before maturity date as hereinbefore provided, then such loss shall be off-set by interest earned on such investment from the date of purchase to the date of sale. Nothing herein contained shall prohibit state officials from recognizing and accepting the insurance coverage afforded by the federal deposit insurance corporation.

(4) The fact that a municipal officer or a state officer, including an officer of any municipal or state agency, board, bureau, commission, institution and department, is a stockholder or an officer or director of a bank will not bar such bank from being a depository of funds coming under the jurisdiction of any such municipal officer or state officer, provided it shall appear in the records of the municipal or state office that the governing body of such municipality or state agency has investigated and determined that such municipal or state officer is not favoring such banks over other qualified banks.

§659.21 Banking code; security of deposits.

18.101 Deposits of public money by boards, agencies, etc., not located in Tallahassee.—

(1) All state agencies, boards, bureaus, commissions, institutions and departments whose offices are located elsewhere than in Tallahassee, may, upon written approval of the state budget commission, deposit moneys which are collected by them in banks designated by the governor, comptroller and treasurer for such deposits. All banks so designated shall pledge sufficient collateral to be security for such funds, said securities to be the same type as those prescribed by law as eligible for the purpose of securing the deposits made by the state treasurer. Said collateral securities shall be deposited with, or pledged to, the state treasurer in the same manner as set out in §18.11. All such funds on deposit shall be remitted to the state treasurer at least once each month or oftener if directed by the budget commission so to do, and no check shall be drawn against nor paid from such bank accounts except payable to the state treasurer.

(2) Revolving funds authorized by the state budget commission for all state agencies, boards, bureaus, commissions, institutions and departments may be deposited by such agencies, boards, bureaus, commissions, institutions and departments in banks designated by the governor, comptroller and treasurer for such revolving fund deposits, and the banks in which such deposits are made shall pledge collateral security in an amount equal to or in excess of the total amount of such revolving funds, said collateral securities to be of the type and pledge in the manner as provided for the pledge of collateral security in subsection (1).

History.—§ 1, 2, ch. 28133, 1953.
cf.—§381.191 Revolving fund.

18.102 Deposits of public money by boards, agencies, etc., located in Tallahassee.—All state agencies, boards, bureaus, commissions, institutions and departments whose offices are located in Tallahassee may, upon written approval of the state treasurer, deposit their funds in local banks to the credit of the state treasurer, provided evidence of deposit is forwarded immediately to the state treasurer with sufficient information to credit the proper fund.

History.—§1, ch. 61-71.

18.11 Security to be given.—

(1) The security to be given by such banks as may be designated under §§18.10 and 18.101 shall consist of bonds of the United States, bonds or certificates of the several states, county and municipal bonds or certificates, and county or county school time warrants, issued by any of the counties or cities of the state, or by any of the state agencies, departments or commissions authorized to issue bonds or certificates, or issued by authorities created by the state legislature. Such bonds or certificates may be general obligations of the issuing authority or they may be secured by utility revenues, or other revenues, or by excise taxes, or they may be secured by a limited ad valorem tax; provided, however, that none of the foregoing bonds or certificates shall be accepted as security for the funds herein mentioned unless they shall have qualities pertinent to bank investment; and provided further, that except as to bonds of the United States or bonds the payment of whose principal and interest is guaranteed by the United States or federal certificates of indebtedness, or state, county or municipal general obligation bonds, the bonds or certificates herein mentioned shall be rated in one of the highest four classifications by established nationally recognized investment rating services. The amount or value of such bonds or certificates shall be in such amount as may be agreed to by the governor, comptroller, and treasurer.

(2) In lieu of the actual depositing of said securities, the state treasurer may accept a safekeeping receipt issued by any federal reserve bank, or member bank thereof or by any bank incorporated under the laws of the United States, therefor, provided the member bank or bank incorporated under the laws of the United States shall have been previously approved and accepted for such purposes by the governor, comptroller, and treasurer. The safekeeping receipt shall substantially comply with the following form and provisions, to wit:

ATTEST:

(3) Provided, however, that a safekeeping receipt issued for the purpose contemplated above by any federal reserve bank shall not be required to comply as to form with the form of safekeeping receipt above set forth, if any such receipt which does not comply as to form with the above form has been authorized for the use of said bank by its governing authority and if the provisions thereof comply in substance with the provisions of the above form of safekeeping receipt; provided further, that the bank issuing the safekeeping receipt to the state treasurer pursuant to the provisions of subsection (2) shall not be required to have the securities described in its safekeeping receipt in its actual physical possession if such approved bank holds a safekeeping receipt therefor from another bank approved by the governor, comptroller and treasurer in the manner provided for approval and acceptance of the banks specified in subsection (2), provided such secondary safekeeping receipt authorizes and empowers the approved bank having the actual physical possession of said securities to surrender, release or deliver the same or any part thereof only to or upon the sole written direction and authorization of the bank issuing the safekeeping receipt to the state treasurer.

(4) The state treasurer may accept a telegram from an approved bank for a period not to exceed four working days pending the actual receipt of a safekeeping receipt; provided the telegram authorizes and empowers the approved bank having actual physical possession of the said securities to surrender, release or deliver the same or any part thereof only to the state treasurer upon the sole written direction and authorization of the bank issuing the telegram to the state treasurer.

(5) The state treasurer, with the approval of the state finance committee, may authorize the treasurer of the state board of administration and county treasurer ex officio to authorize a bank holding securities in safekeeping to liquidate said securities at a future date where such liquidation or maturity is predetermined for the purpose of reinvestment, the settlement date of the disposal and the purchase date being one and the same, without requiring the bank holding such investment in safekeeping to cover the transaction with an additional comparable safekeeping receipt of collateral.

18.111 Collateral security for funds deposited by treasurer.—The state treasurer, acting as such or as ex officio treasurer of any county, board, commission, authority, agency or other instrumentality of the state, be, and he is hereby, authorized to accept as collateral security for any funds deposited by him, bonds, notes or certificates heretofore or hereafter issued by any county or any board, commission, authority, agency or other instrumentality of the state which contain a pledge of and are payable solely from the eighty per cent surplus two cents second gasoline tax accruing under §16, Art IX of the constitution of the state, provided that such securities have been approved by the state board of administration as to their legal and fiscal sufficiency.

History.—§1, ch. 26983, 1951.

18.112 Additional securities for deposits of public funds.—Notwithstanding any restrictions on securities for deposits of public funds contained in any law of this state, federal farm loan bonds issued by federal land banks pursuant to the federal farm loan act as amended, federal intermediate credit bank debentures issued by federal intermediate credit banks pursuant to the federal farm loan act as amended, and debentures issued by central bank for co-operatives and regional banks for cooperatives, organized under the farm credit act of 1933, or by any of such banks, shall be authorized securities for all deposits of public funds, provided there is no default in the payment of principal or interest on any such bonds or debentures at the time of the pledge of such bonds or debentures as security for such deposits.

History.—§1, ch. 28290, 1953; §1, ch. 29874, 1955.

18.12 May sell securities.—The governor, comptroller and treasurer may sell at public or private sale any or all of the bonds and securities that may be deposited in the state treasurer's office as collateral security for the deposit of any public funds whenever there shall be a failure or refusal on the part of the bank depositing such securities to pay any check drawn by the state treasurer on such bank.

History.—§3, ch. 4586, 1897; GS 134; RGS 145; CGL 175; §1, ch. 14653, 1931.

18.13 Notice of sale to be given.—Notice of the sale of bonds or securities under §18.12, shall be given for thirty days in the newspaper published in Tallahassee, and when a sale of bonds or securities is made by the governor, comptroller and treasurer, either at public or private sale under said section, the absolute ownership of said bonds or securities shall vest in the purchaser or purchasers upon payment of the purchase money to the state treasurer. Upon the sale of collateral securities as provided in §18.12 should there be any surplus after the state treasurer shall have paid the amount due by reason of such deposit and the expense of sale, such surplus shall be paid over to the bank making the deposit, or to the liquidator of such bank in case such bank is in the process of liquidation. In the case of settlement with a bank in liquidation, should the governor, comptroller and treasurer consider it to the best interest of the state they may take such collateral securities, or any part of the same, on a basis to be agreed upon in settlement of such account and to carry all assets thus received in such settlement in a suspense account that may be created for that purpose, such account to be credited from time to time, as dividends, interest or principal of such assets are realized upon, until final liquidation of the account in full, and should there be any surplus upon the final liquidation of such account, such surplus shall be transferred to and placed in the general revenue fund of the state. A copy of the notice of sale herein required shall be forwarded by the state treasurer by registered mail to the cashier or the liquidator of the bank or trust company by which the deposit of securities was made.

cf.—§1.01(13) Defines registered mail to include certified mail with return receipt requested.

18.14 To exchange bonds of political subdivisions for refunding bonds.—The governor, comptroller and treasurer may exchange bonds of any city, town, municipality, county, school district, special tax school district, special road and bridge district, road district, drainage district or political subdivision located within the state for refunding bonds, which refunding bonds have been issued by any such city, town, municipality, county, school district, special tax school district, special road and bridge district, road district, drainage district or political subdivision, to take the place and stead of bonds which are now held by the governor, comptroller or treasurer and which bonds have been acquired, owned or held under and by virtue of §18.13, provided however, that prior to the exchange of such bonds the governor, comptroller and treasurer shall have first determined that they consider it to the best interest of the state to accept such refunding bonds.

18.15 Interest on money deposited to be paid quarterly to treasurer.—Interest on the state moneys deposited in banks under §18.10, shall be payable to the state treasurer quarterly on the first days of January, April, July and October, and such interest money shall be credited on account of general revenue.

History.—§4, ch. 4586, 1897; GS 136; RGS 147; CGL 177.

18.16 Treasurer not to deposit money without the consent of governor and comptroller.—It is unlawful for the state treasurer to deposit or keep any money not deposited in accordance with §18.10, in any bank, without the consent of the governor and comptroller.

History.—§5, ch. 4586, 1897; GS 137; RGS 148; CGL 178.

18.17 Not to issue evidences of indebtedness.—It is not lawful for the treasurer of this state to issue any treasury certificates, or any other evidences of indebtedness, for any purpose whatever, and he is prohibited from issuing the same.

History.—§2, ch. 1737, 1870; RS 130; GS 138; RGS 149; CGL 179.

18.20 State treasurer to make reproductions of certain warrants, records and documents.—

(1) All vouchers or checks heretofore or hereafter drawn by appropriate court officials of the several counties of the state against money deposited with the state treasurer under the provisions of §54.04, and paid by the state treasurer, may be photographed, microphotographed or reproduced on film by the state treasurer. Such photographic film shall be durable material and the device used to so reproduce such warrants, vouchers or checks shall be one which accurately reproduces the originals thereof in all detail; and such photographs, microphotographs or reproductions on film shall be placed in conveniently accessible and identified files and shall be preserved by the state treasurer as a part of the permanent records of his office. When any such warrants, vouchers or checks have been so photographed, microphotographed or reproduced on film, and the photographs, microphotographs or reproductions on film thereof have been placed in files as a part of the permanent records of the office of the state treasurer as aforesaid, the state treasurer is authorized to return such warrants, vouchers or checks to the offices of the respective county officials who drew the same and such warrants, vouchers or checks shall be retained and preserved in such offices to which returned as a part of the permanent records of such offices.

(2) Such photographs, microphotographs or reproductions on film of said warrants, vouchers or checks shall be deemed to be original records for all purposes; and any copy or reproduction thereof made from such original film, duly certified by the state treasurer as a true and correct copy or reproduction made from such film, shall be deemed to be a transcript, exemplification or certified copy of the original warrant, voucher or check such copy represents, and shall in all cases and in all courts and places be admitted and received in evidence with the like force and effect as the original thereof might be.

(3) The state treasurer is also hereby authorized to photograph, microphotograph or reproduce on film, all records and documents of said office, as he may, in his discretion, select; and said treasurer is hereby authorized to destroy any of the said documents or records after they have been photographed and filed and after audit of his office has been completed for the period embracing the dates of said documents and records.

(4) Photographs or microphotographs in the form of film or prints of any records made in compliance with the provisions of this section shall have the same force and effect as the originals thereof would have, and shall be treated as originals for the purpose of their admissibility in evidence. Duly certified or authenticated reproductions of such photographs or microphotographs shall be admitted in evidence equally with the original photographs or microphotographs.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 22704, 1945; (1) §9, ch. 29615, 1955; (3), (4) n. §1, ch. 57-36.

18.21 Safekeeping receipts for bonds or securities.—From and after June 13, 1949, the state treasurer is authorized to accept safekeeping receipts issued by any federal reserve bank, or by any member bank thereof or by any bank incorporated under the laws of the United States approved and accepted by the governor, comptroller and treasurer of Florida, covering any bonds or securities for which the state treasurer is or shall be designated as custodian under the laws of the state. The type or types of safekeeping receipts to be accepted by the state treasurer for the purposes aforesaid shall follow the forms prescribed by §18.11.

CHAPTER 19

COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE

(See title XXXIII (chs. 570-604) for laws relating to agriculture, horticulture and animal industry.)

- 19.12 Collection and publication of statistics.
- 19.13 Land office.
- 19.14 Bond and oath of office.
- 19.15 To have custody of documents, etc., concerning public lands.
- 19.16 Duties as to information, conveyances and accounts, concerning public lands.
- 19.17 Moneys received, accounts, correspondence and sales concerning public lands; traveling expenses.

19.12 Collection and publication of statistics.—The commissioner of agriculture shall arrange and adopt some plan for collecting and publishing agricultural, horticultural, pomological, and farm statistics in connection with his annual report, in such form and numbers as he may deem best, or the financial condition of the department will permit; and he shall, before the first day of January in each year, furnish the tax assessors of the several counties of the state with the necessary blanks, together with such instructions as will properly direct them in that work, and such blanks shall contain only such questions as relate to agriculture, horticulture and stock raising.

History.—§5, ch. 3857, 1889; RS 143; GS 153; RGS 164; CGL 196.

19.13 Land office.—There shall be a public land office for the state, to be kept in one of the rooms in the capitol; in which office shall be deposited and preserved all the records, surveys, plats, maps, field notes and patents, and all other evidence touching the title and description of the public domain, and all lands granted by congress to this state, or which may hereafter be granted, for whatever purpose the same may be given.

History.—§1, ch. 54, 1845; RS 144; GS 154; RGS 165; CGL 197.

Note.—This section repealed by §6, ch. 63-294, subject to ratification of amendment to §26, art. IV, state const. at 1964 general election.

19.14 Bond and oath of office.—The commissioner of agriculture shall, before he enters upon the duties of his office, give bond with good security to be approved by the governor of this state, in the sum of ten thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office; and shall take the oath of office prescribed by the constitution of the state.

History.—§3, ch. 54, 1845; §3, ch. 236, 1849; RS 145; §1, ch. 4962, 1901; GS 155; RGS 166; CGL 198.

19.15 To have custody of documents, etc., concerning public lands.—The commissioner of agriculture shall have custody of all the records, surveys, plats, maps, field notes, patents, and all other evidence touching the title and description of the public domain.

History.—§3, ch. 54, 1845; RS 146; GS 156; RGS 167; CGL 199.

Note.—This section repealed by §6, ch. 63-294, subject to ratification of amendment to §26, art. IV, state const. at 1964 general election.

19.18 To provide plats, etc.

19.20 To keep records of surveyor-general's office; secretary of state to provide place for keeping records.

19.21 To keep records of U. S. land office.

19.23 Residence and office.

19.24 Fees for certain matters.

19.52 Stamps or tags.

19.54 Nathan Mayo building.

19.16 Duties as to information, conveyances and accounts, concerning public lands.—The commissioner of agriculture shall keep his office open from the hours of 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday of each week, Sunday and legal holidays excepted, for the information of the public, and all who may be interested in the sale, purchase, ownership, or occupancy of the public lands.

He shall draw all deeds and conveyances and deliver the same for all sales and transfers, and other disposition of the public domain, that may from time to time be ordered and made by authority of law, and keep a true and faithful record of the same. He shall keep accounts of the several grants or donations for "fixing the seat of government," for "seminaries of learning," "for common schools," "for internal improvements," or for any other purpose, in separate books, accounts, and reports, so that the rights and interests of one shall not be blended or mixed with the rights and interests of another, and each class of land shall pay the expenses of locating the same.

Note.—This section repealed by §6, ch. 63-294, subject to ratification of amendment to §26, Art. IV, state const. at 1964 general election.

19.17 Moneys received, accounts, correspondence and sales concerning public lands; traveling expenses.—The commissioner of agriculture shall, in behalf of this state, receive from the treasury of the United States the five per cent on sales of the public lands, or any other sums accruing from the general government to the seminary, common school, or internal improvement trust funds; and shall pay the same into the treasury of this state, or, if they shall belong to a fund, to the treasurer of such fund, keeping the same separate and distinct under their respective proper heads. He shall hold all needful correspondence with the several land offices of the United States in this state, or with the general land office at Washington, and shall attend the public land sales in this state, and visit the said land offices whenever, in his opinion, the interest of the state shall require it, and do and perform all things needful and proper to advance and promote the interests of the same, and when so engaged he shall have his traveling expenses defrayed out of any moneys in the treasury, to be approved by the governor, and audited by the comptroller of public accounts as other accounts are audited and paid, independently of his stated salary.

Note.—This section repealed by §6, ch. 63-294, subject to ratification of amendment to §26, Art. IV, state const. at 1964 general election.

19.18 To provide plats, etc.—The commissioner of agriculture shall provide plats or maps of all lands selected and secured, and append thereto an accurate description of the quality, situation and location of the same, and whatever else may affect the value of each tract or body of land selected and secured, taking care to keep in separate books, and maps or plats, the lands belonging to each separate fund, which books and maps and plats, with the description thereof, shall be kept and preserved in his office.

Note.—This section repealed by §6, ch. 63-294, subject to ratification of amendment to §26, Art. IV, state const. at 1964 general election.

19.20 To keep records of surveyor-general's office; secretary of state to provide place for keeping records.—Upon the discontinuance by the federal authorities of the office of surveyor-general for the state, the commissioner of agriculture of the state may receive all of the field notes, surveys, maps, plats, papers and records (heretofore kept in the office of said surveyor-general, and the commissioner of agriculture carefully and safely keeps and preserves all of said field notes, surveys, maps, plats, papers and records) as part of the public records of his office, and shall at all times allow any duly accredited authority of the United States full and free access to any and all of such field notes, surveys, maps, plats, papers and records; and may make and furnish under his hand and seal certified copies of any or all of the same to any person making application therefor; provided, that the secretary of state under the direction of the board of state institutions shall provide some place suitable for keeping such records, maps and other papers.

Note.—This section repealed by §6, ch. 63-294, subject to ratification of amendment to §26, Art. IV, state const. at 1964 general election.

19.21 To keep records of U. S. land office.—The commissioner of agriculture of the state may receive all of the tract books, plats and such records and papers heretofore kept in the United States land office at Gainesville, Florida, as may be surrendered by the secretary of the interior, and the commissioner of agriculture shall carefully and safely keep and preserve all of said tract books, plats, records and papers as part of the public records of his office, and at any time allow any duly accredited authority of the United States, full and free access to any and all of such tract books, plats, records and papers, and shall furnish any duly accredited authority of the United States with copies of any such records without charge.

Note.—This section repealed by §6, ch. 63-294, subject to ratification of amendment to §26, Art. IV, state const. at 1964 general election.

19.23 Residence and office.—The commissioner of agriculture shall reside at the seat of government in this state, and shall keep his office in a room in the capitol.

- 21.19 Special audits; subpoenas; issuance; service and enforcement.
- 21.20 Prohibited activities.
- 21.21 Penalties.
- 21.22 Refusal to produce or furnish records, etc.
- 21.23 Uniform system of accounts; exceptions.

21.021 Creation of state auditing department.—There is hereby created an independent state agency to be known and designated as the "state auditing department."

History.—§2, ch. 29887, 1955.
Note.—Formerly §21.01.

21.031 The state auditor.—The state auditing department shall be headed by a state auditor who shall be a certified public accountant and who, at the time of his appointment, shall have had not less than ten years active experience as a certified public accountant or not less than ten years active experience with the state auditing department. The state auditor shall be appointed by the governor, subject to confirmation by the senate. A list of not less than three persons eligible for such appointment shall be submitted by the legislative appropriations and auditing committee to the governor for his consideration in making such appointment. Vacancies in the office of state auditor shall be filled in the same manner as the original appointment. The term of office of the state auditor shall be for four years unless a longer term shall be authorized by the state constitution.

History.—§3, ch. 29887, 1955; §1, ch. 59-291.
Note.—Formerly §21.02.

21.041 Mandatory duties; removal from office.—The duties of the state auditor under this chapter are mandatory unless the context clearly indicates otherwise, and failure on the part of the state auditor to perform such mandatory duties shall constitute cause for removal from office. The state auditor shall be removed from office by the governor only for cause, by and with the consent of the senate.

History.—§§4, 18, ch. 29887, 1955.
Note.—Formerly §21.02.

21.051 Selection and qualification of personnel of the state auditing department.—

(1) To carry out the duties imposed upon him by this chapter, the state auditor shall select and employ qualified persons necessary for the efficient operation of the state auditing department and shall fix their duties and compensation; provided, that no person shall be employed as an auditor under this section who does not possess the qualifications to take the examination for a certificate as certified public accountant under the laws of this state.

(2) Each person who has been employed by the state auditing department for a period of one year or more prior to the effective date of this chapter and whose service rating is good or excellent shall continue in the same position with the department.

History.—§5, ch. 29887, 1955.

21.061 Oath and bond of auditors.—

(1) The state auditor, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall take and subscribe the oath of office required of state officers by the constitution.

(2) The state auditor shall give bond, with some surety company authorized to do business in Florida as surety, in the amount of ten thousand dollars, payable to the governor of the state and his successors in office and conditioned that he will well and faithfully discharge the duties of his office, promptly report any delinquency or shortage discovered in any accounts and records audited by him, and will promptly pay over and account for any and all funds that shall come into his hands as such auditor. If the state auditor, within thirty days after receiving notice of his appointment, shall fail to file with the secretary of state the required oath and bond, such appointment shall be of no effect and another appointment shall be made.

(3) All auditors employed by the department shall be covered by individual bonds or by a blanket position bond. Said bonds or bond shall meet, and contain the same conditions as are required of the state auditor under subsection (2) of this section. All bonds shall be filed with the secretary of state. If an auditor is not covered in the blanket position bond, an individual bond shall be filed within thirty days after such employee receives notice of his employment. The amount of any such bond shall be determined by the state auditor with the approval of the governor and the legislative appropriations and auditing committee. Failure thus to file such individual bond or to be covered in the blanket position bond shall terminate his employment.

(4) The annual premium of all bonds shall be paid out of any funds provided for the operation of the department.

History.—§6, ch. 29887, 1955; (3) §1, ch. 61-23.
Note.—Formerly §21.03.

21.071 Salaries and expenses.—The salaries and expenses of the state auditing department shall be paid out of the general revenue fund appropriated biennially by the legislature for that purpose. The state auditor shall approve all bills for salaries and expenses before the same shall be paid.

History.—§7, ch. 29887, 1955.
Note.—Formerly §§21.08, 21.09, 21.12.

21.081 Headquarters; auditing districts.—The headquarters of the state auditor and the state auditing department shall be at the state capital, but to facilitate auditing and to eliminate unnecessary traveling the state auditor may divide the state into auditing districts and assign auditors to each district. Such districts shall be so created as to equalize and facilitate the work of auditing.

History.—§8, ch. 29887, 1955.
Note.—Formerly §21.04.

21.091 Legal advisor of state auditor.—The attorney general shall be the legal advisor of the state auditor.

History.—§9, ch. 29887, 1955.

21.101 Duties of state auditor; annual audits.—The state auditor shall have the power and duty to make an annual postaudit of the accounts and records of all state and county officers and all state and county boards, departments, commissions, institutions, or other such agencies. He shall make an annual postaudit of accounts and records of any other public body or political subdivision when required by law to do so. Each such annual audit, when practicable, shall be made and completed within not more than twelve months following the end of each fiscal year of the officer, office, department, commission, board, institution, or other such agency. As used herein the term "postaudit" means an audit made at some point after the completion of a transaction or a group of transactions.

History.—§10, ch. 29887, 1955.
Note.—Formerly §21.05.

21.111 Rules and regulations.—The state auditor may make and enforce reasonable rules and regulations necessary to facilitate audits authorized under the provisions of this chapter.

History.—§11, ch. 29887, 1955.
Note.—Formerly §21.05.

21.121 Assignments and audit reports.—

(1) The state auditor may, when in his judgment it shall be necessary, designate and direct any auditor employed by the department to audit any accounts or records within the power of the state auditor to audit. The auditor shall report his findings for review by the state auditor, who shall prepare the audit report.

(2) The audit report shall make special mention of: (a) any violation of the laws within the scope of the audit; and (b) any illegal or improper expenditure, any improper accounting procedures, all failures to properly record financial transactions, and all other inaccuracies, irregularities, and shortages.

(3) The audit report shall be a public record. At the conclusion of the audit, the state auditor or his designated representative shall discuss the audit with the state or county official whose office is subject to audit, and submit to him a list of his adverse findings which may be included in the audit report. If such official so desires, he may submit to the state auditor or his designated representative within ten days after the receipt of the said list of findings his written statement of explanation or rebuttal concerning any of the findings, and it shall be the duty of the state auditor to quote in the audit report the official's explanation or rebuttal to any of the findings included in the audit report. A copy of the report shall be submitted to the governor, to each member of the legislative appropriations and auditing committee, and to the officer or person in charge of the department, institution, agency, board, commission, or office audited. One copy shall be filed as a permanent record of the state auditing department. In the case of county reports, one copy of the report of each county office audited shall be submitted to the board of county commissioners of the county in which the audit was made and shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of that county as a public record; provided, that when an audit is made of the records of the board of public instruction, a copy of the audit report shall be filed only with the county board of public instruction, and thereupon such report shall become a part of the public records of such board. Copies of such reports may also be furnished such other state and county officers as in the opinion of the state auditor may be directly interested in the audit or who may have some duty to perform in connection therewith.

History.—§12, ch. 29887, 1955; (3) §§1, chs. 61-23 and 61-490.
Note.—Formerly §21.11.

21.13 Assistant state auditors may be detailed to county; request.—It shall be the duty of the governor of the state, upon the request of the board of county commissioners of any county in this state, such request to be evidenced by certified copy of resolution duly adopted, to appoint and detail one assistant state auditor in addition to any other such assistant state auditors authorized by law, for continuous service in such county, with a population in excess of fifty thousand, for the purpose of examining and auditing the offices, books, records and accounts of all county officials, boards and other public institutions, except municipalities, of said county, and making periodical or other frequent reports thereon as may be necessary; such continuous service to continue during the time the compensation of such assistant state auditor is paid by such county as hereinafter provided.

History.—§1, ch. 21920, 1943.

21.14 Same; duty of assistant state auditor detailed.—It shall be the duty of said assistant state auditor to examine the financial accounts of all the offices during the first day of each calendar month, so far as the same may be feasible, and to ascertain whether or not any of the officers, employees, boards or other public institutions of said county, except municipalities, are making prompt and correct deposits of all public moneys in the manner required in each case by law, and shall report the result of such examination to the state auditor and to the said board of county commissioners, from time to time, as the same shall be made; and shall, upon the request of the state auditor or the said board of county commissioners, make special examinations or audits of any of the offices indicated above whenever, in the opinion of said state auditor or the board of county commissioners, such special examination or audit is necessary or desirable; provided, it shall be the duty of said state auditor to cause each of said offices and boards to be audited at least twice in each calendar year and report thereof to be made to said auditor and board of county commissioners.

History.—§2, ch. 21920, 1943.

21.15 Same; compensation; how paid.—Such additional assistant state auditor shall receive the same salary per annum as that which may from time to time be provided by law for regular assistant state auditors provided by chapter 21, such salary to be paid by the board of county commissioners of the county to which such appointment is made, to the state comptroller, in monthly installments, for the period of time during which said additional assistant state auditor shall be performing such service.

History.—§3, ch. 21920, 1943.

21.16 Same; duty of county officers.—It shall be the duty of every such officer, employee, board or other public institution of said county, to turn over to said auditor, upon his demand, all their books, records and accounts in order that the same may be properly audited, and any person or board failing or refusing to turn over said books, records or accounts on demand shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to removal from office by the governor of this state.

History.—§4, ch. 21920, 1943.

21.17 Same; employment of additional auditors.—Whenever, as herein provided, the state auditor shall be requested to so designate an additional assistant state auditor, said state auditor shall be authorized to employ one additional assistant auditor for each such county requesting such continuous service as herein provided.

History.—§5, ch. 21920, 1943.

21.18 Reports disclosing irregularities.—The state auditor shall report promptly to the governor, the legislative appropriations and auditing committee, and the comptroller all instances of shortages, defalcations and irregularities disclosed by an audit which the state auditor is by law authorized to perform.

History.—§13, ch. 29887, 1955; §1, ch. 61-23.

Note.—Formerly §21.11.

21.19 Special audits; subpoenas; issuance; service and enforcement.—

(1) The state auditor shall make special audits required by the governor or the legislative appropriations and auditing committee, and may conduct a special audit at any time of any officer or department, board, commission, institution, or other agency which he is authorized by law to audit.

(2) Reports of special audits shall be filed with the governor and the legislative appropriations and auditing committee. Upon receipt of such audit reports the governor or such committee may designate other persons to whom the state auditor shall supply copies thereof.

(3) If necessary, in connection with any special audit, the governor, the legislative appropriations and auditing committee, or the state auditor is authorized to issue subpoenas and subpoenas duces tecum, which shall be served by the sheriff of the county wherein the person subpoenaed resides or may be found, in the manner provided for service of subpoenas issued by courts of record. The subpoena shall command such person to be and appear before the governor, the legislative appropriations and auditing committee, the state auditor, or any person designated by the state auditor to represent him, at a time and place to be named therein. The subpoena duces tecum may direct such person to bring with him for examination such books, records, or other documents as may be specified therein.

(4) If any person who has been served with a subpoena fails or refuses to be or appear at the time and place named, or fails or refuses to answer any lawful question propounded or produce the books, records, or other documents required, or shall be guilty of disorderly or contumacious conduct at the hearing, the governor, the legislative appropriations and auditing committee, or the state auditor may present a petition to the circuit court of the county where any such person is served with the subpoena or resides, setting forth the facts, whereupon said court shall issue its rule nisi to such person requiring him to appear, answer, or explain his conduct, or show cause, and unless such person shall purge himself of such failure or refusal the court shall forthwith direct such person to obey the subpoena, and upon his failure or refusal to comply or to purge himself of such conduct, he shall be adjudged in contempt of court and shall be punished as the court may direct.

(5) Whenever making a special audit the state auditor may require that testimony be given under oath, which may be administered by him or by any other person authorized by law to administer oaths, and he may require that such testimony be reported by an official court reporter or deputy or by some other competent person, under oath, which report, when written and certified to by such person as being a correct transcript of the testimony and proceedings in the special audit, shall be prima facie a correct statement of such testimony and proceedings; provided, that such person's signature to such certificate be duly acknowledged by him before a notary public or some judicial official of this state.

(6) Witnesses who testify under subpoena shall be entitled to the same protection and immunities as are witnesses in judicial proceedings.

(7) Witnesses shall be entitled to the same fees and mileage as they may be entitled to by law for attending as witnesses in the circuit court, except where such examination is held at the place of business or residence of the witness.

(8) All lawful fees and expenses of officers and witnesses, expenses incident to taking testimony, and transcripts of testimony and proceedings requested by the governor, the legislative appropriations and auditing committee, or the state auditor, shall be a proper charge to the state auditing department. The estimated amount needed for this purpose shall be included in the legislative budget request of the department. If the amounts appropriated for these purposes are insufficient the state budget commission may release the necessary amounts from the deficiency appropriation. All payments for these purposes shall be on vouchers approved by the state auditor.

History.—§14, ch. 29887, 1955; §1, ch. 57-187; (1)-(4), (8) §1, ch. 61-23; (8) §1, ch. 63-536.
Note.—Formerly §21.10.

21.20 Prohibited activities.—No officer or full-time employee of the state auditing department shall actively engage in any other business or profession; nor shall he serve as the representative of any political party, or on any executive committee or other governing body thereof, or as an executive, officer, or employee of any political party committee, organization, or association, or be engaged on behalf of any candidate for public office in the solicitation of votes or other activities in behalf of such candidacy. No employee of the state auditing department shall become a candidate for election to public office.

History.—§15, ch. 29887, 1955.

21.21 Penalties.

(1) The willful failure or refusal of the state auditor or any auditor employed by the department to make a proper audit in line with his duty, or the making of a false report as to any audit, or the willful failure or refusal to report a shortage or misappropriation of funds or property, shall be cause for removal from such office or employment, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months. No proceeding under this subsection shall preclude any proceeding against the bond of the state auditor or auditor employed by the state auditing department.

(2) Any person who shall willfully fail or refuse to furnish or produce any book, record, paper, document or data necessary to a proper audit which the state auditor is by law authorized to perform shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months.

History.—§16, ch. 29887, 1955, formerly §21.06.

21.22 Refusal to produce or furnish records, etc.—Any state or county officer who shall willfully fail or refuse to furnish or produce any book, record, paper, document or data necessary to a proper audit which the state auditor is by law authorized to perform, shall be subject to removal from office.

History.—§17, ch. 29887, 1955, formerly §21.07.

21.23 Uniform system of accounts; exceptions.—The state auditor shall prescribe a uniform system of accounts for all departments and branches of the state government, except the legislature and the legislative council and reference bureau, created by the constitution and statutes of the state, designed to fulfill the requirements of good accounting practices and in keeping with generally accepted accounting forms, methods and practices relating to colleges and universities, hospitals, penal institutions, and general government. It shall be the duty and the responsibility of the executive head of every department and branch of the state government to insure that the said uniform system of accounts is maintained and kept as prescribed by the state auditor. Upon a finding that the said uniform system of accounts as prescribed is not being employed effectively by any department or branch of the state government, then the state auditor shall immediately report his findings in detail to the governor and the legislative appropriations and audit committee.

EMERGENCY CONTINUITY OF GOVERNMENT

- 22.01 Short title.
- 22.02 Declaration of policy.
- 22.03 Definitions.
- 22.04 Additional successors to office of governor.
- 22.05 Enabling authority for emergency interim successors for local offices.
- 22.06 Emergency interim successors for local officers.

22.01 Short title.—§§22.01-22.10 shall be known and may be cited as the "emergency interim executive and judicial succession act."

History.—§1, ch. 59-447.

22.02 Declaration of policy.—Because of the existing possibility of attack upon the United States of unprecedented size and destructiveness, and in order, in the event of such an attack, to assure continuity of government through legally constituted leadership, authority and responsibility in offices of the government of the state and its political subdivisions; to provide for the effective operation of governments during an emergency; and to facilitate the early resumption of functions temporarily suspended, it is found and declared to be necessary to provide for additional officers who can exercise the powers and discharge the duties of governor; to provide for emergency interim succession to governmental offices of its political subdivisions, in the event the incumbents thereof are unavailable to perform the duties and functions of such offices.

History.—§2, ch. 59-447.

22.03 Definitions.—Unless otherwise clearly required by the context, as used in §§22.01-22.10:

(1) "Unavailable" means either that a vacancy in office exists or that the lawful incumbent of the office is absent or unable to exercise the powers and discharge the duties of the office.

(2) "Emergency interim successor" means a person designated pursuant to §§22.01-22.10, in the event the officer is unavailable, to exercise the powers and discharge the duties of an office until a successor is appointed or elected and qualified as may be provided by the constitution, statutes, charters and ordinances or until the lawful incumbent is able to resume the exercise of the powers and discharge the duties of the office.

(3) "Office" includes all state and local offices, the powers and duties of which are defined by the constitution, statutes, charters, and ordinances, except the office of governor and the legislature.

(4) "Attack" means any attack or series of attacks by an enemy of the United States causing, or which may cause, substantial damage or injury to civilian property or persons in the United States in any manner by sabotage or by the use of bombs, missiles, shellfire, or atomic, radiological, chemical, bacteriological, or biological means or other weapons or processes.

(5) "Political subdivision" includes counties, cities, towns, villages, townships, districts, authorities, and other public corporations and entities whether organized and existing under charter or general law.

History.—§3, ch. 59-447.

22.04 Additional successors to office of governor.—In the event that the governor, for any of the reasons specified in the constitution, is not able to exercise the powers and discharge the duties of his office, or is unavailable, and in the event the president of the senate, and the speaker of the house of representatives be for any of the reasons specified in the constitution not able to exercise the powers and discharge the duties of the office of governor, or be unavailable, the secretary of state, attorney general, state comptroller, state treasurer, superintendent of public instruction and commissioner of agriculture shall, in the order named, if the preceding named officers be unavailable, exercise the powers and discharge the duties of the office of governor until a new governor is elected and qualified, or until a preceding named officer becomes available; provided however, that no emergency interim successor to the aforementioned offices may serve as governor.

History.—§4, ch. 59-447.

22.05 Enabling authority for emergency interim successors for local offices.—With respect to local offices, for which the legislative bodies of cities, towns, villages, townships, and counties may enact resolutions or ordinances relative to the manner in which vacancies will be filled or temporary appointments to office made, such legislative bodies are hereby authorized to enact resolutions or ordinances providing for emergency interim successors to offices of the aforementioned governmental units. Such resolutions and ordinances shall not be inconsistent with the provisions of §§22.01-22.10.

History.—§5, ch. 59-447.

22.06 Emergency interim successors for local officers.—The provisions of this section shall be applicable to officers of political subdivisions (including, but not limited to, cities, towns, villages, townships, and counties, as well as school, fire, power and drainage districts) not included in §22.05. Such officers, subject to such regulations as the executive head of the political subdivision may issue, shall upon approval of §§22.01-22.10, designate by title (if feasible) or by named person, emergency interim successors and specify their order of succession. The officer shall review and revise, as necessary, designations made pursuant to §§22.01-22.10 to insure their current status. The officer will designate a sufficient number of persons so that there will be not less than three, nor more than seven, emergency interim successors or any combination thereof at any time. In the event that any officer of any political subdivision is unavailable, the powers of the office shall be exercised and duties shall be discharged by his designated emergency interim successors in the order specified. The emergency interim successor shall exercise the powers and discharge the duties of the office to which designated until such time as a vacancy which may exist shall be filled in accordance with the constitution or statutes or until the officer (or a preceding emergency interim successor) again becomes available to exercise the powers and discharge the duties of his office.

History.—§6, ch. 59-447.

22.07 Formalities of taking office.—At the time of their designation, emergency interim successors and special emergency judges shall take such oath as may be required for them to exercise the powers and discharge the duties of the office to which they may succeed. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no person, as a prerequisite to the exercise of the powers or discharge of the duties of an office to which he succeeds, shall be required to comply with any other provision of law relative to taking office.

History.—§7, ch. 59-447.

22.08 Period in which authority may be exercised.—Officials authorized to act as governor pursuant to §§22.01-22.10, emergency interim successors and special emergency judges are empowered to exercise the powers and discharge the duties of an office as herein authorized only after an attack upon the United States, as defined herein, has occurred. The legislature, by concurrent resolution, may at any time terminate the authority of said emergency interim successors and special emergency judges to exercise the powers and discharge the duties of office as herein provided.

History.—§8, ch. 59-447.

22.09 Removal of designees.—Until such time as the persons designated as emergency interim successors or special emergency judges are authorized to exercise the powers and discharge the duties of an office in accordance with §§22.01-22.10, including §22.08, said persons shall serve in their designated capacities at the pleasure of the designating authority and may be removed or replaced by said designating authority at any time, with or without cause.

History.—§9, ch. 59-447.

22.10 Disputes.—Any dispute concerning a question of fact arising under §§22.01-22.09 with respect to an office in the executive branch of the state government (except a dispute of fact relative to the office of governor) shall be adjudicated by the governor (or other official authorized under the constitution or §§22.01-22.09 to exercise the powers and discharge the duties of the office of governor) and his decision shall be final.

History.—§10, ch. 59-447.

22.15 Seat of government; emergency temporary location.—

(1) Whenever, due to an emergency resulting from the effects of enemy attack, or the anticipated effects of a threatened enemy attack, it becomes imprudent, inexpedient or impossible to conduct the affairs of state government at the normal location of the seat thereof in the city of Tallahassee, Leon county, the governor shall, as often as the exigencies of the situation require, by proclamation, declare an emergency temporary location, or locations, for the seat of government at such place, or places, within or without this state as he may deem advisable under the circumstances, and shall take such action and issue such orders as may be necessary for an orderly transition of the affairs of state government to such emergency temporary location, or locations. Such emergency temporary location, or locations, shall remain as the seat of government until the legislature shall by law establish a new location, or locations, or until the emergency is declared to be ended by the governor and the seat of government is returned to its normal location.

(2) During such time as the seat of government remains at such emergency temporary location, or locations, all official acts now or hereafter required by law to be performed at the seat of government by any officer, agency, department or authority of this state, including the convening and meeting of the legislature in regular, extraordinary, or emergency session, shall be as valid and binding when performed at such emergency temporary location, or locations, as if performed at the normal location of the seat of government.

(3) The provisions of this section shall control and be supreme in the event it shall be employed notwithstanding the provisions of any other law to the contrary or in conflict herewith.

History.—§§1-3, ch. 59-498.

22.20 Emergency continuity of government; political subdivision.—

(1) Whenever, due to an emergency resulting from the effects of enemy attack, or the anticipated effects of a threatened enemy attack, it becomes imprudent, inexpedient or impossible to conduct the affairs of the government of a political subdivision of the state at the normal location of the seat thereof, the governing body of such political subdivision shall, as often as the exigencies of the situation require, by proclamation, declare an emergency temporary location, or locations, for the seat of government at such place, or places within or without the territorial limits of its political jurisdiction, as deemed advisable under the circumstances, and shall take such action and issue such orders as may be necessary for an orderly transition of the affairs of the government of the political subdivision to such emergency temporary location, or locations. Such emergency temporary location, or locations, shall remain as the seat of such government until a new seat of government is established by due processes of the law, or until the emergency is declared to be ended by the governor and the seat of government is returned to its normal location.

(2) During such time as the seat of government remains at such emergency temporary location, or locations, all official acts now or hereafter required by law to be performed at the seat of government by any officer, agency, department or authority of the political subdivision, including the convening of the governing body thereof in regular, extraordinary or emergency session, shall be as valid and binding when performed at such emergency temporary location, or locations, as if performed at the normal location of the seat of government.

(3) The provisions of this act shall control and be supreme in the event it shall be employed, notwithstanding the provisions of any other law to the contrary or in conflict herewith.

History.—§§1-3, ch. 61-352.

25.011 Number of justices; election.—The supreme court of Florida shall consist of seven justices, who shall be elected by the qualified electors of the state at the time and place of voting for members of the legislature, and shall hold their office for a term of six years, dating from the termination of the now existing terms.

History.—§1, ch. 57-274.
Note.—Formerly §25.01.

25.012 Filling vacancies.—When the office of any judge shall become vacant from any cause, the successor to fill such vacancy shall be appointed or elected only for the unexpired term of the judge whose death, resignation, retirement or other cause created such vacancy.

History.—§1, ch. 57-274.

25.021 Terms of office.—The term of office of each of the justices of the supreme court, when elected for a full term, shall commence on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January next succeeding the election.

History.—§1, ch. 57-274.
Note.—Formerly §25.02.

25.031 Supreme court authorized to receive and answer certificates as to state law from federal appellate courts.—The supreme court of this state may, by rule of court, provide that, when it shall appear to the supreme court of the United States, or to the court of appeals of the District of Columbia, that there are involved in any proceeding before it questions or propositions of the laws of this state, which are determinative of the said cause, and there are no clear controlling precedents in the decisions of the supreme court of this state, such federal appellate court may certify such questions or propositions of the laws of this state to the supreme court of this state for instructions concerning such questions or propositions of state law, which certificate the supreme court of this state, by written opinion, may answer.

History.—§1, ch. 23098, 1945; §1, ch. 57-274.

25.032 Same; rules and regulations.—The supreme court of this state is hereby authorized and empowered to collaborate with any and all other courts of last resort, of other states and of the United States, in the preparation and approval of uniform rules of court to make effective this and similar laws.

History.—§2, ch. 23098, 1945; §1, ch. 57-274.

25.041 Power to execute its decrees, etc.—

The supreme court is vested with all the power and authority necessary for carrying into complete execution all its judgments, decrees and determinations in the matters before it, agreeable to the usage and principles of law.

History.—§1, ch. 57-274.

Note.—Formerly §25.04.

25.051 Regular terms.—The supreme court shall hold two terms in each year, in the supreme court building, commencing respectively on the first day of January and July, providing, that if such day be a Sunday or legal holiday, then on the first subsequent day which is not a Sunday or legal holiday.

History.—Comp. §1, ch. 57-274.

Note.—Formerly §25.05.

25.061 Chief justice.—The chief justice of the supreme court shall be chosen by the members of the court and shall serve for a term of two years. In the event of a vacancy, a successor shall be chosen within sixty days for a like term. During a vacancy or whenever the chief justice is unable to act for any reason, the justice longest in continuous service and able to act shall act as chief justice.

History.—§1, ch. 57-274.

25.071 Temporary assignment of judges.—

The chief justice of the supreme court is vested with, and shall exercise in accordance with rules of that court, authority temporarily to assign justices of the supreme court to district courts of appeal and circuit courts, judges of district courts of appeal and circuit judges to the supreme court, district courts of appeal, and circuit courts, and judges of other courts, except municipal courts, to judicial service in any court of the same or lesser jurisdiction. Any retired justice or judge may, with his consent, be likewise assigned to judicial service.

History.—Comp. §1, ch. 57-274.

(1) Any justice of the supreme court of Florida who shall have served as a circuit judge of the state and as justice of the supreme court for an aggregate period of ten or more years and who shall have been separated from judicial service subsequent to 1950, at a time when such justice was not eligible for retirement under the provisions of the law then in existence but who would now be eligible for such retirement under the present law if he were now a member of this court, shall be deemed to have retired from his office, notwithstanding the form of his separation documents, for the sole purpose of being assigned to temporary judicial service subject to his consent to serve and the approval of the chief justice. Such consent to serve shall be transmitted to the chief justice within twelve months after May 10, 1963.

(2) Such retired justice shall be eligible only to be assigned to temporary judicial service and shall not receive any retirement pay or be entitled to other benefits relating to retirement of justices of the supreme court; provided, however, that during any temporary assignment to judicial service, such retired justice shall be authorized to be reimbursed for all necessary expenses incurred in connection therewith on the same basis as are other retired justices who are temporarily assigned to judicial service.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 63-33.

25.073 Retired justices or judges assigned to active judicial service; additional compensation; appropriation.—Any retired justice of the supreme court or retired judge of a district court of appeal or circuit court assigned to active judicial service in any of said courts, pursuant to Art. V of the state constitution, shall be compensated as follows:

(1) Any such justice or judge shall be paid as additional compensation the difference between the normal retirement benefits to which he was entitled to receive at the time of his retirement, usually referred to as option one, regardless of which option was selected at the time of retirement, and the total salary then currently paid by the state to active justices or judges of the court in which the retired justice or judge was serving at the time of his retirement.

(2) Such additional compensation shall be paid by the state at a daily rate and shall be computed on a basis of two hundred sixty one working days per annum; provided that such payments shall be computed on the basis of actual number of days worked.

(3) Necessary travel expense incident to the performance of duties required by assignment of such justices or judges to active judicial service shall be paid by the state in accordance with the provisions of §112.061.

(4) Payments required under this section shall be made from moneys to be appropriated for this purpose.

History.—§1, ch. 63-538.

25.081 Seal.—The seal of the supreme court shall be provided by rules of that court.

History.—§1, ch. 57-274.

Note.—Formerly §25.10.

25.091 Compensation of justices.—The salary of the justices of the supreme court shall be provided by law.

History.—Comp. §1, ch. 57-274.

Note.—Formerly §25.111.

25.101 Retirement of justices with pay.—Whenever any justice of the supreme court of Florida has attained the age of sixty-five years or more, and has been a justice of said supreme court under commission as such justice for a period of twenty years or more consecutively, such justice may voluntarily resign and retire from his office as such justice with the right to be paid, and he shall be paid on his own requisition, during the remainder of his natural life, the full amount of the annual or monthly salary then, or from time to time, provided by law to be paid to the other justices of said court in office; and sufficient money to meet the requirements of this section is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated.

History.—§1, ch. 57-274.

Note.—Formerly §25.12.

cf.—Ch. 123, Justices, circuit and appeal judges retirement system.

25.112 Right to retire; retirement pay.—Any justice of the supreme court of Florida who shall have served as a circuit judge of the state and as a justice of said supreme court for an aggregate period of twenty years or more and shall have elected to take the benefits of this law in accordance with the terms and provisions hereof, may resign and retire, or either, from his office as such justice with the right to be paid, and he shall be paid, on his own requisition, during the remainder of his natural life, from the supreme court justices' retirement trust fund herein established, two-thirds of the annual or monthly salary then, or from time to time thereafter, provided by law to be paid to the other justices of said court in office.

History.—§1, ch. 57-274; §2, ch. 61-119.

Note.—Formerly §25.121.

cf.—§123.13 Optional retirement benefits; Justices, circuit and appeal judges.

25.122 Notice by justice taking advantage of act; deductions from salary.—Any justice of the supreme court who may decide to take advantage of this law shall, within ninety days after this law takes effect, notify the state comptroller and the state treasurer to that effect, and thenceforward, so long as such justice shall hold office, two per centum shall be deducted from each installment of salary of such justice, and said amount so deducted shall be deposited into a special fund hereby established in the state treasury to be known as the supreme court justices' retirement trust fund. Any person who may hereafter qualify as justice of the supreme court shall be entitled to the benefits of this law upon giving notice to the state comptroller and the state treasurer within ninety days after taking office; and after the giving of such notice, so long as such justice shall hold office, two per centum shall be deducted from each installment of salary of such justice, and said amount so deducted shall be deposited into said supreme court justices' retirement trust fund.

History.—§2, ch. 23645, 1947; §1, ch. 57-274; §2, ch. 61-119.

§§123.17 and 123.18 Judicial retirement for disability; transfer of amounts contributed under other retirement laws.

25.131 Annual appropriations.—There is hereby appropriated annually and shall be paid into said supreme court justices' retirement trust fund out of any funds in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated sufficient money to meet the requirements of this law, taking into account the sum paid into said supreme court justices' retirement trust fund under §25.122.

History.—§1, ch. 57-274; §2, ch. 61-119.

Note.—Formerly §25.123.

cf.—Ch. 123.

25.141 Rights under law for retirement of circuit judges.—Nothing in this law shall affect any rights that a circuit judge subsequently becoming a justice of the supreme court may have theretofore acquired or may thereafter acquire under provisions of law, or any re-enactments thereof or amendments thereto, prior to the time that he retires from the supreme court; provided, however, that no person while accepting retirement compensation under the terms and provisions hereof shall at the same time receive retirement compensation under any other law.

History.—§1, ch. 57-274.

Note.—Formerly §25.124.

cf.—§§38.14-38.19 Retirement of circuit judges.

Ch. 123 Justices, circuit and appeal judges retirement system.

25.151 Practice of law.—No justice of the supreme court of Florida drawing retirement compensation as provided by any law shall engage in the practice of law.

History.—§1, ch. 57-274.

Note.—Formerly §25.125.

25.161 Rights under other laws.—Nothing herein contained shall affect the rights or status of any person under any other law who has heretofore resigned or retired or may hereafter resign or retire from the supreme court of Florida; and the provisions of §25.101 shall be preserved and remain in full force and effect.

History.—§1, ch. 57-274.

Note.—Formerly §25.126.

25.171 Automatic retirement.—All justices shall automatically retire upon reaching the age of seventy years; provided that this shall not apply to any justice holding such office on July 1, 1957.

History.—§1, ch. 57-274.

25.181 Record of territorial court of appeals.—The files, rolls and books of record of the courts of appeals of the late Territory of Florida, so far as the same, by the concurrence of the congress and of the legislature of this state, may relate to matters of appropriate state authority and jurisdiction, are placed in the custody and under the control of the supreme court of this state, and are files, rolls and records of the said supreme court; and the said court may lawfully have and exercise such judicial cognizance and power over them as it may lawfully have and exercise over its own files, rolls and records.

History.—§1, ch. 57-274.

Note.—Formerly §25.13.

25.191 Clerk of supreme court.—The supreme court shall appoint a clerk of the supreme court, who shall hold his office during the pleasure of the court. The said clerk, before entering upon the discharge of his duties, shall give bond in the sum of two thousand dollars, payable to the governor, or his successors in office, to be approved by a majority of the justices of the supreme court conditioned upon the faithful discharge of the duties of his office, which bond shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state.

History.—§1, ch. 57-274.

Note.—Formerly §25.17.

25.231 Duties of clerk.—The clerk of the supreme court shall perform such duties as may be directed by the court.

History.—§1, ch. 57-274.
Note.—Formerly §25.18.

25.241 Clerk of supreme court; compensation; assistants; filing fees, etc.—

(1) The clerk of the supreme court shall be paid an annual salary, provided by law.

(2) The clerk of the supreme court is authorized to employ such deputies and clerical assistance as may be necessary. Their number and compensation shall be approved by the court. The compensation of such employees shall be paid from the biennial appropriation for the supreme court.

(3) The clerk of the supreme court is hereby required to collect, upon the filing of a certified copy of a notice of appeal or petition, twenty-five dollars for each case docketed, and for copying, certifying or furnishing opinions, records, papers or other instruments except as otherwise herein provided, the same fees that are allowed clerks of the circuit court; provided, however, no fee shall be less than one dollar.

(4) The clerk of the supreme court is hereby authorized, immediately after a case is disposed of, to supply the judge who tried the case and from whose order, judgment or decree, appeal or other review is taken and any court which reviewed it, a copy of all opinions, orders or judgments filed in such case. Copies of opinions, orders and decrees shall be furnished in all cases to each attorney of record and copies for publication in Florida reports shall be without charge and copies furnished to the law book publishers shall be at one-half the regular statutory fee.

(5) The clerk of the supreme court is hereby required to prepare a statement of all fees collected in duplicate each month and remit one copy of said statement, together with all fees collected by him, to the state treasurer who shall place the same to the credit of the general revenue fund.

25.251 Marshal of supreme court, appointment.—The supreme court shall appoint a marshal who shall hold office during the pleasure of the court. The said marshal shall execute to the governor of the state a bond in the penalty of two thousand dollars, with sureties to be approved by the supreme court, and conditioned that he shall faithfully discharge such duties as the court directs.

History.—§1, ch. 57-274.
Note.—Formerly §25.23.

25.262 Duties of marshal, process.—The marshal shall have the power to execute the process of the court throughout the state, and in any county he may deputize the sheriff or a deputy sheriff for such purpose.

History.—§1, ch. 57-274.
Note.—Formerly §25.24.

25.271 Custody of supreme court building and grounds.—The said marshal shall, under the direction of the supreme court, be custodian of the supreme court building and grounds and shall keep the same clean, sanitary and free of trespassers and marauders and shall maintain the same in good state of repair and cause the grounds to be beautified and preserved against depredations and trespasses.

History.—§1, ch. 57-274.
Note.—Formerly §25.25.

25.281 Compensation of marshal.—The compensation of the said marshal shall be provided by law.

History.—§1, ch. 57-274.
Note.—Formerly §25.26.

25.291 Marshal's contempt fund.—

(1) There shall be established what is known as the "marshal's contempt fund," which fund shall be comprised of moneys derived from the imposition of fines for contempt of the supreme court of the state.

(2) Any money on deposit in the marshal's contempt fund shall be secured as other public deposits are secured, and said moneys shall be used only for the purpose of paying incidental expenses as they occur from time to time of the supreme court of Florida, and shall be paid out only by vouchers signed by the marshal of the supreme court of the state, and countersigned by the chief justice.

History.—§1, ch. 57-274.
Note.—Formerly §25.261.
cf.—§§18.10 et seq. Deposits of money in the banks of the state.

25.301 Decisions to be filed; copies to be furnished.—All decisions and opinions delivered by said court or any justice thereof in relation to any action or proceeding pending in said court shall be filed and remain in the office of the clerk, and shall not be taken out except by order of the court; but said clerk shall at all times be required to furnish to any person who may desire the same certified copies of such opinions and decisions, upon receiving his fees therefor.

History.—§1, ch. 57-274.

Note.—Formerly §25.28.

cf.—§25.241(3) Clerk of supreme court; filing fees.

25.311 Distribution of volumes.—Copies of the reports of the decisions of the supreme court and of the district court of appeals shall be distributed as follows: to the governor, and to each cabinet officer, except to the attorney general, to each of the justices of the supreme court, to each judge of the district courts of appeal, to each circuit judge, to each county judge, to each judge of county courts, to each solicitor of county courts, to each prosecuting attorney, to each judge of a criminal or civil court of record, to each state attorney, to each county solicitor of a court of record, to each state university and legal depository, and two bound copies thereof to the attorney general. A bound copy thereof shall be transmitted by mail or express to the governor of each state and territory which sends the reports of its courts to this state. A bound copy thereof shall be transmitted to the clerks of the United States district courts, for the use of the judges of said courts, in the northern and southern districts of Florida, in each city in the state where sessions of said courts are now appointed by law to be held, and three bound volumes to the clerk of the United States circuit court of appeals for the fifth circuit.

History.—§1, ch. 57-274; §2, ch. 63-570.

Note.—Formerly §25.38.

25.321 Volumes to be resupplied.—A copy of reports of decisions of the supreme court and district courts of appeal shall be supplied or resupplied to all public officers entitled to be furnished a copy thereof by law, where such copy has never been furnished to such officers, or any predecessors in office, or where the same shall have been lost or destroyed without the fault of the officer, provided that the fact that such officer or his predecessors have never been supplied with such copy, or the loss or destruction thereof be made to appear by an affidavit filed with the proper officer of this state.

History.—§1, ch. 57-274.

Note.—Formerly §25.39.

25.331 Reports to remain the property of the state.—All supreme court reports heretofore furnished to public officers of this state, or that may hereafter be supplied to them, shall continue to remain the public property of the state, and shall belong to the public office of the officer to whom they are supplied for the official use of their successors in office in perpetuum.

History.—§1, ch. 57-274.

Note.—Formerly §25.40.

25.341 Library of supreme court, custodian.—The library of the supreme court shall be in custody of the librarian appointed by the court, who shall be subject to its direction.

History.—§1, ch. 57-274.

Note.—Formerly §25.41.

25.351 Acquisition of books.—Books for the library of the supreme court may be acquired:

(1) BY PURCHASE.—As the supreme court shall direct.

(2) BY EXCHANGE.—Such number of reports, statutes and journals as shall be obtained by the chief justice upon his request from the secretary of state shall be exchanged by the librarian with appropriate authorities of the United States and other states and territories for corresponding numbers of their reports.

History.—§1, ch. 57-274.

Note.—Formerly §25.42.

25.361 Obtaining state publications for exchange purposes.—The supreme court is hereby authorized, for the purpose of making exchanges, to obtain copies of the report of the decisions of the supreme court and district courts of appeal, any of the Florida session laws, the Florida Statutes, or any other publication of the state available for distribution and exchange for any book or publication needed for use in the supreme court library.

History.—§1, ch. 57-274.

Note.—Formerly §25.441.

25.371 Rules, effect of.—When a rule is adopted by the supreme court concerning practice and procedure, and such rule conflicts with a statute, the rule supersedes the statutory provision.

History.—§1, ch. 57-274.

Note.—Formerly §25.47.

25.381 Reports; publication; purchase and distribution.—The reports of the opinions of the supreme court and the district courts of appeal shall be known as Florida Cases. In July, 1963, and every second year thereafter until otherwise provided by law, the supreme court and the attorney general shall jointly enter into a contract with West Publishing Company, St. Paul, Minnesota, providing for the publication and distribution of such volumes of Florida Cases as necessary to furnish copies thereof to the officers and institutions as required or authorized by law.

The volumes of such reports purchased by the state under such contract shall be paid for from the circuit and other state court fund as appropriated from general state revenue.

26.01* Judicial circuits and judges.—The state is divided into sixteen judicial circuits, each of which embraces more than fifty thousand inhabitants according to the last preceding state or federal census, and the county or counties composing each of said circuits, together with the number of circuit judges therein, respectively, are as set forth in §§26.02-26.161.

History.—§1, ch. 5120, 1903; GS 1796; §1, ch. 6197, 1911; §1, ch. 6198, 1911; RGS 3026; CGL 4769; §§1, 5, ch. 17085, 1935; §10, ch. 27991, 1953.

26.011 Census commission, judicial circuits.—

(1) APPOINTMENT OF COMMISSIONERS.—When it shall be deemed advisable by the governor that the population of any judicial circuit be determined, he may from time to time appoint three commissioners from such judicial circuit who shall obtain from the United States census bureau an outline of proper criteria other than by the actual counting of individuals, to be used by said commissioners for the purpose of determining the population of said circuit, and the commissioners shall thereupon forthwith proceed in accordance with said criteria to determine the number of inhabitants of such circuit. In making their determination the commissioners shall also, after public notice, hold a public hearing or hearings at such place or places in the circuit as they deem advisable to receive such further proof needed to assist them in determining the number of such inhabitants. After the conclusion of its study and after the public hearings to be held, as aforesaid, the commissioners shall make proof to the governor, first, of the establishment of criteria by the United States census bureau and second, its findings based thereon. It shall also forward to the governor certified transcript of the record taken at the public hearings to be held as aforesaid.

(2) PROCLAMATION BY GOVERNOR.—The findings by any such commission or commissioners as to the number of inhabitants or the population of any judicial circuit when proclaimed by the governor shall have the same force and effect in law as if according to a census taken pursuant to either federal or state law insofar as a census affects the number of circuit judges permitted by law but such determination shall not otherwise be effective for any purpose.

(3) The commissioners shall not be paid any compensation but shall be reimbursed for traveling expenses as provided in §112.061.

History.—§§1-3, ch. 31395, 1956; (3) §19, ch. 63-400.

26.02 First circuit.—

(1) The first circuit is composed of Escambia, Okaloosa, Santa Rosa and Walton counties, and shall have one circuit judge for each 50,000 inhabitants or major fraction thereof, in said circuit according to the most recent official census. No two of said judges may be legal residents of the same county.

(2) This act shall take effect on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January, 1957; provided however, that the vacancy hereby created shall be filled at the 1956 general election, nominations for which office may be made in the general primary elections in 1956.

History.—§2, ch. 5120, 1903; GS 1797; §1, ch. 6197, 1911; §2, ch. 6198, 1911; §2, ch. 6937, 1915; RGS 3027; CGL 4780; §1, ch. 17085, 1935; §1, ch. 22813, 1945; §§1, 2, ch. 29630, 1955.

26.03 Second circuit.—The second circuit is composed of Leon, Gadsden, Jefferson, Wakulla, Liberty, and Franklin counties, and shall have one circuit judge for each fifty thousand inhabitants or major fraction thereof, in said circuit, according to the most recent official census.

History.—RS 1360; §3, ch. 5120, 1903; GS 1798; §3, ch. 6197, 1911; §1, ch. 6198, 1911; RGS 3028; CGL 4781; §1, ch. 17085, 1935; §1, ch. 28260, 1953.

26.04 Third circuit.—The third circuit is composed of Columbia, Dixie, Hamilton, Lafayette, Madison, Suwannee and Taylor counties, and shall have two circuit judges.

26.05 Fourth circuit.—The fourth circuit is composed of Clay, Duval and Nassau counties, and shall have three circuit judges in addition to the circuit judge of the circuit court of Duval county appointed under the provisions of §§6, 26(8), Art. V, of the Florida constitution.

History.—RS 1362; §5, ch. 5120, 1903; GS 1800; §5, ch. 6197, 1911; §1, ch. 6198, 1911; §2, ch. 7399, 1917; RGS 3030; §1, ch. 8486, 1921; §4, ch. 12437, 1927; CGL 4783; §1, ch. 17085, 1935.

26.051 Additional judges for fourth circuit.—

(1) There shall be two additional circuit judges of the fourth judicial circuit of Florida, composed of Clay, Duval and Nassau counties, in addition to the three circuit judges of said circuit heretofore provided for, and also in addition to the circuit judge of the circuit court of Duval county, as provided by §§6, 26(8), Art. V, of the Florida constitution.

(2) The additional circuit judge for the fourth judicial circuit of Florida shall have all the powers and perform all the duties that are or may be provided or prescribed by the Florida constitution or by Florida statute, for circuit judges, and all Florida statutes concerning circuit judges shall apply to him; and he shall receive the same compensation and allowances for expenses as other circuit judges of said circuit.

(3) The fourth judicial circuit, composed of Clay, Duval and Nassau counties, shall have one circuit judge for each 50,000 inhabitants or major fraction thereof, according to the last official statewide census, in said circuit, in addition to the additional judge for the fourth judicial circuit now provided in Art. V of the constitution of Florida. Nothing in this subsection shall disturb the terms of incumbent judges.

26.071 Judges for the sixth circuit.—The number of judges of the sixth judicial circuit shall be one for every 50,000 inhabitants, or major fraction thereof, as may be determined pursuant to law, providing, that one of the said circuit judges shall reside in and be appointed or elected from Pasco county.

History.—§§1-3, ch. 22943, 1945; (1) §1, ch. 26727, 1951; (3) §10, ch. 26484, 1951; §2, ch. 29993, 1955.

26.08 Seventh circuit.—

(1) The seventh circuit is composed of Flagler, Putnam, St. Johns, and Volusia counties, and shall have one circuit judge for each 50,000 inhabitants, or a major fraction thereof, in said circuit according to the latest official decennial census, whether the latter be by actual count or by a census commission appointed pursuant to general law. No two judges shall reside in the same county unless and until the total number of judges in the circuit shall exceed three in number, after which no more than three shall reside in the same county.

(2) A candidate for circuit judge residing in the county wherein the largest number of circuit judges reside shall not be eligible to qualify for election to the office of circuit judge in opposition to a circuit judge residing in any other county in said circuit.

History.—RS 1365; §8, ch. 5120, 1903; GS 1803; §8, ch. 6197, 1911; §1, ch. 6198, 1911; §§1, 2, ch. 7351, 1917; §2, ch. 7401, 1917; §2, ch. 7847, 1919; RGS 3033; §1, chs. 12434, 12437, 1927; CGL 4786, 4804; §1, ch. 17085, 1935; §1, ch. 26986, 1951; §1, ch. 29975, 1955; §1, ch. 61-521.

26.09 Eighth circuit.—The eighth circuit is composed of Alachua, Baker, Bradford, Gilchrist, Levy and Union counties, and shall have two circuit judges.

History.—§9, ch. 5120, 1903; GS 1804; §9, ch. 6197; §1, ch. 6198, 1911; RGS 3034; §1, ch. 8486; §2, ch. 8516, 1921; §2, ch. 11371, 1925; §4, ch. 12437; §§1, 2, ch. 12438, 1927; CGL 4787, 4805; §1, ch. 17085, 1935.

26.10 Ninth circuit.—

(1) The ninth judicial circuit is composed of Brevard, Indian River, Martin, Okeechobee, Orange, Osceola, Seminole, and St. Lucie counties, and shall have one circuit judge for each fifty thousand inhabitants, or major fraction thereof, as may be determined pursuant to law. Each of said judges shall have all of the powers and perform all of the duties that are or may be provided or prescribed by the constitution or statutes of the state for circuit judges, and all Florida Statutes concerning circuit judges shall apply to each; and each shall receive the compensation and allowance for expenses as is or may be provided by law.

(2) For the purposes of this law the ninth judicial circuit is divided into divisions as follows:

Division A, consisting of Orange and Osceola counties;

Division B, consisting of Seminole and Brevard counties;

Division C, consisting of Indian River, St. Lucie, Martin, and Okeechobee counties.

(3)(a) The eight judges now authorized for the circuit by pre-existing law shall reside as follows:

1. Four judges in division A;
2. One judge in Brevard county;
3. One judge in Seminole county;
4. Two judges in division C.

(b) Future judges authorized under the terms hereof shall reside as follows:

1. The ninth judge to which the circuit shall be entitled shall reside in Brevard county;

2. The tenth judge to which the circuit shall be entitled shall reside in division A;

3. The eleventh judge to which the circuit shall be entitled shall reside in division C; provided, no county in said division C shall have more than one resident circuit judge.

4. All judges over eleven to which the circuit shall be entitled hereunder shall reside in such divisions as may be necessary so that each division shall have one judge for each full 50,000 inhabitants.

5. In the event the circuit shall be entitled to one or more judges whose residence is not otherwise determined hereunder, then the first such judge shall reside in the division having the largest population after subtracting 50,000 inhabitants for each judge to which the division is otherwise entitled hereunder; the second such judge shall reside in the division having the second largest population after subtracting 50,000 inhabitants for each judge to which the division is otherwise entitled hereunder; the third such judge shall reside in the division having the third largest population after subtracting 50,000 inhabitants for each judge to which the division is otherwise entitled hereunder.

(4) When there are published but unofficial figures of the United States census bureau for the 1960 federal census available to the governor, for the counties of the ninth judicial circuit, he may, after consulting with the United States census bureau, make such deductions from such published but unofficial figures as he may find necessary to safely and reliably establish specific figures as minimum population figures from such census for such counties and for the circuit and may then proclaim such figures as minimum populations of such counties, and of the circuit as a whole, for purposes of this act. Upon such figures being proclaimed as minimum figures, he shall appoint the judge or judges for the additional judgeship or judgeships (if any) which would in any event be provided hereunder based on such minimum population figures. If later final figures of the United States census bureau for such census shall show the ninth judicial circuit to be entitled to a judgeship or judgeships additional to any to which it is entitled based on such minimum population figures, the governor shall, as soon as convenient after such final figures are published, proceed to appoint the additional judge or judges to which such circuit is entitled hereunder; provided, however, that in no event shall any official or unofficial figures of the 1960 United States census become effective for purposes of this act until December 1, 1960; and provided, further, that nothing herein contained shall preclude the governor from at any time, proceeding under §26.011.

(5) When there is no judge residing in Osceola county, the senior judge shall assign a judge for service one day each week in said county.

History.—§1, ch. 7847, 1919; §2, ch. 9164, 1923; §2, chs. 10079, 10148, 10180, 1925; §2, ch. 12434, 1927; CGL 4796, 4800, 4802; §1, ch. 26815, 1951; (2) n. §§1, 2, ch. 57-50; §§1-5, ch. 59-1005; §2, ch. 61-530.

26.11 Tenth circuit; census.—

(1) The tenth circuit is composed of Hardee, Highlands and Polk counties and shall have one circuit judge for each fifty thousand inhabitants or major fraction thereof, as may be determined pursuant to law. One of the circuit judges shall reside outside Polk county.

(2)(a) The official count of the population of the counties of the circuit as taken in the year 1950, or subsequent years thereto, whichever census is the last, by the federal bureau of the census, the commissioner of agriculture of the state, or by any other commission, commissioners, or census officially provided for by act of the legislature, as certified to the respective boards of county commissioners of said counties, is hereby provided for and shall be the official census of the inhabitants of each county. If the census of one or more of the counties of the circuit is taken and no new census is taken of the other county or counties then the official census of the circuit shall be the new census of the county or counties taken plus the latest official census of the other county or counties.

(b) The aforesaid census of each county shall be combined and the aggregate total population of said counties shall be recognized and is hereby declared to be the official census of the inhabitants of the tenth judicial circuit of the state.

(c) The aforesaid census population as to said counties and said tenth judicial circuit, shall entitle said tenth judicial circuit to the benefit of the provisions of §6, Art. V of the state constitution and of §26.11.

History.—§4, ch. 26952, 1951.

*26.362 Seventeenth judicial circuit.—The terms of court for the seventeenth judicial circuit shall be as follows:

SPRING TERM

Broward County—second Tuesday in March

FALL TERM

Broward County—second Tuesday in October

History.—§4, ch. 63-470.

*Note.—This new section shall take effect on December 1, 1964, subject to ratification of an amendment to §6, Art. V, adopted by the legislature of 1963.

26.37 Judge to attend first day of term.—

Each judge of a circuit court is required, unless prevented by sickness or other providential causes, to attend on the first day of each term of the circuit court required by law to be held, and upon failure to do so, shall be subject to a deduction of one hundred dollars from his salary for each and every such default.

History.—§1, ch. 252, 1849; RS 1377; GS 1817; RGS 3062; CGL 4843.

26.38 Judge to state reason for non-attendance.—

Whenever any judge as aforesaid shall make default as aforesaid in consequence of sickness or providential interposition, it shall be the duty of such judge to state the reasons of such failure, in writing, over his official signature, to be handed to the clerk of the court, who shall enter the same at length on the records of the court.

History.—§2, ch. 252, 1849; RS 1378; GS 1818; RGS 3063; CGL 4844.

26.39 Penalty for non-attendance of judge.

Whenever such default shall occur, the clerk of the court (unless such judge shall file his reasons for such default as hereinbefore provided) shall certify the fact, under his official signature and seal, to the comptroller of the state, who shall deduct from the warrants on the treasurer, thereafter to be issued in favor of the judge making such default, the sum of one hundred dollars as aforesaid for every such default.

History.—§3, ch. 252, 1849; RS 1379; GS 1819; RGS 3064; CGL 4845.

26.40 Adjournment of court upon non-attendance.—

Whenever any judge shall not attend on the first day of any term, the court shall stand adjourned until twelve o'clock on the second day; and if said judge shall not then attend, the clerk at that time shall continue all causes, and adjourn the court to such time as the judge may appoint, or to the next regular term, by law established.

History.—§3, Nov. 23, 1828; RS 1380; GS 1820; RGS 3065; CGL 4846.

26.41 Circuit judges conservators of the peace.—The judges of the circuit courts, respectively, shall be ex-officio conservators of the peace, and have and exercise, whenever they may deem it fit and proper, all the duties and powers of justices of the peace in criminal cases, except the trial of such cases; and if they see fit, may admit prisoners to bail where it may have been refused by any justice of the peace.

History.—§4, Nov. 19, 1828; RS 1342; GS 1777; RGS 3001; CGL 4735.

26.42 Calling docket at end of term.—The judge, at each term of the court, after other business of the term shall have been disposed of, shall call over all the causes standing upon the dockets, and make such orders and entries therein as shall be found necessary in relation thereto.

History.—§19, Nov. 23, 1828; RS 1343; GS 1778; RGS 3002; CGL 4736.

26.43 Temporary assignment of judges.—When any circuit judge is unable to perform the duties of his office on account of absence, sickness, disqualification or other disability, or because of assignment to special duty, or when necessary for the prompt dispatch of the business of the court, said circuit judge or the presiding judge of such circuit shall so advise the chief justice of the supreme court of this state, who shall assign a justice of the supreme court, a judge of the district court, or judge of another circuit, to perform the duties of such judge; provided, however, that no order of assignment shall be necessary if there be another judge or judges of the circuit available to perform the duties of such judge, or the presiding judge may allocate the business of such judge to any judge or judges of the circuit; provided further, that should any judge be disqualified or recuse himself in any cause, such cause shall be reassigned to another judge in accordance with the local rules or practice of said circuit for assignment of business to the judges thereof.

History.—§2, ch. 1444, 1864; RS 1374; GS 1814; RGS 3057; CGL 4838; §3, ch. 63-572.

26.44 Penalty for failure of judge to obey orders.—The failure of any judge to perform the duty required of him by the governor under §26.43 shall be cause of impeachment of such judge.

History.—§3, ch. 1444, 1864; RS 1375; GS 1815; RGS 3058; CGL 4839.

26.45 Jurisdiction of assigned circuit judge.—When a circuit judge is by executive order assigned to hold one or more terms or parts of terms in a circuit where he does not reside, the judge so assigned shall, for the particular case or cases or class of cases or during the term or part of term named or specified in the assignment, have complete jurisdiction when in the county to which he is assigned as if he were a resident circuit judge; and such jurisdiction shall be additional to and concurrent with and not exclusive of the resident circuit judge's continued jurisdiction over the circuit wherein he resides; and such jurisdiction shall continue when necessary for the complete disposition of cases by motion in due course after verdict or in settling a bill of exceptions presented in due course.

History.—§1, ch. 6900, 1915; RGS 3060; CGL 4841.

26.46 Jurisdiction of resident judge after assignment.—When a circuit judge is assigned to another circuit, none of the circuit judges in such other circuit shall, because of such assignment, be deprived of or affected in his jurisdiction other than to the extent essential so as not to conflict with the authority of the temporarily assigned circuit judge as to the particular case or cases or class of cases, or in presiding at the particular term or part of term named or specified in the assignment.

History.—§2, ch. 6900, 1915; RGS 3061; CGL 4842.

26.47 Extra compensation of circuit judges.—Judges temporarily assigned pursuant to §26.43 shall in carrying out the duties of their orders of assignment be reimbursed for traveling expenses as provided in §112.061.

cf.—§26.52, Travel expenses.

26.49 Executive officer of circuit court.—The sheriff of the county shall be the executive officer of the circuit court of the county.

History.—§14, ch. 4, 1845; RS 1396; GS 1841; RGS 3086; CGL 4869.
cf.—§30.23, Compensation.

26.50 Sheriff to purchase articles for court.—The judge of the circuit court, at each term thereof, shall make a written requisition upon the sheriff attending upon said court for such stationery or other articles as he may deem necessary for the use of the court, and the sheriff shall procure the same, and in no other way shall the sheriff or other officer of the court be authorized to purchase articles at the expense of the state; the said requisition shall be a sufficient voucher to sustain the claim of any person furnishing articles as aforesaid against the state.

26.51 Compensation of circuit judges.—

(1) Beginning July 1, 1951, the salaries of the circuit judges of the state to be paid by the state shall be the sum of ten thousand dollars each per annum and warrants shall be drawn by the comptroller in equal monthly installments. Provided, however, that nothing contained herein shall be so construed as to reduce the salary of any circuit judge in any circuit of the state where the salary of said judges are supplemented by the counties of said circuit.

26.55 Conference of circuit judges; report of attorney general to legislature.—

(1) For the purpose of implementing the provisions of subsection (5), §6, Article V of the constitution of Florida there is created and established the conference of circuit judges of Florida. The conference shall consist of the active and retired circuit judges of the several judicial circuits of the state. The conference shall elect biennially a chairman, whose duty it shall be to call all meetings and to appoint committees to effectuate the purposes of the conference. It is hereby declared to be an official function of each circuit judge to attend the meetings of such conference. It is also an official function of each circuit judge to participate in the activity of each committee to the membership of which such judge may be appointed. Not less than thirty days next before the convening of the regular session of the legislature the chairman of the conference shall report to the attorney general and also to the president of the senate and speaker of the house such recommendations as the conference may have concerning defects in the laws of Florida and such amendments or additional legislation as the conference may deem necessary. It is declared to be the responsibility of the conference to consider and make recommendations concerning:

(a) The betterment of the judicial system of the state and its various parts;

(b) The improvement of rules and methods of procedure and practice in the several courts; and

(c) To report to the attorney general and to the supreme court such findings and recommendations as the conference may have with reference thereto.

(2) The attorney general shall cause to be prepared copies of the findings and recommendations of the conference, and furnish a copy thereof to each member of the legislature upon the convening of each regular session of the legislature.

History.—§1, ch. 59-273.

Note.—Provisions formerly contained in §16.06.

cf.—§6(5), Art. V. Recommendations.

27.08 Surrender of papers, etc. to successor.—Upon the qualification of the successor of any state attorney, the state attorney going out of office shall deliver to his successor a statement of all cases for the collection of money in favor of the state under his control and the papers connected with the same, and take his receipt for the same, which receipt, when filed with the comptroller, shall release such state attorney from any further liability to the state upon the claims receipted for; and the state attorney receiving the claims shall be liable in all respects for the same, as provided against state attorneys in §17.20.

History.—§4, ch. 1413, 1863; RS 1347; GS 1782; RGS 3018; CGL 4754; §11, ch. 25035, 1949.

27.10 Obligation as to claims, how discharged.—The charges mentioned in §17.20, shall be evidence of indebtedness on the part of any state attorney against whom any charge is made for the full amount of such claim to the state until the same shall be collected and paid into the treasury or sued to insolvency, which fact of insolvency shall be certified by the circuit judge of his circuit, unless said state attorney shall make it fully appear to the comptroller that the failure to collect the same did not result from his neglect.

cf.—§17.20 To charge state attorneys with claims in their hands.

27.11 Report upon claims committed to him.—The state attorney shall make a report to the comptroller on the first Monday in January and July in each and every year of the condition of all claims placed in his hands or which he may have been required to prosecute and collect, whether the same is in suit or in judgment, or collected, and the probable solvency or insolvency of claims not collected, and shall at the same time pay over all moneys which he may have collected belonging to the state; and the comptroller shall not audit or allow any claim which any state attorney may have against the state for services until he makes the report herein required.

cf.—§17.21 State attorney's report necessary prior to compensation.

27.12 Power to compromise.—The state attorney may, with the approval of the comptroller, compromise and settle all judgments, claims and demands in favor of the state in his circuit against defaulting collectors of revenue, sheriffs and other officers, and the sureties on their bonds, on such terms as he may deem equitable and proper.

And any such compromise or settlement may be made with any of the sureties of such defaulting officer as to his individual liability, and a receipt to such surety shall be a discharge of his obligation; but the discharge of one or more of the sureties so compromised and settled with shall not operate as a discharge of the principal or other sureties from the judgment, claim or demand in favor of the state.

History.—§1, ch. 3236, 1881; RS 1351; GS 1786; RGS 3016; CGL 4752.

27.13 Completion of compromise.—The state attorney shall, on agreeing to any compromise or settlement, report the same to the comptroller of the state for his approval; and, on his approving such compromise or settlement, the said state attorney, on a compliance with the terms of such compromise or settlement shall give a receipt to the collector of revenue, sheriff or other officer, or the sureties on their bonds, or to the legal representatives, which receipt shall be a discharge from all judgments, claims or demands of the state against such collector of revenue or other officer, or the sureties on their bonds.

History.—§2, ch. 3236, 1881; RS 1352; GS 1787; RGS 3017; CGL 4753.

27.14 Assigning state attorneys to other circuits.—If any state attorney shall be disqualified to represent the state in any case pending in the circuit court of his circuit, or if for any reason the governor of the state thinks that the ends of justice would be best subserved by an exchange of state attorneys, the governor may require an exchange of circuits or of courts, in any of the counties of this state between such state attorney and any other state attorney of the state, or may assign any state attorney of the state to the discharge of the duties of state attorney in any circuit of the state, at any regular or special term of the circuit court.

History.—§2, ch. 5399, 1905; RGS 3009; CGL 4743.

27.15 State attorneys to assist in other circuits.—The governor of the state may whenever he deems it expedient to do so, require any state attorney in the state to proceed to any place in the state and to assist the state attorney holding office in the circuit where such place is located in the discharge of any of the duties of such state attorney, and any state attorney in this state, who shall be directed by the governor to go and assist any other state attorney in the discharge of his duties, shall immediately proceed to the place designated, and then and there assist the state attorney of the circuit in which such place is located in the performance of his duties.

When any state attorney is required to go beyond the limits of his circuit in which he holds office, to comply with the provisions of this section, all expenses while complying with the directions of the governor as herein provided, shall be borne by the state, and shall be paid by the warrant of the comptroller drawn on the requisition of such state attorney, which requisition shall have first been approved by the governor; and to carry out the provisions of this section such sum of money as may be required to pay such expenses is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 8571, 1921; CGL 4744, 4745; §24, ch. 57-1.

27.16 Appointment of acting state attorney.

—Whenever there shall be a vacancy in the office of state attorney in any of the judicial circuits of this state, either by non-appointment or otherwise, or if a state attorney shall not be present at any regular or special term of the court, or being present, shall from any cause be unable to perform the duties of his office, the judge of said circuit court shall have full power to appoint a prosecuting attorney from among the members of the bar, with the consent of the member so appointed, to whom shall be administered an oath to faithfully discharge the duties of state attorney, and who shall have as full and complete authority, and whose acts shall be in all respects as valid as a regularly appointed state attorney. He shall sign all indictments and other documents as "acting state attorney." The power of the said appointee shall cease upon the arrival of the state attorney or the cessation of his inability.

History.—§1, ch. 1726, 1869; §2, ch. 1996, 1874; RS 1354; §1, ch. 4899, 1901; GS 1789; RGS 3019; CGL 4755.

27.17 Compensation of acting state attorney.—The said acting state attorney shall receive for his services the sum of ten dollars per day while in attendance upon the court, which shall be paid out of the appropriation for the payment of state attorneys, and deducted from the salary of the state attorney for whom he acted.

History.—§2, ch. 1726, 1869; §2, ch. 1996, 1874; §2, ch. 4899, 1901; GS 1790; RGS 3020; CGL 4756.

27.18 Assistant to state attorney.—The state attorney, by and with the consent of court, may procure the assistance of any member of the bar when the amount of the state business renders it necessary, either in the grand jury room to advise them upon legal points and framing indictments, or in court to prosecute criminals; but, such assistant shall not be authorized to sign any indictments or administer any oaths, or to perform any other duty except the giving of legal advice, drawing up of indictments, and the prosecuting of criminals in open court. His compensation shall be paid by the state attorney and not by the state.

cf.—§§27.222, 27.223 and 27.231 Salaries of state attorneys and assistant state attorneys; exceptions.

27.19 Assistant state attorneys.—In all judicial circuits of Florida composed of seven or less counties, except the sixth judicial circuit, and the seventh judicial circuit, there shall be one assistant state attorney and in all judicial circuits composed of more than seven counties there shall be two assistant state attorneys. The state attorney and assistant state attorney of the first judicial circuit shall not reside in the same county.

History.—§1, ch. 16784, 1935; CGL 1936 Supp. 4759(1); §1, ch. 24167, 1947; §6, ch. 26727, 1951; §1, ch. 26809, 1951; §1, ch. 57-832.

27.20 Apportionment of assistants.—In the circuits composed of two or more counties the state attorney and the assistant state attorney shall not reside in the same county; provided, however:

(1) In the fourth judicial circuit either the state attorney or the assistant state attorney shall reside in Nassau or Clay county;

(2) In the sixth judicial circuit either the state attorney or the assistant state attorney shall reside in Pasco county;

(3) In the seventh judicial circuit no assistant state attorney may reside in the same county as the state attorney or any other assistant state attorney until there is at least a state attorney or an assistant state attorney residing in each county in said circuit;

(4) In the ninth judicial circuit the apportionment of appointments of the state attorney and the two assistant state attorneys shall conform to the limitation of appointment of circuit judges as determined by the required places of residence of appointees in said circuit;

(5) In the fifth judicial circuit the state attorney and one, but not more than one, assistant state attorney may reside in the same county within the fifth judicial circuit;

(6) In the fifteenth judicial circuit two assistant state attorneys, but no more than two, shall reside in a different county within the fifteenth judicial circuit than the county in which the state attorney resides;

(7) In the eighth judicial circuit the state attorney and either or both of his assistants may reside in the same county.

History.—§2, ch. 16784, 1935; CGL 1936 Supp. 4759(2); §1, ch. 21843 and §1, ch. 22132, 1943; (3) §2, ch. 57-832; (5) n. §1, ch. 59-277; (6) n. §1, ch. 61-526; §1, ch. 63-439.

27.21 Assistants, appointments, terms, in circuits of one hundred ninety-two thousand or less population; exception.—

(1) In all judicial circuits having a population of less than 192,000, according to the last state census, the governor by and with the consent of the senate shall appoint assistant state attorneys, except that in the sixth judicial circuit and the seventh judicial circuit the governor by and with the consent of the senate shall appoint two assistant state attorneys, whose terms of office shall be for four years and who are hereby vested with all the powers and shall discharge all the duties of the state attorney, including the right to sign indictments, information and other documents, which he shall sign as assistant state attorney and when the same are so signed they shall have the same force and effect as if signed by the state attorney. The division of work and duties of such assistant state attorneys shall be under and upon the direction of their respective state attorneys in each judicial circuit, with the consent of the judges of such circuit.

History.—§3, ch. 18784, 1935; CGL 1936 Supp. 4759(3); §§3, 4, ch. 28727, 1951; (1) §3, ch. 57-832; (2) r. §1, ch. 57-831.

27.22 Assistants; appointment, terms, in circuits of more than one hundred ninety-two thousand population.—In all judicial circuits of the state having a total population of more than one hundred ninety-two thousand, according to the last state census, and having four or more circuit judges in said judicial circuit, and wherein one of the counties in said circuit shall have a total population of more than one hundred eighty thousand people, according to the last state census, the governor, by and with the consent of the senate, shall appoint two assistant state attorneys to assist the state attorney of such circuits, and said assistant state attorneys are hereby vested with all the powers and shall discharge all the duties of the state attorney, under his direction. The term of office of said assistant state attorneys shall expire with that of the state attorney. One of such assistant state attorneys shall be a resident of the county having the largest population, and the other assistant state attorney shall be a resident of the county having the next largest population.

History.—§5, ch. 16784, 1935; CGL 1936 Supp. 4759(5); §1, ch. 21695, 1943.

27.222 Salaries, state attorneys and assistant state attorneys.—The salary of the state attorney for each judicial circuit of this state shall be eight thousand four hundred dollars per year, and the salary of each assistant state attorney for each judicial circuit shall be five thousand dollars per year, which salaries shall be paid in equal monthly installments by the state treasurer on warrants issued by the state comptroller; provided, however, that nothing contained in this section shall be construed to reduce the salary of any state attorney or assistant state attorney nor to affect, amend or repeal any law of this state not particularly mentioned in this section providing for salaries of state attorneys or assistant state attorneys in excess of the salaries herein provided.

History.—§1, ch. 29891, 1955.

27.223 Salaries of state attorneys and assistant state attorneys.—

(1) The salary of the state attorney for each judicial circuit of the state shall be ten thousand five hundred dollars per year, and the salary of each assistant state attorney for each judicial circuit shall be six thousand five hundred dollars per year, which salaries shall be paid in equal monthly instalments by the state treasurer on warrants issued by the state comptroller; provided, however, that nothing contained in this section shall be construed to reduce the salary of any state attorney or assistant state attorney nor to affect, amend or repeal any law of this state not particularly mentioned in this section providing for salaries of state attorneys or assistant state attorneys in excess of the salaries herein provided.

(2) The provisions of this section shall apply to the third judicial circuit in lieu of any local laws concerning salaries of states attorney or assistants, passed during the regular session of 1957.

History.—§§1, 1A, ch. 57-376.

27.231 Same; additional exceptions.—

(1) In each judicial circuit of the state, which embraces and includes a county having a population of more than two hundred sixty thousand, according to the last preceding state census, the salary of the state attorney for such judicial circuit shall be ten thousand dollars per annum, payable in equal monthly installments by the state treasurer on warrants issued by the state comptroller.

(2) The salary of each of the assistant state attorneys, for such judicial circuits, shall be seven thousand five hundred dollars per annum, excepting in such judicial circuits having, embracing and including more than one county, the assistant state attorney residing and domiciled in the county having the smallest population shall receive a salary of six thousand dollars per annum. The salary of each assistant state attorney for such judicial circuits shall be payable in equal monthly installments by the state treasurer on warrants to be issued by the state comptroller.

History.—§1, ch. 23640, 1947; §§1, 2, ch. 25225, 1949.

27.24 Fees for conviction.—The state attorney shall receive for a conviction of murder in the first degree, thirty dollars; ten dollars for each conviction in other cases of felony, and five dollars for each conviction in cases of misdemeanor; such fees to be taxed as costs against the person convicted, and to be paid to him by the several sheriffs of the respective counties of such circuit, and said fees shall be paid over by the state attorney to the county depository of the respective counties, to be placed to the fine and forfeiture fund.

cf.—§§29.03, 29.04 Compensation of court reporters.

27.271 Per diem, mileage and expenses; state attorneys and assistant state attorneys.—

(1) State attorneys and assistant state attorneys shall receive the per diem and mileage provided by §112.061, for travel on official business within the state, whether such travel be in their home counties or within their judicial circuits or without their judicial circuits, but this section shall not be construed to allow mileage or per diem for travel between their homes and the courthouses of the counties in which they reside or per diem for time spent at the county seats of the counties in which they reside.

(2) State attorneys and assistant state attorneys shall receive the per diem and mileage provided by §112.061, for travel on official business outside of the state where the governor either authorizes such travel or approves the expense accounts therefor.

(3) State attorneys and assistant state attorneys shall be reimbursed for all necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their official duties for stationery, stamps, the printing of necessary legal forms, and telephone and telegraph service.

(4) The foregoing items of expense shall be paid to the state attorneys and assistant state attorneys entitled thereto as provided in §112.061.

History.—§§1-4, ch. 29951, 1955; (4) §19, ch. 63-400.

27.29 Appointment and salary of additional assistant in fourteenth judicial circuit.—

(1) The governor shall appoint one additional assistant state attorney for the fourteenth judicial circuit. Such additional assistant state attorney shall be appointed from a different county of residence from the state attorney and from a different county of residence of any other assistant state attorney, so that none of the foregoing officers shall reside within the same county of the fourteenth judicial circuit and, hereafter, the state attorney and any assistant state attorneys respectively, shall each separately reside within different counties of the fourteenth judicial circuit.

(2) The additional assistant state attorney provided for by this section is vested with all the powers, duties, and responsibilities of the office of the state attorney, which he shall exercise under the supervision of the state attorney for the fourteenth judicial circuit.

(3) The salary of such assistant state attorney shall be equal to that received by other assistant state attorneys for the fourteenth judicial circuit.

(4) The term of office of the assistant state attorney provided for by this section together with the terms of office of all other assistant state attorneys of the fourteenth judicial circuit shall expire with the term of office of the state attorney for the fourteenth judicial circuit.

(5) Nothing in this section shall be construed to extend or diminish the terms of office of any assistant state attorneys now holding office within the fourteenth judicial circuit.

History.—§§1-5, ch. 57-737.

27.30 Appointment and salary of additional assistant state attorneys in fifth judicial circuit.—

(1) The governor shall appoint two additional assistant state attorneys for the fifth judicial circuit; provided however, that one such assistant state attorney shall be appointed from either Hernando, Citrus or Sumter county and shall reside in either of the said counties; provided further however, that no assistant state attorney appointed from Hernando, Citrus or Sumter county may reside in the same county in which a circuit judge resides.

(2) The additional assistant state attorneys provided for by this section are vested with all the powers, duties, and responsibilities of the office of the state attorney, which each shall exercise under the supervision of the state attorney for the fifth judicial circuit.

(3) The salary of such assistant state attorneys shall be equal to that received by other assistant state attorneys for the fifth judicial circuit.

(4) The term of office of the assistant state attorneys provided for by this section together with the terms of office of all other assistant state attorneys of the fifth judicial circuit shall expire with the term of office of the state attorney for the fifth judicial circuit.

(5) Nothing in this section shall be construed to extend or diminish the terms of office of any assistant state attorneys now holding office within the fifth judicial circuit.

History.—§§1-5, ch. 57-839; §1, ch. 59-276.

27.31 Appointment, salary, term of office of additional assistant, term of other assistant, eighth judicial circuit.—

(1) The governor shall appoint one additional assistant state attorney for the eighth judicial circuit of Florida.

(2) The additional assistant state attorney provided for by this act is vested with all the powers, duties and responsibilities of the office of the state attorney of said eighth judicial circuit, which he shall exercise under the supervision of said state attorney.

(3) The salary of such additional assistant state attorney shall be equal to that received by the other assistant state attorney for the eighth judicial circuit and shall be paid in equal monthly installments by the state treasurer upon warrants issued by the state comptroller.

(4) The term of office of such additional assistant state attorney shall always expire with the term of office of the state attorney for the eighth judicial circuit.

(5) After the expiration of the term of office being served by the assistant state attorney now holding office in said judicial circuit, all future terms of said office shall expire with the terms of office of the state attorney for said judicial circuit.

History.—§§1-5, ch. 57-1996.

27.32 Ninth judicial circuit; additional assistants; terms; salaries.—

(1) The governor shall appoint two additional assistant state attorneys for the ninth judicial circuit of Florida, one of whom shall be for division A and the other for division C, and each of whom shall reside in his respective division.

(2) The additional assistant state attorneys provided for by this act are vested with all the powers, duties and responsibilities of the office of the state attorney of said ninth judicial circuit, which they shall exercise under the supervision of the state attorney.

(3) The salary of the additional assistant state attorneys shall be equal to that received by the other assistant state attorneys for the ninth judicial circuit and shall be paid in equal monthly installments by the state treasurer upon warrants issued by the state comptroller.

(4) The term of office of each additional assistant state attorney shall always expire with the term of office of the state attorney for the ninth judicial circuit.

History.—§1, ch. 63-516.

27.33 Submission of annual budget.—

(1) On or before November 15, biennially, prior to the meeting of the legislature, each state attorney shall submit to the state budget director a written report containing an estimate in itemized form showing the amount needed for operational expenses for the two years beginning July 1, thereafter. Each such estimate shall itemize the expenditures required for the state attorney submitting it and for his assistants, as follows:

- (a) Salary of state attorney.
 - (b) Salaries of assistant state attorneys.
 - (c) Salaries of stenographers.
 - (d) Salaries and travel expenses of investigators.
 - (e) Travel expenses of state attorney and assistant state attorneys.
 - (f) Office equipment.
 - (g) Stationery, stamps, telephone and telegraph service, and the printing of necessary legal forms.
 - (h) Other necessary expenses of state attorney and his assistants.
 - (i) Reserve for contingencies.
- (2) The form of such reports shall be prescribed by the budget director and shall be as nearly uniform as may be.
- (3) No such report shall include any amount for any expense which is required by statute to be paid from county funds.
- (4) Each state attorney shall forthwith submit to the state budget director a written report containing an estimate in itemized form showing the amount needed for operational expenses for himself and for his assistants for the two years beginning July 1, 1963, which report shall be itemized in the manner required by subsections (1) through (3) for subsequent reports, and the state budget commission is hereby authorized to consider all such reports and make its recommendations with respect thereto to the legislature during its current session.

(5) After this act takes effect as law, all of the provisions of chapter 216, which relate to the budgets and expenses of state officers shall be applicable to state attorneys and their budgets and expenses.

History.—§§1-3, ch. 63-440.

PART II

PUBLIC DEFENDER; POWERS, DUTIES, ETC.

- 27.50 Public defender; qualifications; election.
- 27.51 Duties of public defender.
- 27.52 Determination of insolvency.
- 27.53 Appointment of assistants and other staff; method of payment.
- 27.54 Expenditures for public defender's office.

27.50 Public defender; qualifications; election.—There shall be a public defender, who shall be a member of the Florida bar in good standing, for each of the judicial circuits. The public defender shall be elected at the general election by the qualified electors of their respective judicial circuits as other state officials are elected and shall serve for a term of four years.

The governor shall make an interim appointment until such general election; provided, however, in those counties of the state having a public defender appointed pursuant to legislation passed prior to July 1, 1963, preference for

- 27.55 Compensation of public defender in newly created circuit.
- 27.56 Assistance; claim against recipient's estate.
- 27.57 Reports.
- 27.58 Existing laws.

the initial interim appointment shall be given to such public defenders as the public defender for the circuit embracing such counties.

History.—§1, ch. 63-409.

27.51 Duties of public defender.—

(1) The public defender shall represent any person who is determined to be insolvent as provided in this act, who is under arrest for, or is charged with, a noncapital felony if such person requests it or if the court, on its own motion, so orders and such person does not knowingly, understandingly, and intelligently waive the opportunity to be so represented. The clerk of the court conducting such proceedings is directed to make such proceedings a matter of record.

(2) The public defender may, with the consent of the trial court, but without compensation by the state, accept the voluntary services of members of the Florida bar in good standing in the defense of an insolvent person.

(3) The public defender shall give priority and preference to his duties under the provisions of this act and may engage in the private practice of law only to the extent that it will not interfere with or prevent performance of his duties as public defender and shall not otherwise engage in the practice of criminal law.

History.—§2, ch. 63-409.

27.52 Determination of insolvency.—

(1) The determination of insolvency of any accused person shall be made by the court and may be done at any stage of the proceedings. The public defender shall be allowed process of the court to summon witnesses to testify before the court concerning the financial ability of any accused person to employ counsel for his own defense.

(2) If the trial court shall determine and adjudge, within one year after the determination of insolvency, that any accused was erroneously or improperly determined to be insolvent the state attorney may, in the name of the state, proceed against such accused for the reasonable value of the services rendered to the accused and including all costs paid by the state or county in his behalf. Any amount recovered shall be deposited in the general revenue fund to the account from which the expenses of the office of public defender are paid.

History.—§3, ch. 63-409.

27.53 Appointment of assistants and other staff; method of payment.—

(1) The public defender may also hire assistant public defenders, investigators, secretaries, and other clerical help as funds available may permit and as otherwise provided by law. Each of the counties of this state is empowered to expend moneys in furtherance of the provisions of this act.

(2) In addition, any member of the bar in good standing may register his or her availability with the public defender of each judicial circuit for acceptance of special assignments without salary to represent insolvent defendants. Such persons shall be listed and referred to as special assistant public defenders and may in the discretion of the trial judge be paid a fee; such fee shall be fixed by the trial judge and shall be paid in the same manner as counsel fees are paid in capital cases or as otherwise provided by law. In addition, defense counsel may be assigned and paid pursuant to any existing or future local act or general act of local application.

History.—§4, ch. 63-409.

27.54 Expenditures for public defender's office.—All payments for the salary of the public defender and the necessary expenses of his office, including salaries of his deputies, assistants and staff, shall be considered as being for a valid public purpose. The salary and necessary travel expenses of the public defender as provided in §112.061, shall be paid from state funds as appropriated by the legislature.

History.—§5, ch. 63-409.

27.55 Compensation of public defender in newly created circuit.—In the event new judicial circuits are created, the budget commission is authorized to release the necessary moneys for the payment of the salary of the public defender in such newly created circuit in an amount not to exceed the annual salary paid to the public defender in the judicial circuit of which the new circuit was formerly a part; provided, further, that if there is an assistant public defender in the pre-existing circuit such position shall be abolished upon the creation of the new judicial circuit.

History.—§2, ch. 63-410.

27.56 Assistance; claim against recipient's estate.—There is hereby created a lien, enforceable as hereinafter provided, upon all the property, both real and personal, of any person who is receiving or has received any assistance from any public defender of the state. Such assistance shall constitute a claim against the applicant and his estate, enforceable according to law in an amount to be determined by the court in which such assistance was rendered. Immediately after such assistance is rendered and upon determination of the value thereof by the court, a statement of claim showing the name and residence of the recipient shall be filed for record in the office of the clerk of the circuit court in the county where the recipient resides and in each county in which such recipient then owns or later acquires any property. Said liens shall be enforced on behalf of the state by the several public defenders, and shall be utilized to reimburse the state to defray the costs of the public defender system. The lien herein created shall be a continuing obligation, irrespective of any statute of limitations.

History.—§3, ch. 63-410.

27.57 Reports.—The public defender shall file with the presiding judge of his judicial circuit and with the attorney general of Florida quarterly reports of the activities of his office.

History.—§6, ch. 63-409.

27.58 Existing laws.—This act shall not repeal but shall be supplementary to any local law or ordinance heretofore providing for a public defender or assigned defense counsel in any county or counties of the state, and the public defender in such county or counties may continue to operate under such prior act or ordinance to the extent determined by the board of county commissioners thereof; provided, however, that the public defender of each judicial circuit of the state shall be the chief administrator of all public defender services within the circuit whether such services are rendered by the state or county public defenders.

History.—§7, ch. 63-409.

28.17 Verification.—Clerks of the circuit court, judges of probate, and all other officers charged with the duty of recording deeds and other instruments of writing in this state, shall carefully compare the originals of such deeds, mortgages and other instruments of writing with the record of same as made by them on the record books under their charge, in order that any errors committed in such record may be corrected; and after such comparison and correction of the record the said officer shall endorse upon such original document the words, "Record verified," and sign his name thereto.

28.18 Recording discharges of veterans.—

The clerk of the circuit court shall keep a record book for the exclusive purpose of recording certificates of discharge, reports of separation, and certificates of service of all citizens of this state who have heretofore or may hereafter serve with the military or naval forces of the United States, and all such certificates shall be recorded free of any cost whatsoever to the veteran, the clerk receiving from the board of county commissioners the fee prescribed by law therefor.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 7918, 1919; CGL 4859, 4860; §1, ch. 21656, 1943; §1, ch. 28205, 1953; §1, ch. 29749, 1955.

28.19 Fees.—The fees for recording any instrument of writing entitled to record under the laws of this state shall not be payable to any officer who may have recorded the same until he has verified the record and endorsed the original instrument as aforesaid.

Such records shall always be open to the public, under the supervision of the clerk, for the purpose of inspection thereof, and of making extracts therefrom; but the clerk shall not be required to perform any service in connection with such inspection or making of extracts without payment of the compensation fixed by law.

History.—§2, ch. 4139, 1893; GS 1835; RGS 3080; CGL 4863.

28.20 Recording federal liens.—The clerk of the circuit court in each county of this state may file in his office notices of liens for taxes payable to the United States, and certificates discharging, partially discharging or releasing such liens. When such notice is so filed such clerk shall enter the same in an alphabetical federal tax lien index, showing on one line the name and residence of the taxpayer named in such notice, the internal revenue collector's serial number of such notice, the date and hour of filing, and the amount of tax with interest, penalties and costs. The clerk shall file and keep all such original notices so filed in numerical order in a file or files and designated federal tax lien notices. When a certificate of discharge, partial discharge or release of any such tax lien, issued by the collector of internal revenue or other proper officer, is filed in the office of the clerk where the original notice of lien is filed, the clerk shall file such certificate and enter the same with the date of filing in said federal tax lien index on the line where the notice of such lien is entered, and shall permanently attach such certificate to the original notice of such lien.

The purpose of this section is to authorize the filing of notice of liens in accordance with the provisions of the statutes of the United States and any acts or parts of acts amendatory thereto.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 14757, 1931; CGL 1936 Supp. 894(1).

28.21 To keep records and dockets.—The clerk of the circuit court shall keep:

(1) MINUTE BOOKS, in which he shall keep regular and fair minutes of all the proceedings of the circuit court, and of the judge, in term, which shall be signed by the judge before the adjournment of each term;

(2) A PROGRESS DOCKET, in which he shall note the filing by each party to any cause, at common law or in equity, of any appearance, or pleading therein, and of any step taken in the clerk's office in connection with said cause, such noting to be at the time of such filing and of taking such step;

(3) A DEFAULT DOCKET, in which shall be entered in full all defaults and final judgments by default taken in his office;

(4) A JUDGMENT AND EXECUTION DOCKET, in which, respectively, he shall index all judgments rendered, in term time or vacations; and all executions issued thereon, stating therein the names of the parties, the amount of judgment and costs, and the date of rendition of the same, the page of the record upon which it shall have been entered and the date of the issuance of execution.

(5) A CHANCERY ORDER BOOK, in which shall be entered all orders and decrees taken in chancery, including those required to be signed by the judge, exclusively.

(6) A TRIAL DOCKET, which shall be kept in court during all terms thereof while in session, upon which shall be entered, before each term of court: All cases of law triable at that term; all cases of claims to property and alleged illegality of seizures under execution; all cases in equity pending; all writs of error, appeals and certioraris from lower courts pending; all criminal cases; one copy of each trial docket shall be made up for the court and for members of the bar.

(7) A SUBPOENA DOCKET, in which he shall enter the name of each witness in each cause subpoenaed, with the date of the issuance of the subpoena.

(8) A MOTION DOCKET, upon which shall be entered by attorneys all motions to be submitted to the court.

(9) A JUDGMENT ASSIGNMENTS AND SATISFACTION RECORD, in which shall be entered at length all assignments and satisfactions of judgments, decrees or orders rendered or of record in said court. No assignment or satisfaction shall be entered elsewhere than in said book, and any assignment or satisfactions shall, to entitle it to record, be in writing and duly acknowledged in the manner provided for the acknowledgment of deeds. He shall enter a note of the satisfaction on the margin of the record of the judgment, decree or order. No satisfaction by an alleged assignee of a judgment shall be entered until an assignment as hereinbefore provided shall have been produced to the clerk and entered.

(10) A LIS PENDENS DOCKET, in which shall be recorded all notices of lis pendens.

(11) A JUDGMENT LIEN RECORD and record of foreign judgments, in which shall be recorded all certified transcripts of judgments and decrees of the circuit courts and all other courts of this state, and judgments and decrees of the United States district courts held in this state, which may be presented for such record. The date, hour and minute of recording shall be noted at the bottom of such records.

(12) INDEXES, alphabetical, direct and inverse, to all of the foregoing books.

History.—§§9, 59-61, Nov. 18, 1828; §2, Nov. 12, 1834; §1, ch. 4399, 1895; RS 1390; ch. 4399, 1895; GS 1831; §1, ch. 7335, 1917; RGS 3076; CGL 4857, 4865(3); §1, ch. 19270, 1939.

28.22 Record book to be kept.—The circuit court clerk shall be, in the county in which he is clerk, the recorder of deeds and of all other papers not pertaining to the circuit court which he may be required by law to record.

For the purposes of such recording, he shall keep:

(1) A RECORD OF DEEDS, in which he shall record all deeds, and all leases of lands, and all powers of attorney to execute any such instruments, and all agreements relating to conveyance of land which may be in form entitled to record.

(2) A RECORD OF MORTGAGES on real or personal property and powers of attorney, embracing a power to execute mortgages which may be in form entitled to record.

(3) A RECORD OF LIENS, in which he shall record all statutory liens required or permitted to be recorded.

(4) A MORTGAGE AND LIEN ASSIGNMENT BOOK, in which shall be recorded all assignments of mortgages or statutory liens presented to him for record. No assignment shall be entered elsewhere than in such book, and any assignment shall, to entitle it to record, be in writing and duly acknowledged in the manner provided for the acknowledgment of deeds. He shall enter a note of assignment upon the margin of the record of the mortgage or lien.

(5) A MORTGAGE LIEN AND SATISFACTION BOOK, in which shall be recorded satisfaction of mortgages and liens. No such satisfaction shall be entered elsewhere than in such book, and any satisfaction, to entitle it to record, shall be in writing and duly acknowledged in the manner provided for the acknowledgment of deeds. No satisfaction by an alleged assignee of a mortgage or lien debt shall be entered until an assignment as hereinbefore provided shall have been presented to the clerk and entered. He shall enter a note of satisfaction on the margin of the record of the mortgage or lien.

(6) A REGISTER, in which he shall, at the time of filing any instrument for record, enter the names of the parties to such instrument, with the number thereof, under the respective heads of "Grantor" and "Grantee," the kind of instrument and date and hour of filing.

(7) AN INCORPORATION BOOK, in which he shall record all articles of incorporation required by law.

(8) A RECORD OF ARMY AND NAVY DISCHARGES, in which he shall record all certificates of discharges from the army or navy of the United States.

(9) A FEDERAL TAX LIEN INDEX, in which he shall index all federal tax lien notices filed.

(10) A BILL OF SALE AND CHATTEL MORTGAGE BOOK, in which shall be recorded bills of sale, conditional bills of sale, retain title contracts, chattel mortgages and any other instrument affecting the title to personal property. The boards of county commissioners shall furnish the clerk of the circuit court in their respective counties such books as may be necessary for the recording and indexing of the last above mentioned instruments and the clerk shall properly record all such instruments and index the same, both direct and inverse, in the record books provided as aforesaid.

(11) INDEXES, alphabetical, direct and inverse, to all of the foregoing books.

History.—§1391 RS 1892; GS 1832; §2, ch. 7335, 1917; RGS 3077; CGL 4858; §§1, 2, ch. 16079, 1933; CGL 1936 Supp. §§476(1), 4865(1); §1, ch. 19270, 1939.

cf.—§116.08, County commissioners to furnish books.

§319.15 Title certificate, notice of lien.

§319.27 Notation of certificates.

28.221 Same; alternative method.—

(1) In lieu of the separate books now required to be kept by the clerks of the circuit courts for the purpose of recording each kind or class of instrument which they are or hereafter may be required by law to record, said clerks of the circuit courts may record any or all of these instruments in one general series of books to be called "Official Records". The series shall be numbered consecutively beginning with number one.

(2) In lieu of separate indexes for each kind or class of instrument, a general alphabetical index, direct and inverse, to any or all kinds or classes of instruments may be kept by the clerks of the circuit courts.

(3) The recording of instruments in "Official Records" as set forth in subsection (1) imparts notice in like manner and effect as if the instruments were recorded in separate books.

(4) Certified transcripts of judgments and decrees recorded in "Official Records" shall become liens on the real estate of the defendants in the county where the same are recorded in the same manner as if said certified transcripts had been recorded in the judgment lien record.

(5) The recording of all judgments heretofore made under §28.221, is hereby validated and confirmed and they are hereby declared to be liens on the real property of the defendants in the counties where the same are recorded in the same manner as if certified transcripts thereof had been recorded in the judgment lien record.

(6) The clerk of the circuit court may make notations of mortgage assignments and satisfactions on the margin of the record of the mortgage or lien satisfied or assigned.

History.—§§1-4, ch. 28033, 1953; (5) n. §1, ch. 29995, 1955; (6) n. §1, ch. 61-383.

28.23 Two sets of indexes in certain cases.—When furnished by the board of county commissioners, the clerk of the circuit court shall keep two sets of books of index in and for his county; one of which sets shall refer to lands which have been platted, the other to lands which have not been platted. In the direct index the books shall embrace, at least, the following features, and should be so ruled: Grantor, grantee, consideration, instrument, date of filing, where recorded, volume, page, brief abstract of description. Upon the requisition of said clerk, the board of county commissioners, if they deem it advisable, shall furnish the necessary books. Whenever deemed advisable, the board of county commissioners shall have the books indexed to date as is indicated herein, or in a manner similar thereto. In the direct index, the names of the grantors shall be arranged alphabetically. In the inverse index, the names of the grantees shall be indexed alphabetically and made to contain only the names of the grantees and grantors.

28.241 Filing fee for trial and appellate proceedings.—

(1) The party instituting any civil action, suit or proceeding in the circuit court shall pay to the clerk of said court a fee of twelve dollars in all cases where there are not more than five defendants, and an additional fee of twenty-five cents for each defendant in excess of five. An additional fee of five dollars shall be paid by the party seeking each severance that is granted. Fees in excess of those herein fixed may be imposed by special or local law, and such excess, together with not more than twenty per cent of the fees herein fixed, shall be expended as provided by any special or local law, now or hereafter in force, in providing and maintaining facilities, including a law library, for the use of the courts of the county wherein the fees are collected. Postal charges incurred by the clerk of the circuit court in making service by certified or registered mail on defendants or other parties in excess of two shall be paid by the party at whose instance the same is served. That part of the within fixed or allowable fees as is not by local or special law applied to the special purposes herein specified shall constitute the total fees of the clerk of said court for all services performed by him in civil actions, suits or proceedings.

(2) The clerk of the circuit court of any such county in the state shall be paid as fees for all services to be performed by him in any criminal action or proceeding in said court in lieu of all other fees heretofore charged, except as hereinafter provided, the sum of ten dollars for each defendant; provided, however, that in cases involving capital punishment the fee shall be fifteen dollars. Except, in any county where a law creates a law library fund or other special fund this fee may be increased for the purpose.

(3) Upon the institution of any appellate proceeding from any inferior court to the circuit court of any such county, or from the circuit court to the supreme court of the state, there shall be charged and collected by the clerk from the party or parties instituting such appellate proceedings, in lieu of all other fees heretofore charged, except as hereinafter provided, the sum of three dollars and fifty cents.

(4) All laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of subsection (1) of this section are hereby repealed.

(5) Nothing in this section shall be construed to include the fees of the clerk for preparing or verifying transcript of record in appellate proceedings, or for furnishing copies of any record or paper, or for receiving into and paying out moneys from the registry of the court, or for recording any certified transcripts of judgments in the judgment lien record as required by §55.10, or fees for holding mortgage foreclosure sales under §702.02(2).

(6) This section shall not apply to any suit or proceeding pending on the day it goes into effect.

History.—§§3-9, ch. 26931, 1951; §§3-5, ch. 29749, §(7)r. §8, ch. 29749, 1955; (1), (4) §§1, 2, ch. 57-322; (1) §1, ch. 63-47; (5) §1, ch. 63-43.

28.25 Compensation as clerk of board of county commissioners.—The compensation of the clerk of the circuit court as clerk of the board of county commissioners shall be fixed by the said board of county commissioners, and upon a basis proportionate to the compensation allowed by law for other services.

History.—§1, ch. 1882, 1872; RS 1395; §1, ch. 4909, 1901; GS 1840; RGS 3085; CGL 4868.

28.26 To keep record of criminals.—The clerk of the circuit court shall provide a book in which the names of all persons convicted of crimes in any of the courts of the county having criminal jurisdiction shall be properly recorded, with a statement of the crime for which conviction was had. Such book shall be properly indexed, with the names recorded therein, for easy reference of all persons concerned.

History.—§1, ch. 3726, 1887; RS 2798; GS 3848; RGS 5943; CGL 8209.

28.27 Clerks and justices to certify names of convicts to circuit clerk.—The clerks of all other courts in the county, having criminal jurisdiction, or the county judge or justice of the peace, shall certify to the clerk of the circuit court the names of all persons convicted of crimes in their respective courts, with a statement of the crime for which conviction was had, within twenty days after the date of conviction.

History.—§2799, RS 1892; GS 3849; RGS 5944; CGL 8210.

28.28 Recording certified copies of petitions in bankruptcy.—A certified copy of a petition, with schedules omitted, commencing a proceeding under the Bankruptcy Act of the United States, or of the decree of adjudication in such proceeding, or of the order approving the bond of the trustee appointed in such proceeding, may be filed, indexed and recorded in the office of the clerk of the circuit court in the same manner as deeds. It shall be the duty of the clerk of the circuit court to file, index under the name of the bankrupt, and record such certified copies filed for record in the same manner as deeds, for which services he shall be entitled to the same fees as are provided by law for filing, indexing and recording deeds.

History.—§1, ch. 20227, 1941.

28.29 Written orders, judgments, or decrees not to be recorded.—

(1) No written order, judgment or decree, except an order of dismissal, a final judgment or a final decree, in any action at law or suit in equity in any of the several courts of the state, shall be recorded in the minutes of the court or the chancery order book, unless the court, on oral or written motion of any party to the cause, or of its own motion, shall order its recordation. Every order of dismissal, final judgment and final decree shall be recorded.

(2) Orders, judgments and decrees not recorded pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be equally valid as if recorded.

(3) The incorporation in any such written order, judgment or decree, except an order of dismissal, a final judgment or a final decree, or substantially the following words, to wit: "To be recorded," shall be a sufficient compliance with the foregoing adjudication to require such order, judgment or decree to be recorded.

History.—§1-3, ch. 23825, 1947.

28.30 Destruction, photographing, etc., certain records.—

(1) The purpose of §§28.30-28.31 is to make available for the use of the clerks of the circuit court of the several counties of the state sufficient space to enable them to efficiently administer the affairs of office.

(2) The clerk of the circuit court of each county of the state is hereby authorized to destroy all vouchers and cancelled warrants as hereinafter provided.

(3) The clerk of the circuit court of each county of the state is hereby authorized, in his discretion, to destroy all vouchers and cancelled warrants which are over five years old and after audit of his office by the state auditing department has been completed for the period embracing the dates of said instruments.

(4) Each clerk of the circuit court is authorized to photograph, microphotograph or reproduce on film such of the vouchers and cancelled warrants as he, in his discretion, may select, and photographs, microphotographs or other reproductions on film shall be admissible in evidence with the same force and effect as the originals. Duly certified or authenticated reproductions of such photographs, microphotographs or other reproduction on film shall be admitted in evidence equally with the original photographs, microphotographs or other reproductions on film.

History.—§§1-4, ch. 25433, 1949.

28.31 Notice to county commissioners of intent to destroy; approval of board.—The clerk of the circuit court shall notify the board of county commissioners of his county in writing a reasonable time in advance of his intention to destroy such records and if for any reason the board of county commissioners of such county shall request the clerk to withhold destruction of such records the clerk shall refrain until such time as he obtains approval of such board.

History.—§5, ch. 25433, 1949.

28.32 Destruction of certain instruments.—After the expiration of twenty years from the date of the execution of any bond or other instrument held by the clerk of the circuit court or a sheriff of any of the several counties of the state, which said instrument was executed to secure the performance or non-performance of any act or matter and no proceeding of any type is pending involving said instrument any of the several clerks of the circuit courts or sheriffs of the state are hereby authorized, empowered and directed to cancel said instruments and to destroy the same upon making appropriate notation of the destruction and disposition thereof upon any remaining records pertaining thereto.

History.—§1, ch. 25502, 1949.

CHAPTER 29

OFFICIAL COURT REPORTERS

- 29.01 Official court reporter.
- 29.02 Duties of court reporter.
- 29.03 Compensation for services.
- 29.04 Salaries, expenses, etc., of official circuit court reporters.
- 29.05 Transcripts in criminal cases.

29.01 Official court reporter.—There shall be, whenever the presiding judge or judges shall deem it necessary in any judicial circuit in this state, an official court reporter of testimony and proceedings in trials at law in the circuits. Such reporter shall be an efficient reporter, experienced in reporting judicial proceedings, and shall be appointed by the governor upon the recommendation of the circuit judge or judges of the circuit, provided that where by law such reporter is also the official reporter of any criminal court of record in any county in the circuit such recommendation shall be by the judge or judges of said criminal court as well as by the circuit judge or judges. Such reporter when appointed shall hold office during the pleasure of the governor.

History.—§1, ch. 5122, 1903; GS 1844; RGS 3089; §1, ch. 11976, 1927; CGL 4872.

29.02 Duties of court reporter.—The official court reporter shall, upon the request of the presiding judge, or that of the state attorney or defendant, report the testimony and proceedings, with objections made, the ruling of the court, the exceptions taken, and oral or written charges of the court in the trial of any criminal case in the circuit court, and the testimony in any preliminary hearing when so requested by the circuit judge or state attorney of that circuit, and shall report the testimony and proceedings with objections made, the rulings of the court, the exceptions taken, and oral or written charges of the court in the trial of any civil case in said court upon the demand or request of the attorney for either party.

History.—§2, ch. 5122, 1903; GS 1845; RGS 3090; §2, ch. 11976, 1927; CGL 4873.

29.03 Compensation for services.—The official circuit court reporter shall be entitled to receive for each day or fraction of a day in which such reporter shall be engaged in reporting testimony and proceedings in any civil case not less than ten dollars a day, nor less than ten dollars in any one case, for each day or fraction of a day in which such reporter shall be engaged; and said reporter shall also, when ordered by either party in a criminal case or by the presiding judge report the arguments of counsel arguing the facts to the jury, and shall receive as compensation therefor not less than ten dollars for reporting each such argument. Such reporter shall receive for each typewritten transcript of his notes of the testimony and proceedings taken at the trial of any civil or criminal cause, and furnished on demand of either party to the suit for which the testimony and proceedings are taken, the amount of fifty cents per page for the original and the amount

- 29.06 Transcript prima facie evidence.
- 29.07 Special court reporter.
- 29.08 Appointment of deputies.
- 29.09 Women eligible as court reporters.
- 29.10 Assistant court reporters, first judicial circuit.

of twenty-five cents per page for each carbon copy thereof; and each such transcript page shall consist of not less than twenty-five lines of double-spaced pica typing. Such reporter shall receive the same fees as provided in this section when rendering similar service in criminal or other courts of this state. There shall be no more official circuit court reporters in each judicial circuit than there are circuit judges therein.

History.—§3, ch. 5122, 1903; GS 1846; RGS 3091; §3, ch. 11976, 1927; CGL 4874; §1, ch. 28275, 1953.

29.04 Salaries, expenses, etc., of official circuit court reporters.—

(1) Each official circuit court reporter shall receive an annual salary of three thousand dollars, payable in twelve equal monthly installments by the state treasurer, upon requisition of such court reporter, provided, however, that in counties having a population of more than two hundred thousand inhabitants according to the latest official census the compensation of such court reporters shall be one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum payable in equal monthly installments. Such reporter, when in attendance upon the trial of any cause in any county of his circuit, shall be reimbursed for traveling expenses as provided in §112.061. Said reporter shall at all times be subject to the call and order of the circuit judge to perform any service required by this chapter. No reporter shall report for more than one judicial circuit except in cases where the reporter of such circuit is incapacitated.

(2) The provisions of this section and §29.03 shall not apply to the court reporter in Volusia county, but shall apply to the constitutional court of record of Escambia county.

Subsection (2) held unconstitutional in state ex rel Lynch v. Gay, 72 So. 2d 274 as to court reporter in Volusia county. cf.—§27.25(1)(b) Stenographers authorized to perform court reporter service.

§29.07 Special court reporter.

29.05 Transcripts in criminal cases.—Upon the demand of the state attorney, or the presiding judge in any criminal case, or the defendant within the time allowed for taking an appeal and for the purpose of taking an appeal in a criminal case, such reporter shall furnish with reasonable diligence a typewritten transcript of the testimony and proceedings, together with the charges of the court, and shall receive therefor the same fees for such transcript as provided in §29.03, and the costs for same shall be taxed as costs in the case.

History.—§4, ch. 5122, 1903; RGS 3092; §5, ch. 11976, 1927; CGL 4876; §1, ch. 57-223.

29.06 Transcript prima facie evidence.—The report of such official stenographer, when written out in long-hand writing or printed in type and certified to by him as being a correct transcript of the testimony and proceedings in the case, shall be prima facie a correct statement of such testimony and proceedings; provided, that his signature to such certificate be duly acknowledged by him before a notary public or some judicial official of this state.

History.—§5, ch. 5122, 1903; GS 1848; RGS 3093; CGL 4877.

29.07 Special court reporter.—In case any official reporter shall not have been appointed in any circuit, or where the official reporter is disqualified or unable to perform his duties, it shall be within the discretion of the judge to appoint a special reporter in any case, civil or criminal, upon demand of any of the parties therefor; said special reporter shall perform the same services and receive the same pay in the same manner as the official reporter.

History.—§1850 GS 1906; RGS 3095; CGL 4879.

29.08 Appointment of deputies.—Official reporters may appoint one or more deputies. Such deputies shall have the power to perform any duty that the official reporter might perform, but such official reporter shall be responsible for the action of the deputy.

History.—§1851 GS 1906; RGS 3096; CGL 4880.

29.09 Women eligible as court reporters.—Women, filling the requirements of this chapter, shall be eligible for appointment by the governor, as official court reporters.

History.—§6, ch. 5122, 1903; GS 1849; RGS 3094; CGL 4878.

29.10 Assistant court reporters, first judicial circuit.—In the first judicial circuit there shall be four assistant court reporters and one official court reporter to be appointed by the governor upon the recommendation of the circuit judge or judges of the county in which there is a vacancy in the office of court reporter or assistant court reporter and when appointed such reporters shall hold office during the pleasure of the governor.

Whenever the official court reporter shall reside in the largest county of the circuit one assistant court reporter shall also reside in such county. Whenever the official court reporter shall not reside in the largest county of the circuit two assistant court reporters shall reside in the largest county of the circuit. The official court reporter when residing in the largest county of the circuit shall be a secretary of the circuit judge or judges residing in said county. The assistant court reporters shall work under the supervision of the official court reporter and the direction of the circuit judge or judges. When the official court reporter shall not reside in the largest county in the circuit the assistant court reporter having the longest period of continuous service in the circuit and residing in the largest county shall be a secretary of such circuit judge or judges residing in said county. Of the court reporters hereinabove provided for, there shall be a court reporter resident in each of the remaining three counties of said circuit who shall also serve as a secretary to the circuit judge or judges residing in each such county. The compensation of the assistant court reporters and the official court reporter shall be the same and shall be paid at the same time and in the same manner.

30.06 Liability of sureties.—The sureties shall be liable for all fines and amercements imposed upon the principal, or sheriff.

History.—§4, ch. 987, 1859; RS 1240; GS 1669; RGS 2874; CGL 4571; §1, ch. 20719, 1941.

30.07 Deputy sheriffs.—Sheriffs may appoint deputies to act under them who shall have the same power as the sheriff appointing them, and for the neglect and default of whom in the execution of their office the sheriff shall be responsible.

History.—§4, ch. 1659, 1868; RS 1247; GS 1675; RGS 2881; CGL 4578.

30.08 Name and address of deputy to be filed.—The name and number of the voting precinct of each deputy sheriff, appointed by the sheriff, shall be filed with the board of county commissioners, at their first regular meeting after such appointment, and the same shall become a part of the minutes of said board of county commissioners.

History.—§1, ch. 6209, 1911; RGS 2882; CGL 4579; §1, ch. 22790, 1945.

30.09 Qualification of deputies; special deputies.—

(1) BOND, SURETIES, PERFORMANCE OF SERVICES.—Each deputy sheriff, appointed as aforesaid, shall be required to give bond in the penal sum of one thousand dollars, payable to the governor of Florida and his successors in office, with two or more good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the board of county commissioners and filed with the clerk of the circuit court, which bond shall be conditioned upon the faithful performance of the duties of his office. No deputy sheriff shall be allowed to perform any services as such deputy until he shall subscribe to the oath now prescribed for sheriffs and until the approval of his bond. The aforesaid sureties shall be liable for all fines and amercements imposed upon their principal.

(2) SURETY COMPANIES.—The requisite of two sureties and justification of same shall not apply where surety is by a solvent surety company authorized to do business in this state.

(3) LIABILITY OF SHERIFF.—The giving of said bond by said deputy shall not in any manner relieve the sheriff of the liability for the acts of his deputies.

(4) EXCEPTIONS.—The provisions of this section, and of §30.08, shall not apply to the appointment of special deputy sheriffs when appointed by the sheriff, under the following circumstances:

(a) On election days, to attend elections;
(b) To perform undercover investigative work;

(c) For specific guard or police duties in connection with public sporting or entertainment events, not to exceed thirty days; or, for watchman or guard duties, when serving in such capacity at specified locations or areas only.

(d) For special and temporary duties, without power of arrest, in connection with guarding or transporting prisoners;

(e) To aid in preserving law and order, or to render necessary assistance in the event of any threatened or actual hurricane, fire, flood, or other natural disasters, or in the event of any major tragedy such as an airplane crash, train or automobile wreck, or similar accident;

(f) To raise the power of the county, by calling bystanders or others, to assist in quelling a riot or any breach of the peace, when ordered by the sheriff or an authorized general deputy.

(g) The appointment of any such special deputy sheriff shall be recorded in a register maintained for such purpose in the sheriff's office, showing the terms and circumstances of such appointment.

(5) REMOVAL FOR VIOLATION.—A violation of this section shall subject the offender to removal by the governor.

History.—§§1-4, 6, ch. 6478, 1913; RGS 2883; CGL 4580; §2, ch. 22790, 1945; (4) by §1, ch. 57-93.

30.10 Place of office.—The place of office of every sheriff shall be at the county seat of the county.

History.—§3, Feb. 12, 1834; RS 1248; GS 1676; RGS 2884; CGL 4581.

30.11 Place of residence.—The sheriff, or his deputy, shall reside at the county seat or within two miles thereof.

History.—§1, ch. 1851, 1871; RS 1249; GS 1677; RGS 2885; CGL 4582.

30.12 Power to appoint sheriff, etc.—Whenever any sheriff in the state shall fail to attend in person, or by deputy, any term of the circuit court, court of record, civil court of record, county court or criminal court of his county, from sickness, death or other cause, the judge attending said court may appoint a sheriff, who shall assume all the responsibilities, perform all the duties, and receive the same compensation as if he had been duly appointed sheriff, for said term of court and no longer.

cf.—§47.12, Process; by whom served.

30.13 Disposition of papers, etc., of deceased sheriff.—Whenever any sheriff shall die, his executors, administrators or other representatives shall hand over to his successor in office, taking a receipt for the same, all the papers in the possession of and belonging to such decedent as sheriff; and if in any case, a successor should not be qualified in due time to serve or execute the process of the court, the deputy of such deceased sheriff, if there should be one, or some other person, shall be employed by an order from the judge of the circuit court to receive from the representatives of the decedent and execute all process which remained in his possession at the time of his decease.

cf.—§28.32, Destruction of certain instruments.

30.14 Expiration of term.—The sheriff shall, at the expiration of his term of office, turn over to his successor by schedule (taking a receipt for the same) all such writs and processes as shall remain in his hands unexecuted, and his successor in office shall duly execute and return the same; and in case any sheriff shall neglect or refuse to turn over such process in manner aforesaid, every such sheriff so neglecting or refusing, and his sureties, shall be liable to make such satisfaction by damage and costs to the party aggrieved as he shall sustain by reason of such neglect or refusal; and the succeeding sheriff shall sell and carry into effect any levy made by any predecessor in office in like manner as the former sheriff could have done had he continued therein, and shall make titles to the purchaser for all the property sold under execution or other process and not conveyed by any predecessor.

History.—§16, Nov. 23, 1828; RS 1254; GS 1682; RGS 2890; CGL 4587; §7, ch. 22858, 1945.

30.15 Powers, duties and obligations.—Sheriffs, in their respective counties, in person or by deputy, shall:

(1) Execute all process of the supreme court, circuit courts, courts of record, civil courts of record, county courts, criminal courts and boards of county commissioners, of this state, to be executed in their counties;

(2) Execute such process of the county judges' courts and justice of the peace courts, as may come to their hands to be served in their counties; and,

(3) Execute such other writs, processes, warrants and other papers directed to them, as may come to their hands to be executed in their counties.

(4) Attend all terms of the circuit court, court of record, civil court of record, county court, criminal court and county judge's court held in their counties; and,

(5) Attend all meetings, and execute all orders, of the boards of county commissioners of their counties; for which services they shall receive such compensation, out of the county treasury, as said boards may deem proper.

(6) Be conservators of the peace in their counties.

(7) Suppress tumults, riots and unlawful assemblies in their counties with force and strong hand when necessary.

(8) Apprehend, without warrant, any person disturbing the peace, and carry him before the proper judicial officer, that further proceedings may be had against him according to law.

(9) Have authority to raise the power of the county and command any person to assist them, when necessary, in the execution of the duties of their office; and, whoever, not being physically incompetent, refuses or neglects to render such assistance, shall be punished by imprisonment in jail not exceeding one year, or by fine not exceeding five hundred dollars.

(10) Be, ex officio, timber agents for their counties.

(11) Perform such other duties as may be imposed upon them by law.

Note.—Formerly §§144.01, 144.02, 144.03, 30.16.

30.17 To keep an execution docket.—The sheriff shall keep an execution docket, which shall contain a list of all executions, orders and decrees directed to him, in relation to the collection of moneys, and a statement of all moneys credited on such orders, executions and decrees, and when and to whom and by whom paid.

Said docket shall be laid before the court at each term, and be subject to the inspection of all parties interested.

His failure to keep said docket, to lay it before the court or to allow inspection of the same, shall be considered a contempt of court, and subject him to a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, at the discretion of the court.

History.—§§1-3, ch. 1553, 1866; RS 1245; GS 1673; RGS 2878; CGL 4575.

30.19 Failure to execute process.—Every sheriff or deputy failing to execute any writ or other process, civil or criminal, to him legally issued and directed within his county and make due return thereof, where such process shall be delivered to him in time for execution, shall forfeit one hundred dollars for each neglect, to be paid to the party aggrieved, by the order of the court, upon motion and proof of such delivery, unless such sheriff or deputy can show sufficient cause for such failure or neglect to the court.

History.—§1, ch. 907, 1859; RS 1250; GS 1678; RGS 2886; CGL 4583.

30.20 False return.—For every false return, the sheriff shall forfeit and pay five hundred dollars, one moiety thereof to the party aggrieved, and the other moiety to him who will sue for the same, to be recovered with costs by action of debt; and the said sheriff shall be further liable to an action of the party aggrieved.

History.—§2, ch. 907, 1859; RS 1251; GS 1679; RGS 2887; CGL 4584.

30.21 Failure to pay over money.—If any sheriff shall fail to collect or pay over fines, fees, costs or other moneys adjudged to the state which he shall have been by proper process directed to collect, he shall forfeit his commissions and also be liable to a fine of fifty dollars, to be recovered by motion before the circuit court, after ten days' notice, and his sureties shall also be liable for the amount of such moneys upon his bond as sheriff.

cf.—§28.10 Duties of clerk; reports to comptroller.

30.22 When sheriff may accept service.—Sheriffs, when sued in their official capacity, may accept service, and when so sued with others may serve their codefendants and receive the fees allowed by law, except no fees shall be allowed for acceptance of service.

History.—§1, ch. 4411, 1895; GS 1674; RGS 2879; CGL 4576; §6, ch. 22790, 1945.

30.29 Sheriffs may furnish guard service against sabotage, etc.—

(1) The sheriffs of the respective counties of the state be and they are hereby authorized and empowered to furnish adequate guard service to vital war industries if requested to so do by such industries; provided, such industries reimburse said sheriffs the actual cost of such guard service; that the furnishing of guard service by said sheriffs to vital war industries is and shall be an official act of the various sheriffs and said guards shall be deemed to be in the employ of the various sheriffs as an instrumentality of the state.

(2) Such guards shall be regular or special deputy sheriffs, residents of the state, citizens of the United States, and bonded, with no prior criminal record, and shall be always under the control of the respective sheriffs who employ said guards. All orders to said guards shall emanate from the respective sheriffs; provided, however, that industry shall have the right to supervise said guards and make recommendations in connection with the guarding of its property to said sheriffs.

(3) The term "industry," as used in this section, shall be construed to include any person, firm or corporation engaged, directly or indirectly, in the manufacture or furnishing of any materials, equipment, commodities or services which contribute to the prosecution of the war effort.

(4) The said guards employed by the various sheriffs hereunder shall be acceptable to the particular industry involved at all times and shall receive such pay as is agreeable to the sheriff, industry, and the guard to be employed.

(5) All guards heretofore employed by sheriffs and used in connection with the guarding of industry, shall be deemed to have been employed according to the terms and conditions of this section and the employment by the various sheriffs in this connection is hereby ratified, confirmed and held to be employment in their official capacities as an instrumentality of the state.

(6) The powers given to the various sheriffs of the various counties of this state herein shall not be deemed to be limiting the powers of the sheriffs already existing but shall be deemed to be cumulative.

History.—§§1-5, 7, ch. 21798, 1943.

30.291 Closing of public facilities upon threat of violence.—

(1) The sheriff of any county of the state is hereby authorized to temporarily close any public beach, park or other public recreation facility within his jurisdiction when in his discretion conditions exist which present a clear and present or probable threat of violence, danger or disorder, or at any time a disorderly situation exists which in his opinion warrants such action.

(2) The power of the sheriff in exercising the authority conferred herein shall be full, complete and plenary.

(3) Any public recreation facility closed pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be reopened by the sheriff when the conditions upon which such closing was predicated have abated.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 59-377.

30.30 Writs, process, etc.; duties and liabilities in levying.—

(1) Whenever any writ, issuing out of any court of this state, shall be delivered to a sheriff, commanding him to levy upon property specifically described therein, it shall be his duty to levy upon such property; and, if no property is specifically described, then he shall levy upon any property assessed against the defendant on the current tax rolls of the county or registered in his name under any law of the United States or of the state.

(2) No sheriff shall be liable in damages to anyone whomsoever for making a wrongful levy whenever the same has been made as required under subsection (1).

(3) If the sheriff, in attempting to execute any writ describing specific property, shall find it in the possession of anyone, other than the defendant, who is claiming the ownership or the right to the possession thereof, the sheriff, in his discretion, may require the plaintiff suing out the writ to furnish a bond, payable to such sheriff, in a sum not exceeding the reasonable value of the described property, as fixed by such sheriff, with sureties satisfactory to him conditioned to hold him harmless against liability for any loss or damage that might be sustained by anyone whomsoever by reason of his levying upon such described property, and indemnifying him for any expense (including reasonable attorney's fees) incurred by reason of any such claim.

(4) If the sheriff, in attempting to execute any writ not describing specific property, shall be requested to levy upon any property other than that described in subsection (1), he may require the plaintiff suing out the writ to furnish a bond upon the terms and conditions prescribed in subsection (3).

(5) Whenever a party suing out any writ shall demand that the sheriff levy upon specific property and anyone, other than the defendant, shall claim the ownership or right of possession thereof, the sheriff, at his option, may file a petition in the court out of which the writ issued and procure a rule to issue to the plaintiff and to the party so claiming the property or the right to possession thereof, to show cause why the levy should or should not be made; provided, that if the issue shall involve the titles or boundaries of real estate, the petition shall be filed in the circuit court. The judge of such court, after due notice to all parties in interest, shall determine whether or not such property is subject to levy under the writ. Any party aggrieved by such ruling, including the sheriff, may appeal therefrom, as from a final decree in a chancery cause, and may have a supersedeas upon such terms and conditions as the judge shall fix. In the event the property is ultimately held to be subject to the writ, the plaintiff's writ shall have priority over any writs levied subsequent to the date upon which the plaintiff's writ was delivered to the sheriff.

(6) No sheriff shall be liable for making any levy pursuant to the specific order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

History.—§§1-6, ch. 22019, 1943.

30.31 Fingerprinting persons charged with crime.—

(1) It is the duty of the sheriffs of the state to fingerprint all persons hereafter charged with or convicted of a felony upon so being charged or convicted and to submit such prints to the federal bureau of investigation and the Florida sheriffs bureau. The sheriffs of the state may fingerprint all persons charged with or convicted of any criminal offense when in their opinion it is necessary for the protection of the public.

(2) The sheriffs of the respective counties are hereby required to furnish a copy of all fingerprints made by them to the federal bureau of investigation.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 22047, 1943; (2) §10, ch. 26484, 1951; (1) §1, ch. 63-170.

History.—§4, ch. 3020, 1877; RS 655; GS 996; RGS 1809; CGL 2861; formerly §144.05 tr. §7, ch. 22790, 1945.

30.33 Proceedings on claim to timber.—When timber shall be seized by a timber agent, under the provisions of §30.32, and any person shall claim the same, and that said timber was not cut upon or removed from the public lands of the state, such claimant may file his petition under oath, in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of the county in which the timber is lying, and, upon motion, the judge of the circuit court shall appoint three proper persons to appraise such timber. On return of such appraisal, if the claimant shall, with one or more sureties, to be approved by the judge, execute a bond to the governor and his successors in office, for the payment of a sum equal to the sum at which the timber was appraised, the judge shall order the timber delivered to the claimant, and the bond shall be lodged with the proper officer of the court. At the next term of the circuit court the evidence shall be heard, and if judgment shall pass in favor of the claimant, the court shall order said bond canceled, but if judgment shall pass against the claimant as to the whole or any part of such timber, and the claimant shall not at once pay into the court the amount of the appraised value of such timber, with the costs, judgment shall be granted upon the bond, on motion, in open court, without further delay.

30.34 Certificate of reasonable cause for seizure.—When any claim, on account of the seizure of timber, shall be tried, and judgment shall be given for the claimant, if it shall appear to the court that there was a reasonable cause of seizure, the court shall cause a proper certificate of entry to be made thereof, and in such case the agent who made the seizure shall not be liable to action, suit or judgment, on account of such seizure.

History.—§7, ch. 3020, 1877; RS 657; GS 998; RGS 1811; CGL 2863; formerly §144.07 tr. §9, ch. 22790, 1945.

30.35 Compensation as timber agent.—The sheriff, as timber agent for his county, shall receive, as pay for his services, one-fourth of the net proceeds arising from all seizures, and of all net amounts recovered from trespassers reported by him upon the lands of the state or of any fund of the state.

History.—§3, ch. 3020, 1877; RS 654; GS 995; RGS 1808; CGL 2860; formerly §144.04 tr. §10, ch. 22790, 1945.

30.36 Florida sheriffs' bureau.—There is hereby created the Florida sheriffs' bureau. Said bureau shall be constituted by the governor, as chairman, the attorney general, and five sheriffs of the counties of Florida, to be selected by the governor, each for a term of two years, commencing October 1, 1955; except that three of the first five sheriffs designated October 1, 1955, shall serve terms expiring October 1, 1956, at which time new selections for a regular two year term shall be made. Any vacancy on the bureau shall be filled for the remainder of the unexpired term by selection of the governor. Such additional ex officio duty of said sheriffs in serving on said bureau is hereby declared a dual state and county purpose to more effectively cope with law enforcement problems which are primarily intercounty or statewide in scope.

History.—§1, ch. 29842, 1955.

30.37 Same; general powers and duties.—The bureau shall have the power to recommend cooperative policies for the coordination of the law enforcement work of all state and county agencies and officials having law enforcement duties, in seeking to promote cooperation between all state and local law officers, in securing efficient and effective law enforcement, in eliminating duplication of work, and in promoting economy of operation in such agencies.

History.—§2, ch. 29842, 1955.

30.38 Same; executive secretary.—The bureau shall employ an executive secretary, and such other clerical and technical personnel as are required, at salaries to be fixed by the bureau, to perform such duties as the bureau may prescribe.

History.—§3, ch. 29842, 1955.

30.39 Florida sheriffs' bureau investigators; selection and assignment; authority.—The bureau may select and assign investigative personnel from any state law enforcement agency with the consent of the agency concerned, or from any county law enforcement agencies or officials with the consent of the county agency or county official concerned, or may employ its own personnel to assist it in carrying out the purposes of §§30.36-30.44. Such investigative personnel shall be known as Florida sheriffs' bureau investigators. Under appropriate rules and regulations, and under the supervision of the bureau, any of said investigators may, upon request of the sheriff in any county, investigate crime in such county and shall have authority to bear arms.

History.—§4, ch. 29842, 1955.

30.40 Salaries and expenses of personnel.—All salaries and expenses of personnel of the bureau shall be borne by the state or county law enforcement agency from which the person is selected; provided, however, any state or county law enforcement agency or official may in addition provide from its funds so much of the costs and expenses of the bureau as it deems appropriate; provided further, that if appropriations of state funds are made available to the bureau, the same may be used to defray said salaries and expenses.

History.—§5, ch. 29842, 1955.

30.41 Headquarters; criminal analysis laboratory; miscellaneous powers and duties of bureau.—The bureau shall establish headquarters, may operate and maintain a criminal analysis laboratory, and shall require and obtain monthly reports on crime statistics and other necessary data from all sheriffs and other law enforcement officers of the state, and shall engage in such other activities as will aid law enforcement officers in solving crimes and controlling criminal activity. The secretary of state shall furnish the bureau with proper housing for the operations of the bureau.

History.—§6, ch. 29842, 1955.

30.42 Training of peace officers approved by the bureau.—The bureau either by contract or agreement may authorize any state university in Florida or any other organization to provide training for peace officers, which training shall embrace police techniques in detecting crime, apprehending criminals, securing and preserving evidence. All law enforcement officers selected by the various law enforcement agencies, if their selection is approved by the bureau, shall receive such training free with the exception of actual cost of housing and meals.

History.—§7, ch. 29842, 1955.

30.43 Purchase of equipment and supplies; facilities of other state agencies to be available to bureau.—The bureau shall be governed by all laws regulating the purchase of supplies and equipment as other state agencies, and may enter into contracts with other state agencies to make photographs and photostats, to transmit information by teletype, and to perform the services consonant with the purposes of §§30.36-30.44. It may use without charge the technical personnel and equipment of any state agency.

History.—§8, ch. 29842, 1955.

30.44 Construction of law.—The provisions of §§30.36-30.44 shall be deemed an exercise of state police power for the protection of the welfare, health, peace, safety and morals of the people, and shall be liberally construed.

History.—§9, ch. 29842, 1955.

30.45 Sheriff's fee.—The sheriffs of counties in the state having a population in excess of four hundred seventy-five thousand according to the last official state-wide census shall charge a fixed, non-refundable fee to be paid at the time of filing with the sheriff or constables, documents that are to be served or docketed according to the following schedule:

(1) A fee of three dollars and fifty cents for each defendant to be served in all service of civil process other than witness subpoenas and writs of execution.

(2) A fee of one dollar and fifty cents for each witness subpoena filed for service, and for docketing each writ of execution, regardless of the number of persons involved.

History.—§1, ch. 57-72.

30.46 Sheriffs; motor vehicles color combination; badges; simulation prohibited; penalties.—

(1) The color combination of forest green and white is adopted as the official color for use on the motor vehicles and motorcycles used by the various sheriffs of Florida and their deputies.

(2) For purposes of uniformity and in aid of the recognition of their official identity by the public, a badge in the shape of a five-pointed star with a replica of the great seal of Florida with the map of Florida superimposed thereon inscribed in the center is designated as the official badge to be worn by the sheriffs and deputy sheriffs of all counties of the state.

(3) It shall be unlawful for any person other than the sheriffs of Florida and their deputies, to color or cause to be colored any motor vehicle or motorcycle the same or similar color combination prescribed herein; provided, however, that any municipal police department or other law enforcement agency or any private person or concern using the same or similar color combination as of the date of this act shall be permitted to continue to use such colors until such time as new colors are adopted by such agencies, or private person or concern.

(4) It shall be unlawful for any person other than sheriffs and deputy sheriffs to wear an official sheriff's badge as prescribed herein, or to wear a badge or insignia of such similarity to the official sheriff's badge as to be indistinguishable therefrom at a distance of twenty feet; provided, nothing therein shall be construed to prevent members of any military, fraternal, or similar organization or any other law enforcement officer from wearing any insignia officially adopted or worn prior to the effective date of this section.

(5) Violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of not more than $500 or imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed 6 months, or both such fine and imprisonment.

History.—§§1-5, ch. 57-3.

30.48 Salaries.—

(1) On and after October 1, 1957, each sheriff shall receive for the performance of his official duties as sheriff an annual salary, which shall be due and payable on the first day of the month after the month in which it accrued; provided, that compensation for service in office for a part of a calendar month shall be paid in the proportion that the days served bear to the number of days in that month.

(2) The annual salary of each sheriff shall be fixed by the legislature; provided, however, that until otherwise so fixed, the annual salary of each sheriff shall be equal to the compensation earned by such officer or his predecessor in office and payable to him in the year 1958.

History.—§2, ch. 57-368; (2) §1, ch. 59-216.

30.49 Budgets.—

(1) At the time fixed by law for preparation of the county budget, each sheriff shall certify to the board of county commissioners a proposed budget of expenditures for the carrying out of the powers, duties, and operations of his office for the ensuing fiscal year of the county. The fiscal year of the sheriff shall henceforth commence on October 1 and end on September 30 of each year.

(2) The sheriff shall submit with the proposed budget his sworn certificate, stating that the proposed expenditures are reasonable and necessary for the proper and efficient operation of the office for the ensuing year. Each proposed budget shall show the estimated amounts of all proposed expenditures for operating and equipping the sheriff's office and jail other than construction, repair, or capital improvement of county buildings during the said fiscal year. The expenditures shall be itemized as follows:

- (a) Salary of the sheriff.
- (b) Salaries of deputies and assistants.
- (c) Expenses, other than salaries.
- (d) Equipment.
- (e) Investigations.
- (f) Reserve for contingencies.

The board of county commissioners or the budget commission, as the case may be, may require the sheriff to correct mathematical, mechanical, factual and clerical errors and errors as to form in the proposed budget. No later than August 1 of each year, the said board or commission, as the case may be, may amend, modify, increase or reduce any or all items of expenditure in the proposed budget and, as amended, modified, increased, or reduced, shall approve said budget, giving written notice of their action to the sheriff specifying in such notice the specific items so amended, modified, increased or reduced; the budget shall include the salaries and expenses of the sheriff's office, cost of operation of the county jail, purchase, maintenance and operation of equipment, including patrol cars, radio systems, transporting prisoners, court duties, and all other salaries, expenses, equipment and investigation expenditures of the entire sheriff's office for the previous year. The sheriff, within ten days after receiving written notice of such action by the board or commission (either in person or in his office) may file an appeal to the board of appeals of county officers' budgets, which board is hereby created and which shall be composed of the governor, the state comptroller and the attorney general. Such appeal shall be by petition to such board of appeals, which petition shall set forth the budget proposed by the sheriff and the budget as approved by the board of county commissioners or the budget commission, as the case may be, and shall contain the reasons or grounds for the appeal. Such petition shall be filed with the state comptroller and a copy of said petition shall be served upon the board or commission from whose decision appeal is taken by delivering the same to the chairman or president thereof, or to the clerk of the circuit court. The board of county commissioners or the budget commission, as the case may be, shall have five days from delivery of a copy of any such petition, as above, to file with the board of appeals a reply thereto and shall deliver a copy of such reply to the sheriff.

The board of appeals, within thirty days of the filing of the petition, shall consider the petition and may require a hearing thereon. The board of appeals shall by majority vote, within said thirty days, either: approve the action of the board or commission as to each separate item; or approve the budget as proposed by the sheriff as to each separate item; or amend or modify said budget as to each separate item within the limits of the proposed expenditures and the expenditures as approved by the board of county commissioners or the budget commission, as the case may be. The budget, as approved, amended, or modified by the board of appeals of county officers' budgets, shall be final. The repeal of §§30.47 and 30.54 and amendments to §§30.48(2) and 30.49(3) by chapter 59-216 shall take effect October 1, 1959, provided that budgeting procedures shall be instituted in accordance with existing law.

(4) The board of county commissioners and the budget commission, if there is a budget commission within the county, shall include in the county budget the items of proposed expenditures as set forth in the budget required by this section to be submitted, after the said budget has been reviewed and approved as provided herein; and the said board or commission, as the case may be, shall include the reserve for contingencies provided herein for each budget of the sheriff in the reserve for contingencies in the budget of the appropriate county fund.

(5) The reserve for contingencies in the budget of a sheriff shall be governed by the same provisions governing the amount and use of the reserve for contingencies appropriated in the county budget, except that the reserve for contingency in the budget of the sheriff shall be appropriated upon written request of the sheriff.

(6) The items placed in the budget of the board of county commissioners pursuant to this law shall be subject to the same provisions of law as the county annual budget; provided, that no amendments may be made to the appropriations for the sheriff's office except as requested by the sheriff.

(7) The proposed expenditures in the budget shall be submitted to the board of county commissioners or budget commission, if there is a budget commission within the county, by July 1 each year, except that for 1957, the budget shall be submitted on or before July 15, and the said budget shall be included by the said board or commission, as the case may be, in the budget of either the general fund or the fine and forfeiture fund, or in part of each.

(8) If in the judgment of the sheriff an emergency should arise by reason of which the sheriff would be unable to perform his duties without the expenditure of larger amounts than those provided in the budget, he may apply to the board of county officers' budget appeals for the appropriation of additional amounts. The sheriff shall at the same time deliver a copy of his application to the board of county commissioners, and to the budget commission if there is a budget commission within the county. The board of county officers' budget appeals shall hold a hearing on the application, after due notice to the sheriff and to the boards, and may grant or deny an increase or increases in the appropriations for the sheriff's offices. If any increase is granted, the board of county commissioners, and the budget commission, if there is a budget commission in the county, shall amend accordingly the budget of the appropriate county fund or funds. Such budget shall be brought into balance, if possible, by application of excess receipts in the said county fund or funds. If such excess receipts are not available in sufficient amount, the county fund budget or budgets shall be brought into balance by adding an item of "Vouchers unpaid" in the appropriate amount to the receipts side of the budget, and provision for paying such vouchers shall be made in the budget of the county fund for the next fiscal year.

History.—§3, ch. 57-368; (3) §§3, 4, ch. 59-216.

30.50 Payment of salaries and expenses.—

(1) The sheriff shall requisition and the board of county commissioners shall pay him, at the first meeting in October of each year, and each month thereafter, one-twelfth of the total amount budgeted for the office; provided, that at the first meeting in January of each year, the board shall, at the request of the sheriff, pay one-sixth of the total appropriated, and one-twelfth each month thereafter, which payments shall be not more than the total appropriation. Provided further that any part of the amount budgeted for equipment shall be paid at any time during the year upon the request of the sheriff.

(2) The sheriff shall deposit the county warrant or warrants in his official bank account as provided in §30.51 (3) and draw his own checks thereon in payment of the salaries of himself and his deputies, clerks and employees and the expenses of his office. All salaries paid shall be supported by payrolls, and all expenses paid shall be supported by approved bills; provided, that the sheriff may draw a check to himself for the expense of an investigation, and may note on the voucher only the information that he may consider proper to divulge.

(3) The sheriff may set up a revolving fund for payment in cash of small items. The revolving fund shall be reimbursed from time to time by payment of the vouchers representing the cash payments.

(4) The sheriff shall keep necessary budget accounts and records, and shall charge all paid bills and payrolls to the proper budget accounts. The reserve for contingencies, or any part thereof, may be transferred to any of the budget appropriations, in the discretion of the sheriff. With the approval of the board of county commissioners, or of the budget commission if there is a budget commission in the county, the budget may be amended as provided for county budgets in §129.06(2).

(5) All expenses incurred in the fiscal year for which the budget is made shall be vouchered and charged to the budget for that year, and to carry out this purpose the books may be held open for thirty days after the end of the year.

(6) All unexpended balances at the end of each fiscal year shall be refunded to the board of county commissioners, and deposited to the county fund or funds from which payment was originally made.

History.—§4, ch. 57-368.

30.51 Fees and commissions.—

(1) No bills shall be rendered to the county for any services, nor shall any fees, commissions, or other remuneration for official services as sheriff be paid by the board of county commissioners of any county to the sheriff of the county except as provided by this section. All fees, commissions and other remuneration provided by law for services other than criminal shall be charged by the said sheriff to other authorities and parties doing business with their offices, and shall be paid over to the county as provided in this section.

(2) The fees authorized, or a deposit sufficient to cover them, shall be collected in advance from the party who requests the service; provided, that services may be performed for any governmental agency or unit without advance payment, and the officer shall bill and collect the fees earned from such agency after the service is performed or when the amount due is determined.

(3) Deposits for fees shall be placed in a depository trust account. The officer who receives the deposit shall keep an account with the depositor, and shall withdraw monthly from the deposits the fees earned and shall remit them to the county fund or funds as provided by this section.

(4) Fees or commissions commingled when received with other official collections may be deposited with such other collections in the trust account or accounts and distributed to the county fund or funds at the time that the other collections, with which they were received, are distributed.

(5) All fees, commissions, or other funds collected by the sheriff for services rendered or performed by his office shall be remitted monthly to the county, in the manner prescribed by the state auditor.

(6) No sheriff shall render to another county a bill for service of process in any criminal matter.

History.—§5, ch. 57-368; (6) n. §1, ch. 59-365.

30.52 Handling of public funds.—The sheriff shall keep public funds in his custody, either in his office in an amount not in excess of the burglary, theft, and robbery insurance provided, the cost of which is hereby authorized as an expense of the office, or in a depository in an amount not in excess of the security provided pursuant to §659.24, and the comptroller's regulations. The title of the depository accounts shall include the word "sheriff" and the name of the county, and withdrawals from the accounts shall be made by checks signed by the duly qualified and acting sheriff of the county, or his designated deputy or agent.

History.—§6, ch. 57-368.

30.53 Independence of constitutional officials.—The independence of the sheriffs shall be preserved concerning the purchase of supplies and equipment, selection of personnel, and the hiring, firing, and setting of salaries of such personnel; provided that nothing herein contained shall restrict the establishment or operation of any civil service system or civil service board created pursuant to §34 Art. XVI, of the constitution of Florida, provided, further that nothing contained in §§30.48-30.53 shall be construed to alter, modify or change in any manner any civil service system or board, state or local, now in existence or hereafter established.

History.—§7, ch. 57-368.

30.55 Liability insurance.—

(1) The sheriffs of the counties are hereby authorized in their discretion to secure and provide for insurance to cover liability for damages arising out of claims for false arrests, false imprisonment, false or improper service of process, or other claims growing out of the performance of the duties of the sheriffs or their deputies, or their employees; and to pay the premiums therefor from the funds appropriated and made available for the necessary and regular expenses of the offices without the necessity of specific appropriation or specification of expenses with respect thereto.

(2) In consideration for the premiums for such insurance, it shall be the part of any insurance contract providing such coverage that the insured shall not be entitled to the benefit defense of government immunity in any suit resulting against the sheriff, his deputies or employees, or in any suit brought against the insurers to enforce collection under such contract.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 61-337.

30.56 Release of traffic violator on recognizance or bond; penalty for failure to appear.—In all cases of arrest for traffic violations, by a sheriff or a deputy sheriff the person arrested may in the discretion of such officer be released upon his own recognizance or upon bond provided said officer shall obtain from such person arrested a recognizance or, if deemed necessary, a cash bond or other sufficient security conditioned for his appearance before the proper tribunal of such county to answer the charge for which he has been arrested. Any person so arrested and released on his own recognizance by an officer and given a written summons to appear before the proper tribunal of such county to answer the charge for which he has been arrested, and who shall fail to appear or respond to such summons shall upon conviction therefor be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

History.—§1, ch. 59-97.

CHAPTER 31

CIRCUIT COURT COMMISSIONERS

- 31.01 Court commissioners; appointment.
 31.02 Proceedings.
 31.03 Effect and record of orders.

31.01 Court commissioners; appointment.—Upon the application of two-thirds of the practicing attorneys of any county within this state, to the judge of the circuit court in and for the judicial circuit in which the county represented by said attorneys is located, the judge of said court shall immediately appoint some suitable practicing attorney in said county as court commissioner, whose duties are now and may hereafter be prescribed by law. The appointment of such court commissioner shall be made in writing, signed by the judge, and recorded in the book of minutes of the court in the county where the commissioner resides, and the commissioner must file his oath of office with the clerk of the circuit court of said county.

 cf.—§6, Art. V, Const.

31.02 Proceedings.—Proceedings before a court commissioner shall be in like manner and under the same rules and regulations as are provided by law for such proceedings before a circuit judge. After rendering his decision in writing in any proceeding before him, he shall immediately file all the papers in the case in the clerk's office.

History.—§1566 RS 1892; GS 2029; RGS 3304; CGL 5131.

31.03 Effect and record of orders.—The orders of court commissioners shall be of like force as if allowed by the judge and the same may, on motion, be confirmed, qualified, or set aside by the circuit judge, of which motion such notice must be given as the judge may deem sufficient.

32.01 Criminal courts of record established; jurisdiction; seal; process; rules of procedure, etc.—

(1) There is established in Broward, Dade, Duval, Hillsborough, Monroe, Orange, Palm Beach and Polk counties, Florida, a criminal court of record, as defined in §§1-9, of Art. V, of the state constitution.

(2) The said courts shall have jurisdiction of all criminal cases not capital which shall arise, and which have heretofore arisen and have not been finally determined, in the counties wherein such courts are established.

(3) The said courts shall be courts of record with a seal to be furnished by the board of county commissioners of the counties wherein such courts are established, which seal shall be designated as "The Criminal Court of Record of County, Florida."

(4) The same rules of procedure and process which obtain in the trials of criminal cases in the circuit courts shall obtain in the criminal courts of record, except where otherwise expressly provided by law.

(5) The said courts shall have and exercise the same power in issuing warrants, attachments, summons and other process as may be exercised by the circuit courts in criminal cases.

(6) All process shall run throughout the state and may be executed in the same manner and by the same officers as process of the circuit courts in criminal cases.

History.—§1, ch. 3731, 1887; RS 2815; GS 3865; RGS 5960; CGL 8226; §1, ch. 24107, 1947; §1, ch. 25066, 1949.

cf.—§§1-9, Art. V, Const.

§932.01, Jurisdiction in criminal cases.

32.02 Establishment of court; appointment of officers; transfer of pending cases.—

(1) When there exists a vacancy in the office of judge, clerk, county solicitor or other officer of a criminal court of record, the governor may fill such vacancy by appointment and the person so appointed shall hold office until the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January following the next general election. The establishment of a criminal court of record in any county between general elections shall be deemed to create such vacancies.

(2) All cases pending in other courts of the county wherein a criminal court of record may hereafter be established, of which the said criminal court of record shall be given jurisdiction, shall be transferred by the clerks of such courts or by the judge thereof if there be no clerk, to the clerk of the criminal court of record, transmitting at the same time to said clerk all papers and records connected with such cases, or certified copies thereof, and the county solicitor shall proceed with the prosecution of said cases in accordance with law.

32.03 Terms of criminal courts of record; special terms; time for holding, etc.—

(1) There shall be six regular terms of the criminal court of record in each of the above counties in each year.

(2) The judge of the criminal court of record shall have power to call such special terms of such court as the business of the court may require.

(3) When a special term of court is called, a special venire summoning jurors to serve at such special term may be issued.

(4) The time for holding the regular terms of the criminal courts of record in the above counties shall be as follows:

32.04 Place of holding.—The terms shall be held in the circuit courtroom of the courthouse of the county, unless the circuit court be in actual session at the time of holding of said criminal court of record. Provided, however, that the board of county commissioners may provide or appoint some other place for the holding of said court, which need not be in the county courthouse.

History.—§4, ch. 3731, 1887; RS 2818; GS 3868; RGS 5963; CGL 8229; §1, ch. 24107, 1947.

32.05 Judge; qualifications, powers, duties, etc.; term of office.—

(1) There shall be one judge for each criminal court of record, who shall be elected by the qualified electors of their respective counties for terms of four years each, as provided in and by §9, Art. V, of the state constitution.

(2) The said judge shall not be younger than twenty-five years of age, and shall have been an attorney in legal practice at the bar of this state for not less than one year at the time of his election.

(3) The said judge shall have the same powers, duties and obligations in the administration of the criminal laws as are exercised by, and imposed upon, the judges of the circuit courts.

(4) Special and local laws, and laws of limited application, prohibiting or limiting the right of the judge of a criminal court of record to practice law, shall not be repealed or in any way affected by the revision of this chapter.

History.—§7, ch. 3731, 1887; RS 2819; GS 3869; RGS 5964; CGL 8230; §1, ch. 24107, 1947.

32.07 Salaries of judges.—

(1) Salaries of the judges of the criminal courts of record in this state shall be as follows:

(a) In counties having a population of not less than:

1. Two hundred sixty thousand according to the last official census, eight thousand five hundred dollars per annum. Judges of the criminal courts of record whose salaries are affected by this subparagraph shall not be permitted to practice law.

2. One hundred twenty thousand nor more than one hundred fifty thousand according to the last official census, nine thousand dollars per annum.

(b) In counties having a population of one hundred seventy-five thousand to two hundred sixty thousand: six thousand dollars per annum.

(c) In counties having a population of one hundred thousand to one hundred seventy-five thousand: five thousand dollars per annum.

(d) In counties having a population of fifty thousand to one hundred thousand: four thousand two hundred dollars per annum.

(e) In counties having a population of less than fifty thousand: three thousand six hundred dollars per annum.

(f) The salary of the judge of the criminal court of record for Monroe county, Florida, shall be five hundred dollars per month.

(2) The above populations to be determined by the last preceding state or federal census and all salaries above mentioned to be paid in equal monthly installments by the county.

32.08 To be open for voluntary pleas of guilty.—All county courts and criminal courts of record in this state, in addition to their regular trial terms as now provided by law, shall, at all times, Sundays excepted, be considered open for the reception of voluntary pleas of guilty in all criminal cases pending therein on information or indictments and for the rendition of judgments and passing of sentences, the same to be entered of record by the respective clerks of said courts as directed by said judges. And the judges of said courts, at all times, Sundays excepted, may receive such pleas of guilty, when voluntarily offered by the accused, and thereupon at once pronounce judgment of conviction and sentence upon such pleas and direct the entry of the same of record by the clerks of said courts.

History.—§2, ch. 4398, 1895; GS 3872; RGS 5967; CGL 8234; §1, ch. 24107, 1947.

32.09 Bail bonds.—The judges of the several criminal courts of record of this state shall enter upon the back of all capiases issued by the clerk of said court under his signature, when there has been no arrest made, the amount of the bond to be taken and approved.

History.—§1, ch. 4921, 1901; GS 3873; RGS 5968; CGL 8235; §1, ch. 24107, 1947.

32.10 Clerk; election, term of office; filling vacancy.—

(1) There shall be a clerk for each criminal court of record, who shall be elected by the qualified electors of their respective counties for terms of four years each.

(2) The judge of the criminal court of record shall have the same power and authority to appoint a clerk ad interim as does the circuit judge under the provisions of §28.09.

History.—§17, ch. 3731, 1887; RS 2822; GS 3874; RGS 5969; CGL 8236; §1, ch. 24107, 1947.

32.11 Duties of clerks.—The clerk shall be custodian of the dockets, books and papers of the court, and shall have the same powers, duties and obligations that are exercised by and imposed on the clerks of the circuit courts.

History.—§15, ch. 3731, 1887; RS 2823; GS 3875; RGS 5970; CGL 8237; §1, ch. 24107, 1947.

32.12 Compensation of clerk when not otherwise provided.—

(1) When not otherwise provided, the compensation of the clerk of the criminal court of record shall be in fees, which shall be the same as the fees of the clerk of the circuit court in like cases. Such fees shall be paid by the county in criminal cases when the defendant is insolvent, as prescribed by law.

(2) Special and local laws, and laws of limited application, relating to the compensation and fees to be charged by or paid to the clerk of the criminal court of record shall not be repealed or in any way affected by the revision of this chapter.

History.—§16, ch. 3731, 1887; RS 2823; GS 3875; RGS 5971; CGL 8238; §1, ch. 24107, 1947.
cf.—§28.24 Clerk of circuit court, compensation.

32.13 Compensation of clerk, small counties.—

(1) The clerk of the criminal court of record in all counties having a population of less than fifty thousand, according to the last preceding federal or state census, shall receive the sum of one hundred seventy-five dollars per month salary, payable monthly out of the fine and forfeiture fund of the county.

(2) All fees and costs collected by the said clerk shall be paid over by him to the county depository to the credit of the fine and forfeiture fund and the county shall not be liable for any costs to the said clerk adjudged against it upon the conviction of any party in the said criminal court of record.

(3) The compensation allowed clerks of the criminal courts of record under this section shall be in lieu of all fees or other compensation otherwise allowable under any other statute or law.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 9173, 1923; CGL 8239, 8240; §1, ch. 24107, 1947.

32.14 Compensation of clerk, large counties.—The clerk of the criminal court of record in all counties having a population of more than eighty-five thousand according to the last preceding state or federal census shall be paid as follows:

(1) As fees for all services to be performed by him in any criminal action or proceeding in said court, in lieu of all other fees heretofore charged, except as hereinafter provided, the sum of nine dollars for each defendant in said action.

(2) Upon the institution of any appellate proceeding or upon the issuance of any writ of error, there shall be charged and collected by the said clerk, from each party instituting such appellate proceeding in said court or securing such writ of error, the sum of four dollars in lieu of all other fees heretofore charged in such appellate proceeding.

(3) Upon the discharge of a defendant as provided in §902.18, and upon the transmittal to the clerk of the criminal court of record of the affidavit, warrant and order of discharge, the said clerk shall receive as a fee for indexing, docketing, and filing same, a sum not exceeding four dollars for each discharged defendant.

(4) For his service as such clerk of the criminal court of record in such actions, and in all other cases and in all matters not hereinabove specifically included, the same fees as the clerk of the circuit court receives for similar services at the time such services are rendered.

(5) This section shall not be construed to include the fees of such clerk for furnishing or certifying copies of any record or paper or for preparing or verifying transcripts of record in appellate procedures.

(6) This section shall become effective, as to all counties hereafter attaining the above population, on the first day of January next after the official publication of the census showing such population.

History.—§§1-4, ch. 15924, 1933; §§1, 2, ch. 16874, 1935; CGL 1936 Supp. 8240(1); §1, ch. 22612, 1945; §1, ch. 23720; §1, ch. 24107, 1947; §1, ch. 25159, 1949.

32.15 Bond of clerk in large counties.—In each county in the state having a population in excess of one hundred fifty thousand, according to the last state census, the clerk of the criminal court of record, before being commissioned, shall give bond in a penalty which shall not be less than five thousand dollars nor more than fifty thousand dollars, to be fixed by the board of county commissioners of his county, payable to the governor of the state and his successors in office, with two or more good and sufficient sureties to be approved by the board of county commissioners and the comptroller, and to be filed with the secretary of state, which bond shall be conditioned upon the faithful discharge of the duties of his office. Each surety upon such bond may bind himself for a specified sum, but the aggregate amount for which the sureties shall bind themselves shall not be less than the full penalty of the bond. Each surety upon such bond shall make affidavit that he is a resident of the county for which the respective officer is to be commissioned and that he has sufficient visible property therein, unencumbered and not exempt from sale under legal process, to make good his bond. The above provisions as to number of sureties, affidavit or residence and justification of same, shall not apply to solvent surety companies authorized to do business and execute official bonds in this state.

History.—§§1-4, ch. 17754, 1937; §1, ch. 24107, 1947.

32.16 County solicitor; election, term, powers, duties, etc.—

(1) There shall be a prosecuting attorney for each criminal court of record to be designated as the county solicitor, who shall be elected by the qualified electors of their respective counties for terms of four years each, as provided in and by §9, Art. V, of the state constitution.

(2) The county solicitors shall have and exercise the same powers, duties and obligations in the criminal courts of record as are exercised by, and imposed upon, state attorneys in the circuit courts, except when otherwise expressly provided.

History.—§9, ch. 3731, 1887; RS 2825; GS 3877; RGS 5972; CGL 8241; §1, ch. 24107, 1947.

32.17 Appointment of solicitor by the judge.—Whenever there shall be a vacancy in the office of county solicitor in any of the counties of this state in which a criminal court of record is established, either by reason of nonappointment or otherwise, or if a county solicitor shall not be present at any term of the court, or, being present, shall from any cause be unable to perform the duties of his office, the judge of said court shall have full power to appoint a county solicitor from among the members of the bar with the consent of such member so appointed, to whom shall be administered an oath to faithfully discharge the duties of county solicitor, and who shall have as full and complete authority, and whose acts shall be in all respects as valid, as a regularly appointed county solicitor. He shall sign all informations and other papers as acting county solicitor. The power of said appointee shall cease upon the filling of said office by appointment or upon the ability of the county solicitor to perform the duties of his office, a note of which shall be entered upon the minutes of the court. The compensation of such appointee shall be the same as that of the regularly appointed county solicitor, and shall be paid by the regular county solicitor, and not by the county or state, in those cases in which the temporary appointment is made by reason of the absence, inability or disqualification of the regular county solicitor.

History.—§1, ch. 4224, 1893; GS 3879; RGS 5974; CGL 8247; §1, ch. 24107, 1947.

32.18 Method of prosecution; rules of pleading and practice.—

(1) All offenses triable in the criminal courts of record shall be prosecuted upon information under oath, to be filed by the county solicitor.

(2) The grand jury of the circuit court for the county in which a criminal court of record is established may indict for offenses triable in the criminal court of record.

(3) Upon the finding of such indictment, the circuit judge shall commit or bail the accused for trial in the criminal court of record, which trial shall be upon information filed by the county solicitor.

(4) Upon the finding of such indictment, the circuit judge, or the clerk of the circuit court upon direction of the circuit judge, shall certify such indictment and deliver the same to the clerk of the criminal court of record or to the county solicitor. Such indictment shall be sufficient basis for the filing of an information by the county solicitor.

History.—§13, ch. 3731, 1887; RS 2830; GS 3881; RGS 5976; CGL 8257; §1, ch. 24107, 1947.
cf.—§§932.47, 932.48, Filing information.
§§906.01 to 906.26, Information, forms and requisites.

32.19 Informations may be filed in vacation.

—Informations may be filed with the clerk of the criminal court of record in vacation, without leave of the court being first had and obtained, and upon information so filed the clerk of said court shall docket cases and issue any and all necessary process, the same as if filed in term time by leave of the court.

History.—§1, ch. 4398, 1895; §3, ch. 4406, 1895; GS 3882; RGS 5977; CGL 8258; §1, ch. 24107, 1947.

32.20 To have process.—The county solicitor is allowed the process of his court to summon witnesses to appear before him in or out of term time, at such convenient places and time as may be designated in the summons, to testify before him as to any violation of the criminal law upon which they may be interrogated.

History.—§11, ch. 3731, 1887; RS 2827; GS 3883; RGS 5978; CGL 8259; §1, ch. 24107, 1947.

32.21 Praecipe for process.—No writ of attachment or subpoena for witnesses for the state shall be issued from said court, unless the county solicitor shall first file with the clerk a praecipe in writing for same.

History.—§10, ch. 3731, 1887; RS 2828; GS 3884; RGS 5979; CGL 8260; §1, ch. 24107, 1947.

32.22 May administer oath.—The county solicitor may administer oaths to all witnesses summoned to testify by the process of his court, and to all witnesses who may voluntarily appear before him to testify as to any violation or violations of the criminal law.

History.—§12, ch. 3731, 1887; RS 2829; GS 3885; RGS 5980; CGL 8261; am. §1, ch. 22728, 1945; §1, ch. 24107, 1947.

32.23 Compensation of county solicitor, generally.—Except where otherwise provided, the county solicitor of the criminal court of record shall be paid two dollars per diem, quarterly, by the county, and conviction fees of ten dollars for each felony and five dollars for each misdemeanor, to be paid in like manner as other criminal costs, and the said conviction fees shall be paid in cases where new trials are granted and appeals taken, the same as in other cases of conviction.

32.24 Compensation of county solicitor in large counties.—

(1) In the following counties the county solicitor of the criminal court of record shall receive the following compensation, in lieu of all other compensation, the same to be paid by the county in equal monthly installments, to wit:

(a) In counties having a population of not less than seventy thousand and not more than one hundred thousand: four thousand two hundred dollars per annum.

(b) In counties having a population of more than one hundred thousand but less than one hundred eighty thousand: six thousand dollars per annum.

(c) In counties having a population of one hundred eighty thousand or more: seven thousand five hundred dollars per annum.

(d) In all counties in the state having a population of two hundred sixty thousand or more, according to the last preceding census of the state, the county solicitors of the criminal courts of record therein may employ not to exceed four assistants to such solicitor, to be designated as the first assistant, second assistant, third assistant and fourth assistant, respectively, and such assistants so employed shall hold office during the pleasure of the county solicitor.

(e) All employment of assistants to the county solicitors of the criminal courts of record, as provided for in paragraph (d) of this law, shall be made in writing, which writing shall designate the assistants as "first assistant," "second assistant," "third assistant" or "fourth assistant," as the case may be, and a record of such writing shall be entered in the minutes of the criminal court of record, and when such employment shall be revoked such revocation shall be made in writing and a record of that such writing shall be entered in said minutes of said court.

(f) The compensation of such assistant county solicitors, as provided for in paragraph (d) of this law, shall be as follows: the first assistant, six thousand dollars per annum, the second assistant, five thousand dollars per annum, and the third and fourth assistants, four thousand dollars per annum each, each payable in equal semi-monthly installments by the county.

(2) The above populations to be determined by the last preceding state or federal census except where otherwise provided. In all counties hereafter attaining the above populations, this section shall take effect on the first day of January next after the official publication of the census showing such population.

(3) No special or local law, or law of limited application, relating to the compensation of county solicitors of particular counties, shall be repealed or in any way affected by the revision of this chapter.

CHAPTER 33

CIVIL COURT OF RECORD

- 33.01 Civil courts of record established.
- 33.02 Jurisdiction.
- 33.03 Judge; appointment, term, etc.
- 33.04 Clerk of the court.
- 33.05 Seal.
- 33.06 Terms of court.
- 33.07 Disqualification, transfer of cases.

- 33.08 Judgments, liens.
- 33.09 Rules of procedure.
- 33.10 Application of general laws.
- 33.11 Appellate jurisdiction.
- 33.13 Pending cases when court established.
- 33.14 Civil courts of record; jurisdiction.

33.01 Civil courts of record established.—There shall be a court to be known as the civil court of record in each county in this state, which has or shall have a population of more than nine hundred thousand, according to the latest official decennial census; provided that civil courts of record hereafter established pursuant hereto shall be established on May 1 next succeeding the year of which such census is taken.

History.—§1, ch. 11357, 1925; CGL 5156; §1, ch. 20739, 1941; §1, ch. 21819, 1943; §1, ch. 23688, 1947; §1, ch. 61-40; §1, ch. 63-4.

33.02 Jurisdiction.—All such civil courts of record for each county respectively shall have exclusive original jurisdiction in all cases at law, including writs of attachment and garnishment where the matter in controversy does not exceed, exclusive of interest and cost, the sum or value of five thousand dollars, and also where (a) the cause of action in whole or in part, arose or accrued in the county, or (b) the property involved in whole or in part, is in the county, or (c) the defendant or one of the defendants is found in the county. Where the jurisdiction sum of value first above stated is alleged, jurisdiction of such civil courts of record shall be prima facie presumed. Such civil courts of record shall not have jurisdiction of cases in equity, nor jurisdiction of cases involving the legality of any tax, assessment or toll, or of the action of ejectment, or of actions involving the title or boundaries of real estate, nor jurisdiction of proceedings relating to forcible entry or unlawful detention of lands and tenements, nor jurisdiction in cases at law in which the demand or value of the property involved does not exceed five hundred dollars.

cf.—§33.14 Jurisdiction in counties of 260,000 or more inhabitants.

33.03 Judge; appointment, term, etc.—There shall be a judge for each of said courts who shall be appointed by the governor and confirmed by the senate, and who shall hold office for four years. He must be at least twenty-five years of age, an attorney at law, and he must have been a resident of the state for at least five years prior to date of his appointment. Each judge of said court shall receive a salary of six thousand dollars per annum, payable in monthly installments of five hundred dollars each, and his salary shall be paid from the general revenue of the county in which such civil court of record is established. He shall not exercise the profession or employment of counsel or attorney at law, or engage in the practice of law during his term of office, except in matters of chancery.

History.—§2, ch. 11357, 1925; CGL 5157.

33.04 Clerk of the court.—In all such counties where there is a criminal court of record, the clerk of the criminal court of record shall also be clerk of the civil court of record, and he shall have the same powers and perform the same duties in the civil court as are performed by and required of the clerk of the circuit court in said court, and as compensation for his services he shall receive the same fees as the clerks of circuit court receive for similar work.

Where there is no criminal court of record in any county which shall have such civil court of record, the clerk of the circuit court for such county shall be the clerk of such civil court of record.

History.—§3, 4, ch. 11357, 1925; CGL 5158, 5159.

33.05 Seal.—The seal of all such civil courts of record shall be provided, approved, paid for, and an impression thereof deposited as are the seals of circuit courts. In the case of the loss or destruction of such seal, the private seal of the clerk shall suffice until an official seal is provided.

History.—§5, ch. 11357, 1925; CGL 5160.

33.06 Terms of court.—There shall be six terms of such civil court of record held each year, commencing on the second Monday in January, March, May, July, September and November.

History.—§6, ch. 11357, 1925; CGL 5161.

33.07 Disqualification, transfer of cases.—Whenever any judge of such civil court of record is disqualified to try any case pending in his court, he shall make an order transferring said case to the circuit court of the same county and the civil court clerk shall forthwith deliver to the clerk of the circuit court of such county all papers, files, and copies of records of such suit, and the clerk of the circuit court shall have jurisdiction of the suit so transferred, the same as if there was no civil court of record in said county, and the said suit was instituted in said circuit court.

History.—§7, ch. 11357, 1925; CGL 5162.

33.08 Judgments, liens.—Judgments of such civil courts of record shall be liens on real estate in like manner as judgments of county courts when recorded according to law with the clerk of the circuit court in the judgment lien record.

History.—§8, ch. 11357, 1925; CGL 5163.

33.09 Rules of procedure.—The rules of pleading, practice, procedure and evidence and the laws of this state prescribing rules of pleading, practice, procedure and evidence, and prescribing issuance, service and return of process for circuit courts, shall, so far as they are applicable, govern such civil courts of record.

History.—§9, ch. 11357, 1925; §1, ch. 14664, 1931; CGL 5164.

33.10 Application of general laws.—All the provisions of the general statutes of Florida, and all laws amendatory thereof or supplementary thereto, which can be applied to such civil courts of record, or to any proceedings therein, or to any officer thereof shall be applicable thereto in all cases except where they are inconsistent with the provisions of this law.

History.—§10, ch. 11357, 1925; CGL 5165.

33.11 Appellate jurisdiction.—

(1) Final orders or judgments of civil courts of record are reviewable by appeal to the appropriate district court of appeal unless review by the supreme court is authorized by Art. V of the state constitution. Review by said courts shall be in the manner and within the time prescribed by the Florida appellate rules.

(2) The filing fee of the appellate court shall be as prescribed by law or the Florida appellate rules. The fee of the trial court shall be two dollars.

History.—§11, ch. 11357, 1925; CGL 5166; §1, ch. 20361, 1941; §1, ch. 63-559.

33.13 Pending cases when court established.

—When a civil court of record is established in any county, the circuit court in such county shall retain complete jurisdiction of all cases therein pending, until the same are finally determined by the circuit court, and nothing shall be so construed as to require that any case in the circuit court shall be transferred to the civil court of record.

33.14 Civil courts of record; jurisdiction.—

(1) In all counties having a population of two hundred sixty thousand or more according to the latest census taken pursuant to law, every civil court of record established pursuant to statute shall have original jurisdiction of all cases at law where the matter in controversy does not exceed, exclusive of interest and cost, the sum of five thousand dollars, and proceedings relating to forcible entry and unlawful detention of lands and tenements, including any statutory remedy relating to landlord and tenant, except when some other court under the constitution shall have exclusive original jurisdiction of any such actions; and all such courts in such counties shall have three judges who shall draw the same compensation.

(2) All acts and proceedings heretofore had or taken in all civil courts of record not jurisdictional are hereby validated.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 21868, 1943; (1) §1, ch. 27003, 1951.
cf.—§33.02 Jurisdiction of civil courts of record generally.

cf.—§6, Art. V, Const.

34.04 Compensation of clerk, generally.—Unless otherwise provided, the clerk of the county court shall receive as compensation for his services the same fees as the clerk of the circuit court receives for similar services at the time such services are rendered.

History.—Supplied to complete apparent omission in statutes.

34.041 Filing fees of clerk for trial and appellate proceedings.—

(1) Upon the institution of any civil or criminal action, suit, or proceeding in the county court of any county of the state, there shall be paid by the party or parties so instituting such action, suit or proceedings, as fees of the clerk of said court, for all services to be performed by him therein, in lieu of all other fees heretofore charged, except as hereinafter provided, the sum of seven dollars and fifty cents.

(2) Upon the institution of any appellate proceeding from the county court to the circuit court of the state, there shall be charged and collected by the clerk from the party or parties instituting such appellate proceedings, in lieu of all other fees heretofore charged, except as hereinafter provided, the sum of three dollars fifty cents.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be construed to include the fees of the clerk for preparing or verifying transcripts of record in appellate proceedings, or for furnishing copies of any record or paper.

(4) This section shall not apply to any suit or proceeding pending on the day it goes into effect.

(5) This section shall not be applicable to counties having a population of more than three hundred thousand but less than three hundred ten thousand.

History.—§§1, 2, 6, 7, 9, ch. 26931, 1951; (2) §4, ch. 63-559.

34.05 Compensation of clerk, large counties.—In all counties having a population of more than one hundred fifty thousand according to the last preceding state or federal census and having a county court, the clerk of said court, as compensation for his services, shall receive fees as follows:

(1) IN CIVIL CASES.—Upon the institution of any civil action, suit, or proceeding, except suit for the removal of delinquent tenants, there shall be paid by the party or parties so instituting such action, suit, or proceeding, as fees for the clerk of the county court for all services to be performed by him in such action, suit, or proceeding, except as herein provided, the sum of six dollars.

(2) DELINQUENT TENANT CASES.—Upon the institution of any suit for the removal of delinquent tenants there shall be paid by the party or parties so instituting such action, suit, or proceeding, as fees for the clerk of the county court for all services to be performed by him in such action, suit, or proceeding, except as hereinafter provided, the sum of four dollars.

(3) ALL OTHER CASES.—In all other cases and matters the said clerk shall receive as compensation for his services as clerk of the county court, not hereinabove specifically included, the same fees as the clerk of the circuit court receives for similar services at the time such services are rendered.

Nothing herein shall be construed to include the fees of the clerk of the county court for furnishing or certifying a copy of any record or paper, or for preparing and verifying transcripts of records in appellate proceeding.

As to counties hereafter attaining such population, this section shall take effect on the first day of the month next after the official publication of the census showing such population.

History.—§§1-3, 7, ch. 16873, 1935; CGL 5172(1).

34.06 Records.—The clerk shall keep for each county court minute books, bench dockets, bar and motion dockets, and judgment and execution dockets, which shall be kept in the same manner as such dockets are kept for the circuit courts.

cf.—§28.21 et seq., Records of circuit court.

34.07 Sheriff to be executive officer.—The sheriff of the county shall serve and execute all civil and criminal processes of said court and do and perform all duties in and about said court, which are required to be performed by an executive officer.

History.—§12, ch. 3730, 1887; RS 1575, 2838; GS 2037, 3896; RGS 3329, 5993; CGL 5173, 8287.
cf.—§30.15, Execution of process.

34.08 Compensation of sheriff.—The compensation of the sheriff for serving processes in cases in the county court, and for other services in connection therewith, shall be the same as that for like services in the circuit court.

History.—§2839 RS 1892; GS 3897; RGS 5994; CGL 8288.
cf.—§30.23 Fees of sheriffs and constables.

34.09 Seal.—The seal of the county court shall be provided, approved, paid for, and an impression thereof deposited as are seals of the circuit court. In the case of the loss or destruction of such seal the private seal of the clerk shall suffice until an official seal is provided.

History.—§4, ch. 3730, 1887; RS 1576; GS 2038; RGS 3330; CGL 5174.

34.10 Prosecuting attorney for county court.—The prosecuting attorney for the county court shall be elected at the same time that the county judge is elected and his term of office shall be for four years.

History.—§14, ch. 3730, 1887; RS 2834; GS 3891; RGS 5986; CGL 8279.

34.11 Compensation.—The prosecuting attorney shall be paid eight hundred dollars per annum and five dollars for each conviction and shall also receive ten per cent of each cash bond estreated in his court in connection with which an investigation is made, and an information is filed, provided that in the event the defendant whose cash bond has been estreated is subsequently arrested, tried and convicted, he shall receive as compensation for said conviction, the difference between the amount received on account of said bond estreature and the conviction fee hereinbefore set forth.

cf.—§125.04 Compensation of prosecuting attorney.

34.12 Duties.—The prosecuting attorney shall prosecute all criminal cases before the county court, and shall sign all informations filed in said court by him, and do and perform all the duties required of a prosecuting officer.

History.—§14, ch. 3730, 1887; RS 2836; GS 3893; RGS 5988; CGL 8282.

34.13 Method of prosecution.—All persons tried in the county court on any criminal charge shall be tried upon indictment by the grand jury, or upon information filed by the prosecuting attorney. Upon the finding of indictments by the grand jury for crimes cognizable by the county court, the clerk of the circuit court without any order therefor shall docket the same on the trial docket of the county court on or before the first day of its next succeeding term.

History.—§9, ch. 3730, 1887; RS 2837; GS 3894; RGS 5989; CGL 8283.

34.14 Witnesses before prosecuting attorney.—The prosecuting attorney of the county court shall be allowed the process of said court to summon witnesses to appear before him, in or out of term, at such convenient place and time as may be designated in the summons, to testify before him as to any violation of the criminal law upon which they may be interrogated; and he is hereby empowered to administer oaths to all witnesses summoned to testify by the process of the court and to all witnesses who may voluntarily appear before him, and he shall have authority to take recognizances of all witnesses summoned before him and of all witnesses who voluntarily appear before him and are administered an oath by him, when he deems that their evidence is material on behalf of the state, to be and appear on the first day of the next term of the said county court.

The compensation and mileage provided by law for witnesses in county courts shall be paid to each witness who is compelled to appear before said prosecuting attorney under the provisions of this section, and to each witness who voluntarily appears before him and is administered an oath by him.

cf.—§90.14 Witnesses; pay.

34.15 When prosecuting attorney unable to perform duties judge may appoint acting prosecuting attorney.—When any prosecuting attorney of any county court is sick and unable to perform the duties of such prosecuting attorney, or is disqualified to perform such duties by reason of being formerly employed in the defense of any person charged with a violation of the law within the jurisdiction of such court, or is absent from the county wherein such county court is or may be established, the judge of the county court shall appoint a competent attorney, admitted to practice in such court, to be acting prosecuting attorney of such court during the absence or the disability of the prosecuting attorney. Such acting prosecuting attorney shall have and exercise all the duties and powers of the prosecuting attorney during such appointment. The powers and duties of an acting prosecuting attorney shall cease as soon as the disability of the prosecuting attorney ceases or as soon as the prosecuting attorney returns to the county of which he is prosecuting attorney.

History.—§1, ch. 5903, 1909; RGS 5991; CGL 8285; §1, ch. 57-1984; §1, ch. 59-416.

34.16 Compensation of acting prosecuting attorney.—Acting prosecuting attorneys appointed under the provisions of the preceding section shall receive the same compensation for the service and time of performing the duties of the prosecuting attorney as is paid to prosecuting attorneys, and prosecuting attorneys shall receive no compensation for service or time in which the duties of the office are performed by acting prosecuting attorneys. Acting prosecuting attorneys shall sign all papers as "Acting Prosecuting Attorney."

History.—§2, ch. 5903, 1909; RGS 5992; CGL 8286; §2, ch. 57-1984; §2, ch. 59-416.

34.18 Rules of practice.—The rules of pleading and practice adopted by the supreme court for the government of the circuit courts shall be the rules of practice, pleading and procedure in civil causes for the county courts, so far so applicable and not otherwise provided for.

History.—§1579 RS 1892; GS 2041; RGS 3333; CGL 5177.

34.19 General provisions.—All the provisions of chapters 30, 37 to 43, and 45 to 59, inclusive, 90, 92 and 95, which can be applied to the county courts, or to any proceeding therein, or to any officer thereof, shall be applicable thereto in all cases except where they are expressly or impliedly restricted to courts other than the county courts, and except where they are inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter.

History.—§1580 RS 1892; GS 2042; RGS 3334; CGL 5178.

34.20 Salary of judge of county court.—The salary of the judge of county court shall be eighteen hundred dollars per annum, payable in monthly installments. He shall also have a docket fee of one dollar in civil cases. Provided, however, that this section shall not apply to any county court in the state wherein the judge of such county court is receiving compensation as such judge of the county court under a special act or under a general act of local application, nor to any county having a population of more than twenty-four thousand according to the latest state or federal census.

History.—§3, ch. 4406, 1895; GS 2043; RGS 3335; CGL 5179; §§ 1, 1A, ch. 17996, 1937; §1, ch. 24037, 1947.

34.21 Compensation where population exceeds twenty-two thousand.—In each county where the population exceeds twenty-two thousand people, the judge of the county court shall receive an annual salary of twelve hundred dollars payable quarterly by the county treasurer. This compensation shall exclude all salary, fees, or other compensation which the said judge of the county court as such might receive or be entitled to, under or by virtue of any other laws, but it shall not exclude or affect any salary, fees, or other compensation which the county judge, as such, may receive, or be entitled to.

34.22 Substitution of a circuit judge for the county judge as judge of the county court.—

(1) WHEN TO BE SUBSTITUTED.—Whenever the county judge shall be disabled or disqualified to act as judge of the county court because of illness, interest, or absence from his jurisdiction, or other cause, any circuit judge of the judicial circuit in which the county is located is authorized and empowered to discharge the duties and functions appertaining to such county judge as judge of the county court.

(2) NOTIFICATION OF DISQUALIFICATION.—When the county judge shall be so disabled or disqualified to act as judge of the county court, the circuit judges of the judicial circuit in which such county is located shall be notified of the interest, absence, illness, or other cause of disability of the county judge by certificate of the county judge or by the clerk of said court or by one of the clerks of the county judge appointed and acting according to law.

History.—§1, ch. 57-359.

34.23 Appointment of census commissioners; county judges; proclamation by governor.—

(1) When it shall be deemed advisable by the governor, or when requested by the board of county commissioners of any county, that the population of any county be determined, the governor shall appoint three commissioners from such county who shall obtain from the United States census bureau an outline of proper criteria other than by the actual counting of individuals, to be used by said commissioners for the purpose of determining the population of said county, and the commissioners shall thereupon forthwith proceed in accordance with said criteria to determine the number of inhabitants of such county. In making their determination the commissioners shall also, after public notice, hold a public hearing or hearings at such place or places in the county as they deem advisable to receive such further proof needed to assist them in determining the number of such inhabitants. After the conclusion of its study and after the public hearings are held, as aforesaid, the commissioners shall make proof to the governor, first, of the establishment of criteria by the United States census bureau and second, its finding based thereon. It shall also forward to the governor certified transcript of the record taken at the public hearings to be held as aforesaid.

(2) The findings by any such commission or commissioners as to the number of inhabitants or the population of any county when proclaimed by the governor shall have the same force and effect in law as if according to a census taken pursuant to either federal or state law insofar as a census affects the number of county judges permitted by law but such determination shall not otherwise be effective for any purpose.

(3) The commissioners shall not be paid any compensation.

(4) The making of any such census is declared to be a county purpose and the board of county commissioners of any county is authorized and directed to pay the expenses necessary to make any census under this act.

History.—§1, ch. 57-248.

35.03 Second appellate district.—The second appellate district is composed of Brevard, Broward, Charlotte, Citrus, Collier, DeSoto, Glades, Hardee, Hendry, Hernando, Highlands, Hillsborough, Indian River, Lake, Lee, Manatee, Martin, Okeechobee, Orange, Osceola, Palm Beach, Pasco, Pinellas, Polk, St. Lucie, Sarasota, Seminole and Sumter counties.

History.—§1, ch. 57-248.

35.04 Third appellate district.—The third appellate district is composed of Dade and Monroe counties.

History.—§1, ch. 57-248.

35.041 Gift of land for courthouse, third district.—The board of commissioners of state institutions is hereby authorized and empowered to accept a gift of land from the university of Miami for the purpose of constructing a courthouse to house the district court of appeal in district three in Dade county.

History.—§1, ch. 57-794.

35.05 Headquarters.—The headquarters of the first appellate district shall be in Tallahassee, Leon county; of the second appellate district in Lakeland, Polk county; and of the third appellate district in Dade county.

History.—§1, ch. 57-248.

35.06 Organization of district courts of appeal.—There shall be three judges of each district court of appeal.

(1) The district courts of appeal shall be organized in each of three appellate districts to be named "District Court of Appeal, _____ District."

(2) The judges shall be appointed by the governor between June 1 and July 1, 1957, to assume office on July 1, 1957.

(3) Judges shall be appointed to assume office and serve for terms to be designated by the governor as follows:

(a) One judge in "Group A" in each appellate district shall be appointed to serve a term to expire on Tuesday after the first Monday in January, 1959.

(b) One judge in "Group B" in each appellate district shall be appointed to serve a term to expire on Tuesday after the first Monday in January, 1961.

(c) One judge in "Group C" in each appellate district shall be appointed to serve a term to expire on Tuesday after the first Monday in January, 1963.

(4) The successors of the original judges of the district courts of appeal shall be elected at the general election next preceding the expiration of their respective terms of office to serve for a full term of six years.

History.—§1, ch. 57-248.

35.061 Additional district courts of appeal judges.—

(1) In addition to the district court of appeal judges provided for in §35.06, there shall be one additional judge in the first district and two additional judges in the second and third districts.

(2) The additional judge for the first district shall be appointed to assume office and serve for a term to be designated by the governor as follows:

One judge in group D shall be appointed to serve a term to expire on Tuesday after the first Monday in January, 1967.

(3) The additional judges for the second and third districts, two for each district, shall be appointed to assume office and serve for terms to be designated by the governor as follows:

(a) One judge in group D in each appellate district shall be appointed to serve a term to expire on Tuesday after the first Monday in January, 1967.

(b) One judge in group E in each appellate district shall be appointed to serve a term to expire on Tuesday after the first Monday in January, 1965.

(4) The successors of the original judges of the district courts of appeal and these additional judges of the district courts of appeal, shall be elected at the general election next preceding the expiration of their respective terms of office to serve for a full term of six years.

History.—§§1-4, ch. 61-512.

35.07 Power to make rules and regulations.—Subject to the power of the supreme court to make rules of practice and procedure, the district courts of appeal may make such regulations as necessary for the internal government of the court.

History.—§1, ch. 57-248.

35.08 Power to execute its judgments.—Each district court of appeal is vested with all the power and authority necessary for carrying into complete execution all of its judgments, decrees, orders and determinations in the matters before it agreeable to the usage and principles of law.

History.—§1, ch. 57-248.

35.09 Seal of the court.—Each district court of appeal shall have an official identifying seal as prescribed by the supreme court.

History.—§1, ch. 57-248.

35.10 Regular terms.—The district court of appeal shall hold two regular terms each year at its headquarters, commencing respectively on the second Tuesday in January and July. The court may adjourn from time to time as may be deemed necessary for the dispatch of business.

History.—§1, ch. 57-248.

35.11 Special terms.—The district court in each district may hold special terms at such times and places as may be deemed necessary for the public interest, provided that each district court of appeal shall hold at least one special term every year in each judicial circuit wherein there is ready business to be transacted. Each district court of appeal shall have the power to hear and decide at any regular or special term, causes arising anywhere within the district.

History.—§1, ch. 57-248.

35.12 Chief judge.—There shall be a chief judge of each of the district courts of appeal to be selected by the members of the court.

History.—§1, ch. 57-248.

35.13 Quorum.—Three judges shall consider each case and the concurrence of a majority shall be necessary to a decision.

History.—§1, ch. 57-248.

35.15 Decisions to be filed; copies to be furnished.—All decisions and opinions delivered by the district courts of appeal or any judge thereof in relation to any action or proceeding pending in said court shall be filed and remain in the office of the clerk, and shall not be taken therefrom except by order of the court; but said clerk shall at all times be required to furnish to any person who may desire the same certified copies of such opinions and decisions, upon receiving his fees therefor.

History.—§1, ch. 57-248.

35.16 Reports; distribution.—The reports of the decisions of the district courts of appeal shall be distributed as provided by contract between the board of commissioners of state institutions and the publisher upon recommendation and approval of the supreme court or by law.

History.—§1, ch. 57-248.

35.18 Same; appropriations.—The costs of publication of said reports, including copies thereof for exchange with other states and courts as provided in this chapter, shall be paid from the appropriation and in the manner provided in §25.401.

History.—§1, ch. 57-248; §2, ch. 61-38.

35.19 Compensation of district judges.—The salary of the judges of the district courts of appeal shall be as provided by law.

History.—§1, ch. 57-248.

35.20 Retirement of district court of appeal judge.—Retirement of a district court of appeal judge shall be as provided by law.

History.—§1, ch. 57-248.

35.21 Clerk of district court.—Each district court of appeal shall appoint a clerk of such district court who shall hold his office during the pleasure of the court. The said clerk before entering upon the discharge of his duties, shall give bond in the sum of two thousand dollars payable to the governor, or his successors in office, to be approved by a majority of the judges of the court conditioned upon the faithful discharge of the duties of his office, which bond shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state.

History.—§1, ch. 57-248.

35.22 Clerk of district court; appointment; compensation; assistants; filing fees.—

(1) The clerk of each of the district courts of appeal shall be appointed and paid an annual salary as fixed by law.

(2) The clerk is authorized to employ such deputies and clerical assistance as may be necessary. Their number and compensation shall be approved by the court, and paid from the biennial appropriation for the district courts of appeal.

(3) The clerk is required to collect a fee for each case docketed at the time of filing the petition or the notice of appeal, as established by the supreme court. The opinions of the district court of appeal shall not be recorded, but the original as filed shall be preserved with the record in each case.

(4) The clerk is authorized immediately after a case is disposed of, to supply the judge who tried the case and from whose order, judgment, or decree, appeal or other review is taken, a copy of all opinions, orders or judgments filed in such case. Copies of opinions, orders, and decrees shall be furnished in all cases to each attorney of record and for publication in Florida reports to the authorized publisher without charge, and copies furnished to other law book publishers at one-half the regular statutory fee.

(5) The clerk of the district court of appeal is required to prepare a statement of all fees collected in duplicate each month and remit one copy of said statement, together with all fees collected by him, to the state comptroller who shall place the same to the credit of the general revenue fund.

History.—§1, ch. 57-248.

35.23 Location of clerk's office.—Each clerk shall keep his records at the headquarters of the district court of appeal.

History.—§1, ch. 57-248.

35.24 Custody of books, records, etc.—All books, papers, records, files and the seal of each district court of appeal shall be kept in the office of the clerk of said court.

History.—§1, ch. 57-248.

35.25 Duties of clerk.—Duties of clerk shall be as prescribed by the rules of the court.

History.—§1, ch. 57-248.

35.26 Marshal of district court, appointment, duties.—

(1) Each of the district courts of appeal shall appoint a marshal who shall hold office during the pleasure of the court. The said marshal shall execute to the governor of the state a bond in the sum of two thousand dollars, with sureties to be approved by the district court of appeal and conditioned that he shall faithfully discharge such duties as the court directs.

(2) He shall have the power to execute the process of the court throughout the state, and in any county may depute the sheriff or a deputy sheriff for such purpose.

(3) The marshal shall, under the direction of the district court of appeal be custodian of the headquarters occupied by the court and shall perform such other duties as directed by the court.

History.—§1, ch. 57-248.

35.27 Compensation of marshal.—The compensation of the said marshal shall be as provided by law.

History.—§1, ch. 57-248.

35.28 District courts of appeal libraries.—The library of each of the district courts of appeal and its custodian shall be provided for by rule of the supreme court. Payment for books, equipment, supplies, and quarters as provided for in such rules shall be paid from funds appropriated for the district courts, on requisition drawn as provided by law.

History.—§1, ch. 57-248.

36.02 General powers.—County judge's courts shall be courts of record, and county judges shall have authority to make all orders or decrees, and to issue every and all process necessary to maintain and carry out their constitutional jurisdiction, or to enforce their authority, and to enter and enforce their judgments and decrees in all matters wherein they have jurisdiction.

History.—§2, ch. 1627, 1868; RS 1581; GS 2045; RGS 3337; CGL 5183. cf.—§125.03 Prosecuting attorney, county judge's court.

36.03 Bond.—Each county judge shall give bond in a sum to be fixed by the board of county commissioners of his county, which shall not be less than one thousand dollars nor more than five thousand dollars. Such bond shall be otherwise governed by the provisions governing bonds to be given by clerks of the circuit courts. Said bond may be sued upon from time to time, in the name of the governor, for the use of any person interested or aggrieved.

History.—§2, ch. 3724, 1887; RS 1582; GS 2046; RGS 3338; CGL 5184. cf.—§§28.01-28.05, Bonds of circuit court clerks.

36.04 Clerks.—Every county judge shall have power to appoint a clerk of his court, and as many additional clerks of his court deemed necessary by the judge for the proper execution of the duties of that office, and the said clerk or clerks so appointed shall be paid by the said judge, and each may exercise all nonjudicial functions which the judge may perform, and shall serve as such clerk or clerks at the pleasure of the county judge making such appointment.

History.—§3, ch. 3889, 1889; RS 1583; GS 2047; RGS 3339; §1, ch. 11368, 1925; CGL 5185; §1, ch. 22559, 1945; §1, ch. 29922, 1955.

36.05 Seal.—The seal of the county judge shall be provided, approved, paid for, and an impression thereof be deposited as are seals of the circuit court. In case of the loss or destruction of such seal his private seal shall suffice until an official seal be provided. The use heretofore of the seal of the county courts by county judges is validated.

History.—§§1, 4, 5, ch. 1657, 1868; RS 1584; GS 2048; RGS 3340; CGL 5186.

36.06 Disqualification and transfer of judges.—When it is made to appear to the chief justice of the supreme court that any county judge of the state is disqualified to act in any civil or criminal cause pending before said judge, the said chief justice shall enter an order of assignment as provided by §25.071 and the Florida appellate rules. Any judge so transferred shall be entitled to the fees in said cause for services performed by him as are allowed by law, and in addition thereto shall be reimbursed for traveling expenses as provided in §112.061. Said expenses shall be taxed as part of the costs in the case. Any county judge ordered transferred to another county to hear and try any civil causes, may, before being compelled to comply with said order of transfer, require of either, or both parties in his discretion, a deposit sufficient to cover his expenses and costs in said cause.

History.—§§1-3, ch. 8483, 1921; CGL 5187-5189; §8, ch. 63-572; §19, ch. 63-400.

cf.—§36.16, Substitution of circuit court judges. §§38.01-38.10, 38.12, 38.13, Disqualification of judges generally.

36.07 Sickness and transfer of judges.—

(1) Whenever it shall appear to the governor of this state that any county judge is incapacitated, by reason of sickness, from the performance of his duties as county judge, and that the interest of the citizens of the county will be served by the transfer and assignment of another county judge, the governor may assign any other county judge of any county in the state to a particular county for the purpose of conducting the county judge's office in the county to which assigned.

(2) Such assignment shall be by executive order, and shall be effective for a period not longer than thirty days; if the resident county judge be unable to resume his duties at the end of thirty days from the date of the executive order, other and further assignments may be made.

(3) The county judge so assigned and transferred shall have the same power and authority and jurisdiction as if he were the duly elected county judge of the county, and may hold terms of the county court and of the county judge's court, and perform all of the acts which by law the duly elected county judge of the particular county may perform. Such jurisdiction shall be additional to and concurrent with and not exclusive of the jurisdiction of the duly elected county judge.

(4) Any county judge so transferred and assigned to another county shall receive the same compensation that the resident county judge would have received had such resident county judge been acting. Such compensation shall be paid to the transferred and assigned county judge in the first instance by the board of county commissioners of the county to which he is transferred and assigned, but said board shall deduct any sums that have been paid in such cases from the fees and emoluments which may afterward become payable to the resident county judge.

History.—§§1-3, ch. 16919, 1935; CGL 1936 Supp. 5189(1)-5189(3).
cf.—Art. V, §2, assignment of judges.

36.08 Court always open for probate matters.—The court of the county judge as a court of probate shall be open at all times for the transaction of its business.

History.—§16, ch. 1627, 1868; RS 1586; GS 2050; RGS 3342; CGL 5195.

36.09 Powers, practice and pleadings in civil cases.—In all civil matters, the powers, terms and duties of the county judge shall be the same as those of a justice of the peace, and the rules of practice and pleading in his court, and in appellate proceedings therefrom, shall be the Florida rules of civil procedure as may now and hereafter be adopted by the supreme court.

History.—§23, ch. 1627, 1868; §1, ch. 3888, 1889; §1, chs. 3889, 1889; RS 1594; GS 2058; RGS 3349; CGL 5202; §31, ch. 29737, 1955.

36.10 Records in civil cases.—The county judge shall keep separate dockets for all causes brought before him in his jurisdiction concurrent with that of a justice of the peace.

History.—§24, ch. 1627, 1868; RS 1595; GS 2059; RGS 3350; CGL 5203.

36.11 Executive officer.—The sheriff of the county or any constable shall be the executive officer of the county judge's court, but if the sheriff or constable shall for any reason be disqualified or unable to act, the county judge may appoint any individual, not interested in the case on trial, to serve process and perform all duties of such executive officer.

History.—RS 2848; §2, ch. 4385, 1895; GS 3904; RGS 6002; CGL 8296.

36.14 Records of county judge.—Every county judge shall record, or cause his clerk to record, in a book or books to be kept for that purpose, distinctly and at full length all appointments of and accounts rendered by guardians and settled by him, orders and decrees for the sale of minors' real estate, all orders and decrees for the assignment or admeasurement of dower; and all other orders or decrees; to every such book or books he shall keep an index of the subjects therein, which, together with such book or books, shall be open to the inspection of any person under his supervision.

History.—§4, ch. 6, 1845; RS 1859; GS 2053; RGS 3345; CGL 5198.

36.15 Records of former courts.—All records, judgments and orders of any court in this state heretofore exercising the powers of probate courts shall be taken and held to be the records, judgments and orders of the county judge, subject to the like amendment, enforcement and execution as though the same had been made and rendered by the county judge.

History.—§8, ch. 1629, 1868; RS 1589; GS 2053; RGS 3345; CGL 5198.

36.16 Substitution for county judge of circuit judge.—

(1) WHEN TO BE SUBSTITUTED.—Whenever the county judge shall be disabled or disqualified because of illness, interest, absence from his jurisdiction or other cause, the circuit judge of the county is authorized to discharge the duties and functions appertaining to said county judge in all matters under the probate and guardianship laws of Florida and may enter all proper orders with reference to the custody, preservation, sale or distribution of the estates in connection therewith; and in case of such disability or disqualifications of the county judge, the circuit judge is authorized to discharge all the duties appertaining to said county judge in connection with proceedings relating to forcible entry and unlawful detention of lands, proceedings against delinquent tenants, and all other judicial duties and functions of the county judge as set forth under §36.01.

(2) NOTIFICATION OF DISQUALIFICATION.—When the county judge shall be so disabled or disqualified to act, the circuit judge shall be notified of such disqualification by certificate of the county judge or his duly appointed clerk. In no instance shall any county judge act in any matter in which he is interested, and should he presume so to do his acts shall be void.

(3) COUNTY JUDGE TO MAKE SETTLEMENTS WITH CIRCUIT JUDGE.—The county judge shall, when he is executor, administrator or guardian, make his settlements as such with the judge of the circuit court of his county in the same manner and form as other executors, administrators or guardians are required by law to make their settlements with the county judge.

History.—§1, ch. 154, 1848; §2, ch. 628, 1855; §1, ch. 1876, 1877; RS 1590; GS 2054; RGS 3346; CGL 5199; §1, ch. 26685, 1951.

cf.—§36.06, County judge, disqualification.

36.18 Certain fees of county judges, large counties.—

according to the last federal or state census, whichever is the later, there shall be paid by the party or parties instituting such action, suit or proceeding, as and for fees of the county judge of any such county, for all services to be performed by him therein, in lieu of all other fees heretofore charged, except as hereinafter provided, the sum of five dollars.

(2) Upon the institution of any criminal action or proceeding before the county judge of any county of the state having a population of more than one hundred seventy-five thousand according to the last federal or state census, whichever is the later, there shall be paid to the county judge of any such county as and for fees for all such services to be performed by him in such criminal action or proceedings, in lieu of all other fees heretofore charged, except as hereinafter provided, the sum of five dollars. In all such criminal actions or proceedings the county judge of any such county shall require pre-payment of said sum by the person making application for the warrant, unless such person shall make an affidavit of insolvency and of substantial injury to person or property in which case process shall issue and all costs therefor shall be paid by the board of county commissioners of such county. If the person applying for such warrant is a law enforcement officer of the state, then the fee hereinbefore provided shall be paid by the board of county commissioners of such county immediately upon the institution of such proceeding before said county judge, without regard to whether an information is filed or an indictment found against the defendant in such case.

(3) Upon the institution of any insanity proceeding in the county judge's court of any county in the state having a population of more than one hundred seventy-five thousand according to the last federal or state census, whichever is the later, there shall be paid to the county judge of any such county by the board of county commissioners of such county, as and for his fees for all services performed by him in any such insanity proceeding, in lieu of all other fees heretofore allowed said county judge, except as hereinafter provided, the sum of five dollars. Whenever it shall be made to appear to the county judge that any such insane patient is not indigent, the county judge shall direct the guardian of said insane person to repay the fees advanced by the board of county commissioners, to said board.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to include the fees of such county judge for preparing and certifying any transcript of record of such proceedings or a copy of any document filed in said office, and said section shall not apply to actions or proceedings pending in such county judge's court on July 1st, 1939.

History.—§§1-5, ch. 19633, 1939.

36.19 Institution of civil action; fixed fee.—

(1) Upon the institution of any civil action, suit or proceeding in the county judge's court of any county of the state, there shall be paid by the party or parties so instituting such action, suit or proceeding, as and for fees of the county judge, for all services to be performed by him therein, in lieu of all other fees heretofore charged, except as hereinafter provided, the sum of five dollars.

(2) The term "suits and proceedings" as used in §§36.19-36.21 shall be construed to apply to those civil actions, and only those, defined in §36.01(1).

(3) The civil fees provided by §§36.19-36.21 shall be considered as earned by the county judge on the day the suit, proceeding or action is instituted and no further charge shall be made, except as provided in §§36.19-36.21 by the county judge or his successors in office, and the payment of said fees shall be a condition precedent to the institution of the suit or proceeding and the issuance of process.

History.—§§1-3, ch. 25070, 1949.

36.20 Fee in criminal action.—

(1) The county judge of every county having a county judge's court in the state, shall be paid as fees for all services to be performed by him in any criminal action or proceeding in said county, in lieu of all other fees heretofore charged, except as hereinafter provided, the sum of seven dollars and fifty cents.

(2) The criminal fees provided by §§36.19-

36.21 shall be considered as earned by the county judge upon the entry of final judgment order therein, in the county judge's court, and no further charge shall be made, except as provided in §§36.19-36.21, by the county judge or his successors in office.

History.—§§4, 5, ch. 25070, 1949.

36.21 Construction.—

(1) Nothing in §§36.19-36.21 shall be construed as applying to the fees of the county judge for preparing or verifying transcripts of record in appellate proceedings, or for furnishing certified copies of any record or paper.

(2) Nothing in §§36.19-36.21 shall be construed as applying to the fees of the county judge in matters of probate, wills and administration, guardianship, or to the fees for the issuance of search warrants or the holding of inquests of the dead.

(3) Sections 36.19-36.21 shall only apply to county judges' courts but shall not apply to county courts or criminal courts of record.

(4) Sections 36.19-36.21 shall not apply to any suit, proceeding or criminal action pending on the day it goes into effect.

History.—§§6-9, ch. 25070, 1949.

37.01 Justice of the peace, jurisdiction.—Each justice of the peace in this state shall have:

(1) Jurisdiction in cases at law in which the demand or value of the property involved does not exceed one hundred dollars and in which the cause of action accrued or the defendant resides in his district, including:

(a) In actions arising on contracts for the recovery of money only, where the sum demanded does not exceed one hundred dollars.

(b) In actions for damages for injury to rights pertaining to the person, or to personal or real property, when the damages claimed do not exceed one hundred dollars.

(c) In actions for penalties not exceeding one hundred dollars.

(d) In actions upon bonds conditioned for the payment of money not exceeding one hundred dollars, though the penalty exceeds that sum, the judgment to be given for the sum actually due. When payments are to be made by installments, an action may be brought for each installment as it becomes due, when the installments do not exceed one hundred dollars each.

(e) In actions upon judgments rendered in courts of justices of the peace or by justices or other inferior courts in cities; but no such action shall be brought in the same county within five years after the rendition of the judgment, except where the docket or record of such judgment shall be lost or destroyed.

(f) To take and enter judgment on the confession of the defendant, when the amount confessed does not exceed one hundred dollars, exclusive of costs.

(g) In actions for damages for fraud on sale, purchase or exchange of personal property, where the damages claimed do not exceed one hundred dollars.

(h) Of proceedings in attachment, garnishment, replevin, enforcement of liens and distress for rent, when the amount of property involved does not exceed in value one hundred dollars. The proceedings in all such cases shall be as provided by law.

(i) To foreclose mortgages and enforce liens on personal property, where the debt secured does not exceed one hundred dollars.

(2) Jurisdiction, in counties having a population of over fifty thousand according to the last preceding state census and no county court or criminal court of record, to try and determine all misdemeanors committed in their respective districts punishable by fine not exceeding five hundred dollars or by imprisonment not exceeding six months.

(3) Jurisdiction, in counties having a population of over fifty thousand according to the last preceding state census and a county court, to try and determine all misdemeanors committed in their respective districts punishable by fine not exceeding one hundred dollars or by imprisonment not exceeding three months.

(4) Jurisdiction, in counties having a population of not less than thirty thousand and not more than forty-five thousand according to the last preceding state census and a county court, to try and determine all misdemeanors committed in their respective districts punishable by fine not exceeding one hundred dollars or by imprisonment not exceeding three months.

(5) After July 1, 1953, each justice of peace, in counties of this state having a population of not less than twenty-three thousand six hundred twenty-five and not more than twenty-four thousand five hundred inhabitants according to the latest official census, who holds his court a distance of thirty-five or more miles from the county seat, shall have jurisdiction to try and determine all misdemeanors committed in their respective districts punishable by fine not exceeding five hundred dollars or by imprisonment not exceeding six months or both; provided, however, that after July 1, 1953, no justice of peace shall change his place of holding court with intent to bring his court within the purview of this subsection.

cf.—§775.06, Alternative punishment.

§37.24, Jurisdiction in counties having a criminal court of record.

§38.22 Contempts, punishment.

37.011 Justice of the peace courts; jurisdiction.—In all counties in the state having a population of more than four hundred thousand inhabitants according to the latest official statewide decennial census, every justice of the peace court shall have concurrent jurisdiction in all cases at law relating to landlord and tenant, wherein the matter in controversy does not exceed, exclusive of interest and cost, the sum of one hundred dollars.

History.—§1, ch. 59-284.

37.02 Justice of the peace, no jurisdiction.—No justice of the peace shall have jurisdiction of civil actions:

(1) In which the state is a party, except for penalties not exceeding one hundred dollars.

(2) Where the title to or boundaries of real estate shall come into question. If it appear on the trial that title to or boundary of real estate is in question, and such title or boundary shall be disputed by the defendant, the justice shall dismiss the action and render judgment against the plaintiff for the costs.

(3) For false imprisonment, libel, slander, malicious prosecution, criminal conversation or seduction.

History.—§2, ch. 2095, 1887; RS 1611; GS 2075; RGS 3366; CGL 5219.

37.03 Justice of the peace, committing magistrate.—Each justice of the peace may issue process for the arrest of all persons charged with felonies and misdemeanors not within their jurisdiction to try, and make the same returnable before himself or the county judge for examination, discharge, commitment or bail of the accused. Said justice of the peace may also hold inquests of the dead.

History.—§11, Art. V, Florida constitution. cf.—§§902.01-902.19, Preliminary examination in criminal cases.

37.05 Districts, evidence of.—The boundaries or limits of the said justice districts, so laid off and established, shall be spread upon the minutes of the county commissioners, and such minutes shall be conclusive evidence thereof.

History.—§3, ch. 3722, 1887; RS 1603; GS 2067; RGS 3358; CGL 5211.

37.06 Districts, enlargement of.—In all counties where there shall be any justice of the peace district in and for which no justice of the peace shall be elected, qualified or commissioned, the county commissioners of such county shall attach the territory of such justice of the peace district to the territory of some adjacent justice of the peace district which has a justice of the peace, and make it a part thereof by an order to be recorded in the minutes of the proceedings of such county commissioners, which territory shall thereafter, unless otherwise ordered by the board of county commissioners, be considered as part of the justice's district to which it has been attached; a copy of which order shall be posted at the court house of the county.

History.—§1604 RS 1892; §1, ch. 3893, 1899; GS 2068; RGS 3359; CGL 5212.

37.07 Districts, alteration of.—If any new district be made, so that the boundaries of a district or districts existing at the time shall be abolished, or if any district shall be abolished, the county commissioners, at the time of such abolition or obliteration, shall designate the district in which shall preside the justice who shall be successor to the justice presiding in the obliterated or abolished district or districts.

History.—§1605 RS 1892; GS 2069; RGS 3360; CGL 5213.

37.08 General provisions respecting.—All the provisions of law which can be applied to courts of justices of the peace, or to any proceeding therein, or to any officer thereof, shall be applicable thereto in all cases except when they are expressly or impliedly restricted to courts other than justice of the peace courts, and except when they are inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter.

History.—§1598 RS 1892; GS 2062; RGS 3353; CGL 5206.

37.09 Oaths.—Each and every justice of the peace shall, before he enters upon the duties of his office, take and subscribe an oath to faithfully perform the duties of his office, and shall file the same with the clerk of the circuit court.

History.—§6, Nov. 28, 1828; RS 1599; GS 2063; RGS 3354; CGL 5207.

37.10 Bond, in small counties.—Each justice of the peace in counties having a population of one hundred fifty thousand or less according to the last preceding state census, shall give bond in the sum of five hundred dollars, which shall be governed by the provisions governing bonds to be given by the clerk of the circuit court.

History.—§8, ch. 3724, 1887; RS 1600; GS 2064; RGS 3355; CGL 5208; §1, ch. 20719, 1941. cf.—§§28.01 to 28.05, Bond of circuit court clerk.

37.11 Bond, in large counties.—In each county in the state, having a population in excess of one hundred fifty thousand according to the last preceding state census, the justice of the peace, before being commissioned, shall give bond in a penalty which shall not be less than five hundred dollars, nor more than twenty-five hundred dollars, to be fixed by the board of county commissioners of his county, payable to the governor of the state and his successors in office, with two or more good and sufficient sureties to be approved by the board of county commissioners and the comptroller, and to be filed with the secretary of state, which bond shall be conditioned upon the faithful discharge of the duties of his office. Each surety upon such bond may bind himself for a specified sum, but the aggregate amount for which the sureties shall bind themselves shall not be less than the full penalty of the bond. Each surety upon such bond shall make affidavit that he is a resident of the county for which the respective officer is to be commissioned and that he has sufficient visible property therein, unencumbered and not exempt from sale under legal process, to make good his bond. The above provisions as to number of sureties, affidavit of residence and justification of same, shall not apply to solvent surety companies authorized to do business and execute official bonds in this state.

History.—§§1-4, ch. 17754, 1937; CGL 5208(1).

37.12 Seal.—Each justice of the peace shall provide himself with a seal, upon which shall be impressed around the margin the words, "State of Florida, _____ County," and in the center "(Number) Justice's District," and it shall have nothing else thereon.

History.—§1601 RS 1892; RGS 3356; CGL 5209.

37.13 Terms.—Trial terms of justice of the peace courts shall be held on such day as the judge or justice thereof shall designate therefor in the manner provided in §37.14.

History.—§1606 RS 1892; §2, ch. 1438, 1895; GS 2070; RGS 3361; CGL 5214.

37.14 Written notice to be given.—Whenever the day of trial term shall be fixed upon for any justice of the peace court by the judge or justice thereof, written notice of the same shall be made and given by such judge or justice to (and filed in the office of) the clerk of the circuit court of the county.

History.—§1607 RS 1892; §3, ch. 1438, 1895; GS 2071; RGS 3362; CGL 5215.

37.15 Docket.—Every justice of the peace shall keep a docket book, in which he shall make fair and accurate entries of all causes brought before him, and a minute of all the proceedings, including the service and return of process, the appearance of such parties as may appear, the fact of trial, whether by the court or jury, the verdict of the jury or finding by the justice, the judgment, including damages and costs separately stated, the issuing of execution and to whom issued, with the date thereof and the return thereon, and a marginal memorandum of the items of all costs, including justice's fee, sheriff's or constable's fees, and witnesses' fees; which docket, or certified copy thereof, shall be evidence of the matters therein stated.

cf.—§81.31, Turning over docket to successor.

37.16 Executive officer.—The sheriff or any constable of the county shall be the executive officer of the courts of justice of the peace but if the sheriff or constable shall, for any reason, be disqualified or unable to act, the justice of the peace may appoint any individual, not interested in the case on trial, to serve process and to perform all duties of such executive officer. Any constable of the county in which the process issued may serve the process of the county judge's court and justice of the peace courts in any district of said county where the same may be lawfully served, provided he shall not be entitled to greater mileage in any case in serving writs from courts of justice of the peace than he would be if the writ issued from such court in the district in which such constable resides and for which he was elected.

History.—§41, Nov. 12, 1828; §32, ch. 2093, 1877; RS 1259, 2846; §1, ch. 4384, 1895; §1, ch. 4989, 1901; GS 1687, 3902; RGS 2897, 3368; CGL 4595, 5221.

37.17 Constables, bond.—Every constable shall give bond in the sum of five hundred dollars, which shall be governed by the provisions governing bond to be given by the clerk of the circuit court.

cf.—§§28.01 to 28.05, Bond of clerk of circuit court.

37.18 Constables, duties.—Constables in the several counties shall serve all summonses and warrants, and levy all executions placed in their hands, agreeably to the tenor thereof, and make due returns of the same to the court to which they may be made returnable; and if any constable shall fail to pay over money collected by him on any execution or other process to the person entitled to receive the same on demand, he shall be liable to a penalty of twenty-five per cent upon the amount so collected for such failure; and it shall be the duty of the court issuing such execution or other process, upon application of the plaintiff, upon his making it appear that said constable has received the amount of said execution or other process, or any part thereof, and has failed to pay over the same on demand, to issue an execution against said constable and his sureties for the same, together with the penalty herein prescribed; which execution shall be levied, and the money raised by some other constable of the county, out of the property of said defaulting constable and his sureties.

History.—§42, Nov. 21, 1828; RS 1258; GS 1686; RGS 2896; CGL 4594.

37.19 Constables, resignation, death and removal.—Whenever any constable resigns or is removed from office, he shall deposit all papers and unfinished business in the court to which the same is made returnable; and if any constable going out of office shall fail to deposit his papers and unfinished business as aforesaid, he and his sureties shall be liable to the action of any person injured by such failure; and if any constable shall die, his executor or administrator shall deposit his papers as aforesaid, and the court in which the said papers and unfinished business are deposited shall cause the same to be acted upon.

History.—§49, Nov. 21, 1828; RS 1260; GS 1688; RGS 2898; CGL 4596.

37.20 Constables, fees.—The fees of constables shall be the same as are at this time allowed sheriffs for like service.

cf.—§30.23 Fees of sheriffs and constables.

37.21 Justice may bind over to keep the peace.—After an affidavit is made before any justice of the peace by any person that he has reason to believe, and does believe, that he will suffer personal violence at the hands of another, he shall issue his warrant for the arrest of the party against whom the affidavit has been made, commanding the officer into whose hands the warrant has been placed, to bring the said person against whom the warrant has issued before him, and if, after a full and thorough examination, he shall have reason to believe, from evidence produced before him, that there is just cause for said complaint, he shall bind the person so arrested over by bond, with two or more good and sufficient sureties, said bond to be approved by the justice, for one year, to keep the peace, and, upon failure of said person to give bond as aforesaid, he shall commit such person to jail until the required bond is given, but the said commitment shall not be for more than three months.

cf.—§§923.04-923.08, Forms of proceedings.

37.22 Disqualification.—In case a justice of the peace be disqualified or unable from any cause to try any criminal case, the same may be tried before any other justice of the peace of the county, or before the county judge.

History.—§2836 RS 1892; GS 3900; RGS 5998; CGL 8292.

37.23 Subpoena, oaths.—Any justice of the peace may issue subpoenas to compel the attendance of witnesses before any court held by a justice of the peace, and may administer all necessary oaths in proceedings before such court.

History.—§2, ch. 1949, 1873; RS 2845; GS 3901; RGS 5999; CGL 8293.

37.24 Justice of the peace; criminal jurisdiction in certain counties.—

(1) After the passage of this section, justice of the peace courts located a distance of forty or more miles from the county seat in counties having a criminal court of record shall have power to hold a court to try and determine misdemeanor cases in which the penalty is not more than one hundred dollars fine or ninety days in jail, or both such fine and imprisonment; provided, however, should the defendant, after having been duly advised of his constitutional rights, demand a trial by jury, then and in that event he, the defendant, shall be bound over to the criminal court of record, the county court, or the county judge's court as the case may be, and required to furnish good and sufficient bond to secure his appearance before such court; provided, further, that all defendants arraigned before such justice of the peace courts, who elect to waive jury trial or enter a plea of guilty, shall be required to sign a formal waiver certified to by the judge of said court, and the formal waiver so executed shall be filed as other papers in such trial.

(2) Provided, further, that nothing in this section shall be construed as affecting the present powers of the various boards of county commissioners in changing boundaries, reducing the number of districts of their respective counties or any other power now held by the boards of county commissioners under the constitution of the state.

(3) Provided, that each justice of the peace coming within the purview of this section shall, within thirty days after June 14, 1943, appear before the clerk of the circuit court and make a certificate setting forth the exact distance by the nearest traveled route from the county seat to his place of holding court, to which the clerk of the circuit court shall certify, and for which the justice shall pay the clerk his legal fee. Provided, further, that no justice of the peace shall, after June 5, 1943, change his place of holding court with intent to bring his court within the purview of this section.

(4) Nothing in this section shall be construed as affecting counties of the state in which justice of the peace courts now or hereafter have trial jurisdiction of misdemeanors as provided by law.

(5) Each justice of the peace coming within the provisions of this section shall procure from the clerk of the circuit court four certified copies of the certificate as provided in subsection (3), and forthwith file one each with the following state officers: State auditor, attorney general, state comptroller, and the clerk of the supreme court of the state.

(6) No justice of the peace shall exercise the powers vested in his court by the provisions of this section until he shall have complied with the requirements herein provided.

- 38.10 Disqualification of judge for prejudice; application; affidavits; etc.
- 38.12 Resignation, death or removal of judges; disposition of pending matters and papers.
- 38.13 Judge ad litem; when may be selected in the circuit or county court.
- 38.14 Voluntary retirement of circuit judges.
- 38.15 Retirement of disabled judges.
- 38.16 Retired judge prohibited from practicing law.
- 38.17 Deductions from salary; election.
- 38.18 Retirement, circuit judge; Duval county.
- 38.19 Appropriation.
- 38.22 Power to punish.
- 38.23 Contempts defined.

38.01 Disqualification when judge party; effect of attempted judicial acts.—Every judge of this state who appears of record as a party to any cause before him shall be disqualified to act therein, and shall forthwith enter an order declaring himself to be disqualified in said cause. Any and all attempted judicial acts by any judge so disqualified in a cause, whether done inadvertently or otherwise, shall be utterly null and void and of no effect. No judge shall be disqualified from sitting in the trial of any suit in which any county or municipal corporation is a party by reason that such judge is a resident or taxpayer within such county or municipal corporation.

History.—§2, ch. 16053, 1933; CGL 1936 Supp. 4155(1); §1, ch. 59-43.

38.02 Suggestion of disqualification; grounds; proceedings on suggestion and effect.—In any cause in any of the courts of this state any party to said cause, or any person or corporation interested in the subject matter of such litigation, may at any time before final judgment, if the case be one at law, and at any time before final decree, if the case be one in chancery, show by a suggestion filed in the cause that the judge before whom the cause is pending, or some person related to said judge by consanguinity or affinity within the third degree, is a party thereto, or is interested in the result thereof, or that said judge is related to an attorney or counsellor of record in said cause by consanguinity or affinity within the third degree, or that said judge is a material witness for or against one of the parties to said cause, but such an order shall not be subject to collateral attack. Such suggestions shall be filed in the cause within thirty days after the party filing the suggestion, or his attorney, or attorneys, of record, or either of them, learned of such disqualification, otherwise the ground, or grounds, of disqualification shall be taken and considered as waived. If the truth of any suggestion appear from the record in said cause, the said judge shall forthwith enter an order reciting the filing of the suggestion, the grounds of his disqualification, and declaring himself to be disqualified in said cause. If the truth of any such suggestion does not appear from the record in said cause, the judge may by order entered therein require the filing in the cause of affidavits touching the truth or falsity of such suggestion. If the judge finds that the suggestion is true, he shall forthwith enter an order reciting the ground of his disqualification and declaring himself disqualified in the cause; if he finds that the suggestion is false, he shall forthwith enter his order so reciting and declaring himself to be qualified in the cause. Any such order declaring a judge to be disqualified shall not be subject to collateral attack nor shall it be subject to review. Any such order declaring a judge qualified shall not be subject to collateral attack but shall be subject to review by the court having appellate jurisdiction of the cause in connection with which the order was entered.

History.—§3, ch. 16053, 1933; CGL 1936 Supp. 4155(2); §1, ch. 26890, 1951; §6, ch. 63-559.

38.03 Waiver of grounds of disqualification by parties.—The parties to any cause, or their attorneys of record, may, by written stipulation filed in the cause, waive any of the grounds of disqualification named in §38.02 and such waiver shall be valid and binding as to orders previously entered as well as to future acts of the judge therein; provided, however, that nothing herein shall prevent a judge from disqualifying himself of his own motion under §38.05.

History.—§4, ch. 16053, 1933; CGL 1936 Supp. 4155(3).

38.04 Sworn statement by judge holding himself qualified.—Whenever any judge shall enter an order under §38.02 declaring himself qualified to act in said cause, he shall contemporaneously therewith file therein a sworn statement that to the best of his knowledge and belief the ground or grounds of the disqualification named in the suggestion do not exist.

History.—§5, ch. 16053, 1933; CGL 1936 Supp. 4155(4).

38.05 Disqualification of judge on own motion.—Any judge may of his own motion disqualify himself where, to his own knowledge, any of the grounds for a suggestion of disqualification, as named in §38.02, exist. The failure of a judge to so disqualify himself under this section shall not be assignable as error or subject to review.

History.—§6, ch. 16053, 1933; CGL 1936 Supp. 4155(5); §6, ch. 63-559.

38.06 Effect of acts where judge fails to disqualify himself.—In any cause where the grounds for a suggestion of disqualification, as set forth in §38.02, appear of record in the cause, but no suggestion of disqualification is filed therein, the orders, judgments and decrees entered therein by the judge shall be valid. Where, on a suggestion of disqualification the judge enters an order declaring himself qualified, the orders, judgments and decrees entered therein by the said judge shall not be void and shall not be subject to collateral attack.

cf.—§58.05(2) Cost; prohibition against unlawful exaction.

38.07 Effect of orders, etc., entered prior to disqualification; petition for reconsideration.—Where orders have been entered in any cause by a judge prior to the entry of any order of disqualification under §38.02 or §38.05, any party to the cause may, within thirty days after the filing in the cause of the order of the chief justice of the supreme court, as provided for in §38.09, petition the judge so designated by said chief justice for a reconsideration of the orders entered by the disqualified judge prior to the date of the entry of the order of disqualification. Such a petition shall set forth with particularity the matters of law or fact to be relied upon as grounds for the modification or vacation of the said orders. Such a petition shall be granted as a matter of right. Upon the granting of the petition, notice of the time and place of the hearing thereon, together with a copy of the petition, shall be mailed by the attorney, or attorneys, of record for the petitioners to the other attorney, or attorneys of record, or to the party or parties if they have no attorneys of record. This notice shall be mailed at least eight days prior to the date fixed by the judge for the said hearing. The judge before whom the cause is then pending may, after hearing had, affirm, approve, confirm, re-enter, modify or vacate said orders.

History.—§8, ch. 16053, 1933; CGL 1936 Supp. 4155(7); §10, ch. 63-572.

38.08 Effect of orders where petition for reconsideration not filed.—If no petition for reconsideration is filed, as provided for in §38.07, all orders entered by the disqualified judge prior to the entry of the order of disqualification shall be as binding and valid as if said orders had been duly entered by a qualified judge authorized to act in the cause. The fact that an order was entered by a judge who is subsequently disqualified under §§38.02 or 38.05, shall not be assignable as error or subject to review by the appropriate appellate court unless a petition for reconsideration as provided for in §38.07, was filed by the party urging the matter as error, and the judge before whom the cause was then pending refused to vacate or modify said order.

History.—§9, ch. 16053, 1933; CGL 1936 Supp. 4155(8); §6, ch. 63-559.

38.09 Designation of judge to hear cause when order of disqualification entered.—Every judge of this state shall upon the entry of an order of disqualification advise the chief justice of the supreme court of the entry of said order who shall enter an order of assignment as provided by the Florida appellate rules and §25.071. In the event any judge shall be disqualified as herein provided, upon application for any temporary writ of injunction or habeas corpus, he shall immediately enter an order of disqualification, whereupon said cause may be presented to any other judge of a court of the same jurisdiction as the court in which said cause is pending, and it shall be the duty of any such judge to hear and determine such matters until such substitute judge is so designated.

History.—§10, ch. 16053, 1933; CGL 1936 Supp. 4155(9); §11, ch. 63-572.

38.10 Disqualification of judge for prejudice; application; affidavits; etc.—Whenever a party to any action or proceeding, shall make and file an affidavit that he fears that he will not receive a fair trial in the court where the suit is pending on account of the prejudice of the judge of said court against the applicant, or in favor of the adverse party, such judge shall proceed no further therein, but another judge shall be designated in the manner prescribed by the laws of this state for the substitution of judges for the trial of causes where the presiding judge is disqualified. Every such affidavit shall state the facts and the reasons for the belief that any such bias or prejudice exists, and such affidavit shall be filed not less than ten days before the beginning of the term of court, or good cause shown for the failure to so file same within such time. Any such affidavit so filed shall be accompanied by a certificate of counsel of record that such affidavit and application are made in good faith, and the facts stated as a basis for making the said affidavit shall be supported in substance by affidavit of at least two reputable citizens of the county not of kin to defendant or counsel for the defendant; provided, however, that when any party to any action shall have suggested the disqualification of a trial judge and an order shall have been made admitting the disqualification of such judge and another judge shall have been assigned and transferred to act in lieu of the judge so held to be disqualified the judge so assigned and transferred shall not be disqualified on account of alleged prejudice against the party making the suggestion in the first instance, or in favor of the adverse party, unless such judge shall admit and hold that it is then a fact that he, the said judge, does not stand fair and impartial between the parties, and if such judge shall hold, rule and adjudge that he does stand fair and impartial as between the parties and their respective interests he shall cause such ruling to be entered on the minutes of the court and shall proceed to preside as judge in the pending cause. The ruling of such judge may be assigned as error, and be reviewed as are other rulings of the trial court.

cf.—§911.01, Criminal cases, change of judge for prejudice.

38.12 Resignation, death or removal of judges; disposition of pending matters and papers.—Upon the resignation, death or impeachment of any judge, all matters pending before him shall be heard and determined by his successor, and parties making any motion before such judge shall suffer no detriment by reason of his resignation, death or impeachment. All judges, other than justices of the peace, upon resignation or impeachment shall file all papers pending before them with the clerk of the court in which the cause is pending; and the executor or administrator of any judge who dies pending any matter before him, shall file all papers found among the papers of his intestate or testate with the said clerk.

38.13 Judge ad litem; when may be selected in the circuit or county court.—When from any cause, the judge of a circuit or county court is disqualified from presiding in any civil case, the parties may agree upon an attorney-at-law, which agreement shall be entered upon the record of said cause, who shall be judge ad litem, and shall preside over the trial of, and make orders in said case, as if he were the judge of the court.

Nothing in this section shall prevent the parties from transferring the cause to another circuit or county court, as the case may be, or they may have the case submitted to a referee.

38.14 Voluntary retirement of circuit judges.—Whenever any circuit judge has elected to take the benefits of this law in accordance with the terms hereof, and has served as such judge for twelve years or more or who is serving the twelfth continuous year as such judge, continuously or otherwise, and has attained the age of sixty years or more, or has served as such judge for twenty years or more, continuously or otherwise, such judge may voluntarily resign and retire from his office, and upon such retirement he shall be paid, during the remainder of his natural life, on his own monthly requisition, from the circuit judges' retirement trust fund hereinafter established, two-thirds of the compensation being paid to such judge at the time of his resignation and retirement; and there is hereby appropriated annually out of said circuit judges' retirement trust fund sufficient money to meet the requirements of this section.

History.—§§1, 3, ch. 19000, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 4779 (1), 4779 (3); §7, ch. 22000, 1943; §2, ch. 61-119.

38.15 Retirement of disabled judges.—

(1) Whenever any circuit judge has elected to take the benefits of this law in accordance with the terms hereof and has served as such circuit judge for ten years or more, continuously or otherwise, and shall, while holding such office, become totally and permanently disabled, physically or mentally, or both, from further rendering useful and efficient service as such judge, such judge may voluntarily resign and retire from his office, and upon such retirement he shall be paid, during the remainder of his natural life, on his own monthly requisition, from the circuit judges' retirement trust fund hereinafter established one-half of the compensation being paid to such judge at the time of his resignation and retirement; and there is hereby appropriated annually out of said circuit judges' retirement trust fund sufficient money to meet the requirements of this section.

(2) No such judge shall be permitted to retire and resign under the provisions of this section until examined by a duly qualified physician or surgeon, or board of physicians or surgeons, to be selected by the governor for that purpose, and found to be disabled in the degree and in the manner specified herein.

38.16 Retired judge prohibited from practicing law.—No judge drawing retirement compensation as provided in this charter shall engage in the practice of law.

History.—§4, ch. 19000, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 4779 (4).

38.17 Deductions from salary; election.—Two per cent shall be deducted from each installment of the salary of each circuit judge heretofore electing to come under the retirement provision of chapter 19000, acts of 1939, as provided in §5 thereof, and said amount so deducted shall be deposited in the special fund established in the state treasury, which is and shall be known as the "Circuit judges' retirement trust fund." Any person who may hereafter qualify as circuit judge shall be entitled to the benefits of these retirement provisions upon giving notice to the state comptroller and the state treasurer within ninety days after taking office, and, after the giving of such notice, so long as such circuit judge shall hold office, two per cent shall be deducted from each installment of salary of such circuit judge and the said amount so deducted shall be deposited into said circuit judges' retirement trust fund. The word "salary" shall be deemed to mean the total salary received by any circuit judge including therein all amounts paid by any county of this state.

History.—§5, ch. 19000, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 4779 (5); §2, ch. 61-119.

38.18 Retirement, circuit judge; Duval county.—Two per cent shall be deducted from each installment of salary of the judge of the circuit court of Duval county, holding office pursuant to the provisions of §26(8) of Art. V of the constitution of Florida, provided said judge has heretofore taken advantage of the provisions of chapter 19000, acts 1939, as provided in §6 thereof, and said amount so deducted shall be deposited in the aforesaid circuit judges' retirement trust fund. Any person who may hereafter qualify as circuit judge pursuant to the provisions of §26(8) of Art. V of the constitution of Florida shall be entitled to the benefits of these retirement provisions upon giving notice, each and severally, to the state comptroller, the state treasurer, the chairman of the board of county commissioners of Duval county and the clerk of the circuit court in and for Duval county within ninety days after taking office, and after the giving of such notice, so long as such circuit judge shall hold office, two per cent shall be deducted from each installment of salary of said circuit judge, and said amount so deducted shall be deposited into the circuit judges' retirement trust fund.

History.—§6, ch. 19000, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 4779(6); §2, ch. 61-119.

38.19 Appropriation.—There is hereby appropriated annually and shall be paid into said circuit judges retirement trust fund out of any funds in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, sufficient moneys to meet the requirements of these retirement provisions, taking into account the sum paid into the circuit judges retirement trust fund aforesaid.

History.—§7, ch. 19000, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 4779(7); §2, ch. 61-119.

38.22 Power to punish.—Every court may punish contempts against it whether such contempts be direct, indirect, or constructive, and in any such proceeding the court shall proceed to hear and determine all questions of law and fact, but the punishment imposed by a justice of the peace shall not exceed twenty dollars fine, or twenty-four hours' imprisonment.

History.—§1, Nov. 23, 1828; RS 975; GS 1345; RGS 2534; CGL 4161; §1, ch. 23004, 1945.

38.23 Contempts defined.—A refusal to obey any legal order, mandate or decree, made or given by any judge either in term time or in vacation relative to any of the business of said court, after due notice thereof, shall be considered a contempt, and punished accordingly. But nothing said or written, or published, in vacation, to or of any judge, or of any decision made by a judge, shall in any case be construed to be a contempt.

39.01 Definitions.—When used in this chapter:

(1) "Juvenile court" means any court the name of which includes the word "juvenile", heretofore or hereafter established in any county or in any district consisting of two or more counties, and the county judge's court in every county in which no separate juvenile court is established either for that county or for a district including that county within its limits. If any separate juvenile court is hereafter established, each county judge's court in the county or district wherein the separate juvenile court is established shall cease to be a juvenile court, and if any separate juvenile court heretofore or hereafter established shall be abolished, each county judge's court within the county or district wherein the separate juvenile court was established shall become a juvenile court.

(2) "Separate juvenile court" means a juvenile court other than one presided over by a county judge acting as juvenile court judge.

(3) "Judge" means the judge of the juvenile court, unless the context shows that the judge of another court is meant.

(4) "Counselor" means the counselor of the juvenile court.

(5) "Assistant counselor" means an assistant counselor of the juvenile court.

(6) "Child" means any married or unmarried person under the age of seventeen years, or any person who is charged with a violation of law occurring prior to the time that person reached the age of seventeen years.

(7) "Adult" means a person other than a child.

(8) "Parent" means the father or mother of a child or the natural mother but not the natural father of an illegitimate child. If a child has been legally adopted, the term "parent" means the adoptive rather than the natural mother or father.

(9) "Legal custodian" means the legal guardian of a child, or the person who stands in loco parentis to and has the custody of a child.

(10) "Dependent child" means a child who, for any reason, is destitute, homeless, dependent upon the public for support, or has not proper parental support, maintenance, care, or guardianship; or who is neglected as to proper or necessary support or education as required by law, or as to medical, psychiatric, psychological or other care necessary for the well-being of the child; or who is abandoned by the child's parent or other custodian; or whose condition or environment are such as to injure or endanger the welfare of the child or the welfare of others; or whose home, by reason of neglect, cruelty or depravity, or other adverse condition, on the part of the parents, legal custodians, guardian or other person in whose care the child may be, is an unfit place for the child.

(11) "Delinquent child" means a child who commits a violation of law, regardless of where the violation occurred; or is incorrigible; or is a persistent truant from school; or who is beyond the control of the child's parent or other legal custodian; or who associates with criminals, reputed criminals, or vicious or immoral persons; or is growing up in idleness or crime; or whose occupation, behavior, or associations are such as to injure or endanger the welfare of the child or the welfare of others; or who is found in a place predominantly used for selling intoxicating drinks for consumption on the premises.

(12) "Violation of law" means violation of any law of the United States, the state, or another state within the United States, or a city or town ordinance of a city or town within the United States. "Federal law" means a law of the United States.

(13) "Licensed child caring institution" means a person, society, association, or institution licensed by the state welfare board to care for, receive, or board children.

(14) "Licensed child placing agency" means a person, society, association, or institution licensed by the state welfare board to care for, receive, or board children, and to place children in a licensed child caring institution or a foster or adoptive home.

(15) "County children's committee" means the county committee referred to in §417.03.

(16) "Juvenile court merit board" means those members of the county children's committee described as "a member of the district welfare board, a member of the board of county commissioners, the county school superintendent or a member of the county school board, and the director of the county health unit where one exists," and the county board of visitors referred to in §416.07.

(17) "Florida Bar" means the Florida Bar referred to in the opinion of the supreme court integrating the Florida Bar, filed June 7, 1949, in re Petition of Florida State Bar Ass'n. et al., 40 So. (2d) 902, and in the rules of that court relating thereto approved and adopted on February 27, 1950, and March 4, 1950.

(18) "Industrial school" means the Florida industrial school for boys or the state industrial school for girls referred to in chapters 955 and 956, or any similar school the state may establish.

(19) "Detention home" means the detention room, house of detention, or detention home referred to in chapter 416, and such similar detention quarters for delinquent or dependent children as may have been or may hereafter be established under general laws or under special acts applying only to particular counties.

(20) "Juvenile court fund" means the sum appropriated for the expense of operating the juvenile court as set forth in this chapter.

History.—§1, ch. 26880, 1951.

39.02 Jurisdiction.—

(1) The juvenile court shall have exclusive original jurisdiction of dependent and delinquent children domiciled, living or found within the county or district in which the court is established. The juvenile court of the county or district in which the child is found shall assume jurisdiction of the child, which jurisdiction shall be exclusive unless the judge thereof, upon approval of the judge of the juvenile court of the county or district in which is located the domicile or usual residence of the child, shall transfer the case and child to the latter court, before or after hearing, in which event the latter court shall thereafter exercise exclusive jurisdiction; provided, however, if the judge shall find that any child brought into juvenile court who, if an adult, would be charged with violating a federal law, state law, or city ordinance relating to the operation or use of a motor vehicle, the judge may enter an order waiving jurisdiction and certifying the case to the court which would have jurisdiction of the child if the child were an adult, and thereafter the child shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the other court as if the child were an adult.

(2) All proceedings against a child for alleged violation of law must be brought in the juvenile court, except as provided in subsection (6) of this section.

(3) If during the pendency of any criminal charge in any other court of the state of Florida or of any city or town therein, against any person presumed to be an adult, it shall be ascertained that the person is a child, or was a child at the time the offense was committed, that court shall forthwith transfer the case, together with the physical custody of the child and all physical evidence, papers, documents, and testimony, original and duplicate, connected therewith, to the appropriate juvenile court; provided, that this shall not apply to any case certified to that court by the juvenile court judge as provided in subsection (6) of this section. The juvenile court is exclusively authorized to assume jurisdiction over any delinquent child arrested and charged with violating a federal law or a law of the District of Columbia, who is found or living or domiciled in the county or district in which the juvenile court is established, when the child is surrendered to the juvenile court as provided in Title 18, U.S.C., section 5001.

(4) The judge of the juvenile court shall have the jurisdiction of a committing magistrate.

(5) When jurisdiction of any child shall have been obtained, the court shall retain jurisdiction, unless relinquished by order, until the child reaches twenty-one years of age; provided, that this shall not prevent the exercise of jurisdiction of any other court having jurisdiction in case the child, after becoming an adult, commits a violation of law.

(6) If the judge deems that any child brought into juvenile court as a delinquent child, who is fourteen years of age or older, and who, if an adult, would be charged with a violation of Florida law constituting a felony, should be transferred to the court which would have jurisdiction of the child if the child were an adult, or if any child brought into juvenile court as a delinquent child, and who, if an adult, would be charged with a violation of the laws of Florida, so demands prior to or at the commencement of the hearing before the court, the judge shall enter an order waiving jurisdiction and certifying the case to the court which would have jurisdiction of the child if the child were an adult, and thereafter the child shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the other court as if the child were an adult; provided, that a child sixteen years of age or older who, if an adult, would be charged with a capital offense, shall be so transferred; provided, further, that jurisdiction over any child transferred under the provisions hereof shall revert to and be re-invested in the juvenile court making the transfer in the event that no criminal charge is brought against such child in the court to which he is transferred by the end of the next term of said court which commences after such transfer, or in the event that a criminal charge brought within that time is nolle prosequed or dismissed, and no further charge is brought in said court within sixty days thereafter; providing further, that any child, irrespective of age, who, if an adult, would be charged with a violation of Florida law punishable by death or life imprisonment and such offense is presented to the grand jury who returns an indictment against said child, then the juvenile court shall waive its jurisdiction of said child for said offense and shall transfer the child to the proper court having jurisdiction to try said offense.

(7) Nothing in this chapter shall be deemed to take away from the juvenile court any jurisdiction or duties conferred upon it by §§232.19, 391.07, 409.03, 416.03, 416.06, 416.07, 416.08, and 417.03.

Nothing in this chapter shall be deemed to take away from the separate juvenile courts heretofore established in the counties of Broward, Dade, Pinellas and Polk any additional juvenile court or domestic relations jurisdiction which may be conferred upon them by chapter 22709, acts of 1945, laws of Florida, as amended (as to Broward); chapter 19597, acts of 1939, laws of Florida, as amended (as to Dade); chapter 11972, acts of 1927, laws of Florida (as to Pinellas); and house bill No. 1234 passed by the legislature at the 1951 session (as to Polk).

History.—§1, ch. 26880, 1951; (6) §1, ch. 28172, 1953; (1), (6) §§1, 2, ch. 29900, 1955; (1) §1, ch. 63-12.

39.03 Taking a child into custody; detention.—

(1) No child shall be taken into custody without an order of the judge of the juvenile court of the county or district wherein the child is found, living, or domiciled, unless (a) the child is in such condition or surroundings that the welfare of the child requires that the child be immediately taken into custody, or (b) the child shall be alleged to have committed a violation of law. In case either of those special circumstances shall exist, any law enforcement officer whose duty it would be to do so if the child were an adult, and any counselor or assistant counselor, may take the child into custody without order of the judge.

(2) Unless otherwise ordered by the judge, the person taking the child into custody shall, whenever practicable, release the child to a parent or legal custodian of the child upon agreement of the parent or legal custodian to produce the child in juvenile court at such time as the court may direct, and shall forthwith make a full written report to the court, stating the facts by reason of which the child was taken into custody.

(3) The person taking and retaining a child in custody shall notify the parents or legal custodians of the child and the principal of the school in which said child is enrolled at the earliest practicable time, and shall, without delay for the purpose of investigation or any other purpose, deliver the child, by the most direct practicable route, to the court of the county or district where the child is taken into custody, or, if the judge has so ordered, to a detention home or licensed child caring institution or county or city jail, within the county or district, designated by the judge, and shall at the earliest practicable time report in writing to the court the facts by reason of which the child was taken into custody. The child shall not under any circumstances be placed in any police or other vehicle which at the same time contains an adult under arrest, nor in a jail, police station, or other place of detention, except on general or special order of the judge; providing, however, where the child is involved in the same offense or transaction with adults, then such child may be transported in the same vehicle with the adults so involved.

(4) The judge shall not make any order directing the delivery of a child to a jail unless neither a detention home nor a licensed child caring institution exists within the county or district, or neither is able to receive the child, or neither is a proper place therefor in the opinion of the judge; and the judge shall, at monthly intervals, inform the board of county commissioners and the county children's committee, in writing, of the number of and reasons for deliveries of children to jail, identifying children by initials and juvenile court case numbers but not by names.

(5) Whenever a child shall, pursuant to order of the judge, be delivered over to any jail, the child shall, in every case without exception, be placed and kept in a part of the jail entirely separate and apart from adult inmates.

(6) No child taken into custody shall be fingerprinted or photographed except by special order of the juvenile court judge, and no original nor any copy of any so taken shall be filed or recorded in any place other than the juvenile court, but all originals and copies thereof shall be delivered over to the juvenile court at the time directed in the order and promptly destroyed; provided, that this shall not apply to the photographing of children at an industrial school. Any record of the child made by any law enforcement officer or other person except the officers and employees of the juvenile court shall be made in a separate record kept for that purpose, identifying the child only by the initials and juvenile court case number of the child; shall not be a public record; and shall not be open to inspection by anyone other than the officers and employees of the juvenile court and by the child, the parents or legal custodians of the child, and their attorneys; provided however, that the records of child traffic violations shall be kept in the full name of the violator and shall be open to inspection and publication in the same manner as adult traffic violations.

(7) No child taken into custody who has not been adjudicated to be a dependent or delinquent child shall be detained in custody longer than two days, excluding Sundays and legal holidays, unless a special order so directing is made by the judge, finding that the release of the child would be inimical to the welfare of the child or of the public, stating the reasons for such finding. The reasons for such finding shall be reviewable by appeal or in habeas corpus proceedings.

History.—§1, ch. 26880, 1951; (3), (6) §§3, 4, ch. 29900, 1955; (3) §1, ch. 59-441; (6) §1, ch. 61-54.

39.04 Investigation.—Upon receiving reliable information that a child within the county or district wherein the juvenile court is established is a dependent or delinquent child, the counselor or an assistant counselor shall investigate and, if the investigation discloses reasonable ground for belief that the child is a dependent or delinquent child, and no petition with reference to the child has been filed in that juvenile court, shall file such a petition.

History.—§1, ch. 26880, 1951.

39.05 Petition.—

(1) The counselor, any assistant counselor, or any other person may file in the juvenile court a petition stating that a child within the county or district wherein the juvenile court is established is a dependent or delinquent child.

(2) The petition must be in writing, signed and verified by the affidavit of the person signing it, made before the judge, counselor, or an assistant counselor of the court in which the petition is filed. The affidavit may be upon information and belief.

(3) The petition, all orders and other papers filed in the official records in any case shall be entitled "In the interest of _____, a child."

(4) The petition shall set forth the name, age, and residence of the child; the names and residence of the parents or legal custodians of the child; and the facts which are alleged to constitute the child a dependent or delinquent child. If any such information shall be unknown to the person signing the petition, the petition shall so state. The petition shall be sufficient if it clearly, fairly, and concisely states the substance of the facts which, if true, constitute the child a dependent or delinquent child, in such manner as to apprise the parents or legal custodians of the child, and to apprise the child if the child is of sufficient age and understanding, of the nature thereof, couched in narrative terms and not in the usual language of criminal informations and indictments.

History.—§1, ch. 26880, 1951.

39.06 Process and service.—

(1) Personal appearance of any person in a hearing before the juvenile court shall obviate the necessity of serving process upon that person.

(2) Upon the filing of a petition containing allegations of facts which, if true, would constitute the child therein named a dependent or delinquent child found, living or domiciled within the county or district wherein the court is established, the court shall investigate and, if those facts appear to be true, a summons reciting briefly the substance of the petition shall be issued out of the juvenile court by the judge, counselor, or an assistant counselor, to the parents and legal custodians of the child named in the petition if their names and residences are ascertainable, and if not ascertainable then to any relative of the child whose name and residence is ascertainable, directing them to appear personally before the juvenile court at a time and place stated in the summons, which time shall not be less than twenty-four hours after service of the summons, and to bring the child before the juvenile court at that time and place if the child is not in custody by order of the juvenile court.

(3) If it appears from the petition that the child named therein is in such condition or surroundings that the welfare of the child requires that the child be taken into custody upon the filing of the petition, or if the petition alleges that the child has committed a violation of law, and the judge deems it advisable to do so, the judge may, by endorsement upon the summons, order that the child shall be taken into custody immediately, and in such case the person serving the summons shall forthwith take the child into custody.

(4) Witness subpoena shall be issued to any other person who will not otherwise appear and whose presence at the hearing is deemed necessary by the judge, counselor, or assistant counselor, or is requested by the child or the parent or legal custodian of the child.

(5) It shall not be necessary to the validity of any juvenile court proceedings concerning a child that the parents or legal custodians of the child be present, if diligent search and inquiry have been made without success by the court to ascertain their identity and residences, or if the parents and legal custodians evade service of or ignore summons, but in that event the judge, counselor, or assistant counselor who made the search and inquiry shall file in the case a certificate as to those facts, and the judge may appoint a guardian ad litem for the child. This subsection shall not modify the provisions of subsection (4) of §39.11.

(6) The jurisdiction of the juvenile court shall attach to the child and case when the summons is served upon a parent or legal custodian of the child, or when the child is taken into custody with or without service of summons and before or after filing of a petition, whichever first occurs, and thereafter the juvenile court may control the child and case in accordance with this chapter.

(7) The process, summons, warrant, and orders of the juvenile court shall run throughout the state, as fully and effectively as the process of the circuit court.

(8) All process, orders, commitments to an industrial school, and other papers issued out of the juvenile court or by the judge thereof in the capacity of committing magistrate may be served or executed, as the judge may direct, by the counselor or an assistant counselor of that juvenile court, or in the same manner as process issued out of a circuit court.

(9) No fee shall be paid for service of any process, orders, or other papers by a counselor or assistant counselor, but any expense incurred therein shall be paid out of the juvenile court fund, except expense incident to transportation of children to an industrial school, which expense shall be paid out of the fine and forfeiture fund of the county wherein the child was found. If any process, orders, or other papers are served or executed by any sheriff or constable, the sheriff or constable shall be compensated in accordance with law out of the funds of the county set aside for that purpose, and not out of the juvenile court fund.

§955.24 Sheriffs expenses in taking offenders to industrial schools.

39.07 No answer required.—No answer to the petition, nor any other pleading, need be filed by any child, parent, or legal custodian, but any matters which might be set forth in an answer or other pleading may be pleaded orally before the court or filed in writing as any such person may choose.

History.—§1, ch. 26880, 1951.

39.08 Medical, psychiatric, and psychological examination and treatment.—After a petition has been filed, the judge may order the child named in the petition to be examined by a physician, psychiatrist, or psychologist willing to do so. After a child has been adjudicated to be a dependent or delinquent child, and before such adjudication with the consent of any parent or legal custodian of the child, the judge may order the child to be treated by a physician, psychiatrist, or psychologist willing to do so. For the purpose of either examination or treatment, the judge may order the child to be placed in a suitable place.

History.—§1, ch. 26880, 1951.

39.09 Hearing.—

(1) The hearing shall be held as soon as practicable after the petition is filed, but reasonable delay for the purpose of investigation or procuring counsel upon request of the child or a parent or legal custodian of the child shall whenever practicable be granted.

(2) Hearings shall be conducted by the judge without a jury, applying the rules of evidence in use in equity cases in the circuit courts, and adjourning the hearings from time to time as necessary. All such hearings, except as hereinafter provided, shall be open to the public and no person shall be excluded therefrom except on special order of the judge, who, in his discretion may close any hearing to the public when the public interest or the welfare of the child, in his opinion, is best served by so doing. In any event, all hearings involving unwed mothers, custody or placement of illegitimate children shall remain confidential and closed to the public as heretofore. Hearings in such cases involving more than one child may be held simultaneously where the several children involved are related to each other or were involved in the same transactions. The child and the parents or legal custodians of the child may be examined separately and apart from each other. This subsection shall not be applicable to hearings before the judge as committing magistrate.

History.—§1, ch. 26880, 1951; (2) §1, ch. 57-257.

39.10 Adjudication.—

(1) If the judge shall find that the child named in a petition is not a dependent or delinquent child, the judge shall enter an order so finding and dismissing the case.

(2) If the judge shall find that the child named in a petition is a dependent or delinquent child, the judge shall incorporate that finding in an order entered in the case, briefly stating the facts upon which the finding is made, and the juvenile court shall thereafter have full jurisdiction to deal with the child as a dependent or delinquent child.

(3) An adjudication by a juvenile court that a child is a dependent or delinquent child shall not be deemed a conviction, nor shall the child be deemed to have been found guilty or to be a criminal by reason of that adjudication, nor shall that adjudication operate to impose upon the child any of the civil disabilities ordinarily imposed by or resulting from conviction, nor to disqualify or prejudice the child in any civil service application or appointment.

History.—§1, ch. 26880, 1951.

39.11 Powers with reference to dependent or delinquent children.—

(1) When any child shall be adjudicated by a juvenile court to be a dependent or delinquent child, the juvenile court having jurisdiction of the child shall have the power, by order, to:

(a) Place a child, under the supervision of the counselor, either in the child's own home, or, the prospective custodian being willing, in the home of a relative of the child, or in some other suitable place, under such reasonable conditions as the judge may direct.

(b) Commit the child to a detention home, or to a licensed child caring institution willing to receive the child.

(c) Commit the child to an industrial school, if the board of commissioners of state institutions is willing to receive the child thereat.

(d) Permanently commit the child to a licensed child placing agency, *or the state department of public welfare, willing to receive the child, for subsequent adoption, if the juvenile court finds that the child has been abandoned by the natural parent or parents, and legal guardian if any, of the child; or that the parent or parents, and legal guardian if any, have substantially and continuously or repeatedly refused, or though financially able have neglected, to give the child parental care and protection; or that the parent or parents, and legal guardian if any, are unfit by reason of their conduct or condition, which is seriously detrimental to the child's welfare; and if the court finds that it is manifestly to the best interest of the child to do so.

(e) Order the natural or adoptive parents of such child, or guardian of such child's estate, if possessed of assets which under law may be disbursed for the care, support and maintenance of such child, to pay the person or institution (not including the state industrial schools for boys and girls) having custody of such child reasonable sums of money at such intervals as the court may consider adequate and proper for the care, support, maintenance, training, or education of such child. The court, in making such order, shall consider the circumstances and ability of such parents to pay, and to the value of assets of the guardianship estate of such child, and where such order affects the guardianship estate, a certified copy of such order shall be delivered to the county judge having jurisdiction of such guardianship estate.

(2) Any order made pursuant to subsections (1) (a) or (1) (b) may thereafter be modified or set aside by the juvenile court.

(3) Any commitment made to an industrial school shall be for an indeterminate period of time, any child so committed to be released when directed by the board of commissioners of state institutions rather than upon the order of the juvenile court committing the child, but no child shall be held in an industrial school under a commitment from a juvenile court after becoming twenty-one years of age. The juvenile court, in committing a child, shall not lose jurisdiction, but shall discontinue exercising active control over the child while the child is committed to the school. The board of commissioners of state institutions shall notify the juvenile court which committed the child to the school, at least thirty days before releasing the child, and the juvenile court may thereupon resume control and thereafter make orders for the supervision of the child as may be proper.

(4) Before the juvenile court may permanently commit a dependent or delinquent child to a licensed child placing agency *or the state department of public welfare for subsequent adoption, in addition to the other requirements set forth in this chapter the following requirements shall be met:

(a) Notice must be served upon the known living parents and legal custodians of the child, and if all of these persons be dead or unknown then upon a relative of the child, in the manner prescribed by law for service of summons in chancery, specifically notifying them that a petition has been filed for the permanent commitment of the child to a licensed child placing agency *or the state department of public welfare for subsequent adoption, and commanding them to appear in that court on a day named in the notice not less than fifteen nor more than sixty days after service of the notice, and to show cause why the petition should not be granted.

(b) In the event that those persons cannot be personally served with notice in the manner prescribed in paragraph (a), the judge or counselor shall cause the notice to be published once each week for four consecutive weeks (four publications being sufficient) prior to the return date, in some newspaper published in the county or district in which the juvenile court is established. The published notice shall command those persons to appear in court on a day named in the notice not less than twenty-eight nor more than sixty days from the date thereof, and the notice shall otherwise be identical with the form of notice prescribed in paragraph (a). If the natural parents, legal custodians, and relatives be unknown or dead, the published notice shall be directed to "whom it may concern." The judge or counselor shall mail a copy of the published notice to each person to whom the notice is directed for whom an address can be obtained after diligent search and inquiry, and shall file in the case a certificate of constructive service. Service by publication as specified herein shall be as effectual as personal service within this state of the notice. The cost of publishing the notice shall be paid out of the juvenile court fund upon approval of the judge or counselor, or the judge may require the cost thereof to be paid by the licensed child placing agency *or state department of public welfare desiring entry of the order.

(c) Notice as prescribed by this section may be waived, in the discretion of the judge, where the living parents, and any legal guardian, of the child, execute, before two witnesses and a notary public or other officer authorized to take acknowledgments, a written surrender of the child to a licensed child placing agency *or the state department of public welfare.

(5) A licensed child placing agency *or the state department of public welfare to which a child is permanently committed for subsequent adoption in accordance with this chapter may place the child in a family home for prospective subsequent adoption, and may thereafter become a party to any proceeding for the legal adoption of the child and may appear in any court where the adoption proceeding is pending and consent to the adoption, and that consent alone shall in all cases be sufficient. A permanent order of commitment, whether pursuant to consent or after notice served as herein prescribed, shall permanently deprive the parents and legal guardian of any right to the child. In any subsequent adoption proceedings the parents and legal guardian shall not be entitled to any notice thereof, nor shall they be entitled to knowledge, at any time after the permanent order of commitment is entered, of the whereabouts of the child or the identity or location of any person having the custody of or having adopted the child, and in any habeas corpus or other proceeding involving the child brought by any parent or legal guardian of the child no agent of the licensed child placing agency *or state department of public welfare shall be compelled to divulge that information, but may be compelled to produce the child before a court of competent jurisdiction if the child is still subject to the guardianship of the licensed child placing agency *or state department of public welfare. The entry of the permanent order of commitment shall not entitle the licensed child placing agency *or state department of public welfare to guardianship of the estate or property of the child, but the licensed child placing agency *or state department of public welfare shall be the guardian of the person of the child, and the juvenile court shall no longer exercise jurisdiction over the child after entry of such order.

(6) The juvenile court may at any time enter an order ending its jurisdiction over any child.

*Note.—Word "or" added by statutory revision department. cf.—§955.22 Board may for certain reasons, refuse to receive person committed, etc.; see also §956.02.

39.12 Seal; records; privileged information.—

(1) The juvenile court is a court of record, having a seal, and the judge, counselor, and assistant counselors thereof shall each have power to administer oaths and affirmations. The seal shall be prescribed and furnished by the board of county commissioners of the county in which the court is established, or, in case of a district juvenile court, by the board of county commissioners of the county in which the court is principally held.

(2) The juvenile court shall make and keep records of all cases brought before it, and shall preserve the records pertaining to a child until ten years after the last entry was made, and may then destroy them, except that records of cases where orders were entered permanently depriving a parent of the custody of a child shall be preserved permanently. The juvenile court shall make official records, consisting of all petitions and orders filed in a case and any other pleadings, certificates, proofs of publication, summons, warrants and other writs which may be filed therein and shall make social records, consisting of records of investigation and treatment and other confidential information not forming part of the official records. In addition to the foregoing, the judge of each juvenile court shall keep a record to be designated "juvenile court statistical card" as to each child on whom a petition has been filed in the court, setting forth full statistical data concerning such child and the grounds for the proceedings involved. The statistical card shall be in such form as provided by the Florida children's commission and approved by the state organization of juvenile court judges, and until such card is so provided, the card now designated as "Form JC 1" of the department of public welfare shall be used as the statistical card herein required. Said card shall on or before the tenth day of each month be delivered to the department of public welfare of this state and shall be used by said department only for the purpose of obtaining the statistical information and shall be returned without undue delay to the juvenile court when such information is obtained. Such cards shall not be public records and shall be confidential information while in the possession of said department, and said department shall not take or retain any names or addresses from any such cards or other information that would identify a child; nor shall such department release or publish any statistical data of a particular county or group of counties except it may publish the combined or integrated statistical data so obtained as to all counties reporting under this law. Said department and any juvenile judge shall permit duly authorized representatives of other state departments to inspect and make abstracts necessary for compilation of statistics in relation to child dependency and delinquency in this state.

(3) Juvenile court records except records of traffic violations, shall not be open to inspection by the public. All records, except those for traffic violations, shall be inspected only upon order of the judge, by persons deemed by the judge to have a proper interest therein, except that a child and the parents or legal custodians of the child and their attorneys shall always have the right to inspect and copy any official record pertaining to the child. The judge may permit authorized representatives of recognized organizations compiling statistics for proper purposes to inspect and make abstracts from official records, under whatever conditions upon their use and disposition the judge may deem proper, and may punish by contempt proceedings any violation of those conditions.

(4) All information obtained in discharge of official duty by any judge, counselor, assistant counselor, or employee of any juvenile court shall be privileged, and shall not be disclosed to anyone other than the authorized personnel of the juvenile court and others entitled under this chapter to receive that information, except upon order of the judge.

(5) All orders of the court shall be in writing and signed by the judge, except that the counselor or assistant counselor may sign a summons, witness subpoenas, or notice to appear.

(6) No juvenile court record shall be admissible in evidence in any civil or criminal proceeding in any other court, except that:

(a) Orders permanently depriving a parent of the custody of a child and committing the child to a licensed child placing agency *or the state department of public welfare for adoption shall be admissible in evidence in subsequent adoption proceedings relating to the child;

(b) Orders transferring a child to another court for trial shall be admissible in evidence in the other court, but shall create no presumption as to the guilt of the child, nor shall same be read to or commented upon in the presence of the jury in any trial in the other court.

(c) Orders binding an adult over for trial on a criminal charge, made by the judge as a committing magistrate, shall be admissible in evidence in the court to which the adult is bound over;

(d) Juvenile court records forming a part of the record on appeal shall be used in the appellate court in the manner hereinafter provided;

(e) Juvenile court records necessary therefor shall be admissible in evidence in other courts in any case where a person is being tried upon a charge of having committed perjury in testifying in the juvenile court.

History.—§1, ch. 26880, 1951; (2) §6, ch. 29900, 1955; (3) §2, ch. 61-54; (6) §7, ch. 63-449.

*Note.—Word "or" added by statutory revision department.

39.13 Contempt.—The juvenile court shall have the same power to punish for contempt as do the circuit courts, and may punish for contempt any person interfering with the administration of or violating any provision of this chapter or order of the court relative thereto.

History.—§1, ch. 26880, 1951.

39.14 Appeal.—

(1) Any child and any parent or legal custodian of any child affected by an order of the juvenile court, excluding such order as the judge may make as committing magistrate, may appeal to the appropriate district court of appeal.

(2) Notice of appeal shall be filed in writing in the juvenile court within ten days after entry of the order appealed from, accompanied by the fee required by law to be paid to the clerk of the district court of appeal upon filing an appeal.

(3) Within ten days after the filing of the notice of appeal in the juvenile court, the judge or counselor shall transmit the notice of appeal, together with all original papers filed in the official record of the case, and any narrative statement of the evidence which the juvenile court judge may desire to prepare and file therein, the stenographic report of the testimony if any was made, and the appeal fee deposited by the appellant, to the clerk of the district court of appeal.

(4) On appeal no new evidence may be presented, but the appeal shall be heard upon the law and the facts as shown by the official records of the juvenile court.

(5) The attorney general shall represent the state and the juvenile court upon appeal, and shall be notified of the appeal by the judge or counselor when the notice of appeal is filed in the juvenile court.

(6) The taking of an appeal shall not operate as a supersedeas in any case, except that a permanent order of commitment to a licensed child-placing agency or department of public welfare for subsequent adoption shall be suspended while the appeal is pending, but the child shall continue in custody under the order until the appeal is decided.

(7) On appeal, the district court of appeal shall decide only whether a lawful order has been entered by the juvenile court, and shall not substitute its judgment for that of the juvenile court in discretionary matters.

(8) No briefs or papers other than the juvenile court file need be filed in the district court of appeal unless the said court shall specially so direct, but briefs may be filed by the appellant or the attorney general if either desires to do so. At any time after the juvenile court file shall have been received by the clerk of the district court of appeal, the appellant or the attorney general, after notice to the other, may apply to the said court to set a date for the argument on the appeal and the court shall dispose of the proceedings as expeditiously as possible.

(9) The case on appeal shall be docketed, and any papers filed in the appellate court shall be entitled, with the initials but not the name of the child and the juvenile court case number, and the papers shall remain sealed in the office of the clerk of the appellate court when not in use by the appellate court and shall not be open to public inspection. The decision of the appellate court shall be likewise entitled, and shall refer to the child only by initials and juvenile court case number.

(10) The original order of the appellate court, with all papers filed in the case on appeal, shall remain in the office of the clerk of the said court, sealed and not open to inspection except by order of the appellate court. The clerk of the appellate court shall return to the juvenile court all papers transmitted to the said court from the juvenile court, together with a certified copy of the order of the appellate court.

(11) The juvenile court, upon receipt of the certified copy of the order of the appellate court, shall forthwith take action in accordance with the order and decision of the appellate court by either dismissing the case and returning the child to the person previously in custody or by making further orders as may be appropriate.

History.—§1, ch. 26880, 1951; §7, ch. 63-449; §7, ch. 63-559.

39.15 Qualifications, selection, and term of office of judges of separate juvenile courts.—

(1) Each judge of a separate juvenile court shall be a qualified elector in the county or district in which is established the court over which that person is to preside, shall be not less than twenty-five years of age at the time of taking office as judge, and shall either have served as judge of a separate juvenile court in Florida or shall be a member of the Florida bar; to the end that the judge shall be a person of high moral character and selected with reference to experience in and understanding of problems of child and family welfare, juvenile delinquency, and community organization.

(2) The judge of each separate juvenile court shall be elected by the qualified electors of the county or district in which the court is established, as other county and state officials are elected, for a term of four years.

(3) All persons serving as judge of separate juvenile courts on October 1, 1951, shall continue to serve in that capacity during the terms for which they were appointed or elected. At the general election next preceding the expiration of each of those terms, the incumbent or a successor shall be elected, to take office upon the expiration of that term and serve for four years, and thereafter, in like manner, the judge shall be elected every four years, taking office upon the date of expiration of the term as fixed by the special acts relating to those separate juvenile courts.

(4) In the event a vacancy occurs in the office of judge of a separate juvenile court prior to the expiration of the term for which the judge was elected or appointed, the governor shall appoint a person who is qualified as prescribed in subsection (1) of this section, selecting that person with reference to that person's high moral character and experience in and understanding of problems of child and family welfare, juvenile delinquency, and community organization, to serve until the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January following the next general election, and the vacancy shall be filled at the next general election for the unexpired term, whether or not a successor for a full four-year term is also being elected at the same general election to take office at the expiration of the unexpired term.

(5) If any separate juvenile court shall be created or established in addition to those existing upon the effective date of this chapter, the governor shall appoint as judge thereof a person qualified as provided in subsection (1) of this section, selecting that person with reference to the qualities mentioned in subsection (4) of this section, to serve until the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January following the next general election, and at the next general election and every four years thereafter the judge shall be elected for a full four-year term, taking office on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January following the general election.

(6) In the event that the judge of any separate juvenile court shall be temporarily unable to act, or shall be absent from the county or district in which the court is established, the county judge of the county, or in the case of a district court the county judge of the county wherein the separate juvenile court is principally held, or any circuit judge of the circuit wherein the separate juvenile court is established, shall act as juvenile court judge without compensation therefor. In any county in which no separate juvenile court is established, and the county judge is juvenile court judge, in the event that the county judge shall be temporarily unable to act as juvenile court judge or be absent from the county, any circuit judge of the circuit including the county shall act as juvenile court judge without compensation therefor.

History.—§1, ch. 26880, 1951.

39.16 Qualifications, selection and tenure of personnel other than judges.—

(1) Each counselor and assistant counselor of a separate juvenile court shall either have served as counselor or assistant counselor of a juvenile court in Florida, or shall have a bachelor's degree from a college or university of recognized standing, or shall have four years of experience in work with children. Each counselor and assistant counselor of a juvenile court presided over by a county judge shall have as nearly as possible equivalent qualifications.

(2) The counselor shall be selected and appointed by the judge, and each assistant counselor shall be selected and appointed by the counselor with the approval of the judge, in each instance from a list of not less than three applicants for the position to be filled, qualified as prescribed in subsection (1) of this section, approved by the juvenile court merit board for the county wherein the court is established, or in the case of a district court wherein the court is principally held; provided, that if the juvenile court merit board shall fail to approve and submit a list of at least three applicants within two weeks after being requested to do so, any person qualified as prescribed in subsection (1) of this section may be appointed.

(3) In determining whether to approve an applicant, the juvenile court merit board shall require the applicant to submit a written application, and may require an applicant to submit to written examination and an oral interview, to the end that counselors and assistant counselors shall be selected on merit, with reference to their academic and professional training, experience, and ability in and understanding of problems of family and child welfare, juvenile delinquency, and community organization, and their qualifications of personality to work well with children, parents, and the community. The reasonable expenses of the juvenile court merit board in so doing shall be paid out of the juvenile court fund upon approval of the judge.

(4) With the approval of the judge, the juvenile court merit board for the county in which the court is established or principally held shall adopt rules governing the discharge of counselors and assistant counselors, to the end that those personnel shall be discharged for good cause only, which rules shall be filed in the juvenile court records and may be amended prospectively but not retroactively at any time.

(5) Employees of the juvenile court, other than counselors and assistant counselors, shall be selected and employed by the counselor with the approval of the judge if their duties are performed primarily under the supervision of the counselor, and shall be selected and employed by the judge if their duties are performed primarily directly under the supervision of the judge.

(6) In any county where a civil service law may be in effect as to county employees, the provisions of that civil service law shall be applicable to the counselor, assistant counselors, and other employees of the juvenile court established or principally held in that county, except persons performing the duties of counselor or assistant counselor under gubernatorial appointment upon the effective date of this act during the terms for which such persons were so appointed. The juvenile court merit board shall not function in those counties, but counselors and assistant counselors shall be qualified, and appointments shall be made, as specified in this section, from a list of eligible applicants approved by the civil service board in accordance with that civil service act.

(7) The provisions of the state or county officers and employees retirement system, whichever may be applicable, shall continue to apply to the counselor, assistant counselors, and other employees of the juvenile court, as well as to the judge thereof.

(8) All persons serving as chief or head or assistant probation officers of juvenile courts, by whatever titles they may be called or known, performing the duties of counselor or assistant counselor thereof upon the effective date of this chapter, who were appointed for definite terms pursuant to special or general acts, shall continue to serve during the terms for which the appointments were made, performing the duties and using the titles of counselor or assistant counselor as the case may be, and at the end of each term the selection and appointment of counselors and assistant counselors for the courts in which they perform duties shall thereafter be in accordance with this chapter, any of those personnel being automatically eligible for appointment under this chapter as specified in subsection (1) of this section.

(9) The number and salaries of assistant counselors, and the number, salaries, titles and duties of other employees, shall be designated by the counselor with the approval of the judge, or by the judge in the case of those employees whose duties are performed primarily directly under the supervision of the judge, within the limits of the juvenile court fund.

History.—§1, ch. 26880, 1951.

39.17 Duties of counselor, assistant counselors, and other employees.—

(1) The counselor, under the general supervision of the judge, shall organize, direct and develop the administrative work of the juvenile court, perform such other duties as the judge shall direct, and act as clerk of the juvenile court.

(2) Assistant counselors shall perform the duties assigned to them by the judge or counselor, and shall act as deputies clerk of the juvenile court.

(3) Other employees of the juvenile court shall perform duties as the judge and counselor shall direct.

(4) If approved by the judge, a counselor or assistant counselor may be appointed a deputy sheriff by the sheriff of the county wherein the court is established, or in the case of a district court by the sheriff of any county within the district.

History.—§1, ch. 26880, 1951.

39.18 Appropriation for juvenile court expenses; compensation of judge and counselor.—

(1) The board of county commissioners of each county shall appropriate each fiscal year commencing October 1, 1955, from the general fund or other fund of the county as the board may choose, reasonable and adequate funds for the expense of operating the juvenile court in that county. In the event that any separate juvenile court shall be created or established by the legislature in and for any district composed of two or more counties, the board of county commissioners of each county within the district shall appropriate each fiscal year reasonable and adequate funds for their proportionate share in operating the juvenile court in that district. The sum appropriated shall be known as the juvenile court fund.

(2) Out of the juvenile court fund the board of county commissioners of each county may pay such annual salaries to the judge as shall not exceed the amounts specified in this subsection, in twelve equal monthly payments, and in case of a district juvenile court, each county paying only its proportionate share of such salary.

(a) In counties or districts having a population of 30,999 or less, the judge may be paid an annual salary not exceeding an amount equal to one hundred twenty dollars for each full 1,000 population in the county or district.

(b) In counties or districts having a population of at least 31,000 but not exceeding 50,999, the judge may be paid an annual salary not exceeding an amount equal to thirty six hundred dollars plus fifty dollars for each full 1,000 population over 30,000 in the county or district.

(c) In counties or districts having a population of at least 51,000 but not exceeding 200,999 the judge may be paid an annual salary not exceeding an amount equal to forty six hundred dollars plus twenty dollars for each full 1,000 population over 50,000 in the county or district.

(d) In counties or districts having a population of at least 201,000, the judge may be paid an annual salary not exceeding an amount equal to seventy six hundred dollars plus twelve dollars for each full 1,000 population over 200,000 in the county or district.

(e) The population of a county or district, for the purpose of this subsection (2), shall be the population thereof according to the latest preceding county, state or federal census; and reference to "each full 1,000 population" means that fractional parts of one thousand shall be disregarded in computing the population of a county or district, e.g., a county with a population of 30,999 shall be considered as having a population of 30,000.

(f) The counselor shall be paid an annual salary fixed by the juvenile judge and approved by the board of county commissioners and shall be paid in twelve equal monthly installments.

(3) Out of the juvenile court fund the board of county commissioners of each county may pay the annual or monthly salaries of assistant counselors and other employees of the juvenile court specified by the counselor with the approval of the judge, and may pay the travel and office expense of the juvenile court specified by the counselor with the approval of the judge, within the limits of the total appropriation.

(4) The salaries of the judge and counselor herein specified, the salaries paid to the assistant counselors and other employees, and the travel and other expenses paid to any juvenile court personnel in accordance with this section, shall be the entire compensation of those persons for their services in those capacities, and none of them shall receive or charge any fees in addition thereto for those services.

(5) In counties where the county judge is juvenile court judge, the salary of the juvenile court judge may be paid to the judge in addition to compensation received in the capacity of county judge.

(6) Any change in the maximum permissible appropriation for the juvenile court fund or in the maximum permissible salaries of the judge or counselor which is occasioned by a new state or federal census shall become effective at the beginning of the next fiscal year, on the first day of October following immediately after the taking of the census.

(7) Notwithstanding any other provisions in this section, no judge of a separate juvenile court shall be paid, as salary for service as juvenile court judge, an annual sum larger than the annual salary paid to the circuit judge drawing the largest annual salary in the judicial circuit in which the separate juvenile court is established, and no county judge acting as juvenile court judge shall be paid, as salary for service as juvenile court judge, an annual sum which, together with the compensation of that county judge for services as county judge, will exceed the annual salary paid to the circuit judge drawing the largest annual salary in the judicial circuit in which that county judge is acting as juvenile court judge. For the purposes of this subsection, the circuit judge's salary includes any sums paid as salary by any county or by the state.

(8) The appropriation specified in subsection (1) of this section shall not include such items as office rent, operation of parental homes or detention quarters, payment of sheriff's fees for service of juvenile court process or writs, or other items of similar nature, but that appropriation shall include salaries and travel expense of juvenile court personnel, ordinary office expense of the juvenile court, and other items of expense provided in this chapter to be paid for out of the juvenile court fund.

(9) The board of county commissioners of each county may levy taxes necessary to raise the money appropriated in subsection (1) of this section, for the fiscal year commencing October 1, 1951, and for each subsequent fiscal year.

(10) If any special act now or hereafter in effect shall prescribe the salary or travel expense to be paid to a judge, counselor, assistant counselor, or other employee of any juvenile court, or any other item of the expense of operation of any juvenile court, nothing in this section shall be construed to require or permit the payment of any lesser amounts than are prescribed by that special act, and no lesser amounts than as prescribed in that special act shall be paid, but larger amounts than as prescribed in that special act may be paid if in accordance with the other subsections of this section, the counselor being paid no lesser amounts than may be provided by that special act to be paid to the chief or head probation officer, and assistant counselors being paid no lesser amounts than may be provided by that special act to be paid to assistant probation officers, regardless of the titles by which such personnel may be called in that special act.

39.181 Laws not affected.—No provision of §39.18(1), (2) shall be construed to affect any provisions of a special act or general act of local application of the legislature heretofore enacted or hereinafter enacted relating to any juvenile court or juvenile and domestic relations court in the state.

History.—§9, ch. 29900, 1955.

39.19 Court and witness fees.—

(1) In all proceedings under this chapter except those proceedings held before the judge in the capacity of committing magistrate, no court fees shall be charged against, and no witness fees shall be allowed to, any party to a petition or any parent or legal custodian or child named in a summons. Other witnesses shall be paid the witness fees fixed by law, out of funds of the county appropriated for that purpose and not out of the juvenile court fund.

(2) In proceedings before the judge in the capacity of committing magistrate, the fees provided by law shall be paid to witnesses, and for service of process and other functions performed by the sheriff, out of county funds appropriated for that purpose and not out of the juvenile court fund.

History.—§1, ch. 26880, 1951.

39.20 Purpose.—The purpose of this chapter is to protect society more effectively by substituting for retributive punishment methods of training and treatment directed toward the correction and rehabilitation of children who violate the laws; to assure to children the care, guidance and control, preferably in each child's own home, which will conduce to the child's welfare and the best interests of the state; to assure that a child removed from the control of the child's parent shall receive care, custody, and discipline as nearly as possible equivalent to that which should have been given to the child by the parent, and in all cases where a child must be permanently removed from the custody of the parents of the child, that the child be placed in an approved family home and be made a member of the family by adoption.

To this end, it is the expressed intent of the legislature that this chapter be liberally interpreted and construed in conformity with its declared purpose.

History.—§1, ch. 26880, 1951.

39.25 Interstate compact on juveniles; implementing legislation; legislative findings and policy.—

(1) It is hereby found and declared:

(a) That juveniles who are not under proper supervision and control, or who have absconded, escaped or run away, are likely to endanger their own health, morals and welfare, and the health, morals and welfare of others;

(b) That the cooperation of this state with other states is necessary to provide for the welfare and protection of juveniles and of the people of this state.

(2) It shall therefore be the policy of this state, in adopting the interstate compact on juveniles, to cooperate fully with other states:

(a) In returning juveniles to such other states whenever their return is sought; and

(b) In accepting the return of juveniles whenever a juvenile residing in this state is found or apprehended in another state and in taking all measures to initiate proceedings for the return of such juveniles.

History.—§1, ch. 57-288.

39.26 Execution of compact.—The governor is hereby authorized and directed to execute a compact on behalf of this state with any other state or states legally joining therein in the form substantially as follows:

INTERSTATE COMPACT ON JUVENILES ARTICLE I

FINDINGS AND PURPOSES.—Juveniles who are not under proper supervision and control, or who have absconded, escaped or run away, are likely to endanger their own health, morals and welfare, and the health, morals and welfare of others. The cooperation of the states party to this compact is therefore necessary to provide for the welfare and protection of juveniles and of the public with respect to (1) cooperative supervision of delinquent juveniles on probation or parole; (2) the return, from one state to another, of delinquent juveniles who have escaped or absconded; (3) the return, from one state to another, of nondelinquent juveniles who have run away from home; and (4) additional measures for the protection of juveniles and of the public, which any two or more of the party states may find desirable to undertake cooperatively. In carrying out the provisions of this compact the party states shall be guided by the noncriminal, reformatory and protective policies which guide their laws concerning delinquent, neglected or dependent juveniles generally. It shall be the policy of the states party to this compact to cooperate and observe their respective responsibilities for the prompt return and acceptance of juveniles and delinquent juveniles who become subject to the provisions of this compact. The provisions of this compact shall be reasonably and liberally construed to accomplish the foregoing purposes.

ARTICLE II

EXISTING RIGHTS AND REMEDIES.—All remedies and procedures provided by this compact shall be in addition to and not in substitution for other rights, remedies and procedures, and shall not be in derogation of parental rights and responsibilities.

ARTICLE III

DEFINITIONS.—For the purposes of this compact, "delinquent juveniles" means any juvenile who has been adjudged delinquent and who, at the time the provisions of this compact are invoked, is still subject to the jurisdiction of the court that has made such adjudication or to the jurisdiction or supervision of an agency or institution pursuant to an order of such court; "probation or parole" means any kind of conditional release of juveniles authorized under the laws of the states party hereto; "court" means any court having jurisdiction over delinquent, neglected or dependent children; "state" means any state, territory or possessions of the United States, the District of Columbia, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico; and "residence" or any variant thereof means a place at which a home or regular place of abode is maintained.

ARTICLE IV

RETURN OF RUNAWAYS.—

(1) The parent, guardian, person or agency entitled to legal custody of a juvenile who has not been adjudged delinquent but who has run away without the consent of such parent, guardian, person or agency may petition the appropriate court in the demanding state for the issuance of a requisition for his return. The petition shall state the name and age of the juvenile, the name of the petitioner and the basis of entitlement to the juvenile's custody, the circumstances of his running away, his location if known at the time application is made, and such other facts as may tend to show that the juvenile who has run away is endangering his own welfare or the welfare of others and is not an emancipated minor. The petition shall be verified by affidavit, shall be executed in duplicate, and shall be accompanied by two certified copies of the document or documents on which the petitioner's entitlement to the juvenile's custody is based, such as birth certificates, letters of guardianship, or custody decrees. Such further affidavits and other documents as may be deemed proper may be submitted with such petition. The judge of the court to which this application is made may hold a hearing thereon to determine whether for the purposes of this compact the petitioner is entitled to the legal custody of the juvenile, whether or not it appears that the juvenile has in fact run away without consent, whether or not he is an emancipated minor, and whether or not it is in the best interest of the juvenile to compel his return to the state. If the judge determines, either with or without a hearing, that the juvenile should be returned, he shall present to the appropriate court or to the executive authority of the state where the juvenile is alleged to be located a written requisition for the return of such juvenile. Such requisition shall set forth the name and age of the juvenile, the determination of the court that the juvenile has run away without the consent of a parent, guardian, person or agency entitled to his legal custody, and that it is in the best interest and for the protection of such juvenile that he is returned. In the event that a proceeding for the adjudication of the juvenile as a delinquent, neglected or dependent juvenile is pending in the court at the time when such juvenile runs away, the court may issue a requisition for the return of such juvenile upon its own motion, regardless of the consent of the parent, guardian, person or agency entitled to legal custody, reciting therein the nature and circumstances of the pending proceeding. The requisition shall in every case be executed in duplicate and shall be signed by the judge. One copy of the requisition shall be filed with the compact administrator of the demanding state, there to remain on file subject to the provisions of law governing records of such court. Upon the receipt of a requisition demanding the return of a juvenile who has run away, the court or the executive authority to whom the requisition is addressed shall issue an order to any peace officer or other appropriate person directing him to take into custody and detain such juvenile. Such detention order must substantially recite the facts necessary to the validity of its issuance hereunder. No juvenile detained upon such order shall be delivered over to the officer whom the court demanding him shall have appointed to receive him, unless he shall first be taken forthwith before a judge of a court in the state, who shall inform him of the demand made for his return, and who may appoint counsel or guardian ad litem for him. If the judge of such court shall find that the requisition is in order, he shall deliver such juvenile over to the officer whom the court demanding him shall have appointed to receive him. The judge, however, may fix a reasonable time to be allowed for the purpose of testing the legality of the proceeding.

Upon reasonable information that a person is a juvenile who has run away from another state party to this compact without the consent of a parent, guardian, person or agency entitled to his legal custody, such juvenile may be taken into custody without a requisition and brought forthwith before a judge of the appropriate court who may appoint counsel or guardian ad litem for such juvenile and who shall determine after a hearing whether sufficient cause exists to hold the person, subject to the order of the court, for his own protection and welfare, for such a time not exceeding ninety days as will enable his return to another state party to this compact pursuant to a requisition for his return from a court of that state. If, at the time when a state seeks the return of a juvenile who has run away, there is pending in the state wherein he is found any criminal charge, or any proceeding to have him adjudicated a delinquent juvenile for an act committed in such state, or if he is suspected of having committed within such state a criminal offense or an act of juvenile delinquency, he shall not be returned without the consent of such state until discharged from prosecution or other form of proceeding, imprisonment, detention or supervision for such offense or juvenile delinquency. The duly accredited officers of any state party to this compact, upon the establishment of their authority and the identity of the juvenile being returned, shall be permitted to transport such juvenile through any and all states party to this compact, without interference. Upon his return to the state from which he ran away, the juvenile shall be subject to such further proceedings as may be appropriate under the laws of that state.

(2) The state to which a juvenile is returned under this article shall be responsible for payment of the transportation costs of such return.

(3) "Juvenile" as used in this article means any person who is a minor under the law of the state of residence of the parent, guardian, person or agency entitled to the legal custody of such minor.

ARTICLE V

RETURN OF ESCAPEES AND ABSCONDERS.—

(1) The appropriate person or authority from whose probation or parole supervision a delinquent juvenile has absconded or from whose institutional custody he has escaped shall present to the appropriate court or to executive authority of the state where the delinquent juvenile is alleged to be located a written requisition for the return of such delinquent juvenile. Such requisition shall state the name and age of the delinquent juvenile, the particulars of his adjudication as a delinquent juvenile, the circumstances of the breach of the terms of his probation or parole or of his escape from an institution or agency vested with his legal custody or supervision, and the location of such delinquent juvenile, if known, at the time requisition is made. The requisition shall be verified by affidavit, shall be executed in duplicate, and shall be accompanied by two certified copies of the judgment, formal adjudication, or order of commitment which subjects such delinquent juvenile to probation or parole or to the legal custody of the institution or agency concerned. Such further affidavits and other documents as may be deemed proper may be submitted with such requisition. One copy of the requisition shall be filed with the compact administrator of the demanding state, there to remain on file subject to the provisions of law governing records of the appropriate court. Upon the receipt of a requisition demanding the return of a delinquent juvenile who has absconded or escaped the court or the executive authority to whom the requisition is addressed shall issue an order to any peace officer or other appropriate person directing him to take into custody and detain such delinquent juvenile. Such detention order must substantially recite the facts necessary to the validity of its issuance hereunder. No delinquent juvenile detained upon such order shall be delivered over to the officer whom the appropriate person or authority demanding him shall have appointed to receive him, unless he shall first be taken forthwith before a judge of an appropriate court in the state, who shall inform him of the demand made for his return and who may appoint counsel or guardian ad litem for him. If the judge of such court shall find that the requisition is in order, he shall deliver such delinquent juvenile over to the officer whom the appropriate person or authority demanding him shall have appointed to receive him. The judge, however, may fix a reasonable time to be allowed for the purpose of testing the legality of the proceeding.

Upon reasonable information that a person is a delinquent juvenile who has absconded while on probation or parole, or escaped from an institution or agency vested with his legal custody or supervision in any state party to this compact, such person may be taken into custody in any other state party to this compact without a requisition. But in such event, he must be taken forthwith before a judge of the appropriate court, who may appoint counsel or guardian ad litem for such person and who shall determine, after a hearing, whether sufficient cause exists to hold the person subject to the order of the court for such a time, not exceeding ninety days, as will enable his detention under a detention order issued on a requisition pursuant to this article. If, at the time when a state seeks the return of a delinquent juvenile who has either absconded while on probation or parole or escaped from an institution or agency vested with his legal custody or supervision, there is pending in the state wherein he is detained any criminal charge or any proceeding to have him adjudicated a delinquent juvenile for an act committed in such state, or if he is suspected of having committed within such state a criminal offense or an act of juvenile delinquency, he shall not be returned without the consent of such state until discharged from prosecution or other form of proceeding, imprisonment, detention or supervision for such offense or juvenile delinquency. The duly accredited officers of any state party to this compact, upon the establishment of their authority and the identity of the delinquent juvenile being returned, shall be permitted to transport such delinquent juvenile through any and all states party to this compact, without interference. Upon his return to the state from which he escaped or absconded, the delinquent juvenile shall be subject to such further proceedings as may be appropriate under the laws of that state.

(2) The state to which a delinquent juvenile is returned under this article shall be responsible for payment of the transportation costs of such return.

ARTICLE VI

VOLUNTARY RETURN PROCEDURE.—

Any delinquent juvenile who has absconded while on probation or parole, or escaped from an institution or agency vested with his legal custody or supervision in any state party to this compact, and any juvenile who has run away from any state party to this compact, who is taken into custody without a requisition in another state party to this compact under the provisions of article IV(1) or of article V(1), may consent to his immediate return to the state from which he absconded, escaped or ran away. Such consent shall be given by the juvenile or delinquent juvenile and his counsel or guardian ad litem if any, by executing or subscribing a writing, in the presence of a judge of the appropriate court, which states that the juvenile or delinquent juvenile and his counsel or guardian ad litem, if any, consent to his return to the demanding state. Before such consent shall be executed or subscribed, however, the judge, in the presence of counsel or guardian ad litem, if any, shall inform the juvenile or delinquent juvenile of his rights under this compact. When the consent has been duly executed, it shall be forwarded to and filed with the compact administrator of the state in which the court is located and the judge shall direct the officer having the juvenile or delinquent juvenile in custody to deliver him to the duly accredited officer or officers of the state demanding his return, and shall cause to be delivered to such officer or officers a copy of the consent. The court may, however, upon the request of the state to which the juvenile or delinquent juvenile is being returned, order him to return unaccompanied to such state and shall provide him with a copy of such court order; in such event a copy of the consent shall be forwarded to the compact administrator of the state to which said juvenile or delinquent juvenile is ordered to return.

ARTICLE VII

COOPERATIVE SUPERVISION OF PROBATIONERS AND PAROLEES.—

(1) The duly constituted judicial and administrative authorities of a state party to this compact (herein called "sending state") may permit any delinquent juvenile within such state, placed on probation or parole, to reside in any other state party to this compact (herein called "receiving state") while on probation or parole, and the receiving state shall accept such delinquent juvenile, if the parent, guardian or person entitled to the legal custody of such delinquent juvenile is residing or undertakes to reside within the receiving state. Before granting such permission, opportunity shall be given to the receiving state to make such investigations as it deems necessary. The authorities of the sending state shall send to the authorities of the receiving state copies of pertinent court orders, social case studies and all other available information which may be of value to and assist the receiving state in supervising a probationer or parolee under this compact. A receiving state, in its discretion, may agree to accept supervision of a probationer or parolee in cases where the parent, guardian or person entitled to the legal custody of the delinquent juvenile is not a resident of the receiving state, and if so accepted the sending state may transfer supervision accordingly.

(2) Each receiving state will assume the duties of visitation and of supervision over any such delinquent juvenile and in the exercise of those duties will be governed by the same standards of visitation and supervision that prevail for its own delinquent juveniles released on probation or parole.

(3) After consultation between the appropriate authorities of the sending state and of the receiving state as to the desirability and necessity of returning such a delinquent juvenile, the duly accredited officers of a sending state may enter a receiving state and there apprehend and retake any such delinquent juvenile on probation or parole. For that purpose, no formalities will be required, other than establishing the authority of the officer and the identity of the delinquent juvenile to be retaken and returned. The decision of the sending state to retake a delinquent juvenile on probation or parole shall be conclusive upon and not reviewable within the receiving state, but if, at the time the sending state seeks to retake a delinquent juvenile on probation or parole, there is pending against him within the receiving state any criminal charge or any proceeding to have him adjudicated a delinquent juvenile for any act committed in such state, or if he is suspected of having committed within such state a criminal offense or an act of juvenile delinquency, he shall not be returned, without the consent of the receiving state until discharged from prosecution or other form of proceeding, imprisonment, detention or supervision for such offense or juvenile delinquency. The duly accredited officers of the sending state shall be permitted to transport delinquent juveniles being so returned through any and all states party to this compact, without interference.

(4) The sending state shall be responsible under this article for paying the costs of transporting any delinquent juvenile to the receiving state or of returning any delinquent juvenile to the sending state.

ARTICLE VIII

RESPONSIBILITY FOR COSTS.—

(1) The provisions of articles IV(2), V(2) and VII(4) of this compact shall not be construed to alter or affect any internal relationship among the departments, agencies and officers of and in the government of a party state, or between a party state and its subdivisions, as to the payment of costs, or responsibilities therefor.

(2) Nothing in this compact shall be construed to prevent any party state or subdivision thereof from asserting any right against any person, agency or other entity in regard to costs for which such party state or subdivision thereof may be responsible pursuant to articles IV(2), V(2) or VII(4) of this compact.

ARTICLE IX

DETENTION PRACTICES.—To every extent possible, it shall be the policy of states party to this compact that no juvenile or delinquent juvenile shall be placed or detained in any prison, jail or lockup nor be detained or transported in association with criminal, vicious or dissolute persons.

ARTICLE X

SUPPLEMENTARY AGREEMENTS.—The duly constituted administrative authorities of a state party to this compact may enter into supplementary agreements with any other state or states party hereto for the cooperative care, treatment and rehabilitation of delinquent juveniles whenever they shall find that such agreements will improve the facilities or programs available for such care, treatment and rehabilitation. Such care, treatment and rehabilitation may be provided in an institution located within any state entering into such supplementary agreement. Such supplementary agreements shall (1) provide the rates to be paid for the care, treatment and custody of such delinquent juveniles, taking into consideration the character of facilities, services and subsistence furnished; (2) provide that the delinquent juvenile shall be given a court hearing prior to his being sent to another state for care, treatment and custody; (3) provide that the state receiving such a delinquent juvenile in one of its institutions shall act solely as agent for the state sending such delinquent juvenile; (4) provide that the sending state shall at all times retain jurisdiction over delinquent juveniles sent to an institution in another state; (5) provide for reasonable inspection of such institutions by the sending state; (6) provide that the consent of the parent, guardian, person or agency entitled to the legal custody of said delinquent juvenile shall be secured prior to his being sent to another state; and (7) make provision for such other matters and details as shall be necessary to protect the rights and equities of such delinquent juveniles and of the cooperating states.

ARTICLE XI

ACCEPTANCE OF FEDERAL AND OTHER AID.—Any state party to this compact may accept any and all donations, gifts and grants of money, equipment and services from the federal or any local government, or any agency thereof and from any person, firm or corporation, for any of the purposes and functions of this compact, and may receive and utilize the same subject to the terms, conditions and regulations governing such donations, gifts and grants.

ARTICLE XII

COMPACT ADMINISTRATORS.—The governor of each state party to this compact shall designate an officer who, acting jointly with like officers of other party states, shall promulgate rules and regulations to carry out more effectively the terms and provisions of this compact.

ARTICLE XIII

EXECUTION OF COMPACT.—This compact shall become operative immediately upon its execution by any state as between it and any other state or states so executing. When executed it shall have the full force and effect of law within such state, the form of execution to be in accordance with the laws of the executing state.

ARTICLE XIV

RENUNCIATION.—This compact shall continue in force and remain binding upon each executing state until renounced by it. Renunciation of this compact shall be by the same authority which executed it, by sending six months notice in writing of its intention to withdraw from the compact to the other states party hereto. The duties and obligations of a renouncing state under article VII hereof shall continue as to parolees and probationers residing therein at the time of withdrawal until retaken or finally discharged. Supplementary agreements entered into under article X hereof shall be subject to renunciation as provided by such supplementary agreements, and shall not be subject to the six months renunciation notice of the present article.

ARTICLE XV

SEVERABILITY.—The provisions of this compact shall be severable and if any phrase, clause, sentence or provision of this compact is declared to be contrary to the constitution of any participating state or of the United States or the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this compact and the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance shall not be affected thereby. If this compact shall be held contrary to the constitution of any state participating therein, the compact shall remain in full force and effect as to the remaining states and in full force and effect as to the state affected as to all severable matters.

ARTICLE XVI

ADDITIONAL ARTICLE.—This article shall provide additional remedies, and shall be binding only as among and between those party states which specifically execute the same.

For the purposes of this article, "child," as used herein, means any minor within the jurisdictional age limits of any court in the home state.

When any child is brought before a court of a state of which such child is not a resident, and such state is willing to permit such child's return to the home state of such child, such home state, upon being so advised by the state in which such proceeding is pending, shall immediately institute proceedings to determine the residence and jurisdictional facts as to such child in such home state, and upon finding that such child is in fact a resident of said state and subject to the jurisdiction of the court thereof, shall within five days authorize the return of such child to the home state, and to the parent or custodial agency legally authorized to accept such custody in such home state, and at the expense of such home state, to be paid from such funds as such home state may procure, designate, or provide, prompt action being of the essence.

ARTICLE XVII

ADDITIONAL ARTICLE.—

(1) This amendment shall provide additional remedies, and shall be binding only as among and between those party states which specifically execute the same.

(2) All provisions and procedures of articles V and VI of the interstate compact on juveniles shall be construed to apply to any juvenile charged with being a delinquent by reason of a violation of any criminal law. Any juvenile, charged with being a delinquent by reason of violating any criminal law, shall be returned to the requesting state upon a requisition to the state where the juvenile may be found. A petition in such case shall be filed in a court of competent jurisdiction in the requesting state where the violation of criminal law is alleged to have been committed. The petition may be filed regardless of whether the juvenile has left the state before or after the filing of the petition. The requisition described in article V of the compact shall be forwarded by the judge of the court in which the petition has been filed.

History.—§2, ch. 57-298.

39.27 Juvenile compact administrator.—

Pursuant to said compact, the governor is hereby authorized and empowered to designate an officer who shall be the compact administrator and who, acting jointly with like officers of other party states, shall promulgate rules and regulations to carry out more effectively the terms of the compact. Said compact administrator shall serve subject to the pleasure of the governor. The compact administrator is hereby authorized, empowered and directed to cooperate with all departments, agencies and officers of and in the government of this state and its subdivisions in facilitating the proper administration of the compact or of any supplementary agreement or agreements entered into by this state thereunder.

History.—§3, ch. 57-298.

39.28 Supplementary agreements.—The compact administrator is hereby authorized and empowered to enter into supplementary agreements with appropriate officials of other states pursuant to the compact. In the event that such supplementary agreement shall require or contemplate the use of any institution or facility of this state or require or contemplate the provision of any service by this state, said supplementary agreement shall have no force or effect until approved by the head of the department or agency under whose jurisdiction said institution or facility is operated or whose department or agency will be charged with the rendering of such service.

History.—§4, ch. 57-298.

39.29 Financial arrangements.—The compact administrator, subject to the approval of the chief state fiscal officer, may make or arrange for any payments necessary to discharge any financial obligations imposed upon this state by the compact or by any supplementary agreement entered into thereunder.

History.—§5, ch. 57-298.

39.30 Responsibilities of state departments, agencies and officers.—The courts, departments, agencies and officers of this state and its subdivisions shall enforce this compact and shall do all things appropriate to the effectuation of its purposes and intent which may be within their respective jurisdictions.

History.—§6, ch. 57-298.

39.31 Additional procedures not precluded.
—In addition to any procedure provided in articles IV and VI of the compact for the return of any runaway juvenile, the particular states, the juvenile or his parents, the courts, or other legal custodian involved may agree upon and adopt any other plan or procedure legally authorized under the laws of this state and the other respective party states for the return of any such runaway juvenile.

History.—§7, ch. 57-298.

40.01 Qualifications and disqualifications of jurors.—

(1) Grand and petit jurors shall be taken from the male and female persons over the age of twenty-one years, who are citizens of this state, and who have resided in the state for one year and in their respective counties for six months, and who are duly qualified electors of their respective counties; provided, however, that the name of no female person shall be taken for jury service unless said person has registered with the clerk of the circuit court her desire to be placed on the jury list.

(2) No person who shall have been convicted of bribery, forgery, perjury, or larceny within this state or under the laws of any other state, government or country, or who shall have been convicted within this state of a felony, or under the laws of any other state, government or country of a crime which, if committed within this state, would be a felony, shall be qualified to serve as a juror unless restored to civil rights.

(3) In the selection of jury lists only such persons as the selecting officers know, or have reason to believe, are law abiding citizens of approved integrity, good character, sound judgment and intelligence, and who are not physically or mentally infirm, shall be selected for jury duty.

(4) Where in the laws of Florida pertaining to jurors and the preparation of jury lists reference is made to male persons, such reference shall in each instance be taken and construed to mean male and female persons.

(5) Provided that the foregoing provisions hereof are subject to the exception that the jury in an eminent domain proceeding shall be composed of men.

(6) That wherever jurors are required by law or by order of court, to be kept together during the conduct of a trial, or while considering their verdict, or whenever by order of court lodging is required to be furnished juries, separate lodging and rest room facilities shall be provided for jurors of different sexes, and under contemplation of law jurors shall be deemed to have been kept together whenever the jurors of different sexes occupy the accommodations provided for their respective sexes.

(7) That whenever female persons are sitting on any jury, and it becomes necessary that said jurors be committed to the charge of an officer, a female bailiff or deputy sheriff shall be provided to attend said jury in addition to the male officer to whom such juries are customarily committed, and all existing laws relating to the powers, duties and obligations of such male officer shall apply with like force and effect to such female officer.

40.02 Selection of jury lists by county commissioners.—

(1) SELECTION OF LISTS, GENERALLY.—In all counties, except those having a jury commission, the county commissioners shall hold a meeting during the first week in January of each year, or as soon thereafter as practicable, and at such other times as the circuit judge may order, for the purpose of selecting jury lists. At such meeting said commissioners shall personally select, from the lists of male persons who are qualified to serve as jurors under the provisions of §40.01, and make out a list of, not less than two hundred fifty nor more than fifteen hundred persons properly qualified to serve as jurors, which list shall be signed and verified by said commissioners as having been personally selected as aforesaid and as possessing the prescribed qualifications according to their best information and belief. Said list shall be forthwith delivered to the clerk of the circuit court and by him recorded in the minute book of the board of county commissioners.

(2) SELECTION OF LIST WHERE CRIMINAL COURT OF RECORD.—In counties where criminal courts of record may exist, the county commissioners shall make out a list of not less than four hundred fifty nor more than seven hundred fifty names of persons who are qualified to serve as jurors under §40.01.

(3) SELECTION OF LESS THAN MINIMUM NUMBER.—If, in any county of this state, the county commissioners shall not be able to select the number required by this section they shall be authorized to select a less number.

(4) ADDITIONAL LISTS.—The circuit judge may require the county commissioners to select additional jury lists from time to time as may appear to such judge to be necessary to avoid the names selected becoming exhausted.

(5) DISQUALIFICATION, EFFECT OF.—If any person so selected shall be ascertained to be disqualified or incompetent to serve as a juror, such disqualification shall not effect the legality of such list or be cause of challenge to the array of any jury chosen from such list, but any person ascertained to be disqualified to serve as a juror, shall be subject to challenge for cause, as defined by law.

(6) EFFECT OF PRIOR JURY SERVICE.—The fact that any person so selected had been on a former jury list or had served as a juror in any court at any time shall not be grounds for challenge of such person as a juror.

40.03 Selection of jury lists in large counties.—In each county, except those counties having a jury commission, which has or may have a population exceeding eighty-five thousand, according to the last preceding state or federal census, the county commissioners, in selecting and making up the lists of persons to serve as jurors as provided by law, shall select and make out a list of not less than one thousand nor more than two thousand persons qualified to serve as jurors.

History.—§1, ch. 7753, 1918; RGS 2773; §3, ch. 12068, 1927; CGL 4445; §1, ch. 21740, 1943.

40.04 Selection of jury lists in small counties.—In each county which has a population of less than six thousand inhabitants, according to the last preceding state census, the board of county commissioners at the time and in the manner provided by law shall select and make out a list of not less than two hundred nor more than two hundred and fifty persons properly qualified to serve as jurors.

History.—§1, ch. 7840, 1919; CGL 4446.

40.05 Selection of jury lists in new counties.—The county commissioners of any new county hereafter created, at the first meeting of such board of county commissioners provided for in the act creating such new county, or as soon thereafter as practicable, shall select from the male persons who are qualified to serve as jurors under the provisions of §§40.01 and 40.02, and shall make a list as provided by §40.02, which list shall be signed and recorded as provided by §40.02. The clerk of the circuit court shall write the said names on pieces of paper and place such pieces of paper in a box and shall close and seal such box as provided by §40.06 and shall otherwise comply with all the provisions of said §40.06.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 8519, 1921; CGL 4447, 4454; §7, ch. 22858, 1945.

40.06 Transcription and preservation of lists.—On receiving the list of persons selected as qualified to serve as jurors, as provided for in §40.02, the clerk of the circuit court, in the presence of the county judge or a circuit judge in the absence, sickness or disability of the county judge and the sheriff, shall write the names of the persons contained in said list on separate pieces of paper and shall roll or fold such pieces of paper so that the names written thereon will not be visible and shall deposit such pieces of paper in a box so constructed that it may be tightly closed; said box shall then and immediately after the drawing of the jury, as hereinafter provided, be closed and securely locked and across the opening thereof shall be placed a label or seal containing the signature of the clerk and the date of the closing of such box. The clerk shall keep such box in his custody but the key thereof shall be delivered to and kept by the sheriff.

40.061 Addresses of persons on jury lists.—In the preparation, selection, transcription, preservation, certification and issuance of jury lists and the venire of jurors, as prescribed by chapter 40, all persons responsible for administering such duties and functions shall, in addition to including the names of qualified persons on such lists and jury slips, also cause to be included thereon the last known addresses of all such persons.

History.—§1, ch. 59-78.

40.07 Persons disqualified.

(1) BY CRIME.—No person who is under prosecution for any crime, or who shall have been convicted in this state or any federal court, or any other state, territory, or country, of bribery, forgery, perjury, larceny or any other offense that is a felony in this state or which if it had been committed in this state would be a felony, unless restored to civil rights, shall be qualified to serve as a juror.

(2) BY OFFICIAL POSITION.—Neither the governor, nor his cabinet officers, nor any sheriff or his deputy, assessor of taxes, collector of revenue, county treasurer, clerks of courts, judges, justice of the peace, county commissioners or United States officials shall be qualified to be jurors.

(3) BY INFIRMITY.—No person not of sound mind and discretion shall be qualified to be a juror.

(4) BY INTEREST IN THE SUBJECT MATTER OF THE CAUSE.—No person interested in any issue to be tried therein shall be a juror in any cause; but no person shall be disqualified from sitting in the trial of any suit in which the state or any county or municipal corporation is a party by reason of the fact that such person is a resident or taxpayer within the state, or such county or municipal corporation.

40.08 Persons exempt from jury duty.—The following persons, and none others, shall be exempt from jury duty:

(1) BY REASON OF AGE OR BODILY INFIRMITY.—All persons more than sixty-five years of age, and all persons subject to any bodily infirmity amounting to disability.

(2) BY REASON OF POSITION OR OCCUPATION.—Attorneys and counsellors, editorial and news department workers of daily and weekly newspapers, and those who gather, prepare, edit and broadcast news for radio and television stations, officers of the university, officers of colleges, preceptors and teachers of incorporated academies, teachers of common schools, practicing physicians and surgeons, pharmacists, ministers of the gospel, Christian Science practitioners and readers, one miller to each grist mill, one ferryman to each licensed ferry, telegraph operators, all superintendents, engineers and train dispatchers of any canal or railroad in operation, ten active members of any hand fire company, six active members of any hose company, either paid or voluntary, twenty active members of any hook and ladder company, all members of the state militia when in active service under call by the sheriff of the county or by the governor. The officers of each fire, hose and hook and ladder company shall, on the first day in January, file with the clerk of the circuit court of the county a list of the members of their respective companies, which said companies have been respectively selected to be exempt for the ensuing year, and the county commissioners shall omit the said names from the list to be selected by them. Only the persons named on such lists shall be exempt, and if no list be filed before the selection by the county commissioners, there shall be no exemption. Provided the exemption of any person or class of persons within the exemptions provided by this subsection may be revoked and such person or class of persons shall be subject to jury duty at a term of court when deemed necessary within the discretion of the court.

(3) EMPLOYEES OF CERTAIN STATE INSTITUTIONS.—The employees of all insane, deaf and dumb and other asylums and hospitals established and maintained by the state as state institutions, for the care, maintenance, treatment, etc., of the afflicted of the state, shall be and are hereby exempt from serving as grand and petit jurors in the courts of the state.

(4) SUPERINTENDENT TO FILE CERTIFIED LIST.—On the first Monday in January, April, June and September in each calendar year the superintendent or person having charge of such institution shall file in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of the county where such institution is situated, a certified list of all adult male employees of the same. Any and all officers having the duty of selecting the names of persons to serve as jurors shall exclude from the box, or collection of names from which such selection is to be made, the names contained in the list certified and filed as provided in foregoing section: Provided, such officers may, at or within ten days prior to the opening of any regular or special term of any court in the county, require the superintendent of such institution to certify whether any particular person has left the employ of the same since the date of the list of employees last certified by him, and persons thus certified as having left the employ of the institution shall, by the clerk of the circuit court, be stricken from the superintendent's last certified list of employees, and shall no longer be exempt from jury duty.

40.09 Jury commissions, counties exceeding one hundred twenty thousand.—There shall be a jury commission, in each county having a population exceeding 120,000 by the last federal census, consisting of two members, appointed by the governor for terms of two years, each of whom shall be a resident of such county. This provision shall become effective in all counties hereafter attaining the above population on January 1 next following the publication of the census showing such population and as early as practicable after becoming effective in such counties, the governor shall appoint a jury commission for such county, one for a term of one year from the effective date of this provision and one for a term of two years from said effective date. All successor commissioners shall be appointed by the governor and shall hold their offices for terms of two years each.

History.—§1, ch. 16058, 1933; §1, ch. 18001, 1937; CGL 1936 Supp. 4450(4); §1, ch. 29973, 1955.

40.10 Duties of commissioners; jury lists.—The jury commissioners in counties described in §40.09, shall select and list not more than 10,000 inhabitants of such county known or believed to be qualified under the law to be jurors who, even if exempt, have not filed a written claim of exemption from jury duty as herein-after provided, the exact number to be determined by the senior circuit judge of the circuit; provided, however, that when no number is fixed by the circuit judge the commission shall select a list of 10,000 jurors. In making the selections and preparation of said lists, the jury commissioners may confer with the judge or one or more of the judges of the circuit court of such county, and shall have the power, without charge or cost, to examine at any reasonable time all documents and records in the office of the clerk of the circuit court and of any other county officials as to persons who have been listed, summoned, not found, served or excused as jurors, and all books, records, and lists in the office of the supervisor of registration or other county official containing the names of electors of such county. The clerk of the circuit court shall furnish or cause to be furnished the necessary clerical aid to the commission.

History.—§2, ch. 16058, 1933; CGL 1936 Supp. 4450(5); §1, ch. 28042, 1953; §1, ch. 29696, 1955; §1, ch. 57-321.

40.11 Certification of jury lists.—Such list of jurors in each county shall be completed by the jury commissioners and certified by them before the end of June of each year, and at such other period or periods during the year as may be ordered by a judge of the circuit court of such county; provided, that when so ordered by such judge at a time other than the end of June, the jury commissioners need not select and list 10,000 such inhabitants, but shall select and list such number of such inhabitants not less than 1,000 as shall be specified by such judge in such order. Every such list shall be submitted to and approved by the circuit judge or one of said circuit judges, such approval to be evidenced by his signature thereon. Said list so certified and approved, although it may be defective or irregular in form, certification, approval or other formal requirement, or in the number or qualification of the persons so named, shall be the basis for copying the listed names on separate pieces of paper to be deposited and preserved in the box whence the names of persons for jury duty are to be drawn as prescribed by law. It shall not affect the validity of such list or any listed or copied name if there should be any error or irregularity in either, each person so procured or listed as a juror being presumed to be the one intended to be listed as a juror. When the annual jury list or special jury list prepared pursuant to the order of a circuit judge is certified and approved the box containing the names of jurors previously listed shall be emptied and all names removed therefrom before such newly listed names are placed in such jury box. If, notwithstanding this provision, some names or papers containing names remain in the jury box, such error or irregularity shall not invalidate the contents of the box or the procurement of any jurors by drawing names therefrom or any subsequent proceeding or jury.

History.—§3, ch. 16058, 1933; CGL 1936 Supp. 4450(6); §2, ch. 29973, 1955; §1, ch. 57-320; §1, ch. 61-148; §1, ch. 63-217.

40.12 Exemption from jury duty.—Every person claiming to be exempt from jury duty in any county described in §40.09 shall annually, on or before the 31st day of December of each year, file with the clerk of the circuit court an affidavit claiming exemption from jury duty and stating the grounds therefor, which affidavit shall be filed by the clerk and transmitted promptly to said jury commissioners. If any person claiming any such exemption shall fail or refuse to file such affidavit of exemption from jury duty within the time above stated, he shall not be entitled to have the privilege of exemption from jury duty during the calendar year succeeding that during which he was required to file his affidavit of exemption as aforesaid. In preparing the jury list, the jury commissioners shall examine all written claims of exemption from jury duty which were filed on or before the preceding December 31st, and shall omit from such jury list the names of all persons who shall be entitled to exemption from jury duty and who have filed such written claims of exemption within the time stated hereinabove. If any claim of exemption from jury duty shall be disallowed by the jury commissioners, the person claiming exemption, having filed his written claim therefor as aforesaid, may renew his claim of exemption in any court in which he may be summoned as a juror.

History.—§4, ch. 16058, 1933; CGL 1936 Supp. 4450(7).

40.13 Compensation of jury commissioners.—Each jury commissioner shall be paid out of the general fund of the county an annual salary of one hundred dollars, and shall be reimbursed for traveling expenses as provided in §112.061, upon his requisition therefor which shall be approved by one of the judges of the circuit court of such county before being entitled to payment.

History.—§5, ch. 16058, 1933; CGL 1936 Supp. 4450(8); §19, ch. 63-400.

40.20 Deficiency in county.—Whenever it shall appear that there is not a sufficient number of qualified jurors to form a grand and petit jury, the judge of the circuit court, upon ascertaining such, may order all cases pending for trial in the circuit court of any such county transferred to some other county within his circuit for trial, and indictments may be obtained (against persons charged with crimes committed in any county not having a sufficient number of qualified jurors to form a grand and petit jury) in any county within the circuit to which such county is attached or belongs.

History.—§1, ch. 1857, 1871; RS 1159; GS 1583; RGS 2785; CGL 4462.

40.22 Insurance of venire.—The clerk of the circuit court, criminal court of record, county court, court of record in and for Escambia county, Florida, or the county judge, as the case may be, shall, at least ten days before the first day of court, issue and deliver to the sheriff a venire for the petit jury, under the seal of the court, commanding him to summon the persons named in the venire.

History.—§6, ch. 1628, 1868; RS 1154; GS 1584; RGS 2786; CGL 4463; §1, ch. 16410, 1933.

40.23 Summoning petit jurors.—The sheriff shall summon the persons named in such venire to attend such court as petit jurors at least seven days previous to the sitting of such court, by registering to each person so named in the venire a written notice, addressed to his place of residence, and placing such notice in the United States mail with sufficient postage to carry the same and with return receipt requested, unless otherwise directed by the court. If otherwise directed by the court, then the sheriff shall summon such jurors in the manner directed, making the same returnable as directed by the court.

cf.—§1.01(13) defines registered mail to include certified mail with return receipt requested.

40.24 Pay of jurors.—Grand and petit jurors of the regular panel and jurors summoned to complete a jury after the regular panel is exhausted in all the courts of the state as well as jurors summoned upon inquest of the dead, shall receive for each day of active attendance upon the court or inquest, five dollars. Jurors summoned to complete a panel after the regular panel is exhausted, and who are not accepted and not required to serve on the jury, shall receive compensation of five dollars per day, and all fractional parts of a day shall be counted as a day. In addition to the compensation above provided, all jurors shall receive five cents per mile for every mile necessarily traveled in going to and returning from court by the nearest practicable route. Jurors who attend on any of the days of the term when the presiding judge is absent, or being present, does not hold the session of the court, shall be entitled to receive the same compensation as if the court was in session.

History.—§1, ch. 3853, 1889; RS 1161; §1, ch. 4385, 1895; GS 1586; §1, ch. 5647, 1907; §1, ch. 5900, 1909; §1, ch. 6219, 1911; RGS 2788; CGL 4473; §7, ch. 22858, 1945; §1, ch. 26868, 1951; §1, ch. 28247, 1953.

40.25 Pay of jurors in vacation.—The mileage and per diem of jurors summoned specially to try any issue of facts arising in a civil cause under the laws of this state, before any court or judge in vacation, shall be taxed as costs, and paid by the party to the cause as other costs are paid; and before such jury is summoned, the party demanding the same may be required by the court or judge to deposit an amount sufficient to cover the cost of such jury trial.

History.—§1, ch. 4127, 1893; GS 1588; RGS 2790; CGL 4476.

40.26 Meals for jurors.—The sheriff, when required by order of the court, shall provide juries with meals and lodging, the expense to be taxed against and paid by the state.

History.—§1, ch. 3860, 1889; RS 1162; GS 1587; §10, ch. 7838, 1919; RGS 2789; CGL 4475.
cf.—§919.01(3) Meals for jurors.

40.27 Failure of jurors to attend; penalty.—If any person, duly drawn and summoned to attend as a juror in any court, shall neglect to attend without any sufficient excuse, he shall pay a fine not exceeding twenty dollars, which shall be imposed by the court to which the jury was summoned, and shall be paid into the county treasury.

History.—§8, ch. 1628, 1868; RS 1164; GS 1590; RGS 2792; CGL 4478.

40.28 Failure to draw or summon jurors; punishment.—When, by neglect of any of the duties required by this chapter to be performed by any of the officers or persons herein mentioned, the jurors to be returned shall be not duly drawn and summoned to attend court, every person guilty of such neglect shall pay a fine not exceeding twenty dollars (to be imposed by the court) into the treasury of the county in which the offense is committed.

History.—§29, ch. 1628, 1868; RS 1163; GS 1589; RGS 2791; CGL 4477.

40.29 Clerks to estimate amount for pay of jurors and witnesses and make requisition.—Within four weeks of the commencement of any term of the circuit court, criminal court of record, civil court of record, or county court, in and for any county in this state, whether the same be a regular, special or adjourned term, the clerk of any of such courts of such county shall make an estimate of the amount necessary for the payment by the state of jurors in the circuit court and witnesses before the grand jury, and jurors in the criminal court of record, civil court of record and county court, at said term of court, and shall forward such estimate to the comptroller of this state; and at the time of the forwarding such estimate the clerk of any of said courts shall make his requisition upon the comptroller for the amount of such estimate, and the comptroller may reduce the amount, if in his judgment the requisition is excessive.

cf.—§41.09 Compensation of jurors in certain county judge's court.

History.—§2, ch. 4121, 1893; GS 1592; §2, ch. 7262, 1917; RGS 2794; CGL 4480; §7, ch. 57-1; §8, ch. 59-1.

40.31 Comptroller may apportion appropriation.—If the comptroller shall have reason to believe that the amount appropriated by the legislature is insufficient to meet the expenses of jurors in all the courts at the next ensuing term of the circuit court, criminal court of record, civil court of record, or county court, of any county, he may apportion the money in the treasury for that purpose among the several counties, basing such apportionment upon the amount expended for the payment of jurors in each county at the last regular term of said courts; and in such case the state treasurer shall remit only the amount so apportioned to each county, and when the amount so apportioned to any county is insufficient to pay in full all the jurors at any term of the said courts, the clerk of the circuit court, criminal court of record, civil court of record, or county court, shall apportion the money received by him pro rata among the jurors entitled to pay at such term, and shall give to each juror a certificate of the amount of compensation still due, which certificate shall be held by the comptroller as other demands against the state.

History.—§3, ch. 4121, 1893; GS 1593; §3, ch. 7262, 1917; RGS 2795; CGL 4481.

40.32 Clerks to disburse money.—All moneys drawn from the treasury under the provisions of this chapter by the clerk of the circuit court, criminal court of record, civil court of record, or county court of any county, shall be disbursed by the clerk of said court as far as needed in payment of jurors for the legal compensation for service at the term of the court for which said moneys were drawn, and for no other purposes. Jurors shall be paid by the appropriate clerk either in cash as now permitted under this chapter or by warrant within ten days of jury service. Whenever the clerk pays a juror by cash said juror shall sign the pay roll in the presence of the clerk, a deputy clerk or some other person designated by the clerk. Whenever the clerk pays a juror by warrant he shall endorse on the pay roll opposite the juror's name the words: "Paid by warrant" giving the number and date of the warrant. Should any of the said moneys remain in the hands of said clerks unexpended after the payment of all of said jurors properly on the pay roll at any term of the circuit court, criminal court of record, civil court of record, or county court, the clerk of any such court shall transmit the same to the comptroller within ten days after the adjournment of such court, and upon failure to do so shall be suspended from office by the governor until the next meeting of the legislature, when the governor shall report his action to the senate.

History.—§4, ch. 4121, 1893; GS 1594; §4, ch. 7262, 1917; RGS 2796; CGL 4482; §1, ch. 59-38; §1, ch. 61-494.

40.33 Deficiency.—Should the compensation of jurors at any term of the circuit court, criminal court of record, civil court of record, or county court, exceed the amount estimated by the clerk, and therefore be insufficient to pay in full said jurors, said clerk shall make his further requisition upon the comptroller for the amount necessary to pay such default, and the amount required shall be transmitted to the clerk in the same manner as the original requisition or order.

40.34 Clerks to make triplicate pay roll.—

(1) The clerks of the several courts of record in this state whose jurors are paid from state funds, and whose witnesses before the grand jury or prosecuting attorney are paid from state funds, shall make out a pay roll in triplicate, which shall contain (a) the name of each juror and witness, entitled to be paid with state funds, who attended any session of such court, or appeared before the grand jury or before the prosecuting attorney, (b) the number of days such jurors and witnesses are entitled to be paid for, (c) the number of miles traveled by each, (d) and the total compensation each such juror or witness is entitled to receive.

(2) The form of such pay roll shall be prescribed by the state comptroller. Each juror and witness paid in cash by the clerk shall sign the pay roll in the presence of the clerk, a deputy clerk or some other person designated by the clerk. Whenever the clerk pays a juror or witness by warrant he shall endorse on the pay roll opposite the name of the juror or witness the words: "Paid by warrant" giving the number and date of the warrant. The pay roll shall be approved by the signature of the clerk, or his deputy, except as to witnesses appearing before the prosecuting attorney which shall be approved by the signature of said prosecuting attorney, or an assistant.

(3) The clerks of the courts aforesaid shall forward two copies of such pay rolls to the state comptroller, within ten days after each adjournment of such courts, who shall audit them.

(4) If upon audit as aforesaid the said pay rolls are found correct the state comptroller shall draw his warrant on the state treasury for the amount due thereon, and shall deliver the same to the state treasurer, together with all amounts returned by the said clerks, taking up the requisition of the clerk given the treasurer.

History.—§6, ch. 4121, 1893; GS 1596; §6, ch. 7262, 1917; RGS 2798; CGL 4484; §1, ch. 25091, 1949; (2) §1, ch. 61-494.

40.35 Accounting and payment to the comptroller.—The clerk of any of said courts shall, within two weeks after the adjournment of any term, render to the comptroller a full statement of his accounts for moneys received and disbursed by him under the provisions of this chapter, and pay over any balance in his hands; and should any such clerk fail to account for and pay over promptly all moneys so paid him, the sureties on his official bond shall be held liable and responsible for same; and the comptroller shall report to the governor any failure on the part of the clerk to report and faithfully account for any such moneys; and the governor may, on account of such report from the comptroller, suspend from office any such defaulting clerk until the next session of the legislature.

History.—§8, ch. 3108, 1879; RS 1170; GS 1597; §7, ch. 7262, 1917; RGS 2799; CGL 4485; §7, ch. 22858, 1945.

40.36 Drawing jury venire; petit and grand; term and vacation.—A judge of any court of record in the presence of the sheriff or any deputy sheriff and the clerk or any deputy clerk of the court of which he is judge, in term time or in vacation, shall draw from the jury box the names of such number of persons as he shall deem necessary or expedient for a jury venire, to be returnable at such time as he shall specify, from which such venire or venires so drawn any jury may be organized, including a grand jury when drawn by or upon order of a judge of the circuit court. All such drawings shall be done publicly and in the courtroom where the trials of such court are usually had, and a list of such jurors so drawn shall be made by the judge or the clerk, or a deputy clerk of such court, and signed by the judge drawing same, which list of names of persons so drawn, together with the slips containing the names drawn from the jury box, shall be delivered to the clerk, who shall keep same in some secure place throughout the term.

History.—§1, ch. 21973, 1943.

40.37 Drawing by other judges.—Upon order of any judge of any such court of record having jurisdiction, it shall be the duty of the county judge, or in his absence, a justice of the peace of the county, in the presence of the clerk of such court or his deputy, and the sheriff of the county or his deputy, to, in like manner, draw the number of names from the jury box for a venire as such judge's order shall specify and said venire shall be issued by the clerk of such court and be made returnable as said judge's order shall specify, and said drawing for said venire shall have the same force and effect as if done by the judge of such court.

History.—§2, ch. 21973, 1943.

40.38 Court of record.—For purposes relating to the drawing of jurors from the jury box a court of record shall be taken and construed to mean any court other than that of a justice of the peace or a county judge's court.

History.—§3, ch. 21973, 1943.

40.39 Clerk of court; duty.—It shall be the duty of the clerk of such court of record to make a list of said names and issue to the sheriff of the county wherein said term of court is to be held, a venire commanding him to summon the persons so drawn, to appear at the time specified before said court to serve as jurors therein.

History.—§4, ch. 21973, 1943.

40.40 Drawing grand jurors.—

(1) Whenever a grand jury is to be organized it shall be the duty of the judge to place the names of so many of said persons as shall appear and qualify in response to said summons, in a box or hat and draw therefrom the names of eighteen persons, who shall serve as grand jurors for said regular or special term, and the persons whose names shall remain in said box or hat shall serve as petit jurors.

(2) If at any time sufficient qualified persons are found not available to serve as jurors, additional venires may issue for additional persons and any jury, including a grand jury, may be impaneled and organized from such persons as are available.

History.—§5, ch. 21973, 1943.

40.41 Petit jurors; length of service.—Petit jurors shall serve for one week only, unless the circumstances, in the opinion of the judge, require such jurors to serve for a longer time.

History.—§6, ch. 21973, 1943.

40.42 Deficiency of jurors.—When the venire is exhausted and when the names in the jury box become exhausted during a term of court, then the court may direct the sheriff to summon from the body of the county a sufficient number of qualified jurors to complete the panel.

History.—§7, ch. 21973, 1943.

40.43 Deficiency or excess in jury box; omissions, etc.—Any deficiency or excess of names placed in a jury box by the county commissioners, jury commission or other authorized body, or the omission of any clerical duty, or the commission of any other error in the selection, serving, drawing or impaneling of grand or petit jurors, shall not affect the legality of the organization of any jury, unless it shall appear that such error has resulted in a miscarriage of justice.

History.—§8, ch. 21973, 1943.

CHAPTER 41

JURORS AND JURY LISTS FOR CERTAIN COUNTY JUDGES' COURTS

- 41.01 Jury lists.
- 41.02 Depositing names of jurors in box.
- 41.03 Drawing jurors.
- 41.04 Summoning jurors.
- 41.05 Procedure where no jury drawn.
- 41.06 Completion of panel in case of challenges, etc.

41.01 Jury lists.—The several boards of county commissioners of the several counties of this state in which there is no county court, criminal court, a jury commission or court of record, shall annually at a meeting to be held the first week in July, or as soon thereafter as practicable, select from a list of persons who are qualified to serve as jurors under the laws of Florida, and make out a list of not less than two hundred nor more than five hundred persons qualified to serve as jurors, which persons shall have the same qualifications required by jurors for the circuit courts of the state, and which list shall be signed by the same persons and in the same manner, and shall be delivered to the clerk of such board, and be recorded in the same manner as required by law for the list of jurors selected by such boards for the circuit courts in the said counties.

History.—§1, ch. 10167, 1925; CGL 4465; §1, ch. 59-480.

41.02 Depositing names of jurors in box.—The clerk of the circuit court of each of such counties on receiving the list of jurors selected by the county commissioners as provided herein, shall in the presence of the sheriff of such county, or deputy sheriff, write the names of the persons contained thereon on separate pieces of paper and shall roll up or fold up such pieces of paper so that the names written thereon shall not be visible and shall deposit such pieces of paper in a box so constructed that it may be tightly closed, which box shall be labelled "County Judge's Court." The said box shall be then, and immediately after the drawing of any jury as hereinafter provided, closed and securely locked, and across the opening thereof shall be placed a label or seal containing the signatures of the clerk and sheriff, or deputy sheriff, and the date of the closing of such box. The clerk shall thereupon deliver such box into the care and custody of the county judge of the said county to be kept by him, but the key thereof shall be delivered to and kept by the sheriff of the said county.

History.—§2, ch. 10167, 1925; CGL 4466.

41.03 Drawing jurors.—The county judge of such county, at every regular or special term of the county judge's court thereof, shall in open court and in the presence of the sheriff of the county, or of one of his deputies, proceed to draw from such box the names of not less than twelve nor more than twenty-four persons to serve as jurors at the next succeeding regular or special term of said county judge's court. The county judge shall make a list in his own handwriting of the names of the persons so drawn and deposit the said list, together with the slips containing the names of the persons drawn from the said box, in an envelope, and securely seal the same and write his name at least twice across the flap of the envelope; this envelope shall then be kept in the custody of the said county judge in some secure place until at least ten days before the opening of the said next term of the said county judge's court, at which time the said county judge shall, in the presence of the clerk of the circuit court, or in his absence, in the presence of a justice of the peace, and in the presence of the sheriff of the county, or of one of his deputies, open said envelope and issue and deliver to the sheriff of the county a venire under the seal of the said county judge's court commanding him to summon the persons so drawn as jurors to appear before the court at the next ensuing term thereof.

History.—§3, ch. 10167, 1925; CGL 4467; §1, ch. 21898, 1943; §1, ch. 23818, 1947; §11, ch. 25035, 1949.

41.04 Summoning jurors.—The sheriff shall thereupon proceed to summon the said persons named in said venire in the same manner as required by law for serving summons on jurors for the circuit courts, and he shall be allowed the same compensation for such services as provided by law for similar services in the circuit courts of the state.

History.—§4, ch. 10167, 1925; CGL 4468.

41.05 Procedure where no jury drawn.—If in case no jurors shall have been drawn as provided in this chapter for any term of the county judge's court, the county judge may, upon convening such term of court immediately proceed to draw from the box in the same manner as heretofore provided in this chapter the names of not less than twelve nor more than twenty-four persons to serve as jurors for such term of such court, and immediately issue and deliver to the sheriff in open court the venire herein provided for; and the said judge shall, during that term of court, also draw the list of jurors as provided herein for the next term of such court.

History.—§5, ch. 10167, 1925; CGL 4469; §2, ch. 23818, 1947.

41.06 Completion of panel in case of challenges, etc.—That when it shall appear to the court that by reason of challenges or otherwise a sufficient number of jurors of those drawn and summoned cannot be obtained for the trial of any cause in the county judge's court, the court shall draw from the box, to be immediately summoned by the sheriff, or shall direct the sheriff to summon from the bystanders, or from the body of the county, a sufficient number of qualified jurors to complete the panel for the trial of such cause.

History.—§6, ch. 10167, 1925; CGL 4470.

41.07 Application of other laws.—Where not otherwise provided by this chapter the drawing, summoning and empaneling of all juries in the county judge's court of such counties shall be as provided by law for juries in the circuit courts.

History.—§7, ch. 10167, 1925; CGL 4471.

41.09 Compensation of jurors in county judges' courts in counties having a civil court of record.—Whenever any party to any proceeding in the county judge's court of any county of this state, in which there is a civil court of record, shall be entitled to a trial by jury, and shall make written demand therefor, the mileage and per diem of the jurors summoned to try such cause, shall be paid in the same manner as jurors in the civil courts of record of such counties are now paid.

History.—§1, ch. 19635, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 4476(1).
cf.—§40.29 Requisition by clerk for jurors' and witnesses' pay.

41.10 Estimates to be furnished comptroller.—Not less than thirty days before the beginning of any fiscal year, the judge of any such court shall make an estimate of the amount necessary for the payment by the state of jurors in such court for the fiscal year next ensuing, and shall forward such estimate to the comptroller of this state and make his requisition upon the comptroller for the amount of such estimate, and thereafter the comptroller and the state treasurer shall take such steps as now provided by law for county courts to transmit said amount to the judge making such requisition, but the comptroller may reduce the amount, if in his judgment the requisition is excessive.

History.—§2, ch. 19635, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 4476(2).
cf.—§40.29 et. seq. Requisition by clerk for jurors' and witnesses' pay.

41.11 Disbursement of funds.—The money transmitted from the treasurer under the provisions of §41.10, to the judge of any such court, shall be disbursed by the judge of such court as needed in payment of per diem and mileage fees of jurors lawfully summoned during the fiscal year, and for no other purpose, and should any moneys remain in the hands of said judge, unexpended, after the payment of all such jurors, at the end of such fiscal year, the judge of such court shall transmit the same to the comptroller within fifteen days after the end of each fiscal year. Should the amount necessary for payment of jurors in any fiscal year exceed the amount estimated by such judge, the said judge shall make further requisition upon the comptroller for the amount necessary to pay jurors for the remainder of such year, and the amount required shall be transmitted to said judge in the same manner as hereinbefore provided.

History.—§3, ch. 19635, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 4476(3).

41.12 Records and reports.—The judge of said court shall keep such records and make such reports regarding said funds, as now provided by law for clerks of the civil court of record, except that such reports shall be made at the close of each fiscal year.

History.—§4, ch. 19635, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 4476(4).

- 42.19 Forms.
- 42.20 Quarters for court; equipment; supplies.
- 42.21 Appropriation.
- 42.22 Forms, docket books, etc., to be furnished.

42.01 Small claims courts established.—There is established in each county a court to be known as the small claims court.

History.—§1, ch. 26920, 1951.

42.02 Method of activation.—No small claims court shall be activated unless and until the board of county commissioners of the respective counties shall determine that there is sufficient local need for such court and shall evidence such need by the adoption of a resolution setting forth such need either:

- (1) On its own motion, or
- (2) By petition, signed by not less than twenty-five registered voters of such county requesting such activation, in which case said board may pass the necessary resolution activating said court. The board shall, within seven days after the adoption of a resolution under this subsection, file a certified copy of such resolution with the secretary of state.

History.—§2, ch. 26920, 1951.

42.03 Jurisdiction.—Said courts shall have civil jurisdiction in cases at law in which the demand or value of the property involved does not exceed two hundred fifty dollars, said jurisdiction to be concurrent with the jurisdiction of any other court established in said counties; provided, however, that in counties having populations in excess of 400,000 according to the most recent official census, said courts shall have civil jurisdiction in cases at law in which the demand or value of the property involved does not exceed three hundred dollars, said jurisdiction to be concurrent with the jurisdiction of any other court or courts established in such counties.

History.—§3, ch. 26920, 1951; §1, ch. 28278, 1953.

42.04 Judge; election; term of office, etc.—Upon the activation of a small claims court in any county, the governor shall appoint a judge of said court, who shall serve as such judge until his successor shall have been elected and duly qualified. Beginning with the general election following the activation of such court, the judge thereof shall be elected by the electors of such county and shall hold office for four years. The judge of said court shall be a member of the bar of such county; provided, in all counties having a population in excess of 400,000 according to the most recent census, one additional judge shall be appointed by the governor, who shall serve as the judge of the small claims court until the election and qualification of a successor at the next general election, who shall serve a term of four years; provided, further, that in any county having a population of more than 900,000, according to the latest official decennial census, a second additional judge shall be appointed by the governor, who shall serve as judge of the small claims court in any such county until the election and qualification of a successor at the next general election, who shall serve a term of four years. In all counties having a population in excess of 400,000, according to the most recent census, the judge longest in continuous service and able to act shall be the presiding judge for administrative purposes, and said presiding judge of such court shall provide by local rule for the distribution of the work of such court to the judges thereof, and for the supervision of the clerk's office.

History.—§4, ch. 26920, 1951; §1, ch. 29636, 1955; §1, ch. 63-168.

42.05 Compensation of judge.—

(1) All fees collected by the judge as authorized by §42.11, after deducting costs, shall be retained by him as his sole remuneration, but in no event shall the sum to be retained exceed seven thousand five hundred dollars.

(2) All moneys collected by the judge in excess of seven thousand five hundred dollars after deducting costs shall be paid annually into the general county funds.

(3) In all counties having a population in excess of 400,000 according to the most recent official census, all moneys collected by the judges of the small claims court in excess of costs, shall be retained by such judges in an amount not to exceed an annual compensation of ten thousand dollars per annum to each judge and the balance of such receipts shall be paid annually into the general county funds, each judge to receive the same annual compensation.

History.—§5, ch. 26920, 1951; (3) n. §2, ch. 29636, 1955.

42.06 Clerk and assistants; compensation.—The judge shall appoint a clerk and such assistants as may be necessary for the proper operation of his office. Said clerk and assistants to be compensated from the fees herein authorized.

History.—§6, ch. 26920, 1951.

42.07 Court open continuously; trials; calendar; notice.—It is the purpose of this act to provide a forum for the speedy trial of small claims cases. Said court shall be in session continuously from day to day. Cases may be set for trial at any time. The clerk of said court shall keep and maintain a trial calendar and the placing of any case on said trial calendar with the date of trial shall be notice to all persons.

History.—§7, ch. 26920, 1951.

42.08 Docket book; material included; evidence.—The clerk shall keep a docket book, in which he shall make fair and accurate entries of all causes brought before the court, and minutes of all the proceedings, including the service and return of process, the appearance of such parties as may appear, the fact of trial, whether by court or jury, the verdict of the jury or finding by the judge, the judgment, including damages and costs separately stated, the issuing of execution and to whom issued, with the date thereof and the return thereon, and a marginal memorandum of the items of all costs, including witness' fees; which docket or certified copy thereof, shall be evidence of the matters therein stated.

History.—§8, ch. 26920, 1951.

42.09 Substitution of judge.—Whenever the judge of the small claims court shall be unable, from absence, sickness, or other cause, to discharge any duty whatever appertaining to his office, he may by order call in one of the justices of the peace to act in his place and stead, and such justice shall perform such duties and hear and determine all such matters as may be submitted to the judge of the small claims court.

History.—§9, ch. 26920, 1951.

42.10 Commencement of actions; service of notice; failure of defendant to appear.—

(1) Action shall be commenced by the filing of a statement of claim including the last known address of the defendant, in concise form and free from technicalities. The plaintiff, or his agent, shall verify the statement of claim by oath or affirmation in the form herein provided, or its equivalent, and shall affix his signature thereto. The judge or clerk of said court shall, at the request of any individual, prepare a statement of claim and other papers required to be filed in any action.

(2) A notice to appear shall be served on the defendant, to which shall be attached a copy of the verified statement of claim, and such service shall be sufficient to give the court jurisdiction in the premises. The time for appearance, at which time a hearing on the claim shall be had, shall be not less than five nor more than fifteen days from the date of the service of said notice. The mode of service shall be by the sheriff or constable as provided by law; or by registered mail with return receipt; or by any person not a party to or otherwise interested in the suit, especially appointed by the judge for that purpose.

(3) When notice is to be served by registered mail, the clerk shall enclose a copy of the statement of claim, verification, and notice in an envelope addressed to the defendant, at his last known address, prepay the postage from the filing fee provided for in §42.11 and mail the same forthwith, noting on the record the day and hour of mailing. When such receipt is returned, the clerk shall attach the same to the original statement of claim and it shall constitute prima facie evidence of service upon the defendant.

(4) When service is by a private individual, as above provided, he shall make proof of service of an affidavit, showing the time and place of service on the defendant.

(5) When served by the sheriff or constable, the actual cost of service shall be paid in addition to the filing fee as provided for in §42.11.

(6) The plaintiff shall be entitled to a judgment by default, without further proof, upon failure of defendant to appear, when the claim of the plaintiff is for a liquidated amount; when the amount is unliquidated, plaintiff shall be required to present proof of his claim.

(7) The clerk shall furnish the plaintiff with a memorandum of the day and hour set for the hearing.

History.—§10, ch. 26920, 1951.

cf.—§1.01(13) defines registered mail to include certified mail with return receipt requested.

42.11 Filing fees; costs; waiver.—The plaintiff, when he files his claim, shall deposit with the court the sum of three and one-half dollars, except proceedings of garnishment, attachment, replevin and distress, when the fee shall be ten dollars, which shall cover all costs of the proceedings, including the service of notice. The judge shall have full discretionary power to waive the prepayment of costs or the payment of costs accruing during the action upon the sworn written statement of the plaintiff and upon other satisfactory evidence of his inability to pay such costs. When costs are so waived the notation to be made on the records shall be "prepayment of costs waived," or "costs waived." The term "pauper" or "in forma pauperis" shall not be employed. If a party shall fail to pay accrued costs, though able to do so, the judge shall have power to deny said party the right to file any new case while such costs remain unpaid, and likewise to deny such litigant the right to proceed further in any case pending. The award of other court costs shall be according to the discretion of the judge who may include therein the reasonable costs of bonds and undertakings, and other reasonable court costs incident to the suit incurred by either party; provided, however, that in all counties having a population in excess of 400,000 inhabitants by the last census, the plaintiff shall deposit with the court upon the filing thereof of all claims in excess of one hundred dollars, the sum of six and one-half dollars; and in all claims in addition to the foregoing filing fees, deposit an amount sufficient for payment of postage for mailing of notices and other documents as provided in §42.10, except proceedings of garnishment, attachment, replevin and distress, when the fee shall be ten dollars, which shall cover all costs of the proceeding, exclusive of the service of notice.

History.—§11, ch. 26920, 1951; §3, ch. 29636, 1955.

42.12 Trial; procedure; settlement.—

(1) On the return day or within ten days thereafter, as the judge may designate, the trial shall be had. Immediately prior to the trial of any case, the judge shall make earnest effort to settle the controversy by conciliation. If the judge fails to induce the parties to settle their differences without a trial, he shall proceed with the hearing on the merits.

(2) The judge shall conduct the trial in such manner as to do substantial justice between the parties according to the rules of substantive law, and all rules and regulations relating to pleading, practice and procedure shall be liberally construed so as to administer justice.

(3) If the plaintiff fails to appear, the suit may be dismissed for want of prosecution, or defendant may proceed to a trial on the merits, or the case may be continued as the judge may direct. If both parties fail to appear, the judge may continue the case, or order the same dismissed for want of prosecution, or make any other just and proper disposition thereof, as justice may require.

History.—§12, ch. 26920, 1951.

42.13 Statement of setoff; jurisdiction exceeded.—If any defendant has any claim against the plaintiff the judge may require a statement of setoff to be filed, or same may be waived. If plaintiff requires time to prepare his defense against such claim the judge may continue the case for such purpose. If any defendant has any claim against the plaintiff which exceeds the jurisdiction of the court he may use a part thereof to offset the claim of the plaintiff.

History.—§13, ch. 26920, 1951.

42.14 Stay of judgment; payment of claim.—When the judgment is to be rendered and the party against whom it is to be entered requests it, the judge shall inquire fully into the earnings and financial status of such party and shall have full discretionary power to stay an entry of judgment, and to stay execution, and upon such terms, as shall seem just under the circumstances and as will assure a definite and steady reduction of the judgment until it is finally and completely satisfied.

History.—§14, ch. 26920, 1951.

42.15 Rules of procedure; forms.—The judge of said court shall forthwith from time to time make rules for a simple inexpensive, and speedy procedure to effectuate the purposes of this chapter and shall have power to prescribe, modify and improve the forms to be used therein, including forms of writs of attachment, garnishment and replevin. All rules and forms authorized by this section shall be effective upon approval by a judge of the circuit court of the circuit in which the county is located.

History.—§15, ch. 26920, 1951.

42.16 Jury trials.—Jury trials may be had upon demand of the plaintiff at the time of the commencement of his suit or by the defendant within five days after service of notice of suit by depositing with the judge or his clerk such sum as the judge may fix as reasonable to secure the payment of cost incurred by reason of a jury trial, or otherwise jury trial shall be deemed waived.

History.—§16, ch. 26920, 1951.

42.17 Judgments; when effective; execution.—

(1) Judgments of small claims courts shall become a lien on the real estate of a defendant, situated in any county, from the time of the filing in the office of the clerk of the circuit court for said county, of a transcript of such judgment and the entry thereof by the clerk in a book to be kept by him for such purposes.

(2) Upon judgment being entered in any cause execution shall thereupon be issued against the party against whom the judgment is rendered for the amount of such judgment and costs, and such execution shall be directed to all and every, the sheriffs and constables of the state, and shall be of full force throughout the state.

History.—§17, ch. 26920, 1951.

42.18 Appeals.—Appeals may be had from judgments returned in a small claims court, to the circuit court, and the same provisions now provided for by law for appeal from county judges court to the circuit court, shall be applicable to appeals from the small claims court of the circuit court.

History.—§18, ch. 26920, 1951.

42.19 Forms.—Until otherwise provided by rules of court the statement of claim, verification, and notice shall be in the following or equivalent form, and shall be in lieu of any forms now employed and of any form of summons now provided by law:

- 43.05 Reporter of testimony and proceedings.
- 43.06 Report of testimony and proceedings.

43.011 County solicitor; court of record; compensation; office personnel.—

(1) The compensation of the county solicitor of Escambia county shall be ten thousand five hundred dollars per annum, payable in equal monthly installments. The county solicitor of Escambia county shall have two assistants and a criminal investigator, to be appointed by the county solicitor, and the compensation of each of the assistants shall be seven thousand two hundred dollars per annum, payable in twelve equal monthly installments. The compensation of the criminal investigator shall be determined in accordance with the laws and regulations governing those in classified service under the applicable provisions of the civil service law relating to Escambia county, except the compensation of anyone employed as a criminal investigator by said county solicitor as of April 1, 1963, shall not be less than seven thousand two hundred dollars per annum payable in twelve equal monthly installments. Any person employed as a criminal investigator by said county solicitor of Escambia county on April 1, 1963, and who has served in this position for a period of six months or longer, shall be retained without preliminary or performance test and shall not suffer any loss of pay as the result of this act, but shall in all other respects thereafter be subject to the civil service act.

(2) Nothing in chapter 63-403 shall be construed to prevent the county solicitor of Escambia county from appointing other assistants or criminal investigators when their compensation is not to be paid out of the public funds.

History.—§1, 2, ch. 63-403.

43.012 Assistant county solicitors.—All assistant county solicitors when so appointed by the county solicitor shall hold office at the pleasure of the county solicitor. All appointments of said assistants to the county solicitor shall be made in writing and a record thereof entered in the minutes of the court of record of Escambia county, and when such appointments shall be revoked, such revocation shall be made in writing and shall be made a part of the minutes of said court.

History.—§1, ch. 63-403.

43.013 Criminal investigator.—Any criminal investigator who is now or shall hereafter be employed under the provisions of this act shall work under the direction and immediate supervision of the county solicitor of Escambia county in the enforcement of all criminal laws and procuring evidence, information and facts pertaining to any and all matters relating to crimes committed within the county in which said criminal investigator is employed. Said criminal investigator shall be a peace officer, shall have authority to bear arms and make arrests and serve legal process in Escambia county.

History.—§1, ch. 63-403.

43.014 County solicitor; office expenses.—

(1) On or before August 1 of each year, or sooner if requested by the board of county commissioners, the county solicitor of Escambia county shall make up and present to the board of county commissioners a list and estimate of expenses of such county solicitor's offices, including salaries of the county solicitor, assistant county solicitors and criminal investigator, stenographic help, telephone, automotive and travel expenses and all other necessary office expenses for the ensuing fiscal year, and shall certify that such estimate, list of expenses and amount provided for such expenses are necessary, reasonable and just, and the county commissioners shall forthwith consider the same and shall include such items as shall be approved by them in the general county budget and said county commissioners are authorized and directed and shall make provision for and pay all such approved expenses out of the general fund of Escambia county.

(2) The county solicitor of Escambia county shall certify on all bills presented for payment for the expenses of such county solicitor's office in Escambia county, as herein mentioned, that the same is just, due and correct and that such things, commodities and services have been actually delivered or rendered.

History.—§1, ch. 63-403.

43.03 Office expense; judges of courts of record.—

(1) The judges of all constitutional courts of record and the judge of the court of record of Escambia county, Florida, shall be entitled to authorize and expend a sum not to exceed three hundred dollars per year for office furniture, furnishings, supplies, equipment and expenses of the office of such judges.

(2) It is the intention of this law that all expenses of the offices of judges of all constitutional courts of record of the state and of the court of record of Escambia county, Florida, are to be paid by the county and nothing herein contained shall limit the power of any county, through its proper officers, to expend any amount it sees fit, over and above the said sum of three hundred dollars, for office expenses of and in connection with the operation of the offices of such judges.

(3) The moneys for such expenses shall be paid to the person performing the services or furnishing material or supplies out of the general funds of the county upon the requisition and approval of such judges, and the approval of the board of county commissioners of such counties.

History.—§1, ch. 21681, 1943.

43.04 Interchange of judges between circuit court and court of record.—

(1) At the request of either of the judges of the circuit court of the first judicial circuit of Florida, in and for Escambia county, the judge of the court of record in and for said county may assume and perform in every respect the duties of either of such circuit judges in said county, and upon the request of the judge of the court of record in and for Escambia county, either of said circuit judges may assume and perform in every respect the duties of such judge of the court of record in and for Escambia county.

(2) The request of the several judges for interchange of their respective jurisdictions as hereinbefore provided shall not be required to appear of record, but the fact of assumption of jurisdiction in any proceeding shall be conclusive evidence of the legality of the exercise of such jurisdiction unless the contrary is made to appear by protest in writing filed in the cause by any party or by the judge or judges whose jurisdiction is assumed, whereupon the judge so assuming jurisdiction outside his own court shall proceed no further without securing authority so to do from the governor of the state, as hereinafter provided.

(3) The governor of the state may direct an exchange of judges between the circuit court of the first judicial circuit of Florida in and for Escambia county, and the court of record in and for Escambia county, Florida, in the manner now authorized for the transfer of circuit judges from one circuit to another circuit of the state.

(4) This section shall be liberally construed to effectuate its purpose, which purpose is now declared to be the full and free interchange of jurisdiction between the judge of the court of record in and for Escambia county, Florida, and the several judges of the circuit court of the first judicial circuit of Florida in and for Escambia county, to the extent that same may be accomplished under the constitution and laws of the state, for the furtherance of public convenience and more efficient administration of public justice.

(5) If any provision of this section be declared unconstitutional, or if any power which may be included in the language thereof exceed that which may constitutionally be delegated to either of such substituted judges, such unconstitutionality shall not affect the remainder thereof, but it shall be so construed as not to grant such unconstitutional power.

History.—§§1-5, ch. 21770, 1943.

43.05 Reporter of testimony and proceedings.—There shall be a reporter of testimony and proceedings in trials at law in all constitutional courts of record in the state, including without limitation the court of record of Escambia county, Florida. Such reporter shall be an expert stenographer and typist, appointed by the governor upon recommendation of the judge of the court wherein such court reporter shall perform his duties, and such court reporter shall hold office during the pleasure of the governor. Females possessing the requisite qualifications shall be eligible for appointment.

History.—§1, ch. 8037, 1919; §1, ch. 9170, 1923; §1, ch. 11977, 1927; CGL 5137; §1, ch. 23768, 1947; §11, ch. 25035, 1949.

43.06 Report of testimony and proceedings.—The court reporter in the discretion of the judge or upon request of either attorney shall report the testimony and proceedings in the trial of any criminal case in any court described in §43.05 and shall report the testimony and proceedings in the trial of any civil case in any said courts, upon demand in writing filed in the cause by the attorney for either party.

History.—§1, ch. 8037, 1919; ch. 9170, 1923; §2, ch. 11977, 1927; CGL 5158; §2, ch. 23768, 1947.

43.07 Cost upon conviction.—In all criminal cases reported, in event of conviction, there shall be taxed as costs, against the person convicted, the sum of ten dollars which shall, when collected, be paid to the board of county commissioners of the county concerned to be placed in the fine and forfeiture fund of said county.

History.—§1, ch. 8037, 1919; §1, ch. 9170, 1923; §4, ch. 11977, 1927; CGL 5139; §3, ch. 23768, 1947.

43.08 Reporter's salary.—In lieu of a per diem in the trial of misdemeanor cases in any of said courts, the said reporter shall receive a salary in the sum of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, payable in twelve equal monthly installments to be paid by the board of county commissioners, out of the fine and forfeiture fund of the county wherein such constitutional courts of record shall exercise jurisdiction, including without limitation Escambia county, when approved and certified by the presiding judge of said court. Upon demand of the county solicitor, or the defendant in any criminal case, or the judge of said court, said reporter shall furnish with a reasonable diligence a typewritten transcript of the testimony and proceedings together with charge of the court and shall receive therefor the same fee for such transcript as is provided in §29.03, and the cost of such transcript shall be taxed as costs in the case.

History.—§1, ch. 8037, 1919; §1, ch. 9170, 1923; §4, ch. 11977, 1927; CGL 5140; §4, ch. 23768, 1947; §1, ch. 63-521.

43.09 Reporter to act as judge's secretary; assistant reporter; Escambia county.—

(1) The court reporter in addition to the duties prescribed by law shall perform secretarial services for the judges of such court and such other duties as may be required by said judges. Such court reporter, in addition to the compensation for reporting the trial of criminal cases as provided by §29.04 and §43.08, shall be entitled to receive as compensation for the performance of such secretarial services for such judges a salary in the sum of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, payable in twelve monthly installments from the general fund of the county wherein such official court reporter is required to perform his duties, including without limitation Escambia county.

(2) The court reporter of the constitutional court of record of Escambia county is authorized to employ an assistant court reporter at a salary not to exceed four thousand two hundred dollars per annum, which shall be payable from the fine and forfeiture fund of the county.

History.—§1, ch. 8037, 1919; §1, ch. 9170, 1923; §3, ch. 11977, 1927; CGL 5141; §5, ch. 23768, 1947; §§1, 2, ch. 57-680; §3, ch. 61-530; §2, ch. 63-521.

43.10 Appropriation.—Sections 43.05-43.09 shall have the effect of an appropriation of county funds for the purpose herein stated and shall be immediately effective, notwithstanding any lack of appropriations or absence of provisions therefor in any county budget and notwithstanding any budgetary restrictions.

History.—§7, ch. 23768, 1947.

43.12 Report prima facie correct transcript.—The report of such official stenographer when written out in longhand writing or printed in type and certified to by him, as being a correct transcript of the testimony and proceedings in the case, shall be prima facie a correct statement of such testimony and proceedings; provided, that his signature of such certificate be duly acknowledged by him before a notary public or some judicial officer of this state.

History.—§1, ch. 8037, 1919; §1, ch. 9170, 1923; §7, ch. 11977, 1927; CGL 5143.

History.—§1, ch. 8037, 1919; §1, ch. 9170, 1923; §8, ch. 11977, 1927; CGL 5144; §3, ch. 63-521.

43.14 Deputy reporters.—Said official reporter may, with the approval of the presiding judge, appoint one or more deputies; such deputies shall have the power to perform any duty that the official reporter might perform, but such official reporter shall be responsible for the action of the deputy. Such appointment of said deputy or deputies shall be spread upon the minutes of the court.

History.—§1, ch. 8037, 1919; §1, ch. 9170, 1923; §9, ch. 11977, 1927; CGL 5145.

43.15 Judicial council created; powers, duties; members, terms.—

(1) There is hereby created a judicial council to be known as the judicial council of Florida. The council shall have the powers and shall be charged with the following duties:

(a) To make a continuous survey and study of the organization, procedure, practice, rules, and methods of administration and operation of each and all of the courts of this state, the volume and condition of business in said courts, the work accomplished and the results obtained.

(b) To collect, compile, analyze and publish statistics showing the work of the courts. The judges, clerks of the various courts, and other officials thereof, shall make to the council such reports, from time to time, as the council may prescribe.

(c) To receive, consider, and in its discretion, investigate criticisms and suggestions from any source pertaining to the administration of justice and to make recommendations in reference thereto.

(d) To recommend, from time to time, to the legislature any changes in the organization, jurisdiction, operation, procedure and methods of conducting the business of the courts which might be put in effect only by legislative action, and to recommend to the courts any changes in the rules and practice or methods of administering judicial business therein, which, in the judgment of the council, would simplify and expedite or otherwise improve the administration of justice. The council shall file with the Governor an annual report of its proceedings and recommendations and the results thereof.

(2) The judicial council of Florida shall be composed of a justice or a retired justice of the supreme court of Florida, who shall be the presiding officer of the council; a judge of a circuit court; a judge of a court having probate jurisdiction; the attorney general or one of his assistants; four members of the bar of the state; and nine laymen; all to be appointed by the governor. Five members shall be appointed to the council for a period of one year, six members for a period of two years, and six members for a period of three years; and all appointments made thereafter shall be for a period of three years; except that, in the case of a vacancy, the appointment shall be made to fill the unexpired term.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 28062, 1953.

CHAPTER 44

COUNTY JUDGES, SALARIES; BUDGETS

- 44.01 Legislative intent.
- 44.02 Salaries.
- 44.03 Budgets.
- 44.04 Payment of salaries and expenses.
- 44.05 Fees and commissions.
- 44.06 Handling of public funds.

- 44.07 Independence of constitutional officials.
- 44.08 Severability clause.
- 44.09 Exemptions.
- 44.10 Laws not affected.
- 44.11 Effective date.

44.01 Legislative intent.—It is the intent of the legislature to abolish the fee system for the compensation of county judges and the expense for the operation of their offices and to establish a comprehensive salary scale for the county judges so that the intent of Art. III, §20 of the state constitution, that the regulation of the fees of county officers should be done by general legislation and not by local or special act, will be carried out. It is also the intent of the legislature to establish a uniformity of budgeting procedure to promote more efficient and accurate auditing and handling of county finances.

History.—§1, ch. 63-365.

44.02 Salaries.—

(1) On and after October 1, 1963, each county judge shall receive for the performance of his official duties as county judge an annual salary, payable out of the general fund of the county, which shall be due and payable on the last day of the month in which it accrued; provided, that compensation for service in office for a part of a calendar month shall be paid in the proportion that the days served bear to the number of days in that month.

(2) The annual salary of each county judge is hereby fixed by the legislature to be the compensation earned by such officer or his predecessor in office and paid to such officer or such predecessor in office during the year 1962, unless otherwise provided by an act of the legislature becoming law in 1963 or subsequent thereto; provided, however, that the compensation of each county judge for the period beginning January 1, 1963, and ending September 30, 1963, shall not be less than three quarters of the compensation earned by such officer or his predecessor in office and paid to such officer or his predecessor in office during the year 1962. If the income of the office of county judge for that period is insufficient for the payment of the compensation of the county judge for the period beginning January 1, 1963, and ending September 30, 1963, as herein provided, the board of county commissioners shall pay to the county judge from the general fund of the county, an amount sufficient to provide the county judge the compensation contemplated by this section for such period.

History.—§2, ch. 63-365.

44.03 Budgets.—

(1) At the time fixed by law for preparation of the county budget, each county judge shall certify to the board of county commissioners a proposed budget of expenditures for the carrying out of the powers, duties, and operations of his office for the ensuing fiscal year of the county. The fiscal year of the county judge shall henceforth commence on October 1 and end on September 30 of each year.

(2) The county judge shall submit with the proposed budget his sworn certificate, stating that the proposed expenditures are reasonable and necessary for the proper and efficient operation of the office for the ensuing year. Each proposed budget shall show the estimated amounts of all proposed expenditures for operating and equipping the county judge's office other than construction, repair, or capital improvement of county buildings during the said fiscal year. The expenditures shall be itemized as follows:

- (a) Salary of the county judge.
- (b) Salaries of assistants and clerks.
- (c) Expenses, other than salaries.
- (d) Equipment.
- (e) Reserve for contingencies.

(3) (a) The board of county commissioners or the budget commission, if there is a budget commission within the county, may require from the county judge whatever reasonable information it may deem desirable concerning the expenditures of prior years. The said board or budget commission, as the case may be, may require the county judge to correct errors in form and mathematical and mechanical errors in his budget. No later than August 1 of each year, the said board or commission, as the case may be, may amend, modify, increase, or reduce any or all items of expenditure in the proposed budget and, as amended, modified, increased, or reduced, shall approve said budget promptly, giving written notice of their action to the county judge specifying in such notice the specific items so amended, modified, increased, or reduced; the budget shall include the salaries and expenses of the county judge, purchase, maintenance, and operation of equipment, and all other salaries, expenses, equipment and expenditures of the county judge for the ensuing year. The county judge, within ten days after receiving written notice of such action by the board or commission (either in person or in his office) may file an appeal to the board of appeals of county officers' budgets. Such appeal shall be by petition to such board of appeals, which petition shall set forth the budget proposed by the county judge and the budget as approved by the board of county commissioners or the budget commission, as the case may be, and shall contain the reasons or grounds for the appeal. Such petition shall be filed with the state comptroller and a copy of said petition shall be served upon the board or commission from whose decision appeal is taken by delivering the same to the chairman or president thereof, or to the clerk of the circuit court. The board of county commissioners or the budget commission, as the case may be, shall have five days from delivery of a copy of any such petition, as above, to file with the board of appeals a reply thereto and shall deliver a copy of such reply to the county judge.

(b) The board of appeals, within thirty days of the filing of the petition, shall consider the petition and may require a hearing thereon. The board of appeals shall by majority vote, within said thirty days:

1. Approve the action of the board or commission as to each separate item, or;

2. Approve the budget as proposed by the county judge as to each separate item, or;

3. Amend or modify said budget as to each separate item within the limits of the proposed expenditures and the expenditures as approved by the board of county commissioners or the budget commission, as the case may be.

The budget, as approved, amended, or modified by the board of appeals of county officers' budgets, shall be final.

(4) The board of county commissioners and the budget commission, if there is a budget commission within the county, shall include in the county budget the items of proposed expenditures as set forth in the budget required by this section to be submitted, after the said budget has been reviewed and approved as provided herein; the said board or commission, as the case may be, shall include the reserve for contingencies provided herein for each budget of the county judge in the reserve for contingencies in the budget of the appropriate county fund.

(5) The reserve for contingencies in the budget of a county judge shall be governed by the same provisions governing the amount and use of the reserve for contingencies appropriated in the county budget, except that the reserve for contingencies in the budget of the county judge shall be appropriated upon written request of the county judge.

(6) The items placed in the budget of the board of county commissioners pursuant to this law shall be subject to the same provisions of law as the county annual budget; provided that no amendments may be made to the appropriations for the county judge's office except as requested by the county judge.

(7) The proposed expenditures in the budget shall be submitted to the board of county commissioners or budget commission, if there is a budget commission within the county, by July 1 of each year, except that for 1963 the budget shall be submitted on or before July 15, and the said budget shall be included by the said board or commission, as the case may be, in the budget of either the general fund or the fine and forfeiture fund, or in part of each.

(8) If in the judgment of the county judge an emergency should arise by reason of which the county judge would be unable to perform his duties without the expenditure of larger amounts than those provided in the budget, he may apply to the board of county officers' budget appeals for the appropriation of additional amounts. The county judge shall at the same time deliver a copy of his application to the board of county commissioners, and to the budget commission if there is a budget commission within the county. The board of county officers' budget appeals shall hold a hearing on the application, after due notice to the county judge and to the boards, and may grant or deny an increase or increases in the appropriations for the county judge's offices. If any increase is granted, the board of county commissioners, and the budget commission, if there is a budget commission in the county, shall amend accordingly the budget of the appropriate county fund or funds. Such budget shall be brought into balance, if possible, by application of excess receipts in the said county fund or funds. If such excess receipts are not available in sufficient amount, the county fund budget or budgets shall be brought into balance by adding an item of vouchers unpaid in the appropriate amount to the receipts side of the budget, and provision for paying such vouchers shall be made in the budget of the county fund for the next fiscal year.

History.—§3, ch. 63-365.

44.04 Payment of salaries and expenses.—

(1) The county judge shall requisition and the board of county commissioners shall pay him, at the first meeting in October of each year, and each month thereafter, one twelfth of the total amount budgeted for the office; provided, that at the first meeting in October of each year, the board shall, at the request of the county judge, pay one sixth of the total appropriated, and one twelfth each month thereafter, which payments shall be not more than the total appropriation; provided further, that any part of the amount budgeted for equipment shall be paid at any time during the year upon the request of the county judge.

(2) The county judge shall deposit the county warrant or warrants in his official bank account as provided in §44.05(3) and draw his own checks thereon in payment of the salaries of himself and his clerks and employees and the expenses of his office. All salaries paid shall be supported by pay rolls, and all expenses paid shall be supported by approved bills.

(3) The county judge may set up a revolving fund for payment in cash of small items. The revolving fund shall be reimbursed from time to time by payments of the vouchers representing the cash payments.

(4) The county judge shall keep necessary budget accounts and records, and shall charge all paid bills and pay rolls to the proper budget accounts. The reserve for contingencies, or any part thereof, may be transferred to any of the budget appropriations, in the discretion of the county judge. With the approval of the board of county commissioners, or of the budget commission, if there is a budget commission in the county, the budget may be amended as provided for county budgets in §129.06(2).

(5) All expenses incurred in the fiscal year for which the budget is made shall be vouchered and charged to the budget for that year, and to carry out this purpose the books may be held open for thirty days after the end of the year.

(6) All unexpended balances at the end of each fiscal year shall be refunded to the board of county commissioners, and deposited to the county fund or funds from which payment was originally made.

History.—§4, ch. 63-365.

44.05 Fees and commissions.—

(1) No bills shall be rendered to the county for any services, nor shall any fees, commissions, or other remuneration for official services as county judge be paid by the board of county commissioners of any county to the county judge of the county except as provided by this act. All fees, commissions, and other remuneration provided by law for services shall be charged by the said county judge to other authorities and parties doing business with their offices, and shall be paid over to the county as provided in this section.

(2) The fees authorized or deposit sufficient to cover them, shall be collected in advance from the party who requests the service; provided, that services may be performed for any governmental agency or unit without advance payment, and the officer shall bill and collect the fees earned from such agency after the service is performed or when the amount due is determined.

(3) Deposits for fees shall be placed in a depository trust account. The officer who receives the deposit shall keep an account with the depositor, and shall withdraw monthly from the deposits the fees earned and shall remit them to the county fund or funds as provided by this act.

(4) Fees or commissions commingled when received with other official collections may be deposited with such other collections in the trust account or accounts and distributed to the county fund or funds at the time that the other collections with which they were received, are distributed.

(5) All fees, commissions, or other funds collected by the county judge for services rendered or performed by his office shall be remitted monthly to the county, in the manner prescribed by the state auditor.

History.—§5, ch. 63-365.

44.06 Handling of public funds.—The county judge shall keep public funds in his custody, either in his office in an amount not in excess of the burglary, theft, and robbery insurance provided, the cost of which is hereby authorized as an expense of the office, or in a depository in an amount not in excess of the security provided pursuant to chapter 36, and the comptroller's regulations. The title of the depository accounts shall include the words county judge and the name of the county, and withdrawals from the accounts shall be made by checks signed by the duly qualified and acting county judge of the county, or his designated agent.

History.—§6, ch. 63-365.

44.07 Independence of constitutional officials.—The independence of the county judges shall be preserved concerning the purchase of supplies and equipment, selection of personnel, and the hiring, firing, and setting of salaries of such personnel; provided that nothing herein contained shall restrict the establishment or operation of any civil service system or civil service board created pursuant to Art. XVI, §34 of the state constitution provided, further, that nothing contained in this act shall be construed to alter, modify or change in any manner any civil service system or board, state or local, now in existence or hereafter established.

History.—§7, ch. 63-365.

44.08 Severability clause.—If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, phrase or word of this act is for any reason held or declared to be unconstitutional, invalid, inoperative, ineffective, inapplicable, or void, such invalidity or unconstitutionality shall not be construed to affect the portions of the act not so held to be unconstitutional, void, invalid, or ineffective, or affect the application of this act to other circumstances not so held to be invalid, it being hereby declared to be the express legislative intent that any such unconstitutional, illegal, invalid, ineffective, inapplicable, or void, portion or portions of this act did not induce its passage and that without the inclusion of any such unconstitutional, illegal, invalid, ineffective, or void portions of this act, the legislature would have enacted the valid and constitutional portions thereof.

History.—§8, ch. 63-365.

44.09 Exemptions.—The provisions of this act shall not apply to the county judge of any county of the state having a constitutional amendment requiring the legislature to set, by local or special act, the salaries of all county officers; nor shall the provisions of this act apply to any county having a population of three hundred fifty thousand or more according to the latest official decennial census. The following counties are excluded herefrom: Walton, Holmes, Washington, Highlands, Bay, Palm Beach, Gulf, Liberty, Franklin, Wakulla, Leon, Jefferson, Hardee, DeSoto, Lake, Gadsden, Volusia, Santa Rosa, St. Johns, Flagler, Pinellas, Polk, Levy, Dixie, Gilchrist, Sumter, Putnam, Hendry, Glades, Taylor, Madison, Okaloosa, Pasco, Marion, St. Lucie, Jackson, Union, Columbia, Osceola.

History.—§9, ch. 63-365.

44.10 Laws not affected.—The provisions of this act shall in no way affect, repeal, or modify the provisions of any other law becoming effective in 1963, or subsequent thereto, relating to the salary of a county judge; nor shall it apply to any county wherein the disposition of the fees of county officers is governed by Art. VIII, §23 of the state constitution.

History.—§10, ch. 63-365.

44.11 Effective date.—This act shall take effect October 1, 1963, provided that the provisions of §44.03 shall become effective as provided in subsection (7) thereof.

History.—§11, ch. 63-365.

TITLE VI

CIVIL PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE

CHAPTER 45

PARTIES AND ABATEMENT

- 45.02 Plaintiffs; commencement of suits by infants, idiots and lunatics.
45.03 Plaintiffs; married women.
45.04 Plaintiffs; deserted wife, etc.
45.05 Plaintiffs; sureties, etc., for contribution.

45.02 Plaintiffs; commencement of suits by infants, idiots and lunatics.—

(1) An infant may sue by his next friend or by guardian appointed by court of competent jurisdiction in all cases whatsoever, and idiots and lunatics by their guardians.

(2) In all suits now pending or hereafter brought by or on behalf of an infant to recover for injury to the person or damage to personal property, no settlement on behalf of said infant shall be effective unless the same is approved by an order of the judge of said court. In the event of such settlement, or in the event of a judgment or decree in favor of said infant, where the amount of such settlement or judgment or decree does not exceed the sum or value of two thousand dollars, exclusive of costs, the judge of such court may authorize either or both of the natural parents, or, in the event such infant is an adopted child, either or both of the adopting parents without bond, or a guardian if there be one appointed by a court of competent jurisdiction, to collect the amount of such settlement, judgment, or decree, and to execute a release or satisfaction therefor. Provided, however, that a guardian appointed by a court of competent jurisdiction may collect and satisfy any such decree or judgment in favor of an infant without securing authorization of such court as herein provided.

History.—§32, Nov. 23, 1828; RS 982; GS 1366; RGS 2562; CGL 4202; §1, ch. 22720, 1945.

45.03 Plaintiffs; married women.—A married woman may interpose a claim to her personal property levied upon under legal process, and may prosecute an action concerning her land and rights therein, with all the rights, powers and privileges of a feme sole.

History.—§9, Feb. 17, 1833; §1, Mar. 15, 1844; RS 1197; GS 1367; RGS 2563; CGL 4203.

45.04 Plaintiffs; deserted wife, etc.—A married woman whose husband has become insane or has deserted her for six months may prosecute or defend any action at law or in equity as if she were a feme sole.

History.—§1368 GS 1906; RGS 2564; CGL 4204.

- 45.11 Actions; surviving death of party.
45.18 Abatement; marriage of feme sole.
45.19 Abatement; actions or suits pending; failure to prosecute.
45.20 Civil action against parents; wilful destruction of property by minor.

45.05 Plaintiffs; sureties, etc., for contribution.—When any person shall execute any bond, note, draft, or bill of exchange in this state, and any two or more persons shall also execute the same jointly with him, and merely as his sureties, or shall endorse any note or draft or bill of exchange as sureties for the maker or drawer thereof, for his accommodation, and without any consideration, said persons shall be bound each to the other for a proportional contribution of the amount of said bond, note, draft or bill of exchange; and if any person be compelled to pay any part of said bond, note, draft or bill of exchange, he shall have his remedy by suit against his co-surety for contribution, and may sue separately or jointly to enforce the payment of the same; and the defendants, whether sureties, accommodation joint makers, or accommodation indorsers, may be sued separately or jointly. Where it may be necessary the person claiming contribution may proceed by attachment as in other cases.

History.—§1, Feb. 14, 1835; RS 983; GS 1369; §1, ch. 6210, 1911; RGS 2565; CGL 4205.

45.11 Actions; surviving death of party.—No action for personal injuries and no other action shall die with the person, and all actions shall survive and may be instituted, maintained, prosecuted and defended in the name of the personal representative of the deceased, or in the name of such other person as may be provided by law.

History.—§30, Nov. 23, 1828; RS 989; GS 1375; RGS 2571; CGL 4211; §1, ch. 26541, 1951.

45.18 Abatement; marriage of feme sole.—The marriage of a woman, plaintiff or defendant, shall not cause the action to abate, but the action may, notwithstanding, be proceeded with to judgment; and such judgment shall be rendered against or for the wife alone, and the execution thereon be levied upon her property alone. In case of a judgment for the wife, execution may issue thereon by the authority of the husband without suggestion.

45.19 Abatement; actions or suits pending; failure to prosecute.—

(1) All actions at law or suits in equity pending in the several courts of the state, and instituted subsequent to 12:00 noon, October 1, 1947, in which there shall not affirmatively appear from some action taken by filing of pleadings, order of court, or otherwise, that the same is being prosecuted, for a period of one year, shall be deemed abated for want of prosecution and the same shall be dismissed by the court having jurisdiction of the cause, upon its own motion or upon motion of any person interested, whether a party to the action or suit or not, with notice to opposing counsel, provided that actions or suits dismissed under the provisions hereof may be reinstated by petition upon good cause shown to the court filed by any party in interest within one month after such order of dismissal.

(2) All actions at law or suits in equity pending in the several courts of the state, and which were instituted prior to 12:00 noon, October 1, 1947, in which there shall not affirmatively appear from some action taken by the filing of pleadings, order of court, or otherwise, that the same is being prosecuted, for a period of three years, shall be dismissed by the court having jurisdiction of the cause, upon its own motion or upon motion of any person interested, whether a party to the action or suit or not, with notice to opposing counsel; provided that actions or suits dismissed under the provisions hereof may be reinstated by petition, upon good cause shown to the court filed by any party within six months after such order of dismissal.

History.—§1, ch. 14554, 1929; CGL 1936 Supp. 4218(1); §§1, 2, ch. 23965, 1947; §1, ch. 28201, 1953; §32, ch. 29737, 1955; §1, ch. 59-65.

45.20 Civil action against parents; wilful destruction of property by minor.—

(1) Any municipal corporation, county, school district and department of Florida or any person, partnership, corporation or association, or any religious organization whether incorporated or unincorporated, shall be entitled to recover damages in an appropriate action at law in an amount not to exceed three hundred dollars in a court of competent jurisdiction from the parents of any minor under age of eighteen years, living with the parents, who shall maliciously or wilfully destroy property, real, personal or mixed, belonging to such municipal corporation, county, school district, or department of the state, or person, partnership, corporation or association, or religious organization.

(2) The recovery shall be limited to the actual damages in an amount not to exceed three hundred dollars in addition to taxable court costs.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 31400, 1956.

VENUE, JOINDER, ETC., OF ACTIONS

CHAPTER 46

- 46.01 Where suits may be begun.
 46.02 Suits against defendants residing in different counties or districts.
 46.03 Suits upon several causes of action.
 46.04 Suits against corporations.
 46.05 Venue of action upon promissory notes, etc.
 46.06 Jurisdiction over navigable waters.
 46.08 Causes may be joined.

46.01 Where suits may be begun.—Suits shall be begun only in the county (or if the suit is in the justice of the peace court in the justice's district) where the defendant resides, or where the cause of action accrued, or where the property in litigation is located.

History.—§7, Nov. 21, 1829; §1, ch. 3721, 1887; RS 998; GS 1383; RGS 2579; CGL 4219; §24, ch. 57-1; §12, ch. 63-572. cf.—§53.17, Transfer of cases laid in wrong venue.

46.02 Suits against defendants residing in different counties or districts.—Suits against two or more defendants residing in different counties (or justices' districts) may be brought in any county or district in which any defendant resides.

History.—§10, Nov. 23, 1828; RS 999; GS 1384; RGS 2580; CGL 4220.

46.03 Suits upon several causes of action.—Suits upon several causes of action may be brought in any county (or justice's district) where either of the causes of action arose.

History.—§1000 RS 1892; GS 1385; RGS 2581; CGL 4221.

46.04 Suits against corporations.—Suits against domestic corporations shall be commenced only in the county (or justice's district) where such corporation shall have or usually keep an office for the transaction of its customary business, or where the cause of action accrued, or where the property in litigation is located; and in the case of companies incorporated in other states or countries, and doing business in this state, suits shall be commenced in a county or justice's district wherein such company may have an agent or other representative, or where the cause of action accrued, or where the property in litigation is situated.

History.—§24, ch. 1639, 1869; RS 1001; §1, ch. 5221, 1903; GS 1386; RGS 2582; CGL 4222.

46.05 Venue of action upon promissory notes, etc.—All promissory notes, negotiable or non-negotiable, the payment of which is not secured by a mortgage or pledge of real or personal property, shall conclusively be deemed to have been completely executed, delivered and accepted in the county, or justice of peace district, in which actually signed and the maker resides, or in any county, or justice of peace district, in which actually signed by one or more of several makers, or one or more of several makers resides, regardless of the county, or justice of peace district, in which such instrument might be accepted or approved by the payee, and regardless of any stipulation in such instrument as to the place of payment; and the cause of action thereon shall also conclusively be determined to have arisen, and suit thereon shall be brought, only in the county, or justice of peace district, in which such instrument was actually signed by the maker, or one of several makers, or in which the makers reside, or one or more of several makers resides; and where suit is brought on any such instrument that was signed by the makers thereof in more than one county, or justice of peace district, or in any county, or justice of peace district, in which it was actually signed and delivered, whether by one maker, or one or more of several makers, whether by all of them or not, in any county, or justice of peace district, in which a signer resides, or several signers reside, no suit shall ever be brought thereon in any other county, or justice of peace district. This section shall be liberally construed in favor of the makers of the above mentioned instruments.

 46.12 Military, naval or other service as residence.

History.—§1, ch. 17134, 1935; CGL 1936 Supp. 4223(1).

46.06 Jurisdiction over navigable waters.—Whenever the territorial jurisdiction of any court in any county shall extend to one bank of any navigable water, such court shall have jurisdiction across such navigable water from shore to shore; and if the territorial jurisdiction of different courts, whether of the same county or not, extend to the opposite banks of any navigable water, such courts shall have concurrent jurisdiction across said navigable water from shore to shore.

History.—§1002 RS 1892; GS 1387; RGS 2583; CGL 4223.

46.08 Causes may be joined.—Causes of action, of whatever kind, by and against the same parties in the same rights, may be joined in the same suit, except that replevin and ejectment shall not be joined together nor with other causes of action.

When two or more causes of action so joined arise in different counties, the venue may be laid in either of such counties, but the court may prevent the trial of different causes of action together, if such trial would be inexpedient, and in such cases such court may order separate records to be made up and separate trials to be had.

46.09 Actions by husband and wife, parent or guardian and child.—In any action brought by a man and his wife, parent or guardian and child for an injury done to the wife or child, in respect of which the wife or child is necessarily joined as co-plaintiff, the husband, parent or guardian may add thereto claims in their own right which said claims shall mean and include any and all claims of whatever kind and nature, including claims for personal injury, property damage and the like, and separate actions brought in respect of such claims may be consolidated if the court shall think fit. In case of the death of either plaintiff, such suit, so far as it relates to the causes of action, if any, which do not survive shall abate, but to that extent only.

History.—§11, ch. 1096, 1851; RS 1005; GS 1390; RGS 2586; CGL 4226; §1, ch. 21886, 1943; §1, ch. 28283, 1953.

46.10 Married woman's right to bring suit for real estate.—A married woman shall have the right to bring suits or actions for or concerning her real estate, without joining her husband or next friend.

History.—§2074 RS 1892; RS 2074; GS 2592; RGS 3951; CGL 5870.

46.11 Joinder of certain makers, endorsers, etc., of negotiable instruments.—The makers of promissory notes or other negotiable instruments, and all other persons who at or before the execution and delivery thereof, endorsed, guaranteed, or became surety for the payment thereof, or are otherwise secondarily liable for the payment of the same, may be sued in one and the same action.

In every action authorized by this section the final judgment shall specify and indicate the defendants who are liable for payment only as endorser, surety, guarantor or otherwise secondarily liable.

In every case where a final judgment authorized by the provisions of this section is paid by one or more defendants who are responsible only in the capacity of endorser, surety, guarantor, or otherwise secondarily liable, the holders of such judgment shall, upon request, transfer and assign such judgment to the defendants so paying the same, and such defendants shall be entitled to all the rights and remedies of the original plaintiff in such judgment or under execution thereon to enforce the collection of the same from the defendants who are liable as makers of the instruments sued upon.

History.—§§1-3, ch. 6486, 1913; RGS 4733-4735; CGL 6819-6821.

46.12 Military, naval or other service as residence.—Any person in any branch of service of the government of the United States, including military and naval service, and the husband or the wife of any such person, if he or she be living within the borders of the state, shall be deemed prima facie to be a resident of the state for the purpose of maintaining any suit in chancery or action at law.

History.—§1, ch. 21966, 1943.

47.10 Process; how returnable.—All process, upon the institutions of any suit, shall be returnable as provided for by the Florida rules of civil procedure as may now and hereafter be adopted by the supreme court, provided that all returns of process against the United States, where it is permitted by the laws of the United States to sue the United States in the courts of this state, shall be made returnable in conformity with the provisions of the laws of the United States governing the appearance of the United States in such actions.

History.—§5, ch. 1938, 1873; RS 1012; §1, ch. 5148, 1903; §1, ch. 28301, 1953; §5, ch. 29737, 1955.

47.12 Process; by whom served.—All process, except that issuing from a justice of the peace court, shall be served by the sheriff or any constable of the county in the district in which it is to be served. Process of a justice of the peace court may be served by a sheriff of the county or by a constable. A justice of the peace or a constable, in the respective counties, may serve all process in cases where the sheriff is interested, and in case of necessity the judge of the circuit court may appoint an elisor to act instead of the sheriff.

All writs or process issued upon the institution of a suit which may be begun in a county where the defendant does not reside, and all writs, process, or notices requiring service upon a defendant not in the county where the suit is pending, may be served by the sheriff of the county or the constable of the justice district in which the defendant is to be found.

History.—§16, July 22, 1845; §1, ch. 3721, 1887; RS 1014, 1246; GS 1401; RGS 2598; §1, ch. 9318, 1923; CGL 4238. cf.—§30.12, Power to appoint sheriffs, etc.

47.13 Service of process, generally.—Service of the original writ or summons shall be effected by delivering to the party to be served a copy thereof, together with a copy of the complaint, affidavit, petition, or other initial pleading; or by leaving such copies at his usual place of abode with some person of the family above fifteen years of age, and informing such person of their contents.

History.—§5, Nov. 23, 1828; RS 1015; GS 1402; RGS 2599; CGL 4246; §6, ch. 29737, 1955. cf.—§230.21, Service of process upon county board of public instruction.

§447.11, Service of process on labor organizations and unions.

47.14 Service of process upon defendant removing from county.—If the defendant shall remove out of the county where an action has been commenced, and the officer to whom the process was directed shall so return, it is lawful to issue an alias writ of summons, and every other legal process necessary to enforce the appearance of such defendant, directed to the proper officer of any county in this state.

History.—§64, Nov. 23, 1828; RS 1016; GS 1403; RGS 2600; CGL 4247.

47.15 Service of process upon copartnership.—When any original process is sued out against several persons composing a mercantile or other firm, the service of said process on any one member of said firm shall be as valid as if served upon each individual member thereof; and the plaintiff may, after service upon any one member as aforesaid, proceed to judgment and execution against them all.

History.—§13, Nov. 23, 1828; RS 1017; GS 1404; RGS 2601; CGL 4248.

47.16 Service of process upon nonresident engaging in business in state.—

(1) The acceptance by any person or persons, individually, or associated together as a copartnership or any other form or type of association, who are residents of any other state or country, and all foreign corporations, and any person who is a resident of the state and who subsequently becomes a nonresident of the state or conceals his whereabouts, of the privilege extended by law to nonresidents and others to operate, conduct, engage in, or carry on a business or business venture in the state, or to have an office or agency in the state, shall be deemed equivalent to an appointment by such persons and foreign corporations of the secretary of state of the state as the agent of such persons or foreign corporations upon whom may be served all lawful process in any action, suit or proceeding against them, or either of them, arising out of any transaction or operation connected with or incidental to such business or business venture, and the acceptance of such privilege shall be signification of the agreement of such persons and foreign corporations that any such process against them or either of them, which is so served shall be of the same legal force and validity as if served personally on such persons or foreign corporations. Service of such process shall be in accordance with and in the same manner as now provided for service of process upon nonresidents under the provision of §47.30. Provided that if a foreign corporation has a resident agent in the state, service of process shall be had upon such resident agent as now provided by statute.

(2) Any person, firm or corporation which through brokers, jobbers, wholesalers or distributors sells, consigns, or leases, by any means whatsoever, tangible or intangible personal property, to any person, firm or corporation in this state, shall be conclusively presumed to be operating, conducting, engaging in or carrying on a business or business venture in this state.

History.—§1, ch. 6224, 1911; RGS 2602; CGL 4249; §1, ch. 26657, 1951; (2) n. by §1, ch. 57-747.

§620.30 Service of process on limited partnership.

47.161 Service of summons and process on nonresident persons and partnerships doing business in this state.—When any natural person or partnership not residing or having their principal place of business in this state shall engage in business in this state, in any action against such person or partnership arising out of such business, the summons or other process may be served by leaving a copy thereof with the complaint with the person who, at the time of service, is in charge of any business in which the defendant is engaged within this state, including agents soliciting orders for goods, wares, merchandise or services, and any summons or process so served shall be of the same legal force and validity as if served personally on such nonresident person or partnership so engaging in business in this state within the territorial jurisdiction of the court from which the summons or process issues, provided that a copy of such summons or process and complaint, together with a notice of such service upon such person in charge of such business according to the provisions of this section, shall be forthwith sent to such nonresident person or partnership by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested.

History.—§1, ch. 59-280.

47.162 Service of process upon nonresidents operating a watercraft in the state.—

(1) The operation, navigation or maintenance by a nonresident or nonresidents of a boat, ship, barge or other watercraft in the state, either in person or through others, and the acceptance thereby by such nonresident or nonresidents of the protection of the laws of the state for such watercraft, or the operation, navigation or maintenance by a nonresident or nonresidents of a boat, ship, barge or other watercraft in the state, either in person or through others, other than under the laws of the state, shall be deemed equivalent to an appointment by each such nonresident of the secretary of state, or his successor in office or some other person in his office during his absence he may designate, to be the true and lawful attorney of each such nonresident for service of process, upon whom may be served all lawful process in any suit, action or proceeding against such nonresident or nonresidents growing out of any accident or collision in which such nonresident or nonresidents may be involved while, either in person or through others, operating, navigating or maintaining a boat, ship, barge or other watercraft in the state; and such acceptance or such operating, navigating or maintaining in the state of such watercraft shall be a signification of each such nonresident's agreement that any such process against him which is so served shall be of the same legal force and effect as if served on him personally.

(2) Service of such process shall be made by leaving a copy of the process with a fee of two dollars in the hands of the secretary of state, or in his office, and such service shall be sufficient service upon a defendant who has appointed the secretary of state as his agent for the service of such process; provided, that notice of such service and a copy of the process are forthwith sent by registered mail by the plaintiff, or his attorney, to the defendant, and the defendant's return receipt and the affidavit of the plaintiff, or his attorney of compliance herewith are filed with the papers in the case on or before the return day of the process or within such further time as the court may allow, or that such notice and copy are served upon the defendant, if found within the state, by an officer duly qualified to serve legal process, or, if found without the state, by a sheriff or deputy sheriff of any county of this state or by any duly constituted public officer qualified to serve like process in the state or jurisdiction where the defendant is found; and the officer's return showing such service to have been made is filed in the case on or before the return day of the process or within such further time as the court may allow.

History.—§1, ch. 59-148.

47.17 Service of process on private corporation.—Process against any corporation, domestic or foreign, may be served:

(1) Upon the president or vice-president, or other head of the corporation; and in the absence of such head:

(2) Upon the cashier, treasurer, secretary or general manager; and in the absence of all the above:

(3) Upon any director of such company; and in the absence of all of the above:

(4) Upon any officer or business agent, resident in the state.

(5) If a foreign corporation shall have none of the foregoing officers or agents in this state, service may be made upon any agent transacting business for it in this state.

(6) This section shall not apply to service of process upon insurance companies.

(7) The provisions of this section shall be cumulative to all existing laws.

History.—§8, Nov. 21, 1829; §2, Feb. 11, 1834; §1, ch. 3590, 1885; §1, ch. 6908, 1915; §1, ch. 7752, 1918; RGS 2604; CGL 4251; r. §1, ch. 57-97; reenacted (1)-(5), (6), (7) n. by §§1-3, ch. 59-46.

47.171 Service of process; domestic and foreign corporations.—When any domestic or foreign corporation shall fail to comply with §§47.34 and 47.35 relating to the designation of the place for service of process, or in the alternative, with §47.36 relating to the designation of the office of the clerk of the circuit court as a place for service of process, then process directed to any domestic corporation failing to comply with said sections may be served upon any officer or agent of such domestic corporation resident in the state or transacting business for it in the state. Process directed to any foreign corporation failing to comply with said sections may be served upon any agent of such foreign corporation transacting business for it in Florida.

History.—§2, ch. 57-97.

47.18 Effect of service upon a corporation.—After service upon a corporation, the same proceedings to final judgment shall be had against such corporation as are had in other suits at law after the return of execution of summons.

History.—§2, Feb. 11, 1834; RS 1023; GS 1410; RGS 2608; CGL 4255.

47.19 Service of process; incorporated college or academy.—Process against an incorporated college or academy may be served upon the president or chief officer, or any visitor or trustee thereof.

47.22 Service of process upon directors of dissolved corporations as trustees.—Process against the directors of any corporation which has been or shall hereafter be dissolved under the laws of the state, as trustees of such dissolved corporation, may be served upon any one or more of the directors of such dissolved corporation, as trustees of such dissolved corporation, and such personal service shall be binding upon all of the directors of such dissolved corporation as trustees of such dissolved corporation.

History.—§1, ch. 19064, 1939; CGL Supp. 1940, 4251(1).

47.23 Service of process upon minors.—The courts of this state shall obtain jurisdiction of minors when the original writ of subpoena in chancery or summons in common law actions, as the case may be, is served by reading the writ or summons to be served to the minor to be served, and also to the guardian or other person in whose care or custody such minor may be, or by a delivery of a copy thereof to such minor and to his guardian or other person in whose care or custody such minor may be, and by further serving the writ or summons upon the guardian ad litem thereafter appointed by the court to represent said minor; provided, that service of process on the guardian ad litem may be dispensed with where such guardian ad litem voluntarily appears in any proceeding in which he may have been appointed to act as guardian ad litem for any minor.

History.—§1, ch. 7853, 1919; CGL 4273; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

47.24 Service of process; validating prior service upon minors.—In all cases heretofore adjudicated, where process has been served upon a minor, as prescribed in §47.23, the same shall be deemed and held lawfully made and no proceeding shall be declared irregular or illegal when a duly appointed guardian ad litem has appeared and answered for a minor in such cause.

History.—§2, ch. 7853, 1919; CGL 4274.

47.25 Service of process upon insane and incompetent persons.—The courts of this state shall obtain jurisdiction of insane persons and of such weak-minded and physically incapacitated persons as have been found and for whom the court shall have appointed a curator of the estate or a guardian of the person of such incompetent, when the original writ of summons in chancery or summons in law actions, as the case may be, is served (1) by reading the writ or summons to be served to the insane or incompetent person to be served and also to the guardian or other person in whose care or custody such insane or incompetent person may be, (2) or by delivery of a copy thereof to such insane or incompetent person and to his guardian, or other person in whose care or custody such insane or incompetent person may be, and by further serving the writ or summons upon the guardian ad litem thereafter appointed by the court to represent said insane or incompetent person; provided, that service of process on the guardian ad litem may be dispensed with where such guardian ad litem voluntarily appears in any proceeding in which he may have been appointed to act as guardian ad litem for any insane or incompetent person.

History.—§1, ch. 19175, 1939; CGL Supp. 1940, 4274(13); §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

47.26 Service of process upon state prisoners.—All process to be served upon a state prisoner shall be directed to and served upon such prisoner and a copy of such process shall be served, by registered mail, upon the director of the department of corrections.

History.—§30, ch. 3883, 1889; RS 3043; GS 4124; RGS 6243; CGL 8580; §1, ch. 21992, 1943; §1, ch. 25041, 1949; §44, ch. 57-121. cf.—§1.01(13) defines registered mail to include certified mail with return receipt requested.

47.27 Service of process upon state road department.—Service of process in suits against the state road department shall be made upon the chairman of the said department, or, in his absence, upon two other members of said department.

History.—§§1-4, ch. 15022, 1931; Supp. 1936, CGL 1651(1). cf.—§337.20 Service of process upon department.

47.28 Service of process; writs of scire facias.—Where writs of scire facias are issued for the purpose of reviving judgments and obtaining execution thereon, such writs may be served in the manner provided for the service of summons, or, upon the conditions mentioned in chapter 48, such writs may be served by publication as provided in said chapter.

History.—§1, ch. 4132, 1893; GS 1412; RGS 2610; CGL 4272; §7, ch. 24337, 1947; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

47.29 Service of process upon nonresident motor vehicle owners, etc.—

(1) Any nonresident of this state, being the operator or owner of any motor vehicle, who shall accept the privilege extended by the laws of this state to nonresident operators and owners, of operating a motor vehicle or of having the same operated, or permitting any motor vehicle owned, or leased, or controlled by them to be operated with their knowledge, permission, acquiescence or consent, within the state, or any resident of this state, being the licensed operator or owner of or the lessee, or otherwise entitled to control any motor vehicle under the laws of this state, who shall subsequently become a nonresident or shall conceal his whereabouts, shall, by such acceptance or licensure, as the case may be, and by the operation of such motor vehicle, either in person, or by or through his, her, or its servants, agent, or employee, or by person with his, her or its knowledge, acquiescence and consent, within the state make and constitute the secretary of state, his, her, its or their agent for the service of process in any civil suit or proceeding instituted in the courts of the state against such operator or owner, lessee or other person entitled to control of such motor vehicle, arising out of or by reason of any accident or collision occurring within the state in which such motor vehicle is involved.

(2) If any person upon whom service of process is authorized by subsection (1) shall die, service shall be made upon his administrator, executor, curator or personal representative in the manner prescribed by §47.30.

History.—§1, ch. 17254, 1935; CGL Supp. 1936, 4274(7); (1) §1, ch. 25003, (2) n. §2, ch. 25003, 1949. cf.—§101(13) defines registered mail to include certified mail with return receipt requested.

47.30 Method of service upon nonresident.—Service of such process shall be made by the plaintiff or his attorney by either leaving a copy of the process with a fee of two dollars in the hands of the secretary of state, or in his office, or by mailing a copy of such process with a fee of two dollars to the secretary of state; and such service shall be sufficient service upon a defendant who has appointed the secretary of state as his agent for the service of such process; provided, that notice of such service and a copy of the process are forthwith sent by registered mail by the plaintiff, or his attorney, to the defendant, and the defendant's return receipt and the affidavit of the plaintiff, or his attorney, of compliance herewith are filed with the papers in the case on or before the return day of the process or within such further time as the court may allow, or that such notice and copy are served upon the defendant, if found within the state, by an officer duly qualified to serve legal process, or, if found without the state, by a sheriff or deputy sheriff of any county of this state or by any duly constituted public officer qualified to serve like process in the state or jurisdiction where the defendant is found; and the officer's return showing such service to have been made is filed in the case on or before the return day of the process or within such further time as the court may allow. Proof of service of process on the secretary of state shall be by a copy of notice of said secretary accepting such process.

History.—§2, ch. 17254, 1935; CGL Supp. 1936, 4274(8); §1, ch. 59-382.
cf.—§1.01(13) defines registered mail to include certified mail with return receipt requested.

47.32 Fee of secretary of state, etc.—The fee of two dollars paid by the plaintiff to the secretary of state shall be taxed in his costs if he prevail in the action or proceeding. The secretary of state shall keep a record of all such processes served upon him, which shall show the day and hour of service.

History.—§4, ch. 17254, 1935; CGL Supp. 1936, 4274(10).

47.33 Optional methods of service of process upon certain persons.—In addition to the methods of service of process provided in this chapter, service upon the following mentioned classes of persons may also be made as provided in the following sections of these statutes, to-wit: foreign surety corporations or companies, §624.0221; fraternal benefit societies, §632.501; corporations, associations, firms or individuals doing an insurance business in this state, §624.0221; corporations, partnerships or individuals doing a reciprocal or inter-insurance business in this state, §§624.0221 and 624.0222; issuers of securities under the uniform sale of securities act of this state, §517.10.

Revision Note.—This section has been supplied as information and as a reference to special or specific instances where other methods of service of process is specifically provided. It is also the purpose of this section to clear up any possible question as to whether or not service may be had under the provisions of this chapter as well as under specifically mentioned sections.
cf.—§447.11, Labor unions.

47.34 Corporations; designation of place for service of process.—Every Florida corporation, now existing or hereafter organized, and every foreign corporation now qualified or hereafter qualifying to transact business in this state, except the corporations mentioned in §47.45 of these statutes, shall file with the secretary of state, unless heretofore filed, within thirty days from the effective date of these statutes or within thirty days from the filing of its certificate of incorporation or its qualification to transact business in this state, if a foreign corporation, a certificate designating an office, place of business or domicile for the service of process within this state, stating therein the county, city or town within this state where such office is located, which designation shall, whenever possible, include the street and number of the building wherein such office is located, the name of such building and the number of such room or rooms in which said office, place of business or domicile within this state is located. In the event any such corporation shall desire to change its office, domicile or place of business for the service of process, herein specified, it shall, at least ten days before making such change, file with the secretary of state an amendment to its certificate hereinbefore provided for, specifying such change and designating its new office, domicile or place of business for the service of process in the manner aforesaid.

History.—§1, ch. 11829, 1927; CGL 4257.

47.35 Corporations; place where process may be served to be kept open during certain hours.—Each and every corporation mentioned in §47.34 shall keep its office, place of business or domicile, as provided in §47.34, open from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon upon each and every day during each and every calendar year, save and except Sundays and legal holidays, and keep at such office during such hours one or more officers or agents upon whom process may be served. Within ten days after designating such officer or agent, it shall be the duty of such corporation to file with the secretary of state the name and a written acknowledgment of acceptance by each officer or agent upon whom service of process may be served as mentioned in this section.

History.—§2, ch. 11829, 1927; CGL 4258; §1, ch. 63-241.

47.36 Corporations; designation of office of clerk of circuit court as place for service of process.—Any corporation mentioned in §47.34, in lieu of designating its office, place of business or domicile, and keeping the same open, and keeping at such place of business or domicile one or more officers or agents upon whom process may be served, and keeping posted at such office, place of business or domicile, a sign bearing the name of such corporation and the names of its officers or agents for the service of process as provided in §§47.34 and 47.35, may designate the office of the clerk of the circuit court in any county of this state as its office, domicile or place of business for the service of process within this state, and may then designate the clerk of such circuit court as an agent upon whom process may be served.

If any corporation elects to designate the office of a clerk of a circuit court as its office, domicile or place of business for the service of process within this state, and to designate the clerk of such court as an agent for the service of process, as in this section provided, it shall do so by filing with such clerk and also with the secretary of state, certificates to that effect, which certificates shall contain the post office address of such corporation. Upon the filing of such certificates as in this section provided, the office of the clerk of the circuit court, so designated shall, for the service of process only, be deemed the office, place of business or domicile of such corporation, and said clerk and each of his deputies shall be deemed thereby to be designated as an agent of said corporation for the service of process. When any process against any such corporation shall be served upon such clerk or any of his deputies, such clerk shall immediately mail a copy of such process to such corporation at the address given in the certificate or any amendment thereto so filed with the clerk. The clerk shall retain the copy of such process which was served upon him or his deputy and endorse thereon his certificate that he has mailed a copy thereof to such corporation as herein provided. When such process shall have been served and a copy thereof mailed and the certificate of such mailing executed, all as herein provided, process shall be deemed to have been regularly and duly served upon such corporation. For mailing a copy of each process and making a certificate of such mailing as herein provided, such clerk shall receive a fee of one dollar, which fee shall be advanced and paid, in the first instance, by the plaintiff in such cause, but shall be taxed as costs.

Any corporation may, at its pleasure, change its address by filing amended certificates with the secretary of state and with a clerk of a circuit court, showing such change of address. Any corporation which shall have made a clerk of a circuit court its agent as herein provided, may withdraw such designation at its pleasure, provided said corporation shall thereupon designate another clerk's office and the clerk thereof or shall designate an office, place of business or domicile for the service of process and appoint officers or agents, and comply in all respects with the provisions of §§47.34 and 47.35. Whenever the office of a clerk of the circuit court is designated as the office, domicile or place of business for the service of process as in this section provided, and such clerk is designated as the agent for the service of process, it shall be unnecessary to post the name of such corporation, together with the names of its officers or agents for the service of process, as provided in §47.35. If any corporation shall designate a clerk's office and the clerk, under this section, but shall omit to file a certificate of such designation with the clerk so designated, then the plaintiff or complainant in any cause shall have the right to obtain from the secretary of state a certified copy of the certificate of designation filed with him and to file such certified copy with said clerk, and when such certified copy has been so filed it shall have the same full force and effect for all purposes as if the certificate had been originally filed with such clerk by the corporation itself. For receiving and filing each certificate mentioned in §47.34 and this section to be filed with the secretary of state, said secretary of state shall be paid a fee of one dollar; and for receiving and filing the certificate mentioned in this section or for receiving and filing any certified copy of any certificate mentioned in this section, the clerk of the circuit court so receiving and filing the same shall be paid a fee of one dollar.

History.—§3, ch. 11829, 1927; CGL 4259; §24, ch. 57-1.

47.37 Corporations; manner of serving civil process.—Civil process against a corporation issuing from any court in this state may be served on such corporation by serving a copy of the summons ad respondendum or of the summons in chancery or other civil process, as the case may be, upon any officer or agent of such corporation, found at such office, place of business or domicile, and designated under §§47.34 and 47.35, or in case a clerk of a circuit court has been designated, as provided in §47.36, then by serving such process upon such clerk or any of his deputies.

History.—§4, ch. 11829, 1927; CGL 4260.

47.41 Corporation service record, to be kept by clerks of the circuit courts.—All the clerks of the circuit courts of the state shall keep in their respective offices a record book or books, each to be known as "Corporation Service Record," which book or books shall be properly indexed, and in which promptly upon being served with process, the clerk shall enter the date of such service, the name of the plaintiff or complainant, the name of the defendant corporation served, and a number which the clerk shall thereupon assign to the particular cause, which number shall correspond with the number to be placed upon the copy of civil process served upon the said clerk, and which copy as a permanent public record shall at all times thereafter be subject to inspection.

History.—§10, ch. 11829, 1927; CGL 4266.

47.42 Records to be kept by secretary of state.—The secretary of state of Florida shall maintain an accurate record of the agents, offices, places of business or domiciles for the service of process as the same may be disclosed by certificates provided for in §§47.34 and 47.36 and shall furnish promptly from time to time upon request, in the form of a certificate or otherwise as requested, any and all information disclosed by such record with respect to any corporation, and as a fee for complying with each request and as to each corporation, the said secretary of state shall receive the sum of one dollar, which fee shall be advanced and paid in the first instance by the plaintiff or complainant in such cause, but shall be taxed as costs.

History.—§11, ch. 11829, 1927; CGL 4267; §1, ch. 29873, 1955; §24, ch. 57-1.

47.43 No actions to be maintained by corporations failing to comply with requirements.—No foreign corporation which has heretofore or shall hereafter qualify to transact business in this state, nor any foreign corporation which is now carrying on business in this state or shall hereafter carry on business within this state without having qualified to do so, and no domestic corporation now or hereafter incorporated shall be permitted to maintain any action in any court of this state until such corporation shall have complied with the provisions either of §§47.34 and 47.35 or of §47.36 and shall also have paid to the state a penalty of one dollar for each day after it should have qualified to do business within this state and should have complied with the provisions of this law until it does so qualify to do business and comply with the provisions of this law; provided, however, that whenever a corporation shall have paid a penalty under the provisions of this law amounting to two hundred fifty dollars, it shall not be required to pay any other or further penalty.

History.—§13, ch. 11829, 1927; CGL 4269.

47.44 Service of process; cumulative provisions.—The provisions of §§47.34-47.37, 47.41, 47.42, shall be deemed cumulative of all other provisions of law, and shall not prevent the service of process upon any corporation in accordance with any other statute or law of this state.

History.—§9, ch. 11829, 1927; CGL 4265; §7, ch. 22858, 1945.

47.45 Corporations and classes of corporations exempted.—The provisions of §§47.34-47.37, 47.41-47.44 shall not be deemed to apply to the following named corporations and classes of corporations, to-wit: Banking companies, trust companies, safe deposit companies, building and loan associations, insurance companies, mutual fire insurance associations, surety companies, express companies, railroad and canal companies, sleeping car companies, telegraph and telephone companies, co-operative associations, fraternal benefit societies, state fairs or expositions, cemetery companies, or corporations not for profit.

History.—§14, ch. 11829, 1927; CGL 4270.

47.46 Service of process, etc., on Sunday.—Service or execution upon Sunday, of any writ, process or warrant, order, judgment or decree, shall be void to all intents and purposes whatever; and the person so serving or executing, or causing to be served or executed, the same shall be liable to the suit of the party aggrieved, and to answer damages to him for so doing, as if he had done the same without any process, writ, warrant, order, judgment or decree; however, if information shall be made by the oaths of two respectable persons to any judge or justice of the peace or magistrate of any corporate town, that they have good reason to believe that any person liable to have any such process, warrant, order, judgment or decree served upon him intends to withdraw himself, and escape from this state under cover of protection of Sunday, any officer duly authorized may, being furnished with a certificate of such information upon oath as aforesaid, under the hand of the judge, justice of the peace or magistrate as aforesaid, serve or execute such process, warrant, order, judgment or decree, on Sunday, which shall be as valid and effectually done, to all legal intents and purposes, as if the same had been done on any other day of the week.

47.47 Return of execution of process.—All officers to whom process shall be directed shall note upon the same the time when it comes to hand, the time when it was executed, the manner of execution, and the name of the person upon whom it shall be executed, and if such person be served in a representative capacity, the position occupied by him. A failure to set forth the foregoing facts shall invalidate the service, but the return shall be amendable so as to state the truth at any time upon application to the court from which the process issued, and upon such amendment the service shall be as effective as if the return had originally stated such facts. A failure to state said facts in the return shall subject the officer so failing to a fine not exceeding ten dollars, at the discretion of the court.

History.—§18, Nov. 23, 1828; RS 1026; GS 1414; RGS 2612; CGL 4276.

47.48 Return of non-execution of process.—When an officer shall, for any cause, fail to execute process directed to him, he shall return the same "not executed," with the reason for such failure; and if such reason be insufficient, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty dollars, at the discretion of the court; and shall also be liable to the party injured for all costs and damages thereby incurred and sustained.

History.—§9, Nov. 23, 1828; RS 1027, GS 1415; RGS 2613; CGL 4277.

47.49 Lis pendens in state and federal courts; requirements, beginning, duration, dissolution, etc.—

(1) No proceeding in any of the state or federal courts in this state, including actions at law, suits in equity and special statutory proceedings, shall operate as a lis pendens as to any property, real or personal, involved therein or to be affected thereby, until there shall have been filed in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of the county where the property is situated, and shall have been recorded in a book to be kept by him for that purpose, a notice of the institution of such proceedings, containing the names of the parties, the time of the institution of the proceeding, the name of the court in which it is pending, a description of the property involved or to be affected, and a statement of the relief sought as to such property.

(2) No notice of lis pendens shall extend or be effectual for any purpose beyond the period of one year from the institution of the proceeding unless the relief sought is disclosed by the initial pleading of the plaintiff to be founded upon an instrument of writing properly of record, or upon a materialman's or mechanic's lien claimed against the property involved in such suit; unless the judge of the court in which the said proceeding is pending shall upon reasonable notice and for good cause shown extend the time. And the said judge may impose such terms for the extension of said time as justice may require.

(3) In all equity causes where the initial pleading of the complainant does not show that the suit is founded upon an instrument of writing properly recorded, or upon a materialman's or mechanic's lien, the court in which the cause is pending may control and discharge the notice of lis pendens as the said court may grant and dissolve injunctions.

(4) The provisions of this section shall apply to all causes now or hereafter pending in any of the state or federal courts in this state, but the period of time above mentioned shall not be taken to include the period of pendency of any cause in an appellate court.

History.—RS 1220; GS 1649; RGS 2853; §§1-3, ch. 12081, 1927; CGL 4550; §1, ch. 24336, 1947.

47.50 Resignation of resident agents.—

(1) Any individual or corporation that has been designated by a corporation as agent upon whom process may be served, may resign such agency by filing with the secretary of state a signed notice that he or it is unwilling to continue to act as such agent of such corporation, together with an affidavit signed by said resident agent that a copy of such notice has been mailed to the principal business office of such corporation. Upon the expiration of thirty days after the filing of such notice and affidavit with the secretary of state, the capacity of such individual or corporation as such agent shall terminate. Upon the filing of such notice and affidavit and the payment to the secretary of state of a filing fee of one dollar the secretary of state forthwith shall also give written notice, by mail, to the corporation which has designated such agent, of the filing of such notice and the effect thereof, which notice shall be addressed to such corporation at its principal place of business as shown by the records in the office of the secretary of state.

(2) Within thirty days from the date the secretary of state mails notice to such corporation that its agent has resigned, such corporation shall, in accordance with law, designate another agent upon whom process may be served.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 20842, 1941.

47.51 Alien property custodian; notices.—In every action or proceeding, in any court or administrative board of this state, involving real, personal or mixed property, or any interest therein, where service of process or notice is required or directed to be made upon any person, firm or corporation located, or believed to be located, within any country or power, or within territory in the possession of or under the control of any country or power, between which and the United States a state of war exists, in addition to the giving of such notice or service of process, a copy of such notice or process shall be sent by registered mail to the alien property custodian, addressed to him at Washington, District of Columbia; provided, however, failure to mail a copy of such notice or process to the said alien property custodian shall not be held to have invalidated the said action or proceeding.

History.—§1, ch. 22074, 1943.

cf.—§1.01(13) defines registered mail to include certified mail with return receipt requested.

48.01 Service of process by publication, in what cases.—Service of process by publication may be had, in any of the several courts of this state, and upon any of the parties mentioned in §48.02 in any suit or proceeding:

(1) To enforce any legal or equitable lien upon or claim to any title or interest in real or personal property within the jurisdiction of the court or any fund held or debt owing by any party upon whom process can be served within this state.

(2) To quiet title or remove any encumbrance, lien or cloud upon the title to any real or personal property within the jurisdiction of the court or any fund held or debt owing by any party upon whom process can be served within this state.

(3) For the partition of real or personal property within the jurisdiction of the court;

(4) For divorce or annulment of marriage;

(5) For the construction of any will, deed, contract or other written instrument and for a judicial declaration or enforcement of any legal or equitable right, title, claim, lien or interest thereunder;

(6) For the reestablishment of lost instruments or records which have or should have their situs within the jurisdiction of the court;

(7) In which there shall have been issued and executed any writ of replevin, garnishment or attachment;

(8) In which any other writ or process shall have been issued and executed so as to place any property, fund or indebtedness in custodia legis;

(9) In scire facias to revive a judgment;

(10) In any other suit or proceeding, not hereinabove expressly mentioned, wherein personal service of process or notice is not required by the statutes or constitution of this state or by the constitution of the United States.

History.—§1, ch. 20452, 1941.
cf.—§66.18 Quietting title; additional remedy; bill; notice, etc.

48.02 Service of process by publication, upon whom.—Where personal service of process cannot be had, service of process by publication may be had upon any party, natural or corporate, known or unknown, including:

(1) Any known or unknown natural person, and, when described as such, the unknown spouse, heirs, devisees, grantees, creditors or other parties claiming by, through, under or against any known or unknown person who is known to be dead or is not known to be either dead or alive;

(2) Any corporation or other legal entity, whether its domicile be foreign, domestic or unknown, and whether dissolved or existing, including corporations or other legal entities not known to be dissolved or existing, and, when described as such, the unknown assigns, successors in interest, trustees, or any other party claiming by, through, under or against any named corporation or legal entity;

(3) Any group, firm, entity or persons who operate or do business, or have operated or done business, in this state, under a name or title which includes the word "corporation," "company," "incorporated," "inc." or any combination thereof, or under a name or title which indicates, tends to indicate or leads one to think that the same may be a corporation or other legal entity; and,

(4) All claimants under any of such parties. Unknown parties may be proceeded against exclusively or together with other parties.

History.—§2, ch. 20452, 1941; §7, ch. 22858, 1945.

48.03 Sworn statement as condition precedent.—

(1) As a condition precedent to service by publication, there shall be filed in the cause a statement executed by the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, setting forth substantially the matters hereafter required, which statement may be contained in the initial or other pleading, if sworn to, or in any affidavit or other sworn statement.

(2) The word "plaintiff" as used in this chapter shall extend to any party in the cause who may be entitled to service of original process upon any party to the cause or any person who may be brought in or allowed to come in as a party by any lawful means. The word "defendant" as used in this chapter shall extend to any party on whom service by publication is authorized by this chapter, without regard to his designation in the pleadings or position in the cause.

(3) After the entry of a final judgment or decree in any cause no sworn statement shall ever be held defective for failure to state a required fact if the said fact otherwise appears from the record of the cause.

History.—§3, ch. 20452, 1941; (2) §2, ch. 28301, 1953.

48.04 Sworn statement, natural person as defendant.—The sworn statement of the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, for service of process by publication against a natural person, shall show:

(1) That diligent search and inquiry have been made to discover the name and residence of such person, and that the same is set forth in said sworn statement as particularly as is known to the affiant; and,

(2) Whether such person is over or under the age of twenty-one years, if his age is known, or that his age is unknown; and,

(3) In addition to the above, that the residence of such person is, either:

(a) Unknown to the affiant; or,

(b) In some state or country other than this state, stating said residence if known; or,

(c) In the state, but that he, has been absent from the state for more than sixty days next preceding the making of the sworn statement, or conceals himself so that process cannot be personally served upon him, and that affiant believes that there is no person in the state upon whom service of process would bind said absent or concealed defendant.

History.—§4, ch. 20452, 1941.

48.05 Sworn statement, corporation as defendant.—The sworn statement of the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, for service of process by publication against a corporation, shall show:

(1) That diligent search and inquiry have been made to discover the true name, domicile, principal place of business and status (that is, whether foreign, domestic or dissolved) of the corporate defendant, and that the same is set forth in said sworn statement as particularly as is known to the affiant, and that diligent search and inquiry have also been made, to discover the names and whereabouts of all persons upon whom the service of process would bind the said corporations and that the same is specified as particularly as is known to the affiant; and

(2) Whether or not the corporation has ever qualified to do business in this state, unless shown to be a Florida corporation; and

(3) That all officers, directors, general managers, cashiers, resident agents and business agents of the corporation, either:

(a) Are absent from the state; or

(b) Cannot be found within the state; or

(c) Conceal themselves so that process cannot be served upon them so as to bind the said corporation; or

(d) That their whereabouts are unknown to the affiant; or

(e) That said officers, directors, general managers, cashiers, resident agents and business agents of the corporation are unknown to affiant.

History.—§5, ch. 20452, 1941.

48.06 Sworn statement, parties doing business under a corporate name as defendants.—The sworn statement of the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, for service of process by publication against parties who have or may have done business under a corporate name, shall show:

(1) The name under which said parties have operated or done business; and

(2) That, after diligent search and inquiry, he has been unable to ascertain whether or not the organization operating under said name was a corporation, either domestic or foreign; and

(3) The names, and places of residence if known, of all persons known to have been interested in such organization, and whether or not other or unknown persons may have been interested in such organization; or that, after diligent search and inquiry, all persons interested in such organization are unknown to the affiant, and, unless all such persons are unknown to the affiant,

(4) That the known persons interested in such organization, either:

(a) Are absent from this state; or

(b) Cannot be found within this state; or

(c) Conceal themselves so that process cannot be personally served upon them; or

(d) That their whereabouts are unknown to the affiant.

History.—§6, ch. 20452, 1941.

48.07 Sworn statement, unknown parties as defendants.—If relief is prayed against unknown parties, the sworn statement of the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, for service of process by publication against such unknown parties, shall show:

(1) That the affiant believes that there are persons who are or may be interested in the subject matter of the suit or proceedings whose names, after diligent search and inquiry, are unknown to the affiant; and

(2) Whether said unknown parties claim as heirs, devisees, grantees, assignees, lienors, creditors, trustees, or other claimants:

(a) By, through, under or against a known person who is dead or not known to be dead or alive; or,

(b) By, through, under or against some corporation, domestic or foreign, that has been dissolved or which is not known to be existing or dissolved; or

(c) By, through, under or against some organization which operated or did business under a name indicating a corporation; or

(d) Otherwise as the case may be.

(3) In any case alleged against a named defendant, natural or corporate, who is stated, either in the pleadings or in the sworn statement, to be either dead or dissolved, or not known to be dead or alive, or dissolved or existing, any judgment, decree or order rendered against such defendant shall be as good, valid and effectual as if it had not been so stated.

History.—§7, ch. 20452, 1941.

48.08 Notice of suit, form.—Upon filing the sworn statement, and otherwise complying with the foregoing requirements, the plaintiff shall be entitled to have issued by the clerk or judge, not later than sixty days after the filing of the sworn statement, a notice of suit which notice shall set forth:

(1) The names of the known natural defendants; the names, status and description of the corporate defendants; a description of the unknown defendants who claim by, through, under or against a known party which may be described as "all parties claiming interests by, through, under or against (name of known party)" and a description of all other unknown defendants which may be described as "all parties having or claiming to have any right, title or interest in the property herein described";

(2) The nature of the suit or proceeding in short and simple terms (but neglect to do so shall not be construed as jurisdictional);

(3) The name of the court in which the suit or proceedings were instituted and an abbreviated title of the case;

(4) The description of real property, if any, proceeded against.

History.—§8, ch. 20452, 1941; (1) §3, ch. 28301, 1953; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

48.09 Notice of suit, return day.—The notice of suit shall require the defendant to file his answer with the clerk of the court and to serve a copy thereof upon the plaintiff or plaintiff's attorney, whose name and address shall appear in, or be annexed to, said notice not later than the date fixed in said notice, which date shall be not less than twenty-eight nor more than sixty days after the first publication of the notice.

History.—§9, ch. 20452, 1941; §4, ch. 28301, 1953; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

48.10 Notice of suit, publication, proof and recording thereof.—

(1) All such notices of suit shall be published once during each week for four consecutive weeks (four publications being sufficient) in some newspaper published in the county where the court is located, said newspaper to meet such requirements as may be prescribed by law for such purpose.

(2) Proof of such publication shall be made by affidavit of either the owner, publisher, proprietor, editor, business manager, foreman or other officer or employee of such newspaper having knowledge of such publication, which affidavit shall set forth or have attached a copy of said notice, shall set forth the dates of each publication and otherwise comply with the requirements of law, and shall be recorded in the chancery order book or minute book of the court wherein the suit or proceeding is pending, unless a certificate thereof be made as provided in §48.12.

History.—§10, ch. 20452, 1941; sub. §(1) am. §5, ch. 28301, 1953; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

48.11 Notice of suit, posting, proof and recording thereof.—If there be no newspaper published in such county then three copies of said notice shall be posted at least twenty-eight days prior to the return day thereof in three different and conspicuous places in such county, one of which shall be at the front door of the courthouse in said county; the proof of posting shall be made by affidavit of the person posting the same, which affidavit shall include a copy of the notice posted and the date and places of posting the same; said affidavit shall be recorded in the chancery order book or minute book of the court in which the proceeding is pending, unless a certificate thereof be made as hereinafter provided.

History.—§11, ch. 20452, 1941; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

48.12 Notice of suit, certificate of publication or posting in lieu of recording.—In lieu of the recording of the proof of publication or posting as provided in §§48.10 and 48.11, there may be filed in such proceeding a certificate executed by the clerk or judge stating that such proof of publication was filed, the name of the newspaper in which such notice of suit was published, that such newspaper is qualified under the law as one in which to publish legal notices and the dates upon which the proof of publication states that the notice was published; or if such notice of suit was posted, then such certificate shall state that such notice was posted at the front door of the courthouse in such county and in two other conspicuous places in the county for at least twenty-eight days prior to the return day thereof.

History.—§12, ch. 20452, 1941; §6, ch. 28301, 1953; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.
cf.—Ch. 49 Legal and official advertisements.

48.13 Notice of suit, mailing of.—If the residence of any defendant or other party to be served by publication shall be stated in the sworn statement with more particularity than the name of the state or country in which the defendant resides, the clerk, or the judge if there be no clerk of such court, shall mail a copy of such notice by United States mail, with postage prepaid, to each such defendant within ten days after the making of the notice, the date of mailing to be noted on the docket. A copy of the complaint shall be mailed to nonresident defendants.

History.—§13, ch. 20452, 1941; §7, ch. 29737, 1955.

48.15 Guardian ad litem.—If any defendant or other party to whom such notice of suit was addressed, who appears from the record to be insane or under the age of twenty-one years, shall fail to answer or otherwise respond as required by law on or before the return day specified in said notice, the plaintiff shall apply for appointment of a guardian ad litem to represent such defendant or other party and all unknown defendants and no default or decree pro confesso need be entered in such case. Such guardian ad litem shall be required to file an answer and make such defense as he may deem necessary or proper to protect the substantial interests, if any, of such defendants or other party. It shall not be necessary for him to file an oath, and the filing of his answer or any other pleading shall be taken as an acceptance of such appointment and as an undertaking on his part to discharge faithfully the duties of such office. His fees shall be fixed by the court and shall be paid by the plaintiff in the first instance, but may be taxed as costs.

History.—§15, ch. 20452, 1941; §7, ch. 28301, 1953; §2, ch. 29737, 1955; §24, ch. 57-1.

46.18 Rules of court, forms, etc.—The supreme court of Florida may, from time to time, make, adopt, promulgate, amend, modify or annul rules of practice, and adopt forms, for use in the practice and proceedings under and in administration of this act, and such court rules and forms shall have the force and effect of law.

History.—§16, ch. 20452, 1941.

48.17 Construction of law.—Nothing in this act shall be construed as amending or modifying the provisions of the probate law of Florida, or chapters 731-734.

History.—§17, ch. 20452, 1941.

48.18 Short title.—This act shall be known and may be cited as the "1941 constructive service law."

History.—§19, ch. 20452, 1941.

CHAPTER 49

LEGAL AND OFFICIAL ADVERTISEMENTS

- 49.01 Where and in what language legal notices to be published.
- 49.02 Publication when no newspaper in county.
- 49.03 Newspapers in which legal notices and process may be published.
- 49.04 Proof of publication; uniform affidavits required.
- 49.05 Proof of publication; form of uniform affidavit.
- 49.06 Amounts chargeable.

49.01 Where and in what language legal notices to be published.—Whenever by statute an official or legal advertisement or a publication, or notice in a newspaper has been or is directed or permitted in the nature of or in lieu of process, or for constructive service, or in initiating, assuming, reviewing, exercising or enforcing jurisdiction or power, or for any purpose, including all legal notices and advertisements of sheriffs and tax collectors, the contemporaneous and continuous intent and meaning of such legislation all and singular, existing or repealed, is and has been and is hereby declared to be and to have been, and the rule of interpretation is and has been, a publication in a newspaper printed and published periodically once a week or oftener, containing at least twenty-five per cent of its words in the English language, entered or qualified to be admitted and entered as second-class matter at a post office in the county where published, for sale to the public generally, available to the public generally for the publication of official or other notices and customarily containing information of a public character or of interest or of value to the residents or owners of property in the county where published, or of interest or of value to the general public.

History.—§2, ch. 3022, 1877; RS 1296; GS 1727; §1, ch. 5610, 1907; RGS 2942; §1, ch. 12104, 1927; CGL 4666, 4901; §1, ch. 63-387.

49.02 Publication when no newspaper in county.—When any law, or order or decree of court, shall direct advertisements to be made in any county and there be no newspaper published in the said county, the advertisement may be made by posting three copies thereof in three different places in said county, one of which shall be at the front door of the courthouse, and by publication in the nearest county in which a newspaper is published.

History.—RS 1297; GS 1728; RGS 2943; CGL 4667.

49.03 Newspapers in which legal notices and process may be published.—No notice or publication required to be published in a newspaper in the nature of or in lieu of process of any kind, nature, character or description provided for under any law of the state, whether heretofore or hereafter enacted, and whether pertaining to constructive service, or the initiating, assuming, reviewing, exercising or enforcing jurisdiction or power, by any court in this state, or any notice of sale of property, real or personal, for taxes, state, county or municipal, or sheriff's, guardian's or administrator's or any sale made pursuant to any judicial order, decree or statute or any other publication or notice pertaining to any affairs of the state, or any county, municipality or other political subdivision thereof, shall be deemed to have been published in accordance with the statutes providing for such publication, unless the same shall have been published for the prescribed period of time required for such publication, in a newspaper which at the time of such publication shall have been continuously published at least once each week and shall have been entered as second class mail matter at a post office in the county where published for a period of one year next preceding the first insertion of such publication, or in a newspaper which is a direct successor of a newspaper which together have been so published; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall apply where in any county there shall be no newspaper in existence which shall have been published for the length of time above prescribed. No legal publication of any kind, nature or description, as herein defined, shall be valid or binding or held to be in compliance with the statutes providing for such publication unless the same shall have been published in accordance with the provisions of this section. Proof of such publication shall be made by uniform affidavit.

49.04 Proof of publication; uniform affidavits required.—All affidavits of publishers of newspapers (or their official representatives) made for the purpose of establishing proof of publication of public notices or legal advertisements, shall be uniform throughout the state.

Each such affidavit shall be printed upon white bond paper containing at least twenty-five per cent rag material and shall be eight and one-half inches in width and of convenient length, not less than five and one-half inches. A white margin of not less than two and one-half inches shall be left at the right side of each affidavit form and upon or in this space shall be substantially pasted a clipping which shall be a true copy of the public notice or legal advertisement for which proof is executed.

In all counties having a population in excess of four hundred fifty thousand according to the latest official decennial census in addition to the charges which are now or may hereafter be established by law for the publication of every official notice or legal advertisement, there shall be a charge of one dollar for the preparation and execution of each such proof of publication or publisher's affidavit.

History.—§1, ch. 19290, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 4668(1); §1, ch. 63-49, cf.—§66.32 Constructive service of summons.

49.05 Proof of publication; form of uniform affidavit.—The printed form upon which all such affidavits establishing proof of publication are to be executed shall be substantially as follows:

NAME OF NEWSPAPER
Published (Weekly or Daily)
(Town or City) (County) FLORIDA
STATE OF FLORIDA
COUNTY OF _____:

Before the undersigned authority personally appeared _____, who on oath says that he is _____ of the _____, a _____ newspaper published at _____ in _____ County, Florida; that the attached copy of advertisement, being a _____ in the matter of _____ _____ in the _____ Court, was published in said newspaper in the issues of _____.

Affiant further say that the said _____ is a newspaper published at _____, in said _____ County, Florida, and that the said newspaper has heretofore been continuously published in said _____ County, Florida, each _____ and has been entered as second class mail matter at the post office in _____, in said _____ County, Florida, for a period of one year next preceding the first publication of the attached copy of advertisement; and affiant further says that he has neither paid nor promised any person, firm or corporation any discount, rebate, commission or refund for the purpose of securing this advertisement for publication in the said newspaper.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this _____, A. D. 19 _____

(SEAL) Notary Public

History.—§2, ch. 19290, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 4668(2).

49.06 Amounts chargeable.—

(1) The publisher of any newspaper publishing any and all official public notices or legal advertisements shall charge therefor the rates specified in this section without discount, rebate, commission or refund.

(2) The charge for publishing each such official public notice or legal advertisement shall be seventy cents per square inch for the first insertion and forty cents per square inch for each subsequent insertion, except that:

(a) In all counties having a population of more than three hundred four thousand according to the latest official decennial census, the charge for publishing each such official public notice or legal advertisement shall be eighty cents per square inch for the first insertion and sixty cents per square inch for each subsequent insertion.

(b) In all counties having a population of more than four hundred fifty thousand according to the latest official decennial census, the charge for publishing each such official public notice or legal advertisement shall be eighty-five cents per square inch for the first insertion and sixty-five cents per square inch for each subsequent insertion.

(3) Where the regular established minimum commercial rate per square inch of the newspaper publishing such official public notices or legal advertisements is in excess of the rate herein stipulated, said minimum commercial rate per square inch may be charged for all such legal advertisements or official public notices for each insertion, including notices of all governmental bodies or agencies.

(4) Any person violating provision of this section, either by allowing or accepting any discount, rebate, commission or refund, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment of not more than 60 days or by fine not to exceed $300.00 or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

(5) All official public notices and legal advertisements shall be charged and paid for on the basis of six-point type on six-point body.

(6) The provisions of this section, however, shall not be construed as in anywise affecting the provisions of law concerning the publication of delinquent tax lists.

(7) Failure to charge the rates prescribed by this section shall in no way affect the validity of any official public notice or legal advertisement and shall not subject same to legal attack upon such grounds.

History.—§3, ch. 3022, 1877; RS 1298; GS 1729; RGS 2944; §1, ch. 12215, 1927; §1-2B, ch. 20264, 1941; CGL 4668; §1, ch. 23663, 1947; (2) by §1, ch. 57-160; §1, ch. 63-50.

CHAPTER 50

DEFAULTS

50.11 Default and final judgment upon personal service.

50.11 Default and final judgment upon personal service.—Upon the entry of any default for want of proper pleading in any suit for the recovery of money founded upon contract, if the action is on a written instrument for the payment of money, the plaintiff at any time after such default may on the production and filing of such instrument cause final judgment to be entered for the amount thereof, with interest, and the clerk of the court (or the judge, if the court has no clerk), shall assess the amount which the plaintiff is entitled to recover for the principal and interest, and enter up judgment for the same, upon which judgment execution shall issue immediately unless otherwise ordered by the court. And if the action is upon an open account, or other contract for the payment of money not in writing, upon the entry of a default as aforesaid, the clerk (or the judge, if the court has no clerk), shall ascertain the amount which the plaintiff is entitled to recover in such action from the examination of the plaintiff under oath, or other proofs by affidavit or otherwise, and enter up judgment for the amount so assessed or ascertained, upon which judgment execution shall issue as aforesaid.

50.12 Default and final judgment upon constructive service.

History.—§7, ch. 1938, 1873; RS 1035; GS 1425; RGS 2622; CGL 4288; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

50.12 Default and final judgment upon constructive service.—In actions where the service of the summons or a notice of the institution of the suit is by publication, the plaintiff, at the date set in the publication for the answer of the defendant, may enter a default if the defendant shall fail to answer the complaint as may be required, and thereupon he may apply to the court for final judgment; and the court must thereupon require proof to be made, either by the production of the cause of action, if in writing, and if not, then by examination under oath of the plaintiff, or other proof by affidavit or otherwise; and if the defendant is a nonresident of the state must require the plaintiff or his agent to be examined on oath respecting any payments that may have been made to the plaintiff, or to any one for his use, on account of the demand sued on, and may render judgment for the amount which the plaintiff is entitled to recover, upon which an execution may issue as in other cases.

History.—§8, ch. 1938, 1873; RS 1036; GS 1426; RGS 2623; CGL 4289; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

CHAPTER 51

ACTIONS AT LAW; PLEADINGS OF THE PLAINTIFF

51.02 Complaint; forms, generally.

51.05 Complaint; statement of causes in libel and slander cases.

51.02 Complaint; forms, generally.—Forms set forth in Rule 1.8(a),(b) of the 1954 rules of civil procedure shall be sufficient in the statement of the complaint. They and like forms may be used with such modifications as may be necessary to meet the facts of the case; but nothing herein contained shall render it erroneous or irregular to depart from the letter of such forms, so long as the substance is expressed without prolixity.

History.—§38, ch. 1096, 1861; RS 1058; ch. 4935, 1901; GS 1450; RGS 2648; CGL 4314; §2, ch. 29737, 1955. cf.—Ch. 26962, 1951.

51.05 Complaint; statement of causes in libel and slander cases.—In actions of libel and slander the plaintiff may aver that the words or matter complained of were used in a defamatory sense, specifying such defamatory sense without any prefatory averment to show how such words or matter were used in that sense, and such averment shall be put in issue by the denial of the alleged libel or slander; and when the words or matter set forth, with or without the alleged meaning, show a cause of action, the complaint shall be sufficient.

History.—§21, ch. 1096, 1861; RS 1057; GS 1449; RGS 2647; CGL 4313.

51.12 Complaint; negligent operation of vehicle by person other than owner.—In any action brought by a person for damages claimed to have been sustained by reason of the negligent operation of a motor vehicle by a person other than the owner thereof, with respect to the element of liability of such owner for any such negligence of such driver of said vehicle, it shall be sufficient in the complaint filed in such action to allege operation of said vehicle by the driver thereof and the name of the owner thereof, without the necessity of alleging the legal relationship existing between such owner and driver or any other averments of fact related to authority or consent of such owner with respect to the operation of said motor vehicle by the driver thereof. In any such action, should the owner of any such motor vehicle desire to urge as a defense therein a denial of liability for the alleged negligent acts of any such driver in the latter's operation of said vehicle, such defense shall be set forth in the answer, particularly alleging the facts upon which said owner relies for his denial of liability for such acts of said driver. Upon trial of any such action, the plaintiff therein, with respect to the element of liability of said owner for such acts of said driver, shall be required only to prove by competent evidence the ownership of said vehicle and the driver thereof at the time of the alleged negligent operation of the same, to establish a presumption of liability of said owner for any such negligent acts of said driver in his operation of such vehicle, said presumption being subject to rebuttal by said owner by competent evidence within the limits of the facts set forth in the answer.

History.—§1, ch. 24199, 1947; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

 52.21 Pleadings upon equitable grounds; reply.
 52.24 Voluntary payment, pleading.

52.08 Actions upon negotiable and other instruments; consideration, etc.—All bonds, notes, covenants, deeds, bills of exchange, and other instruments of writing not under seal, shall have the same force and effect (so far as the rules of pleadings and evidence are concerned) as bonds and instruments under seal.

The assignment or endorsement of any such instruments of writing shall vest the assignee or endorsee with the same rights, powers and capacities as might have been possessed by the assignor or endorser. And he may bring suit thereon, and it shall not be necessary for the plaintiff in any suit upon an instrument assignable by law to set forth in the complaint the consideration upon which the instrument was given, or upon which such assignment or endorsement was made, nor to prove such consideration or the execution of such instrument, unless the same shall be impeached by the defendant under oath. An executor or administrator, however, may deny the execution or consideration aforesaid by answer not under oath.

52.12 Transfer of cause if any demand beyond jurisdiction of court.—

(1) Should the demand of any compulsory counterclaim exceed the jurisdiction of the court wherein the suit is pending, the said suit shall be forthwith transferred to the court of the same county having jurisdiction of the demand in the said counterclaim mentioned, with only such alterations in the pleadings as shall be essential. In such case, an order shall be made by the court for the transfer of the suit and the transmission of all papers therein to the proper court and thereupon the originals of all such papers shall be transmitted and filed, together with a certified or attested copy of the order of transfer and transmissal. The court to which transferred shall have full power and jurisdiction over the demands of both the defendant and the plaintiff in the said suit and may adjudicate the same and enter judgment thereon.

(2) CONSOLIDATION OF CAUSES ARISING OUT OF SAME TRANSACTION.—If, because of transfers of suits from other courts, or otherwise, there shall at any time be two or more suits pending in the same court upon claims or demands arising out of the same transaction or occurrence, between or including the same parties, the court wherein said suits are pending may by order consolidate said suits with such alterations in the pleadings as may be essential. In the said order of consolidation, the court may provide that the consolidated causes shall preserve their separate existence or be merged into a single suit.

History.—§§2, 3, ch. 20426, 1941.

52.16 Answers; forms in particular cases.—The forms of answers set forth in §52.17 and §52.18 shall be sufficient in the cases to which they shall be respectively applicable. And they and the like forms may be used with such modifications as may be necessary to suit the facts of the case, but nothing herein contained shall render it erroneous or irregular to depart from the letter of such forms, so long as the substance be expressed without prolixity.

History.—§38, ch. 1086, 1861; RS 1075; GS 1467; RGS 2666; CGL 4333.

52.17 Forms in actions on contracts.—

(1) DENIAL OF DEBT.—That he never was indebted as alleged.

(2) DENIAL OF CONTRACT.—That he did not promise as alleged. (This is applicable to other declarations on contracts, and not on bills and notes.)

(3) DENIAL OF DEED.—That the alleged deed is not his deed.

(4) STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS.—That the alleged cause of action did not accrue within _____ years before this suit.

(5) PAYMENT.—That before action he discharged and satisfied plaintiff's claim by payment.

(6) SET-OFF.—That the plaintiff, at the commencement of this suit, was, and still is, indebted to the defendant in an amount equal to the plaintiff's claim, for (here state the cause of set-off as in a declaration), which amount the defendant is willing to set-off against the plaintiff's claim.

(7) RELEASE.—That after the alleged claim accrued, and before this suit, the plaintiff, by deed, released the defendant therefrom.

History.—§38, ch. 1086, 1861; RS 1075; GS 1467; RGS 2666; CGL 4333.

52.18 Forms in actions not on contracts.—

(1) NOT GUILTY.—That he is not guilty.

(2) LEAVE AND LICENSE.—That he did what is complained of by the plaintiff's leave.

(3) SELF-DEFENSE.—That the plaintiff first assaulted the defendant, who thereupon necessarily committed the alleged assault in his own defense.

(4) RIGHT OF WAY.—That the defendant, at the time of the alleged trespass, was possessed of land, the occupiers whereof for twenty years before this suit enjoyed as of right, and without interruption, a way, on foot and with cattle, from a public highway, over the said land of the plaintiff to the said land of the defendant, and from the said land of the defendant over the said land of the plaintiff to the said highway, at all times of the year, for the more convenient occupation of the said land of the defendant, and that the alleged trespass was a use by the defendant of the said way.

History.—§38, ch. 1096, 1861; RS 1075; GS 1467; RGS 2666; CGL 4333.

52.19 Operation of plea of not guilty in tort actions.—In action for torts, the plea of not guilty shall operate as a denial only of the breach of duty or wrongful act alleged to have been committed by defendant, and not of the facts stated in the inducement, and no other defense than such denial shall be admissible under that plea; all other pleas in denial shall take issue on some particular matter of fact alleged in the declaration; and where in the declaration the breach of duty or wrongful act is alleged to have been committed by defendant through the agency of any other person or thing the alleged relationship between the defendant and that other person or thing shall not be put in issue by the answer of not guilty.

History.—§1, Senate Bill 131, 1921; CGL 4333.

52.20 Defenses upon equitable grounds.—The defendant in any cause in any of the courts of this state, in which if judgment were obtained he would be entitled to relief against such judgment on equitable grounds, may plead in his answer the facts which entitle him to such relief by way of defense.

Such answer shall begin with the words "for defense on equitable grounds," or words to the like effect.

Any such matter which, if it arose before or during the time of pleading would be sufficient for an answer to the action, may be set up by way of audita querela, if it arises after the lapse of the period during which it could be pleaded.

History.—§§69, 70, ch. 1096, 1861; RS 1047; GS 1438; RGS 2635; CGL 4301; §8, ch. 29737, 1955; §8, ch. 57-1.

52.21 Pleadings upon equitable grounds; reply.—The plaintiff may reply to the answer of the defendant facts which would avoid such answer upon equitable grounds.

Such reply shall begin with the words "for reply on equitable grounds," or to the like effect.

History.—§71, ch. 1096, 1861; RS 1048; GS 1439; RGS 2636; CGL 4302; §9, ch. 29737, 1955.

52.24 Voluntary payment; pleading.—

(1) Whenever, in any court in this state, a suit is instituted by a party to a contract, to recover a payment made pursuant to said contract, and, by the terms of the contract, there was no enforceable obligation to make the payment, or the making of such payment was excused, the defense of voluntary payment may not be interposed by the person receiving such payment, to defeat recovery of the payment.

CHAPTER 53

CHANGE OF VENUE AND TRANSFER OF CAUSES

- 53.01 Change of venue; power to grant.
 53.02 Change of venue; when to be granted.
 53.03 Change of venue; application, affidavits, etc.
 53.04 Change of venue; traverse of application.
 53.05 Change of venue; when unable to obtain jury.
 53.06 Change of venue; second change, when permitted.
 53.07 Change of venue; to what jurisdiction.
 53.08 Change of venue; to another county of circuit.
 53.09 Change of venue; never to residence of a party.

53.01 Change of venue; power to grant.—Judges of all courts in this state shall have power and it shall be their duty to grant changes of venue of all cases pending before them, under the circumstances and in the manner hereinafter provided by this chapter.

History.—§1, ch. 373, 1851; RS 1077; GS 1469; RGS 2668; CGL 4335.
 cf.—§911.02, Removal of cause, criminal cases.

53.02 Change of venue; when to be granted.—A change of venue shall be granted in all cases in the circuit courts, county courts, county judges' courts, and the courts of the justice of the peace, upon either party presenting a sufficient application praying for such change.

History.—§3, ch. 373, 1851; GS 1470; §1, ch. 7852, 1919; RGS 2669; CGL 4336.
 cf.—§911.02, Removal of cause, criminal cases.

53.03 Change of venue; application, affidavits, etc.—In the event either party to cause desires a change of venue he shall make application therefor on oath stating that he fears he will not receive a fair trial in the court where the suit is pending (1) on account of the adverse party having an undue influence over the minds of the inhabitants of the county, or justice district, (2) or on account of applicant being so odious to the inhabitants of the county, or justice district, that he could not receive a fair trial.

Such application shall be filed not less than ten days before the beginning of the term of the court, or good cause shown for failure to so file same within such time, and shall fully and distinctly set forth the facts upon which the application for a change of venue is founded, and the same shall be accompanied by a certificate of counsel of record that such affidavit and application is made in good faith; said application shall also be supported by affidavits as to the facts stated in application by at least two reputable citizens of the county or justice district not of kin to defendant nor to counsel for the defendant.

History.—§37, Nov. 23, 1828; RS 1079; GS 1471; §10, ch. 7838, 1919; §2, ch. 7852, 1919; RGS 2670; CGL 4337.
 cf.—§911.03, Application for removal of cause, criminal cases.

53.04 Change of venue; traverse of application.—In all applications for a change of venue the adverse party shall have the right to trav-

- 53.10 Change of venue; transfer of papers, etc.
 53.11 Change of venue; testimony of witnesses.
 53.12 Change of venue; payment of costs.
 53.13 Transfer of causes; from circuit to criminal court of record.
 53.14 Transfer of causes; from circuit to county court.
 53.15 Transfer of causes; time for.
 53.16 Transfer of causes; method of transfer.
 53.17 Transfer of cases laid in a wrong venue.

erse the allegations of the application, and the court shall hear the evidence produced by either party and decide the matter accordingly.

History.—§1474 GS 1906; §3, ch. 7852, 1919; RGS 2673; CGL 4340.

53.05 Change of venue; when unable to obtain jury.—Such change of venue shall be granted whenever it shall appear in any circuit court or county court in any case, that it is impracticable to obtain a qualified jury for the trial of such case in the county where the same is pending.

History.—§1, ch. 4137, 1893; GS 1472; RGS 2671; CGL 4338.

53.06 Change of venue; second change, when permitted.—Whenever it shall appear to the judge of any court to which a case shall have been taken by a change of venue, that any of the grounds presented by law for change of venue exist in the county or justice district to which the case has been so taken, it shall be within the power and discretion of said judge to order a second change of venue of said case; provided, that the same shall not be returned to the county from which it was originally transferred.

History.—§2, ch. 4394, 1895; GS 1473; RGS 2672; CGL 4339.

53.07 Change of venue; to what jurisdiction.—The order granting change of venue shall remove the case to some circuit court in the next nearest circuit if the same be in a circuit court, or some next nearest county court if the case shall be in a county court, or to the next nearest county judge when the case shall be in a county judge's court, or to the next nearest justice of the peace of same county or county judge of same county when the case is in the court of a justice of the peace. If the judge of such nearest circuit court or county court, or justice of the peace court, or the county judge be disqualified, some other circuit, county or justice's district shall be selected.

History.—§1077 RS 1892; §1, ch. 4724, 1899; GS 1475; RGS 2675; CGL 4342; §12, ch. 17171, 1935.
 cf.—§911.02, Removal of cause, criminal cases.

53.08 Change of venue; to another county of circuit.—If a change of venue be granted upon grounds other than the disqualification or prejudice of the judge of the circuit court, said cause may be removed to any other county within the same circuit.

History.—§1, ch. 4394, 1895; GS 1476; RGS 2676; CGL 4343.

cf.—§911.02, Removal of cause, criminal cases.

53.09 Change of venue; never to residence of a party.—No change of venue shall be directed so as to have the case removed to any county or to any justice's district where either of the parties reside, unless by consent of parties.

History.—§37, Nov. 23, 1822; RS 1079; GS 1477; RGS 2677; CGL 4344.

53.10 Change of venue; transfer of papers, etc.—Upon the removal of any case the clerk of the court (or the judge, if there be no clerk) in which such cause was pending shall transmit all papers in such court filed in said cause, and a certified copy of all entries of record in the same, including a copy of the order of transfer to the court to which said cause is transferred, which court is vested with full power to hear and determine same.

History.—§3, ch. 373, 1851; RS 1077; GS 1479; RGS 2679; CGL 4346.

cf.—§911.06, Removal of cause, transfer of records.

53.11 Change of venue; testimony of witnesses.—Upon such removal, the testimony of witnesses residing in the county from which it is removed, if it be removed from the county, may be taken in the manner provided by law for taking the testimony of witnesses residing out of the county in which any suit is pending.

History.—§2, ch. 373, 1851; RS 1077; GS 1480; RGS 2680; CGL 4347.

53.12 Change of venue; payment of costs.—No change of venue shall be granted in civil cases except upon condition that the applicant therefor shall pay all costs that have accrued in said cause, and shall not be effective until said costs are paid.

History.—§3, ch. 373, 1851; RS 1077; GS 1478; RGS 2678; CGL 4345.

53.13 Transfer of causes; from circuit to criminal court of record.—In all counties wherein criminal courts of record have been or may hereafter be established, the circuit courts, unless otherwise provided, may and are authorized to make orders removing all suits and causes pending in the circuit courts over which the criminal court of record has jurisdiction, to the said criminal court of record.

History.—§1, ch. 4128, 1893; GS 1482; RGS 2682; CGL 4349.

53.14 Transfer of causes; from circuit to county court.—In all counties wherein county courts have been or may hereafter be established, the circuit courts, unless otherwise provided, may and are authorized to make orders removing all suits and causes pending in the circuit court over which said county court has jurisdiction, to the said county court.

History.—§2, ch. 4128, 1893; GS 1483; RGS 2683; CGL 4350.

53.15 Transfer of causes; time for.—The orders above provided for may be made by the circuit courts, or judges thereof, at term time, or in vacation, upon the motion of the plaintiff or defendant, or their respective attorneys having the cases in charge, in the courts wherein the same properly belong.

History.—§3, ch. 4128, 1893; GS 1484; RGS 2684; CGL 4351.

53.16 Transfer of causes; method of transfer.—Removal of causes from circuit courts to criminal courts of record and to county courts shall be effected by the clerk of the circuit court transmitting the original papers in said cause to the court wherein the same is removed to, and certifying that the same are all the original papers in said suit or cause filed in his office. Said clerk shall also at said time transmit a certified copy of all entries of record made in the circuit court in said case.

History.—§4, ch. 4128, 1893; GS 1485; RGS 2685; CGL 4352.

53.17 Transfer of cases laid in a wrong venue.—

(1) Any court in this state in which is filed a case (including actions at law, suits in equity and statutory proceedings) laying venue in a wrong county or district may transfer such case to the proper court in any county or district of this state where it might have been brought in accordance with the venue statutes of this state. Where the venue of the case might have been brought under the venue statutes in two or more counties or districts the person bringing such case may select the county or district to which the case may be transferred; but if no such selection be made the matter shall be determined by the court or judge.

(2) Where a case is laid in a wrong venue and no timely objection is made thereto by one or more of the parties the court may proceed to a final disposition of the cause which shall be binding on the parties.

(3) The fees earned by the clerk or judge of the court wherein a case is laid in the wrong venue shall, upon the transfer thereof hereunder, be retained by him. Where a court is operating under a flat fee system, the fee received by the clerk or judge upon the filing of the case shall be deemed earned by him as of the time of filing, and another fee shall be required of the person filing the cause, in accordance with the statutes applicable in the county or district to which transferred, which if not paid within thirty days from the said transfer, shall justify dismissal without prejudice of the cause.

(4) Nothing herein shall apply to any criminal prosecution.

History.—§1, ch. 59-300.

cf.—§46.01, Where suits may be begun.

- 54.06 Money paid into court; unclaimed funds.
- 54.07 Adjournment of trial.
- 54.08 Continuance of certain causes for term of legislature and period of time prior thereto and subsequent thereto.
- 54.09 Non-suit; right of plaintiff to take.
- 54.11 Challenge of jurors; peremptory.
- 54.12 Challenge of jurors; for cause.
- 54.13 Oral examination of jurors by parties.
- 54.14 Number of jurors in civil trial jury.
- 54.15 Alternate jurors may be called.
- 54.16 View of premises by the jury.
- 54.17 Court's charge to jury; direction of verdict.
- 54.18 Court's charge to jury; when reduced to writing.
- 54.22 Further deliberation of jury; sending back.
- 54.23 Harmless error; effect.
- 54.28 Release or covenant not to sue.

54.01 Loss of negotiable instrument; indemnity.—The court may order that the loss of a negotiable instrument shall not be set up in any action to recover on the same, if an indemnity be given to the satisfaction of the court, or the clerk thereof, against the claims of any other person on such instrument.

History.—§73, ch. 1096, 1861; RS 1080; GS 1486; RGS 2686; CGL 4353.

54.04 Moneys paid into court; disposition.—All moneys paid into any court of the state and received by the officers thereof, in any cause pending or adjudicated in such court, shall be forthwith deposited with the treasurer of the state or in a designated depository of funds for the state, in the name and to the credit of such court, and every such depository that shall receive such moneys shall forthwith furnish security, to be approved by, and deposited with, the treasurer of the state, in an amount necessary to fully protect the full amount of such deposit at all times; and in the event such depository shall not, within five days from the date of each and every such deposit, advise such court that such security has been deposited with, and approved by, the treasurer of the state, such court shall forthwith enter its order, withdrawing all of such funds from such depository, and shall forthwith redeposit the same with the treasurer of the state or some other designated depository which shall furnish the security herein provided for; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the delivery of any such moneys upon security according to agreement of parties under the direction of the court.

History.—§1, ch. 15996, 1933; CGL 1936 Supp. 4355(1).
cf.—§18.10 et. seq. Designation of state depositories.
§18.20 Reproduction of certain warrants.

54.05 Money paid into court; withdrawal.—No moneys deposited as provided in §54.04, shall be withdrawn except upon the voucher or check signed by the clerk of the court if the court has an authorized clerk; if not, by the judge of the court, and every voucher or check shall state the cause in, or on account of which, it is drawn.

History.—§2, ch. 15996, 1933; CGL 1936 Supp. 4355(2); §1, ch. 29655, 1955.

54.06 Money paid into court; unclaimed funds.—

(1) In every case in which the right to withdraw money so deposited, as hereinbefore provided, has been adjudicated, or is not in dispute, and such money has remained so deposited for five years or more unclaimed by the person, firm or corporation entitled thereto, it shall be the duty of the judge, or one of the judges of such court, or its successor, on or before the first day of December each year, to direct that such money be deposited with the state treasurer to the credit of the state school trust fund, to become a part of said fund, subject however to the right of the person, firm or corporation entitled thereto to receive the same as provided in subsection (3) hereof.

(2) The direction that such money be deposited as provided in subsection (1) hereof shall be by written order, and a copy of such order shall be filed in the cause in which such money was originally deposited under §54.04, and such order shall also be noted in the progress docket in which said cause is entered, if such a docket is maintained by the court in which said cause is pending or was adjudicated.

(3) Any person, firm or corporation entitled to any such money, may, on written petition to the court from which the money was deposited or its successor, and upon written notice to the state attorney of the circuit wherein such court is situate, whether or not such court be a circuit court, and full proof of right thereto, obtain an order of court, directing the payment of such money to the claimant, and the money deposited as aforesaid shall constitute and be a permanent appropriation for payments by the treasurer of the state in obedience of such orders.

(4) All interest and income that may accrue from said money while on deposit with the state treasurer to the credit of the state school trust fund shall belong to said fund.

History.—§3, ch. 15996, 1933; CGL 1936 Supp. 4355(3); §1, ch. 21993, 1943; §1, ch. 24351, 1947; (1), (4) §2, ch. 61-119.

54.07 Adjournment of trial.—The court may at the trial of any cause where it may deem it right for the purposes of justice, order an adjournment for such time, and subject to such terms and conditions as to costs and otherwise, as it may see fit.

History.—§51, ch. 1096, 1861; RS 1083; GS 1489; RGS 2689; CGL 4356.

54.08 Continuance of certain causes for term of legislature and period of time prior thereto and subsequent thereto.—All pending litigation before the courts of this state shall stand continued during any session of the legislature and for a period of time fifteen days prior to any session of the legislature and fifteen days subsequent to the conclusion of any session of the legislature where either attorneys representing the litigants are members of the legislature, when motion to that effect is made by such member.

History.—§1, ch. 15995, 1933; CGL 1936 Supp. 4356(1); §1, ch. 61-176.

54.09 Non-suit; right of plaintiff to take.—No plaintiff shall take a non-suit on trial unless he do so before the jury retire from the bar.

History.—§70, Nov. 23, 1828; RS 1084; GS 1490; RGS 2690; CGL 4357.

54.11 Challenge of jurors; peremptory.—On the trial of any civil cause in any court, each party shall be entitled to three peremptory challenges of jurors empaneled in said cause; provided, that where the number of parties on opposite sides of the cause are unequal, the party or parties plaintiff and the party or parties defendant, shall be entitled to the same aggregate number of peremptory challenges, to be determined on the basis of three peremptory challenges to each party of the side with the greater number of parties, and the additional peremptory challenges thereby accruing to multiple parties plaintiff or multiple parties defendant shall be divided equally between them, and any additional peremptory challenges not capable of equal division shall be exercised separately or jointly as determined by the presiding judge in his discretion.

History.—§§24, 32, ch. 1628, 1868; §7, ch. 3010, 1877; RS 1086; GS 1492; §1, ch. 5902, 1909; §1, ch. 7851, 1919; RGS 2692; CGL 4359; §1, ch. 25042, 1949. cf.—§54.15, Additional challenge to alternate jurors.

54.12 Challenge of jurors; for cause.—The judge of any justice of the peace court, county judge's court, county court, civil court of record, court of record, circuit court or any other court wherein trial by jury is had, shall, on motion of either party in any cause, examine on oath any person who is called as a juror therein to know whether he is related to either party, or to the attorney of either party, within the third degree, or is related to any person alleged to have been wronged or injured by the commission of the wrong for the trial of which the juror is called, or has any interest in the cause, or has formed or expressed any opinion, or is sensible of any bias or prejudice therein; or is an employee or has been an employee of either party to the cause of action within thirty days previous to the trial thereof, and the party objecting to the juror may introduce any other competent evidence in support of the objection; and if it shall appear to the court that the juror does not stand indifferent to the cause, or any of the foregoing grounds of objection exist, or that he is otherwise incompetent, another shall be called in his stead for the trial of that cause. If any person selected for jury duty from bystanders or the body of the county, and not from a jury list lawfully selected, shall have served as a juror in the court in which he is called at any other time within one year the same shall be grounds of challenge for cause.

When the nature of any civil case requires a knowledge of reading, writing and arithmetic, or either, to enable a juror to understand the evidence to be offered on the trial, it shall be cause of challenge if he does not possess such qualifications, to be determined by the judge presiding at the trial.

History.—§§24, 32, ch. 1628, 1868; §7, ch. 3010, 1877; RS 1086; GS 1492; §1, ch. 5902, 1909; §1, ch. 7851, 1919; RGS 2692; §2, ch. 12068, 1927; CGL 4359.
cf.—§913.03, Challenge in criminal cases.

54.13 Oral examination of jurors by parties.—In the trial of any cause, civil or criminal, before a jury in any court of this state, the respective parties to said cause, either by themselves or through their attorneys, shall have the right to orally examine jurors upon their voir dire.

History.—§1, ch. 4718, 1899; GS 1493; RGS 2693; CGL 4360.

54.14 Number of jurors in civil trial jury.—In the trial of all civil causes in any and all of the several courts of this state, where a jury is or may be required or empaneled, a jury of six qualified jurors shall be sufficient and requisite for the trial and disposition of said cause.

History.—§1, ch. 4717, 1899; GS 1494; RGS 2694; CGL 4361.

54.15 Alternate jurors may be called.—In all cases triable either in the circuit courts, criminal courts of record, or the court of record in and for Escambia county in this state, the presiding judge of such court may direct that one or two jurors, in addition to the regular panel, be called and empaneled to sit as alternate jurors. Alternate jurors in the order in which they are called shall replace jurors who, prior to the time the jury retires to consider its verdict, become unable or disqualified to perform their duties. Alternate jurors shall be drawn in the same manner, shall have the same qualifications, shall be subject to the same examination, shall take the same oath and shall have the same functions, powers, facilities and privileges as the principal jurors. An alternate juror, who does not replace a principal juror, shall be discharged at the time the jury retires to consider its verdict. If one or two alternate jurors are called, each party is entitled to one peremptory challenge in addition to those otherwise allowed by law for each alternate juror so called. The additional peremptory challenge may be used only against the alternate juror and the other peremptory challenges allowed by law shall not be used against the alternate jurors.

History.—§1, ch. 18000, 1937; §1, ch. 19030, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 4361(1).

54.16 View of premises by the jury.—The jury may, in any case, upon motion of either party, be taken to view the premises or place in question, or any property, matter or thing relating to the controversy between the parties, when it shall appear to the court that view is necessary to a just decision; but the party making the motion shall advance a sum sufficient to defray the expenses of the jury and the officer who attends them in taking the view, which expense shall afterward be taxed like other legal costs, if the party who advanced them shall prevail in the suit.

History.—§28, ch. 1628, 1868; RS 1087; GS 1495; RGS 2695; CGL 4362.

54.17 Court's charge to jury; direction of verdict.—

(1) Upon the trial of all cases at law in the several courts of this state, the judge presiding at such trials shall charge the jury only upon the law of the case; that is, upon some point or points of law arising in the trial of said cause. If, however, after all the evidence shall have been submitted on behalf of the plaintiff in any civil case, it be apparent to the judge that no evidence has been submitted upon which the jury could lawfully find a verdict for the plaintiff in such civil case, the judge shall, upon motion of the defendant, direct the jury to find a verdict for the defendant; and if, after all the evidence of the parties shall have been submitted, it be apparent to the judge that no sufficient evidence has been submitted upon which the jury could legally find a verdict for one party, the judge may direct the jury to find a verdict for the opposite party.

(2) At the trial of any civil action or proceeding at law in the courts of this state, the judge presiding shall charge the jury on the law of the case in the trial at the conclusion of the argument of counsel.

History.—§1, ch. 2096, 1877; RS 1088; GS 1496; §1, ch. 6220, 1911; RGS 2696; §1, ch. 9364, 1923; §1, ch. 10163, 1925; CGL 4363; §1, ch. 21888, 1943.

cf.—§918.08, Directing acquittal of defendant (criminal cases).
§918.10, Charge to jury; request for instructions (criminal cases).

54.18 Court's charge to jury; when reduced to writing.—Every charge to a jury shall be oral, except when, in the circuit, civil courts of record or county court, either party, or his attorney, shall request in writing before the evidence is closed that it be in writing, when the judge shall commit it to writing. When delivered it shall be filed in the case and become a part of the record.

History.—§1, ch. 2096, 1877; RS 1089; §1, ch. 4388, 1895; GS 1497; RGS 2697; CGL 4364.

cf.—§918.10, Charge to jury in criminal cases.

54.22 Further deliberation of jury; sending back.—When a jury, after due and thorough deliberation upon any cause, shall return into court without having agreed on a verdict, the court may explain to them anew the law applicable to the case, and may send them out again for further deliberation; but if they shall return a second time without having agreed on a verdict, they shall not be sent out again without their own consent, unless they shall ask from the court some further explanation of the law.

History.—§27, ch. 1628, 1868; RS 1093; GS 1501; RGS 2701; CGL 4368.

54.23 Harmless error; effect.—No judgment shall be set aside or reversed, or new trial granted by any court of the state in any cause, civil or criminal, on the ground of misdirection of the jury or the improper admission or rejection of evidence or for error as to any matter of pleading or procedure, unless in the opinion of the court to which application is made, after an examination of the entire case it shall appear that the error complained of has resulted in a miscarriage of justice. This section shall be liberally construed.

History.—§1, ch. 6223, 1911; RGS 2812; CGL 4490.

54.28 Release or covenant not to sue.—

(1) A release or covenant not to sue as to one tort-feasor for property damage to, personal injury of, or the wrongful death of any person shall not operate to release or discharge the liability of any other tort-feasor who may be liable for the same tort or death.

(2) At any trial, if any defendant shall make it appear to the court that the plaintiff, or any person lawfully on his behalf, has delivered a release or covenant not to sue to any person, firm or corporation in partial satisfaction of the damages sued for, the court shall, at the time of rendering judgment, set-off such amount from the amount of any judgment to which the plaintiff would be otherwise entitled and enter judgment accordingly.

(3) The fact of such a release or covenant not to sue, or that any defendant has been dismissed by order of the court, shall not be made known to the jury.

History.—§§1-3, ch. 57-395.

- 55.62 Satisfaction of judgments and decrees; duties of clerk and judge.

55.01 Judgments; general form.—In all actions where either party recovers a sum of money, the amount to which he is entitled may be awarded to him by the judgment generally, without any distinction being therein made as to whether such sum is recovered by way of debt or damages.

History.—§40, ch. 1096, 1861; RS 1711; GS 1598; RGS 2800; CGL 4486.

55.02 Judgments upon bonds for the payment of money.—In all actions which shall be brought upon any bond for payment of money, wherein the plaintiff shall recover, judgment shall be entered for the principal and interest due thereon, and the costs of suit, and execution shall issue thereon accordingly.

History.—§1172 RS 1892; GS 1599; RGS 2801; CGL 4487.

55.03 Judgments; rate of interest, generally.

—All judgments (and decrees) shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum; provided however, that when such judgment or decree shall be obtained or rendered on a written contract or obligation providing for interest at a less rate than six per cent per annum then such judgment or decree shall bear interest at the rate specified in such written contract or obligation.

History.—§1, ch. 1562, 1866; RS 1176; GS 1604; RGS 2806; CGL 4493; §1, ch. 16051, 1933.

55.04 Judgments; rate of interest, bonds of county, etc.—All judgments and decrees obtained or rendered on any bonds or other written evidence of indebtedness of any county, special road and bridge district or any county for the use and benefit of any special road and bridge district or incorporated city or town or taxing district shall bear interest at the rate of five per cent per annum. When such judgment or decree shall be obtained or rendered on a bond or other written evidence of indebtedness providing for a less rate of interest than five per cent per annum then such judgment or decree shall bear interest at the rate specified in such bond or other written evidence of indebtedness.

History.—§1, ch. 16835, 1935; CGL 1936 Supp. 4493(1).

55.05 Judgments; power of attorney to confess invalid.—All powers of attorney for confessing or suffering judgment to pass by default or otherwise, and all general releases of error, heretofore made or to be made hereafter by any person whatsoever within or without this state, before such action brought, shall be absolutely null and void.

History.—§67, Nov. 23, 1828; RS 1178; GS 1606; RGS 2808; CGL 4495; §1, ch. 59-321.

55.07 Judgments; effect of failure to record.

—The failure to record any order, judgment or decree shall not affect the validity of any proceedings had thereon when collaterally attacked; provided, rendition of such order, judgment or decree is shown by the progress docket in the cause.

This section shall apply to all proceedings heretofore had as well as to those hereafter had.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 12114, 1927; CGL 4496(1).

55.071 Judgments and decrees; effect of invalid affidavit or oath.—No order, judgment or decree of any court of record of the state, heretofore, now or hereafter made or entered, including decree or decrees pro confesso, and judgment or judgments by default, and final decree or decrees, judgment or judgments consequent thereon, which has been now is/are, or shall hereafter be, made or entered, which has heretofore been, is now, or shall hereafter be, predicated or consequent upon a sworn statement, affidavit or oath, including a sworn statement, affidavit or oath, heretofore, now or hereafter made before or administered by any officer of the state authorized by the law or laws of the state to administer oaths or take acknowledgments, including sworn statements, affidavits, or oaths for constructive service, shall be set aside or vacated or held or declared to be either void or voidable, by reason of the officer before whom such sworn statement or affidavit was, is or shall be made, or such oath was, is or shall be administered, being the attorney of record or otherwise attorney for the person making such sworn statement or affidavit or taking or making such oath; provided, however, this section shall not bar any suit or action brought to set aside any judgment or decree based on sworn statement, affidavit or oath made or administered, as aforesaid, in the event such suit or action is brought within one year from the effective date of this section; provided, further, this section shall not create any new right in the party bringing such suit or action referred to in the foregoing saving clause to set aside any decree or judgment which does not already exist in equity or law.

History.—§1, ch. 22843, 1945.

55.08 Judgments entered prior to June 5, 1939; liens.—Every judgment at law and decree in equity, which was entered in any circuit court of this state prior to June 5th, 1939, created a lien and became binding upon the real estate of the defendant in the county where rendered. Such judgments and decrees shall create a lien upon real estate of the defendant situated in counties, other than where rendered, when a certified transcript of the said judgment or decree shall have been recorded in the county in which the real estate sought to be bound is situated.

History.—§§1, 2, Feb. 12, 1834; RS 1173, 1174; GS 1600, 1601; RGS 2802, 2803; CGL 4488, 4489.

55.081 Statute of limitations, lien of judgment.—No judgment, order or decree of any court shall be a lien upon real or personal property within the state after the expiration of twenty years from the date of the entry of such judgment, order or decree.

History.—§1, ch. 29954, 1955.

55.09 Judgments of inferior courts entered prior to June 5, 1939; lien.—Judgments of county courts, county judges' courts and justices of the peace, entered prior to June 5th, 1939, shall become a lien on the real estate of the defendant situated in any county, from the time of the filing in the office of the clerk of the circuit court for said county of a transcript of such judgment and the entry thereof by the clerk in a book to be kept by him for such purpose.

History.—§43, ch. 2040, 1875; RS 1176; GS 1602; RGS 2804; CGL 4490.

55.10 Judgments; lien of all, generally.—No judgment or decree hereafter rendered by the circuit courts or any other courts of this state shall be or become a lien on real estate until a certified transcript of said judgment or decree is recorded in the judgment lien record as provided by §28.21, subsection (11) of these statutes. Upon being so recorded said judgment or decree shall become a lien on the real estate of the defendant only in the county where the same is recorded in the manner provided by said §28.21.

History.—§1, ch. 10166, 1925; §1, ch. 14749, 1931; §§1-3, ch. 17998, 1937; §2, ch. 19270, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 4865(3).

55.11 Judgments; no lien against municipalities.—No money judgment or decree against a municipal corporation shall be a lien upon its property nor shall any fieri facias or any writ in the nature of a fieri facias based upon any such judgment be issued or levied.

History.—§1, ch. 17125, 1935; CGL 1936 Supp. 4492(4).

55.13 Judgments; rights of sureties, etc.—Any person paying money as surety for the principal in any bond or note, which he has signed as surety, upon which judgment has been obtained, shall have the same right to control the said judgment and collect the same, with principal, interest and costs, as the plaintiff creditor would have had if the debt had not been paid.

Such judgment, and execution thereon, shall have the same lien on property of the principal as though the surety were the original plaintiff.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 765, 1855; RS 1177; GS 1605; RGS 2807; CGL 4494.

55.14 Executions; capias ad satisfaciendum abolished.—In no case shall a capias ad satisfaciendum be issued upon a judgment, nor shall the body of any defendant be subject to arrest or confinement for the payment of money, except it be for fines imposed by lawful authority.

History.—§53, Nov. 23, 1828; RS 1184; GS 1612; RGS 2816; CGL 4503.

55.15 Executions; right to and life of.—The plaintiff shall be entitled to his execution at any time within three years after the rendition of any judgment or decree, and upon the issuance of his execution, shall be entitled to renew the same upon the return to the clerk's office of the original execution, from time to time for twenty years, unless the same be sooner satisfied.

History.—§8, Mar. 15, 1844; RS 1185; GS 1613; RGS 2817; CGL 4504.

55.16 Executions; issuance and return, alias, etc.—In all the courts of this state, upon the rendition of any final judgment the party in whose favor such judgment shall have been rendered, shall be entitled, upon oral request therefor, by himself, his agent or attorney, to execution thereon, and when issued and delivered, such execution shall be valid and effective during the life or effective period of the judgment on which issued, and all necessary actions and proceedings may be had thereon in the collection thereof, and, when fully paid, shall be fully returned on the back thereof, and filed in the court of issue, by the officer or officers executing the same. Upon the loss or destruction of any such writ, the party entitled thereto may have an alias, pluries or other copies thereof, upon making proper proof by affidavit of such loss, and filing it in the court of issue.

History.—§1187 RS 1892; GS 1615; RGS 2819; CGL 4506; §§1, 2, ch. 17904, 1937; CGL 1940 Supp. 4505(1).

55.17 Executions; teste and direction.—All writs of execution shall bear date as of the day on which they shall be issued, and shall be directed to all and every the sheriffs of the state, and shall be of full force throughout the state.

History.—§1, Feb. 17, 1833; RS 1186; GS 1614; RGS 2818; CGL 4505.

55.18 Executions; collection and return.—All writs of fieri facias shall be made returnable when satisfied, and the officer to whom the same shall come shall proceed to collect the amount thereof by the next succeeding term of the court after the receipt of such execution if the same can be done consistently with law; and shall on the first day of every succeeding term of the court after the receipt of the execution, make a return of his doings thereon in a book to be kept in the records of the court issuing the same, and all receipts shall be endorsed on the execution.

History.—§2, Mar. 15, 1844; RS 1188; GS 1616; RGS 2820; CGL 4507.

55.19 Executions; collection when against principal and sureties.—Where there are executions against principals and sureties, or an execution against a principal and surety or sureties, it shall be the duty of the sheriff or other officer to make the money out of the property of the principal, unless he be insolvent or has no property, in which case the execution may proceed against the property of the sureties.

History.—§7, Mar. 15, 1844; RS 1189; GS 1617; RGS 2821; CGL 4508.

55.20 Property subject to execution.—Lands and tenements, goods and chattels, equities of redemption in real and personal property, and stock in corporations, shall be subject to levy and sale under execution. Likewise, the interest in personal property in possession of a vendee under a retained title contract or conditional sale contract shall be subject to levy and sale under execution to satisfy a judgment against the vendee. This shall be done by making the levy on such personal property.

History.—§1, Mar. 15, 1844; §1, ch. 44, 1845; §1, ch. 3917, 1889; RS 1190; GS 1618; RGS 2822; CGL 4509; §1, ch. 61-199.

55.21 Executions upon equities of redemption; discovery of value.—Upon application made by the party causing a levy upon an equity of redemption, the court from which the execution issued shall cause the mortgagor, mortgagee, and all other persons whom the said mortgagor or mortgagee shall state upon oath to be interested in said mortgaged property so levied upon, to come into court and answer upon oath what amount remains due and owing upon said mortgage, what amount has been paid, and to whom and when paid, that the value of said equity or legal right of redemption may be ascertained before the same shall be sold. Likewise, when a levy has been made on the interest in personal property in possession of a vendee under a retained title contract or a conditional sale contract, the court, upon application made by any party claiming an interest therein, shall cause the vendor, vendee, and all other persons whom the said vendor or vendee shall state upon oath to be interested in said property so levied upon, to come into court and answer upon oath what amount remains due and owing upon said contract, what amount has been paid and to whom and when paid, that the value of the interest of the vendor and vendee in said property may be ascertained and priorities determined, before the same shall be sold.

History.—§2, ch. 44, 1845; RS 1208; GS 1638; RGS 2842; CGL 4529; §1, ch. 61-191.

55.22 Executions upon equities of redemption; protection of mortgagee of personalty.—The officer selling the equity of redemption in personal property shall require of the purchaser of such equity a bond with two good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by him, in a sum double the amount of the value to be placed by him upon each item of the personal property so levied upon and sold, payable to the mortgagee, and conditioned that such property shall not be removed beyond the state, and that it shall be forthcoming to answer any judgment or decree of foreclosure made against it. Likewise, the officer making the sale of the interest in personal property in possession of a vendee under a retained title contract or conditional sale contract shall require the purchaser to make a bond payable to the conditional vendor, conditioned that such property shall not be removed beyond the state, and that it shall be forthcoming to answer any judgment or decree of foreclosure made against it; or, the purchaser may pay the conditional vendor the full amount of money found to be due on the conditional sale contract and the conditional vendor shall thereupon convey title to the purchaser as was provided by the original retained title contract.

History.—§3, ch. 44, 1845; RS 1209; GS 639; RGS 2843; CGL 4530; §1, ch. 61-202.

55.23 Executions against corporations; generally.—Upon any judgment against any corporation, a plaintiff may sue out a fieri facias, and the writ of fieri facias may be levied as well on the current money as on the goods and chattels, lands and tenements of said corporation.

History.—§4, Feb. 11, 1834; RS 1210; GS 1640; RGS 2844; CGL 4531.

55.24 Executions against corporations, proceeding for receivership.—If such writ cannot be satisfied in whole or in part, for want of property of the defendant subject to levy and sale out of which to satisfy the same, upon petition of the judgment creditor, or of his agent or attorney, the circuit court sitting in chancery within whose circuit such corporation may have been doing business, or in which any of its effects are to be found, may by order sequestrate the property, things in action, goods and chattels, of such corporation for the purpose of enforcing such judgment, and may appoint a receiver for the same, and the receiver so appointed shall be subject to the rules prescribed by law for receivers of the property of other judgment debtors. His power shall extend throughout the state.

History.—§1, ch. 1870, 1872; RS 1211; GS 1641; RGS 2845; CGL 4532.

55.25 Executions against corporate stock.—Shares of stock in any corporation incorporated by the laws of this state shall be subject to levy of attachments and executions, and to sale under executions on judgments or decrees of any court in this state.

History.—§1, ch. 3917, 1889; RS 1212; GS 1642; RGS 2846; CGL 4533.

55.26 Executions against corporate stock; manner of levy.—Attachments or executions may be levied on such shares by the sheriff, or other officer holding such process, exhibiting the same to the president, vice-president, general manager, or other chief officer, or to the officer having custody of the stock books or transfer books of the corporation in which the attachment or judgment debtor may own shares of stock, and by informing such officers that a levy is thereby made upon such debtor's shares of stock in such a corporation, and such sheriff or other officer shall endorse such levy on such process.

History.—§2, ch. 3917, 1889; RS 1213; GS 1643; RGS 2847; CGL 4534; §13, ch. 59-1.

55.27 Executions against corporate stock; requiring statement of stock; penalty.—At the time of making such levy as aforesaid, the officer holding such process shall demand of the officer of the corporation to whom the process shall be exhibited a statement in writing of the number of shares of stock owned by such debtor in said corporation, together with the amount still due thereon. It shall be the duty of the said officer to furnish said statement at once to the said sheriff or other officer (who shall endorse the same on the said process); and any officer of any corporation refusing or failing to make such statement upon such demand, or making an untrue statement in response to such demand, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, upon conviction, be fined a sum of not less than one hundred dollars or be imprisoned in the county jail not less than ten days.

History.—§3, 3917, 1889; RS 1214; GS 1644; RGS 2848; CGL 4535.

cf.—§775.06, Alternative punishment.

55.28 Executions against corporate stock; ascertaining amount of stock owned by execution debtor; penalty.—If such attachment or execution creditor shall believe that the debtor owns shares of stock in said corporation at the time of the levy aforesaid, which do not appear in the answer of the officers of the corporation to the demand of the sheriff or other officer holding the process to belong to the said debtor, he may propound interrogatories to the officers of said corporation or any of them, and to the said debtor, touching the ownership of any shares of stock in said corporation by said debtor at the time of said levy; and the persons to whom such interrogatories are propounded shall be required to file their answers under oath to the same within ten days in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of said county. And if any person shall refuse to answer such interrogatories, or shall answer any of them untruly, he shall be guilty of misdemeanor, and shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars or be imprisoned not less than ten days in the county jail. If the answers to said interrogatories shall state the ownership by the said debtor of stock in said corporation not disclosed by the answers of the officers of the said corporation made under §55.27, the sheriff or other officer holding the said process shall endorse thereon description of said stock.

History.—§4, ch. 3917, 1889; RS 1215; GS 1645; RGS 2849; CGL 4536.

cf.—§775.06, Alternative punishment.

55.29 Executions against corporate stock; creditor may furnish description of stock.—If the creditor shall believe the answers of the officers of such corporation to the sheriff or other officer holding the process as aforesaid, and the answers of such officers of the corporation and the debtor to such interrogatories, to state untruly the stock owned by such debtors, he may furnish to the sheriff or other officer holding the process a description of the stock which he believes the debtor to own; and it shall be the duty of the sheriff or other officer to proceed to sell the debtor's interest in such stock as hereinafter provided.

History.—§5, ch. 3917, 1889; RS 1216; GS 1646; RGS 2850; CGL 4537.

55.30 Executions against corporate stock; effect of levy of writ; penalty.—From the time of the levy of said process as provided in §55.26 all the shares owned by the said debtor in such corporation, no matter how the description of it may be thereafter ascertained, shall be bound thereby, and no transfer of the same not then entered upon the transfer book of the said corporation shall be valid and effectual as against the levy of the said process. And if any person shall antedate or procure to be antedated any entry upon the books of said corporation for the purpose of avoiding the effect of the said levy he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, upon conviction, be fined not less than one hundred dollars or imprisonment in the county jail not less than ten days.

cf.—§775.06, Alternative punishment.

55.31 Executions against corporate stock; manner of sale of stock.—Shares of stock levied upon as hereinbefore provided shall be sold in the same manner as other property levied upon. The notice of such sale shall contain a statement of the number of shares to be sold, the corporation in which said shares are held, the amount paid in thereon, and the amount unpaid. The sheriff or other officer conducting said sale shall execute to the purchaser thereat a bill of sale of said shares, and such bill of sale shall vest in the purchaser all of the title of the judgment debtor; and upon the presentation of such bill of sale to the secretary or other officer controlling the transfer books of such corporation, it shall be his duty to transfer the said stock from the judgment debtor to the purchaser.

History.—§7, ch. 3917, 1889; RS 1218; GS 1648; RGS 2852; CGL 4539.

55.32 Executions, from county courts when to be levied against real estate.—Executions on judgments of county courts shall be a lien and may be levied upon real estate subject to levy, in any county, when a transcript of the judgment of said courts is filed and recorded in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of said county, and the real estate so levied upon may be sold under such executions in the same manner as under executions from the circuit courts.

History.—§1, ch. 4725, 1899; GS 1619; RGS 2823; CGL 4510.

55.33 Executions; levy, substitution of property.—The defendant in execution, his agent or attorney, shall at all times have it in his power to release any property which may have been levied on by surrendering other property of a value equivalent, in the opinion of the officer levying the execution, to that released.

History.—§1191 RS 1892; GS 1620; RGS 2824; CGL 4511.

55.34 Executions; levy, forthcoming bond.—If a defendant in execution desires to retake into his possession any property levied upon he may do so, by executing a bond with two good and sufficient sureties payable to the plaintiff, to be approved by the officer making the levy, in a sum double the value of the property retaken, which value shall be fixed by the officer holding the execution, conditioned for the forthcoming of the property retaken on the day of sale designated in said bond.

History.—§1192 RS 1892; GS 1621; RGS 2825; CGL 4512.

55.35 Executions; forfeiture of forthcoming bond.—Should the execution remain unpaid, and the parties to the bond fail to produce such property by the day specified, said bond shall be returned to the court from which the execution issued, as forfeited; and the clerk, or the court if it has no clerk, shall enter up judgment forthwith against the sureties for the value fixed as aforesaid of the property so bonded, or if the value of the property exceed the amount of the execution, then for the amount of the execution, and execution shall issue therefor. Such proceedings shall not affect the liability of the principal upon the original judgment.

History.—§1193 RS 1892; GS 1622; RGS 2826; CGL 4513.

55.36 Executions upon forthcoming bond, levy.—No bonds, as hereinbefore provided, shall be allowed to be given for property seized upon the execution on the judgment upon the forfeited bond.

History.—§1, ch. 727, 1855; RS 1194; GS 1623; RGS 2827; CGL 4514.

55.37 Executions; stay of illegal writs.—If any execution shall issue illegally, the defendant in execution, his agent or attorney, may procure a stay of the same by making and delivering to the officer having the execution an affidavit stating the illegality and whether any part of the execution be due, and a bond payable to the plaintiff with two good and sufficient sureties in double the amount of the execution or the part of which a stay is sought. Upon receipt of such affidavit and bond the officer shall stay any proceeding on the execution and return the bond and affidavit to the court from which the execution issued, and such court shall pass upon the question of illegality as soon as possible. If the execution be adjudged illegal in any part the court shall make an order staying it as to such part, but if it be adjudged legal in whole or in part, the court shall (or if it has a clerk, shall direct such clerk to) enter up judgment against the principal and sureties on such bond for the amount of so much of the execution as shall be adjudged to be legal, and execution shall forthwith issue thereon.

History.—§§2, 3, Feb. 15, 1834; RS 1195; GS 1624; RGS 2828; CGL 4515.

55.38 Executions; stay of upon motion.—The court before which an execution is returnable may, on a motion and notice to the adverse party, for good cause, upon such terms as the court may impose, direct a stay of the same, and the suspension of proceedings thereon.

History.—§6, Mar. 15, 1844; RS 1196; GS 1625; RGS 2829; CGL 4516.

55.39 Executions; claims of third parties to property levied upon.—If any person other than the defendant in execution shall claim any property levied upon, he may obtain possession of such property by filing with the officer having such execution an affidavit made by himself, his agent or attorney, that the property claimed by him belongs to him, and a bond payable to the plaintiff with two good and sufficient sureties to be approved by such officer in double the value of the goods claimed, such value to be fixed by the officer, conditioned to deliver said goods and chattels upon demand of said officer if the same shall be adjudged to be the property of the defendant in execution, and to pay the plaintiff all damages which the jury on the trial of the right of property may find in his favor if it should appear to the jury that such claim was interposed for the purpose of delay.

History.—§9, Feb. 17, 1833; §1, Mar. 15, 1844; RS 1197; GS 1626; RGS 2830; CGL 4517.

55.40 Executions; duty of officer upon claim of third person being filed.—Upon receipt of such bond and affidavit, the said officer shall deliver the property to the claimant and desist from any further proceedings under such levy until the right of property shall have been tried; and shall, unless directed in writing by the plaintiff in execution, his agent or attorney, to dismiss the levy and levy upon other property of the defendant in execution, return said execution to the court whence it issued, together with such affidavit and bond.

History.—§§9, 10, Feb. 17, 1833; RS 1198; GS 1627; RGS 2831; CGL 4518.

55.41 Executions; trial of claims of third persons.—At the next term of said court after the return a jury shall be sworn to try the right of property, and if the verdict be in favor of the plaintiff and it appear to the jury that the claim was interposed for delay, to award the plaintiff such damage as it may think reasonable, not exceeding twenty per cent; and, if the claimant shall three days before the trial deny in writing under oath filed in court, the correctness of the appraisement of the value of the property by the officer levying the execution, and the verdict be in favor of the plaintiff, to fix the value of each item thereof, or of such items thereof as may be covered by such denial.

History.—§10, Feb. 17, 1833; RS 1199; GS 1628; RGS 2832; CGL 4519.

55.42 Judgments upon claims of third persons.—Upon the verdict of the jury, the court shall enter judgment deciding the right of property, and if the verdict is for plaintiff, awarding a recovery by the plaintiff from the defendant and his sureties, of the value (as fixed by the officer, or as fixed by the jury if fixed by it) of such parts of the property as the jury may have found subject to execution, and awarding separately such damages as the jury may have awarded, and of all costs attending the presentation and trial of the claim.

History.—§1200 RS 1892; GS 1269; RGS 2833; CGL 4520.

55.43 Executions upon judgments against third persons claimants.—If the execution issued upon such judgment be not paid, it shall be satisfied in the usual manner, unless upon demand of the officer holding it upon the principal and sureties in the claim bond, they shall deliver to him the property released under the claim bond and pay to him the damages and costs awarded to the plaintiff by the jury. If the property be returned to the officer, but the damages and costs shall not be paid, the execution shall be enforced for such damage and costs. If part only of the property be returned to him, the execution shall be enforced for the value, fixed as aforesaid, of that not returned. All property returned shall be sold under the original execution against the original defendant.

History.—§1201 RS 1892; GS 1630; RGS 2834; CGL 4521.

55.44 Execution sales; notice.—Notice of all sales under execution shall be given by advertisement once each week for four successive weeks in a newspaper published in the county in which the sale is to take place, or if there is no newspaper published in the county, by posting notices at the door of the court house of the county, and at three other public places in the county, for thirty days; but the time of such notice may be shortened in the discretion of the court from which the execution issued, upon affidavit that the property to be sold is subject to decay, and will not sell for its full value if held for a period of thirty days.

History.—§3, Feb. 17, 1833; RS 1202; GS 1631; RGS 2835; CGL 4522.

55.45 Execution sales; time of sale.—All sales of property under legal process shall take place between the hours of 11:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m. of any day of the week except Saturday and Sunday, and shall continue from day to day until such property be disposed of.

History.—§2, ch. 3256, 1881; RS 1203; GS 1632; RGS 2836; CGL 4523; §1, ch. 61-104.

55.46 Execution sales; place of sale, generally.—All real and personal property levied upon under execution shall be exposed to sale at the court house door of the county in which the real estate shall be situated, or the personal property shall have been seized. If, however, the property to be sold shall consist of merchandise or other property not easily movable, or movable at great relative expense, the sale shall take place where the property was when taken possession of under the levy.

History.—§3, Feb. 17, 1833; RS 1204; GS 1633; RGS 2837; CGL 4524.

55.47 Execution sales; place of sale where no courthouse.—In any county where, by reason of sale or destruction of the courthouse, county officials are occupying temporary quarters, all sales required to be at the courthouse door shall be made at the door of the building occupied by the clerk of the circuit court, and all notices required to be posted at the door of the courthouse of the county shall be posted at the door of the building occupied by the clerk of the circuit court. Sales so made and notices so posted shall be deemed to be as valid and effectual as if the building occupied by the clerk of the circuit court is in fact the courthouse of the particular county.

History.—§1, ch. 18009, 1937; CGL 1940 Supp. 4524(1).

55.48 Execution sales; bill of sale or deed to property sold.—Whenever a sale shall be made by virtue of any execution, the officer making the sale shall, on payment of the purchase money and the cost of the deed or bill of sale, execute to the purchaser a deed of conveyance or bill of sale of the property sold.

History.—§6, Feb. 17, 1833; RS 1205; GS 1634; RGS 2838; CGL 4525.

55.49 Executions; mandamus to force levy and sale.—Whenever it shall be made to appear to the circuit judge by a petition, sworn to by the plaintiff in execution, his agent or attorney, that there is an unsatisfied execution in his favor in the hands of an officer whose duty it is to make levy of execution, and that the officer refuses to make levy upon property liable thereto, and upon which it is his duty to make levy, or having made levy such officer refuses to advertise and sell the property levied upon, the plaintiff in execution shall be entitled to an alternative writ of mandamus requiring the officer to levy such execution and collect the amount thereof, or advertise and sell the property levied upon, or both, as the case may be;

or to show cause why he refuses so to do, and the cause shall then proceed to final hearing as in other mandamus proceedings.

History.—§1, ch. 4914, 1901; GS 1635; RGS 2839; CGL 4526; §1, ch. 61-330.

55.50 Executions; payment to execution creditor of moneys collected.—All money made upon execution in this state shall be paid to the party or his attorney in whose favor execution shall have been issued. And the receipt of said attorney shall release and fully acquit the officer so paying over the money as aforesaid. Where the names of more than one attorney shall appear upon the records of the court, the money shall be paid to the attorney who originally commenced the suit, or to him who made the original defense.

When property sold under execution shall bring more than the amount of the execution, the surplus shall without delay be handed over to the defendant.

History.—§57, Nov. 23, 1828; RS 1206; GS 1636; RGS 2840; CGL 4527.

55.51 Executions; failure of officer to pay over moneys collected.—If any officer collecting money under execution shall fail or refuse to pay it over within thirty days after it shall have been received by him, or within ten days after demand made by the plaintiff or his attorney of record, he shall be liable to pay the same and twenty per cent. damages, to be recovered by motion in court.

History.—§7, Feb. 17, 1853; RS 1207; GS 1637; RGS 2841; CGL 4528.

55.52 Proceedings supplementary; when execution unsatisfied, affidavit, etc.—At any time after an execution shall have been in the hands of any sheriff of this state and returned unsatisfied, the plaintiff in execution, his agent or attorney, may make and file in the court from which such execution issued, an affidavit affirming such fact and also that said execution is valid and outstanding, and also stating the residence of the defendant, and the plaintiff shall thereupon be entitled to have from the judge of said court an order requiring the defendant or defendants in said execution to be and appear in case the residence of defendant is in the county in which the court is located, before the judge of said court or some commissioner designated in said order, and in case the residence of defendant is in another county, then before some commissioner designated in said order in that other county, at a time and place specified in said order and then and there to be examined concerning his property.

History.—§1, ch. 7842, 1919; CGL 4540.

55.53 Proceedings supplementary; service.—The order provided for shall be served upon the defendant at least fifteen days before the time set for such examination, and shall be served by the sheriff in the same manner provided for service of subpoena.

History.—§2, ch. 7842, 1919; CGL 4541.

55.54 Proceedings supplementary; examination of defendant, witnesses, etc.—The examination provided for shall be comprehensive and shall cover any and all matters and things pertaining to the business and financial interests of the defendant which might tend to show what property the defendant has, his rights in same, and the location of same. Any and all testimony may be admissible which may tend directly or indirectly to aid in the satisfaction of any execution in whole or in part. Each answer of the party or witness must be under oath. A corporation must attend by and answer under oath of an officer thereof, and the judge may, in his discretion, specify the officer. Either party may be examined as a witness in his own behalf and may produce and examine other witnesses as upon the trial of an action.

History.—§3, ch. 7842, 1919; CGL 4542.

55.55 Proceedings supplementary; application of property to satisfaction of execution.—The judge may order any property of the judgment debtor not exempt from execution, in the hands of either himself or any other person or due to the judgment debtor, to be applied toward the satisfaction of the judgment debt.

History.—§4, ch. 7842, 1919; CGL 4543.

55.56 Proceedings supplementary; application of property in hands of third persons, etc.—Where it shall appear that the defendant at any time within one year prior to date of issuance of execution has had title to or has paid the purchase price of any personal property to which at the time of the examination his wife, or any relative or any person on confidential terms with defendant may claim title and right of possession, the burden of proof shall be upon such defendant to establish that such transfer or gift from him was not made for the purpose of delaying, hindering and defrauding creditors.

History.—§5, ch. 7842, 1919; CGL 4544.

55.57 Proceedings supplementary; certain gifts, transfers, etc., voidable.—Where it appears that any gift, transfer, assignment or other conveyance of any personal property has been made or executed, contrived or devised by the defendant of fraud, covin, collusion or guile to the end, purpose and intent to delay, hinder or defraud creditors, the court upon whose order the examination may be held shall enter an order that said gift, transfer, assignment or other conveyance of said personal property, be utterly void, frustrate and of non effect, and shall direct the sheriff to take such property for the satisfaction of the execution in the matter. After the sheriff shall have levied upon said property, any person who may be aggrieved thereby may file claim and bond as provided in other cases where third persons claim property taken under levy.

Nothing herein shall authorize the seizure of or other interference with any property which is expressly exempted by law from levy and sale by virtue of any execution.

Provided further; that nothing herein shall authorize the seizure of or other interference with any personal property which has passed into the hands of a bona fide purchaser for value and without notice.

History.—§6, ch. 7842, 1919; CGL 4545.

55.58 Proceedings supplementary; may be referred to a commissioner.—At any stage of the proceedings any judge may, in his discretion, make an order directing that any further proceeding may be taken by, or that any question arising may be referred to a commissioner designated in the order. Where the proceedings are, or any question is, so referred, the commissioner may be directed to report his findings upon the law or the facts, or upon both. The commissioner shall have all the powers of a commissioner and the same fees as provided by statute in other cases.

History.—§7, ch. 7842, 1919; CGL 4546.

55.59 Proceedings supplementary; rule of evidence.—A party or a witness examined under these provisions, shall not be excused from answering a question on the ground that his answer will tend to show him guilty of the commission of a fraud, or prove that he has been a party or privy to, or knowing of a conveyance, assignment, transfer, or other disposition of property for any purpose, or that he or another person claims to have title as against the defendant or to hold property derived from or through the defendant, or to be discharged from the payment of a debt which was due to the defendant or to a person in his behalf. But an answer cannot be used as evidence against the person so answering in any criminal proceeding or action.

History.—§8, ch. 7842, 1919; CGL 4547.

55.60 Proceedings supplementary; power of judge.—Any judge having any proceeding provided for herein before him, may make any such orders as within his discretion may seem meet in regard to carrying out the full intent and purpose of these provisions to subject any property or property rights of any defendant to the satisfaction of any execution against him.

History.—§9, ch. 7842, 1919; CGL 4548.

55.61 Proceedings supplementary; penalty for failure to obey orders.—Any person who refuses, or without sufficient excuse neglects to obey an order of any judge made pursuant to these provisions and duly served upon him or an oral direction given directly to him by the judge or commissioner in the course of any proceeding under these provisions or to attend before a judge or commissioner according to the command of a subpoena duly served upon him, may be punished by the judge or by the court out of which the execution was issued, or by the judge before whom the proceedings are being had, the same as for a contempt.

History.—§10, ch. 7842, 1919; CGL 4549.

55.611 Proceedings supplementary; costs.—The costs for those proceedings supplementary as set forth in §§55.52-55.61 are chargeable against the defendant, as well as all other incidentally related costs which the judge determines are reasonable and just, including, but not limited to the following: Docketing the execution; return of the sheriff; service of the order; fee of a court reporter to take testimony.

History.—§1, ch. 63-144.

55.62 Satisfaction of judgments and decrees; duties of clerk and judge.—

(1) All judgments and decrees for the payment of money rendered in the courts of this state and which have become final, may be satisfied at any time prior to the actual levy of execution issued thereon by payment of the full amount of such judgment or decree, with interest thereon, plus the costs of the issuance, if any, of execution thereon into the registry of the court where rendered.

(2) Upon such payment, the clerk, or the judge if there be no clerk, shall issue his receipt therefor and shall enter notation thereof upon the margin of the record of such judgment or decree and shall formally notify the owner of record of such judgment or decree, if such person and his address are known to the clerk or judge receiving such payment, and, upon request therefor, shall pay over to the person entitled, or to his order, the full amount of the payment so received, less his fees for issuing execution on such judgment or decree, if any has been issued, and less his fees for receiving into and paying out of the registry of the court such payment, together with the fees of the clerk for receiving into and paying such money out of the registry of the court.

(3) Full payment of judgments and decrees as in the preceding subsections of this section provided shall constitute full payment and satisfaction thereof and any lien created by such judgment or decree shall thereupon be satisfied and discharged.

History.—§§1-3, ch. 22672, 1945.

CHAPTER 56

REFEREES AND REFERENCES

- 56.01 Right to a reference.
 56.02 Powers and duties of referee.
 56.03 Motions for new trials, etc.
 56.04 Entry of judgment; filing; entry and effect.

56.01 Right to a reference.—Any civil cause may be tried before a practicing attorney as referee upon the application of the parties, and an order from the court in whose jurisdiction the case may be authorizing such trial and appointing such referee.

History.—§1230 RS 1892; GS 1659; RGS 2864; CGL 4561.

56.02 Powers and duties of referee.—

(1) TO SUBPOENA WITNESSES AND TAKE DEPOSITIONS.—Every referee shall have the same power to subpoena witnesses and parties to testify, and to compel their attendance, and to take depositions as the court making the reference may have in like cases.

(2) TO ALLOW AMENDMENTS.—He shall have the same power and control over the pleadings, as to filing additional pleadings, or striking out or amending the pleadings, as the court making the references may have.

(3) TO FIX AND ADJOURN DAY OF TRIAL.—He may fix the day and place for the trial, and may adjourn the trial for cause shown, provided, such trial shall take place within the county where the cause is pending, except by and with the consent of both parties; and if he shall unreasonably delay the trial or determination of a case, the court shall revoke the order appointing him.

(4) TO KEEP FILE AND RECORD OF THE CASE.—He shall keep a complete record of the case, including the evidence taken, as a part thereof, and such record shall be filed with the papers in the case, in the court making the reference.

(5) TO DETERMINE MOTIONS FOR NEW TRIALS, ETC.—He may hear and determine motions for a new trial, rehearings, arrest of judgment, or reformation or alterations of his findings, to the same extent and with like powers as the court by which the reference is made.

(6) TO ENTER JUDGMENT.—He shall have power to enter final judgment or decree with the effect hereinafter prescribed.

(7) TO GIVE NOTICE OF HIS FINDINGS AND JUDGMENT.—He shall, upon reaching his findings, give notice in writing, of the same, and likewise, after entering judgment, give notice thereof to all parties or their counsel of record.

History.—§§1, 4, ch. 3122, 1879; RS 1231; GS 1660; §1, ch. 6495, 1913; RGS 2865; CGL 4562.

56.03 Motions for new trials, etc.—

(1) WHEN TO BE MADE.—All motions for new trials, rehearings, in arrest of judgment, or for reformation or alteration of the findings, shall be made within ten days after receipt of the notice of the findings of the referee as provided for in subsection (7) of the preceding section.

- 56.05 Appeals.
 56.06 Compensation of referee.
 56.07 Compensation of officers.

(2) WHEN TO BE HEARD.—Motions mentioned in the preceding subsection must be brought to a hearing before the referee within ten days after the motion shall be filed with him, upon due notice to the opposite parties, but the referee may, by an order, enlarge the time for such hearing, and may specify what notice shall be given of such hearing.

(3) HOW AFFECTED BY DEATH, ETC., OF REFEREE.—In the absence or death of the referee after the notice of his findings, so that the parties cannot be heard before him upon such motions within the time fixed by law, the parties may apply to the court for such order or proceedings as might be allowed by the referee.

History.—§§1, 6, ch. 3122, 1879; RS 1232; GS 1661; §2, ch. 6495, 1913; RGS 2866; CGL 4563.

56.04 Entry of judgment; filing; entry and effect.—If there shall be none of the motions hereinabove mentioned, or if any such motion shall have been made or denied, or otherwise disposed of, or whenever the judgment or decree of the referee shall have been finally arrived at by him, he shall thereupon enter a final judgment or final decree in the cause, according to his previous findings, or such modifications thereof as may have been subsequently made, if said findings shall have been subsequently modified in any respect, and he shall file his said final judgment or final decree in the court by which the reference was made, together with all papers used before him, and a record of the case as kept by him, and such judgment or decree shall be entered in the minutes of the court and shall be of like force and effect as other judgments or decrees of such court.

History.—§§4, 10, ch. 3122, 1879; RS 1233; GS 1662; §3, ch. 6495, 1913; RGS 2867; CGL 4564.

56.05 Appeals.—

(1) RIGHT TO AND HOW TAKEN.—Any party to such judgment or decree may appeal, as a judgment or decree may be reviewable by appeal therefrom, to the appropriate appellate court, and such appeal shall be taken and prosecuted in like manner, and with like effect, as appeals from the court making the reference, and subject to all the provisions of law applicable to such appeals.

(2) REVERSALS, ETC., OF JUDGMENT.—Upon the reversal or modification of such judgment or decree by the appellate court, the court from which the appeal was taken may refer the cause to the same or another referee, to be agreed upon by the parties, or may proceed with the same as in other causes before the court.

History.—§§5, 8, 9, ch. 6495, 1913; RS 1234; GS 1663; RGS 2868; CGL 4565; (2)r. §8, ch. 63-559.

56.06 Compensation of referee.—The referee shall receive five dollars for each day he shall sit to hear the cause, and shall receive like pay for not exceeding two days for deliberation and judgment after the cause is submitted for decision; ten cents per folio of one hundred words for reducing the testimony to writing, and in cases involving more than ordinary skill or labor on the part of the referee, such greater compensation as may be agreed upon by the parties or allowed by the court. His compensation and costs may be demanded by him after he shall have decided the cause, and he may withhold all the papers and records of the cause until his fees shall be paid, unless, after due notice to him and opportunity to be heard, it is otherwise ordered by the court.

History.—§2, ch. 6495, 1913; RS 1235; GS 1664; RGS 2869; CGL 4566.

56.07 Compensation of officers.—Officers performing services in and about such references shall receive the same compensation as for like services performed in the court making the reference.

History.—§1236 RS 1892; §1, ch. 4387, 1895; GS 1665; RGS 2870; CGL 4567.

57.01 Who may submit to arbitration.—All parties to any controversy before or after suit thereupon may make a rule of court of any arbitration to which they may desire to submit such controversy. Guardians and executors and administrators shall have such power in matters relating to the trusts committed to them respectively.

However, any party to a submission not made a rule of court may seek relief in the courts.

History.—§§1, 2, 8, 9, Nov. 17, 1828; RS 1221; GS 1650; RGS 2855; CGL 4552.

57.02 How arbitration made a rule of court.—An arbitration may be made a rule of court by the parties filing in the court which would have jurisdiction of the controversy if it were not submitted to arbitration, a statement in writing signed by each party of the agreement of matters to be submitted to arbitration, and the name of the arbitrator or arbitrators, and an umpire selected by them. The clerk of the court (or the court if it have no clerk) shall record said statement in the minutes of the court, and thereupon the arbitrator or arbitrators and umpire shall have the powers hereinafter specified.

History.—§§1, 2, Nov. 17, 1828; RS 1222; GS 1651; RGS 2856; CGL 4553.

57.03 Powers of arbitrators, and proceedings.—The arbitrator or arbitrators, and umpire appointed as aforesaid, shall, before entering upon the investigation of the matter submitted to them, be severally sworn before some judge or justice of the peace faithfully and diligently to execute the trust committed by the submission; and the examination of all witnesses before the said arbitrator or arbitrators or umpire shall be under oath, and if the parties themselves be examined such examination shall also be under oath, and in the presence of each other; and the said arbitrators or either of them shall be and they are hereby authorized and empowered to issue subpoenas to compel the attendance of witnesses under the same regulations as the clerks of the circuit courts of this state, which said subpoenas shall be served by the sheriff or any constable of the county, and shall be obeyed by the witnesses in the same manner as subpoenas issued from any court within this state.

History.—§7, Nov. 17, 1828; RS 1223; GS 1652; RGS 2857; CGL 4554.

57.04 Compensation of arbitrators, officers and witnesses.—The arbitrators and umpire shall be allowed for their services two and one-half dollars per day; the officers of the court the usual fee for similar services in the court of which the arbitration has been made a rule; and the witnesses shall be as provided in §90.14.

History.—§10, Nov. 17, 1828; RS 1224; GS 1653; RGS 2858; CGL 4555; §1, ch. 26964, 1951.

57.05 Form of award.—The award shall be in writing, signed by a majority of the arbitrators or arbitrators and umpire, shall state the adjudication in full, and shall be filed and recorded in the court of which the arbitration is a rule. And the clerk of such court (or the court, if it have no clerk) shall give notice of the entry of the award to the persons against whom the award is rendered.

History.—§1225 RS 1892; GS 1654; RGS 2859; CGL 4556.

57.06 Setting aside the award, time, application and manner.—Any party to an award may, within thirty days after notice of the entry of the award of record, apply to the court of which the submission is a rule, by motion, to set aside the award, on giving the opposite party or his attorney ten days' previous notice of such intended application and of the grounds on which the motion will be made.

History.—§4, Nov. 17, 1828; RS 1226; GS 1655; RGS 2860; CGL 4557.

57.07 Setting aside award; grounds.—An award of any arbitration duly appointed, made pursuant to the said submission, shall be set aside by the court only on the ground of fraud, corruption, gross negligence or misbehavior of one or more arbitrators or umpire who may have signed the award, or of evident mistake acknowledged by the arbitrators or umpire.

History.—§3, Nov. 17, 1828; RS 1227; GS 1656; RGS 2861; CGL 4558.

57.08 Setting aside award; testimony.—The court upon the hearing of such motion shall require affidavit of the facts constituting the ground on which the motion is made, and shall also, if offered, receive affidavit on the other side; but no parol testimony shall be admitted on either side.

History.—§5, Nov. 17, 1828; RS 1228; GS 1657; RGS 2862; CGL 4559.

57.09 Arbitrations; judgment upon award.—If any award be entered of record, so much thereof as decrees the payment of money by either party shall have the force and effect of a judgment from the day of entering said award, upon which execution may be issued as in cases of judgment duly entered; and so far as the award relates to the performance of any other lawful act, the party failing to comply with said award shall be considered in contempt, and by the order of court shall be committed to prison, there to remain without bail until he shall comply with the order of the court in the premises.

History.—§6, Nov. 17, 1828; RS 1229; GS 1658; RGS 2863; CGL 4560.

57.10 Florida arbitration code.—Sections 57.10-57.31 may be cited as the "Florida arbitration code."

History.—§22, ch. 57-402.

57.11 Arbitration agreements made valid, irrevocable and enforceable; scope.—Two or more parties may agree in writing to submit to arbitration any controversy existing between them at the time of the agreement, or they may include in a written contract a provision for the settlement by arbitration of any controversy thereafter arising between them relating to such contract or the failure or refusal to perform the whole or any part thereof. Such agreement or provision shall be valid, enforceable and irrevocable without regard to the justiciable character of the controversy; provided that this act shall not apply to any such agreement or provision to arbitrate in which it is stipulated that this law shall not apply or to any arbitration or award thereunder.

History.—§1, ch. 57-402.

57.12 Proceedings to compel and to stay arbitration.—

(1) A party to an agreement or provision for arbitration subject to this law claiming the neglect or refusal of another party thereto to comply therewith may make application to the court for an order directing the parties to proceed with arbitration in accordance with the terms thereof. If the court is satisfied that no substantial issue exists as to the making of the agreement or provision, it shall grant the application. If the court shall find that a substantial issue is raised as to the making of the agreement or provision, it shall summarily hear and determine the issue and, according to its determination, shall grant or deny the application.

(2) If an issue referable to arbitration under an agreement or provision for arbitration subject to this law becomes involved in an action or proceeding pending in a court having jurisdiction to hear an application under subsection (1) of this section, such application shall be made in said court. Otherwise and subject to §57.28, such application may be made in any court of competent jurisdiction.

(3) Any action or proceeding involving an issue subject to arbitration under this law shall be stayed if an order for arbitration or an application therefor has been made under this section or, if the issue is severable, the stay may be with respect thereto only. When the application is made in such action or proceeding, the order for arbitration shall include such stay.

(4) On application the court may stay an arbitration proceeding commenced or about to be commenced, if it shall find that no agreement or provision for arbitration subject to this law exists between the party making the application and the party causing the arbitration to be had. The court shall summarily hear and determine the issue of the making of the agreement or provision and, according to its determination, shall grant or deny the application.

(5) An order for arbitration shall not be refused on the ground that the claim in issue lacks merit or bona fides or because any fault or grounds for the claim sought to be arbitrated have not been shown.

History.—§2, ch. 57-402.

57.13 Appointment of arbitrators by court.

—If an agreement or provision for arbitration subject to this law provides a method for the appointment of arbitrators or an umpire, this method shall be followed. In the absence thereof, or if the agreed method fails or for any reason cannot be followed, or if an arbitrator or umpire who has been appointed fails to act and his successor has not been duly appointed, the court, on application of a party to such agreement or provision shall appoint one or more arbitrators or an umpire. An arbitrator or umpire so appointed shall have like powers as if named or provided for in the agreement or provision.

History.—§3, ch. 57-402.

57.14 Majority action by arbitrators.—The powers of the arbitrators may be exercised by a majority of their number unless otherwise provided in the agreement or provision for arbitration.

History.—§4, ch. 57-402.

57.15 Hearing.—Unless otherwise provided by the agreement or provision for arbitration:

(1) The arbitrators shall appoint a time and place for the hearing and cause notification to the parties to be served personally or by registered or certified mail not less than five days before the hearing. Appearance at the hearing waives a party's right to such notice. The arbitrators may adjourn their hearing from time to time upon their own motion and shall do so upon the request of any party to the arbitration for good cause shown, provided that no adjournment or postponement of their hearing shall extend beyond the date fixed in the agreement or provision for making the award unless the parties consent to a later date. An umpire authorized to hear and decide the cause upon failure of the arbitrators to agree upon an award shall, in the course of his jurisdiction, have like powers and be subject to like limitations thereon.

The arbitrators, or umpire in the course of his jurisdiction, may hear and decide the controversy upon the evidence produced notwithstanding the failure or refusal of a party duly notified of the time and place of the hearing to appear. The court on application may direct the arbitrators, or the umpire in the course of his jurisdiction, to proceed promptly with the hearing and making of the award.

(2) The parties are entitled to be heard, to present evidence material to the controversy and to cross-examine witnesses appearing at the hearing.

(3) The hearing shall be conducted by all of the arbitrators but a majority may determine any question and render a final award. An umpire authorized to hear and decide the cause upon the failure of the arbitrators to agree upon an award shall sit with the arbitrators throughout their hearing but shall not be counted as a part of their quorum or in the making of their award. If, during the course of the hearing, an arbitrator for any reason ceases to act, the remaining arbitrator, arbitrators or umpire appointed to act as neutrals may continue with the hearing and determination of the controversy.

History.—§6, ch. 57-402.

57.16 Representation by attorney.—A party has the right to be represented by an attorney at any arbitration proceeding or hearing under this law. A waiver thereof prior to the proceeding or hearing is ineffective.

History.—§6, ch. 57-402.

57.17 Witnesses, subpoenas, depositions.—

(1) Arbitrators, or an umpire authorized to hear and decide the cause upon failure of the arbitrators to agree upon an award, in the course of his jurisdiction, may issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and for the production of books, records, documents and other evidence, and shall have the power to administer oaths. Subpoenas so issued shall be served, and upon application to the court by a party to the arbitration or the arbitrators, or the umpire, enforced in the manner provided by law for the service and enforcement of subpoenas in a civil action.

(2) On application of a party to the arbitration and for use as evidence, the arbitrators, or the umpire in the course of his jurisdiction, may permit a deposition to be taken, in the manner and upon the terms designated by them or him of a witness who cannot be subpoenaed or is unable to attend the hearing.

(3) All provisions of law compelling a person under subpoena to testify are applicable.

(4) Fees for attendance as a witness shall be the same as for a witness in the circuit court.

History.—§7, ch. 57-402.

57.18 Award.—

(1) The award shall be in writing and shall be signed by the arbitrators joining in the award or by the umpire in the course of his jurisdiction. They or he shall deliver a copy to each party to the arbitration either personally or by registered or certified mail, or as provided in the agreement or provision.

(2) An award shall be made within the time fixed therefor by the agreement or provision for arbitration or, if not so fixed, within such time as the court may order on application of a party to the arbitration. The parties may, by written agreement, extend the time either before or after the expiration thereof. Any objection that an award was not made within the time required is waived unless the objecting party notifies the arbitrators or umpire in writing of his objection prior to the delivery of the award to him.

History.—§8, ch. 57-402.

57.19 Change of award by arbitrators or umpire.—On application of a party to the arbitration, or if an application to the court is pending under §§57.21, 57.22 or 57.23, on submission to the arbitrators, or to the umpire in the case of an umpire's award, by the court under such conditions as the court may order, the arbitrators or umpire may modify or correct the award upon the grounds stated in paragraphs (a) and (c) of subsection (1) of §57.23, or for the purpose of clarifying the award. The application shall be made within twenty days after delivery of the award to the applicant. Written notice thereof shall be given forthwith to the other party to the arbitration, stating that he must serve his objections thereto, if any, within ten days from the notice. The award so modified or corrected is subject to the provisions of §§57.21-57.23.

History.—§9, ch. 57-402.

57.20 Fees and expenses of arbitration.—Unless otherwise provided in the agreement or provision for arbitration, the arbitrators' and umpire's expenses and fees, together with other expenses, not including counsel fees, incurred in the conduct of the arbitration, shall be paid as provided in the award.

History.—§10, ch. 57-402.

57.21 Confirmation of an award.—Upon application of a party to the arbitration, the court shall confirm an award, unless within the time limits hereinafter imposed grounds are urged for vacating or modifying or correcting the award, in which case the court shall proceed as provided in §§57.22 and 57.23.

History.—§11, ch. 57-402.

57.22 Vacating an award.—

(1) Upon application of a party, the court shall vacate an award when:

(a) The award was procured by corruption, fraud or other undue means;

(b) There was evident partiality by an arbitrator appointed as a neutral or corruption in any of the arbitrators or umpire or misconduct prejudicing the rights of any party;

(c) The arbitrators or the umpire in the course of his jurisdiction exceeded their powers;

(d) The arbitrators or the umpire in the course of his jurisdiction refused to postpone the hearing upon sufficient cause being shown therefor or refused to hear evidence material to the controversy or otherwise so conducted the hearing, contrary to the provisions of §57.15, as to prejudice substantially the rights of a party; or

(e) There was no agreement or provision for arbitration subject to this law, unless the matter was determined in proceedings under §57.12 and unless the party participated in the arbitration hearing without raising the objection;

But the fact that the relief was such that it could not or would not be granted by a court of law or equity is not ground for vacating or refusing to confirm the award.

(2) An application under this section shall be made within ninety days after delivery of a copy of the award to the applicant, except that, if predicated upon corruption, fraud or other undue means, it shall be made within ninety days after such grounds are known or should have been known.

(3) In vacating the award on grounds other than those stated in paragraph (e) of subsection (1), the court may order a rehearing before new arbitrators chosen as provided in the agreement or provision for arbitration or by the court in accordance with §57.13, or, if the award is vacated on grounds set forth in paragraphs (c) and (d) of subsection (1), the court may order a rehearing before the arbitrators or umpire who made the award or their successors appointed in accordance with §57.13. The time within which the agreement or provision for arbitration requires the award to be made is applicable to the rehearing and commences from the date of the order therefor.

(4) If the application to vacate is denied and no motion to modify or correct the award is pending, the court shall confirm the award.

History.—§12, ch. 57-402.

57.23 Modification or correction of award.—

(1) Upon application made within ninety days after delivery of a copy of the award to the applicant, the court shall modify or correct the award when:

(a) There is an evident miscalculation of figures or an evident mistake in the description of any person, thing or property referred to in the award;

(b) The arbitrators or umpire have awarded upon a matter not submitted to them or him and the award may be corrected without affecting the merits of the decision upon the issues submitted; or

(c) The award is imperfect as a matter of form, not affecting the merits of the controversy.

(2) If the application is granted, the court shall modify and correct the award so as to effect its intent and shall confirm the award as so modified and corrected. Otherwise, the court shall confirm the award as made.

(3) An application to modify or correct an award may be joined in the alternative with an application to vacate the award.

History.—§13, ch. 57-402.

57.24 Judgment or decree on award.—Upon the granting of an order confirming, modifying or correcting an award, judgment or decree shall be entered in conformity therewith and be enforced as any other judgment or decree. Costs of the application and of the proceedings subsequent thereto, and disbursements may be awarded by the court.

History.—§14, ch. 57-402.

57.25 Judgment roll, docketing.—

(1) On entry of judgment or decree, the clerk shall prepare the judgment roll consisting, to the extent filed, of the following:

(a) The agreement or provision for arbitration and each written extension of the time within which to make the award;

(b) The award;

(c) A copy of the order confirming, modifying or correcting the award; and

(d) A copy of the judgment or decree.

(2) The judgment or decree may be docketed as if rendered in a civil action.

History.—§15, ch. 57-402.

57.26 Application to court.—Except as otherwise provided, an application to the court under this law shall be by motion and shall be heard in the manner and upon the notice provided by law or rule of court for the making and hearing of motions. Unless the parties have agreed otherwise, notice of an initial application for an order shall be served in the manner provided by law for the service of a summons in an action.

History.—§16, ch. 57-402.

57.27 Court, jurisdiction.—

(1) The term "court" means any court of competent jurisdiction of this state. The making of an agreement or provision for arbitration subject to this law and providing for arbitration in this state shall, whether made within or outside this state, confer jurisdiction on the court to enforce the agreement or provision under this law, to enter judgment on an award duly rendered in an arbitration thereunder and to vacate, modify or correct an award rendered thereunder for such cause and in the manner provided in this law.

(2) Any judgment entered upon an award by a court of competent jurisdiction of any state, territory, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico or foreign country shall be enforceable by application as provided in §57.26 and reardless of the time when said award may have been made.

History.—§17, ch. 57-402.

57.28 Venue.—Any application under this law may be made to the court of the county in which the other party to the agreement or provision for arbitration resides or has a place of business, or, if he has no residence or place of business in this state, then to the court of any county. All applications under this law subsequent to an initial application shall be made to the court hearing the initial application unless it shall order otherwise.

History.—§18, ch. 57-402.

57.29 Appeals.—

(1) An appeal may be taken from:

(a) An order denying an application to compel arbitration made under §57.12;

(b) An order granting an application to stay arbitration made under §57.12(2)-(4).

(c) An order confirming or denying confirmation of an award;

(d) An order modifying or correcting an award;

(e) An order vacating an award without directing a rehearing; or

(f) A judgment or decree entered pursuant to the provisions of this law.

(2) The appeal shall be taken in the manner and to the same extent as from orders or judgments in a civil action.

History.—§19, ch. 57-402.

57.30 Law not retroactive.—This law applies only to agreements and provisions for arbitration made subsequent to the taking effect of this law.

History.—§20, ch. 57-402.

57.31 Severability.—If any provision of this law or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, that invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of this law. In any action or proceeding in any state or territory of the United States, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, or any foreign country, this law and any agreement or provision to arbitrate made thereunder shall be classified as substantive within the meaning of that term in the conflict of laws; provided, however, that such substantive classification shall never be intended to derogate the public policy of such other jurisdiction.

History.—§21, ch. 57-402.

CHAPTER 58

COURT COSTS

- 58.01 Costs; security by nonresidents.
- 58.02 Costs; taxing.
- 58.03 Costs; record.
- 58.04 Costs; recovery from losing party.
- 58.05 Costs; prohibition against unlawful exaction.
- 58.06 Costs; recovery of illegally exacted; procedure.
- 58.08 Costs; premium on surety bonds, etc.

58.01 Costs; security by nonresidents.—Whenever a complainant or plaintiff, who is a nonresident, shall commence a suit in any of the courts of this state, or whenever a complainant or plaintiff, after the institution of a suit, shall remove himself or his effects out of this state, it shall be the duty of himself, or his agent, or attorney, to file in the court in which said suit is brought a bond with approved security in the sum of one hundred dollars, conditioned for the payment of all costs and charges which may be adjudged against him in said suit; and, upon a failure to file such bond and security within thirty days after such commencement, or such removal, the defendant may, after thirty days notice to the plaintiff or his attorney (during which the plaintiff may file such bond), move to dismiss the suit for want of such security, or may hold the attorney bringing or prosecuting said suit liable for said costs and charges; and if they be adjudged against said plaintiff, an execution may issue against said attorney for the same.

History.—§8, Nov. 23, 1828; §4, Nov. 21, 1829; RS 1301; GS 1733; RGS 2948; CGL 4672.

58.02 Costs; taxing.—The clerks of the several courts, or the judge if there be no clerk, shall tax the costs accruing in each case when the same is determined or at the close of each term of the court, and shall keep a duplicate of the bill of costs on file among the original papers in the suit. In such bill each item of costs shall be enumerated.

History.—§5, 6, ch. 78, 1847; RS 1302; GS 1734; RGS 2949; CGL 4673.

58.03 Costs; record.—All officers of this state who are allowed to charge fees and costs shall keep a book in which they shall record an itemized account of all the costs and fees which they charge against parties having business with them. Said book shall be at all times open for inspection of parties wishing to examine the costs charged for any service rendered by said officer or officers.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 3252, 1881; RS 1303; GS 1735; RGS 2950; CGL 4674.

58.04 Costs; recovery from losing party.—In all cases the party recovering the judgment shall recover also all his legal costs and charges, which shall be included in the judgment; but this section shall not be construed to relate to executors or administrators in cases wherein by law they are not liable to costs of suit.

- 58.09 Costs; right to proceed in forma pauperis.
- 58.10 Costs; refunded to counties in certain proceedings relating to state convicts.
- 58.11 Costs in supreme court; certain not taxable.
- 58.12 Costs in supreme court; execution.
- 58.13 Court costs; expenses of court reporter.

Such costs may be collected:

(1) By execution upon the judgment aforesaid: or

(2) By delivery to the sheriff of a taxed bill of costs approved by the judge of the court wherein the services have been rendered, which bill shall have the force and effect of an execution, and shall be collected by the sheriff as in other cases of execution.

History.—§71, Nov. 23, 1828; §7, ch. 73, 1847; RS 1304; GS 1736; RGS 2951; CGL 4675.

58.05 Costs; prohibition against unlawful exaction.—

(1) PROHIBITION.—No officer shall make two charges for the same official act or service, nor charge for any constructive service; and no fees shall be charged in any case, or for any official service performed or claimed to be performed by any officer within the state, unless said fees be expressly authorized and their amount be specified by law.

(2) PENALTY.—When any officer shall willfully charge or levy more than he is really entitled to, such officer shall forfeit and pay to the party injured four times the amount so unjustly claimed to be recovered on motion before the court wherein the services were rendered.

History.—§§2, 8, ch. 73, 1847; §§3, 4, ch. 1535, 1866; RS 1305; GS 1737; RGS 2952; CGL 4676.

cf.—§38.06 Effect of acts where judge fails to disqualify himself.

§28.24 Fees of clerks of circuit court.

§839.11 Extortion and malpractice generally.

58.06 Costs; recovery of illegally exacted; procedure.—

(1) SUMMARY PROCEEDINGS.—Any person feeling aggrieved by any charge made for costs by any such officer shall have the correctness of the same determined by a court and jury, on giving five days' previous notice to the officer making such objectionable charge, stating in said notice the time and place when and where the same shall be inquired into; and it shall be the duty of the clerk of the court, or the judge if there be no clerk, before which such officer is notified to appear, to enter such cause for trial on the day specified in the notice aforesaid, and said cause shall be tried on that day unless postponed by the court.

(2) OATH OF JURY.—There shall be administered to the jury empaneled to try the legality of such charge, the following oath:

"You and each of you do solemnly swear that you will truthfully and faithfully examine whether in matter of controversy between _____ and _____

 _____, said _____ _____ has been guilty of extortion, and a true verdict render. So help you God."

(3) VERDICT AND JUDGMENT.—If the jury find for the plaintiff, they shall find the amount which has been improperly collected and thereupon the court in which such trial is had shall enter up judgment for four times the amount found by the jury as aforesaid, in favor of the plaintiff, on which judgment execution shall issue as in other cases.

History.—§ § 4, 5, 6, Mar. 10, 1843; § 2, ch. 73, 1847; RS 1305; GS 1737; RGS 2952; CGL 4676.

58.08 Costs; premium on surety bonds, etc.—If costs shall be awarded to either or any party in any civil cause at common law or in equity in any court of the state, then the reasonable premiums or expenses paid on all bonds or stipulations, or other security furnished in the said cause by the prevailing party in whose favor such costs are allowed, may in the discretion of the judge of the court be taxed and allowed as a part of the costs of the case.

History.—§ 1, ch. 16246, 1933; CGL 1936 Supp. 4680(1).

58.09 Costs; right to proceed in forma pauperis.—Insolvent and poverty stricken persons having actionable claims or demands existing in their favor, shall be entitled to receive the services of the several courts, sheriffs, clerks, and constables of the county in which they reside, without charge or cost to themselves, and no prepayment of cost to any judge, clerk, sheriff or constable in the county, shall be required in any action at law or in equity when the party has obtained a certification of insolvency from the clerk of the court in each action based upon affidavits filed with him to the effect that such applying party or plaintiff is insolvent and unable to pay the charges, costs or fees otherwise payable by law to any of the officers, provided that such affidavits shall be supported and accompanied by written certificate signed by a member of the bar of such county, to the effect that he has made an investigation to ascertain the truth of plaintiff's affidavit and that he believes same to be true; that he has investigated the nature of the plaintiff's claim or demand to be put in suit, and that in his opinion the same is meritorious as a matter of law, and that he has not been paid or promised payment of any fee or other remuneration for his service and intends to act as attorney for the plaintiff without charge or compensation. Provided further, upon the failure or refusal of the clerk of the court to issue a certificate of insolvency, the applicant shall be entitled to a review of his application for such certificate by the judge of the court wherein the cause of action shall lie.

Any sheriff or constable who in complying with the terms of this section, lays out or expends his own personal funds for automotive fuel or ordinary carfare in serving the process of those qualifying under the beneficent provisions hereof, may requisition the board of county commissioners of said county for the actual outlay or expense involved, and upon the submission to said board of county commissioners of appropriate proof of any such personal disbursement or expenditure, it shall be the duty of said board of county commissioners to pay from the general fund of said county to the requisitioning officer, the amount of his actual expense or cost so incurred as hereinabove defined.

In the event of plaintiff's recovery in any such suit or action, costs shall be taxed in his favor as otherwise provided by law notwithstanding the provisions of this section, and said costs when collected shall be applied to the payment of fees and costs which otherwise would have been required, and which have not been paid.

History.—§ § 1-3, ch. 17883, 1937; CGL 1940 Supp. 4680 (2); § 15, ch. 29615, 1955; § 1, ch. 57-251.

58.10. Costs; refunded to counties in certain proceedings relating to state convicts.—All lawful costs hereafter legally adjudged against and paid by any county in all lunacy proceedings and all criminal prosecutions against convicts imprisoned at the state prison farm at Raiford, and in all habeas corpus cases brought to test the legality of the imprisonment of state prisoners imprisoned at the state prison farm at Raiford, shall be refunded to the county paying the sum from the general revenue fund in the state treasury in the manner and to the extent herein provided, to-wit: between the first and fifteenth of the month next succeeding the month in which any such cost has been allowed and paid by the county, the clerk of the circuit court of the county shall make requisition upon the comptroller for all such costs so allowed and paid during the preceding month, giving the style of the cases in which the said cost was incurred, the amount and items of cost in each case, a certified copy of the judgment of the court adjudging the cost against the county, which said requisition shall show that the cost represented thereby has been paid by the county and shall be verified by the oath of said clerk, and to which shall be attached a certified copy of the cost bill or bills as approved and allowed by the board of county commissioners of the county, and if the comptroller shall find the same to be legal in all respects and to have been legally adjudged against and paid by the county, he shall thereupon draw his warrant therefor in the amount thereof, or in such amount as he shall have found to be legal and legally adjudged against and paid by the county, which warrant or warrants shall be in favor of the county so paying said costs, and upon presentation shall be paid by the state treasurer from the general revenue funds of the state.

History.—§ 1, ch. 19272, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 8489(1).

58.11 Costs in supreme court; certain not taxable.—The costs of copies of the record of any paper on file in the supreme court shall not be taxed as costs against the losing party unless such copies have been ordered by him or his attorney.

History.—§5, ch. 1137, 1861; RS 1340; GS 1775; RGS 2999; CGL 4733.

58.12 Costs in supreme court; execution.—On the rendition of any judgment or decree in the supreme court for costs, the clerk, as soon as may be by the rules of court, shall issue execution in accordance with the terms of said judgment or decree, directed to all and singular the sheriffs of the state, and returnable in ninety days from the date of the issuance thereof.

History.—§6, ch. 1137, 1861; RS 1341; GS 1776; RGS 3000; CGL 4734.

58.13 Court costs; expenses of court reporter.—The court may in its discretion allow as taxable costs in a civil action expense of the court reporter for per diem, transcribing proceedings of the court and depositions.

History.—§1, ch. 29689, 1955.

59.01 Appellate proceedings; method of review; application of chapter.—

(1) APPEALS TO SUPREME COURT.—This chapter shall be applicable to appeals to the supreme court of Florida, except where inconsistent with supreme court rules, which rules shall apply in case of inconsistency.

(2) OTHER APPEALS.—This chapter shall also be applicable:

(a) As a uniform alternative method of taking appeals from orders of state boards, commissions, and other bodies, where appeals from such orders are permitted by law; and,

(b) To appeals from inferior courts, to courts other than the supreme court.

(3) WRIT OF ERROR ABOLISHED; APPEAL SUBSTITUTED.—Review in this state by writ of error is abolished. All relief heretofore obtainable by writ of error may hereafter be obtained by appeals as in equity.

(4) APPEAL AS A MATTER OF RIGHT.—Appeals, except where otherwise expressly provided by law, shall be a matter of right.

(5) METHOD OF REVIEW.—All proceedings for review, from a lower court to the proper appellate court, shall be by appeal, except where certiorari lies, or where otherwise expressly provided by law.

(6) RETURN DAYS ABOLISHED.—Return days for appeals are abolished. The date upon which the record is filed in the appellate court shall be the date from which the time for filing motions, briefs, and other pleadings shall commence to run.

(7) FILING RECORD; LIMITATION.—The record on appeal shall be filed in the appellate court within forty days from the filing of the notice of appeal, unless extended by the trial court, or by the appellate court or a member thereof. Provided, however, that extensions in excess of ten days shall not be granted without notice to the adverse party.

(8) NOTICE OF APPEAL.—The filing of the notice of appeal, with the clerk of the trial court, or judge if there be no clerk, shall give the appellate court jurisdiction of the subject matter and parties to the appeal; however, such notice shall be recorded in the minutes of the trial court, but such recording is not jurisdictional.

(9) FORM OF NOTICE.—The form of such notice of appeal may be prescribed by the supreme court. The notice of appeal may include assignments of error in brief form.

(10) APPLICATION OF CHAPTER.—The provisions of this chapter shall extend to appeals from state boards, commissions, and other bodies, and the following words, except where the context otherwise requires, shall be construed as follows:

(a) "Trial court" or words of similar import include the state board, commission or other body from which an appeal may be taken; and,

(b) "Clerk of the trial court" includes the clerk, secretary or similar officer of the state board, commission or other body from which an appeal may be taken.

History.—§1, Feb. 11, 1832; §1, ch. 4528, 1897; RS 1262, 1455; GS 1690, 1906, 1911; RGS 2900, 3167, 3172; CGL 4605, 4959, 4964; § 67.01, 67.06 consolidated with this section by §1, ch. 22854, 1945; (5) §10, ch. 26484, 1951; (2) §1, ch. 29728, 1955.

59.02 Appeals; from what judgments, decrees, orders, etc., allowed.—

(1) COMMON LAW APPEALS.—Appeals in cases at law lie only from final judgments, except as specified in §§59.03, 59.04 and 59.05.

(2) EQUITY APPEALS.—Appeals in cases in equity lie only from final decrees, except as specified in subsection (3) of this section.

(3) INTERLOCUTORY ORDERS AND DECREES IN EQUITY.—Review of interlocutory orders and decrees in equity, including those after final decree, may be by proceedings in the nature of certiorari in the supreme court. This subsection shall not be construed as precluding the review of such orders and decrees on appeal from the final decree, if found more expedient. The supreme court may by rule regulate proceedings under this subsection.

(4) ORDERS OF STATE BOARDS, COMMISSIONS, AND OTHER BODIES.—Appeals from orders of state boards, commissions, and other bodies, except where otherwise expressly provided by law, shall lie only from such orders as are final in their nature.

History.—§3, ch. 521, 1852; RS 1263, 1457; §1, ch. 4130, 1893; GS 1691, 1908; RGS 2901, 3169; CGL 4606, 4961; §67.02 consolidated with this section by §2, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.03 Appeal from rule of court.—Every rule or summary order of court to any of its officers, their sureties or deputies, which is, in effect, a judgment for the payment of money or other things, shall be construed a final judgment or decree from which an appeal may be taken.

History.—§2, Feb. 17, 1833; RS 1264; GS 1692; RGS 2902; CGL 4607; §3, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.04 Appeal from order granting new trial.—Upon the entry of an order granting a new trial, the party aggrieved may, without waiting for final judgment, prosecute an appeal to the proper appellate court, which, if the cause be reversed, may direct that final judgment be entered in the trial court for the party obtaining the verdict, unless motion in arrest of judgment or for judgment non obstante veredicto be made and prevail.

History.—§1267 RS 1892; GS 1695; RGS 2905; CGL 4615; §4, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.05 Appeal from order of nonsuit.—When, because of any decision or ruling of the court on the trial of a cause, it becomes necessary for the plaintiff to suffer a nonsuit, he may appeal therefrom, and the facts, points, rulings, and decisions may be preserved for review, by the appellate court, as in other cases.

History.—§1, ch. 3538, 1885; RS 1269; GS 1697; RGS 2907; CGL 4517; §5, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.06 Matters reviewable on appeal.—

(1) WHAT MAY BE ASSIGNED AS ERROR.—All judgments, decrees and orders made and passed in any cause wherein the trial court:

(a) May allow, or refuse to allow, any motion,

1. For a new trial or rehearing,
2. For leave to amend pleadings,
3. For leave to file new or additional pleadings,
4. To amend the record during the term, or,
5. For continuance of the cause; or,

(b) Shall sustain or overrule any demurrer or motion to dismiss the cause;

may be assigned for matter and cause of error upon any appeal from the final judgment, decree or order in the cause. The appellate court shall hear and determine the matter so assigned in the same manner and under like rules and regulations as in other causes.

(2) EFFECT OF PLEADING OVER OR AMENDING.—Pleading over, or amending pleadings, after judgment on demurrer, or order upon motion to dismiss, shall not waive the right to have reviewed, as aforesaid, such judgment, decree or order.

History.—§1, ch. 521, 1853; §1, ch. 3430, 1883; RS 1265; GS 1693; RGS 2903; CGL 4608; §6, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.07 Exceptions unnecessary.—

(1) ADVERSE RULINGS.—Upon all appellate proceedings the appellate court shall review, without exception having been taken at the trial, any question of law involved in any adverse ruling, order, instruction or thing whatsoever said or done at the trial or prior thereto or after verdict, which thing was said or done after objection made and considered by the trial court, and which affected the substantial rights of the party complaining and which is assigned as error and thereupon the appellate court may reverse, affirm or modify the judgment, decree or order appealed from, and may set aside, affirm, or modify any and all the proceedings, decree or order, and may, if proper, order a new trial or rehearing.

(2) JURY INSTRUCTIONS.—It shall not be necessary for a party to object to the giving of any charge by the court or to the refusal to give any charge requested in writing.

(3) ORDERS ON NEW TRIAL, DIRECTED VERDICTS, NONSUITS, ETC.—In order to entitle the party against whom such ruling is made to have the same reviewed by the appellate court, it shall not be necessary to object or except to any order granting or denying motions for new trials, directed verdicts, nonsuits, or judgments non obstante veredicto.

(4) NEW TRIALS, REVIEW OF ORDER GRANTING.—In every case in which the trial court shall enter an order granting a motion for a new trial, the trial judge shall indicate in the order granting said motion the particular ground or grounds upon which said motion was granted, and upon appeal from any such order, if taken under the statutes providing for appeal from orders granting new trials, no other grounds than those specified by the trial judge, as a basis for the order granting the new trial, shall be considered as arguable upon said appeal.

History.—§2, ch. 521, 1853; RS 1266; GS 1694; RGS 2904; CGL 4609; §7, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.08 Time for taking appeals or filing petitions for certiorari.—Appeals, including petitions for review by certiorari, or proceedings in the nature of certiorari, shall be taken or filed within sixty days from and after the entry of the order, decision, judgment, or decree appealed from.

History.—§10, Feb. 10, 1832; RS 1271, 1456; §1, ch. 4130, 1893; GS 1699, 1907; RGS 2909, 3168; CGL 4619, 4960; §1, ch. 20441, 1941; §87.03 consolidated with this section by §8, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.09 Payment of costs by plaintiff.—No appeal may be taken by the original plaintiff in any suit or proceeding until he shall pay all costs which have accrued, in or about the suit, up to the time the appeal is taken.

History.—§7, Feb. 10, 1832; §1, Feb. 12, 1836; RS 1270; GS 1698; §1, ch. 5638, 1907; RGS 2908; CGL 4618; §9, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.10 Service of notice of appeal to supreme court.—Where the appeal is to the supreme court no actual service of notice of appeal shall be necessary.

History.—§1, ch. 4529, 1897; GS 1704; RGS 2914; CGL 4624; §10, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.11 Service of notice of appeal to other courts.—Where the appeal is to a court other than the supreme court, a copy of the notice of appeal shall be served upon appellees, or their attorneys of record, who appeared in the trial court.

History.—§9, Feb. 10, 1832; RS 1273; GS 1702; RGS 2912; CGL 4622; §11, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.12 Service of notice of appeal.—

(1) Where a copy of the notice of appeal is required to be served upon the appellees it may be served:

(a) WITHIN THIS STATE.—Within this state in the same manner as summons ad respondendum, or by delivering a copy to the said appellees or their attorney of record, or by United States mail; and,

(b) WITHOUT THIS STATE.—Without this state, by registered United States mail, or by publishing the same in some newspaper published in the county where the appellate court is located once during each week for four consecutive weeks (four publications being sufficient).

(2) Proof of service may be by official return, affidavit, return of registry receipt, or acknowledgment of service.

History.—§9, Nov. 12, 1828; §1, Feb. 17, 1883; RS 1274; GS 1703; RGS 2913; CGL 4623; §12, ch. 22854, 1945.
cf.—§1.01(13) defines registered mail to include certified mail with return receipt requested.

59.13 Supersedeas or stay.—

(1) MOTION AND ORDER FOR.—Every appeal shall operate as a stay or supersedeas under the following conditions. The appellant shall, at any time prior to filing his record on appeal, apply to the trial court for a good and sufficient bond payable to the adverse party, the amount and conditions of which shall be fixed by the trial court. If the appeal is from a money judgment or decree, the stay or supersedeas shall be as of right on posting the bond.

(2) "GOOD AND SUFFICIENT BOND" DEFINED.—A "good and sufficient bond" means a bond with a principal and two good and sufficient personal sureties, or one surety if a surety company authorized to do business in the state, when approved by the clerk or judge of the trial court, or by an officer authorized by the order granting the stay or supersedeas.

(3) FOR RECOVERY OF MONEY NOT SECURED.—When the judgment, order or decree requires or provides unconditionally for the payment or recovery of money, the bond shall be payable to the adverse party, conditioned to satisfy the judgment or decree or any modification not increasing the amount thereof, in full including costs, interest (if chargeable), and damages for delay, in event the appeal be dismissed or the judgment, order or decree is affirmed.

(4) FOR RECOVERY OF MONEY OTHERWISE SECURED.—When the judgment, order or decree is for the recovery of money otherwise secured, the bond shall be conditioned to pay costs on appeal, interest (if legally chargeable), and damages for delay, together with such other and further conditions as shall be fixed by the court.

(5) OTHER THAN FOR MONEY.—If the judgment or decree is, in whole or in part, other than a money judgment, the amount and condition of the bond shall be determined by the trial court, and the elements to be considered in fixing the amount and conditions of such bonds shall be the costs of the action, costs of the appeal, interest (if chargeable), damages for delay, use, detention, and depreciation of any property involved.

(6) REVIEW OF ORDER, WHEN ARBITRARY OR UNREASONABLE.—In any event, if the bond required is deemed to be arbitrary or unreasonable or such as is for any reason not proper, it may be reviewed, modified or discharged by the appellate court on motion; provided, ample notice thereof be given to the adverse party.

(7) CERTIORARI.—When it shall be made to appear to the trial court that a petition for certiorari has been or is about to be applied for in the appellate court, such trial court may grant a supersedeas or stay upon petitioner giving a good and sufficient bond, conditioned that such petition shall be duly presented to the appellate court within twenty days and to pay all costs, damages and expenses occasioned by reason of the stay of proceedings, together with such other and further conditions as may be fixed by the trial court, in event the order or judgment of which a review is sought is not quashed, modified or reversed.

(8) JUDGMENT AGAINST SURETY.—By entering into a supersedeas or stay order bond, given pursuant to this or any other statute, or order of court, the surety submits himself to the jurisdiction of the trial court. After motion and citation his liability may be enforced without the necessity of an independent action. Provided, however, that this provision shall not be applicable to state boards, commissions and other bodies from which an appeal may be taken.

(9) APPELLATE COURT MAY GRANT.—Nothing herein shall be construed as denying the appellate court jurisdiction to grant supersedeas in like manner as the trial court.

History.—§ 1, 2, Feb. 10, 11, 1832; § 1, Feb. 12, 1836; § 3, 4, ch. 521, 1853; RS 1272, 1458; § 1, ch. 4917, 1901; GS 1701, 1909; RGS 2911, 3170; CGL 4621, 4962; §§67.04, 67.05 consolidated with this section by § 13, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.14 Supersedeas bond not required of the state and its political subdivisions and their boards, commissions, etc.; security when required.—

(1) WHEN SECURITY NOT REQUIRED.—When the state or any of its political subdivisions, or any officer, board, commission, or other public body of the state or any of its political subdivisions, in a purely official capacity, takes an appeal, the filing of the notice of appeal shall perfect the same and stay the execution or performance of the judgment, decree, or order appealed from, and no supersedeas bond need be given unless expressly required by the appellate court.

(2) APPELLATE COURT MAY REQUIRE BOND.—The appellate court may, on motion for good cause shown, require a supersedeas bond or other security, in such amount, form and manner as it may prescribe as a condition for the further prosecution of the appeal.

(3) EXECUTION OF BOND WHEN REQUIRED.—When a supersedeas bond is required by the appellate court as aforesaid, or where an appeal, or other proceeding, is taken in any court wherein the above exemption is not applicable, and where there is no court rule or otherwise exempting such parties from giving supersedeas, cost or other required bond, such parties are authorized to make and execute such required bond, with a corporate surety thereon duly licensed to do business in this state. Premium or other cost for the said bond may be paid from the general necessary and regular appropriation of the party taking the appeal, if the state or any of its officers, boards, commissioners or other agencies, and from the county general fund, school general fund, or otherwise as the case may be, if a political subdivision of the state or any of their officers, boards, commissions or other agencies. The officers of the state and its political subdivisions, and the executive officers of their boards, commissions, and other agencies aforesaid, are authorized to make and execute such bonds in behalf of such parties.

History.—§ 1, ch. 19172, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 4621(1); § 1, ch. 22027, 1943; § 14, ch. 22854, 1945. cf. §§64.03, 64.04, Injunctions, original proceedings in supreme court, without bond.

59.15 Bills of exceptions abolished; reporter's transcript; what record consists of.—

(1) BILLS OF EXCEPTIONS ABOLISHED.—For appellate purposes, under this chapter, bills of exceptions and the formal authentication thereof are abolished.

(2) REPORTER'S TRANSCRIPT.—When any proceeding in the trial court has been stenographically reported, the court reporter shall, within the time for filing directions by appellant or within such further time as may be allowed by the trial court, file a certified copy of his transcribed notes with the clerk of the trial court, or with the judge if there be no clerk, for use in preparing the record on appeal. The clerk, or judge if there be no clerk, shall not be required to verify, nor shall he make any charge for, any such copy when physically incorporated in the transcript. The trial court shall, at all times, have power to make the said report speak the truth.

(3) REPORTER'S TRANSCRIPT; REQUIREMENTS.—Every reporter's transcript shall comply with the requirements, by statute, court rule or otherwise, for the transcript of record.

(4) PROCEEDINGS IN PAIS; AUTHENTICATION.—Proceedings in pais, not stenographically reported, may be authenticated by recitals in orders, judgments, or decrees, of the trial court, or of the judge thereof, or by a stipulation by the interested parties.

(5) WHAT RECORD CONSISTS OF.—All pleadings, motions, exhibits and other papers and instruments properly filed in a cause, and upon which an assignment of error is founded, shall be considered a part of authentication.

History.—§68, Nov. 23, 1828; § 1, ch. 138, 1848; RS 1268; GS 1696; § 10, ch. 7838, 1919; RGS 2906; CGL 4616; § 15, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.16 Stipulated record on appeal.—When the questions presented by an appeal may be determined without the examination of the entire record in the trial court, the interested parties may prepare and sign a statement of the cause showing how the questions arose and were decided, setting forth only so many of the facts averred and proved, or sought to be proved, as are deemed essential to a decision of the questions in the appellate court, together with any assignments of error relied on by the parties. Such stipulated record, when certified by the clerk, or judge if there be no clerk, and transmitted to the appellate court shall constitute the entire record on appeal.

History.—§ 1, ch. 12019, 1927; CGL 4610; § 16, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.17 When books, documents, etc., may be certified for inspection.—With the approval of the trial court, voluminous books, documents, and instruments produced in evidence may be certified to the appellate court for inspection as original exhibits in the manner prescribed by §59.28. In such cases it is unnecessary to copy such books, documents, and instruments into either the reporter's transcript or the transcript of record. The books, documents, and instruments shall be returned to the trial court upon the final determination of the cause in the appellate court.

History.—§ 2, ch. 12019, 1927; CGL 4611; § 17, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.18 Improper inclusion of matter in record or reporter's transcript; effect.—Any pleading, motion, document, proceeding or other matter which is included in the reporter's transcript when it should be exhibited by the record proper, and any pleading, motion, document, proceeding or other matter which is included in the record proper when it should be exhibited by the reporter's transcript, shall be considered by the appellate court with the same force and effect as if it had been properly exhibited; provided, however, the same appears in the record in the appellate court so that it may be definitely identified and is so exhibited as to import authenticity.

History.—§3, ch. 12019, 1927; CGL 4612; §18, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.19 Reporter's transcript; amendments.—

Any reporter's transcript may be amended by the trial court, upon reasonable notice and a showing of good cause, at any time before the transcript is filed in the appellate court, or with leave of the appellate court after the transcript has been so filed.

History.—§1, ch. 12019, 1927; CGL 4614; §19, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.20 Repetition in record prohibited.—In all cases where any assignment of error, document or other pleading shall appear, at any place in the transcript, it shall not be repeated or duplicated therein, but shall be designated by appropriate reference where it reappears.

History.—§4, ch. 12019, 1927; CGL 4613; §20, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.21 Transcript of record; preparation by attorney.—Whenever an appeal shall have been entered to any court where a certified transcript of the record in the trial court is required to be filed, it shall be lawful for any attorney at law representing the appellant to prepare the transcript, for certification by the clerk, in the manner required by statute and rules of court.

History.—§1, ch. 9281, 1923; CGL 4627; §21, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.22 Transcript of record; certification by clerk.—After the transcript of record is prepared by an attorney as provided in §59.21, the original thereof shall be presented to the clerk of the trial court, or to the judge if there be no clerk, for certification in the manner provided by statute and court rule.

History.—§2, ch. 9281, 1923; CGL 4628; §22, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.23 Transcript of record; duties and obligations of clerk.—When a transcript of record, prepared and presented to the clerk for certification as provided in §§59.21 and 59.22, is presented to the clerk of the trial court, or to the judge if there be no clerk, it shall be his duty to carefully compare the same with the original record in the cause, correct any errors and verify the same. When corrected and verified, said transcript of record shall be certified, by said clerk or judge, in accordance with the requirements of the statutes and rules of court, and forthwith delivered to the appellant or his attorney, upon the payment of the compensation provided by law.

History.—§3, ch. 9281, 1923; CGL 4629; §23, ch. 22854, 1945; §6, ch. 29749, 1955.

59.26 Refusal of clerk to verify and certify.

—Any clerk, or judge if there be no clerk, who shall wilfully fail or refuse to examine, correct, verify, and certify any transcript of record, prepared and presented to him for certification as provided in §§59.21-59.23, shall be deemed in contempt of the appellate court to which the appeal is taken and may be required, by a rule of said court, to forthwith comply with the terms and requirements of this chapter.

History.—§5, ch. 9281, 1923; CGL 4631; §26, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.27 Filing record in appellate court and proceedings thereon.—

(1) Whenever a transcript of the record in the lower court shall be required in the appellate court, it shall be the duty of the appellant to demand from the clerk of the trial court, or the judge if there be no clerk, a true and correct transcript of so much of the record as is required for the appeal, and file said transcript in the appellate court within the time provided by law or rule of court for the filing thereof.

(2) If the appellant fails to procure and file the transcript of record as aforesaid, the appellate court shall, unless good cause be shown, dismiss the appeal upon the production, by the adverse party, of a certificate by the clerk of the trial court, or the judge if there be no clerk, showing that an appeal has been taken and the date when taken.

(3) Upon receipt of the mandate of the appellate court, or upon receipt of a certified copy of the order dismissing the appeal and the expiration of the time for petitioning the appellate court for a rehearing without the filing of such a petition, or the denial of such petition if filed, the trial court shall proceed to enforce the judgment, order, or decree appealed from, and issue execution for costs and damages which may have been adjudged by the appellate court.

(4) If the appeal be to an appellate court other than the supreme court, from a trial court in the same county wherein the appellate court is located, no transcript of the proceedings and record in the trial court shall be required, but may be used at the option of the appellant, but in lieu thereof the clerk of the trial court, or the judge if there be no clerk, shall, upon written request of the appellant or of the appellee, deliver the complete original file, or such portions thereof as may be designated in writing by the parties, to the clerk of the appellate court, taking a receipt for the same, which record may be used for said appeal. Upon the final disposition of the cause by the appellate court the said original file shall be returned by the clerk of the appellate court to the trial court.

History.—§4, Feb. 10, 1932; RS 1275; GS 1705; RGS 2915; CGL 4625; §27, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.28 Transmission of exhibits to appellate court.

—Whenever the judge of the trial court shall certify that, in his opinion, it is necessary that the appellate court should have before it for consideration on such appeal any original paper, book, document, map, picture, photograph, or exhibit of any kind whatsoever, offered or received in evidence at the trial of such cause, it shall be the duty of the clerk of the trial court, or the judge if there be no clerk, to transmit the same to the clerk of the appellate court with his certificate that such exhibit is the identical exhibit offered or received in evidence at the trial. It shall be the duty of the appellate court, in considering such appeal, to examine such exhibit, so transmitted, in determining the correctness of the trial court in receiving or excluding the same from evidence; in determining the sufficiency or insufficiency of the evidence to support the verdict; in determining the correctness of the trial court in granting or refusing a new trial; or in affirming or reversing the judgment of the lower court, just as fully as though the same were incorporated in a transcript of record.

History.—§1, ch. 9168, 1923; CGL 4626; §28, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.281 Original records as appellate transcript.—When it appears practicable, the circuit judges are hereby authorized to forward the original file or such parts as are designated by opposing counsel on directions and cross directions, (or by stipulation) to the supreme court without the necessity of preparing a new and appellate transcript. This section is designed to eliminate unnecessary costs and duplication of cumbersome appellate records and is cumulative to all other laws on appellate records. The supreme court is authorized to promulgate all rules pertaining to this section.

History.—§1, ch. 28087, 1953.

59.29 Amendment of appellate proceedings.—The appellate court may, at any time, in the furtherance of justice, upon such terms as may be just, permit appellate proceedings to be amended.

History.—§2, ch. 11890, 1927; CGL 4636; §29, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.30 Dismissal; want of proper parties as grounds.—No appeal shall be dismissed for want of proper parties if the notice of entry of appeal shall identify with reasonable certainty the judgment or decree sought to be reviewed. In case of numerous parties it shall be sufficient designation to identify the cause by its usual title in the inferior court and the abbreviation "et al." may be used to designate parties other than those expressly named. To this end the proceedings upon appeal shall be taken and considered as a step in the cause.

History.—§1, ch. 11890, 1927; CGL 4635; §30, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.31 Dismissal for error not insisted upon.—No cause shall be dismissed by an appellate court for any defect or omission not insisted upon by the adverse party.

History.—§2, ch. 11890, 1927; CGL 4636; §31, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.32 Dismissal; reinstatement of dismissed causes.—

(1) Whenever an appeal is taken to an appellate court, and the same is dismissed, or a motion to dismiss the same is made, because of any defective certificate of the clerk of the trial court, or the judge if there be no clerk, the same shall be reinstated upon the said docket, if dismissed, or the motion to dismiss shall be denied, if, within thirty days from the date of notice of such dismissal, or motion to dismiss, as the case may be, a proper certificate be tendered and filed; and,

(2) In every case where it shall appear to the appellate court that a reporter's authenticated transcript is actually incorporated into the transcript of the record, said court shall have authority to recognize and consider such reporter's transcript in the furtherance of justice, notwithstanding it may appear that such transcript was not properly filed in the lower court and notwithstanding any other alleged or apparent defect in the procedure by which such transcript was made up and filed; provided, that said appellate court is satisfied that such transcript fairly and truly reflects the matters in pais transpiring in the lower court in such case, notwithstanding the manner or means by which the same was brought into being.

History.—§1, ch. 5898, 1909; RGS 2917; §1, ch. 12322, 1927; CGL 4634; §32, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.33 Quashing appeals; power of appellate court.—Appellate courts shall have power to quash appeals in all cases in which appeals do not lie, or where they are taken against good faith or merely for delay, and may decree in such case damages against the appellant not exceeding ten per cent.

History.—§13, Feb. 10, 1832; §50, ch. 1096, 1861; RS 1279; GS 1709; §13, ch. 5898, 1909; RGS 2920; CGL 4639; §33, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.34 Judgment; duty of appellate court in its determination of causes.—The court, on an appeal, shall examine the record, and reverse or affirm the judgment, sentence or decree of the court below; give such judgment, sentence, or decree as the court below should have given; or otherwise as to it may appear according to law.

History.—§5, Feb. 10, 1832; RS 1277; GS 1707; §5, ch. 5898, 1909; RGS 2918; CGL 4637; §34, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.35 Judgment; power of appellate court to direct a new trial upon one or more issues.—An appellate court may, in reversing a judgment of a lower court brought before it for review by appeal, by the order of reversal, if the error for which reversal is sought is such as to require a new trial, direct that a new trial be had on all the issues shown by the record or upon a part of such issues only. When a reversal is had, with direction for new trial on a part of the issues, all other issues shall be deemed settled conclusively in favor of the appellee.

History.—§1, ch. 6467, 1913; RGS 2921; CGL 4640; §35, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.36 Mandate; opinion of appellate court to accompany.—It shall be the duty of the clerk of the appellate court, in all cases wherein the judgment or decree of the lower court shall be reversed or modified, in which it shall write an opinion, to send down with the mandate, a correct copy of said opinion. The clerk of the trial court shall file such copy in the records and files of the case, same to become a part thereof.

History.—§1, ch. 5899, 1909; RGS 2922; CGL 4641; §36, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.37 Mandate; judgment of appellate court may be certified to lower court and there enforced.—The appellate court may order that the record of the judgment or decree appealed from, with its decision and determination thereon in writing duly certified, be remitted to the court, from which the appeal was taken; and said decision and determination shall be carried into execution, by the officers of the lower court, a quo, or the appellate court may award execution to carry into effect its decision and determination.

History.—§6, Feb. 10, 1832; RS 1278; GS 1708; §6, ch. 5898, 1909; RGS 2919; CGL 4638; §37, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.38 Appeals and supersedeas in guardianship proceedings.—The provisions of the probate laws of Florida concerning appeals and supersedeas, as set forth in chapter 732, shall govern appeals and supersedeas in guardianship matters in the county judge's court. However, no appeal from an order revoking a guardianship and restoring property to the ward shall operate as a supersedeas.

History.—§1280 RS 1892; GS 1710; RGS 2923; CGL 4642; §38, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.41 Stipulation as to transcript and what it includes.—In appeals the parties may stipulate and agree in writing what portions and parts of the papers and testimony shall be included in the record to be furnished the appellate court for the determination of said cause; provided, that the judgment, decree, or order appealed from shall, in every case, be included in full in the record.

History.—§1, ch. 7355, 1917; RGS 3174; CGL 4966; tr. from 67.08 §41, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.42 Certified questions.—

(1) WHEN CERTIFIED.—When it shall appear to a judge of the circuit court that there is involved in any cause pending before him questions or propositions of law that are determinative of the cause and are without controlling precedent in this state, and it is made to appear that instruction from the supreme court would facilitate the proper disposition of the cause, the circuit court may promptly, on its own motion or on motion of either party, certify said question or proposition of law to the supreme court for instruction.

(2) LIMITATIONS ON.—Only questions or propositions of law that can be answered without regard to other issues may be so certified and they must be definitely and concisely stated. The certificate will not be employed in a way to affect the jurisdiction of the supreme court or the circuit court but will be limited to those cases in which it will facilitate the final disposition of the cause.

(3) CONTENTS OF CERTIFICATE.—The certificate shall contain the style of the case, a "Statement of Facts" showing the nature of the cause and the circumstances out of which the questions or propositions of law arise, and the "Questions" of law to be answered.

(4) PREPARATION OF CERTIFICATE.—The certificate may be prepared by stipulation as provided by rules of the supreme court or as directed by the circuit judge, upon due notice. When so prepared and signed by the judge, it shall be endorsed and certified to the supreme court by the clerk of the circuit court under his official seal.

(5) COSTS OF CERTIFICATE.—If sufficient reason therefor is shown, the supreme court may require the entire record to be sent up and decide the controversy as if it were on appeal. The costs of the certificate shall be equally divided unless otherwise ordered by the supreme court. If the entire record is sent up and decision rendered as on appeal, costs may follow the general rule.

(6) BRIEFS AND ARGUMENT.—When the certificate is filed in the supreme court, briefs shall be filed within fifteen and ten days unless otherwise directed. Oral argument may be granted on application as in other cases.

History.—§42, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.43 Application of chapter.—This chapter shall govern appellate review and proceedings in all courts and cases, including appellate proceedings from boards, commissions, and other bodies where provided for by law, where not otherwise expressly provided, and where otherwise provided may be used as an alternative method of review.

History.—§43, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.44 Chapter considered court rules.—This chapter and all amendments hereof hereafter made, shall be considered as rules of court, and may be changed, amended, repealed, or superseded by rules adopted by the supreme court of this state.

History.—§44, ch. 22854, 1945.

59.45 Misconception of remedy; supreme court.—If an appeal be improvidently taken where the remedy might have been more properly sought by certiorari, this alone shall not be a ground for dismissal; but the notice of appeal and the record thereon shall be regarded and acted on as a petition for certiorari duly presented to the supreme court.

History.—§1, ch. 23826, 1947.

62.01 Circuit court sitting in chancery always open.—The circuit courts, sitting in chancery, shall always be kept open for the issuing and return of process, making, hearing, and deciding motions, presenting, arguing and deciding upon petitions, granting injunctions and passing interlocutory and final decrees and orders. And all action in said matters in vacation shall have the same force and effect as if done in term time.

History.—§1, Nov. 7, 1828; §6, ch. 521, 1853; RS 1407; GS 1859; RGS 3104; CGL 4888.

62.02 Venue of suits in chancery; same as at law.—All provisions of law governing locality of actions at law shall, when they can be made applicable, govern those in chancery.

History.—§1408 RS 1892; GS 1860; RGS 3105; CGL 4889.
cf.—§§46.01-46.06, Venue of actions, generally.

62.03 Venue of receiverships when property in more than one circuit.—Whenever an application shall be made for the appointment of a receiver to take charge of either real or personal property, or both, and the property is situated in more than one of the judicial circuits of the state, the court in appointing said receiver shall have jurisdiction over the entire property for the purposes of that suit. Provided, that the application for appointment of the receiver must be made to the judge of a judicial circuit in which the principal or main place of business, residence or office of the defendant is situated; and the court to which such application is made shall have exclusive jurisdiction thereof, and any action on the application by the said court, either affirmative or negative, shall be final, subject, however, to a right of appeal.

History.—§1, ch. 4986, 1901; GS 1861; RGS 3106; CGL 4890.

62.05 Infants; unknown, insane or incompetent parties; procedure in suits against; guardian ad litem.—In any chancery suit wherein an infant, insane or incompetent person or person whose name is unknown to the plaintiff, is a party defendant, a guardian ad litem for such defendant may answer on his behalf forthwith upon his appointment and where such voluntary answer is filed it shall not be necessary to issue a summons to such guardian ad litem. Such guardian ad litem, at any time after filing his answer on behalf of such defendant, and at the hearing of the testimony, may announce that such defendant has no further testimony to offer, and waive the remainder of the time allowed by law for the taking of testimony; whereupon the testimony may be closed and the master may forthwith file his report. In any such suit such guardian ad litem on behalf of such defendants may waive the right of exception and the time allowed by law for the filing of exceptions to the master's report and the case may proceed accordingly.

History.—§1, ch. 10268, 1925; CGL 4911; §2, ch. 19175, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 4274(14).

62.07 Compensation of masters in chancery.—The fees of the master shall be as follows:
Attendance on litigated case, per day — $2.00
Attendance on unlitigated case, per day — 1.00
Attendance to settle litigated report, per day — 2.00
Attendance to settle unlitigated report, per day — 1.00

For all other services, the same fees as are prescribed for clerks of the circuit court. When no such fees are prescribed, then he shall receive such compensation as the judge may fix. All fees shall be taxed as part of the costs of the cause.

History.—§6, ch. 51, 1845; §1, ch. 1815, 1870; RS 1442; GS 1894; RGS 3150; CGL 4937.

62.071 Masters in chancery; additional compensation.—Master in chancery, in addition to the compensation provided in §62.07, shall be allowed such further compensation for any extraordinary services as the court may deem just and reasonable including time consumed in legal research required in preparing and summarizing his findings of fact and law.

History.—§1, ch. 28169, 1953.

62.08 Abatement; death of party served by constructive process after entry of decree pro confesso; effect.—In all chancery causes heretofore or hereafter brought in a court of this state where a decree pro confesso is or was duly and regularly entered against a defendant or defendants upon whom constructive service was or shall be duly had, if such defendants or either of them die after the entry of such decree pro confesso and before the entry of final decree, and the fact of such death is not or was not brought to the attention of the judge or the court before the entry of final decree, after the lapse of a period of five years from the date of such final decree the same shall be as binding and conclusive against and upon the heirs, devisees, legatees and legal representatives of such deceased defendant or defendants as effectually and fully as if such death had been suggested and the cause revived against such heirs, devisees, legatees and legal representatives before the entry of final decree.

History.—§1, ch. 11996, 1927; CGL 4947.

62.10 Entry of decrees in chancery order book that should have been entered in the minutes of the court declared valid.—Wherever any order or decree in chancery, required to be signed by the judge of the circuit court, shall have been prior to June 14, 1921, entered in the chancery order book instead of upon the minutes of the court, every such order and decree shall be, and is hereby declared to be, of the same force and effect, from the date of entry in such chancery order book, as if the same had been at such time entered in the minutes of the court; provided, however, that nothing herein shall affect creditors or subsequent purchasers for value without notice.

History.—§1, ch. 5394, 1905; §1, ch. 5914, 1909; RGS 3161; CGL 4950.

62.14 Rehearing after decree entered on publication; bona fide purchaser of property not affected.—If any defendant, against whom a decree has been rendered on publication only, as provided in §§48.12 and 48.13, shall at any time before the expiration of the time allowed for a rehearing, appear and petition the court for a rehearing thereof, and give bond in an amount and with conditions to be fixed by the judge, with sureties to be approved by the clerk, he shall be permitted to defend the complaint as if he had been personally served with process. And the court may stay all proceedings upon the original decree, pending such defense, and if the decree has been executed, may, at the final hearing, decree restitution. But the title to property sold under the original decree and purchased by a bona fide purchaser for value, shall not be affected by any such rehearing. The defendant applying for such rehearing shall give reasonable notice in writing to the complainant of such application.

History.—§4, ch. 5397, 1905; RGS 3157; CGL 4944; §33, ch. 29737, 1955.

62.15 Practice in chancery in absence of statute or court rule.—In the absence of provisions of the law or rules of practice of this state, the rules of practice in the courts of equity of the United States, as prescribed by the supreme court thereof, under the act of congress of the 8th of May, one thousand seven hundred and ninety-two, shall be rules for the practice of the courts of this state when exercising equity jurisdiction; and when the rules of practice so directed by the supreme court do not apply, the practice of the courts shall be regulated by the practice of the high court of chancery of England.

History.—§32, Nov. 7, 1828; RS 1425; GS 1877; RGS 3132; CGL 4919.

62.16 Decree in equity; signing and recording.—Decrees in equity may be signed by the judge when pronounced, and shall be recorded in the chancery order book of the court without any other enrollment. And no process shall be issued or other proceedings had on any final decree or order until the same shall have been signed and recorded as aforesaid.

History.—§28, Nov. 7, 1828; §8, ch. 521, 1853; RS 1448; GS 1900; §1, ch. 8574, 1921; RGS 3160; CGL 4948.

62.17 Certain decrees against minors validated.—All decrees in suits in chancery heretofore entered in any suit in any court of this state against a minor defendant or minor defendants, where a guardian ad litem was appointed for such minor defendant or minor defendants and where the only defect alleged to invalidate such decree is the failure to await the lapse of three months for the taking of testimony, as prescribed by chancery rule seventy-one for the government of circuit courts prescribed by the supreme court of the state in 1873, be and the same are hereby validated and declared to be valid in all respects.

History.—§1, ch. 8479, 1921; CGL 4955.

62.18 Ne exeat; when to issue.—No writ of ne exeat shall be granted until a complaint sworn or supported by affidavit be filed, praying for such writ, except in the special cases and for the special causes in which said writs are authorized by the practice of the courts of the United States exercising equity jurisdiction. It may issue in any case where the court of chancery shall have concurrent jurisdiction with a court of common law, and where the issuance shall seem to the chancellor just.

History.—§§1, 2, Nov. 7, 1828; RS 1473; GS 1921; RGS 3184; CGL 4976; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

62.19 Ne exeat; judge to fix penalty of bond.—In granting such writ the chancellor shall fix the penalty and conditions of the bond to be required of the complainant, to defendant, with two good and sufficient sureties to be approved by the court, and no such writ shall issue until such bond shall be given by the complainant.

History.—§2, Nov. 7, 1828; RS 1474; GS 1922; RGS 3185; CGL 4977.

62.20 Ne exeat; absence from state under certain conditions permitted.—An absence of the defendant from the state, from which he shall return before a personal appearance shall be necessary by any decree of the court or before it shall be necessary to perform any order of the court, shall not be considered a breach of the condition of the bond.

History.—§3, Nov. 7, 1828; RS 1475; GS 1923; RGS 3186; CGL 4978.

62.21 Ne exeat; surrender of defendant by sureties.—The sureties (or either of them) of the defendant shall have power personally or by attorney, at any time before the bond shall be forfeited, to take the body of the principal and surrender him in open court, or deliver him to the ministerial officer of the court in which the suit is pending, who shall detain said principal as in cases of the surrender of the principal by special bail; and at the time of such delivery to the aforesaid officer, the surety shall take a receipt for the body and file it with the clerk of the court, either of which, if done before the bond is forfeited, shall discharge the sureties from their undertaking.

History.—§4, Nov. 7, 1828; RS 1476; GS 1924; RGS 3187; CGL 4979.

62.22 Equitable garnishment; proceedings prescribed.—If any suit shall be commenced for relief in equity in any court against any defendant residing out of this state, and any other defendant within the same having in his hands effects of, or being otherwise indebted to, such absent defendant, and the appearance of such absentee be not entered and security given to the satisfaction of the court for performing the decree, upon affidavit that such defendant is out of the state, or that upon inquiry at his usual place of abode he cannot be found so as to be served with process, the court may make an order and require surety, if it shall appear necessary, to restrain the defendant in this state from paying or conveying away, or secreting the debts by him owing to, or the effects in his hands, of such absent defendants, or to restrain the absent defendant from conveying away or secreting or removing the property in litigation, or make an order sequestering the property which may be necessary to secure the plaintiff if he finally succeeds; and may order such debts to be paid, and effects to be delivered up to said plaintiff, upon his giving sufficient security for the return thereof.

Service upon the absent defendant shall be had in the manner provided by law, and if the defendant does not answer the complaint, decree pro confesso and final decree may be entered as in other cases; and the court shall make an order requiring the complainant to give security, to be approved by the court or by its clerk, for abiding such future orders as may be made for restoring the estate or effects to the absent defendant upon his answering the complaint; and if the complainant shall refuse to give or not be able to procure such security, the effects shall remain under the direction of the court, in the hands of a receiver, or otherwise, for so long a time, and shall be finally disposed of in such manner, as the court shall deem fit.

History.—§§1, 2, Feb. 12, 1832; RS 1499; GS 1948; RGS 3211; CGL 5003; §10, ch. 29737, 1955.

cf.—Ch. 48, Constructive service of process.

62.23 Removal of disabilities; minors; powers.—The judges of the several circuit courts of this state sitting in chancery shall have full power and authority, either in term time or in vacation at chambers, to remove the disabilities of nonage of all minors, male or female, over the age of eighteen years, residing in this state, upon a petition filed by the guardian, and in the event of there being no natural or legal guardian, then by the next friend of such minor in any of the circuits of this state.

History.—§1, ch. 3885, 1889; RS 1501; GS 1951; RGS 3214; CGL 5020.

cf.—Ch. 743, Disability of married minors removed.

See also Art. III, §20, Const., 1885.

62.24 Removal of disabilities; minors; petition.—Such petition shall set forth the name and age of such minor and his character, habits, education and mental capacity for business, and briefly set out the reasons why such disabilities should be removed, and shall be sworn to before some officer authorized to administer oaths.

History.—§2, ch. 3885, 1889; RS 1502; GS 1952; RGS 3215; CGL 5021.

62.25 Removal of disabilities; minors; proceedings.—The judge before whom any such petition shall be filed, shall forthwith consider the same, together with such evidence as to the character, habits and mental capacity of the minor as to him shall seem proper; and if satisfied that the removal of the disabilities of such minor will be for his permanent interest or benefit he shall make a decree removing his disabilities of nonage and authorizing such minor to assume the management and control of all his estate, to contract and be contracted with, to sue and to be sued, and to do and perform any and all acts, matters and things that he could do if he were twenty-one years of age.

History.—§3, ch. 3885, 1889; RS 1503; GS 1953; RGS 3216; CGL 5022.

62.26 Removal of disabilities; minors; decree.—Such decree shall be duly recorded in the office of records of the county in which such minor resides, and a certified copy thereof shall be taken and received as sufficient evidence of the removal of the disabilities of nonage of such minor in all the courts of this state in which said minor may have any business or be engaged in any legal controversy.

History.—§4, ch. 3885, 1889; RS 1504; GS 1954; RGS 3217; CGL 5023.

62.36 Chancery jurisdiction over liens.—All liens of any kind, whether created by statute or the common law, and whether heretofore regarded as merely possessory or not, may be enforced by proceedings in chancery.

History.—§1510 RS 1892; GS 1960; RGS 3228; CGL 5034.

62.37 Chancery jurisdiction; creditors' bills.—Creditors' bills may be filed in the courts of this state, having chancery jurisdiction, before the claims of indebtedness of the persons filing the same shall have been reduced to judgment, but no such bill shall be entertained by such court, unless the complainants therein shall have first instituted suits in the proper courts at law for the collection of their claims; and no final decree shall be entered upon such creditor's bill until such claims shall have been reduced to judgment.

History.—§1, ch. 5137, 1903; GS 1961; RGS 3229; CGL 5035; §1, ch. 21976, 1943.

62.38 Short title; free dealer law.—Sections 62.39-62.46 may be cited and referred to as the free dealer law of 1943.

History.—§1, ch. 21976, 1943.

62.39 Jurisdiction to entertain applications.—The judges of the several circuit courts of this state, sitting in chancery, shall have full power and authority, either in term time or in vacation at chambers, to remove the disabilities of married women and authorize them to take charge of and manage their own estate and property and become free dealers in every respect.

History.—§2, ch. 21976, 1943.

62.40 Who may become free dealer.—Any married woman who resides in the state, and who may wish to take charge of and manage her estate and to become a free dealer in every respect, may apply by petition in chancery to the judge of the circuit court for the circuit in which said married woman may reside, for a license to take charge of and manage her own estate and property and to become a free dealer in every respect.

History.—§3, ch. 21976, 1943.

62.41 Petition; contents, etc.—Such petition shall set forth the name and age of such married woman, and her character, habits, education and mental capacity for business, and briefly set out the reasons why such disabilities should be removed, and shall be sworn to before some officer authorized to administer oaths.

History.—§4, ch. 21976, 1943.

62.42 Consent or service on husband.—There shall be filed with the said petition either one of the following:

(1) The written consent of the husband of petitioner to the granting of said petition; or

(2) Proof of personal service of a true copy of said petition on said husband; or

(3) Proof of publication of notice that application for such license will be presented to the court on specified date where the husband of petitioner has not signed written consent or cannot be personally served with copy of said petition. Such publication shall be made once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where petitioner resides. In addition to the requirements of this subsection, the petitioner must also file with the said petition her sworn statement showing:

(a) That diligent search and inquiry have been made to discover the residence of her husband, and that the same is set forth in her sworn statement as particularly as is known to her, or

(b) That the residence of her husband is, either:

1. Unknown to her; or

2. In some state or country other than this state, stating said residence if known; or

3. In the state, but that he has been absent from the state for more than sixty days immediately before making the sworn statement, or conceals himself so that process cannot be personally served upon him.

History.—§5, ch. 21976, 1943; §1, ch. 59-44.

62.421 Notice of petition, mailing of.—The clerk of the circuit court of this state shall upon the filing of a petition for a free dealer's license mail a copy of the petition by United States mail, with postage prepaid, to petitioner's husband at his residence as stated in petitioner's sworn statement, if the said residence is stated with more particularity than the name of the state or county in which the husband resides, the date of mailing to be noted on the docket.

History.—§2, ch. 59-44.

62.43 Hearing on petition, etc.—The judge before whom any such petition shall be filed shall forthwith consider the same, together with such evidence as to the character, habits, capacity, competency, and qualification of such married woman to take charge of and manage her own estate and property and to become a free dealer, as to him shall seem proper, and, if satisfied that the removal of the disabilities of such married woman will be for her permanent interest or benefit, he shall make a decree removing her disabilities of marriage and authorizing such married woman to assume the management of and control of all her own estate and property and to become a free dealer, to contract and to be contracted with, to sue and be sued, and to do and perform any and all acts, matters and things with respect to her own estate and property that she could do if she were not married.

History.—§6, ch. 21976, 1943.

62.44 Decree granting free dealer's license.—Such decree shall be duly recorded in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of the county in which such married woman resides, and thereupon such married woman shall be authorized to take charge of and control her estate, contract and be contracted with, to sue and be sued, and to bind herself in all respects as fully as if she were unmarried. A certified copy of such decree shall be taken and received as sufficient evidence of the removal of the disabilities of marriage of such married woman wherever such married woman may have any business, own any property, or be engaged in any legal controversy.

History.—§7, ch. 21976, 1943.

62.45 Remarriage; effect.—Whenever any married woman who has been licensed as a free dealer under the laws of this state, shall subsequently remarry, her license as such free dealer shall not be affected by such remarriage but shall continue to be her authority to act as a free dealer, contract and be contracted with, sue and be sued, and otherwise control and manage her own estate and property and bind herself in all respects as fully as if she were unmarried.

History.—§8, ch. 21976, 1943.

62.46 Costs and expenses of suit; lien.—All the costs and expenses of such application, whether the same be granted or not, shall be a lien upon and paid out of the estate of such married woman, to be taxed and collected as costs in other cases.

History.—§9, ch. 21976, 1943.

CHAPTER 64

INJUNCTIONS

- 64.01 Injunction to issue only after complaint filed.
- 64.02 Injunction to stay proceedings at law.
- 64.021 Proceedings instituted by state or political subdivision; bonds.
- 64.03 Injunction without bond.
- 64.04 Injunction without bond; political divisions.

- 64.08 Injunction; against destruction of timber and removal of logs.
- 64.09 Injunction against removal of mortgaged personal property.

64.01 Injunction to issue only after complaint filed.—No writ of injunction shall be granted until a complaint praying therefor shall have been filed, except in the special cases in which, and for the special causes for which such writs are authorized in the courts of the United States exercising equity jurisdiction.

History.—§4, Nov. 7, 1828; RS 1463; GS 1913; RGS 3175; CGL 4967; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

64.02 Injunction to stay proceedings at law.—No writ of injunction to stay proceedings at law shall issue except on motion to the court, and reasonable notice of such motion previously served on the opposite party or his attorney, nor unless the party applying therefor shall have previously paid all costs of the suit at law, and shall have entered into a bond with two or more sufficient sureties in a sum to be fixed by the court, payable to the plaintiff in the action at law, and conditioned, if the application be to stay the proceedings before verdict or inquest or damages, to pay to the plaintiff all damages, losses, expenses and charges which he may have sustained or have been put to by reason of the issuing of the said injunction if the injunction shall be dissolved, or if the complaint upon which it was granted be dismissed; or if the application be to stay the proceedings after verdict or inquest of damages, to pay the debt, interest enjoined and such damages as may be occasioned by the wrongful issuing of said injunction, if the said injunction shall be dissolved, or the complaint upon which it may be granted be dismissed.

History.—§27, Nov. 7, 1828; RS 1464; GS 1914; RGS 3176; CGL 4968; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

64.021 Proceedings instituted by state or political subdivision; bonds.—When any injunction is issued upon complaint of the state or any officer, agency or political subdivision thereof, the court may in its discretion, having due regard to the public interest, require or dispense with the requirement of a bond with or without surety and conditioned as the circumstances may make equitable.

History.—§1, ch. 59-58.

- 64.10 Injunction; sureties on bond of executor, administrator, guardian or trustee may restrain disposition of principal's property.
- 64.11 Abatement of nuisances; parties; by whom maintained.
- 64.12 Abatement of nuisances; temporary injunctions.
- 64.13 Abatement of nuisances; answer; evidence; costs, etc.
- 64.14 Abatement of nuisances; final hearing; perpetual injunction, etc.
- 64.15 Abatement of nuisances; enforcement of orders; decrees, etc.
- 64.16 Assessment of damages after dissolution of action.

64.03 Injunction without bond.—In all suits in equity where summary process by injunction or otherwise shall be prayed, and the complaint justifies such process, and affidavit shall be made of the truth of the statements of the complaint, and that the complainant is unable to give bond of indemnity or other security, the chancellor shall receive from both parties evidence of the truth or falsity of the statements of the complaint and of the accompanying affidavit, and if they shall appear to be true, shall grant such process without requiring such security.

History.—§1, ch. 1098, 1861; RS 1465; GS 1915; RGS 3177; CGL 4969; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

64.04 Injunction without bond; political divisions.—No municipal corporation or taxing districts, organized or created under any law of this state, shall be required to furnish any surety upon any injunction, appeal, supersedeas or other judicial bond required by any law of this state, or order of court, in any legal proceedings in which it may be a party.

History.—§1, ch. 16245, 1933; CGL 1936 Supp. 4969(1).
cf.—§§59.14, 69.03, Supersedeas, original proceedings in supreme court, without bond.

64.05 Injunction; motion to dissolve.—The defendant, after injunction granted, may either before or after answer filed, on due notice being previously given to the opposite party or his solicitor, move the court for the dissolution of any injunction which may have been granted.

History.—§4, Nov. 1, 1828; RS 1467; GS 1917; RGS 3179; CGL 4971.

64.06 Injunction; evidence upon application for or motion to dissolve.—Upon an application for an injunction or other summary order, or upon motion to dissolve the same, either party thereto shall have the right to introduce evidence, and the chancellor shall grant, dissolve or continue the order, or may require security, according to the weight of the evidence.

History.—§2, ch. 1098, 1861; RS 1466; GS 1916; RGS 3178; CGL 4970.

64.07 Injunction; against levy of execution issued against another than the complainant.

—Whenever real estate in this state belonging to any person, natural or artificial, shall be levied upon, or attempted to be sold under any writ of fieri facias or other legal process issued upon any judgment, decree or order against another person, or shall be attempted to be sold as the property of another person, the courts of equity of this state shall have jurisdiction to restrain and enjoin such attempted sale on the application of such owner in possession of such real estate, or the legal representatives of such owner.

History.—§1, ch. 3432, 1883; RS 1468; GS 1918; RGS 3180; CGL 4972.

64.08 Injunction; against destruction of timber and removal of logs.—Courts of chancery shall entertain suits by any person claiming to own any timbered lands, or the timber, or the right to work for turpentine purposes the timber on any lands in this state, to enjoin trespass on such lands by the cutting of trees thereon, or the removing of logs therefrom, or by boxing or scraping the said trees for the purpose of making turpentine, or by the removal of turpentine therefrom.

History.—§2, ch. 3884, 1889; RS 1469, 1470; GS 1919; §1, ch. 5682, 1907; RGS 3181; CGL 4973.

64.09 Injunction against removal of mortgaged personal property.—Upon application of the mortgagee or his assigns, the removal from the state of any personal property mortgaged to secure a debt not matured at the time of the application, may be enjoined by any court of chancery within the territorial jurisdiction of which such property may be.

History.—§1472 RS 1892; GS 1920; RGS 3182; CGL 4974.

64.10 Injunction; sureties on bond of executor, administrator, guardian or trustee may restrain disposition of principal's property.—Wherever suit shall have been heretofore instituted, or shall hereafter be instituted, upon the bond of any executor, administrator, guardian or trustee, or for an accounting, the sureties or surety on such bonds or any of them if there be more than one, may apply to the court in which such suit is pending, if in chancery, or in case such suit is brought on the law side of the court, then in any court of chancery having jurisdiction thereof, for an injunction or restraining order restraining the principal or principals in such bond, or any one of them if there be more than one principal, from disposing of his or her property, and from mortgaging or incumbering or removing same from the county in which the same is located until the final disposition of said suit on said bond or for an accounting, and if, upon such application, it shall be made to appear to said court that there is danger that said principal or principals or any of them, if there is more than one, may dispose of his or their property before final judgment in said suit brought upon the bond of the said executor, administrator or guardian or trustee, or in the suit for an accounting, so that there will not be sufficient property of the said principal or principals to satisfy any judgment that may be rendered against the said administrator, executor, guardian or trustee, it shall be the duty of the said court or judge to issue an injunction or restraining order upon such terms as he may deem proper, enjoining the said principal or principals from selling or disposing of his or their land or property, or so much thereof as may be necessary for the protection of such surety or sureties, until the final disposition of the said suit. In such proceedings it shall not be necessary for the surety or sureties to admit or show that any amounts are due by said administrator, executor, guardian or trustee; provided, however, that the judge granting said injunction may vacate the same upon the giving by said executor, administrator, guardian or trustee adequate security, to be approved by the court, to said surety or sureties conditioned to save him or them harmless for all loss or damage he or they may sustain as such surety or sureties.

cf.—§222.09, Injunction to prevent sale of homestead or exempt property.

64.11 Abatement of nuisances; parties; by whom maintained.—Whenever any nuisance as defined in §823.05 is kept, maintained or exists, the state's attorney, county solicitor, county prosecutor, or any citizen of the county through any attorney he may select, may maintain his action by complaint in the proper court in the name of the state upon the relation of such attorneys or citizen to enjoin said nuisance, the person, or persons conducting or maintaining the same and the owner or agent of the building or ground upon which said nuisance exists.

History.—§2, ch. 7367, 1917; RGS 3223; CGL 5029; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

64.12 Abatement of nuisances; temporary injunctions.—In such action the court, judge or court commissioner before whom the complaint may be brought may upon proper proof being made allow a temporary writ of injunction without bond. If it shall appear to the satisfaction of the court, judge or court commissioner by evidence or by affidavit that a temporary injunction shall issue, the court, judge or court commissioner may in his discretion pending the determination of the complaint on a final hearing enjoin (1) the conducting or maintaining of a nuisance; (2) the operating and maintaining of the place or premises where the nuisance is conducted or maintained; (3) the owner or agent of the building or ground upon which the nuisance exists; (4) and the conduct, operation or maintenance of any business or activity operated or maintained in the building or on the premises in connection with or incident to the conducting or maintenance of the nuisance. Such injunction order shall definitely specify the activities enjoined and shall not preclude the operation of any lawful business not conducive to the maintenance of the nuisance complained of. At least three days notice in writing shall be given defendant or defendants of the time and place of application for said temporary injunction.

History.—§2, ch. 7367, 1917; RGS 3224; CGL 5030; §1, ch. 20467, 1941; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

64.13 Abatement of nuisances; answer; evidence; costs, etc.—The defendant shall file his answer or motion to dismiss said complaint within twenty days after service of process and the said cause shall thereafter proceed as the court may order; and it shall be the duty of the court to hear the evidence in open court or by an examiner as it shall deem most expedient for a prompt hearing or disposition of the cause. In such actions evidence of the general reputation of the alleged nuisance and place shall be admissible for the purpose of proving the existence of said nuisance. No complaint when filed by any citizen shall be dismissed except upon a sworn statement made by said citizen and submitted to the court and unless the court shall be satisfied that said cause shall be dismissed, the said complaint shall not be dismissed but shall continue and the state attorney or county solicitor notified to proceed with said cause. If said action is brought by any citizen and the court shall find that there was no reasonable ground for said action the costs of said action shall be taxed against said citizen and execution may issue therefor on order of the court.

History.—§3, ch. 7367, 1917; RGS 3225; CGL 5031; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

64.14 Abatement of nuisances; final hearing; perpetual injunction, etc.—Upon final hearing of said cause the court shall if the allegations of complaint are proved and the existence of a nuisance is shown, issue a perpetual injunction in said cause and shall order the costs of said proceeding to be paid by the persons responsible for establishing or maintaining said nuisance and shall adjudge that said costs shall become a lien upon all personal property found in the house or place of the nuisance and upon the failure of said property and fixtures to bring enough to pay said costs, then upon the real estate and buildings occupied by said nuisance, provided no lien shall attach to the real estate and buildings of any other than the occupant unless five days' written notice shall have been given to the owner or his agent who shall fail to abate said nuisance within said five days. If the owner or claimant pays said costs of proceedings said property, personal and real, shall by court order be released from the lien for costs upon the owner or claimant giving bond with proper surety for payment of costs and that said property shall no longer constitute a nuisance or be used in furtherance of any similar nuisance for one year from the date of said decree.

History.—§4, ch. 7367, 1917; RGS 3226; CGL 5032; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

64.15 Abatement of nuisances; enforcement of orders; decrees, etc.—The courts of chancery in this state shall upon proper proof make such orders and decrees as will suppress and abate any and all nuisances mentioned in §823.05 and shall have the authority to enforce injunctions and decrees by proper contempt proceedings, but the jurisdiction hereby granted to said courts of chancery shall not be construed to repeal or alter §823.01, or §856.02.

History.—§5, ch. 7367, 1917; RGS 3227; CGL 5033.

64.16 Assessment of damages after dissolution of action.—

(1) In all injunction actions, upon dissolution, the circuit judge may hear the evidence and assess the damages to which a defendant may be entitled under any injunction bond, eliminating the necessity for action at law by the aggrieved party on the injunction bonds, provided the plaintiff in his complaint, or the defendant in his answer or motion to dissolve does not request a jury trial for damages.

(2) This section shall not apply to suits pending on June 11, 1951.

History.—§§1, 3, ch. 26916, 1951; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

- 65.12 Proceedings against absent defendants in suits for alimony.
- 65.13 Attachment or garnishment of amounts due in suits for alimony and divorce.
- 65.14 Custody of children, etc., power of court in making orders.

65.01 Divorce to be by complaint.—Suits for divorce shall in all cases be by complaint.

History.—§1, Oct. 31, 1828; RS 1477; GS 1925; RGS 3188; CGL 4980; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

65.02 Residence required.—In order to obtain a divorce the complainant must have resided six months in the state before the filing of the bill of complaint, but shall not affect any suit for divorce filed prior to October 1, 1957.

History.—§1, ch. 522, 1853; RS 1478; §1, ch. 4726, 1899; GS 1926; RGS 3189; CGL 4981; §1, ch. 16009, 1933; §1, ch. 16975, 1935; §1, ch. 57-44; §1, ch. 57-1974.

65.03 All divorces to be a vinculo.—No divorce shall be from bed and board, but every divorce shall be from bonds of matrimony.

History.—§3, Feb. 14, 1835; RS 1479; GS 1927; RGS 3190; CGL 4982.

65.04 Grounds for divorce.—No divorce shall be granted unless one of the following facts shall appear:

(1) That the parties are within the degrees prohibited by law.

(2) That the defendant is naturally impotent.

(3) That the defendant has been guilty of adultery.

If it shall appear to the court that the adultery complained of was occasioned by collusion of the parties, and done with the intent to procure a divorce, or that both parties have been guilty of adultery, no divorce shall be decreed.

(4) Extreme cruelty by defendant to complainant.

(5) Habitual indulgence by defendant in violent and ungovernable temper.

(6) Habitual intemperance of defendant or habitual use of narcotics by defendant.

(7) Willful, obstinate and continued desertion of complainant by defendant for one year.

(8) That the defendant has obtained a divorce from the complainant in any other state or country.

65.141 Felony to remove children from state contrary to court order.

65.15 Modification of alimony decrees; agreements, etc.

65.16 Divorce; subsequent proceedings; costs, fees, etc.

65.17 Attorneys' fees, suit money, etc., in alimony, divorce and similar proceedings.

65.18 Alimony and support and maintenance money for children; additional method for enforcing orders and decrees; costs, expenses.

65.19 Same; default in undertaking of bond posted to insure payment.

65.20 Entry of divorce decree, delay period.

65.21 Social investigation and recommendations when child custody is in issue.

(9) That either party had a husband or wife living at the time of the marriage sought to be annulled.

History.—§§3-5, Oct. 31, 1828; §2, Feb. 14, 1835; §1, ch. 134, 1837; §1, ch. 134, 1846-47; RS 1840; GS 1928; RGS 3191; CGL 4983; (6) §1, ch. 59-323.

65.05 Effect of decree of divorce on children.—No decree of divorce shall render illegitimate the children born during the marriage, except when it is rendered upon the ground set forth in subsection (9) of §65.04, in which case the marriage shall be invalid from the beginning and the issue illegitimate and subject to all the legal disabilities of such issue.

History.—§4, Oct. 31, 1828; RS 1481; GS 1929; RGS 3192; CGL 4984.

65.06 Proceedings against nonresident defendants.—Complaints may be brought against defendants residing out of the state, and service shall be effected upon them as in other cases in chancery.

History.—§1482, RS 1892; GS 1930; RGS 3193; CGL 4985; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

cf.—Ch. 48, Constructive service of process.

65.07 Alimony pendente lite.—In every suit by a wife for a divorce founded upon any of the grounds mentioned in §65.04, she may in the complaint, or by petition, claim alimony and suit money, and if the complaint seems well founded, the court shall allow a reasonable sum therefor. Or if a wife defendant in any suit for divorce shall in her answer, or by petition, claim alimony or suit money, and the answer or petition shall seem well founded, the court shall allow a reasonable sum therefor.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 3581, 1885; RS 1483; GS 1931; RGS 3194; CGL 4986; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

65.08 Alimony upon decree of divorce.—In every decree of divorce in a suit by the wife, the court shall make such orders touching the maintenance, alimony and suit money of the wife, or any allowance to be made to her, and if any, the security to be given for the same, as from the circumstances of the parties and nature of the case may be fit, equitable and just; but no alimony shall be granted to an adulterous wife. In any award of permanent alimony the court shall have jurisdiction to order periodic payments or payment in lump sum, or both, in its discretion.

History.—§7, Oct. 31, 1828; §12, Oct. 31, 1828; GS 1932; RGS 3195; CGL 4987; §1, ch. 23894, 1947; §1, ch. 63-145.

65.09 Alimony unconnected with divorce.—If any of the causes of divorce set forth in §65.04 shall exist in favor of the wife, and she be living apart from her husband, she may obtain alimony without seeking a divorce upon complaint filed and suit prosecuted as in other chancery causes; and the court shall have power to grant such temporary and permanent alimony and suit money as the circumstances of the parties may render just; but no alimony shall be granted to an adulterous wife.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 3581, 1885; RS 1485; GS 1933; RGS 3196; CGL 4988; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

65.10 Alimony unconnected with causes of divorce.—If any husband having ability to maintain or contribute to the maintenance of his wife or minor children shall fail to do so, the wife, living with him or living apart from him through his fault, may obtain such maintenance or contribution upon complaint filed and suit prosecuted as in other chancery causes; and the court shall make such orders as may be necessary to secure to her such maintenance or contribution.

History.—§1486 RS 1892; GS 1934; RGS 3197; CGL 4989; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

65.101 Rights of husband unconnected with causes of divorce.—Except in those cases where relief is afforded by some other pending civil action or proceeding, a husband residing in this state separate and apart from his wife and minor children, whether or not such separation is through his fault, may obtain an adjudication of his obligation to support and maintain his wife and minor children, if any, upon a complaint filed and suit prosecuted as in other chancery causes; and the court shall make such orders as may be necessary to adjudicate and define his financial obligations to such wife or children or both and to fix the custody and visitation rights of such parties and to enforce the same; provided however, that such a proceeding shall not preclude either party from later maintaining any other cause of action given under this chapter for other or additional relief at any time.

History.—§1, ch. 61-112.

65.11 Effect of decree of alimony.—A decree of alimony granted under §65.08 and §65.09 shall release the wife from the control of her husband, and she may use her alimony, and acquire, use and dispose of other property, uncontrolled by her husband; and when the husband is about to remove himself or his property out of the state, or fraudulently convey or conceal it, the court may award a ne exeat or injunction against him or his property, and make such order or decree as will secure the wife's alimony to her.

History.—§13, Oct. 31, 1828; RS 1487; GS 1935; RGS 3198; CGL 4990.

65.12 Proceedings against absent defendants in suits for alimony.—Proceedings against absent defendants in suits for alimony shall be the same as in other chancery causes.

History.—§1488 RS 1892; GS 1936; RGS 3199; CGL 4991. cf.—Ch. 48, Constructive service of process.

65.13 Attachment or garnishment of amounts due in suits for alimony and divorce.

—So much as the court in its discretion may order of the moneys or other things due to any person or public officer, state or county, whether the head of a family or not residing in this state when the money or other thing is due for the personal labor or service of such person or otherwise, shall be subject to attachment or garnishment to enforce the orders or decrees of the courts of this state for alimony, suit money or support, or other orders or decrees made by the courts of this state in suit for divorce or alimony; and in such cases where the money or other thing sought to be attached or delayed is the salary of a public officer, state or county, the writ of attachment or garnishment may be served upon the public officer whose duty it is to pay such salary, who shall respect and obey the same as provided by law in other cases; and it shall be the duty of such officer, immediately upon receipt of such writ, to notify the public officer whose duty it is to audit or issue a warrant for the salary sought to be attached or delayed, of the service of such writ, and such officer shall not issue a warrant for so much of such salary as ordered held under said writ until such case shall be settled or determined, and then in accordance therewith, and no more of such salary than is provided for in the order of the court shall be retained by virtue of such writ.

History.—§1, ch. 4973, 1901; GS 1913; §10, ch. 7838, 1919; RGS 3200; CGL 4992.

65.14 Custody of children, etc., power of court in making orders.—In any suit for divorce or alimony, the court shall have power at any stage of the cause to make such orders touching the care, custody and maintenance of the children of the marriage, and what, if any, security to be given for the same, as from the circumstances of the parties and the nature of the case may be fit, equitable and just, and such order touching their custody as their best spiritual as well as other interests may require.

History.—§7, Oct. 31, 1828; RS 1489; GS 1398; RGS 3201; CGL 4993.

65.141 Felony to remove children from state contrary to court order.—

(1) It is unlawful for any person, in violation of a court order, to lead, take, entice or remove a child beyond the limits of this state with personal knowledge of the order.

(2) It is unlawful for any person, with criminal intent, to lead, take, entice or remove a child beyond the limits of this state during the pendency of any suit or proceedings affecting custody of a child after having received notice as required by law of the pendency of the suit or proceeding, without the permission of the court in which the suit or proceeding is pending.

(3) It is unlawful for any person, who has carried beyond the limits of this state any child whose custody is involved in any suit or proceeding pending in this state, pursuant to the order of the court in which the suit or proceeding is pending, or pursuant to the permission of such court, thereafter, to fail to produce such child in such court or deliver the child to the person designated by such court.

(4) Any person convicted of a violation of this law shall be guilty of a felony and upon conviction shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a period not to exceed 5 years.

History.—§1, ch. 29654, 1955; §1, ch. 57-337.

65.15 Modification of alimony decrees; agreements, etc.—Whenever any husband and wife heretofore, or hereafter, shall have entered into any agreement providing for the payments for, or in lieu of, separate support, maintenance or alimony, whether in connection with any action for divorce or separate maintenance, or with any voluntary property settlement, or whenever any husband has pursuant to the decree of any court of competent jurisdiction been required to make to his wife any such payments, and the circumstances of the parties or the financial ability of the husband shall have been changed since the execution of such agreement, or the rendition of such decree, either party may apply to the circuit court of the circuit in which the parties, or either of them, shall have resided at the date of the execution of such agreement, or shall reside at the date of such application, or in which such agreement shall have been executed, or in which such decree shall have been rendered, for an order and judgment decreasing or increasing the amount of such separate support, maintenance or alimony, and the court, after giving both parties an opportunity to be heard, and to introduce evidence relevant to the issue, shall make such order and judgment as justice and equity shall require, with due regard to the changed circumstances and the financial ability of the husband, decreasing or increasing or confirming the amount of separate support, maintenance or alimony provided for in such agreement, or in such decree.

Thereafter the husband shall pay and be liable to pay the amount of separate support, maintenance or alimony directed in such order and judgment, and no other or further amount, and such agreement, or such decree, for the purpose of all actions or proceedings of every nature and wherever instituted, whether within or without this state, shall be deemed to be, and shall be, modified accordingly, and it shall be unlawful to commence, or cause to be commenced as party, or attorney, or agent, or otherwise, in behalf of either party in any court any action or proceeding otherwise than as herein provided, nor shall any court have jurisdiction to entertain any action or proceeding otherwise than as herein provided to enforce the recovery of separate support, maintenance or alimony otherwise than pursuant to such order and judgment.

This section is declaratory of existing public policy and laws of this state, which is hereby affirmed and confirmed in conformance with the provisions hereof, and it shall be the duty of the judges of the circuit courts of this state to construe liberally the provisions hereof in order to effect the objects and purposes hereof and the public policy of the state as hereby declared.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 16780, 1935; CGL 4993(1).

65.16 Divorce; subsequent proceedings; costs, fees, etc.—

(1) Whenever any legal proceeding is brought for the purpose of enforcing a decree or order of the court, providing for the payment of alimony or support for children, the court may, in the exercise of a sound judicial discretion, allow to the divorced wife such sums of suit money, including a reasonable attorney's fee, as from the circumstances of the parties and the nature of the case shall be fit, equitable and just.

(2) Any order so made under the provisions of this section shall be enforced in the same manner as are other chancery orders or decrees.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 25037, 1949.

65.17 Attorneys' fees, suit money, etc., in alimony, divorce and similar proceedings.—Whenever any court shall make any allowance for attorney's fees, suit money or costs in any divorce, alimony or support proceeding pending before it, such court may direct that all such allowances be paid to the attorneys or other persons for whose ultimate benefit such allowances are made.

History.—§1, ch. 22676, 1945.

65.18 Alimony and support and maintenance money for children; additional method for enforcing orders and decrees; costs, expenses.—

(1) An order or decree for the payment of alimony or support money for children, or both, entered by any court of this state, may be enforced by another equity court in this state in the following manner:

(a) The person to whom such alimony or support money is payable, or for whose benefit the same is payable, under such order or decree, may procure a certified copy of the said order or decree and file the same, together with a petition for enforcement, in the equity court of this state for the county wherein the said person may reside, or in the county wherein the person charged with the payment of such alimony or support money may reside or be found.

(b) Upon the filing of such certified copy and petition for enforcement the clerk of the court wherein filed shall forthwith issue a rule, directed to the person charged with the payment of such alimony or support money under such order or decree, requiring that he either pay the sum or sums alleged to be due forthwith or show cause before the court on a day certain (not to exceed twenty days) why he fails or refuses to pay the sum or sums alleged to be due.

(c) The said petition and return to the rule to show cause shall constitute the pleadings upon which the issues shall be tried; any new, additional or affirmative matter alleged in the return not in reply to the petition shall be deemed denied for the purpose of such trial. The cause shall be tried in the same manner and under the same rules and regulations as if held by the court entering the said order or decree, and the court may enter such orders of enforcement as to it may seem proper, including contempt proceedings.

(d) Should the petition or the return to the rule to show cause seek a change in the amount of the alimony or support money awarded by the said order or decree the court shall have jurisdiction to adjudicate such application and amend or change the said order or decree; provided, however, that the clerk of the circuit court in which such order is entered changing the original order or decree, shall prepare and forward a certified copy thereof to the court of original jurisdiction and such order shall be recorded in the original proceedings and become a part thereof. Should the petition or the return to the rule to show cause ask for a modification of the said order or decree the court may, in its discretion, determine that the cause should be determined by the court entering the original order or decree and transfer the proceedings to such court for determination as a part of the original proceedings.

(2) The court wherein such a proceeding may be brought shall have power and jurisdiction to award costs and expenses, including the cost of certifying and recording the order entered in said cause in court of original jurisdiction and a reasonable attorney's fee, as to it may seem equitable and proper.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 28187, 1953.

65.19 Same; default in undertaking of bond posted to insure payment.—

(1) When there is a default in the undertaking of any bond posted to insure the payment of alimony or support money, either temporary or permanent, for the wife, or child or children of the parties, the court in which the order was issued may, without further notice, from time to time, by order, where the amount involved is liquidated, require the penalty of such bond, or any part thereof as may be necessary to cure the then existing default, of the principal in such bond, under any order theretofore made in said cause.

(2) The sureties under such bond, or, in case of a cash bond, the sheriff of the county holding such cash bond, shall be required by order of said court to pay into the registry of the said court or to any party the court may direct, the sum necessary to cure such default.

(3) If the principal or sureties, or the sheriff holding such cash bond, shall fail to pay into the registry of the court, or to any party the court may have directed within the time required by any order aforesaid, the court may thereupon, without further notice, enforce the payment thereof by contempt against the principal or sureties on such bond or the sheriff holding such cash bond, or may cause to be issued an execution against such principal, sureties or sheriff for the amount unpaid under any such prior order or orders, provided that no sureties on such bond shall be liable for more than the penalty stated therein.

History.—§1-3, ch. 28288, 1953.

65.20 Entry of divorce decree, delay period.—In any divorce proceeding instituted in this state no final decree of divorce may be entered until at least twenty days have elapsed from the date of the filing of the original complaint praying for a divorce; provided however that the court, upon a showing that injustice will result from this delay, may, notwithstanding the provision of this law, enter a final decree of divorce at an earlier date.

History.—§1, ch. 57-258; §1, ch. 59-64; §1, ch. 61-123.

65.21 Social investigation and recommendations when child custody is in issue.—In any case pending before a circuit court where the custody of a minor child is in issue, the court may, in its discretion, request the state welfare department to make an investigation and social study concerning all pertinent details relating to such child and each parent; and said welfare department shall, upon request by the court, furnish the court a written report with its recommendation together with a written statement of facts found in its social investigations on which its recommendations are based. The court may consider the information contained in such report in making a decision on the child's custody, and the technical rules of evidence shall not exclude such report from consideration by the court.

- 66.47 Definitions.

66.01 Partition of property; jurisdiction.—Suits for a partition of real estate shall in all cases be by complaint and all proceedings, except where herein otherwise provided, shall be as in other cases in chancery.

History.—§1, Mar. 14, 1844; RS 1490; GS 1939; RGS 3202; CGL 4994; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

66.02 Partition of property; venue of suit.—Suits for partition shall be brought in the county where the lands which are the subject matter of the suit lie; but if the lands lie in more than one county, the suit may be brought in either county, in which case the decrees shall be recorded in every county in which any part of the lands lie.

History.—§1, Mar. 14, 1844; RS 1491; GS 1940; RGS 3203; CGL 4995.

66.03 Partition of property; parties.—Such bill may be filed by any one or more of several joint tenants, tenants in common or coparceners, against their cotenants, coparceners or others interested in the lands to be divided.

History.—§2, Mar. 14, 1844; RS 1492; GS 1941; RGS 3204; CGL 4996.

66.04 Partition of property; form and contents of complaint.—Such complaint shall be sworn to by one or more of the complainants and shall allege a description of the lands or premises of which partition is prayed, by metes or bounds or other sufficient description, and shall state according to the best of the knowledge and belief of the complainants the name and places of residence of the several owners, joint tenants, tenants in common or coparceners, or other persons interested in said lands or real estate, the quantity or proportionate share held by each, and such other matters, if any, as may be necessary to enable the court to adjudicate fully upon the rights and interests of the party. But if the names, residence, quantity of interest or proportionate share of any of the owners or claimants of such lands are unknown to the complainants, then it shall be so stated in such complaint, and such suit may proceed in the same manner as though such unknown persons or defendants were named in the complaint.

History.—§2, Mar. 14, 1844; RS 1493; GS 1942; RGS 3205; CGL 4997; §11, ch. 29737, 1955.

66.05 Partition of property; decree.—Upon application for entry of a final decree, made after a decree pro confesso, or after litigation of the cause, the court shall proceed to ascertain and adjudicate the rights and interests of the parties, either by a reference to a master, by a hearing upon the pleadings and proof, or in such other way or manner as may be most convenient and according to the ordinary rules and practice of the court; and shall also decree that partition be made if it shall appear that the parties are entitled to the same. When the rights and interests or proportions of the complainants are clearly established to the satisfaction of the court, or are undisputed, the court may, by decree, order partition to be made, and the shares, proportions or interests of the complainant or complainants, and such of the defendants as have established and satisfactorily proved their respective shares, interests or proportions, to be set off and allotted to them, leaving for future adjustment (by further proceedings in the same cause) the rights, shares and interests of the other defendants.

History.—§4, Mar. 14, 1844; RS 1494; GS 1943; RGS 3206; CGL 4998.

66.06 Partition of property; commissioners to make.—

(1) APPOINTMENT AND REMOVAL.—Upon a decree of partition being made, the court shall appoint three suitable persons to act as commissioners in making the partition decree, who shall be selected by the court, unless agreed upon by the parties. They may be removed by the court, upon good cause to be shown, and others appointed in their place.

(2) POWERS, DUTIES, COMPENSATION AND REPORT OF COMMISSIONERS.—Such commissioners shall, before entering upon their duties, be sworn by any officer authorized to administer oaths in Florida, faithfully and impartially to execute the trust imposed in them; shall have power to employ a surveyor or surveyors, if necessary, for the purpose of making such partition; shall be allowed such sum as may be deemed reasonable by the court for their services; shall proceed to make partition of the premises in question according to the order of the court, and having made such partition, shall report the same in writing to the court without delay.

(3) EXCEPTIONS TO REPORT, AND FINAL DECREE.—Any party in interest may file objections or exceptions to the report of the commissioners within ten days after he shall be notified of the filing of the same; or if he is absent from the state so that a notice cannot be given, within thirty days after the same is filed; if no objections or exceptions are filed as aforesaid, or if the court is satisfied, upon the hearing of any such objections or exceptions, that they are not well founded, then the report shall be confirmed, and a final decree shall be entered up, which shall accordingly vest in the respective parties the title to the several parcels or portions of the premises allotted to them respectively, and shall give to each of them the possession of and quiet title to their respective shares as against the other parties to the suit, or those claiming through or under them.

(4) APPOINTMENT OF MASTER WHERE PROPERTY NOT SUBJECT TO PARTITION.—Upon an uncontested allegation in the complaint that the property sought to be partitioned is indivisible and is not subject to partition without prejudice to the owners of same, upon a decree of partition being made, if the court is satisfied that such allegation is correct, the court may thereupon, upon application of either party and notice to the others before the court, appoint a special master to make sale of the property either at private sale or in the same manner as provided for sale thereof by §66.07.

History.—§§5-8, Mar. 14, 1844; RS 1495; GS 1944; RGS 3207; CGL 4999; (2) §1, ch. 28200, 1953; (2) §1, ch. 29685, (4) n. §1, ch. 29928, 1955.

66.07 Partition of property; sale where nondivisible.—

(1) THE ORDER OF SALE.—If the commissioners shall report to the court that the lands, tenements or hereditaments of which partition shall have been directed are so situated that a partition thereof cannot be made without great prejudice to the owners of the same, and if the court shall be satisfied that such report is just and correct, the court may thereupon, upon application of either party, upon notice to the others before the court, if said others be in the state, order the premises so situated to be sold at public auction to the highest bidder, by and under the direction of the said commissioners, and the moneys arising from such sale to be paid into the court, to be divided among the respective parties interested in proportion to their shares or interest.

(2) CONDITIONS OF SALE.—For good cause to be shown, the court may order such sale to be made upon a reasonable credit for part or all of the purchase money, but in all cases at least one-third of the purchase money shall be paid down, unless all parties consent to a credit for the whole; and in all cases the purchase money not paid down shall be secured by bond and mortgage on the premises, and such other additional security as the court shall direct.

(3) CONFIRMATION OF SALE AND CONVEYANCE.—Such sale must have been reported to the court, and the money arising therefrom paid into the court, and the sale approved by the court and a conveyance ordered, before any conveyance in pursuance of such sale shall be made by the commissioners.

History.—§§8-10, Mar. 14, 1844; RS 1496; GS 1945; RGS 3208; CGL 5000.

66.08 Partition of property; costs; taxes; attorneys fees, etc.—Every party in interest, whether complainant or respondent, shall, by decree of the court, be bound to pay a share of the costs and charges, including attorneys' fees to complainant's solicitor or defendant's solicitor or to each of them commensurate with their services rendered, and of benefit to the partition, in the discretion of the court, to be determined upon equitable principles arising from the suit for the partition or sale of the land in proportion to his interest; and such decree shall be binding on all his goods and chattels, lands or tenements; and in case of sale the court may order the same to be paid or retained out of the moneys arising from such sale and due or belonging to the parties who ought to pay the same. All taxes, state, county and municipal, due thereon at the time of such sale, shall be paid out of the purchase money.

History.—§11, Mar. 14, 1844; RS 1497; §1, ch. 4545, 1897; GS 1946; RGS 3209; CGL 5001; §1, ch. 57-130.

66.09 Partition of property; personalty.—

All the provisions of law applicable to partition and sale for partition of real estate, and the proceedings therefor, shall be applicable to the partition and sale for partition of personal property and the proceedings therefor, as far as the nature of the property will permit.

History.—§1498, RS 1892; GS 1947; RGS 3210; CGL 5002.

66.10 Real estate; certain jurisdiction over, conferred.—Courts of chancery in this state shall entertain suits by any person or corporation claiming to own any tract or parcel of land or portions thereof, or by two or more claiming to own the same tract or parcel of land or portion thereof; under a common title against all persons or corporations more than one, occupying or claiming title to said tract or portions thereof adversely to the complainant or complainants, whether the defendants claim or hold under a common title or not; and in such suits shall determine the title of the complainant or complainants, and each of them, as against the defendants, and each of them, and shall make a decree quieting the title of, and awarding possession to, the complainant or complainants entitled thereto; and may award injunctions, temporary or perpetual, appoint receivers, and make such orders as to costs as may be necessary for the protection of the rights of the parties.

History.—§1, ch. 3884, 1889; RS 1500; GS 1949; RGS 3212; CGL 5004.

66.11 Real estate; removing clouds, etc., generally.—A complaint may be brought and prosecuted to a final decree by any person or corporation, whether in actual possession or not, claiming title, legal or equitable, to real estate against any person or corporation not in actual possession, who has, appears to have, or claims an adverse estate, interest, or claim, legal or equitable, therein, for the purpose of determining such estate, interest, or claim and quieting or removing clouds from the title to such real estate.

It shall be no bar to the granting of relief to the complainant in such cases that the title has not been litigated at law or that there may be only one litigant to each side of the controversy, or that the adverse claim, estate, or interest against which such complaint is brought is void upon its face, or, though not void on its face, requires evidence, extrinsic of itself, to establish its validity.

History.—§1, ch. 4739, 1899; GS 1950; RGS 3213; §1, ch. 10223, 1925; CGL 5005; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

66.12 Real estate; removing clouds; plaintiffs.—Any suit in chancery for the purpose of quieting title to, or clearing a cloud from, real estate may be brought and maintained by and in the name of the owner, or of any prior owner, who may have warranted such title; and all lands, the title to which is subject to a common defect, may be embraced in one suit irrespective of the number of existing owner-ships, legal or equitable; and the decree for complainant shall enure to the benefits of each existing owner to the extent of his or her legal or equitable title.

History.—§1, ch. 10221, 1925; CGL 5006.

66.13 Real estate; removing clouds; defendants.—The complainant, or any defendant may, however, make parties to such cause any and all persons having title to, or otherwise interested in, such land, or any portion thereof, and if any defendant shall name a new party as defendant, such defendant shall be entitled to process by way of subpoena, or otherwise, as prescribed by law to bring in such other person or persons so named as defendants, but no person so named as defendant, and no person not made a party to any such suit shall be bound by any decree rendered therein adverse to his interest, but any decree favorable to any such interest shall enure to the benefit of any such party, as hereinabove provided.

History.—§2, ch. 10221, 1925; CGL 5007.

66.14 Real estate; removing clouds; joinder.—Where two or more persons are interested in removing a cloud or quieting title to one or several parcels of land as against the same clouds or adverse claims, it shall be permissible for them to unite as complainants in a single complaint for such purpose, and to obtain a single decree removing such clouds, and quieting the titles, although their interests relate to separate portions of the land.

History.—§1, ch. 10222, 1925; CGL 5008; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

66.15 Real estate; removing clouds; abatement.—Such suits shall not abate or become defective by the death or transfer of interest of one or more complainants, provided other complainants survive whose interest continues, and the decree rendered, whether for or against the complainants, shall bind the successors in interest, pendent lite, of a complainant, without the necessity of making a suggestion of the death or transfer of an original complainant, or making his successors parties to the suit.

History.—§1, ch. 10222, 1925; CGL 5009.

66.16 Quieting title; additional remedy; jurisdiction.—Courts of chancery in this state shall entertain suits by any person or corporation claiming title to any tract or parcel of land, or portion thereof, or where any two or more are claiming to own the same land or any portion thereof, under a common title, against all persons or corporations claiming title to said land adversely to complainant whether defendants claim or hold under a common title or not; and in said suits shall determine the title of the complainant and may make decrees quieting and confirming the title, and awarding possession to party or parties entitled thereto; provided, however, that if the defendant or any of them in such case is in the actual possession of any part of the land involved in such suit, a trial by a jury may be demanded by either party, whereupon the court shall order said cause to be docketed on the law side of said court, and at the next regular term thereof shall cause an issue in ejectment to be made up and tried by a jury as to any lands claimed to be in the actual possession of the defendant, or either of them. But this provision for a trial by a jury shall not affect the proceedings as to any lands involved in such suit as are not claimed to be in the actual possession of the defendant. The court in equity may proceed to a final decree without awaiting the determination of the issue in ejectment herein above mentioned.

History.—§1, ch. 11383, 1925; CGL 5010.

66.17 Quieting title; additional remedy; grounds.—Whenever a person or corporation, not the rightful owner of any real estate shall have any conveyance or other evidence of title thereto, or shall assert any claim, or pretend to have any right or title thereto, which may cast a cloud, doubt or suspicion on the title of the real owner, or whenever any person or corporation is the true and equitable owner of any real estate, the record title to which is not in said person or corporation, because of the defective execution of any deed or mortgage by reason of the omission of a seal thereon, the lack of witnesses, or any defect or omission in the wording of the acknowledgement of a party or parties thereto, where such person or corporation claims title thereto by, through or under such defective instrument and such defective instrument was from the apparent purpose thereof made and delivered by grantor therein to convey or mortgage such real estate and was spread upon the proper record in the county wherein such real estate lies, or where possession of any such real estate has been held by any person or corporation adverse to the record owner thereof or his, her or their heirs and assigns until such adverse possession has ripened into a good and sufficient title under color of title, or without color of title, under the statutes of this state, such person or corporation may file a complaint in the circuit court of any county in which any part of the said real estate is situated to have such conveyance or other evidence of claim or title canceled and such cloud, doubt or suspicion removed from such title, and/or to have his title established, quieted and confirmed, whether such real owner be in possession or not, or be threatened to be disturbed in his possession or not, and whether the defendant or defendants be resident of this state or not, and whether the title thereto has been litigated in a court of law or not, or whether the adverse claim or title or interest is void on its face or not, or if not void on its face may require evidence extrinsic of itself to establish its validity.

History.—§2, ch. 11383, 1925; CGL 5011; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

66.18 Quieting title; additional remedy; bill; notice, etc.—The complainant shall set forth in his complaint his claim of title and the names and places of residence of all persons interested in the land, so far as known to the complainant or he can ascertain by diligent search and inquiry, and where the names of persons interested or the places of residences are unknown and have not been ascertained after diligent inquiry the complaint shall so state, and in all cases shall be sworn to; and where the names and places of residence of persons in interest are given they shall be made parties defendant; and where the complaint shall show parties interested who are unknown to the complainant and that he has made diligent search, and inquiry for their names and could not obtain them, all persons interested may be made defendants by a notice addressed "To all persons having or claiming any interest in the following described lands (here describing lands)." If the complainant shall allege in his complaint that he does not know and has not been able to ascertain by diligent search and inquiry whether any defendant be dead or alive, the above notice may also be addressed to such person "if alive, and if dead to his unknown heirs, devisees, legatees, or grantees." The notice in such cases shall state the nature of the suit and require the appearance of all parties in interest on the return day, to be fixed in said notice at not less than four weeks from the date of the first publication of the notice. The said notice shall be published once a week for four consecutive weeks in a newspaper having general circulation in the county where the suit is brought, if there be one, and where there is no newspaper in said county the notice shall be posted in three conspicuous places in said county, one of which shall be at the front door of the county court house and one of which shall be upon some portion of the land involved in the suit, and proof of such posting shall be made by affidavit of the person or persons posting the same. The clerk shall make and enter an order for publication of said notice, and shall cause the same to be published as aforesaid, and the costs thereof shall be taxed as other costs, and proof of such publication shall be made by affidavit of the owner, publisher, proprietor, editor, business manager or foreman of the newspaper in which said notice was published, and such affidavit shall set forth specifically the date of each publication of said notice, and shall have attached thereto a copy of said notice, and the same shall be recorded in the chancery order book of the court in which the suit is pending. If the place of residence of any nonresident defendant shall be stated in the complaint the clerk shall mail a copy of said notice, postage prepaid by United States mail, to each such defendant, and shall make an entry on the docket showing to whom, where and the date, each of such notices were mailed, for which he shall receive as costs the sum of twenty-five cents for each notice so mailed and entered as aforesaid.

History.—§3, ch. 11383, 1925; CGL 5012; §2, ch. 29737, 1955; §24, ch. 57-1.

66.19 Quieting title; additional remedy; procedure; guardian ad litem; evidence; decree, etc.—Such suits shall proceed as in other cases in equity, except when otherwise provided herein, and except also that if the complaint be taken as confessed, a guardian ad litem shall not be appointed unless it shall affirmatively appear that the interests of minors, persons of unsound mind, or convicts are involved. If the allegations of the complaint are taken as confessed and decree pro confesso rendered, a final decree may thereupon be rendered without the taking of further proof, or reference thereof to a master. Should any defendant appear and defend said suit claiming actual possession of some portion of the land involved in the suit, it shall be heard at a time to be set by said court. In the trial of such causes either party may introduce in evidence any relevant part of any public record affecting the title to the land involved, in lieu of certified copies thereof.

History.—§4, ch. 11383, 1925; CGL 5013; §12, ch. 29737, 1955.

66.20 Quieting title; additional remedy; derangement of title.—In all such cases the complainant shall deraign his title, from the original source, or for a period of at least seven years prior to the filing of the complaint, unless the court shall otherwise direct, setting forth the book and page of such records where any instrument affecting the title is recorded, if same be of record, unless the complainant claims from a common source with the defendant.

History.—§5, ch. 11383, 1925; CGL 5014; am. §1, ch. 24293, 1947; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

66.21 Quieting title; additional remedy; decree.—If it shall appear from the sworn bill of complaint in any case wherein a decree pro confesso has been entered against the defendants, or if it shall appear from a preponderance of the evidence taken after issue has been joined by any defendant or defendants, that the complainant has the legal title to the said real estate; or is the true, equitable owner of the real estate described in the bill of complaint but has not a good record title thereto because of one or more of the defects mentioned in §66.17 in the execution of such deed or deeds, mortgage or mortgages, and that such defective deed or deeds, mortgage or mortgages, was or were in fact made and delivered to the complainant or those under whom he claims with the apparent purpose of conveying or mortgaging the real estate described therein or any interest therein but failed to do so because of such defect or defects; or if it shall appear from the bill of complaint in any case where a decree pro confesso has been entered against the defendants, or if it shall appear from a preponderance of the evidence taken upon issue joined that the complainant and those under whom he claims have been in open, notorious, adverse and continuous possession of such real estate claiming the same under color of title, or without color of title, for a period of time and in the manner that would in law ripen into a good legal title to the real estate involved; then in either or any of such cases above enumerated the court shall enter a decree removing the alleged cloud from the title to the said real estate and forever clearing and confirming the title to said real estate in and to the complainant and those claiming under the complainant since the commencement of said suit, and decreeing the said complainant or those then claiming under him to have, hold and possess a good and sufficient fee simple title absolute in and to said real estate or the interest therein and thereby cleared of cloud and quieted and confirmed.

History.—§6, ch. 11383, 1925; CGL 5015.

66.22 Quieting title; additional remedy; opening decree, etc.—Any person not personally served with process in said suit and who had no actual knowledge thereof before decree may come in within sixty days from the rendition of such decree and upon application showing prima facie evidence of interest shall be permitted to open and relitigate the same; provided further, that this provision shall not lengthen the time for taking appeals, and no person whether under disability or otherwise shall take an appeal after the expiration of such sixty days.

History.—§7, ch. 11383, 1925; CGL 5016; §16, ch. 29615, 1955.

66.23 Quieting title; additional remedy; recording final decree.—All final decrees rendered in such causes may be recorded in the record of deeds to land in the county or counties in which the land is situated, which decrees shall operate to vest title in like manner as though a conveyance were executed by a special master or commissioner of the court under its order.

History.—§8, ch. 11383, 1925; CGL 5017.

66.24 Quieting title; additional remedy; operation.—§§66.16-66.23 of this chapter are intended as a remedy cumulative or additional to other existing remedies and should be so construed.

History.—§9, ch. 11383, 1925; CGL 5018.

66.25 Quieting title as to deeds without joinder of wife where separated for 30 years, etc.—A complaint may be brought to quiet the title to property in the state and to preclude any wife from claiming any dower interest or any heirs claiming any interest to property located in the state when the following statement of facts exists.

When any husband and wife have not lived and cohabited together as husband and wife for a period of thirty years or more, and during the said period of time the said husband has conveyed real estate located in the state as a single man, and where the said real estate has come into the hands of purchasers for a valuable consideration, without notice of the fact that said husband was in fact a married man at the time he conveyed said real estate as aforesaid, and where the said purchasers in acquiring said property for a valuable consideration, have relied on the acknowledgement to deeds by the said husband to the effect that he was a single man, and it afterwards became known that he is and was a married man at the time he so deeded said property, and has never been divorced and refuses to voluntarily get a divorce to clear the title to properties so deeded by him as a single man, so as to preclude his wife from claiming any inchoate dower interest therein, and his heirs from claiming any interest therein, and where the title to the property so deeded by him as such single man has passed into the hands of purchasers for valuable consideration, without notice of the fact that he was married, as aforesaid, and when the wife has never lived in the county where such property was located, with the husband as his wife, and has never asserted any inchoate right to dower in said real estate, such inchoate right to dower is hereby divested and removed, and for all purposes terminated, and is a cloud on the title to said real estate, and the purchaser of such property so deeded by the husband as such single man under the aforesaid facts, shall have the right to bring a complaint to remove the said cloud on the title and to prevent his wife or heirs from ever claiming any dower interest or any other interest from such purchasers for valuable consideration without notice of the fact of such marriage, and from their successors in title. And the chancery court, shall, when the above facts are proven in support of such complaint brought by such purchasers, render judgment in favor of such purchasers as complainants, and decree that the wife and heirs of the husband are forever barred and perpetually enjoined from ever claiming any interest to the property arising out of dower or otherwise, and that the fact that the wife never joined in the execution of the deeds by which the husband deeded the said property as a single man under the facts above stated, will not be effective to reserve an inchoate right of dower in the property held by such innocent purchasers, and the chancery court shall so decree.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 19116, 1939; CGL 5011(1), 5011(2); §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

66.26 Tax titles; quieting title; parties.—Any grantee under any tax deed issued by the state, or any municipality or other political subdivision thereof, or any successor in title to such grantee, or any purchaser from the state, or any municipality or other political subdivision thereof, of any land the title to which has been acquired by this state or such municipality or political subdivision through any manner of proceeding or foreclosure for the nonpayment of taxes or special assessments, or the successor in title to any such purchaser, may maintain a suit in the chancery courts of this state for the purpose of quieting the title to the lands included in such tax deed, or so purchased from this state or any municipality or other political subdivision thereof, against the holders of the record title to said lands, and against any other person or corporation claiming any interest in said lands or any lien or encumbrance thereon, prior to the issuance of any such tax deed or prior to the loss of title to said lands in any such tax proceeding or foreclosure.

History.—§1, ch. 21822, 1943.

66.27 Tax title; procedure.—The practice and procedure and methods of serving process in suits brought under this law shall be as prescribed by the laws of this state for other suits to quiet title. Suits may be maintained hereunder whether or not the plaintiff is in possession of the lands involved; provided, however, that where the defendant is in actual possession of said lands a jury trial may be had as provided in the case of other suits to quiet title. Where the suit is based upon a tax deed, the complaint need not deraign title beyond the issuance of the tax deed. Where the suit is based upon a conveyance by this state, or any municipality or other political subdivision thereof, of land the title to which it has acquired through a foreclosure or other proceeding for the nonpayment of taxes, the complaint need not deraign title beyond the deed or other instrument or act vesting title in the state or municipality or other political subdivision of the state.

History.—§2, ch. 21822, 1943; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

66.28 Quieting title to real property.—Any person who claims an estate of inheritance or for life in any real property within this state, or who has conveyed any such real property by warranty deed, whether in the actual and peaceable possession thereof or otherwise, may bring a proceeding in rem, in the circuit court of the county wherein such property is situate, or if situate in two or more counties, then in the circuit court of either of said counties, against all the world for the purpose of establishing his title to said property and to determine all adverse claims thereto, whenever:

(1) CLAIM UNDER WRITTEN INSTRUMENT, JUDGMENT, DECREE, ETC.—Such person claims such estate of inheritance or for life by, through or under a conveyance, judgment or decree and deraigns his title from a patent or other conveyance from the Spanish Crown, the United States, the state or other sovereign;

(2) CLAIM UNDER TAX DEED OR FORECLOSURE.—Such person claims such estate of inheritance or for life by, through or under a tax deed or other conveyance executed pursuant to the foreclosure of a lien for delinquent taxes or other assessments made by the state or any of its political subdivisions;

(3) ADVERSE POSSESSION UNDER COLOR OF TITLE.—Such person, or those under whom he claims, entered into possession of said real property under a claim of title exclusive to any other right, founding such claim upon a written instrument as being a conveyance of said real property, or upon a judgment or decree of some competent court, and has continued in the occupation and possession of the real property included in such instrument, judgment or decree for seven years; or

(4) ADVERSE POSSESSION WITHOUT COLOR OF TITLE.—Such person, or those under whom he claims, entered into possession of said real property under a claim of title exclusive to any other right, but not founded upon a written instrument, judgment or decree, and has continued in the occupation and possession of said real property for seven years; or

(5) LOST, STOLEN OR DESTROYED PUBLIC RECORDS.—The public records of the county wherein said property is situate, or the public records of a county from which said county or a part thereof was formed, have been or may hereafter be lost, stolen or destroyed, in whole or in part, so that the chain of title to said property does not appear of record in said counties.

History.—§1, ch. 24099, 1947.

66.29 Proceeding in rem; how instituted.—The proceeding in rem shall be instituted by filing a complaint in the circuit court of the county wherein the said property is situate, of, if situate in two or more counties, in either of said counties, in which the party filing the same shall be designated as the plaintiff, and "all persons claiming any estate, right, title or interest in, or lien upon, the real property herein described (that is described in the complaint), or any part thereof," shall be designated as defendants. The complaint shall contain a statement of the applicable facts enumerated in §66.28, a particular description of the real property to be involved in the proceeding, and a specification of the estate, right, title or interest claimed by the plaintiff, or theretofore conveyed by him by warranty deed.

History.—§2, ch. 24099, 1947; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

66.30 Sworn statement to be filed with complaint.—At the time of the filing of the complaint, unless the following facts to be shown by the complaint, the plaintiff shall file with said complaint, a sworn statement setting forth and showing:

(1) The character of his estate, right, title, or interest in the real property described in the complaint; or theretofore conveyed by him by warranty deed and to whom conveyed;

(2) The character of his possession in said property, the period of time the same has existed and for whom obtained;

(3) Whether or not he has ever made any conveyance of the property, or any part thereof, or any interest therein, and, if so, to whom;

(4) A statement of any and all outstanding mortgages, deeds of trust, leases and other encumbrances thereon;

(5) That he does not know and has never been informed of any other person who claims, or who may claim, any estate, right, title or interest in, or lien upon, the property, or any part thereof, adversely to him, or if he does know or has been informed of any such person, then the name and address of such person.

If the plaintiff is unable to state any one or more of the matters herein required, he shall set forth and show, fully and explicitly, the reason for such inability. Such sworn statement shall constitute a part of the record in the cause. If the plaintiff be a corporation, the statement may be made by any officer thereof. If the plaintiff be a person under guardianship, the sworn statement may be made by the guardian. If the plaintiff be a partnership or firm, the sworn statement may be made by any member thereof.

History.—§3, ch. 24099, 1947; §13, ch. 29737, 1955.

66.31 Form, issuance and service of summons.—Upon the filing of the complaint, a summons shall be issued by the clerk of the court, under the seal of the court, which shall contain the name of the court and the county wherein the proceeding is brought, the name of the plaintiff, a particular description of the real property involved and shall be directed to "all persons claiming any estate, right, title or interest in, or lien upon, the real property herein described, or any part thereof," as defendants. A summons in substantially the following form shall be sufficient, to wit:

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE JUDICIAL CIRCUIT, IN AND FOR _____ COUNTY, FLORIDA, IN CHANCERY, CASE NO.
_____.

Plaintiff,

v.

All persons claiming any estate, right title or interest in, or lien upon, the real property herein described, or any part thereof, Defendants.

THE STATE OF FLORIDA, TO:

All persons claiming any estate, right, title, or interest in, or lien upon, the real property herein described, or any part thereof,

Defendants, Greetings:

You are hereby notified that a proceeding to quiet title has been brought in the circuit court for _____ county, Florida, against all persons claiming any estate, right, title or interest in, or lien upon, the following described real property, situate in _____ county, Florida, to wit: (Here insert legal description of the real property involved in the proceeding) and you are hereby required to file with the clerk of said court your written appearance (personally, or by attorney) in said proceeding, on or before the _____ day of _____, 19____ (which date shall be not less than twenty-eight days, nor more than sixty days, after the issuance of this summons), and thereafter to file service on the opposing counsel and file with said clerk your written defenses, if any, to the complaint at the times prescribed by law, therein setting up the estate, right, title or interest in, or lien upon, the above described property claimed by you. Herein fail not, or judgment will be entered against you by default.

WITNESS my hand and the seal of said court at _____, Florida, this _____, 19____.

As clerk of the above styled court.

History.—§4, ch. 24099, 1947; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

66.32 Constructive service of summons.—

(1) The summons, issued as aforesaid, shall be published once each week for four consecutive weeks (four publications being sufficient) in some newspaper (as defined by §49.03), published in the county where the suit is pending, or if there be no newspaper published in said county and the lands in suit lie in two or more counties, then in any county wherein the said lands lie; and if there be no such newspaper in which to publish the same, the same may be published by posting true copies of said summons in three or more public places within the county, one of which shall be the courthouse door. No order for publication of such summons shall be necessary, nor shall any affidavit therefor be required. Proof of publication of such summons shall be made by uniform affidavit (§§49.04 et seq.).

(2) If the complaint, as provided in §66.30, discloses the name of any person claiming an estate, right, title or interest in, or lien upon, the real property described in the summons, adverse to the plaintiff, that fact, together with the name and address of said person, if stated, shall be stated in a memorandum, which shall be in substance, as follows, to wit:

"The following persons are said to claim an estate, right, title or interest in, or lien upon, the property described in the summons adverse to the plaintiff, to wit: (here give names and addresses of such persons)." A copy of the summons, with this memorandum attached thereto, shall be posted in a conspicuous place on each separate parcel of the property described in the complaint within fifteen days after the first publication of the summons. The memorandum need not be published with the summons. Proof of posting, as aforesaid, shall be made by the affidavit of the person posting the same.

History.—§5, ch. 24099, 1947; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

66.33 Service of summons on residents and on nonresidents.—

(1) If the complaint discloses the name of any person who claims or may claim any estate, right, title or interest in, or lien upon, the real property adverse to the plaintiff, the summons, with a copy of the memorandum provided for in §66.32 attached, shall be served upon such person, if he be found within this state, in the manner prescribed by law for service of summons ad respondendum.

(2) If such person be not found within this state, a copy of the summons shall be, within fifteen days after the first publication of the said summons as provided in §66.32, deposited in the United States mail, enclosed in a sealed envelope, postage prepaid, addressed to such person at the address given in the complaint.

(3) If no address be given as aforesaid, or if such person be a resident of this state but cannot be found after due diligence within the state, within fifteen days after the first publication of the summons aforesaid, then copies of the summons shall be mailed to such persons, addressed to them at the county seat or county seats of the county or counties wherein the real property described in the complaint lies.

History.—§6, ch. 24099, 1947; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

66.34 Jurisdiction of court.—Upon the completion of the publication and posting of the summons and its service upon and mailing to the persons, if any, upon whom it is hereby directed to be so specifically served, the court shall have full and complete jurisdiction over the plaintiff, the property and the person of everyone having or claiming any estate, right, title or interest in, or lien upon, said property, or any part thereof, and shall be deemed to have acquired the possession and control of said property for the purposes of the proceeding, and shall have full and complete jurisdiction to render the decree provided for in this law.

History.—§7, ch. 24099, 1947.

66.35 Pleading to complaint.—Within the time required for pleading to the complaint, or within such further time as the court may, for good cause grant, any person having or claiming any estate, right, title or interest in, or lien upon, said property, or any part thereof, may appear and make himself a party defendant to the proceeding by pleading to the complaint. All motions, answers and other pleadings shall specifically set forth the estate, right, title, interest or lien claimed by the pleader, to entitle the pleader to be heard in court.

History.—§8, ch. 24099, 1947; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

66.36 Lis pendens.—The plaintiff shall file with his complaint a lis pendens, in the manner and form prescribed by §47.49, which shall be recorded as provided by said section.

History.—§9, ch. 24099, 1947; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

66.37 Default, decree pro confesso.—Upon the return day of the summons the clerk of the court shall enter an order that the complaint be taken pro confesso against "all persons claiming any estate, right, title or interest in, or lien upon, the real property described in the complaint filed herein, or any part thereof, who have not appeared herein." If any person file an appearance in said proceeding, within the time allowed by law, but fail to plead or answer within the time required, the plaintiff may, at his election, take an order, to be entered by the clerk or judge as of course, that the complaint be taken pro confesso as against any such person. Entry of the decree pro confesso shall confess all the allegations of the complaint well pleaded, and the court need not require proof of said allegations or any of them.

History.—§10, ch. 24099, 1947; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

66.38 Rules of practice.—Except as herein otherwise provided, all the provisions and rules of law relating to evidence, depositions, pleading, practice, rehearings and appeals applicable to other chancery proceedings, shall apply to the proceedings hereby authorized.

History.—§11, ch. 24099, 1947.

66.39 Executors, etc., may maintain proceedings.—An executor, administrator, guardian or any other person holding the possession of property in the right of another, may maintain, as plaintiff, and may appear and defend in any proceeding herein provided for.

History.—§12, ch. 24099, 1947.

66.40 Joinder of parcels of real property.—The plaintiff may join in one complaint as many parcels of real property, within the purview of this law, as he may own in any county. If it appears that any such causes of action cannot be conveniently disposed of together, the court may order separate trials.

History.—§13, ch. 24099, 1947; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

66.41 Venue of proceedings.—All proceedings under this law shall be brought and maintained in the circuit court of the county wherein the real property lies, except where any parcel of said property lies within more than one county, then the proceeding may be brought and maintained in the circuit court of any of such counties.

History.—§14, ch. 24099, 1947.

66.42 Guardian ad litem.—If the complaint be taken as confessed, a guardian ad litem shall not be appointed unless it shall affirmatively appear that the interests of minors, persons of unsound mind or convicts are involved.

History.—§15, ch. 24099, 1947.

66.43 Proceeding in personam.—If the plaintiff does not desire to make unknown persons parties to the proceeding herein provided for, he may bring a proceeding in personam, instead of a proceeding in rem, in which case the real property which is the subject matter of the proceeding need not be described in the summons mentioned in §66.31 and the proceeding shall be against the persons named as defendants instead of against all persons claiming any estate, right, title or interest in, or lien upon, the real property described in the complaint, as more fully set out in §66.29. The summons issued in a proceeding in personam shall contain the names of all the defendants, both resident and nonresident and those whose places of residence are unknown.

History.—§16, ch. 24099, 1947; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

66.44 Final decree.—The court shall, by its final decree, ascertain and determine all estates, right, titles, interests and claims in, or liens upon, the real property and every part thereof, whether the same be legal or equitable, present or future, vested or contingent, or whether the same consist of mortgages or other liens, and shall be binding and conclusive upon every person who at the time of the commencement of the action had or claimed any estate, right, title or interest in, or lien upon, said real property, or any part thereof, and upon every person claiming under any defendant by title subsequent to the commencement of the action; provided, however, that said decree shall designate the liens and claims of those claiming by, through or under the plaintiff. A certified copy of the decree shall be recorded in the current deed book of the public records of the county or counties wherein said real property lies.

History.—§17, ch. 24099, 1947; §11, ch. 25035, 1949.

66.45 Decree entered to prevent further action; exceptions.—Whenever a decree in a proceeding hereby authorized shall have been entered as to any real property, no subsequent proceeding, relative to the same property or any part thereof, shall be tried under this law until proof shall first have been made to the court that all persons who appeared in the first proceeding, or their successors in interest, have been personally served with the papers mentioned in §66.33 either within or without this state, before the time to plead expires, or it is affirmatively shown they cannot be found and that their addresses are unknown.

History.—§18, ch. 24099, 1947.

66.46 Remedies deemed cumulative.—The remedies provided by §§66.28-66.47 shall be deemed cumulative and in addition to any other remedies now or hereafter provided by law for quieting or establishing title to real property.

History.—§19, ch. 24099, 1947.

66.47 Definitions.—In construing §§66.28-66.47, where the context will permit:

(1) The singular includes the plural, and vice versa.

(2) The masculine includes the feminine and neuter, and vice versa.

(3) The word "person" includes individuals, children, firms, associations, joint adventures, partnerships, corporations and all other groups or combinations.

History.—§20, ch. 24099, 1947.

(g) Whether petitioner has ever been adjudicated a bankrupt and, if so, where and when.

(h) Whether petitioner has ever been convicted of felony and, if so, when and where.

(i) Whether any judgment for money has ever been entered against petitioner and, if so, the name of the judgment creditor, the amount of such judgment, the date thereof the court by which entered, and whether such judgment has been satisfied and discharged.

(j) That the petition is filed for no ulterior or illegal purpose and the granting of the same will not in any manner invade the property rights of others, whether partnership, patent, good will, privacy, trademark or otherwise.

(3) The hearing of the petition may be as soon as practical after said petition has been filed and proof of the allegations of said petition may be taken orally before the court.

(4) Upon the filing of the final order or decree changing the name of the petitioner, the clerk of the circuit court shall forward to the state registrar of vital statistics a report of said proceedings on a form to be furnished by the state registrar, which form shall contain sufficient information to identify the original birth certificate of the person, the new name, and the file number of the court order or decree. This report shall be filed by the state registrar, and shall become a part of the vital statistics of this state.

(5) A husband and wife and minor children may all join in one petition for change of name and the petition shall show the facts required of a petitioner herein as to the husband and wife and the name of the minor children may be changed at the discretion of the court.

(6) Where only one parent petitions for a change in the name of a minor child, notice of such petition shall be served on the other parent and proof of such service shall be filed in the cause.

(7) Nothing herein contained shall be construed to apply to any change of name authorized in proceedings for divorce or for the adoption of children.

History.—§1, ch. 1324, 1862; RS 1543; GS 2007; RGS 3275; CGL 5083; §1, ch. 28159, 1953; (6) §1, ch. 29921, 1955; (6) n. §1, ch. 61-152.

69.03 Supreme court; bond not to be required of certain officers in certain original proceedings.—Constitutional officers of the state, boards of county commissioners and boards of public instruction of the several counties of this state, shall not be required to provide, file or furnish any bond or other security for the procurement of, or to render effective, for any and all purposes, any restraining order, injunction, or other order, writ or decree, in cases of original jurisdiction in the supreme court of Florida.

History.—§1, ch. 19172, 1939; CGL 4621(1).
cf.—§§59.14, 64.04 Supersedeas, injunctions, without bond.

Note.—§69.07 was repealed by §30, ch. 61-10, however this repeal was not reflected in title of this act.

69.09 Selection of bondholders' committee, etc.—In any suit now pending or hereafter commenced in any court of this state to foreclose the lien of any mortgage or deed of trust given to secure any issue of bonds or other obligations and encumbering real or personal property or both where the owners of said bonds or beneficiaries of said trust exceed ten in number any judge of said court in which the cause is pending may, upon the application of any proper party to the cause, plaintiff or defendant, or without such an application, appoint three persons (two of whom shall constitute a quorum for all purposes), as a committee for the protection of the holders of bonds or units or certificates of beneficial interest, as the case may be, and such committee shall be vested with such powers and authority and discharge such duties in connection with the litigation and the subject matter thereof, as may be necessary and proper, in the judgment of the judge of said court, to protect and safeguard the interest of the holders of the bonds and beneficiaries of the trust involved in or affected by the litigation. As necessity therefor arises during the pendency of such litigation, the judge of said court may by order or orders, from time to time prescribe, modify, abrogate or nullify the powers and authority of the committee.

History.—§1, ch. 16831, 1935; CGL 1936 Supp. 5977(22).

69.10 Same; qualifications of committeemen, etc.—No person shall be eligible for appointment to, nor qualified to act as, a member of said committee who is interested in the outcome of the suit, or in the subject matter thereof, or who is an officer, director or stockholder of any party to the suit, or who is related by blood or marriage to, or directly or indirectly associated with or employed by (a) any official of said court, or (b) any person who is interested in the outcome of the suit, or (c) any person who is interested in the subject matter, or (d) who is an officer, director or stockholder of any corporation a party to the cause.

History.—§3, ch. 16831, 1935; CGL 1936 Supp. 5977(24).

69.11 Same; compensation and expenses of committee.—The compensation and expenses of said committee shall be fixed and approved by the court and may be taxed as costs in the case, and by the court ordered paid by such parties in interest, and in such manner and at such time or times, and out of such fund or property involved in the cause, as the said judge, in his judgment shall determine. The judge of said court in which said litigation is or was pending shall have the right at all times, in his discretion, to remove any or all of the persons theretofore appointed members of said committee, and to appoint a successor or successors to fill such vacancies as may result from removal, resignation or death of members of any such committee. Such committee so appointed shall at all times be subject to the supervision and control of the judge of said court, and amenable to his orders until the approval of the final reports, if any, of said committee and the discharge of said committee by the order of the judge of said court.

History.—§2, ch. 16831, 1935; CGL 1936 Supp. 5977(23).

69.12 Same; employment of counsel by committee.—The employment of any and all counsel by such committee shall be with consent and approval of the judge of said court, and the compensation of such counsel shall be fixed by the judge of said court.

History.—§4, ch. 16831, 1935; CGL 1936 Supp. 5977(25).

69.13 Same; only legally appointed committees recognized.—No bondholders' committee not appointed by a judge of the court in which the cause is commenced or pending shall be heard in the cause, nor permitted, directly or indirectly to dominate or control the litigation or the action of the trustee or trustees under deed or deeds of trust under which or upon which the action is predicated, nor permitted to acquire, directly or indirectly, the property at the sale, if any, in said cause.

History.—§5, ch. 16831, 1935; CGL 1936 Supp. 5977(26).

69.15 Designated financial institutions for assets in hands of guardians, curators, administrators, trustees, receivers, etc.—

(1) Whenever it shall be deemed expedient in the judgment of any court having jurisdiction of any estate in process of administration by any guardian, curator, executor, administrator, trustee, receiver, or other officer, because the size of the bond required of such officer shall seem burdensome or for other cause, the court may order such portion or all of the personal assets of the estate, as it shall deem proper, to be placed with such bank, trust company or savings and loan association, which savings and loan association is a member of the federal savings and loan insurance corporation, and doing business in this state, as the court shall designate, consideration being given to any bank, trust company or savings and loan association as above described, proposed by the officer. When the original assets are accordingly placed with a designated financial institution, such financial institution shall issue in the name of the estate and file with the court a receipt or receipts therefor and shall give the officer a duplicate copy thereof. Such receipt or receipts shall acknowledge:

(a) The original assets received by the financial institution, or the duly collected proceeds therefrom, and all interest, dividends, principal and other indebtedness subsequently collected by the financial institution on account thereof, are to be held by the financial institution in safekeeping, subject to such instructions of the officer as are authorized by orders of the court directed to the financial institution; and

(b) Accountings therefor are to be made to the officer at reasonably frequent intervals agreeable to the officer. After the receipt or receipts of the financial institution for the original assets placed with such financial institution have been filed with the court, the court thereupon shall, by an order, waive the bond to be given or theretofore given by such officer or reduce it so that it shall apply only to the estate remaining in the hands of such officer, whichever the court shall deem best for the estate.

(2) Whenever the court has ordered any assets of an estate to be placed with a financial institution designated as afore provided, any person or corporation having possession or control of any of such assets, or owning interest, dividends, principal or other indebtedness on account thereof, shall, on the due dates thereof, upon the demand of the financial institution whether the officer has duly qualified or not, pay and deliver such assets, interest, dividends, principal and other indebtedness to the financial institution and the receipt and acceptance thereof by the financial institution shall relieve the person or corporation from all further responsibility therefor.

(3) Any bank, trust company or savings and loan association as above described which may be designated by the court under this section, shall be at liberty to accept or reject such designation in any particular instance, and shall evidence its acceptance or rejection by filing the same with the court or the clerk of the court making such designation within fifteen days after actual knowledge of such designation shall have come to the attention of that financial institution so designated, and in the event of acceptance such bank, trust company or savings and loan association as above described shall be allowed as a proper charge against the assets placed with such financial institution, such reasonable amount for its services and expenses as the court making such designation may by its order allow and provide.

History.—§§1-3, ch. 21980, 1943; §1, ch. 57-198.

Note.—§69.16 was repealed by §30, ch. 61-10, however this repeal was not reflected in title of this act.

69.17 State named party; lien foreclosure, suit to quiet title.—Under the conditions prescribed in this section for the protection of the state, the state may be named a party in any civil action or suit in any court in this state or any district court of the United States having jurisdiction of the subject matter, to quiet title to or for the foreclosure of a mortgage or other lien upon real or personal property on which the state has or claims a mortgage or other lien.

History.—§1, ch. 29724, 1955.

69.18 Same; complaint; service of process.—The complaint shall set forth with particularity the nature of the interest or lien of the state. In actions, service upon the state shall be made by serving the process of the court with a copy of the complaint upon the state attorney or upon an assistant state attorney for the judicial circuit in which the action is brought and by sending a copy of the process and complaint by registered mail to the attorney general. In actions the state may appear and answer, plead or deny within forty days after service or further time as the court may allow.

History.—§2, ch. 29724, 1955.

cf.—§1.01(13) defines registered mail to include certified mail with return receipt requested.

69.19 Same; judicial sale.—A judicial sale in such action or suit shall have the same effect respecting the discharge of the property from liens and encumbrances held by the state as may be provided with respect to such matters by the law of this state. A sale to satisfy a lien inferior to one of the state, shall be made subject to and without disturbing the lien of the state, unless the state consents that the property may be sold free of its liens and proceeds divided as the parties may be entitled.

History.—§3, ch. 29724, 1955.

CHAPTER 70

EJECTMENT

- 70.01 Common law ejectment abolished.
 70.03 Pleadings, forms, etc.
 70.05 Verdict and judgment.
 70.06 Betterment, petition.
 70.07 Betterment, reply.

70.01 Common law ejectment abolished.—In actions of ejectment it shall not be necessary to have any fictitious parties to the suit, but the party plaintiff may bring his suit directly against the party in possession or the one claiming adversely.

History.—§1, ch. 999, 1859; RS 1511; GS 1966; RGS 3234; CGL 5040.

70.03 Pleadings, form, etc.—

(1) COMPLAINT.—The complaint shall only contain a plain statement of the cause of action to entitle the plaintiff to recover the land in controversy, together with mesne profits. It may be in the following form, to-wit:

"In the Circuit Court of Florida _____
 Circuit, _____ County, to-wit:

"A. B., by his attorney, sues C. D. in an action of ejectment: Because the defendant is in possession of a certain tract or parcel of land, situated, lying and being in said county, known and described as follows, to-wit: (Here describe the land), containing about _____ acres, to which said plaintiff claims title; and the defendant has received the profits of said land since the _____ day of _____, A. D. _____, of the yearly value of _____ dollars, and refuses to deliver possession of said land to the said plaintiff, or to pay him the profits thereof."

(2) ANSWER.—The defendant's answer shall specify the allegation or allegations of the complaint with which he takes issue, whether the same be plaintiff's title to the lands in controversy, defendant's possession, or otherwise.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 999, 1859; §3, ch. 3244, 1881; RS 1513; §9, ch. 28301, 1953.

70.05 Verdict and judgment.—

(1) VERDICT.—A verdict for the plaintiff shall state the quantity of the estate of the plaintiff, and describe the land by its metes and bounds, by the number of the lot or other certain description.

(2) JUDGMENT.—The judgment awarding possession shall in like manner state the quantity of the estate and give a description of the land recovered.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 3244, 1881; RS 1515; GS 1970; RGS 3238; CGL 5046.

70.06 Betterment, petition.—If in any suit in ejectment a judgment of eviction shall be rendered against the defendant, he may, at any time within three months after the rendition of such judgment, or if he shall have prosecuted an appeal, within three months after the affirmance of such judgment, file in the circuit court in which such judgment shall have been rendered a petition setting forth:

- 70.08 Betterment, trial and verdict.
 70.09 Betterment, judgment for plaintiff.
 70.10 Betterment, judgment for defendant.
 70.11 Betterment, payment by plaintiff.
 70.12 Betterment, payment by defendant.

(1) That such defendant had, before the beginning of the suit in which judgment shall have been rendered, been in possession of, and that he or those under whom he validly derived had permanently improved the value of, the property in controversy.

(2) That he or those under whom he validly derived held said property at the time of such improvement under an apparently good, legal or equitable title, derived from the English, Spanish or United States governments, or from this state; or under a legal or equitable title plain and connected upon the records of a public office or public offices; or under purchase at a regular sale made by an executor, administrator, guardian or other person by order of court, and

(3) That when the defendant made said improvements, or purchased said property improved, he believed the title which he held or purchased to the land thus improved to be a good and valid title. Such petition shall pray that the value of the improvements shall be assessed and compensation awarded to him therefor.

History.—§1516 RS 1892; GS 1971; RGS 3239; CGL 5047; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

70.07 Betterment, reply.—The plaintiff in the judgment of eviction may reply to the allegations in said petition, or any of them, within sixty days, unless further time be given by the court, after the notice to him of the filing of the petition and the issue or issues thus made shall stand for trial at a time to be set by the court after the filing of the reply; or if no reply is filed, the petition shall stand for trial at a time to be set by the court after the expiration of sixty days from the filing of the petition.

History.—§1517 RS 1892; GS 1972; RGS 3240; CGL 5048; §14, ch. 29737, 1955.

70.08 Betterment, trial and verdict.—If a reply shall have been filed, the plaintiff and defendant shall proceed to trial of the issues made by the reply; but if no reply be filed, the trial shall proceed ex parte, but the defendant shall be bound to prove every allegation of the petition. Whether the trial be ex parte or not, the jury shall be sworn to try the issues as aforesaid, and if they find them all in favor of the defendant in ejectment, to assess:

(1) The value of the land at the time of the assessment, irrespective of the improvements put upon the land by the defendant, or those under whom he derives, and if any, the injury done to the land by such defendant, or those under whom he derives.

(2) The value of the permanent improvements at the time of the assessment.

(3) The injury, if any, done to the land by the defendant or those under whom he derives, and

(4) The value of the use of the land by the defendant between the time of the judgment in ejectment and the time of the assessment, or if the defendant has been evicted from, or has surrendered the premises, from the time of the judgment to the time of the surrender or eviction. The jury shall specify in its verdict separately its findings upon each of the matters submitted to it.

History.—§1518 RS 1892; GS 1973; RGS 3241; CGL 5049; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

70.09 Betterment, judgment for plaintiff.—

Upon the rendition of such verdict the court shall cause the clerk to ascertain whether the balance of the last three assessments aforesaid (that is, of the value of the improvements, the extent of the injury and the value of the use of land), be in favor of the plaintiff in ejectment, or of the defendant, and to ascertain the amount of such balance; if the verdict be in favor of the plaintiff, on the issues made upon the petition, a judgment shall be rendered against the defendant for costs, whether the balance of the assessment aforesaid be in favor of the plaintiff or the defendant; but if the balance of the assessments be in favor of the plaintiff, he shall have in addition to the judgment for costs a judgment for such balance.

History.—§1519 RS 1892; GS 1974; RGS 3242; CGL 5050.

70.10 Betterment, judgment for defendant.—

If the verdict upon the issues presented by the petition be in favor of the defendant, and the balance of assessments be also in his favor, a judgment for costs shall be entered against the plaintiff, and a further judgment that unless the plaintiff shall within sixty days pay or secure, as hereinafter provided, the amount of the balance of assessments against him, the defendant may pay or secure to the plaintiff the value of the land as assessed by the jury, as aforesaid.

History.—§1520 RS 1892; GS 1975; RGS 3243; CGL 5051.

70.11 Betterment, payment by plaintiff.—

The plaintiff may pay said balance in cash, or may execute and deliver to the defendant a bond with two good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the clerk of said court, conditioned to pay to the defendant in ejectment the said balance in two equal annual installments, with interest at eight per cent per annum. If the plaintiff shall pay the said sum within sixty days, or if the payment of the said bond shall be received, satisfaction of the judgment shall be entered and all rights conferred upon the defendant by said judgment shall cease.

History.—§1521, RS 1892; GS 1976; RGS 3244; CGL 5052.

70.12 Betterment, payment by defendant.—

If, however, plaintiff shall not pay or secure the said sum within said sixty days, the defendant shall have the right within sixty days thereafter to pay to the plaintiff the value of the land as assessed by the jury, or to give to the plaintiff a bond with good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the clerk of the said court, conditioned to pay to the plaintiff the said value in two equal annual installments, with eight per cent interest; or if the plaintiff should fail to pay the bond given by him as aforesaid when the same shall become due, the defendant shall again have the privilege for sixty days after the expiration of the time fixed in the bond for payment, of paying to the plaintiff in cash, the value of the land assessed as aforesaid. Upon the payment of said sum to the plaintiff at any of the times hereinbefore mentioned, the title to the said land shall vest in the defendant, and the plaintiff or those holding under him shall give to the defendant a deed to the said land, tenements, hereditaments and appurtenances, and if the defendant shall have been evicted from or shall have surrendered the premises, they shall be restored to him by order of the court, upon motion.

History.—§1522 RS 1892; GS 1977; RGS 3245; CGL 5053.

CHAPTER 71

RE-ESTABLISHMENT OF LOST PAPERS, RECORDS, ETC.

- 71.01 Re-establishment of papers, records, etc.
- 71.02 Who may re-establish papers, records, etc.
- 71.03 Re-establishment of papers, records, etc.; venue and in what court.
- 71.04 Re-establishment of papers, records, etc.; remedy concurrent.
- 71.05 Re-establishment of papers, records, etc.; effect of.
- 71.06 Re-establishment of papers, records, etc.; petition.
- 71.07 Re-establishment of papers, records, etc.; notice and service.
- 71.08 Re-establishment of papers, records, etc.; proceedings and judgment.
- 71.09 Re-establishment of marks and brands.
- 71.10 Re-establishment of fieri facias; procedure.
- 71.11 Re-establishment of fieri facias; rights of owner of property subsequently levied upon.
- 71.12 Re-establishment of fieri facias; trial of claims.
- 71.13 Re-establishment of pleadings and process in pending suits.
- 71.14 Re-establishment of land titles destroyed by fire; jurisdiction.
- 71.15 Re-establishment of land titles destroyed by fire; parties plaintiff.
- 71.16 Re-establishment of land titles destroyed by fire; parties defendant.
- 71.17 Re-establishment of land titles destroyed by fire; petition.
- 71.18 Re-establishment of land titles destroyed by fire; process, notice, etc.
- 71.19 Re-establishment of land titles destroyed by fire; proceedings, pleadings, etc.
- 71.20 Re-establishment of land titles destroyed by fire; decree pro confesso and proceedings thereon.
- 71.21 Re-establishment of land titles destroyed by fire; determination of titles, etc.
- 71.22 Re-establishment of land titles destroyed by fire; practice applicable.

71.01 Re-establishment of papers, records, etc.—All papers, written or printed, of any kind whatsoever, and the records and files of any official, court or public office, may be re-established in the manner hereinafter provided.

History.—§1523 RS 1892; GS 1978; RGS 3246; CGL 5054.

71.02 Who may re-establish papers, records, etc.—Any person interested in the paper, file or record to be re-established may re-establish the same.

History.—§1524 RS 1892; GS 1979; RGS 3247; CGL 5055; §7, ch. 22858, 1945.

71.03 Re-establishment of papers, records, etc.; venue and in what court.—All proceedings had under the provisions hereof shall, if the re-establishment be sought of a record or file, be had in the circuit court of the county where such record of file existed before the loss or destruction thereof; and if it be a private paper, in the circuit court of the county where any person to be affected thereby shall live, or if such persons be non-residents, then in the circuit court of any county in which the person seeking the re-establishment may desire.

History.—§1525 RS 1892; GS 1980; RGS 3248; CGL 5056.

71.04 Re-establishment of papers, records, etc.; remedy concurrent.—Nothing herein contained shall prevent the re-establishment of lost paper, records and files, at common law or in equity in the usual manner.

History.—§12, ch. 1369, 1862; RS 1526; GS 1981; RGS 3249; CGL 5057.

71.05 Re-establishment of papers, records, etc.; effect of.—Any paper, record or file re-established shall have the force and effect of the original. A private paper shall have such effect immediately upon the recording of the order re-establishing it; but a re-established record shall not have that effect until recorded in the book provided for the class of records to which it belongs, and a re-established paper or file of any official, court or public officer shall not have such effect until a copy thereof, certified by the clerk of the circuit court, shall have been filed with the official or in the court or public office where the original belonged. A certified copy of all re-established papers required or authorized by law to be recorded may be rerecorded.

Where any deed forming a link in a chain of title to any land in this state has been placed upon the proper record without having been acknowledged or proven for record, has been lost or destroyed, certified copies of the record of such deed as so recorded may be received as evidence in any court of this state in proceedings to re-establish such deed: Provided, such deed has been so recorded for twenty years.

History.—§5, Nov. 21, 1829; RS 1527; §1, ch. 5162, 1903; GS 1982; RGS 3250; CGL 5058.

71.06 Re-establishment of papers, records, etc.; petition.—A person desiring to establish any paper, record or file, except where otherwise provided, shall file in the circuit court a petition, sworn to by himself, his agent or attorney, setting forth that such paper, record or file has been lost or destroyed, and is not in the custody or control of the petitioner, the time and manner of such loss or destruction, and that a copy (to be attached to the petition) is a substantial copy of that lost or destroyed, and that persons to be named in the petition are the persons, and the only persons known to the petitioner, interested for or against the re-establishment of such paper, record or file.

History.—§2, ch. 3019, 1877; RS 1533; GS 1997; RGS 3265; CGL 5073.

71.07 Re-establishment of papers, records, etc.; notice and service.—

(1) CONTENTS.—Upon the filing of such petition, the clerk shall issue a notice, to which shall be attached a copy of the petition, requiring the persons named in the petition as interested, and all other persons interested to appear before the judge of the said court at a time to be fixed in said notice, not less than forty-five nor more than sixty days from the issuance of the notice, to show cause why the said paper, record or file should not be re-established, which notice shall also be served as other legal process is served upon all persons within the jurisdiction of the court.

(2) PUBLICATION AND SERVICE OF THE NOTICE.—The clerk shall also cause to be published notice to all persons named and not served, and to all other persons interested to appear in said court and show cause as aforesaid on a day to be named in the notice, not less than twenty-eight nor more than sixty days from the first publication of said notice.

The notice shall contain a brief statement of the substance of the petition, and of the copy attached to it, and shall be published once each week for four successive weeks in a newspaper published in the county in which the proceedings are taken.

History.—§1, ch. 2048, 1873; RS 1534; GS 1998; RGS 3266; CGL 5074.

71.08 Re-establishment of papers, records, etc.; proceedings and judgment.—Answers filed by persons appearing in obedience to the notices aforesaid shall be sworn to, and shall be filed upon the day fixed for appearance. All issues of law or fact shall be determined by the court, and evidence shall be by affidavit, or in writing before an examiner to be appointed by the court, or orally before the court, as the court may determine. Upon the hearing the court may deny the prayer of the petition, or may grant the same, or may re-establish the paper, record or file in such form as the law and the evidence may justify. No application for re-establishment shall be granted without proof of the material matters set forth in the petition, or by written consent of the person or persons adversely interested.

History.—§4, ch. 3019, 1877; RS 1536; GS 1999; RGS 3267; CGL 5075.

71.09 Re-establishment of marks and brands.—The person desiring the re-establishment of the record of any marks or brands, shall file in the circuit court a petition under oath, describing the particular mark or brand sought to be re-established, and stating the place where the same was recorded, the time of record as near as may be known, and that the record thereof has been lost or destroyed, and requesting the re-establishment of the record of such mark or brand. Upon the filing of such petition, the judge of said court shall make an order re-establishing the said record.

History.—§2, ch. 1369, 1862; RS 1528; GS 1983; RGS 3251; CGL 5059.

71.10 Re-establishment of fieri facias; procedure.—Lost or destroyed writs of fieri facias issued upon lost or destroyed judgments may be re-established by the filing in the circuit court of an affidavit by the party desiring the re-establishment, his agent or attorney, setting forth the loss or destruction of the writ, the contents of it and the loss or destruction of the judgment upon which the writ issued, and the belief of affiant that the plaintiff will, in whole or in part, lose the amount of the lost or destroyed judgment before the same can be re-established. Upon the filing of such affidavit, the clerk of said court shall make an order that another writ shall be issued in lieu of the original lost or destroyed, and the proper officer of the court from which the writ originally issued shall issue such other writ.

History.—§7, ch. 1735, 1870; RS 1529; GS 1984; RGS 3252; CGL 5060.

71.11 Re-establishment of fieri facias; rights of owner of property subsequently levied upon.

—The defendant may release any property levied upon under such new writ by filing with the officer executing the same an affidavit sworn to by himself, his agent or attorney, that the lost or destroyed judgment has been satisfied in whole or in part, and by filing with said officer a bond, with two good and sufficient sureties, payable to the plaintiff, in double the amount claimed to be due on said judgment, conditioned to pay to the plaintiff the amount adjudged by the court, in the proceedings provided for hereafter, to be due the plaintiff upon said judgment.

History.—§7, ch. 1735, 1870; RS 1530; GS 1985; RGS 3253; CGL 5061.

71.12 Re-establishment of fieri facias; trial of claims.—The officer shall return the affidavit and bond to the court issuing the execution, and at a term of court thereafter the issues presented by the said affidavits of the plaintiff and of the defendant shall be tried by the court and jury. If the jury find in favor of the plaintiff they shall specify the amount due him upon the execution, and judgment therefor shall be entered up against the defendant and the sureties on the bond for such sum, and execution shall issue thereon.

History.—§7, ch. 1735, 1870; RS 1531; GS 1986; RGS 3254; CGL 5062.

17.13 Re-establishment of pleadings and process in pending suits.—Lost or destroyed proceedings, and any paper or file affecting them, in any suit pending and undetermined in any court, may be re-established as follows:

The person desiring such re-establishment shall file a substantial copy of such proceedings or writings in the circuit court, and shall give ten days' notice in writing to all parties to the suit or their attorneys of record, of an application to the court for the re-establishment of such proceedings, or paper or file. Such notice shall be personally served at least ten days before the time fixed for such application. Upon the hearing of such application the judge may in such manner as he may think best, ascertain the facts, and upon such ascertainment determine the application.

History.—§6, ch. 1735, 1870; RS 1532; GS 1996; RGS 3264; CGL 5072.

71.14 Re-establishment of land titles destroyed by fire; jurisdiction.—When the records or any material part thereof in any county in this state have been destroyed by fire so that a connected chain of title cannot be deduced therefrom, any court in such county having chancery jurisdiction shall have the power to inquire into the condition of any title to or interest in any land in such county, and to make all such orders, judgments and decrees as may be necessary to determine and establish said title against all persons known or unknown.

History.—§1, ch. 4952, 1901; GS 1987; RGS 3255; CGL 5063.

71.15 Re-establishment of land titles destroyed by fire; parties plaintiff.—It shall be lawful for any person or persons claiming a freehold estate in any land in such county who, or whose grantors, were in the actual possession of such land at the time of such destruction of such records, and who is in possession thereof at the time of the filing of the petition hereinafter mentioned, to file a petition in chancery in any court in such county having chancery jurisdiction, praying for a decree establishing, and confirming his or their title to and estate in such land. Tenants in common or persons owning as aforesaid an undivided interest in any such lands may join in such petition.

History.—§2, ch. 4952, 1901; GS 1988; RGS 3256; CGL 5064.

71.16 Re-establishment of land titles destroyed by fire; parties defendant.—All persons so named in said petition, except the petitioner, shall be made defendants and shall be notified of said suit by subpoena, if residents of this state, in the same manner as is now or may hereafter be required in chancery proceedings by the laws of this state, and nonresidents may be served by publication, posting and mailing thereof to defendants whose residence may be known, in like manner as is or may be provided by law for the service of process upon nonresident defendants in other suits in chancery, except as may be otherwise provided herein. All other persons shall be deemed and taken to be defendants by the name or designation of "all whom it may concern," and notice to them under that designation shall be published and posted as aforesaid.

History.—§4, ch. 4952, 1901; GS 1990; RGS 3258; CGL 5066. cf.—Ch. 48, Constructive service of process.

71.17 Re-establishment of land titles destroyed by fire; petition.—Said petition shall state clearly the description of said lands, the character and extent of the estate claimed by the petitioner, and from whom and when and by what mode he derived his title thereto; it shall give the names of all persons owning or claiming any estate or possessory interest in said lands, or any part thereof, and also all persons who shall be in possession of said lands, or any part thereof, and also all persons to whom any of such lands have been conveyed, and the date or dates that such conveyances shall have been recorded in the office for the recording of deeds of such county since the time of the destruction of such records as aforesaid, and prior to the time of the filing of such petition, and their residences so far as the same are known to the said petitioner; and if no such persons are known to the said petitioner, it shall be so stated in said petition.

History.—§3, ch. 4952, 1901; GS 1989; RGS 3257; CGL 5065.

71.18 Re-establishment of land titles destroyed by fire; process, notice, etc.—Said notice shall be entitled "Land title notice," and shall be substantially as follows:

A., B. and C., etc. (here give the names of all known defendants, if any), and to all whom it may concern: Take notice that on the _____ day of _____ A. D. 19____, a petition was filed by _____ in the circuit court for _____ county in chancery, to establish his title to the following described land (here insert a full description of the land mentioned in said petition).

Now unless you appear on the _____ day of _____ A. D. 19____, in said court and do hereafter as required by law show cause against such application, said petition shall be taken as confessed and the title and estate of said petitioner will be decreed and established according to the prayer of said petitioner, and you will be forever barred from disputing the same.

Clerk of the Circuit Court _____ county, Florida.

Said petition shall be verified by the affidavit of the petitioner, and any party so swearing falsely shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and punished by imprisonment in the state prison not exceeding twenty years, and shall be liable in damages to any person injured by such false statement to be recovered in an action in any court having jurisdiction thereof. It shall be the duty of the clerk of the court when such petition is filed to enter in a separate book or books, to be kept for the purpose, the names of the petitioners and defendants, the date of the filing of said petition and description of the lands included therein, which record shall be at all times open to the public, and said books shall be properly indexed.

History.—§4, ch. 4952, 1901; GS 1991; RGS 3259; CGL 5067.

71.19 Re-establishment of land titles destroyed by fire; proceedings, pleadings, etc.—Any person interested may oppose any such petition and file his motion or answer thereto on the return date next after the day to and upon which he shall have been cited to appear therein, and may also file a cross petition if he shall desire to do so; said answer shall admit, confess, avoid or traverse all the material allegations of the petition, and shall, except when made by a guardian ad litem, be verified by affidavit in the same manner as is or may be required as to other answers in chancery cases. The petition may, however, waive the verification of the answer by oath, as aforesaid, in which case the answer shall have no other or greater weight as evidence than the petition.

History.—§5, ch. 4952, 1901; GS 1992; RGS 3260; CGL 5068; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

71.20 Re-establishment of land titles destroyed by fire; decree pro confesso and proceedings thereon.—If no motion or answer shall be filed on or before the rule day upon which the same shall be due as aforesaid, a decree pro confesso may be taken in like manner and with like effect as a decree pro confesso upon a bill in other chancery cases, and further proceedings may be had in referring same, taking evidence therein and rendering a decree therein or otherwise, as in other chancery cases.

History.—§6, ch. 4952, 1901; GS 1993; RGS 3261; CGL 5069.

71.21 Re-establishment of land titles destroyed by fire; determination of titles, etc.—It shall be competent for any such court in all such decrees in such proceedings to determine and decree in whom the title in or to any land described in such petition is vested, whether the petitioner, or in any other of the parties before the court, but said decree shall not in any wise affect any lien or liens to which said land may be subject, whether by mortgage, deed of trust, judgment, statute, mechanic's lien or otherwise, but shall leave all such liens to be ascertained or established or enforced as is or may be provided by law.

History.—§7, ch. 4952, 1901; GS 1994; RGS 3262; CGL 5070.

71.22 Re-establishment of land titles destroyed by fire; practice applicable.—The rules, regulations and practice governing pleadings or practice in chancery in this state shall apply to the proceedings under this law so far as they are not inconsistent herewith, and any appeal may be taken and prosecuted in the proceedings on any such petition in like manner and with like effect as in other chancery cases.

History.—§8, ch. 4952, 1901; GS 1995; RGS 3263; CGL 5071.

72.07 Declaration of policy.—For all minor children who have been permanently committed to a licensed child-placing agency, the licensed child-placing agency is the official guardian. The state welfare board, also referred to as the state department of public welfare, the department of public welfare, or the department, may accept permanent commitment and place children for adoption. When practicable, the child and adoptive parents shall be of the same religion; provided the natural parents may give written consent to the placement of the child with adoptive parents of a different religion. For all minor children who have been so committed the department is the official guardian. Also for the purpose of adoption the department is designated as the official guardian for all children of this state who have no natural parents, or who have been abandoned by their natural parents, or whose natural parents have voluntarily surrendered their rights as parents, and who have no legal guardian.

History.—§1, ch. 21759, 1943; §3, ch. 63-449.

72.08 Jurisdiction and venue.—The circuit court shall have exclusive jurisdiction in all matters of adoption. All petitions for adoption shall be filed in the circuit court of the county in which the petitioner or petitioners reside, or in which is located any licensed child placing agency to which the child sought to be adopted has been permanently committed, or in which such child may reside.

History.—§2, ch. 21759, 1943.

72.09 Licensed child-placing agency defined.—A licensed child-placing agency as used in this law is defined to mean any child welfare agency which has been duly licensed by the department of public welfare to place children for adoption.

History.—§3, ch. 21759, 1943; §4, ch. 63-449.

lic welfare shall have all the authority and duties relating to adoption which are now, by law, given to a licensed child-placing agency.

History.—§5, ch. 63-449.

72.10 Proof of permanent commitment to the department of public welfare or a licensed child-placing agency and proof of license.—The recital in the written consent given by the department of public welfare that the child sought to be adopted has been permanently committed to the department shall be prima facie proof of such commitment. The recital in the written consent given by a licensed child-placing agency or the declaration in an answer or recommendation filed by a licensed child-placing agency, that the child has been permanently committed and the agency is duly licensed by the department, shall be prima facie proof of such commitment and of such license.

History.—§4, ch. 21759, 1943; §6, ch. 63-449.

72.11 Who may adopt.—Any adult person who is a resident of this state may petition for leave to adopt a minor child; provided, however, that a petition for adoption shall not be granted to a married person unless both husband and wife join in the petition, except, where the petitioner is the stepparent of the child, or when, after due notice of the proceeding has been given to the nonjoining husband or wife, the court finds that there is good cause for such nonjoinder.

History.—§5, ch. 21759, 1943; §1, ch. 23721, 1947.

72.12 Petition for adoption; contents.—The petition for adoption shall be filed in triplicate, each copy of which shall be verified by one of the petitioners. Such petition shall state:

(1) The name, if known, sex, color, and age, if known, or if unknown, the approximate age, and the place of birth, if known, of the child sought to be adopted; provided, however, that the real name and the place of birth of the child sought to be adopted need not be set forth if such child has previously been permanently committed to a licensed child-placing agency or the state department of public welfare;

(2) The new name to be given to such child if change of name is desired;

(3) The name, age and place of residence of the adopting parent or parents, and if married, the place and date of their marriage;

(4) The name and address of the agency to which such child has been permanently committed, and whether or not the agency is a licensed child-placing agency or the state department of public welfare as defined in this law;

(5) The reasons why the petitioner or petitioners desire to adopt said child. Upon the filing of the petition, the clerk of the court wherein the same is filed shall forthwith mail a copy thereof to the state welfare board, and to the licensed child-placing agency or the state department of public welfare, if such there be, named in the petition. The clerk shall make a certificate as to such mailing and such certificate shall be conclusive proof thereof.

History.—§6, ch. 21759, 1943; §7, ch. 63-449.

Note.—Word "or" added before the state department of public welfare as amended by ch. 63-449.

72.13 Process; service and publication.—In the absence of consent as hereinafter provided for, upon the filing of the petition, the clerk of the court wherein it is filed shall forthwith issue a notice directed either to the natural parent or parents, or the legal guardian, commanding them to be and appear in said court, on a day named in said notice, not less than twenty-eight nor more than sixty days from the date thereof, and to show cause why said petition should not be granted. Rule days are abolished in all proceedings hereunder. Said notice shall be served by the proper sheriff in the same manner as that in which summonses in chancery are served, not less than fifteen days before the return day named in said notice. As many alias and pluries notices as may be necessary may, from time to time, be issued, returnable as herein provided, to a later date or later dates. If any person named in said notice be alleged to be a nonresident of Florida, or if the name or residence or whereabouts of any such person is alleged to be unknown, or if any such person cannot be personally served, the clerk shall cause such notice to be published once each week for four consecutive weeks (four publications being sufficient) prior to the return day, in some newspaper published in the county, which notice shall show the filing of said petition for adoption of such child. The clerk shall mail a copy of such notice to every such nonresident person at his place of residence as shown in the petition. The clerk shall file a certificate of constructive service, and thereupon such constructive service shall be as effectual as to persons who are nonresidents or whose names or residence or whereabouts are unknown, as if such persons had been personally served with process within this state, according to law. In the event it is necessary to serve such notice by publication, it shall be shown either in the verified petition or in an affidavit attached thereto, that diligent search has been made by the petitioner or the petitioners to ascertain the names and places of residence, of the natural parent or parents, or legal guardian.

History.—§7, ch. 21759, 1943; §1, ch. 63-211.

72.14 Consent.—The notice provided for in §72.13 shall be unnecessary when there shall have been filed with the petition, or thereafter, a written consent, executed in the presence of two witnesses and acknowledged before a notary public, or other officer authorized by law to take acknowledgments, by:

(1) The living parent or parents of a child born in wedlock, or the living mother of a child born out of wedlock, or if no parent is living, the legal guardian, if such there be; provided, that if such child has previously been permanently committed to a licensed child-placing agency or the state department of public welfare, then in such event, the consent of such parent or parents, or legal guardian shall not be required and the consent to adoption may be given by the licensed child-placing agency or the state department of public welfare to which such child has been so committed and such consent shall be sufficient. Provided further, that if such child has been permanently committed for the purpose of adoption, by a court having jurisdiction of the cause and parties, to an agency of or in a state other than Florida, such agency being duly licensed or otherwise legally qualified in said state to place children for adoption, and documentary evidence of such license or legal qualifications and permanent commitment for adoption satisfactory to the court has been filed in the proceeding, the consent of the parent or parents or legal guardian shall not be required and the consent to the adoption may be given by such out-of-state agency.

(2) Provided further, that if any adoption decree has heretofore been entered in any of the circuit courts of this state based upon the consent of the state department of public welfare, or a child-placing agency duly licensed or otherwise legally qualified by or in another state to whom such child has been permanently committed for adoption by a court having jurisdiction of the cause and the parties, such adoption or adoptions are hereby validated and confirmed unless proceedings are instituted in the court entering the decree or decrees to vacate and set same aside within six months from the effective date of this law.

(3) In any event, if the child sought to be adopted has attained the age of twelve years, the written consent of such child, executed and acknowledged as aforesaid, shall be required.

History.—§8, ch. 21759, 1943; §2, ch. 23721, 1947; (1), (2) §7, ch. 63-449.

Note.—Word "or" added to state department of public welfare as amended by ch. 63-449.

72.15 Social investigation and recommendations.—Upon or prior to the filing of a petition for the adoption of any minor child, a study shall be made of all pertinent details relating to such child for the purpose of ascertaining whether he is a proper subject for adoption, and the petitioner or petitioners, to determine whether they are suitable persons to adopt such child; provided, however, said investigation and recommendations shall not be required, unless requested by the court, in cases where the petitioner is married to and not separated from one of the natural parents of the child sought to be adopted and the petition so states. If the child sought to be adopted has previously been permanently committed to a licensed child-placing agency, the social study shall be made by such agency, otherwise by the state welfare board. Written recommendations as to the desirability of the adoption shall be filed by such agency making such study or by the state welfare board, as the case may be. Thereupon such agency or the state welfare board, as the case may be, shall be deemed a party to the cause. In all cases in which the state welfare board is required to make a study and file recommendations as to the desirability of the adoption as herein provided the board shall, when submitting its recommendations, submit to the court a written statement of the facts found in its social investigation and on which its recommendations are based.

History.—§9, ch. 21759, 1943; §3, ch. 23721, 1947; §1, ch. 29674, 1955.

72.16 Persons desiring to resist said adoption.—Any person, including the state welfare board or the licensed child placing agency to which the child sought to be adopted has previously been permanently committed, shall have the right after the filing of any petition, to file an answer and objections to the granting of an order of adoption and shall thereupon appear as a respondent in the proceedings.

History.—§10, ch. 21759, 1943.

72.17 Guardian ad litem under certain circumstances.—In cases where the state welfare board or a child-placing agency is required to make a study and recommendation, if said board or agency fails to file its recommendations with the clerk of the court in which the petition has been filed as provided in §72.15 within ninety days from the date of the filing of the petition, or fails to file an answer or objection to the granting of the petition, within such time, then in such event, the court shall appoint a guardian ad litem to represent the child.

History.—§11, ch. 21759, 1943; §2, ch. 29674, 1955.

72.18 Hearing.—The hearing on the petition shall not be held until the child shall have lived in the home of the petitioners under supervision if the state welfare board not less than ninety days; provided, however, that hearings on all stepparent adoptions, whether or not a natural parent has filed formal opposition to the adoption with the court, may be held immediately upon filing of the petition and consent of, or proof of notice to the other natural parent, hearings on adoptions of children related to petitioners by blood or marriage may be held as soon as the recommendations of the state welfare board are filed, hearings on child-placing agency adoptions may be held upon receipt of the child-placing agency's recommendations, provided the child has lived in the home ninety days, and hearings on adoptions when a natural parent has filed formal opposition to the adoption with the court and hearings on adoptions where the state welfare board is recommending dismissal, may be held at any time after receipt of the state welfare board's recommendation. Provided further, the court in its discretion may postpone such hearings from time to time. The state welfare board, and the licensed child-placing agency named in the petition, if such there be, shall be notified of the date of the hearing. The petitioners and the child to be adopted, if twelve years of age or over, shall be required to attend the hearing in person, but a younger child shall not be required to attend unless the court so orders. Hearings may be held informally.

History.—§12, ch. 21759, 1943; §3, ch. 29674, 1955.

72.20 Final decree of adoption.—Upon hearing if it appears to the court that the petitioners are fit and proper persons to adopt said child and that the best interests of the child will be promoted by the adoption, and that the child is suitable for adoption by petitioners, the court shall enter a final decree of adoption declaring the child legally the child of petitioner or petitioners and giving such child the name by which it shall thereafter be known; otherwise the court shall dismiss the petition or continue the hearing for further investigation and consideration.

History.—§14, ch. 21759, 1943; §5, ch. 29674, 1955.

72.21 Proceedings to be as in chancery.—All proceedings herein shall be as in chancery and shall be governed by the same rules as other chancery causes, except as may be herein expressly changed or modified.

All recommendations, statements of facts, and supplementary recommendations filed by a licensed child placing agency or the state welfare board shall be served upon the petitioner or petitioners in the same manner as pleadings.

History.—§15, ch. 21759, 1943; §1, ch. 28044, 1953.

72.22 Effect of adoption.—By the decree of adoption the child shall be the child and legal heir of the adopting parent or parents, entitled to all rights and privileges, and subject to all obligations, of a child born to such parent or parents in lawful wedlock. The natural parents of such adopted child, if living, shall, after the adoption, be relieved of all legal duties and obligations due from them to such child, and shall be divested of all rights with respect to such child; provided, that when the adopting parent is married to one of the natural parents of such child, or thereafter intermarries with one of such natural parents, then the relation of such child toward such natural parents shall be in no way altered by the adoption; provided further, that when an adopted child has been subsequently adopted by some third party or re-adopted by his natural parents or one of them, that such adopted child shall not inherit from an adopted parent when he has been subsequently adopted by another or by his natural parents or one of them, in the absence of some evidence in writing that such adopting parent considered such child his child for the purposes of inheritance, notwithstanding the subsequent adoption and provided further that nothing in this law shall be construed to prevent a legally adopted child from inheriting from the natural parents under the laws of this state or any state.

History.—§16, ch. 21759, 1943; §1, ch. 57-158.

72.23 Right of appeal.—Any party aggrieved by the entry of any order herein shall have the right to appeal in the same manner as in other chancery cases.

History.—§17, ch. 21759, 1943.

72.24 Filing statement with bureau of vital statistics.—Within thirty days after the decree of adoption has been entered by the court, it shall be the duty of the clerk of the court to forward a certified statement of the entry of the final decree of adoption in said cause to the registrar of vital statistics of the state board of health on a form to be provided by said registrar, to be recorded and preserved by said registrar as provided by law.

History.—§18, ch. 21759, 1943; §4, ch. 23721, 1947.

72.25 Prior adoption proceedings.—All adoptions lawfully made prior to May 17, 1943, pursuant to prior laws shall be valid, although not made in compliance with the provisions of this law; and adoption proceedings pending on said May 17, 1943, are not affected by this law.

History.—§20, ch. 21759, 1943.

72.27 Adoption records confidential.—The court files, records and papers in proceedings for the adoption of minors are hereby declared to be confidential, and shall be indexed only in the name or names of the petitioners seeking such adoption and neither the name of the minor before or after the adoption shall be noted on any docket, index or other record outside of the court file in such proceedings. At any time during the progress of the cause the court may enter an order impounding all files, records and papers therein. In all adoption proceedings, upon entry of a final decree, the court files, records and papers shall be sealed and shall not be open to inspection except upon order of said court; provided further, that all adoption records of the state welfare board and licensed child-placing agencies are hereby declared to be confidential, and shall not be open to inspection.

History.—§5, ch. 23721, 1947; §1, ch. 29703, 1955.

72.28 Custody of minor.—Whenever the minor is in the custody of the person or persons petitioning for its adoption the court, upon denial of the petition may in its discretion remove the child from the custody of the petitioners and make such other orders for its custody as may be to the best interest of the child.

History.—§6, ch. 23721, 1947; §6, ch. 29674, 1955.

72.29 Copy of final decree; delivery.—Within thirty days after the entry of a final decree of adoption, it shall be the duty of the clerk of the court to deliver a true copy of the final decree to the licensed child-placing agency which may have filed recommendations in the proceedings, or to the state welfare board if the recommendations were filed by said board.

History.—§7, ch. 23721, 1947.

72.30 Irregularities and procedural defects cured.—After two years from the entry of a final decree of adoption any irregularity or procedural defect in the adoption proceeding shall be deemed cured, and thereafter the validity of such final decree shall not be subject to direct or collateral attack by reason or on account of any such irregularity or procedural defect; provided, however, that as to all such decrees which were entered more than one year prior to the effective date of this law, the validity thereof may be subject to attack on the grounds of any such irregularity or procedural defect at any time within one year after the effective date of this law.

History.—§8, ch. 23721, 1947.

72.31 Short title.—Sections 72.31-72.39 may be cited and referred to as the adoption of an adult law of 1947.

History.—§1, ch. 23891, 1947.

72.32 Definition.—Wherever the word "adopters" appears in this law, the same shall be construed to include the survivor of a married couple.

History.—§1A, ch. 23891, 1947.

72.33 Order of adoption.—The judges of the several circuit courts of this state, sitting in chancery, shall have full power and authority, either in term time or in vacation, at chambers, to enter an order of adoption of an adult, hereinafter called adoptee, whether married or single, by other married adults, or the survivor thereof, hereinafter called adopters.

History.—§2, ch. 23891, 1947; §11, ch. 25035, 1949.

72.34 Petition to adopt adult.—Any adult, married or unmarried, residing in the state and wishing to adopt another adult, may apply by petition in chancery to the judge of the circuit court for the circuit in which such adopters may reside, for permission to adopt another adult, whether married or single; provided, however, that said adopters are more than ten years older than the adoptee.

History.—§3, ch. 23891, 1947; §11, ch. 25035, 1949; §1, ch. 28107, 1953; §1, ch. 29704, 1955; §1, ch. 61-445; §1, ch. 63-273.

72.35 Contents of petition to adopt adult.—Such adopters shall set forth in such petition the date and place of their marriage, the age of each of such adopters, the name, age, and address of the adoptee and the name, age, and address of the spouse of the adoptee, if married, and shall briefly set forth the reasons why the adoption of such adult is desired. Said petition shall be sworn to by adopters, before some officer authorized to administer oaths.

History.—§4, ch. 23891, 1947; §11, ch. 25035, 1949.

72.36 Consent of adoptee required.—There shall be filed with such petition the written consent of the adoptee and of the spouse, if any, of such adoptee to such adoption and also one of the following:

(1) The written consent of the natural parent or parents, if any, of such adoptee.

(2) Proof of personal service of a true copy of said petition and of notice of the time and place of the hearing of said petition upon the natural parent or parents, if any, of such adoptee.

(3) Proof by affidavit of publication of notice that a petition for such adoption will be presented to the court at a specified time and place. Such publication shall be made four times consecutively, once each week (four publications being sufficient) in a newspaper in the county where such adopters reside.

History.—§5, ch. 23891, 1947.

72.37 Consideration of petition by judge.—The judge before whom any such petition shall be filed, shall forthwith consider the same together with such evidence as to the character, habits, capacity, and qualifications of the adopters, as to him shall seem proper, and if satisfied that the adoption of such adoptee will be for his or her permanent interest or benefit, he shall enter a decree authorizing the adoption of such adoptee by such adopters, as their own child and heir at law.

History.—§6, ch. 23891, 1947.

72.38 Effect of adoption of adult.—By a decree of adoption, the adoptee shall be the child and legal heir of the adopters, entitled to all rights and privileges and subject to all obligations of a child born to such adopters in lawful wedlock. The natural parents of such adoptee, if living, shall, after the adoption, be relieved of all legal duties and obligations due from them to such adoptee and shall be divested of all rights with respect to such adoptee, provided, however, that nothing in this law shall be construed to prevent the adoptee from inheriting from his or her natural parents, under the laws of this or any other state. The provisions of §731.30, relating to inheritance by and from an adopted child shall also apply to inheritance by and from an adult adopted under the provisions of this law.

History.—§7, ch. 23891, 1947.

72.39 Recording decree of adoption.—Such decree shall be duly recorded in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of the county in which such adopters reside. A certified copy of such decree shall be taken and received as sufficient evidence of the adoption of such adoptee by such adopters, wherever such adoptee may be in business, own any property, or be engaged in any legal controversy.

History.—§8, ch. 23891, 1947.

72.40 Adoption of children; placement; selling; advertising, etc.—

(1) As used in this section:

(a) The word "person" shall include every natural person, corporation, association, partnership, institution or agency except licensed child-placing agencies.

(b) The singular shall include the plural, the plural the singular, the feminine gender shall include the masculine, and the masculine the feminine.

(c) The word "child" shall mean any person who shall not have attained his or her twenty-first birthday.

(d) The word "placement" shall mean the giving or transferring of possession or custody of a child, by any person to another person, for adoption or with intent or purpose of surrendering the control of the child.

(2) It shall be unlawful for any person:

(a) Rendering any service in connection with the placement of a child for adoption, or in connection with the placement of a child with one other than its parents, to charge or receive from or on behalf of either the natural parent or parents of the child to be adopted or placed, or from or on behalf of the person or persons legally adopting, or accepting, such child any compensation or thing of value whatsoever for the placement service, other than that now or hereafter allowed by law; but this shall not be construed to prohibit the payment by any interested persons of reasonable charges or fees for hospital or medical services, for the birth of a child or medical care for the mother or child incident thereto, or for legal services, or costs of court for an adoption suit or proceeding.

(b) To sell or surrender a child to another person for money or anything of value; and it shall be unlawful for any person to receive such minor child for such payment or thing of value; provided, that nothing herein shall be construed as prohibiting any person, who is contemplating adopting a child not yet born, from paying necessary, actual prenatal care and living expenses of the mother of the child to be adopted, nor of paying necessary, actual living and medical expenses of such mother for a reasonable time, not to exceed thirty days, after the birth of the child.

(c) Having the rights and duties of a parent, with respect to the care and custody of a minor, to assign or transfer such parental rights for the purpose of, incidental to, or otherwise connected with, selling or offering to sell such rights and duties.

(d) To advertise or cause to be advertised by any medium for the placement or adoption, or any offer or solicitation for the placement or adoption, of any child.

(e) To assist in the commission of any acts prohibited in paragraphs (a)-(d) hereof.

(3) It is not intended that any portion of this section shall be amendatory of chapter 72, relating to adoption, but it is intended to be cumulative thereto.

(4) Whoever shall violate any portion of this section shall be deemed guilty of a felony and upon conviction shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison of not less than one year and not more than five years or by fine of not less than one thousand dollars or not exceeding five thousand dollars, or both.

73.01 Eminent domain; instituting proceedings; contents of petition.—Whenever the right, to take private property for public use without the consent of the owner, is now, or may hereafter be, conferred by the constitution or any general or local law of this state, upon the state or any of its bodies politic and corporate, upon any state, county, municipal or district authority, public body, officer or agent, upon the United States or upon any other person, those having such right may file a verified petition therefor in the circuit court of the county wherein the property lies, which petition shall be governed by the applicable rules of civil procedure except as otherwise specifically provided herein and which shall set forth:

(1) The authority under which, and the public use to which, the property is to be acquired, and that the property is necessary for that use;

(2) A description, sufficient for the identification thereof, of the property sought to be acquired. The petitioners may join in the same action all properties involved in a planned project whether in the same or different ownership or whether or not the property is sought for the same use.

(3) The estate or interest in said property which the petitioner intends to acquire for the public use stated;

(4) The names, places of residence, legal disabilities (if any) and interests in the said property of all owners, mortgagees, judgment creditors and lien holders, so far as ascertainable by diligent search; and where advisable all unknown owners, lien holders or claimants where after diligent search and inquiry petitioner has been unable to ascertain such persons;

(5) A prayer that the said property be condemned and taken for the uses and purposes set forth in the petition and that the title to the same, in fee simple or such other estate or interest as may be specified, be vested in the petitioner;

(6) If the petitioner be a corporation seeking to obtain a right of way, the petition shall also show that the petitioner has located its line and intends in good faith to construct the same over the property;

(7) If the petitioner be a drainage or sub-drainage district created under the laws of this state, the said petition shall also show that the petitioner has surveyed and located the lines of its canal and other works and intends in good faith to construct the same over or on the said lands and that the said construction has been ordered by the proper authority.

cf.—§127.01, Counties; delegated power of eminent domain.
§90.231 Expert witnesses' fees.

73.011 Jurisdiction of court over taxes and tax proceedings.—The court in which a proceeding in eminent domain is pending shall have jurisdiction and authority over any and all taxes and assessments encumbering the lands involved in such proceedings and may stay or defer the enforcement of such taxes and assessments, including all applications for tax deeds, foreclosures and other enforcement proceedings, until the final termination of such eminent domain proceedings. The said court may make such orders concerning such taxes and assessments as may be equitable and proper; providing, however, that ad valorem taxes levied upon any such lands shall be prorated against the owner to the date of taking. The provisions herein shall control pending cases which have not reached final judgment.

History.—§1, ch. 26338, 1949; §§1, 2, ch. 61-479.

73.02 Certain parties defendant.—If any interest in the property or any lien thereon belongs to the unsettled estate of a decedent, the executor or administrator shall be made the party defendant with respect to such interest without joining the devisee or heir; if a trust estate, the trustee shall be made the party defendant without joining cestui que trust. An administrator ad litem may be appointed to represent the estate of a deceased person whose estate is not being administered.

History.—§2, ch. 5017, 1901; GS 2009; §4, ch. 6866, 1915; RGS 1960, 3277; CGL 3116; 5085; §2, ch. 20930, 1941; §1, ch. 59-450.

73.03 Verification of petition and affidavit of diligent search.—The petition provided for in §73.01, shall be verified by the official head of the petitioner, its attorney, or some executive officer of the petitioner having knowledge of the facts stated in the petition. Unless shown in the verified petition, there shall also be annexed to the petition an affidavit by the same affiant that diligent search and inquiry has been made by the petitioner to ascertain the names, places of residence, legal disabilities (if any) and interest of the owners, mortgagees, judgment creditors and lien holders of the property and that those as ascertained are as set forth in the petition.

History.—§1546 RS 1892; §3 ch. 5017, 1901; GS 2010; §5, ch. 6866, 1915; §5, ch. 7338, 1917; RGS 1507, 1961, 3278; §2, ch. 8558, 1921; CGL 1511, 2285, 3117, 5086; §3, ch. 20930, 1941.

73.04 Process, service and publication.—Upon the filing of the petition, the clerk of the court wherein filed shall forthwith issue a notice, containing the legal description of the real estate involved, directed "to all whom it may concern" and containing the names of all the defendants named in the petition, which may include unknown persons claiming by, through or under known persons who are dead or who are not known to be either dead or alive, commanding them to be and appear in said court, on a day named in said notice not less than twenty-eight nor more than sixty days from the date thereof, and to show what right, title or interest they have or claim in or to said property and to show cause why it should not be taken for the uses and purposes set forth in the petition. Rule days are abolished in these proceedings. The said notice shall be served by the proper sheriff in the same manner as writs of summons ad respondendum are served, not less than fifteen days before the return day of such notice. As many alias and pluries notices as may be necessary to obtain service on the defendants may, from time to time, be issued, returnable as above stated, to a later day or days. If any defendant be alleged to be a nonresident of the state, or if the name or residence of any defendant is alleged to be unknown, or if any defendant cannot be personally served, the clerk shall cause such notice to be published once each week for four consecutive weeks, four publications being sufficient prior to the return day, in some newspaper published in the county; provided, however, that if the petitioner be a municipal corporation and a newspaper be published therein, said notice shall be published in said newspaper. The clerk shall mail a certified copy of such notice to each nonresident defendant at his place of residence as named in the petition. The clerk shall file a certificate of constructive service, which mode of service shall be as effectual as though the defendant had been personally served with process within this state. The published notice provided for in this section need contain only a description of the land to be taken from the defendant to whom the notice is directed. Notice of lis pendens may be filed and recorded as in other cases.

cf.—§74.141 Public utilities; application of chapter.

73.05 Intervention.—Any person not expressly made a party, interested in or having a lien upon the property described in the petition, may become a party, as of course, before the return day or afterward by leave of court, by filing his petition of intervention in the cause setting forth his interest under oath.

History.—§1548 RS 1892; §5, ch. 5017, 1901; GS 2012; RGS 3280; CGL 5088; §5, ch. 20930, 1941.

73.06 Entry of defaults.—All parties not appearing and answering on the return day, whether under disability or not, shall be bound by the proceedings, and defaults may be entered against them, but nothing shall prevent any person who is shown by the record to be interested in the property from appearing before the jury to contest for and claim the amount of compensation that he conceives to be due for the property. No trial, as against any non-resident or unknown party, shall proceed or be had until after the period of publication provided in §73.04. Defaults may be opened by the judge at any time prior to the trial of the cause for good cause shown by interested parties.

73.10 Trial in vacation or term.—

(1) Whenever it shall be made to appear to the judge of the court in which the cause is pending that the same is at issue or stands on default duly and properly entered, or that said cause is at issue as to one or more of the defendants and stands on default duly entered as to the others, the said judge shall try said cause at once, whether it be in vacation or in term time (so long as said trial shall not interfere with the holding of any regular term of court within his judicial circuit) and to this end the judge may make all necessary orders for procuring the jury or in reference to the cause. If no cause be shown to the contrary the said judge shall cause a jury of twelve men to be empaneled to try what compensation shall be made to the defendants for the property sought to be appropriated, which issue shall be tried in the same manner as the other issues of fact are tried in the said circuit court.

(2) The amount of such compensation shall be the value of the property sought to be appropriated including the damages, if any, accruing to the untaken portion where less than the entire property is sought to be appropriated determined as of the date of the trial of the issue of just compensation or as of the date at which title to the estate sought to be appropriated shall vest in the petitioner if such occur prior to the date of such trial.

(3) When the suit is by the state road department, county, municipality, board, district or other public body for the condemnation of a road, canal, levee or water control facility right of way, the enhancement, if any, in value of the remaining adjoining property of the defendant property owner by reason of the construction or improvement made or contemplated by the petitioner, shall be offset against the damage, if any, resulting to such remaining adjoining property of the defendant owner by reason of the construction or improvement, but such enhancement in value shall not be offset against the value of the property appropriated, and if such enhancement in value shall exceed the damage, if any, to the remaining adjoining property there shall be no recovery over against such property owner for such excess.

(4) A condemnation suit being an action in rem, in such a suit by the state road department, county, municipality, board, district, or other public body for the condemnation of a road rights of way, borrow pits or drainage easements or other rights of way the condemnation jury shall determine solely the amount of compensation to be awarded for the property taken and damages to the remaining property, if any. Provided, however, that when the suit is by the state road department, county, municipality, board, district or other public body for the condemnation of a right of way, and the effect of the taking of the property involved may damage or destroy an established business of more than five years standing, owned by the party whose lands are being so taken, located upon adjoining lands owned or held by such party, the jury shall consider the probable effect the denial of the use of the property so taken may have upon the said business, and assess in addition to the amount to be awarded for the taking, the probable damages to such business which the denial of the use of the property so taken may reasonably cause; any person claiming the right to recover such special damages shall set forth in his answer the nature and extent of such damages.

(5) The property shall be viewed by the jury only upon demand by any party to the suit or by order of the court on its own motion.

(6) If the jury cannot agree, then the said judge shall forthwith empanel another jury and proceed with the trial of said cause; provided, however, that if any jury is summoned out of term time, that the entire cost thereof including the compensation of such jurors shall be taxed as costs against the petitioner in said cause.

History.—§1549 RS 1892; §6, ch. 5017, 1901; §2, ch. 5211, 1903; GS 2013, 2823; §6, ch. 6866, 1915; §6, ch. 7338, 1917; RGS 1508, 1962, 3281, 4376; §3, ch. 8558, 1921; §2, ch. 10112, 1925; CGL 1512, 2286, 3118, 5089 and 6340; §1, ch. 15927, 1923; §10, ch. 20930, 1941; §1, ch. 29729, 1955; §1, ch. 57-165; (2) and (4) §1, ch. 59-450; (3) §1, ch. 63-159.

73.11 Form of verdict.—The verdict of the jury shall state: First, an accurate description of the property taken; second, the compensation to be made therefor, including a reasonable attorney's fee for the defendant's attorney; and third, the amount of such compensation to which each owner is entitled, if sufficient facts are before the court to adjudicate the distribution of the proceeds.

History.—§1553 RS 1892; §8, ch. 5017, 1901; GS 2015; §8, ch. 6866, 1915; §8, ch. 7338, 1917; RGS 1510, 1964, 3283; CGL 2288, 3120, 5091; §11, ch. 20930, 1941.

73.12 Form of judgment.—The judgment shall recite the verdict in full and shall be that the property therein described be appropriated to the petitioner in fee simple, or the particular right or estate in said property sought, be appropriated to the petitioner upon the petitioner paying or securing by deposit of money the compensation found by the verdict of the jury. The compensation awarded by the jury shall be determined as a whole, irrespective of the interest of the various parties in such parcel. The court upon appropriate petition shall determine the rights of any owners, lessees, mortgagees, judgment creditors and lien-holders in respect to the compensation awarded to each owner by the verdict, and the method of apportionment among interested parties together with the disposition of any other matters arising from the taking.

History.—§1554 RS 1892; §9, ch. 5017, 1901; GS 2016, 2824; §9, ch. 6866, 1915; §9, ch. 7338, 1917; RGS 1511, 1965, 3284, 4377; CGL 2289, 3121, 5092, 6341; §12, ch. 20930, 1941; §1, ch. 59-450.

73.13 Payment of compensation for property.—The petitioner, within ten days after the rendition of the judgment, shall pay into the court for the use of the defendant the compensation ascertained by the jury, or else the proceedings shall be null and void, unless, for good cause, further time, not exceeding thirty days, be allowed by the court. Upon such payment, and upon the recording of the judgment, with the clerk's certificate that the compensation has been paid into the court, in the book of deeds in said clerk's office, the petitioner may enter upon and appropriate the property for the uses aforesaid, with the same effect as though the petitioner held the same by deed or grant from the defendant.

73.14 Review by appeal.—Any person aggrieved by the final judgment may appeal to the appropriate district court of appeal, unless review by the supreme court is authorized by Art. V of the state constitution, in the manner and within the time prescribed by the Florida appellate rules, and such appeal shall in no case operate as a supersedeas where the petitioner has paid the amount of compensation into court as aforesaid, so as to prevent the petitioner's appropriation of the property pending the appeal. If, at any time after the appeal is taken, the defendant shall take out of the court the amount found to be due him, the appeal shall be dismissed in the appellate court upon the filing of a certificate by the clerk of the circuit court, stating that the defendant has taken out the compensation as aforesaid.

73.19 Taking property in connection with drainage, generally.—The right of drainage given by §28, Art. XVI of the constitution, shall be exercised in the manner prescribed for acquiring private property for public use, as nearly as may be.

History.—§1563 RS 1892; §18, ch. 5017, 1901; GS 2025; RGS 3293; CGL 5101; §19, ch. 20930, 1941.

73.20 Right, title or interest taken by condemnation.—The petitioner shall state in the prayer of the petition what right, title or estate is sought in the property to be condemned, whether an easement, an estate for years, or the fee simple title, and the verdict and judgment of condemnation shall vest in the petitioner the right, title or estate prayed for in the petition.

History.—§1564 RS 1892; §19, ch. 5017, 1901; GS 2026; RGS 3294; CGL 5102; §1, ch. 15928, 1933; §20, ch. 20930, 1941.

73.21 Joinder and venue.—As many defendants may be joined in one cause of action and their property taken as provided in this chapter, as the circumstances will permit. Should it appear at any stage of the case that the causes of action joined cannot be conveniently disposed of together, the court may order separate trials; provided, however, that any such suits shall be tried in the county in which the lands are located.

History.—§6, ch. 8558, 1921; CGL 1515; §21, ch. 20930, 1941; §3, ch. 59-450.

73.22 Proceedings by board of commissioners of state institutions.—

(1) Whenever it becomes necessary for the welfare and convenience of any of the institutions now under the supervision and control of the board of commissioners of state institutions, or which may hereafter be placed under the supervision and control of said board of commissioners of state institutions, to acquire private property for the use of any of said institutions, and the same cannot be acquired by agreement satisfactory to the said board and the parties interested in, or the owners of said private property, the board of commissioners of state institutions is hereby empowered and authorized to exercise the right of eminent domain, and to proceed to condemn the said property in the same manner as provided by law for the condemnation of property.

(2) Any suit or actions brought by the said board to condemn property as provided in this section shall be brought in the name of the board of commissioners of state institutions, and it shall be the duty of the attorney general of the state to conduct the proceedings for, and to act as counsel for the said board.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 7947, 1919; CGL 5104, 5105; §§1, 2, ch. 20873, 1941; §22, ch. 20930, 1941.

73.23 Right of way in incorporated city or town.—Whenever the use of any street, square, highway or public way, or any part thereof, within any incorporated city or town, or county, is required by any corporation for public use, the right to use such street, square, highway or public way, or any part thereof, shall be granted only by the legislative body of such city or town, or by the county commissioners of the county.

History.—§1562 RS 1892; §17, ch. 5017, 1901; RGS 3292; CGL 5100; §23, ch. 20930, 1941.

73.24 Right of way for telegraph or telephone line over railroad right of way.—

(1) If any telegraph or telephone company fails to secure the consent of any railroad or railway company for the construction of its lines along and upon the right of way of any railroad in this state, the same may be acquired by eminent domain. If the defendant railroad or railway company has a principal office or place of business in this state and any portion of the right of way sought to be condemned extends into the county wherein such principal office or place of business is located, then the proceeding for condemnation shall be had in such county. No map need be filed with the petition but it shall state about how many poles per mile will be erected on such right of way and about how far from each other and from the centers of the main track of the railroad, their length and size, the depth they will be planted in the ground and the amount of land that will be occupied by them. No pole shall be set at a greater distance than ten feet from the outer edge of the right of way. In such proceeding the plaintiff shall give bond for costs in the penalty of two hundred dollars, payable to the defendant with surety to be approved by the clerk.

(2) The judgment shall authorize the petitioner to enter upon the right of way of the defendant and construct its lines thereon. Said judgment shall further provide that such lines shall be constructed so as not to interfere with the operation of the trains of said defendant or any telephone or telegraph line already upon such right of way; and furthermore, that if, at any time, the railroad or railway company shall desire, for railway purposes, the immediate use of any land occupied by said plaintiff, then the plaintiff shall, upon reasonable notice in writing, at its own expense, remove its line to some other place adjacent thereto on such right of way so as not to interfere with the track or use of said railway or any telephone or telegraph line already on said right of way, and that the said line shall not be erected on any embankment or slope of any cut of such right of way, and if at any time the said railroad or railway company shall require for railroad purposes its entire right of way at any point occupied by said line, the said plaintiff shall, at such point, remove said line entirely off such right of way.

(3) The telegraph or telephone company by such proceeding shall acquire only an easement in and to said railroad right of way for the purpose of constructing, maintaining and operating its telegraph or telephone line thereon, and only the interests of such parties as are brought before the court shall be condemned in such proceeding. If the easement, or right of way claimed extends in or through more counties than one, the whole right and controversy may be heard and determined in any county into or through which such right of way extends, except as herein otherwise provided.

74.01 Declaration of taking; state and other agencies.—In any proceeding in any court of the state which has been or may be instituted by and in the name of the state, the state road department, or any county, county school board or municipality, the Jacksonville expressway authority, flood control district, or the ship canal authority, for the purpose of condemning lands or other property necessary for rights of way, borrow pits or drainage easements for state, county, Jacksonville expressway authority, roads, bridges, property for school purposes, or municipal streets, lanes, alleys and other public ways, rights of way or easements for sewers, lift stations, pumping stations, water or gas mains, canals, levees, or water storage areas, under any law authorizing the exercise of the right of eminent domain by the state, the state road department, the counties, county school boards, incorporated municipalities, the Jacksonville expressway authority, flood control districts, or the ship canal authority, the petitioner in such proceedings, whether such petitioner be the state road department, the state or any county, county school board, municipality of the state, the Jacksonville expressway authority, flood control district, or the ship canal authority, may file in the cause with the petition, or at any time before judgment, a declaration of taking, signed by the petitioner, or its duly authorized agent or attorney, declaring that said lands are thereby taken for the use of the petitioner, and there shall be attached thereto the petitioner's estimate of value, such estimate to be based upon a valid appraisal, made in good faith, on each parcel in the proceeding.

History.—§1, ch. 19217, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 7100(3m); §1, ch. 20304, 1941; §1, ch. 26921, 1951; §1, ch. 29708, 1955; §§1, 2, ch. 31407, 1956; §1, ch. 59-362; §2, ch. 59-450; §1, ch. 61-203.

74.02 Service of process.—The failure of any nonresident or unknown party or parties whose address is alleged in the petition to be unknown to receive the notice, shall not invalidate the proceedings of the court or any order made pursuant to the provisions of this law.

(1) Any officer authorized to execute process may serve the notice above set forth upon any of the parties to the proceedings alleged in the petition to reside within the state, in the same manner as now provided by law for the service of summons and such notice shall be served at least seven days prior to the date set by the court for the appointment of appraisers.

(2) The parties alleged to be nonresidents, whose addresses are given, shall be given notice in the following manner:

(a) The notice shall be published one time in a newspaper authorized to publish legal notices, in the county where the suit is instituted at least seven days prior to the date designated by the court for the appointment of appraisers and a copy of this notice shall be mailed to the party at the address set forth in the petition by the clerk at least seven days prior to the date designated by the court for the appointment of appraisers. Notice shall be given to all unknown parties, or parties whose addresses are alleged to be unknown, in the same manner as heretofore provided in this subsection, except that no notices shall be mailed by the clerk. The notices provided in this subsection may be combined and one notice published as to all parties named or described under this subsection.

(b) The failure of any nonresident or unknown party or party whose address is alleged in the petition to be unknown to receive the notice, shall not invalidate the proceedings of the court or any order made pursuant to the provisions of this chapter in suits by parties mentioned in §74.01.

History.—§1, ch. 19217, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 7100(3m); §1, ch. 20304, 1941.

74.03 Appointment of appraisers.—At the time designated in the notice all parties to the suit may appear and be forthwith heard upon questions of jurisdiction of the court and sufficiency of the pleadings, and also upon the suggestions of the parties in respect to the persons to be appointed as appraisers hereunder, not exceeding three in number; and thereupon, in the event jurisdictional questions and questions relating to the sufficiency of pleadings are resolved in favor of the petitioner, the court shall enter an order appointing not more than three disinterested persons as appraisers to view and appraise the premises and report the appraised value thereof to the court within a time limit fixed by such order, and such order shall also fix a time and place at which the court shall receive and consider the report of the appraisers and hear testimony relating thereto, such hearing to be not less than three nor more than seven days subsequent to the final date for the filing of the report of the appraisers, but such hearing may be continued from day to day at the pleasure of the court; provided, that for good cause shown by the appraisers, the court may without notice to the parties, by order extend the time for filing of such report and shall in such event also fix another date for the hearing thereon. A copy of such order shall be furnished to all parties who have appeared in the proceedings. Before entering upon their duties such appraisers shall file an affidavit accepting appointment as such and to well and truly perform their duties.

History.—§1, ch. 19217, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 7100(3m); §1, ch. 20304, 1941; §2, ch. 26921, 1951.

74.04 Hearing before appraisers.—Upon the date designated for considering the report of the appraisers all parties to the cause may be heard, represented by counsel and may introduce testimony as to the value of the property sought to be condemned, and said parties shall have the right to introduce testimony and be heard upon the question as to whether or not the petitioner is properly exercising the authority delegated to it in taking the said property.

History.—§1, ch. 19217, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 7100(3m); §1, ch. 20304, 1941.

74.05 Payment into court.—The court, after the close of testimony, shall make such order as the court deems proper, securing to all parties all rights to which they may be entitled. If the court finds that the petitioner is entitled to possession of the property prior to final judgment, the court shall enter an order requiring the petitioner to deposit in the registry of the court such sum of money as the court shall determine will fully secure and fully compensate the persons lawfully entitled to compensation, as ultimately determined by final judgment of the court, which said deposit shall not be less than double the value as fixed by the appraisers appointed by the court; except that in the event the petitioner is acquiring right of way for the state highway system, or flood control purposes, or part of the turnpike system, or where the petitioner seeks to condemn property for school purposes or use, such petitioner shall be required to deposit such sum as the court shall determine will fully secure and fully compensate the persons lawfully entitled to compensation, which deposit shall not be less than one hundred per cent of the value as fixed by the court-appointed appraisers.

If the sum so fixed by the court is not deposited within twenty days after the date of such order, the order shall be void and of no further force or effect, provided that no sum paid into the registry of the court pursuant to this chapter shall be charged with commissions or poundage.

History.—§1, ch. 19217, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 7100(3m); §1, ch. 20304, 1941; §1, ch. 29915, 1955; §1, ch. 59-297; §1, ch. 61-190; §1, ch. 61-247; §1, ch. 63-505.

74.06 Vesting of title to property.—Immediately upon the making of the deposit provided for in §74.05, title to the said lands in fee simple absolute or such less estate or interest therein as is specified in said declaration shall vest in the petitioner and said lands shall be deemed to be condemned and taken for the use of the petitioner and the right to just compensation for same shall vest in the persons entitled thereto; and said compensation shall be ascertained and awarded in said proceeding and established by judgment therein and said judgment shall include as a part of the just compensation awarded, interest at the rate of six per cent per annum on the amount finally awarded as the value of the property, from the date of the surrender of possession to the date of payment, but interest shall not be allowed on so much thereof as may have been paid into court. No sum so paid into court shall be charged with commissions or poundage.

History.—§1, ch. 19217, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 7100(3m); §1, ch. 20304, 1941.

74.07 Paying over of funds in court.—Upon application of the parties in interest, the court may order that the sum of money set forth in the declaration of taking be paid forthwith for or on account of the just compensation to be awarded in said proceeding from the money deposited with the clerk of said court. The estimate of just compensation in the declaration of taking may be amended from time to time. If the compensation finally awarded in respect of said lands, or any parcel thereof, shall exceed the amount of money so received by said person entitled, the court shall enter judgment against the petitioner for the amount of the deficiency. If, however, such payment exceeds the final award there may be a recovery by the petitioner of such excess upon petition in the same proceeding for which sum judgment shall be entered and which also may be decreed to be a lien against any property of such party, except his homestead.

History.—§2, ch. 19217, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 7100(3m); §2, ch. 20304, 1941; §17, ch. 29615, 1955; §2, ch. 59-450.

74.08 Obtaining possession of property.—At the time of entry of an order fixing the amount of the deposit to be made, the court may by order, fix the time within which and the terms upon which the parties in possession shall be required to surrender possession to the petitioner, said order to become effectual upon the petitioner depositing the sum fixed by the court in the registry of the court. The court may make such orders in respect of encumbrances, liens, rents, taxes, assessments, insurance, and other charges, if any, as shall be just and equitable. Whenever the judge shall be satisfied that any person, whether holding under the defendant or not, is preventing or obstructing the petitioner from entering upon or taking possession of the property after the petitioner is entitled to do so, he may grant such writs of assistance as he may think necessary, or he may proceed by attachment as for contempt of court.

History.—§3, ch. 19217, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 7100(3o); §3, ch. 20304, 1941.

74.09 Proceedings as evidence in main suit.—The declaration of taking, the amount of the deposit and the report of the appraisers appointed by the court, shall not be admissible in evidence in any cause and shall not be exhibited to any jury empaneled for the purpose of assessing the value of any land in condemnation. The appraisers appointed by the court shall be competent witnesses in the cause when said cause is submitted to the jury for the purpose of fixing an award.

History.—§4, ch. 19217, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 7100(3p); §4, ch. 20304, 1941; §3, ch. 26921, 1951.

74.10 Costs and attorneys' fees.—The petitioner upon filing the declaration of taking and making the deposit, shall be irrevocably committed to the payment of the ultimate award; provided, however, this shall not prevent the petitioner from suing out a writ of error from said judgment in the manner provided by law.

All cost of proceedings shall be paid by the petitioner, including reasonable attorneys' fees for the defendant to be assessed by the court, except the cost upon review taken by a defendant, on which the judgment of the circuit court shall be affirmed.

History.—§§5, 5A, ch. 19217, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 7100(3q), 7100(3r); §§5, 6, ch. 20304, 1941; §1, ch. 63-282.

74.11 Appellate proceedings.—In event no writ of error has been issued in said cause within thirty days after the rendition of the judgment, the clerk of said court shall pay to the judgment creditor the sum necessary to satisfy the judgment from the funds on deposit, and upon order of the court shall refund to the petitioner any sum from the deposit not necessary for the satisfaction of said judgment. In event no writ of error is issued within thirty days after the judgment the petitioner shall pay into the registry of the court, for the use of the parties lawfully entitled thereto, the sum necessary to satisfy said judgment.

The issuance of a writ of error or the giving of any bond or undertaking therein shall not operate to prevent or delay the vesting of title to such lands in the petitioner, or the right, title or interest of the petitioner in and to said property. In event the judgment of the lower court is affirmed the said judgment shall be satisfied from the funds on deposit with the clerk, or by the petitioner within thirty days after the filing of the mandate in the lower court, and in event the said judgment is not so satisfied, execution may be issued and levied as provided in §74.14.

History.—§§6, 7, ch. 19217, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 7100(3s), 7100(3t); §§7, 8, ch. 20304, 1941.

74.12 Rights under this chapter additional.—The right to take possession and title in advance of final judgment in condemnation proceedings as provided by this law shall be in addition to any right, power or authority conferred by the laws of the state under which proceedings may be conducted and shall not be construed as abrogating, limiting or modifying any such right, power or authority.

History.—§8, ch. 19217, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 7100(3u); §9, ch. 20304, 1941.

74.13 Rights of authority after taking.—In any case in which any housing authority created under the laws of Florida, has taken or may take possession of any real property during the course of condemnation proceedings and in advance of final judgment therein and the said petitioner has become irrevocably committed to pay the amount ultimately to be awarded as compensation, then it is lawful to expend moneys duly appropriated for that purpose in demolishing existing structures on said land and in erecting buildings or public works thereon, or in improving said land or erecting and constructing buildings or works thereon, authorized by law to be constructed by any petitioner.

History.—§9, ch. 19217, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 7100(3v). cf.—§421.12 Housing authorities' eminent domain.

74.14 Effect of failure to pay final judgment.—The failure of any petitioner after the rendition of the judgment to pay into the court, for the use of the parties lawfully entitled thereto, the compensation ascertained by the jury shall not, in cases where a declaration of taking is filed, deposit made, and an order procured authorizing petitioner to take possession, invalidate said judgment or the title of the petitioner and such failure shall not authorize any person lawfully entitled to the compensation ascertained by the jury to molest, interfere with, enter or trespass upon said property; provided, however, such person may sue out execution in event a writ of error has not been issued within thirty days after the rendition of said judgment and such execution may be levied upon the property so condemned and any other property of the petitioner in the same manner as executions are levied in common law causes.

History.—§10, ch. 19217, 1939; CGL 1940 Supp. 7100(3w); §10, ch. 20304, 1941.

74.141 Public utilities; application of chapter.—

(1) The provisions of this chapter shall apply in any proceeding in any court in the state which may be instituted by any municipality, rural electric cooperative corporation, telephone cooperative corporation or public utility corporation having the statutory power of eminent domain to appropriate property in fee or easement for the purpose of locating substations and transmission lines.

(2) At the time of entry of the order, in any proceedings authorized by subsection (1), fixing the amount of the deposit to be made and fixing the time within which and the terms upon which the parties in possession shall be required to surrender possession to the petitioner, the court shall by order set said cause for trial and try said cause not later than thirty days after the return day provided in §73.04.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 28007, 1953; (1) §1, ch. 63-242.

74.15 Eminent domain proceedings; flood control and drainage districts.—

(1) The power of eminent domain is confirmed, invested in and granted unto any lawfully constituted flood control district of this state, any lawfully constituted drainage or sub-drainage district of this state and any lawfully constituted housing authority created under the provisions of any laws creating or authorizing the creation of housing authorities within this state, for the public use, and the same are hereby declared, for the purpose of this law, to be bodies corporate. The proceedings herein provided for shall be maintained by and in the name of the authority for whose benefit the proceedings are instituted.

(2) In any proceeding in any circuit court of this state, which has been or may be instituted by and in the name of and under the authority of any authority referred to in subsection (1) above, for the acquisition of any land or easement or rights of way in land for public use, the petitioner may file in the cause, with the petition or at any time before judgment, a declaration of taking signed by the authority empowered by this law to acquire lands described in the petition, declaring that said lands are thereby taken for the use of the petitioner. Said declaration of taking shall contain or have annexed thereto:

(a) A statement of the authority under which and the public use for which said lands are taken.

(b) A description of the lands taken sufficient for the identification thereof.

(c) A statement of the estate or interest in said lands taken for said public use.

(d) A plan showing the lands taken.

(e) A statement of the sum of money estimated by said acquiring authority to be just compensation for the land taken.

(3) Upon the filing of said declaration of taking and of the deposit in the court, to the use of the persons entitled thereto, of the amount of the estimated compensation stated in said declaration, title to the said lands in fee simple absolute, or such less estate or interest therein as is specified in said declaration, shall vest in the authority taking the same, and said lands shall be deemed to be condemned and taken for public use, and the right to just compensation for the same shall vest in the persons entitled thereto; and said compensation shall be ascertained and awarded in said proceeding and established by judgment therein in accordance with the terms and provisions of §73.10, and said judgment shall include, as part of the just compensation awarded, interest at the rate of six per centum per annum on the amount finally awarded as the value of the property as of the date of taking, from said date to the date of payment; but interest shall not be allowed on so much thereof as shall have been paid into court. No sum so paid into the court shall be charged with commissions or poundage.

(4) Upon the application of the parties in interest, the court may order that the money deposited in the court, or any part thereof, be paid forthwith for or on account of the just compensation to be awarded in said proceeding. If the compensation finally awarded in respect of said lands, or any parcel thereof, shall exceed the amount of the money so received by any person entitled, the court shall enter judgment against the authority taking for the amount of the deficiency.

(5) Upon the filing of a declaration of taking, the court shall have power to fix the time within which and the terms upon which the parties in possession shall be required to surrender possession to the petitioner. The court shall have the power to make such orders in respect of encumbrances, liens, rents, taxes, assessments, insurance, and other charges, if any, as shall be just and equitable.

(6) No appeal in any cause under this section, nor any bond or undertaking given therein, shall operate to prevent or delay the vesting of title to such lands in the authority taking.

(7) Action under this section irrevocably committing the authority taking to the payment of the ultimate award shall not be taken unless the chairman or other legally constituted head of such petitioning authority empowered to acquire the land shall be of the opinion that the ultimate award probably will be within the limits of the taking authority's ability to pay.

(8) The right to take possession and title in advance of final judgment in condemnation proceedings as provided by this section shall be in addition to any right, power, or authority conferred by the laws of the state upon the bodies corporate named herein under which such proceedings may be conducted, and shall not be construed as abrogating, limiting, or modifying any such right, power or authority.

(9) In any case in which the authority taking has taken or may take possession of any real property during the course of condemnation proceedings and in advance of any final judgment therein and such taking authority has become irrevocably committed to pay the amount ultimately to be awarded as compensation, it shall be lawful to expend moneys duly appropriated for that purpose in going forward with the project for which the land was taken; provided, that in the opinion of the attorney representing the taking authority the title has been vested in the authority taking or all persons having an interest therein have been made parties to such proceeding and will be bound by the final judgment therein.

(10) In any condemnation proceeding instituted by or on behalf of the taking authority the attorney representing such authority is authorized to stipulate or agree in behalf of the taking authority to exclude any property, or any part thereof, or any interest therein, that may have been, or may be, taken by or on behalf of the authority taking by the declaration of taking or otherwise.

(11) No money shall be paid nor contracts made for payment for any construction or maintenance proposed by the taking authority under this section in excess of the amount specifically appropriated therefor by the legislature of the state or procured by and secured to said taking authority under contracts with private persons, firms, or corporations in accordance with the laws authorizing such taking authority to negotiate contracts with private persons, firms, or corporations, or by the issuance of bonds and other debentures pursuant to tax levies duly made, all in accordance with the law in such cases made and provided.

(12) Upon the filing of the petition the clerk of the court wherein filed shall forthwith issue a notice directed "to all whom it may concern" and containing the names of all the defendants named in the petition, which may include unknown persons claiming by, through or under known persons who are dead or who are not known to be either dead or alive, commanding them to be and appear in said court, on a day named in said notice not less than twenty-eight nor more than sixty days from the date thereof, and to show what right, title or interest they have or claim in or to said property, and to show cause why it should not be taken for the amount of compensation set forth in the petition. Rule days are abolished in these proceedings. The said notice shall be served by the proper sheriff in the same manner as writs of summons are served, not less than fifteen days before the return day of such notice. As many alias and pluries notices as may be necessary to obtain service on the defendants may, from time to time, be issued, returnable as above stated, to a later day or days. If any defendant be alleged to be a nonresident of the state, or if the name or residence of any defendant is alleged to be unknown, or if any defendant cannot be personally served, the clerk shall cause such notice to be published once each week for four consecutive weeks, four publications being sufficient prior to the return day, in some newspaper published in the county. The clerk shall mail a certified copy of such notice to each non-resident defendant at his place of residence as named in the petition. The clerk shall file a certificate of constructive service, which mode of service shall be as effectual as though the defendant had been personally served with process within this state. Notice of lis pendens may be filed and recorded as in other cases.

(13) All costs of proceedings shall be paid by the petitioner, including a reasonable attorney's fee for the defendant to be assessed by the jury, except the cost upon an appeal taken by a defendant, on which the judgment of the circuit court shall be affirmed.

(14) Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit, modify, abrogate, or change any of the powers or authority of any of the bodies corporate named herein, but the terms and provisions of this section shall be in addition to all powers and authority presently vested in such bodies corporate as may now exist or hereafter be created by lawful authority.

History.—§§1-11, ch. 25212, 1949; (1), (2), §4, ch. 26921, 1951.

75.01 Jurisdiction.—Circuit courts of this state shall have power and jurisdiction to take cognizance of, try and determine proceedings for the validation of bonds and certificates of indebtedness and all matters connected therewith.

History.—This section has been supplied by the revisors in order clearly to show the court taking jurisdiction to validate bonds (1941).

75.02 Petitioner.—Any county, municipality, taxing district or other political district or subdivision of this state, including the governing body of any district established for the purpose of drainage, conservation or reclamation and including also state agencies, commissions and departments authorized by law to issue bonds may, if deemed expedient, determine its authority to incur bonded debt or issue certificates of indebtedness and the legality of all proceedings in connection therewith, including, in proper cases, any assessment of taxes levied or to be levied, the lien of such taxes, and of proceedings or other remedies for their collection. For such purpose a petition may be filed in the circuit court in such county or in the county in which such municipality or district, or any part thereof, may be located, against the state and the taxpayers, property owners and citizens of such county, municipality or district, including nonresidents owning property or subject to taxation therein. In proceedings for the validation of bonds or certificates of indebtedness issued by any of the state agencies, commissions or departments, such petition may be filed in the circuit court of the county in which the proceeds of such bond issue are to be expended, or in the circuit court of the county in which the seat of state government is situated, and such petition shall be brought against the state and the taxpayers, property owners and citizens thereof, including nonresidents owning property or subject to taxation therein.

History.—§1, ch. 6868, 1915; RGS 3296; §1, ch. 10036, 1925; §1, ch. 12003, 1927; CGL 5106, 5113, 5123; §1, ch. 25263, 1949.

75.03 Condition precedent.—As a condition precedent to the filing of a petition for the validation of bonds or certificates of indebtedness, the county, municipality, state agency, commission or department, or district desiring to issue the same shall, in accordance with the provisions of law regulating and controlling the same, either cause an election to be held to authorize the issuance of such bonds or certificates of indebtedness and show prima facie that such election was in favor of the issuance of the same, or, when permitted by law, adopt an ordinance, resolution or other proceeding permitted by law providing for the issuance of such bonds or certificates of indebtedness.

History.—§1, ch. 6868, 1915; RGS 3296; CGL 5106; §2, ch. 25263, 1949.

cf.—Article IX, §6, Florida constitution: Constitutional requirements relating to issuance of bonds.

75.04 Petition.—The petition for validation of bonds shall briefly set out, by proper allegations, references or exhibits, the petitioner's authority for incurring the bonded debt or issuing certificates of indebtedness, the holding of an election and the result thereof where an election is required, the ordinance, resolution or other proceeding authorizing the issue and their adoption, all other essential proceedings had or taken in connection therewith, the amount of the bonds or certificates to be issued, the interest they are to bear; and, in case of a district established for the purpose of drainage, conservation or reclamation, the authority for the creation of such district, for the issuance of bonds, for the levy and assessment of taxes and all other pertinent matters.

History.—§2, ch. 6868, 1915; RGS 3297; §2, ch. 12003, 1927; CGL 5107, 5123, 5124; §1, ch. 14504, 1929.

75.05 Rule nisi and service.—The judge of the circuit court, wherein the petition is filed shall, upon the filing and presentation thereof, make and issue an order in general terms in the form of a notice directed against the state and against the several property owners, taxpayers, citizens and others having or claiming any right, title or interest in property to be affected by said issuance of bonds or certificates, or to be affected in any way thereby, requiring, in general terms and without naming them, all such persons, and the state through its state attorney or attorneys of the circuits wherein said county, municipality or district lies, to appear at a time and place within the circuit wherein the petition is filed, to be designated in such order, and show cause why the prayers of the petition should not be granted and the proceedings and bonds or certificates validated and confirmed as therein prayed. A copy of the above mentioned petition and rule nisi shall be served upon the state attorney of the circuit in which such proceedings are pending, and in cases where the petitioning municipality or district lies in more than one judicial circuit, upon each state attorney of each of such circuits at least eighteen days before the time fixed in said rule nisi for hearing as aforesaid. The state attorney or attorneys shall carefully examine the said petition and if it appears, or there is reason to believe, that said petition is defective, insufficient or untrue, or if in the opinion of the state attorney or attorneys, the issuance of the bonds or certificates in question have not been duly authorized, defense shall be made thereto as may seem proper by said state attorney or attorneys. The state attorney or attorneys shall have access, for the purposes aforesaid, to all records and proceedings of said county, municipality, state agency, commission or department, or district, and any officer, agent or employee having charge, possession, custody or control of any of the books, papers or records of such county, municipality, state agency, commission, department, or district shall, on demand of the state attorney or attorneys, exhibit for examination such books, papers, or records, and shall, without cost, furnish duly authenticated copies thereof, which pertain to the proceedings for the issuance of said bonds or certificates or which may affect the legality of the same, as may be demanded of him.

In the case of state agencies, commissions or departments a copy of the above mentioned petition and rule nisi shall be served upon the state attorney of the circuit in which such proceedings are pending and if pending in a county when the proceeds of the bond issue are to be expended in any other county then upon the state attorney of each county in which it is proposed to expend said proceeds.

History.—§2, ch. 6868, 1915; RGS 3297; §2, ch. 10036, 1925; §2, ch. 12003, 1927; CGL 5107, 5114, 5124; §1, ch. 14504, 1929; §1, ch. 22623, 1945; §3, ch. 25263, 1949.

75.06 Publication of notice.—Prior to the date set for hearing as provided in the foregoing section, the clerk of the circuit court wherein said petition is filed shall cause a copy of said order or rule nisi to be published in the county wherein the petition is filed, unless the petitioner be a municipality or district in more than one county, then in each of such counties, once each week for three consecutive weeks, commencing with the first publication, which shall not be less than eighteen days prior to the date set for hearing; provided, however, if there be a newspaper published in the territory to be affected by the issuance of the bonds or certificates, and within the county or counties aforesaid, said publication shall be therein, unless otherwise ordered by the court. By the publication of said order or rule nisi, all property owners, taxpayers, citizens and others having or claiming any right, title or interest in said county, municipality or district, or the taxable property therein, shall be considered as and are made parties defendant to said proceedings, and the court shall have jurisdiction of them to the same extent as if named as defendants in said petition and personally served with process in the cause.

In the case of proceedings to validate the bonds of state agencies, commissions or departments, the said rule nisi shall be published in the manner herein provided in a newspaper in each of the counties wherein the proceeds of bonds are to be expended, and in a newspaper published in the county in which the seat of state government is located if said proceedings shall be brought therein.

History.—§2, ch. 6868, 1915; RGS 3297; §3, ch. 10036, 1925; §2, ch. 12003, 1927; CGL 5107, 5115, 5124; §1, ch. 14504, 1929; §1, ch. 22623, 1945; §4, ch. 25263, 1949.

75.061 Application of §§75.05 and 75.06 as amended.—Sections 75.05 and 75.06, as amended, shall apply to all bond validation proceedings in which the petition shall be filed after it becomes a law, but not to any proceeding pending at such time.

History.—§2, ch. 22623, 1945.

75.07 Intervention; hearings.—Any property owner, taxpayer, citizen or person interested may become a party to said proceedings by pleading to the said petition on or before the time set for hearing as provided in §75.05, or thereafter by intervention upon leave of court. At the time and place designated in the order for hearing, provided for in §75.05, the judge shall proceed to hear and determine all questions of law and fact in said cause, and may make such orders as to the proceedings and such adjournments as will enable him to properly try and determine the same and to render a final decree therein with the least possible delay.

History.—§3, ch. 6868, 1915; RGS 3298; §1, ch. 11854, 1927; §3, ch. 12003, 1927; CGL 5108, 5125.

75.08 Appeal and review.—Any party to the cause, whether petitioner, defendant or intervenor, or otherwise, dissatisfied with the final decree, may appeal therefrom to the supreme court within the time and in the manner prescribed by the Florida appellate rules after the entry of such decree.

History.—§3, ch. 6868, 1915; RGS 3298; §1, ch. 11854, 1927; §3, ch. 12003, 1927; CGL 5108, 5125; §10, ch. 63-559.

75.09 Effect of final decree.—In the event the decree of the circuit court validates such bonds, certificates or other obligations, which may include the validation of the county, municipality, taxing district, political district, subdivision, agency, instrumentality or other public body itself (hereinafter referred to as "public body") and any taxes, assessments or revenues affected, and no appeal is taken within the time above prescribed, or if taken and the decree of the circuit court is affirmed, such decree shall be forever conclusive as to all matters adjudicated against the petitioner and all parties affected thereby, including all property owners, taxpayers and citizens of the petitioner, and all others having or claiming any right, title or interest in property to be affected by the issuance of said bonds, certificates or other obligations, or to be affected in any way thereby, and the validity of said bonds, certificates or other obligations (hereinafter referred to as "obligations"), or of any taxes, assessments or revenues pledged for the payment thereof (hereinafter referred to as "security"), or of the proceedings authorizing the issuance of such obligations, including any remedies provided for their collection (hereinafter referred to as "proceedings"), shall never be called in question in any court by any person or party, either as a plaintiff or defendant.

History.—§4, ch. 6868, 1915; RGS 3299; §4, ch. 12003, 1927; CGL 5109, 5126; §1, ch. 29691, 1955; §9, ch. 57-1.

75.10 Recording of decree in other counties.—In the event any decree entered in the cause extends into more than one county the same shall be recorded in each county in which the petitioning municipality or district extends, such decree shall be recorded in the foreign judgment book in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of such other counties.

History.—§4, ch. 10036, 1925; CGL 5116.

75.11 Stamping instruments validated.—Bonds or certificates, when validated under the provisions of this chapter, shall have stamped or written thereon, by the proper officers of such county, municipality or district issuing the same, a statement in substantially the following form: "This bond is one of a series of bonds which were validated and confirmed by decree of the Circuit Court of the _____ Judicial Circuit of the State of Florida, in and for _____ County, rendered on _____, 19____."

A copy of such decree, certified by the clerk of the circuit court in which the decree was rendered, shall be original evidence of such decree in any court in this state.

History.—§5, ch. 6868, 1915; RGS 3300; §5, ch. 12003, 1927; CGL 5110, 5127; §1, ch. 57-300.

75.12 Payment of costs.—The costs in each case under this chapter shall be paid by the county, municipality or district filing the petition, except in cases where a taxpayer, citizen or other person may appear and contest the proceeding or intervene therein, the court may tax the whole or any part of the costs against such person as shall be equitable and just.

History.—§6, ch. 6868, 1915; RGS 3301; §6, ch. 12003, 1927; CGL 5111, 5128.

75.13 Certain prior proceedings validated.—Any action for validation heretofore brought by any municipality, special taxing district or political district or subdivision which extends into more than one county or judicial circuit, whereby bonds or certificates of indebtedness have been validated in which the proceedings have been brought in one county and a decree has been entered said decree shall be binding on all of the citizens, property owners, or taxpayers of each municipality, district or subdivision.

History.—§5, ch. 10036, 1925; CGL 5117.

75.14 Land owner or taxpayer not disqualification of judge.—No judge of any of the circuit courts of this state shall be disqualified in any validation proceedings, under this chapter, by reason of the fact that he is a land owner or taxpayer of any county, municipality or district seeking relief hereunder.

History.—§1, ch. 10164, 1925; CGL 5118.

75.15 Substitution of judges.—Whenever it shall appear that any circuit judge is disqualified, is absent, or is unable, on account of sickness or otherwise, to perform his duties in any case instituted or brought in his court to validate bonds or certificates, the judge of any other circuit shall have jurisdiction to hear, try and determine such case and to make and enter any order or decree therein in the same manner as in other chancery cases; and the final decree in such case may be signed or entered at a place other than that designated in the notice and at a time subsequent to the date therein mentioned.

History.—§2, ch. 10164, 1925; §1, ch. 12066, 1927; CGL 5119, 5121.

75.16 Certain orders and decrees validated.—All orders and decrees heretofore or hereafter made in proceedings for the validation of bonds or certificates of indebtedness, by any judge disqualified by matters or reasons not apparent on the record itself, shall be valid and binding upon all parties unless attacked within twenty days of the entry thereof; and all orders and decrees heretofore made in such validation proceedings by judges other than the regular judge or those mentioned or designated in the notices, or at places other than, or dates subsequent to, those mentioned in said notices, when it appears that the regular judge was disqualified, absent or disabled from discharging the duties of his office, are hereby ratified and confirmed.

History.—§3, ch. 10164, 1925; §2, ch. 12066, 1927; CGL 5120, 5122.

75.17 Commencement of action after validation; affidavit of good faith.—Every person who commences an action as taxpayer or otherwise to challenge the validity of any bonds or revenue certificates or to prevent the use of any moneys derived from the sale of such bonds or revenue certificates after the bonds or revenue certificates have been validated by courts of competent jurisdiction pursuant to chapter 75, shall file an affidavit of good faith stating that the suit is not filed merely for delay and setting forth with particularity why such action or objection was not taken as part of the bond or revenue certification validation proceedings.

History.—§1, ch. 61-508.

ATTACHMENTS

- 76.01 Right to attachment.
- 76.02 Attachment of corporate stock.
- 76.03 Courts from which attachments shall issue.
- 76.04 Grounds when indebtedness due.
- 76.05 Grounds when indebtedness not due.
- 76.06 Effect of attachment upon unmatured debt.
- 76.07 Attachments in aid of foreclosure.
- 76.08 Procurement of attachment; affidavit, generally.
- 76.09 Affidavit when indebtedness due.
- 76.10 Affidavit when indebtedness not due.
- 76.11 Affidavit for attachment in aid of foreclosure.
- 76.12 Attachment bond.
- 76.13 Writ; form.
- 76.14 Writ; effect of levy.
- 76.16 Writ; levy in other counties.
- 76.17 Writ; levy upon property removed from county pending levy.
- 76.18 Return of property upon forthcoming bond.

76.01 Right to attachment.—Any creditor may have an attachment at law against the goods and chattels, lands and tenements of his debtor under the circumstances and in the manner hereinafter provided.

History.—§1635 RS 1892; GS 2099; RGS 3400; CGL 5253.

76.02 Attachment of corporate stock.—Shares of stock in any corporation incorporated by the laws of this state shall be subject to levy of attachment under the circumstances hereinafter provided and in the manner as set out in §§55.25-55.31.

History.—§1, ch. 3917, 1889; RGS 2846; CGL 4533.

76.03 Courts from which attachments shall issue.—Attachment shall issue from the court which may have jurisdiction of the amount claimed by the creditors; but, if the property to be attached is being actually removed from the state, and the creditor shall be unable to obtain process from the circuit, civil court of record, or county court, as the case may be, in time to prevent such removal, any justice of the peace or county judge may issue the writ, making the same returnable to the circuit, civil court of record, or county court, as the case may be, and shall immediately send all papers in the case to the clerk of the court to which the writ is made returnable.

History.—§2, Feb. 15, 1834; §1, ch. 250, 1849; RS 1636; GS 2100; RGS 3401; CGL 5254.

76.04 Grounds when indebtedness due.—The creditor may have an attachment upon a debt actually due to him by his debtor, whenever the debtor:

- (1) Will fraudulently part with his property before judgment can be obtained against him.
- (2) Is actually removing his property out of the state.
- (3) Is about to remove his property out of the state.

- 76.19 Return of property upon bond to pay debt.
- 76.20 Replevy of property taken by attachment.
- 76.21 Claims of third parties to attached property.
- 76.22 Custody of attached property; sale of perishables.
- 76.24 Dissolution of attachment; proceedings.
- 76.25 Effect of dissolution.
- 76.29 Amendments of pleadings; etc.
- 76.31 Judgments.
- 76.32 Attachment of boats, vessels, etc.; when applicable.
- 76.33 Attachment of boats, vessels, etc.; venue.
- 76.34 Attachment of boats, vessels, etc.; affidavit.
- 76.35 Attachment of boats, vessels, etc.; bond.
- 76.36 Attachment of boats, vessels, etc.; forthcoming bond.
- 76.37 Attachment of boats, vessels, etc.; application of law.

- (4) Resides beyond the limits of the state.
- (5) Is actually moving himself out of the state.
- (6) Is about to move himself out of the state.
- (7) Is absconding.
- (8) Is concealing himself.
- (9) Is secreting his property.
- (10) Is fraudulently disposing of his property.
- (11) Is actually removing himself beyond the limits of the judicial circuit in which he resides, or
- (12) Is about to remove himself out of the limits of such judicial circuit.

History.—§1, ch. 998, 1859; §2, ch. 1101, 1861; RS 1637; GS 2101; RGS 3402; CGL 5255.

76.05 Grounds when indebtedness not due.—Any creditor may have such attachment upon a debt not due, whenever the debtor:

- (1) Is actually removing his property beyond the limits of the state.
- (2) Is fraudulently disposing of his property for the purpose of avoiding the payment of his just debts or demands.
- (3) Is fraudulently secreting his property for such purpose.

History.—§1, Feb. 14, 1835; RS 1638; §1, ch. 5257, 1903; GS 2102; RGS 3403; CGL 5256.

76.06 Effect of attachment upon unmatured debt.—In cases of attachment for debt not due, under §76.05, the existence of one or more of the special grounds assigned, and in case of attachment against executors or administrators for a debt not due, the existence of all the grounds assigned, shall cause the debt to become due, and the plaintiff in attachment may proceed upon a debt falling due upon a day before the institution of the suit.

History.—§1647 RS 1892; GS 2111; RGS 3412; CGL 5265.

76.07 Attachments in aid of foreclosure.—Any creditor who may be commencing or who may have commenced a suit to foreclose a mortgage on personal property in chancery or at law may have an attachment against such property, whenever he shall file in the court in which the proceedings are being had, an affidavit sworn to by himself, his agents or attorney, stating that he has reason to believe and does believe:

(1) That said property or part of same will be concealed or disposed of so that it will not be forthcoming to answer a judgment or decree upon foreclosure.

(2) That said property or part of same will be removed beyond the jurisdiction of said court.

(3) That said property or part of same is of a perishable character and is being used and consumed by the mortgagor or other parties.

(4) That said property or part of same has been disposed of without the consent of the party holding and owning the mortgage, and stating who has said property, if known, and if not known that affiant does not know who has same.

The plaintiff shall give bond as in other cases of attachment. Such writs of attachment shall be subject to motion to dissolve as other writs of attachment.

History.—§6, Dec. 11, 1824; RS 1640; GS 2104; RGS 3405; §1, ch. 8477, 1921; CGL 5258.

76.08 Procurement of attachment; affidavit, generally.—Before any attachment shall issue in any of the foregoing cases, the plaintiff shall file in the court from which he desires the attachment an affidavit, sworn to by himself, his agent or attorney.

History.—§1641 RS 1892; GS 2105; RGS 3406; CGL 5259.

76.09 Affidavit when indebtedness due.—In cases where the debt is actually due, such affidavit shall state the amount of the debt or the sum demanded, that the same is actually due, and that affiant has reason to believe in the existence of one or more of the special grounds hereinbefore enumerated in §76.04 stating specifically such special ground or grounds.

History.—§1, ch. 998, 1859; RS 1642; GS 2106; RGS 3407; CGL 5260.

76.10 Affidavit when indebtedness not due.—In cases where the debt is not actually due, such affidavits shall state the amount of the debt or demand; that the same is actually an existing debt or demand; and the existence of one or more of the special grounds hereinbefore enumerated in §76.05 stating specifically such special ground or grounds.

In addition, the plaintiff shall produce before the officer granting such attachment proof, by affidavit (other than his own) or otherwise, satisfactory to such officer, of the existence of such special ground.

History.—§2, Feb. 14, 1835; RS 1643; GS 2107; RGS 3408; CGL 5261.

76.11 Affidavit for attachment in aid of foreclosure.—In cases of attachments in aid of foreclosure of mortgages on personal property such affidavit shall describe specifically the property upon which the mortgage exists, and shall state that a complaint has been filed or other suit brought to foreclose said mortgage, the amount of the debt or demand secured by such mortgage, that the same is actually due, and that affiant has reason to believe in the existence of one or more of the special grounds enumerated in §76.07. The original mortgage, or a certified copy thereof, shall be attached to the affidavit.

History.—§6, Dec. 11, 1824; RS 1645; GS 2109; RGS 3410; CGL 5263; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

76.12 Attachment bond.—No attachment shall issue until the person applying for same, his agent or attorney, shall enter into bond, with at least two good and sufficient sureties, payable to the defendant, in at least double the debt or sum demanded, conditioned to pay all costs and damages which the defendant may sustain in consequence of the plaintiff's improperly suing out said attachment. In case of foreclosure of a mortgage upon personal property if the affidavit shall state that said property or part of same has been disposed of without the consent of the party holding and owning the mortgage and that plaintiff does not know who has said property or part of same, then said bond shall be made payable to the state for the use and benefit of all parties interested, conditioned to pay all costs and damages which may be sustained in consequence of plaintiff's improperly suing out said attachment, and any person or party aggrieved may sue on said bond in the name of the state, but the state shall not be liable for any costs, damages or expenses that may be incurred. Only one surety shall be required when such bond is executed by a lawfully authorized surety company as a surety thereon.

Any bond taken in cases of attachment shall not on account of any informality in the same be adjudged void as against the obligors, nor shall they be discharged therefrom, although the attachment may be dissolved by reason of such informality.

History.—§10, Feb. 15, 1834; RS 1646; GS 2110; RGS 3411; §2, ch. 8477, 1921; CGL 5264.

76.13 Writ; form.—

(1) GENERALLY.—The writ of attachment shall be directed to the sheriff, or other proper officer, commanding him to attach and take into custody so much of the lands, tenements, goods and chattels of the party against whose property the writ is issued as will be sufficient to satisfy the debt or sum demanded with costs.

(2) IN AID OF SUITS TO FORECLOSE.—In suits to foreclose mortgages, the writ shall describe the property, and command the officer to take and hold such property, or so much thereof as can be found sufficient to satisfy the debt to be foreclosed.

History.—§2, Feb. 15, 1834; RS 1648; GS 2112; RGS 3413; CGL 5266.

76.14 Writ; effect of levy.—The levy of a writ of attachment shall not operate to dispossess the tenant of any lands or tenements, but a levy upon real or personal property shall bind the property attached, except against pre-existing liens; and levies upon the same property under successive attachments shall have precedence as liens in the order in which they are made. A levy shall, however, bind real estate as against subsequent creditors or purchasers, only from the time of the record by the clerk of the circuit court in the lien book of a notice of the levy and a description of the property levied upon.

History.—§9, Feb. 17, 1833; RS 1651; GS 2115; RGS 3416; CGL 5269.

76.16 Writ; levy in other counties.—When, in any proceeding in attachment, the plaintiff, or someone in his behalf, shall, in addition to the affidavit in attachment proceedings, make affidavit that the defendant has real or personal property in some county of this state other than the one in which said proceedings were instituted, a writ of attachment, original or ancillary, as the case may be, shall be issued and directed to the sheriff of said county where said property is as aforesaid; and said officer shall execute said writ and hold the property levied on by virtue thereof subject to the order of the court from which said writ emanated, which said court shall have the power to order the delivery thereof to the sheriff or other proper officer of the county where the said proceedings were instituted, or order said officer so executing the writ to hold and dispose of the same in his county according to law as in other cases.

When any real property is levied upon by virtue of this section, the officer levying said writ shall file a written notice of said levy with the clerk of the circuit court for the county in which said property is situated, which notice shall contain a description of the property so levied upon, and the clerk shall record said notice in a book kept for the record of foreign judgments, for which he shall receive a fee of twenty-five cents, and said record shall be notice to all persons of said levy; and in case of the dissolution of the attachment or dismissal of the suit, or for any cause the property ceases to be bound by said attachment, upon due proof thereof the clerk shall note such fact on the record of the levy.

76.17 Writ; levy upon property removed from county pending levy.—When personal property of the defendant is situated in any county at the time of beginning of an action of attachment in such county and shall be removed from such county pending such action, it shall be the duty of the officer to whom the writ is addressed and delivered at once to make his return of the fact of the removal of such property aforesaid, and the plaintiff in such suit may make affidavit stating to what county or counties he believes the property has been removed, whereupon an alias writ shall issue, addressed to the sheriff of such last named county, or one such writ addressed to the sheriff of each county to which such property, or a portion thereof, has been removed, who shall, upon receipt of such writ, take possession of said property and deliver it to the proper officer of the court from which such writ was issued, and make return of said writ and his doings in the premises to said court, and the proceedings shall be thereafter as in other actions of attachment.

All questions as to the title of such property shall be adjudicated in the county in which the suit was brought, unless the court shall change the venue.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 3245, 1881; RS 1650; GS 2114; RGS 3415; CGL 5268.

76.18 Return of property upon forthcoming bond.—The property so attached, as provided for in §76.17, may at any time be restored to the said defendant or some other person for him, upon the defendant or such other person giving bond to the officer levying such attachment, payable to the plaintiff with two good and sufficient sureties to be approved by such officer in double the value of the property levied upon, if such property value shall not exceed the amount of plaintiff's claim; or double the amount of plaintiff's claim; if the value of such property shall exceed the amount of plaintiff's claim, such value to be fixed by the officer, conditioned for the forthcoming of the property restored, and to abide the final order of the court.

History.—§13, Mar. 15, 1843; §1, ch. 6865, 1915; RS 1652; GS 2116; RGS 3417; CGL 5270.

76.19 Return of property upon bond to pay debt.—Property attached, as provided for in §76.17, may be restored to the defendant (or in case of foreclosure of mortgage, to any person who shall make affidavit that he is the owner of the equity of redemption), on his entering into bond with two good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the officer, conditioned for the payment to the plaintiff in attachment of the debt or demand, and all costs of the suit, when the same shall be adjudicated to be payable to such plaintiff.

History.—§4, Feb. 14, 1835; RS 1653; GS 2117; RGS 3418; CGL 5271.

76.20 Replevy of property taken by attachment.—If the property taken under a writ of attachment be not subject to attachment, it may be retaken by the defendant by replevin proceedings.

History.—§4, Feb. 14, 1835; RS 1654; GS 2118; RGS 3419; CGL 5272.

76.21 Claims of third parties to attached property.—If any attachment shall be levied upon property claimed by any person other than the defendant in attachment, such person may, at his option, replevy the same or interpose a claim in the manner provided in case of execution.

History.—§8, Feb. 15, 1834; §1, Mar. 15, 1843; RS 1665; GS 2129; RGS 3430; CGL 5283.

76.22 Custody of attached property; sale of perishables.—All personal property levied on by attachment, unless it be restored to the defendant or some person for him, or be claimed by a third person, shall remain in custody of the officer who shall have attached the same until disposed of according to law; but when the property attached shall be of a perishable nature, or liable to great deterioration in value, or the costs of keeping the same shall be greatly disproportionate to the value thereof, the officer who issued the attachment may, in vacation as well as in term time, grant an order for the sale of such property after such notice as to the officer shall seem expedient, and the proceeds of such sale shall be paid into court, and abide the judgment thereof. Such sale may be made upon other days than the legal sale days in other cases.

History.—§12, Feb. 17, 1833; RS 1655; GS 2119; RGS 3420; CGL 5273.

76.24 Dissolution of attachment; proceedings.—The court, to which the attachment is returnable, shall always be open for the purpose of hearing and deciding motions to dissolve such attachment, and in any case upon oath in writing made by the defendant and tendered to the court that any allegation in the plaintiff's affidavit is untrue, a trial of such answer or other defining pleading shall be had, and if the allegation in the plaintiff's affidavit which is denied is not sustained and proved to be true, the attachment shall be dissolved. If such affidavit shall deny the debt or sum demanded, the judge may, upon application of either party, require formal pleadings as to the debt or sum demanded, to be filed in such time as he may fix, and the issue of facts, if any, raised by such pleadings shall be tried as hereinbefore provided, and at the same time as the issue, of any, made by the affidavit as to the special cause assigned in plaintiff's affidavit. Issues of law raised by such pleadings shall be determined and given effect to by the judge as in other controversies at law.

Upon the demand of either party, a jury to be summoned from the body of the county upon the order of the judge shall be empaneled to try the issue joined as aforesaid; but a circuit judge shall not be required in vacation to go to any county in which he does not reside to try any such motion to dissolve.

History.—§5, Feb. 15, 1834; RS 1656; GS 2121; RGS 3421; CGL 5274; §15, ch. 29737, 1955.

76.25 Effect of dissolution.—

(1) UPON THE ACTION.—When any suit shall be commenced by attachment, and the same on motion be dissolved before service of an answer or other defensive pleading in the action then in every such case the suit shall abate and be dismissed from the court; but if such motion is made after service of an answer or other defensive pleading in the action, the attachment only shall be dissolved, and the plaintiff may still proceed in said suit and prosecute his debt or demand to final judgment.

(2) UPON WRITS OF GARNISHMENT.—Whenever an attachment shall be dissolved after service of an answer or other defensive pleading and there shall have been a writ of garnishment issued in the attachment suit, the same shall not be dismissed or abated in consequence of a dissolution of the said attachment, but shall remain good and binding and in full force and virtue and abide the final termination of the action commenced by said attachment.

History.—§7, Feb. 15, 1834; §3, ch. 1100, 1861; RS 1657; GS 2121; RGS 3422; CGL 5275; §10, ch. 28301, 1953.

76.29 Amendments of pleadings; etc.—

Pleadings and proceedings in attachment shall be amendable as in other actions, and no motion to dissolve an attachment for any default or omission shall be granted if the application be made to amend in the particular objected to; but, if any amendment be made to an attachment bond, such amended bond, although not heretofore binding upon the sureties, shall relate back to the institution of the suit and afford protection to the defendant in attachment from such institution.

History.—§1663, RS 1892; GS 2127; RGS 3428; CGL 5281.

76.31 Judgments.—If judgment by default be entered in favor of the plaintiff, and the defendant shall have retaken the property upon a forthcoming bond, final judgment by default shall be entered at the same time against the defendant and the sureties on the bond for the amount of the judgment against the defendant if it be less than the value of the property as fixed by the officer, or for the value of the property so fixed if such value be less than the judgment against the defendant. If the defendant shall have retaken the property upon a bond to pay the debt, such judgment shall also be entered against the sureties for the amount of the judgment against the defendant. In case of a judgment against defendant after trial, judgment shall be entered against the sureties as above provided, except that the value of the property retaken by defendant shall be found by the judge or the jury (as the case may be tried before the one or the other), and stated in the finding or verdict.

History.—§1664, RS 1892; GS 2128; RGS 3429; CGL 5282.

76.32 Attachment of boats, vessels, etc.; when applicable.—

In all actions hereafter instituted in any of the courts of the state by any person, firm, corporation or association of persons, including the state and any governmental subdivision, governmental agency or governmental department of the state, against any person, firm, association of persons or corporation, whether resident or nonresident, to recover damages for injury to the person or to the property, real or personal, of such person, firm, association of persons or corporation, including the state, and any governmental subdivision, governmental agency or governmental department of the state, resulting from carelessness, negligence or want of skill in the navigation, direction or management of any steamship, steamboat, tug, towboat, barge, watercraft, and ships and vessels of every kind, whether domestic or foreign, and howsoever propelled and powered, within the territorial jurisdiction of the state, the plaintiff or plaintiffs to such action shall be entitled to and shall have a writ of attachment at law against the vessel the negligent, careless, or unskillful navigation, direction or management of which caused or resulted in such injury and damage, under the circumstances and in the manner hereinafter provided.

History.—§1, ch. 23137, 1945.

76.33 Attachment of boats, vessels, etc.; venue.—The venue of actions prosecuted under the provisions of this law shall be, at the option of the plaintiff thereto, either in the county wherein the defendants or any of them reside, the county wherein the damage or injury was suffered or the county wherein the vessel charged with the responsibility for the damage or injury may be found.

History.—§2, ch. 23137, 1945.

76.34 Attachment of boats, vessels, etc.; affidavit.—Before any writ of attachment shall issue under the provisions of this law, the plaintiff shall file in the court from which the attachment writ is desired, an affidavit sworn to by the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, which affidavit shall set forth the filing of the suit, the circumstances under which the injury or damage complained of was suffered, giving rise to the cause of action upon which the plaintiff relies for recovery, and shall state the amount or sum of the plaintiff's demand in good faith made.

History.—§3, ch. 23137, 1945.

76.35 Attachment of boats, vessels, etc.; bond.—No attachment shall issue until the person applying for the same, his agent or attorney, shall enter into bond with good and sufficient surety to be approved by the court, or by the clerk of the court in which the said suit is instituted, payable to the defendant or defendants, in a sum at least double the amount of money in good faith demanded, conditioned to pay all costs and damages which the defendant or defendants may sustain in consequence of the plaintiff's improperly suing out the attachment; provided, however, that no bond shall be required to be entered into in any suit wherein the state, or any governmental subdivision, governmental agency or governmental department is plaintiff.

History.—§4, ch. 23137, 1945.

76.36 Attachment of boats, vessels, etc.; forthcoming bond.—Any vessel attached in any suit under the provisions of this law may at any time be restored to the defendant to said action or to some other person for him, upon the defendant or such other person giving bond to the officer levying such attachment, payable to the plaintiff with good and sufficient surety to be approved by such officer, in double the value of the vessel levied upon, if such property value shall not exceed the amount of the plaintiff's claim, or double the amount of the plaintiff's claim, if such property value shall exceed the amount of the plaintiff's claim, such value to be fixed by the officer, conditioned for the forthcoming of the property restored, and to abide the final order of the court; provided, however, that if the suit be for unliquidated damages, the defendant or the claimant of the offending vessel in lieu of furnishing a bond as herein provided, may apply to the judge of the court in which the proceeding is pending for a reduction in the amount of the bond, and the said judge may in his discretion, and after such summary proceedings as he may direct, fix the amount and conditions, of the bond at a sum sufficient to adequately secure payment of the amount of the injury, loss or damage which may have been suffered by the plaintiff, together with costs of suit. The release bond herein provided for shall be approved by the judge or clerk of the court at the direction of the judge and if the plaintiff shall recover a judgment, it shall be rendered against the defendant, or the claimant of the vessel, and his surety upon the release bond.

History.—§5, ch. 23137, 1945.

76.37 Attachment of boats, vessels, etc.; application of law.—This law shall apply to and govern only those actions for injury, loss or damage which occur without the admiralty and maritime jurisdiction of the courts of the United States.

History.—§6, ch. 23137, 1945.

77.02 Garnishment in tort actions.—Prior to judgment against a defendant no writ of garnishment shall issue in any action sounding in tort.

History.—§1, ch. 7352, 1917; RGS 3432; CGL 5285.

77.03 Writ; procurement.—After judgment has been obtained against the defendant, before such writ shall issue, the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, shall make and file in the court where such judgment has been obtained an affidavit stating amount of said judgment, and that affiant does not believe that defendant has in his possession visible property upon which a levy can be made sufficient to satisfy the said judgment. Such affidavit may be made and filed, and the writ issued thereon, either before or after the return of execution.

History.—§§1, 14, ch. 43, 1845; RS 1667; §1, ch. 4393, 1895; GS 2131; RGS 3433; CGL 5286.

77.04 Writ; form.—The writ shall be directed to the sheriff or other proper officer of the county in which said garnishee may reside, and shall command said garnishee to serve upon plaintiff or plaintiff's attorney an answer to said writ within twenty days after service thereof and therein to state on oath whether he is at the time of the answer indebted to the defendant, or was indebted at the time of the service of the writ, or at any time between such periods, and in what sum or sums, and what goods, money, chattels or effects of defendant he has at the time of his answer in his hands, possession or control, or had at the time of the service upon him of the said writ, or at any time between such periods, and whether he knows of any other person indebted to said defendant, or who may have any of the effects of said defendant in his hands. Such writ shall also state the amount named in plaintiff's affidavit.

History.—§1, ch. 43, 1845; RS 1668; §1, ch. 4393, 1895; GS 2132; RGS 3434; CGL 5287; §11, ch. 28301, 1953.

77.05 Writ; service and return.—The writ shall be served in the same manner as service of summons.

History.—§§2, 3, ch. 43, 1845; RS 1669; GS 2133; RGS 3435; CGL 5288; §12, ch. 28301, 1953; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

77.06 Writ; effect.—The service of the writ shall make the garnishee answerable for all indebtedness due by him to the defendant, and for any goods, money, chattels or effects of the defendant in his hands, possession or control, at the time of the service of the writ or at any time between such service and the time of his answer.

History.—§1, ch. 43, 1845; RS 1670; GS 2134; RGS 3436; CGL 5289.

77.07 Writ; dissolution.—The court to which a garnishment is returnable shall always be open for the purpose of hearing and deciding motions to dissolve such garnishment, and in any case upon oath in writing made by the defendant, and tendered to the court that any allegation in the plaintiff's affidavit is untrue, a trial of such traverse shall be had, and if the allegation in the plaintiff's affidavit which is traversed is not sustained and proved to be true, the garnishment shall be dissolved. If such affidavit shall traverse the debt or sum demanded, the judge may, upon application of either party, require formal pleadings as to the debt or sum demanded, to be filed in such time as he may fix, and the issue of fact, if any, raised by such pleadings shall be tried as provided in §77.08, and at the same time as the issue, if any, made by the affidavit as to the special cause assigned in plaintiff's affidavit. Issues of law raised by such pleadings shall be determined and given effect by the judge as in other controversies at law.

History.—§1, ch. 7353, 1917; RGS 3454; CGL 5307.

77.08 Writ; jury trials.—Upon the demand of either party a jury, to be summoned from the body of the county wherein such cause is pending, upon the order of the judge, shall be empaneled to try the issue joined as aforesaid; but a circuit judge shall not be required in vacation to go to any county in which he does not reside to try any such motion to dissolve.

History.—§1, ch. 7353, 1917; RGS 3455; CGL 5308.

77.13 Execution upon garnishee's refusal to surrender property.—If the garnishee will not surrender, provided he have the power to do so, the goods and chattels belonging to said defendant, and which he has confessed to be in his hands or possession, then by order of the court execution may be issued and levied on the property of said garnishee for the whole amount of the plaintiff's judgment against the defendant, or for so much of said judgment as shall be then unpaid; and the officer shall proceed to sell the property as under other executions. Said garnishee shall have the right to release his property from such levy and sale by surrendering the said property of the defendant to the officer levying said execution on the day and hour appointed for the sale of the property so levied upon, or at any time previous to the day of the sale, and by paying the costs of the proceedings to sell up to the time of the surrender.

History.—§5, ch. 43, 1845; RS 1675; GS 2139; RGS 3441; CGL 5294.

77.14 Disposition of property surrendered by garnishee.—When any garnishee shall have any of the goods, chattels or effects of said defendant in his hands or possession, and shall surrender the same, the constable, sheriff or other officer shall receive said property, and shall proceed to sell the same under the execution against the defendant.

History.—§6, ch. 43, 1845; RS 1676; GS 2140; RGS 3442; CGL 5295.

77.15 Proceedings against third persons named in answer.—If upon the answer of any garnishee it shall appear to the court that there are any of the defendant's effects or property in the hands of any person who has not been garnisheed, such court shall, upon motion of the plaintiff, award a garnishment against such person having any of the effects or property of the defendant in his custody, hands, possession or control, who shall answer, and be liable as other garnishees.

History.—§3, ch. 43, 1845; RS 1677; GS 2141; RGS 3443; CGL 5296; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

77.16 Claims by third persons to garnisheed property.—If any person other than the defendant shall claim that the indebtedness due by a garnishee is due to him and not to the defendant, or shall claim the effects in the hands or possession of any garnishee, and shall make affidavit that the said indebtedness or effects are bona fide his property, the court shall immediately, unless good cause be shown to the contrary, and without the formality of pleading, direct a jury to be empaneled to inquire of the right of such property between the claimant and the plaintiff; and if the finding of the jury shall be against such claimant, the plaintiff shall recover costs; and if the jury find in favor of such claimant, he shall recover costs against the plaintiff; and if such claim be interposed after a levy on property, the officer making said levy shall return said execution with his levy thereon and said affidavit of said claimant to the court from which said execution issued, and such proceedings shall be had thereon as in other cases of claims made to property taken on execution.

History.—§8, ch. 43, 1845; RS 1679; GS 2143; RGS 3445; CGL 5298.

77.17 Compensation to garnishee.—The garnishee shall be allowed by the court the pay of a witness for his attendance out of the indebtedness to defendant, or out of the money or effects in his possession, and if there should be no such indebtedness, money or effects in his possession, then the allowance shall be against the plaintiff.

History.—§7, ch. 43, 1845; RS 1678; GS 2142; RGS 3444; CGL 5297.

77.18 Garnishment prior to judgment; procurement.—Before such writ shall issue, either in a suit commenced by a summons or by attachment before judgment has been obtained by the plaintiff against the defendant, the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, shall make and file in the court where the suit is pending, an affidavit that the debt for which the plaintiff sues is just, due and unpaid, that the garnishment applied for is not sued out to injure either the defendant or the garnishee, and that the affiant does not believe that the defendant will have in his possession after execution shall be issued visible property in this state and in the county in which suit is pending upon which a levy can be made sufficient to satisfy the amount of the plaintiff's claim.

Except in cases in which the plaintiff has had an attachment, no writ of garnishment before judgment shall issue until the person applying for same, his agent or attorney, shall enter into bond, with at least two good and sufficient sureties, payable to the defendant, in at least double the debt or sum demanded, conditioned to pay all costs and damages, which the defendant may sustain in consequence of the plaintiff's improperly suing out said writ of garnishment. Only one surety shall be required when such bond is executed by a lawfully authorized surety company as a surety thereon.

Any bond taken in cases of garnishment shall not on account of any informality in the same be adjudged void as against the obligors, nor shall they be discharged therefrom, although the garnishment may be dissolved by reason of such informality.

History.—§11, ch. 43, 1845; RS 1680; §1, ch. 4393, 1895; GS 2144; §2, ch. 6910, 1915; RGS 3446; CGL 5299; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

77.19 Prior to judgment; amount to be retained by garnishee.—No garnishee who may be indebted to, or have in his possession the money of a person whose money or credits may be garnisheed, shall retain out of said debt or money more than double the amount which the said writ of garnishment shall specify as the amount the plaintiff expects to recover in said suit, or the judgment he has recovered.

History.—§2, ch. 4393, 1895; GS 2145; RGS 3447; CGL 5300.

77.20 Prior to judgment; default.—Default and final judgment by default may be rendered against the garnishee, as in cases of garnishment after judgment; and such judgment shall be for the amount claimed by the sheriff; but no execution shall issue thereon or payment thereof be enforced until the plaintiff shall have recovered judgment against the defendant, and then only for the amount so recovered with costs.

History.—§11, ch. 43, 1845; RS 1681; GS 2146; RGS 3448; CGL 5301.

77.21 Prior to judgment; judgment.—Judgment against the garnishee upon his confession and upon traverse of his answer may be obtained as in cases of garnishment after judgment; but no execution shall issue thereon or payment thereof be enforced until the plaintiff shall have recovered judgment against the defendant, and then only for the amount so recovered.

History.—§11, ch. 43, 1845; RS 1682; GS 2147; RGS 3449; CGL 5302.

77.22 Prior to judgment; effect of judgment for defendant.—If the judgment shall be in favor of the defendant in the suit, then the plaintiff shall pay all costs which have accrued in consequence of suing out said writ of garnishment; and the money brought into the registry of the court thereby, or the judgment obtained thereon, except judgment by default against the garnishee, shall enure to the benefit of and be controlled and managed by the said defendant as amply and completely as though the same had been rendered in his favor.

History.—§2, ch. 1100, 1861; RS 1683; GS 2148; RGS 3450; CGL 5303.

77.23 Prior to judgment; rights of garnishee.—If any plaintiff shall discontinue his suit against the defendant, or be nonsuited, or have a verdict against him on the trial of said suit, then the judgment against the garnishee shall become null and void, and such garnishee shall have execution for his costs, to be taxed as in other cases against such plaintiff in said suit.

History.—§11, ch. 43, 1845; RS 1864; GS 2149; RGS 3451; CGL 5304.

77.24 Prior to judgment; discharge.—At any time before the entry of judgment, the defendant whose property has been garnisheed, may secure its release by giving a bond with two good and sufficient sureties to be approved by the clerk, or by the court if it have no clerk, in a penal sum of at least double the amount claimed in the complaint, with interest and costs, or if the value of the property garnisheed is less than such amount, then in double such value, conditioned to pay any judgment recovered against him in the action, with interest and costs, or so much thereof as shall equal such value. The court upon the approval of such bond shall make an order discharging such garnishment and releasing the property. Such order shall become effective upon filing the same with such bond in the court in which the proceedings are pending and serving a copy of the order on the garnishee. If the garnishee shall admit indebtedness to the defendant in excess of a sum sufficient to satisfy the plaintiff's claim, the court shall, on motion of the defendant and notice to the plaintiff, release the garnishee from responsibility to the plaintiff for any indebtedness to the defendant except in a sum deemed by the court sufficient to satisfy the plaintiff's claim, with interest and costs.

History.—§2150 GS 1906; GS 2150; §1, ch. 5906, 1909; §2, ch. 6910, 1915; RGS 3452; CGL 5305.

77.26 Attorney's fees in garnishment case.—Whenever any writ of garnishment is sued out in any of the courts of justices of the peace, or county courts, in this state, and the same shall be dismissed, or the plaintiff shall fail to sustain his claim, the defendant or defendants in garnishment shall be entitled to receive from the plaintiff an attorney's fee of ten dollars, which shall be taxed by the court as cost, and collected as provided for other costs in the suit.

History.—§1, ch. 4030, 1891; GS 1356; RGS 2552; CGL 4170.

77.27 No appeal until fees are paid.—If said writ be dismissed, or the plaintiff shall fail to sustain his claim, then no appeal from the order or judgment of said court shall be permitted until the attorney's fee, as herein provided, shall have been paid into court.

History.—§2, ch. 4030, 1891; GS 1357; RGS 2553; CGL 4171.

77.28 Garnishment; attorney's fees, costs, expenses, etc.; deposit required.—Before the issuance of any writ of garnishment in any cause by any court of this state, the party applying for such writ shall deposit into the registry of such court the sum of ten dollars, which, at any time after the service of such writ, shall be paid to the garnishee upon his demand, by the clerk of said court, for the payment, or part payment by such garnishee of the attorney's fee, which he may expend, or agree to expend, in obtaining legal services for representation in said cause in response to such writ. Upon the rendering of a final judgment in any such proceeding in which a writ of garnishment shall be issued, the court shall determine a sum that should be awarded to the garnishee for his costs and expenses in said cause, including a reasonable attorney's fee, and such amount shall be taxed in said cause in the same manner that other court costs are taxed, and shall be paid accordingly. The plaintiff in such an action may recover in such manner the said sum advanced by him and paid into the registry of the court, and if the amount so allowed by the court is greater than the amount of such deposit, then judgment for the garnishee shall be entered against the party against whom such costs shall be taxed, for the amount of such deficiency.

History.—§1, ch. 21772, 1943.

REPLEVIN

- 78.01 Right to replevin.
- 78.02 What may not be taken by replevin.
- 78.03 Venue and jurisdiction; generally.
- 78.04 Issuance of writ by justice of peace; returnable before proper court.
- 78.05 Commencement of replevin; method.
- 78.06 Contents of complaint.
- 78.07 Bond; requisites.

- 78.08 Writ; form; return.
- 78.09 Writ; service.
- 78.10 Writ; execution on property in buildings, etc.

78.01 Right to replevin.—Any person, when goods or chattels may be wrongfully detained by any other person or officer, may have under the circumstances and in the manner provided in this chapter, a writ of replevin for the recovery thereof, and for the recovery of the damages sustained by reason of the wrongful caption or detention. Or such person may at his election institute an action seeking like relief, but with summons to the defendant instead of writ, for the seizure of the property, in which event no bond shall be required of him, and seizure of the property involved shall be had only after judgment, such judgment to be in like form and tenor as that now provided for when defendant shall have retaken the property upon forthcoming bond; and provided further that notice of lis pendens to charge third persons with knowledge of plaintiffs claims upon such property may be filed and recorded as in other actions.

History.—§1, Mar. 11, 1845; RS 1707; GS 2171; RGS 3476; CGL 5329; §1, ch. 28277, 1953; §1, ch. 29706, 1955.

78.02 What may not be taken by replevin.—

(1) PROPERTY TAKEN FOR TAXES, ETC.—No replevin shall lie for any property taken by virtue of any warrant for the collection of any tax, assessment or fine in pursuance of any statute in this state.

(2) PROPERTY TAKEN UNDER EXECUTION, ETC.—No replevin shall lie at the suit of the defendant in any execution or attachment to recover goods and chattels seized by virtue thereof, unless such goods and chattels are exempted by law from such execution or attachment.

(3) FOR PROPERTY REPLEVINED FROM DEFENDANT.—No replevin shall lie by the original defendant in replevin for property taken in replevin and delivered to the plaintiff while the same remains in the possession of the original plaintiff or his agents.

(4) FOR PROPERTY TO WHICH PLAINTIFF HAS RIGHT OF POSSESSION.—No replevin shall lie at the suit of any person unless he shall have a right to reduce into his possession the goods taken.

History.—§§2, 3, Mar. 11, 1845; §3, Mar. 10, 1845; RS 1708; GS 2172; RGS 3477; CGL 5330.

78.03 Venue and jurisdiction; generally.—

- 78.11 Writ; execution on property changing possession, etc.
- 78.12 Writ; execution on property removed from jurisdiction.
- 78.13 Writ; disposition of property levied on.
- 78.17 Pleadings; amendments.
- 78.18 Judgment for plaintiff when goods not delivered to defendant.
- 78.19 Judgment for plaintiff when goods redelivered to defendant.
- 78.20 Judgment for defendant when goods redelivered to him.
- 78.21 Judgment for defendant when goods not redelivered to him.

The action shall be brought in the court in the county or justice's district where the property is, which shall have jurisdiction of the value of the articles sought to be replevied, as set forth in the affidavit hereinafter provided for.

When property consists of separate articles, any one of which may in value be within the jurisdiction of a justice of the peace, but taken together will exceed that jurisdiction, the plaintiff shall not, for the purpose of giving jurisdiction to a justice of the peace, divide and separate said property to enable him to bring separate actions therefor.

History.—§14, Mar. 10, 1845; RS 1709; GS 2173; RGS 3478; CGL 5331.

78.04 Issuance of writ by justice of peace; returnable before proper court.—When property wrongfully taken or wrongfully detained exceeds in value the jurisdiction of a justice of the peace, and it is inconvenient or impracticable from distance or other causes, or the urgency of the case will not permit, to apply to the clerk of the circuit or county court, as the case may be, for a writ of replevin, a justice of the peace shall, after bond as hereinafter provided shall have been made and given and filed with the justice (who shall also approve the bond), issue a writ of replevin, directed to a sheriff or a constable, and returnable to the court having jurisdiction.

Upon the issuance of the writ, the justice shall immediately file the bond in the court to which the writ is returnable, and the cause shall thereafter proceed in that court.

History.—§15, Mar. 10, 1845; RS 1710; GS 2174; RGS 3479; CGL 5332; §2, ch. 29706, 1955.

78.05 Commencement of replevin; method.—Actions of replevin shall be commenced by the filing of a complaint as in other actions at law. Before writ of replevin shall issue the plaintiff shall file a bond as provided in this chapter.

History.—§§4, 6 Mar. 10, 1845; RS 1711; GS 2175; RGS 3480; CGL 5333; §13, ch. 28301, 1953.

78.06 Contents of complaint.—The complaint shall state that the plaintiff is lawfully entitled to the possession of the property (describing it, and stating its true value) and that the same has not been taken for any tax, assessment or fine levied by virtue of any law of this state, nor seized under any execution or attachment against the goods and chattels of such plaintiff liable to execution, and that the defendant has possession of and detains the same from plaintiff, in the county or justice district in which the suit is brought.

History.—§6, Mar. 10, 1845; RS 1712; GS 2176; RGS 3481; CGL 5334; §14, ch. 28301, 1953.
cf.—§81.32 for form of affidavit in justice of peace court.

78.07 Bond; requisites.—The bond shall be payable to the defendant, with at least two good and sufficient sureties, to be approved of by the officer issuing the writ, in at least double the sworn value of the property to be replevied, conditioned that the plaintiff will prosecute his suit to effect and without delay, and that if the defendant recover judgment against him in the action, he will return the same property, if return thereof be adjudged, and will pay to the defendant all such sums of money as may be recovered against him by such defendant in the said action for any causes whatever.

History.—§6, Mar. 10, 1845; RS 1713; GS 2177; RGS 3482; CGL 5335.
cf.—§81.32 for form of bond in justice of peace court.

78.071 Concealment of property by defendant; delivery thereof to sheriff.—If the plaintiff in replevin or his attorney has good cause to believe that the defendant is secreting or concealing property or any part thereof sought to be replevied, the judge of the court in which said cause is pending may, upon sworn motion of said plaintiff or his attorney, together with any necessary supporting affidavits, order the defendant to deliver such property to the sheriff or show cause why he should not be held in contempt of court for his failure so to do.

History.—§1, ch. 63-152.

78.08 Writ; form; return.—The writ and summons shall be returnable as other process in actions at law; such writ and summons shall command the officer to whom it may be directed to replevy the goods and chattels in possession of the defendants, describing them, and to summon the defendant to be and appear before the court from which said writ and summons were issued, on the return day thereof, to answer the plaintiff in the premises.

History.—§4, Mar. 10, 1845; RS 1714; GS 2178; RGS 3483; CGL 5336.

78.09 Writ; service.—Such writ and summons shall be served upon the defendant at the time and in the manner in which writs of summons are required to be served. If the officer to whom any summons has been directed in a suit in which a writ of replevin has been issued shall return that the defendant does not reside in the state or cannot be found, the plaintiff may give notice of institution of suit in the manner provided for giving notices of suits by attachment. The pleadings and proceedings and entry of default and judgments shall be as in such cases of attachment. If the plaintiff in such cases, that is, when the defendant does not reside in the state or cannot be found, as mentioned above, shall not give notice within sixty days after the issuance of the writ of replevin, the suit shall be dismissed upon the motion of the defendant.

History.—§5, Mar. 10, 1845; RS 1715; GS 2179; RGS 3484; CGL 5337; §1, ch. 20841, 1941.

78.10 Writ; execution on property in buildings, etc.—In executing the writ of replevin, if the property or any part thereof be secreted or concealed in any dwelling house, or other building or enclosure, the officer shall publicly demand delivery thereof, and if the same be not delivered by the defendant or some other person, he shall cause such house, building or enclosure to be broken open, and shall make replevin according to the writ; and if necessary, he shall take to his assistance the power of the county.

History.—§7, Mar. 10, 1845; RS 1716; GS 2180; RGS 3485; CGL 5338.

78.11 Writ; execution on property changing possession, etc.—If the property to be replevied be in the possession of the defendant at the time of the issuance of the writ, and shall pass into the possession of a third person before the execution of the writ, the officer holding the writ shall execute it upon the property in the possession of such third person, and shall serve the writ and summons both upon the defendant and such third person, and the suit, with proper amendments, shall proceed against such third person.

History.—§1717 RS 1892; GS 2181; RGS 3486; CGL 5339.

78.12 Writ; execution on property removed from jurisdiction.—If the property to be replevied shall at the time of the issuance of the writ be in the territorial jurisdiction of the court issuing the writ the officer to whom the writ is directed shall deliver the same to the proper officer in the jurisdiction into which the property has been removed, and such latter officer shall proceed to execute the writ, and shall hold the property subject to the orders of the court issuing the writ.

History.—§1718 RS 1892; GS 2182; RGS 3487; CGL 5340.

78.13 Writ; disposition of property levied on.—The officer executing said writ shall deliver said property to the plaintiff in replevin after the lapse of three days from the time said property was so taken, unless within said three days the defendant in replevin shall give bond in double the value of said property as appraised by the said officer, with security to be approved by such officer, conditioned to have said property forthcoming to abide the result of the suit instituted against the same, in which event said property shall be redelivered to the said defendant in replevin.

History.—§1, ch. 1099, 1861; RS 1719; GS 2183; RGS 3488; CGL 5341.

78.17 Pleadings; amendments.—Pleadings and proceedings in replevin shall be amendable as in other actions. But if any amendment be made to any replevin bond, such amended bond, although not heretofore binding upon the sureties, shall relate back to the institution of the suit and afford protection to the defendant in replevin from such institution.

History.—§1723 RS 1892; GS 2187; RGS 3492; CGL 5345; §16, ch. 29737, 1955.

78.18 Judgment for plaintiff when goods not delivered to defendant.—If it shall appear, upon default of the defendant, or upon trial or otherwise, that the goods described in the complaint were wrongfully taken or detained by the defendant, and the said goods shall have been delivered to plaintiff by the officer executing the writ, the plaintiff shall have judgment for his damages caused by the taking and detention, and for his costs of suit.

History.—§11, Mar. 11, 1845; RS 1724; GS 2188; RGS 3493; CGL 5346.

78.19 Judgment for plaintiff when goods redelivered to defendant.—If it shall appear, as set forth in §78.18, that the goods have been redelivered to the defendant upon his forthcoming bond, the plaintiff shall take judgment for the property itself and against the defendant and the sureties on the forthcoming bond of the defendant for the value of the property; provided, however, that where plaintiff's interest in said property is based upon a claim of lien or some special interest therein then said judgment shall be only for the amount of the lien or the value of such special interest duly established and costs, such judgment to be satisfied by the recovery of the property, or of the amount adjudged against the defendant and his sureties. After the rendition of the judgment, the plaintiff may, at his option, sue out a writ of possession for the property, and execution for his costs, or sue out execution against the defendant and his sureties for the amount recovered as aforesaid and costs. If he shall elect to sue out a writ of possession for the property, and the officer shall return that he is unable to find the said property, or any of it, the plaintiff may immediately sue out execution against the said defendant and his sureties as aforesaid for the whole amount recovered against them, or for the amount recovered less the value of the goods found by the officer. If he shall sue out an execution for the whole amount, the officer shall release all goods taken under the writ of possession. In any proceeding to ascertain the value of the goods, so that judgment for such value may be entered, the value of each article shall be found, except it shall not be necessary to ascertain the value of each article of a lot of goods, wares and merchandise where the same have been replevined, but it shall be sufficient to ascertain the total value of the entire lot found for the plaintiff or defendant, as the case may be.

History.—§1, ch. 3133, 1879; RS 1724; §1, ch. 5159, 1903; GS 2188; RGS 3493; §1, ch. 9320, 1923; CGL 5346, 5348.

78.20 Judgment for defendant when goods redelivered to him.—When goods shall have been redelivered to the defendant upon his forthcoming bond, and it shall appear upon the nonsuit of the plaintiff, or upon trial or otherwise, that the defendant is entitled to the goods, he shall have judgment against the plaintiff and the sureties upon his bond for his damages for the taking of such property and for his costs.

History.—§12, Mar. 11, 1845; RS 1725; GS 1289; RGS 3494; CGL 5347.

78.21 Judgment for defendant when goods not redelivered to him.—When it shall appear as set forth in §78.20 and the property shall not have been redelivered to the defendant, judgment shall be entered up against the plaintiff for possession of the property, and costs, and against him and his sureties for the value thereof and costs, in the same manner as provided in §78.19, for judgment in favor of the plaintiff; and the defendant shall have the same election as in said section accorded to the plaintiff. The value of each article of the goods replevined shall be found as directed in §78.19, with same exception.

History.—§13, Mar. 11, 1845; RS 1725; GS 2189; §1, ch. 9320, 1923; RGS 3494; CGL 5347.

CHAPTER 79

HABEAS CORPUS

- 79.01 Application and writ.
- 79.02 Bond may be required.
- 79.03 Service of writ.
- 79.04 Return to writ.
- 79.05 Compelling return and production of body.
- 79.06 Effect of the return.

79.01 Application and writ.—Whenever any person detained in custody, whether charged with a criminal offense or not, shall, by himself or by some other person in his behalf, apply to the supreme court of the state or to any justice thereof, or to any circuit judge, in vacation or in term time, for a writ of habeas corpus, and shall show by affidavit or evidence probable cause to believe that he is detained in custody without lawful authority, the court, the justice or judge to whom such application shall be made forthwith shall grant the writ, signed by himself, directed to the person in whose custody the applicant is detained, and returnable immediately before such court, justice or judge, or any of said courts, justices or judges, as the writ issued may direct.

History.—§1, Sept. 16, 1822; §1, ch. 3129, 1879; RS 1771; GS 2248; RGS 3571; CGL 5435.

79.02 Bond may be required.—In all cases where it shall appear necessary, the court or judge granting the writ shall previously require bond, payable to the governor, with sufficient security, executed in such manner and in such reasonable penalty as such court, justice or judge shall prescribe, conditioned for the payment of such charges and costs as may be awarded against the prisoner, and that he will not escape by the way. Such bond shall be filed with the papers in the case, and may be sued on in the name of the governor for the benefit of any person interested therein. In the event of inability to give bond for the payment of charges and costs, he may be permitted, in lieu thereof, to make deposit in such amount as the court, justice or judge may require.

History.—§1, Sept. 16, 1822; §1, ch. 3129, 1879; RS 1771; GS 2248; RGS 3571; CGL 5435.

79.03 Service of writ.—Such writ, when issued, shall be served by the sheriff of the county in which the petitioner is alleged to be detained, upon the officer or other person to whom it is directed, or in his absence from the place where the prisoner is confined, on the person having the immediate custody of the prisoner. In case where the sheriff of the county is the person holding the party detained, a delivery to or receipt of the writ by him shall be sufficient service thereof.

History.—§2, ch. 3129, 1879; RS 1772; GS 2249; RGS 3572; CGL 5436.

79.04 Return to writ.—The person on whom the writ shall be executed, shall, without delay, bring the body of the prisoner, or cause it to be brought, before the court, justice or judge before whom the writ is made returnable, and at the same time to certify to the cause of the detention.

History.—§2, Sept. 16, 1822; §2, ch. 3129, 1879; RS 1773; GS 2250; RGS 3573; CGL 5437.

79.05 Compelling return and production of body.—

(1) CIVIL LIABILITY.—Any person failing to return the writ so served upon him with the cause of the prisoner's detention, or to bring the body of the prisoner before the court, justice or judge, according to the command of the writ, for three days after such service, or when the prisoner is to be brought more than twenty miles, for so many days more as will be equal to one day for every twenty miles of such further distance, shall forfeit and pay to the prisoner the sum of three hundred dollars, the right to recover which shall not cease by the death of either or both of the parties.

(2) BY PROCEEDINGS BY THE COURT.—A justice or judge in vacation may take the same steps to enforce obedience to any writ of habeas corpus as may be taken in term time by any court having jurisdiction over such writs, and in cases pending before the supreme court, or either of the justices thereof, writs for the enforcement of such obedience may be directed to the sheriff or other lawful officer of any county in the state.

History.—§§3, 4, Sept. 16, 1822; §§3, 4, ch. 3129, 1879; RS 1774; GS 2251; RGS 3574; CGL 5438.

79.06 Effect of the return.—

(1) GENERALLY.—The return made to the writ may be amended, and shall not be taken to be conclusive as to the facts stated therein, but it shall be competent for the court, justice or judge before whom such return is made to examine into the cause of the imprisonment or detention, to receive evidence in contradiction of the return, and to determine the same as the very truth of the case shall require.

(2) IN CASES OF CONTEMPT.—When, on the return of the writ, the cause of detention shall appear to have been a contempt, plainly and specifically charged in the commitment by some court officer or body having authority to commit for the contempt so charged and for the time stated, the court or judge before whom the writ is returnable forthwith shall remand the prisoner, if the time for detention for contempt has not expired.

History.—§6, Sept. 16, 1822; §6, ch. 3129, 1879; RS 1775; GS 2252; RGS 3575; CGL 5439.

79.07 Procurement of evidence.—In vacation the justice or judge shall have the same power to compel the attendance of a witness to give evidence upon the trial as a court would in term time; and whenever either in term or vacation it shall be inconvenient to procure the personal attendance of a witness, his affidavit, taken upon reasonable notice to the adverse party, may be received in evidence, and subpoenas may be directed to the sheriff or other lawful officer of any county in the state.

History.—§7, Sept. 16, 1822; §7, ch. 3129, 1879; RS 1776; GS 2253; RGS 3576; CGL 5440.

79.08 Hearing and judgment.—The court, justice or judge before whom the prisoner shall be brought shall without delay proceed to inquire into the cause of his imprisonment, and shall either discharge him, admit him to bail or remand him to custody, as the law and the evidence shall require; and shall moreover either award against the prisoner the charges of his transportation, not exceeding fifteen cents per mile, and the costs of the proceedings, or shall award the costs in his favor, or shall award no costs or charges against either party, as shall seem right.

The clerk of the court in which such proceedings are taken may issue execution for the costs and charges awarded by a judgment rendered in vacation in the same manner as if rendered in term time.

History.—§5, Sept. 16, 1822; §8, ch. 3129, 1879; RS 1777; GS 2254; RGS 3577; CGL 5441.

79.09 Filing of papers and entry of judgment.—In cases before a circuit judge the petition and the papers in the cause shall be filed with the clerk of the circuit court of the county in which the prisoner is detained and the judgment shall be entered of record upon the minutes of the court; and in cases before the supreme court or a justice thereof the papers shall be filed with the clerk of the supreme court, and the judgment entered upon the minutes of the court.

History.—§8, Sept. 16, 1822; §8, ch. 3129, 1879; RS 1778; GS 2255; RGS 3578; CGL 5442.

79.10 Effect of judgment.—The judgment so entered of record shall be conclusive until reversed in the manner hereinafter provided for, and no person remanded by such judgment while the same continues in force shall be at liberty to obtain another habeas corpus for the same cause, or by any other proceeding to bring the same matter again in question except by a writ of error or by action of false imprisonment; nor shall any person who shall be discharged from confinement by such judgment be afterward confined or imprisoned for the same cause, unless by order or judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction.

History.—§9, Sept. 16, 1822; §9, ch. 3129, 1879; RS 1779; GS 2256; RGS 3579; CGL 5443.

79.11 Appeal to judgment.—The judge hearing the cause, or a justice of the supreme court, shall grant to any party or persons aggrieved by the judgment, including the state or any officer thereof, or any political subdivision of the state, an appeal in accordance with the Florida appellate rules.

History.—§§10, 11, Sept. 16, 1822; §10, ch. 3129, 1879; RS 1780; §1, ch. 4920, 1901; GS 2257; RGS 3580; CGL 5444; §11, ch. 63-559.

79.12 Trial of accused pending appeal.—Whenever in any criminal prosecution a writ of habeas corpus is applied for by any person charged with any criminal offense and the accused shall have been remanded to custody by the court to which such application is made, a supersedeas of such order made upon appeal being taken to an appellate court shall not preclude the state from proceeding with the prosecution and trial of the accused pending the decision in such matter of habeas corpus by the appellate court, but in such cases the state may proceed with the prosecution and trial of the accused in the same manner as if appeal had not been taken in the habeas corpus matter. Should the accused be convicted, however, of the charge, then in that event, the court shall withhold imposition of sentence and final judgment until the appellate court shall have determined the issues presented in the matter of habeas corpus.

History.—§1, ch. 10098, 1925; CGL 5445.

CHAPTER 80

QUO WARRANTO AND PROHIBITION

- 80.01 Quo warranto; refusal of attorney general to institute.
 80.02 Quo warranto; control of attorney general over proceedings instituted by him.
 80.03 Quo warranto; power of court to bring in parties.
 80.04 Quo warranto; effect of judgment.
 80.05 Prohibition; practice and proceedings.

80.01 Quo warranto; refusal of attorney general to institute.—Any person claiming title to an office which is exercised by another shall have the right, upon refusal by the attorney general to institute proceedings in the name of the state upon such claimant's relation, or upon the attorney general's refusal to file a complaint setting forth his name as the person rightfully entitled to the office, to file an information or institute an action in the name of the state against the person exercising the office, setting up his own claim. In this case the court is authorized and required to determine the right of the claimant to the office, if he so desires. However, in this, as well as in all other proceedings of this character, no person shall be adjudged entitled to hold an office except upon full proof of his title to the office.

History.—§2, ch. 1874, 1872; RS 1782; GS 2259; RGS 3582; CGL 5447.

80.02 Quo warranto; control of attorney general over proceedings instituted by him.—Where the attorney general institutes an action setting forth the name of the person rightfully entitled, or whenever there may be filed an information upon the relation of a party claiming title, the attorney general shall not have the right to dismiss such proceedings without the consent of the claimant, but the court shall investigate the claim and determine the right, if so desired by the person upon whose relation the information is filed; and such claimant may have counsel of his own choice to control the proceedings in his behalf.

History.—§4, ch. 1874, 1872; RS 1784; GS 2261; RGS 3584; CGL 5449.

80.03 Quo warranto; power of court to bring in parties.—In all proceedings upon writs of quo warranto, or upon information in the nature of such writs, or in civil actions instituted to obtain the remedies obtainable by such proceedings, where the attorney general institutes the action and does not make all the persons claiming title to the office parties, it shall be within the power of the court to make parties defendant of all persons claiming the office and not made parties by the attorney general; but the said persons so desiring to be made parties shall be required to set forth by petition under oath a prima facie case of right and title to the office before the court can be required to make the order, and to give security to the satisfaction of the court for the payment of all costs which may be awarded against them.

History.—§1, ch. 1874, 1872; RS 1781; GS 2258; RGS 3581; CGL 5446.

80.04 Quo warranto; effect of judgment.—In all cases where an individual institutes an action without the consent of the attorney general, the judgment shall be conclusive as between the parties other than the state; such judgment shall be no bar to any quo warranto proceeding by the state, nor shall a judgment in such proceeding instituted by the attorney general be a bar to proceedings by any claimant other than the parties thereto. The party recovering the judgment shall, however, be entitled to exercise the office until removed by quo warranto proceedings, or until his rights thereto shall otherwise cease.

History.—§3, ch. 1874, 1872; RS 1783; GS 2260; RGS 3583; CGL 5448.

80.05 Prohibition; practice and proceedings.—The practice in the courts of this state having jurisdiction to issue writs of prohibition shall be as set forth in §§80.06-80.12.

History.—§2, ch. 3002, 1877; RS 1785; GS 2262; RGS 3585; CGL 5450.

80.06 Suggestion for prohibition.—The plaintiff or plaintiffs shall file a suggestion stating the nature of the case, and the proceedings in the inferior court, tribunal or body presuming to exercise jurisdiction, sought to be prohibited, concluding with a prayer for judgment, and that the state's writ of prohibition may be granted in that behalf. When the matters suggested appear upon the face of the proceedings in the inferior court, then the transcript of the record of all the proceedings in the case, duly certified, shall accompany the suggestion, and where the matters suggested are not matters of record, then the truth thereof shall be verified by affidavit of the party instituting the proceedings or of his agent, or attorney at law, or in fact.

History.—§2, ch. 3002, 1877; RS 1785; GS 2262; RGS 3585; CGL 5450.

80.07 Prohibition; rule nisi; issuance, service, etc.—Upon the filing of the suggestion, the court, if in its judgment a prima facie case is made, shall grant a rule directed to the inferior court and to the parties plaintiff in the suit therein pending to show cause why the writ of prohibition should not issue as prayed for. Such rule shall be a supersedeas, and shall be served upon the inferior court and the parties to whom it is directed at such time as the court may direct, and an answer or return shall be made thereto by the inferior court and the parties at the time prescribed in the rule. In case of failure to make such answer or return, it may be enforced by attachment for contempt.

History.—§3, ch. 3002, 1877; RS 1786; GS 2263; RGS 3586; CGL 5451.

80.08 Prohibition; manner of service of rule.—In all cases in which the plaintiff in the inferior court is a non-resident of the county in which the action or matter is pending, service of the rule may be made upon his attorney at law in the pending suit or controversy, or in such manner as may be prescribed by the court.

History.—§7, ch. 3002, 1877; RS 1787; GS 2264; RGS 3587; CGL 5452.

80.09 Prohibition; proceedings upon default.—In case of default in making answer or return, the party prosecuting the writ may, instead of compelling an answer by attachment, have a hearing upon the matter of suggestion, and the court, after hearing the proof, shall render judgment either that a prohibition absolutely do issue restraining the court and the parties from proceeding in such action or matter, or that the proceedings be dismissed, in which last event a copy of the judgment of dismissal shall be certified to the inferior court.

History.—§5, ch. 3002, 1877; RS 1789; GS 2266; RGS 3589; CGL 5454.

80.10 Prohibition; proceedings upon answer.—Upon the filing of the answer or return, the person prosecuting the writ may reply to the matters relied upon by such defendant, and the like proceedings (except in the matter of notices or motions, and of the hearing) shall be had for the trial of issues of law or fact, joined between the parties as in personal actions.

History.—§4, ch. 3002, 1877; RS 1788; GS 2265; RGS 3588; CGL 5453; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

80.11 Prohibition; power of court in vacation.—In cases arising in the circuit court, all the proceedings, including the final judgment, may be had before the judge either during term or in vacation, and the courts before which such proceedings in prohibition are instituted shall have power to summon a jury, in case it is necessary, in such manner as they may deem proper.

History.—§6, ch. 3002, 1877; RS 1790; GS 2267; RGS 3590; CGL 5455.

80.12 Prohibition; enforcement of writ.—Any person who shall disobey any writ of prohibition issued under this chapter shall be punishable as for contempt, by fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court.

History.—§9, ch. 3002, 1879; RS 1791; GS 2268; RGS 3591; CGL 5456.

- 81.13 Common counts; issuing the summons.
- 81.14 Common counts; appearance; default; etc.
- 81.15 Common counts; sworn denial of defendant; default; etc.

81.01 Commencement of actions generally.—All actions, except those for goods sold, work and material, money lent, money paid, money received, accounts stated, and for the hire of goods or property, shall be commenced by a summons issued by the justice. In such suits the rules of pleading and practice governing the circuit courts shall prevail and be enforced, except there shall be two rule days in each month.

History.—§3, ch. 2040, 1875; RS 1612; GS 2076; §11, ch. 5922, 1909; RGS 3367, 3370; CGL 5220, 5223; §7, ch. 22858, 1945.

81.02 Service of summons.—The summons shall be served by a sheriff or constable, but if such officers be disqualified or unable to act, or if neither can be conveniently found, by a person specially appointed in writing by the justice for that purpose.

History.—§4, ch. 2040, 1875; RS 1613; §1, ch. 4384, 1895; GS 2077; RGS 3368; CGL 5221.

81.03 Return of summons.—Proof of service may be made by affidavit of the person making the service, or by return of the officer signed by him, with the addition of his official title.

History.—§5, ch. 2040, 1875; RS 1614; GS 2078; RGS 3369; CGL 5222.

81.04 Offer to confess judgment.—The defendant may, before answering, make an offer to allow judgment to be taken against him for an amount to be stated in such offer, with costs. The plaintiff shall thereupon, and before any proceedings shall be had in the action, determine whether he will accept or reject such offer. If he accepts the offer and gives notice thereof to the justice, the justice shall note the offer and the acceptance thereof, and render judgment accordingly. If notice of acceptance shall not be given, and if the plaintiff fail to obtain judgment for a greater amount, exclusive of costs, than has been specified in the offer, he shall not recover costs, but shall pay to the defendant his costs accruing subsequent to the offer.

History.—§11, ch. 2040, 1875; RS 1617; GS 2080; RGS 3371; CGL 5224.

81.05 Deposition upon continuance.—On application for the adjournment or continuance of a cause, the depositions of such witnesses as may be in attendance may be taken by the justice, at the request of either party; and such depositions, signed by the witness and attested by the justice, shall be filed and may be used by either party on the trial, as if such testimony were given at the trial.

History.—§8, ch. 2040, 1875; RS 1618; GS 2081; RGS 3372; CGL 5225.

81.06 Procurement of evidence.—Every justice of the peace shall have the right to issue subpoenas for witnesses and commissions to take testimony upon interrogatories.

The fine against a witness for non attendance in a justice's court shall not exceed twenty dollars.

History.—§7, ch. 2040, 1875; RS 1619; GS 2082; RGS 3373; CGL 5226.

81.07 Trial to be without jury unless demanded.—Every trial shall be before the justice without a jury, unless either party shall demand a jury. At the time of making such demand, the party making it shall deposit with the justice sufficient costs to pay the jury, and the said sum shall be taxed as costs.

History.—§32, ch. 2040, 1875; RS 1620; GS 2083; RGS 3374; CGL 5227.

81.08 Procurement of the jury.—When a jury is required as aforesaid, the justice of the peace shall direct the officer, by a venire under the hand and seal of the justice, forthwith to summon six disinterested persons who are qualified to be jurors. They shall be summoned from the neighborhood of the place, as far as may be, on or before the day appointed for the trial.

History.—§§32, 33, ch. 2040, 1875; RS 1621; GS 2084; RGS 3375; CGL 5228.

cf.—§40.07, Disqualification of jurors.

§40.08, Exemptions from jury duty.

§54.12, Ground of challenge of jurors for cause.

81.09 Compelling attendance of jurors.—Every person duly summoned to serve as a juror in the court of a justice of the peace who shall fail to attend the said court without a good and sufficient excuse, to be judged of by the justice of the peace, shall pay a fine of three dollars, and an execution for the amount of the said fine and costs shall be issued against the goods and chattels of such defaulting juror, to be levied as in other cases of execution, or the justice may proceed as in cases of contempt.

History.—§34, ch. 2040, 1875; RS 1621; GS 2084; RGS 3375; CGL 5228.

81.10 Verdict and judgment.—When the jury has returned a verdict in the cause, the justice shall enter up judgment thereon forthwith agreeably to said verdict.

History.—§32, ch. 2040, 1875; RS 1622; GS 2085; RGS 3376; CGL 5229.

81.11 Judgments upon confession.—Judgment upon confession before a justice of the peace may be entered with or without the service of summons for any indebtedness or for damages, which confession shall be signed in the presence of the justice, and shall show the cause of action or indebtedness for which it is given, and no writ of error or appeal shall be allowed to the party confessing the same.

History.—§19, ch. 2040, 1875; RS 1623; GS 2086; RGS 3377; CGL 5230.

81.12 Common counts; commencement of action.—In all civil actions of which justice of the peace courts have jurisdiction, where the claim of plaintiff is for goods sold, work and material, money lent, money paid, money received, accounts stated and for the hire of goods or property, such action shall be commenced by the claimant filing, with the justice of the peace having jurisdiction of the matter in controversy, an itemized statement in writing of his claim against the defendant, verified by affidavit.

History.—§2, ch. 5922, 1909; RGS 3385; CGL 5238.

81.13 Common counts; issuing the summons.—That upon filing such itemized statement, the justice of the peace shall issue summons ad respondendum to the defendant, returnable as like process is returnable under the laws governing the practice in other courts.

History.—§3, ch. 5922, 1909; RGS 3386; CGL 5239.

81.14 Common counts; appearance; default; etc.—The defendant shall file his appearance in person or by attorney upon the rule day named in the summons, should service of the same have been made ten days prior to said rule day; otherwise, the defendant shall have until next rule day thereafter in which time to file his appearance; and should the defendant not file his appearance in the said court on or before the rule day succeeding the rule day to which the summons ad respondendum is made returnable and after such summons has been duly served, then in that event, judgment shall, upon the day succeeding the second rule day after the service of the summons, be entered against the defendant for the amount claimed by plaintiff, together with the costs which may have accrued in such case.

History.—§4, ch. 5922, 1909; RGS 3387; CGL 5240.

81.15 Common counts; sworn denial of defendant; default; etc.—When the defendant has filed his appearance, as provided for in §81.14, he shall have until the succeeding rule day after the filing of such appearance in which to file his denial of the cause of action, under oath, and should the defendant not file a written denial under oath of plaintiff's claim, prior to said rule day, then judgment shall be entered against him for the amount claimed by the plaintiff, with the costs which have accrued in such case; and the defendant shall deposit into the court such amount as he avers that he owes the claimant.

History.—§5, ch. 5922, 1909; RGS 3388; CGL 5241.

81.16 Common counts; form of sworn denial.—The defendant's denial of plaintiff's claim shall be in the following form, to-wit:

Personally appeared before me, _____, the justice of the peace in and for the _____ Justice District of _____ County, Florida, _____, who being duly sworn, deposes and says that he has read the itemized sworn statement of _____ filed against him in this Court on the _____ day of _____ A. D. _____, and he is not indebted to the plaintiff in the sum alleged, but is indebted to the plaintiff in the sum of _____ dollars.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this _____ day of _____, A. D. _____.

Justice of the Peace.

History.—§6, ch. 5922, 1909; RGS 3389; CGL 5242.

81.17 Common counts; necessary pleadings; jury; etc.—The sworn statement of the account and the denial of the obligation as provided for in §81.15, shall constitute all the necessary pleadings, and the case shall thereupon be considered at issue, and the next trial term day after the filing of said denial shall be the trial day for said cause, and all such trials may be had before the justice of the peace without a jury, unless one of the parties to the action demands a jury trial, in which event the party demanding the jury trial shall deposit sufficient costs to pay the jury, and a jury of six good and lawful men shall be summoned from the body of the county, returnable instant, to try the issue between the parties.

History.—§7, ch. 5922, 1909; RGS 3390; CGL 5243.

81.18 Common counts; evidence.—Upon a trial in justice of the peace court upon papers filed and hereinbefore mentioned, any matter or thing going to the merits of the contention between the parties which would be admissible in evidence under any other rules of pleadings, under the laws of Florida, shall be admitted in evidence.

History.—§9, ch. 5922, 1909; RGS 3392; CGL 5245.

81.19 Common counts; judgment and costs.

—Should the defendant aver in his denial that he owes the plaintiff a sum of money less than the sum claimed by plaintiff and deposits the same in court, and the verdict upon the trial of said cause should be that the defendant is indebted to plaintiff in the sum in which the defendant avers that he is indebted to plaintiff, or a less amount, then in that event plaintiff shall have judgment against the defendant for the amount found in the verdict, but the costs which have accrued in said cause shall be taxed against the plaintiff, and should defendant deny in full plaintiff's claim, and the verdict be for the defendant, then the costs shall be taxed against the plaintiff; otherwise, the judgment shall be for the amount named in the verdict in favor of the plaintiff against the defendant, together with the costs which have accrued in said cause.

History.—§8, ch. 5922, 1909; RGS 3391; CGL 5244.

81.20 New trial.—Justices of the peace may grant new trials in cases tried before them.

History.—§1, ch. 2095, 1877; RS 1625; GS 2087; RGS 3379; CGL 5232.

81.21 Docketing judgments in circuit courts.

—A justice of the peace, on demand of a party in whose favor he shall have rendered a judgment, shall give a transcript thereof, which may be filed and docketed in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of the county where the judgment was rendered, or any other county in this state, within four years after the rendering of such judgment. The time of the receipt of the transcript by the clerk shall be noted thereon, and a memorandum of the judgment entered in the docket of the circuit court provided for such judgments; and from that time the judgment shall be a judgment of such circuit court, and enforced in like manner as other judgments of the circuit court. No judgment rendered by a justice of the peace shall be a lien on real estate until a transcript thereof be filed in the office of the clerk of the circuit court, and docketed.

History.—§43, ch. 2040, 1875; RS 1624; GS 2087; RGS 3378; CGL 5231.

81.22 Right to execution.—Upon judgment being entered in any cause, execution shall thereupon be issued against the party against whom judgment is rendered, for the amount of such judgment and costs, and such execution shall be served by the executive officer of the court issuing the same.

History.—§10, ch. 5922, 1909; RGS 3393; CGL 5246.

81.23 Issuance of executions by the justice.

—Executions issued by justices of the peace shall be directed to the sheriff or any constable of the county, and shall have full force throughout the same; and if in any case it shall be necessary to send an execution to some other county to be levied upon the property of the defendant, it shall be the duty of the plaintiff, or his agent, to present the same to a justice of the peace or the county judge residing in the county to which the same is carried, and the said justice or county judge shall endorse thereon an authority to the sheriff or any constable of the county to levy the same, which shall possess the same force as if it had been originally issued by a justice of the peace of said county.

History.—§40, ch. 2040, 1875; RS 1626; GS 2088; RGS 3380; CGL 5233.

81.24 Issuance of executions by clerk of circuit court.—The officer shall be required to give fifteen days' notice of the sale of all personal property levied on, by a written or printed advertisement, posted in three or more public places in the vicinity of the place of sale, and all sales of such property shall be made at the justice's place of holding his court, and the property shall be in full view at the time of sale, except in the case of ponderous articles, or articles the removal of which would create exorbitant cost.

It the judgment be docketed by the clerk of the circuit court, the execution shall be issued by him to the sheriff of the county, and have the same effect and be executed in the same manner as other executions of the circuit court.

History.—§40, 41, ch. 2040, 1875; RS 1626; GS 2088; RGS 3380; CGL 5233.

81.25 Foreclosure of mortgages.—Whenever any person holds a debt or demand within the jurisdiction of a justice of the peace, secured by a mortgage or other written lien upon personal property, he may, upon commencing suit in a justice's court upon his debt or demand file therewith his mortgage or written lien; and upon recovery of judgment for his debt or demand, the same shall operate as a foreclosure of his mortgage upon the property therein described, and his lien shall be enforced by execution as in other cases, except that he shall enforce his judgment against the property mortgaged or upon which he has a lien, before he can resort to other property of the defendant. The execution in such cases shall direct the officer to levy upon the mortgaged property first, if the same can be found, but if the same cannot be found, or a sufficiency thereof, to levy upon any other property subject to execution.

In suits of this character, the defendant may make his defense upon legal and equitable grounds, and third persons may interpose claims to the property involved in such suits, as in other suits.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 3536, 1885; RS 1627; GS 2089; RGS 3381; CGL 5234.

81.26 Costs and fees.

(1) SECURITY.—Any justice of the peace, in any action or proceeding before him, may, before or after issuing process, require the plaintiff to give security for the costs, and the person becoming security shall sign and leave with the justice a memorandum to the effect following: "A. B., plaintiff, against C. D., defendant. I hereby agree to be security for all costs which may be recovered against the plaintiff in this case."

Such surety shall be liable to pay all costs that may be recovered against the plaintiff in a civil suit before the justice, or on appeal or writ of error, and execution therefor may be issued as well against the surety as against the plaintiff.

(2) AMOUNT.—The fees of a justice of the peace shall be the same as those of the clerk of the circuit court for similar services.

History.—§5, ch. 2040, 1875; RS 1630; GS 2092; RGS 3384; CGL 5237.

cf.—§82.20 Cost when tried in county judge's court.

81.29 Appeal upon death, etc., of the justice.—If any justice of the peace shall die, resign, be removed, or his term shall expire, after judgment and before appeal, and before the time for appealing expires, any party may appeal from such judgment within sixty days after the deposit of the docket and papers of the said justice with his successor; and in such case the appeal may be made and perfected before his successor in the same manner as it might have been before him; and the successor shall transmit the record to the appellate court and said court may proceed thereon as though the return had been made by the justice rendering the judgment.

History.—§63, ch. 2040, 1875; RS 1633; GS 2097; RGS 3398; CGL 5251.

81.30 Removal of justices.—If any justice of the peace of this state shall, on indictment, be convicted of any offense against the penal laws of this state, in addition to the sentence and penalty now imposed by law, said justice shall be removed from his said office on the conviction aforesaid.

History.—§2, Feb. 14, 1835; RS 1628; GS 2090; RGS 3382; CGL 5235.

81.31 Transfer to successor.—Whenever any justice of the peace shall resign or be removed from office, or his term of office shall expire, it shall be his duty to turn over to his successor forthwith all dockets, books, papers and effects in his possession pertaining to his office, and all proceedings previously commenced shall continue without interruption; and if any person so resigning or removed, or whose term of office has expired, shall willfully fail or refuse to deliver such dockets, books, papers and effects as aforesaid, he shall be liable to any person injured for all damages, costs and expenses occasioned thereby. When any justice of the peace shall die, his executor or administrator, or other person having the same in charge, shall turn over to the successor aforesaid all dockets, books, papers and effects pertaining to such office. If such justice of the peace, such executor or administrator, or other person, shall not so deliver the same, the clerk of the circuit court shall issue a precept to the sheriff requiring him to make search for and take possession of such dockets, books, papers and effects, and bring them forthwith to the said clerk's office; and the sheriff shall execute such precept and make return of his doings thereon.

The clerk, upon receipt of such dockets, books, papers, etc., shall immediately turn them over to the proper justice of the peace. All proceedings commenced before the former justice shall proceed without interruption before his successor; and the successor shall, on demand of any person entitled thereto, issue execution upon any judgment remaining unsatisfied upon said docket, at any time within two years from the rendition of the judgment.

History.—§45, ch. 2040, 1875; §1, ch. 3927, 1889; RS 1629; GS 2091; RGS 3383; CGL 5236.

cf.—§839.14 Penalty for withholding records from successor.

§837.18 Justice to keep docket.

§837.19 Inspection and final disposition of docket.

(11) Venire for jury.

State of Florida, }
_____ County. }

To the sheriff or any constable of any county: In the name of the State of Florida:

You are required forthwith to summon six disinterested persons, qualified to be jurors, to appear before me at my office at _____ in said county, on the _____ day of _____, A. D. 19____, to form a jury for the trial of an action between A. B., plaintiff, and C. D., defendant, and make due return of this writ. Dated this _____ day of _____, A. D. 19____.

(The venire should be read to each person summoned as a juror.)

(12) Oath to jury.

You, and each of you do solemnly swear that you will well and truly try this issue, wherein _____ is plaintiff, and _____ is defendant, and a true verdict give according to the evidence. So help you God.

(13) Oath to jury in claim cases.

You and each of you do solemnly swear that you will well and truly try this claim interposed by _____ to the property levied upon by virtue of an execution in favor of _____ against _____ and a true verdict give according to the law and the evidence, and that you will also give to the plaintiff such damages as may appear reasonable and right, in case it should appear that such claim was interposed for delay. So help you God.

(14) Oath to witnesses.

You do solemnly swear that the evidence you shall give on this issue shall be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. So help you God.

(If the witnesses desire, the word "affirm" may be used instead of "swear," and the words, "So help you God," may be omitted.)

(15) Confession of judgment.

State of Florida, }
_____ County. }

A. B. Against C. D.

I have confessed judgment before _____ a justice of the peace of the county of _____ for _____ dollars and _____ cents, damages due to A. B., and the said justice is authorized to enter judgment against me in favor of said A. B. for said sum and costs.

(16) Money judgment.

Judgment is hereby rendered against C. D., defendant, in favor of A. B., plaintiff, for the sum of _____ dollars and _____ cents, damages and _____ dollars and _____ cents costs, this, the _____ day of _____ A. D. 19____.

Justice of the Peace.

(17) Execution on money judgment.

State of Florida, }
_____ County. }

To the sheriff or any constable of said county:

Whereas judgment against C. D. in the sum of _____ dollars and _____ cents damages, and _____ dollars and _____ cents, costs of suit, was recovered before me on the _____ day of _____, A. D. 19____, by A. B.:

Therefore, in the name of the State of Florida, you are commanded to levy on the goods and chattels, lands and tenements of said C. D., and make sale thereof according to law, to the amount of said damages, costs and interest thereon, together with the costs of this execution, and your fees hereon, and make return hereof when satisfied, or when duly required, with your doings hereon.

Given under my hand and official seal this _____ day of _____, A. D. 19____.

Justice of the Peace.

(L. S.)

(18) Execution in replevin.

State of Florida, }
County. }

To the sheriff or any constable of the county of _____ Whereas, judgment was rendered against C. D. on the _____ day of _____ A. D. 19____, in favor of A. B., that the said A. B. recover the possession of certain personal property, to-wit: (One gray horse, of the value of _____ dollars; one double wagon, of the value of _____ dollars, or any other property, affixing the value of each article as found by the court or jury), and for the sum of _____ dollars damages, and for _____ dollars and _____ cents, costs of suit; therefore, in the name of the State of Florida, you are hereby required to deliver the said property forthwith to the said A. B., unless the same has already been delivered; and if the said property or any article thereof cannot be delivered by you on account of your failure to find the same, you make the value thereof as herein stated, by levy and sale of the goods and chattels of the said C. D.; and you are further required to levy upon the goods and chattels of the said C. D., and make sale thereof according to law, to the amount of the said damages and costs, with interest thereon, and the costs of this execution and your fees hereon, and make due return of your doings hereon when you have fully executed and satisfied the same.

Given under my hand and official seal this _____ day of _____, A. D. 19____.

- 82.08 Process; service and return.

82.01 Unlawful entry and forcible entry defined.—No person shall enter into any lands or tenements but in case where entry is given by law, nor shall any person, where entry is given by law, enter with strong hand or with multitude of people, but only in a peaceable, easy and open manner.

History.—§1, ch. 1630, 1868; RS 1687; GS 2152; RGS 3456; CGL 5309.

82.02 Unlawful entry and unlawful detention defined.—No person who shall, without consent, enter in a peaceable, easy and open manner into any lands or tenements, shall hold the same afterwards against the consent of the party entitled to possession thereof.

History.—§2, ch. 1630, 1868; RS 1688; GS 2153; RGS 3457; CGL 5310.

82.03 Remedy declared for unlawful entry and forcible entry.—If any person shall enter or shall have entered into lands or tenements in case where entry is not given by law, or if any person shall enter or shall have entered into any lands or tenements with strong hand or with multitude of people, even in case entry is given by law, the party turned out or deprived of possession by such unlawful or by such forcible entry, by whatever right or title he held such possession, or whatever estate he held or claimed in the lands or tenements of which he was so dispossessed, shall at any time within three years thereafter be entitled to the summary remedy herein provided.

History.—§3, ch. 1630, 1868; RS 1689; GS 2154; RGS 3458; CGL 5311.

82.04 Remedy declared for unlawful detention.—If any person shall enter or shall have entered in a peaceable manner into any lands or tenements, in case such entry is lawful, and after the expiration of his right shall continue to hold the same against the consent of the party entitled to the possession, the party so entitled, whether as tenant of the freehold, tenant for years, or otherwise, shall be entitled to the like summary remedy at any time within three years after the possession shall so have been withheld from him against his consent.

History.—§4, ch. 1630, 1868; RS 1690; GS 2155; RGS 3459; CGL 5312.

History.—§20, ch. 1630, 1868; RS 1691; GS 2156; RGS 3460; CGL 5313.

82.06 Petition of plaintiff.—The party so turned out of possession, or so held out of possession, may exhibit his complaint, verified by oath of the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, before the county judge, or county court, or circuit court of the county in which the real estate is situated, in the following form or to the following effect:

State of Florida,
_____ County.

A. B., of the said county, complains that C. D. has unlawfully (or forcibly as the case may be) turned him out of and withholds possession (or unlawfully and against his consent withholds from him possession) of certain real estate known and described as follows: (here insert description) containing by estimation _____ acres of land, with appurtenances, lying and being in the state aforesaid; whereof he prays restitution of possession and his damages.

A. B., Plaintiff.

History.—§§5, 6, ch. 1630, 1868; RS 1692; GS 2157; RGS 3461; CGL 5314.

82.07 Process; issuance and form.—The clerk of the court, or the county judge, as the case may be, upon the filing of said complaint shall thereupon issue a summons to the following effect:

The State of Florida, to the sheriff of _____ county, greeting:

We command you to summon _____ if he be found within the county of _____ personally to be and appear before (the name of the court or county judge, as the case may be), for said county, on the _____ Monday in _____, being the first day of our next term, to answer _____ in an action wherein he prays restitution of possession of the following real estate, with the appurtenances, viz: _____, and have then and there this writ.

Witness (name of the clerk or county judge, as the case may be), this the _____ day of _____, A. D. 19____.

History.—§7, ch. 1630, 1868; RS 1693; GS 2158; RGS 3462; CGL 5315.

82.08 Process; service and return.—

(1) RETURN.—The summons aforesaid shall be made returnable to the next term of the court in which it is brought; but, if a regular term of the court in which the suit is brought will not be held within fifteen days after the filing of the complaint, the party making the complaint may have the summons to be issued made returnable to said court at any time not less than ten days from its date.

(2) SERVICE OF PROCESS.—Such process shall be served at least ten days before the day to which it is returnable, and it shall be served as the law requires summons ad respondendum to be served, except that in case no person can be found at the usual place of residence of defendant, it may be served by posting a copy in a conspicuous place on the property in the summons mentioned.

History.—§§9, 24, ch. 1630, 1868; RS 1694; GS 2159; RGS 3463; CGL 5316.

82.09 Trial by jury; regular venire.—If the summons be returnable to a term of the circuit or county court, the action shall be tried by a jury of six good and lawful men, of that county, freeholders, and not of kin to either party, to be selected from the jury in attendance at said term of court, or, in case of deficiency, from the bystanders.

History.—§8, ch. 1630, 1868; RS 1695; GS 2160; RGS 3464; CGL 5317.

82.10 Trial by jury; special venire.—If the summons be returnable to the court of the county judge, or to a day in vacation in the circuit or county court, the clerk, or the judge, as the case may be, shall, at the time of issuing the summons, issue a venire facias directed to the sheriff of the county commanding him to summon at least six persons possessing the qualifications mentioned in §82.09, to be attendant as jurors upon the court on the day to which the writ is returnable, to try the complaint aforesaid. If a sufficient number of the persons thus summoned do not attend, the deficiency shall be made up of bystanders qualified as aforesaid.

History.—§§8, 24, ch. 1630, 1868; RS 1696; GS 2161; RGS 3465; CGL 5318.

82.11 Trial to be without pleadings.—If it shall appear to the court, at the return day of the summons, that the defendant has been duly served therewith, it shall proceed without further pleadings in writing to empanel a jury to try the cause.

History.—§10, ch. 1630, 1868; RS 1697; GS 2162; RGS 3466; CGL 5319.

82.12 Trial; oath of jury in forcible entry, etc.—In cases of forcible entry and unlawful detainer the jury shall be sworn to well and truly try whether the defendant at any time within three years before the filing of the complaint, did forcibly or unlawfully enter upon the property in the complaint mentioned and turn the plaintiff out of the possession thereof, and whether the defendant continued to hold possession thereof at the time of filing the complaint, and to assess such damages as may be recoverable according to the evidence.

History.—§11, ch. 1630, 1868; RS 1698; GS 2163; RGS 3467; CGL 5320.

82.13 Trial; oath of jury in unlawful detainer.—If the complaint be of an unlawful detainer against the consent of the plaintiff, the jury shall be sworn to well and truly try whether the defendant, against the consent of the plaintiff, wrongfully holds possession of the real estate mentioned in the complaint; whether the said defendant has so held possession thereof against the consent of the plaintiff within three years next before the exhibition of the complaint; and whether the plaintiff has the right of possession in the tenement aforesaid, and to assess such damages as may be recoverable according to the evidence.

History.—§11, ch. 1630, 1868; RS 1699; GS 2164; RGS 3468; CGL 5321.

82.14 Trial; evidence as to damages.—On the trial, evidence shall be admitted as to the monthly rental value of the premises, and, in case of recovery by plaintiff, the jury shall fix his damages at double the rental value of the premises from the time of the unlawful or wrongful holding. But the damages in no case of detainer shall be fixed at more than rental value of the premises, unless the jury be satisfied from the evidence that such detention is willful and knowingly wrongful.

History.—§14, ch. 1630, 1868; RS 1700; GS 2165; RGS 3469; CGL 5322.

82.15 Trial; form of verdict.—

(1) IN CASES OF FORCIBLE OR UNLAWFUL ENTRY.—The form of the verdict of the jury shall be, in cases of forcible or unlawful entry, substantially as follows: We, the jury, find that the defendant did (or did not), within three years next before the filing of the complaint in this cause, forcibly (or unlawfully) enter upon the real estate in the complaint mentioned, and turn the plaintiff out of possession thereof; that the said defendant did (or did not) continue to hold the possession thereof, at the date of the said complaint; and we assess the damages of plaintiff at _____ dollars.

(2) IN CASES OF UNLAWFUL DETAINER.—The form of the verdict in cases of unlawful detainer against the plaintiff's consent shall be substantially as follows: We, the jury, find that the defendant did (or did not), at the time of filing the complaint in this cause, wrongfully hold possession of the real estate mentioned in the complaint, against the consent of the plaintiff; that the said defendant has (or has not) so held possession thereof, against the consent of the plaintiff, within three years next before the filing of said complaint; and that the plaintiff has (or has not) the right of possession in the real estate aforesaid; and we assess the damages of the plaintiff at _____ dollars.

History.—§13, ch. 1630, 1868; RS 1700; GS 2166; RGS 3470; CGL 5323.

82.16 Judgment and execution.—If the verdict of the jury shall be in favor of the plaintiff, the court shall award a judgment for the plaintiff that he recover possession of the property described in the complaint, with his damages and costs, and shall award a writ of habere facias possessionem to be executed without delay, and also a writ of execution for his damages and costs as in other civil cases; and if the verdict shall be for the defendant, the court shall render judgment against the plaintiff that his complaint be dismissed and that the defendant recover costs, and execution may issue therefor.

History.—§15, ch. 1630, 1868; RS 1702; GS 2167; RGS 3471; CGL 5324.

82.17 Effect of judgment.—No judgment rendered either for plaintiff or defendant shall bar any action of trespass for injury to the property, or ejectment, between the same parties respecting the same property in question; nor shall any verdict be held conclusive of the facts therein found, in any action of trespass or ejectment.

History.—§20, ch. 1630, 1868; RS 1703; GS 2168; RGS 3472; CGL 5325.

82.18 Granting of new trials.—New trials may be granted in proper cases by the court trying the cause.

History.—§1704 RS 1892; RGS 3473; CGL 5326.

82.19 Appeals; supersedeas.—An appeal may be taken by the losing party to the proper appellate court in the manner and within the time prescribed by the Florida appellate rules.

History.—§16, ch. 1630, 1868; §1, ch. 1691, 1869; RS 1705; GS 2169; RGS 3474; CGL 5327; §13, ch. 63-559.

82.20 Costs when tried in county judge's court.—The county judge shall receive fees for his services in said proceedings, the same in amount as that fixed for the clerk of the circuit court for similar services, and shall in addition receive five dollars for each day occupied in the trial. Such fees and per diem shall be taxed in the costs.

History.—§1706 RS 1892; GS 2170; RGS 3475; CGL 5328.

83.01 Unwritten lease tenancy at will; duration.—Any lease of lands and tenements, or either, hereafter made, shall be deemed and held to be a tenancy at will, unless the same shall be in writing signed by the lessor. Such tenancy shall be from year to year, or quarter to quarter, or month to month, or week to week, to be determined by the periods at which the rent is payable. If the rent is payable weekly, then the tenancy shall be from week to week; if payable monthly, then from month to month; if payable quarterly, then from quarter to quarter; if payable yearly, then from year to year.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 5441, 1905; RGS 3567, 3568; CGL 5431; 5432.

83.02 Certain written leases tenancies at will; duration.—Where any tenancy shall have been created by an instrument in writing from year to year, or quarter to quarter, or month to month, or week to week, to be determined by the periods at which the rent is payable, and the term of which such tenancy is unlimited, such tenancy shall be a tenancy at will. If the rent is payable weekly, then such tenancy shall be from week to week; if payable monthly, then such tenancy shall be from month to month; if payable quarterly, then from quarter to quarter; if payable yearly, then from year to year.

History.—§2, ch. 5441, 1905; RGS 3568; CGL 5432; §2, ch. 15057, 1931.

83.03 Termination of tenancy at will; length of notice.—A tenancy at will may be terminated by either party giving notice as follows: Where the tenancy is from year to year, by giving not less than three months notice prior to any annual period; where the tenancy is from quarter to quarter, by giving not less than forty-five days notice prior to the end of any quarter; where the tenancy is from month to month, by giving not less than fifteen days notice prior to the end of any monthly period, and where the tenancy is from week to week, by giving not less than seven days notice prior to the end of any weekly period.

History.—§3, ch. 5441, 1905; RGS 3569; CGL 5433.

83.04 Holding over after term, tenancy at sufferance, etc.—When any tenancy shall have been created by an instrument of writing and the term of which such tenancy is limited therein shall have expired and the tenant shall hold over in the possession of said premises without renewing the said lease by some further instrument of writing then such holding over shall be construed to be a tenancy at sufferance, and the mere payment or acceptance of rent shall not be construed to be a renewal of the said term, but if such holding over be continued with the written consent of the lessor then such tenancy shall become a tenancy at will under the provisions of this law.

History.—§4, ch. 5441, 1905; RGS 3570; CGL 5434; §3, ch. 15057, 1931.

83.05 Right of entry upon default in rent.

—If any person leasing or re-renting any land or house shall fail to pay the rent at the time it becomes due, the lessor may immediately thereafter enter and take possession of the property so leased or rented.

History.—§5, Nov. 21, 1828; RS 1750; GS 2226; RGS 3534; CGL 5398.

83.06 Right to demand double rent upon refusal to deliver possession.—When any tenant shall refuse to give up possession of the premises at the end of his lease, the landlord, his agent, attorney or legal representatives, may demand of such tenant double the monthly rent, and may recover the same at the expiration of every month, or in the same proportion for a longer or shorter time by distress, in the manner pointed out hereinafter.

All contracts for rent, verbal or in writing, shall bear interest from the time the rent shall become due, any law, usage or custom to the contrary notwithstanding.

History.—§4, 6, Nov. 21, 1828; RS 1759; GS 2235; RGS 3554; CGL 5418.

83.07 Action for use and occupation.—Any landlord, his heirs, executors, administrators or assigns, may recover reasonable satisfaction for any house, lands, tenements, or hereditaments held or occupied by any person by his permission, in an action on the case for the use and occupation of the said lands, tenements, or hereditaments when they are not held, occupied by or under agreement or demise by deed; and if on trial of any such action, any demise or agreement (not being by deed) whereby a certain rent was reserved shall appear or be given in evidence, the plaintiff in such action shall not therefor be nonsuited but may make use thereof as an evidence of the quantum of damages to be recovered.

History.—§7, Nov. 21, 1828; RS 1760; GS 2236; RGS 3555; CGL 5419.

83.08 Landlord's lien for rent.—Every person to whom rent may be due, his heirs, executors, administrators or assigns, shall have a lien for such rent upon the property found upon or off the premises leased or rented, and in the possession of any person, as follows:

(1) Upon agricultural products raised on the land leased or rented for the current year. This lien shall be superior to all other liens, though of older date.

(2) Upon all other property of the lessee or his sub-lessee or assigns, usually kept on the premises. This lien shall be superior to any lien acquired subsequent to the bringing of such property on the premises leased.

(3) Upon all other property of the defendant. This lien shall date from the levy of the distress warrant hereinafter provided.

History.—§1, 9, 10, ch. 3131, 1879; RS 1761; GS 2237; RGS 3556; CGL 5420.

83.09 Exemptions from liens for rent.—No property of any tenant or lessee shall be exempt from distress and sale for rent, except beds, bed clothes and wearing apparel.

History.—§6, Feb. 14, 1835; RS 1762; GS 2238; RGS 3557; CGL 5421.

83.10 Landlord's lien for advances.—Landlords shall have a lien on the crop grown on rented land, for advances made in money or other things of value, whether made directly by them or at their instance and request by another person, or for which they have assumed a legal responsibility, at or before the time at which such advances were made, for the sustenance or well being of the tenant or his family, or for preparing the ground for cultivation, or for cultivating, gathering, saving, handling or preparing the crop for market; and they shall have a lien also upon each and every article advanced, and upon all property purchased with money advanced, or obtained, by barter or exchange for any articles advanced, for the aggregate value or price of all such property or articles so advanced; and such liens upon the crop shall be of equal dignity with liens for rent, and upon the articles advanced shall be paramount to all other liens.

History.—§2, ch. 3247, 1879; RS 1763; GS 2239; RGS 3558; CGL 5422.

83.11 Distress for rent; affidavit.—Any person to whom any rent or money for advances may be due, his agent or attorney, executor or administrator, may make and file in the court in the county where the land lies, having jurisdiction of the amount claimed, an affidavit stating the amount or quality and value of the rent due for such land, or the advances, and whether it or they are payable in money, cotton or other agricultural product or thing.

History.—§2, ch. 3131, 1879; RS 1764; GS 2240; RGS 3559; CGL 5423.

83.12 Distress for rent; form of writ.—Upon the filing of such affidavit, the clerk, or the judge if the court have no clerk, shall issue a distress warrant, directed to the executive officer of the court, commanding him to levy on property liable to be distrained for the rent, or the advances, and collect the amount claimed in the affidavit, or the value thereof, and to summon the said defendant to appear before the court at a date fixed in the writ not more than ten days from the issuance of the writ; provided, that upon the filing of the affidavit provided for in §83.11 and before warrant shall issue, the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, shall also file a bond with two good and sufficient sureties, payable to the defendant, in at least double the debt or sum demanded, or if property, in double the value of the property sought to be levied upon, conditioned to pay all costs and damages which the defendant may sustain in consequence of the plaintiff's improperly suing out said attachment or the action dismissed or result in judgment for defendant.

History.—§2, ch. 3131, 1879; RS 1765; GS 2241; §10, ch. 7838, 1919; RGS 3560; CGL 5424.

83.13 Distress for rent; levy of writ.—The officer to whom the writ is directed shall execute the same by service on the defendant at least five days before the return day, and by levy on property distrainable for such rent or advances, if to be found in his jurisdiction. If the property is not to be so found, but is in another jurisdiction, he shall deliver the writ to the proper officer in said other jurisdiction; and such other officer shall execute said warrant by distraining said property, and shall deliver the same to the proper officer of the court in which the proceedings were instituted, to be disposed of according to law, unless he is ordered by the court from which the writ emanated to hold such property and dispose of the same in his jurisdiction according to law, as in other cases of distress. If the defendant cannot be found, the levy upon the property shall suffice as the service upon him.

History.—§3, ch. 3721, 1887; RS 1765; GS 2241; RGS 3560; CGL 5424.

83.14 Distress for rent; replevy of distrained property.—The property so distrained may at any time be restored to the defendant upon his giving bond to the officer levying such distress warrant, payable to the plaintiff with two or more good and sufficient sureties to be approved by such officer in double the value of the property levied on, such value to be fixed by the officer, conditioned for the forthcoming of the property restored, to abide the final order of the court; or it may be restored to the defendant on his entering into bond with two or more good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the officer making the levy, conditioned for the payment to the plaintiff of the amount or value of the rental or advances which may be adjudicated to be payable to such plaintiff. Judgment may be entered against the sureties on such bonds in the manner and with like effect as provided in §76.31.

History.—§3, ch. 3131, 1879; RS 1766; §1, ch. 4408, 1895; RGS 3561; CGL 5425.

83.15 Distress for rent; claims by third persons.—Any third person claiming any property so distrained may interpose and prosecute his claim for it in the same manner as is provided in similar cases of claim to property levied on under execution.

History.—§7, ch. 3131, 1879; RS 1770; GS 2246; RGS 3565; CGL 5429.

83.16 Distress for rent; counter-claim.—In actions of distress for rent defendants may set up in defense any claim or demand which might be pleaded by way of set-off or recoupment in any ordinary action at law, and with like effect.

History.—§1, ch. 4107, 1895; GS 2247; RGS 3566; CGL 5430.

83.17 Distress for rent; default and judgment thereon.—If the defendant shall not appear upon the return day of the writ and file the affidavit provided for in §83.18, the clerk, or the judge if the court have no clerk, shall ascertain what rent or advance is due to the plaintiff, and the value thereof, and shall enter judgment for the same by default, with costs, against the defendant, and shall also enter judgment against the sureties on his bond as provided for in §83.14, if the property has been restored to the defendant, and execution shall issue and be enforced as in other cases.

History.—§1767 RS 1892; §2, ch. 4408, 1895; GS 2243; RGS 3562; CGL 5426.

83.18 Distress for rent; trial; verdict; judgment; appeal.—In case the defendant shall appear and file his affidavit that the rent or advances, or any part thereof claimed, is not due, a trial without other written pleadings shall be had upon the return day of the writ, or upon such other day as the court or judge shall fix, and a jury (unless a trial by jury is waived) shall be sworn to well and truly try, and a true verdict render, whether any, and if any, what rent or advance is due to the plaintiff, as alleged in his affidavit, and value of the same. If the verdict of the jury, or the finding of the court, be for the plaintiff, judgment shall be rendered against the defendant for the amount or value of the rental or advances, including interest and costs, and judgment shall also be rendered against the sureties on the defendant's bond as provided for in §83.14, if the property has been restored to the defendant, and execution shall issue and be enforced as in other cases. If the verdict of the jury, or the finding of the court, be for the defendant, the proceeding shall be dismissed and the defendant shall have judgment and execution against the plaintiff for costs. An appeal may be taken by either party to the proper appellate court, and such appeals shall operate as a supersedeas in the manner and within the time provided by the Florida appellate rules.

History.—§1768 RS 1892; §3, ch. 4408, 1895; GS 2244; RGS 3563; CGL 5427; §14, ch. 63-559.

83.19 Distress for rent; sale of property distrained.—If the verdict and judgment be for the plaintiff, and the property in whole or in part shall not have been replevied, the same, or such part as is not restored, shall be sold and the proceeds applied upon the payment of the execution of the plaintiff. If, however, the rental, or any part thereof be due in cotton or other agricultural products, and the property distrained, or any part of it, be of a similar kind to that claimed in the affidavit, the property of such similar kind, up to a quantity to be adjudged of by the officer holding the execution (not exceeding that claimed in the affidavit), may be, at the request of the plaintiff, delivered to the plaintiff as a payment on his execution.

When any property levied upon is sold, it shall be advertised at least ten days, in the same manner as is provided by law for the advertisement of personal property for sale under execution. All property so levied upon may be sold on the leased premises, or at the court house door.

If the defendant shall, before the sale, appeal, and make such appeal effectual as a supersedeas, and pay all costs accrued up to the time that the supersedeas becomes operative, the property shall be restored to him, and there shall be no sale.

In case any property be sold to satisfy any rent payable in cotton or other agricultural product or thing, the officer shall settle with the plaintiff at the value of such rental at the time it became due.

History.—§§5, 6, ch. 3131, 1879; RS 1769; GS 2245; RGS 3564; CGL 5428.

83.20 Causes for removal of tenants.—Any tenant or lessee at will or sufferance, or for part of the year, or for one or more years, of any houses, lands or tenements, and the assigns, under tenants or legal representatives of such tenant or lessee, may be removed from such premises in the manner hereinafter provided in the following cases:

(1) Where such person shall hold over and continue in the possession of the demised premises, or any part thereof, after the expiration of his time, without the permission of his landlord.

(2) Where such person shall hold over without permission as aforesaid, after any default in the payment of rent pursuant to the agreement under which such premises are held, and three days' notice in writing, requiring the payment of such rent or the possession of the premises, shall have been served by the person entitled to such rent on the person owing the same. The service of such notice shall be by delivery of a true copy thereof, or if such tenant be absent from his last or usual place of residence, by leaving a copy thereof at such place.

History.—§1, ch. 3248, 1881; RS 1751; GS 2227; RGS 3535; CGL 5399.

83.21 Removal of tenant by county judge; petition.—The landlord, his attorney, his legal representative, agent or assigns, applying for the removal of any such tenant, shall make and file with the county judge of the county wherein the premises are situated, a petition in writing, and under oath, stating the facts which so authorize the removal of any tenant, and describing the premises.

History.—§2, ch. 3248, 1881; RS 1752; GS 2228; RGS 3536; CGL 5400; §1, ch. 61-318.

83.22 Removal of tenant by county judge; process, service and return.—Upon the filing of such petition, the county judge shall issue his summons, describing the premises of which the possession is demanded, and requiring the person in possession, or claiming the possession thereof, forthwith to remove from the same or to show cause before the said judge, within not less than three or more than five days, to be fixed in the summons, why possession of said premises should not be delivered to the applicant. Such summons shall be served by the executive officer of said court in the manner provided for service of summons ad respondendum, but if the defendant cannot be found in the county in which such action is pending and either (a) he has no usual place of abode in such county or (b) there is no person of his family above fifteen years of age at his usual place of abode in such county, then such executive officer shall serve such summons by attaching the same to some portion of the premises involved in such proceedings.

History.—§2, ch. 3248, 1881; RS 1753; GS 2229; RGS 3537; CGL 5401; §1, ch. 22731, 1945.

83.23 Removal of tenant by county judge; peremptory judgment.—If at the time appointed in said summons no sufficient cause be shown to the contrary the county judge shall enter a judgment that the complainant recover possession of the premises, and issue his warrant within three days thereafter (unless an appeal shall have been taken and properly perfected) to the sheriff of said county commanding him to remove all persons from the premises aforesaid, and to put the said applicant in full possession thereof.

History.—§3, ch. 3248, 1881; RS 1754; GS 2230; RGS 3538; CGL 5402.

83.24 Removal of tenant by county judge; trial.—The person in possession of said premises, and any person claiming possession thereof, may at the time appointed in said summons for showing cause, or before, file an affidavit with the county judge denying the facts upon which the said summons was issued, or any of the facts, and the matter therein controverted shall be tried by the judge, unless a jury be demanded, in which case it shall be tried by six legal jurors to be immediately summoned upon the order of the judge and empaneled for that purpose.

History.—§4, ch. 3248, 1881; RS 1755; GS 2231; RGS 3539; CGL 5403.

83.25 Removal of tenant by county judge; verdict and judgment.—

(1) FOR THE PLAINTIFF.—If the verdict shall be in favor of the lessor, landlord or other person applying for the possession of said premises, the county judge shall enter a judgment that the complainant recover possession of the premises, and issue his warrant on the third day thereafter (unless a new trial be granted by him) to the sheriff of the county, commanding him to put the landlord, lessor or other person into possession of said premises as hereinbefore directed, which it shall be his duty forthwith to execute.

(2) FOR THE DEFENDANT.—If, upon a trial of the issues before the judge, or before a jury, the finding of the judge, or the verdict of the jury, shall be in favor of the defendant, the proceedings shall be dismissed, unless an appeal be taken, or unless the judge grant a new trial.

History.—§§5, 6, ch. 3248, 1881; RS 1756; GS 2232; RGS 3540; CGL 5404.

83.26 Removal of tenant by county judge; costs.—In every case the prevailing party shall have judgment for his costs, and the judge shall issue execution therefor on the third day thereafter unless an appeal be taken.

The costs shall be the same as are by law provided for similar services and fees in justice's court.

History.—§§5, 6, ch. 3248, 1881; RS 1757; GS 2233; RGS 3541; CGL 5405.

83.27 Removal of tenant by county judge; appeals.—At any time within ten days after the entry of judgment by the county judge, or, if there be a motion for a new trial, at any time within ten days after the refusal to grant such new trial, either party may appeal to the circuit court of the county wherein the trial is had in the manner prescribed by the Florida appellate rules unless appeal to the supreme court is authorized by Art. V of the state constitution.

History.—§7, ch. 3248, 1881; RS 1758; GS 2234; RGS 3542; CGL 5406; §14, ch. 63-559.

83.28 Removal of tenant by county court; petition.—The landlord, his attorney, his legal representative, agent or assigns, in such counties, applying for removal of tenant, shall make and file in the county court for the county in which the premises are situated, a petition in writing under oath describing the premises and stating the facts which authorize the removal of such tenant.

History.—§2, ch. 6463, 1913; RGS 3543; CGL 5407; §2, ch. 61-318.

83.29 Removal of tenant by county court; process and service.—Upon filing such petition, the clerk of such court shall issue a summons describing the premises of which the possession is demanded, and requiring the person in possession, or claiming possession, of such premises forthwith to remove therefrom or to show cause before said court within five days why possession of said premises shall not be delivered to the applicant. Such summons shall be served forthwith by the sheriff of the county in the manner provided for service of summons ad respondendum, but if the defendant cannot be found in the county in which such action is pending and either (a) he has no usual place of abode in such county or (b) there is no person of his family above fifteen years of age at his usual place of abode in such county, then such sheriff shall serve such summons by attaching the same to some portion of the premises involved in such proceeding.

History.—§3, ch. 6463, 1913; RGS 3544; CGL 5408; §2, ch. 22731, 1945.

83.30 Removal of tenant by county court; pleadings of defendant.—The person in possession of said premises, or any person claiming possession thereof, at or before the time appointed in said summons, may file motion to quash the same, or may file an affidavit denying the facts upon which such summons was issued, or any of such facts, and such matters therein controverted shall constitute, without further pleadings, the issues to be tried; and such issues may be tried by jury if either of the parties so desires; otherwise, such issues shall be tried by the judge of said court.

History.—§4, ch. 6463, 1913; RGS 3545; CGL 5409.

83.31 Removal of tenant by county court; trial by jury.—Should either party desire that such issues be tried by jury, such party shall, on or before the return day of such summons, file notice in writing with the clerk of said court, and shall, at the same time, deposit sufficient money to pay jury fees, provided that if such issue be tried in regular term, and trial by jury be so desired, it shall be tried by the regularly empaneled jury for such term, and, in such case, no deposit shall be required.

History.—§5, ch. 6463, 1913; RGS 3546; CGL 5410.

83.32 Removal of tenant by county court; hearing and peremptory judgment.—If, on the day appointed in such summons, no such affidavit be filed, or motion to quash said writ be made, the clerk, on application of petitioner, shall cause a default to be entered against the defendant, and thereafter the files of such case shall be produced before the judge of said court, and, if he shall find the proceedings regular, judgment of the court shall be entered that the petitioner recover possession of the premises described in said petition. If motion to quash such writ be filed, it shall be heard by the judge on the day following the return day of such writ, unless such hearing be continued by the judge to some time definite upon good cause shown. Upon the overruling of such motion to quash, judgment shall be entered as in case of default, unless the judge overruling such motion shall permit the defendant to file the aforesaid affidavit instant.

History.—§6, ch. 6463, 1913; RGS 3547; CGL 5411.

83.33 Removal of tenant by county court; trial.—Whenever affidavit shall be filed by defendant as herein provided, the judge of said court shall make an order setting such case down for trial, giving only such time as is reasonably necessary to summon jury, unless a term of said court shall be in session or shall convene within five days or less, in which case the issues so made shall be tried by the jury in attendance on such regular term; and, if such cause is not heard at regular term, and a jury is demanded, the judge of said court shall, at the time of setting such cause for trial, direct that a jury be summoned for such purpose. Such jury shall consist of six persons having the qualifications of jurors serving in the county court, and they shall receive the same fee as are paid in justice of the peace court.

History.—§7, ch. 6463, 1913; RGS 3548; CGL 5412.

83.34 Removal of tenant by county court; judgment; new trials, etc.—If, on trial of such issues, whether by judge or jury, the issues be found for the petitioner, unless new trial be granted, judgment shall be entered thereon by the court that the petitioner recover possession of said premises; but, if on such trial of the issues, they be found for the defendant, unless new trial be granted, judgment shall be entered dismissing such proceedings; and new trial shall not be granted either party unless motion therefor be made within two days after verdict; and, if new trial be granted, the same shall be brought on for hearing within two days thereafter, unless further time be granted by the court for sufficient reason.

History.—§8, ch. 6463, 1913; RGS 3549; CGL 5413.

83.35 Removal of tenant by county court; writ of process.—On the third day after entry of such judgment, unless new trial be granted, the clerk of such court shall issue warrant under seal of the court to the sheriff of the county, describing the premises, and commanding him to put the landlord or lessor in possession thereof.

History.—§9, ch. 6463, 1913; RGS 3550; CGL 5414.

83.36 Removal of tenant by county court; execution of writ.—Upon receiving such warrant, it shall be the duty of the sheriff to immediately execute the same by putting such landlord or lessor or his duly appointed agent in possession of the premises described in such warrant.

History.—§10, ch. 6463, 1913; RGS 3551; CGL 5415.

83.37 Removal of tenant by county court; costs and charges.—In any suit brought under this chapter, the prevailing party shall have judgment for costs, and execution shall issue therefor as in the case of other money judgments entered by county court. The costs of clerk and sheriff for the proceedings herein provided for, shall be the same as for similar services in county court, and, in addition to the usual fees and charges, there shall be a fee of one dollar to be paid to the judge of said court, and, in every case tried out of term time, an additional fee of one dollar such fees to be taxed with other costs in said suit.

History.—§11, ch. 6463, 1913; RGS 3552; CGL 5416.

83.38 Removal of tenant by county court; appeal; supersedeas; etc.—Appeal may be taken from any final judgment entered by virtue of proceedings had under §§83.28-83.37, to the circuit court in the manner prescribed by the Florida appellate rules; provided, however, that such appeal must be taken within ten days from the rendition of such judgment, unless appeal to the supreme court is authorized by Art. V of the state constitution.

History.—§12, ch. 6463, 1913; RGS 3553; CGL 5417; §14, ch. 63-559.

84.011 Definitions.—As used in this act:

(1) Contract means an agreement for improving real property, written or unwritten, express or implied, and includes extras or change orders as herein defined.

(2) Contractor means a person other than a materialman or laborer who enters into a contract with the owner of real property for improving it, or who takes over from a contractor as above defined the entire remaining work under such contract.

(3) Contract price means the amount agreed upon by the contracting parties for performing all labor and services and furnishing all materials covered by their contract and shall be increased or diminished, as the case may be, by the price of any extras or change orders as herein defined, or by any amounts attributable to altered specifications, defects in workmanship or materials or any other breaches of the contract; provided, that no penalty or liquidated damages between the owner and a contractor shall diminish the contract price as to any other lienor. If no price is agreed upon by the contracting parties this term shall mean the value of all labor, services or materials covered by their contract, with any increases and diminutions, as above provided.

(4) Direct contract means a contract as herein defined between the owner and any other person.

(5) Extras or change orders means labor, services or materials for improving real property authorized by the owner and added to or deleted from labor, services or materials covered by a previous contract between the same parties.

(6) Furnish materials means supply materials which are incorporated in the improvement including normal wastage in construction operations; or specially fabricated materials for incorporation in the improvement; or supply materials used for the construction and not remaining in the improvement, subject to diminution by the salvage value of such materials; and includes supplying tools, appliances or machinery used on the particular improvement to the extent of the reasonable rental value for the period of actual use (not determinable by the contract for rental unless the owner is a party thereto), but does not include supplying hand tools. The delivery of materials to the site of the improvement shall be prima facie evidence of incorporation of such materials in the improvement.

(7) Improve means build, erect, place, make, alter, remove, repair or demolish any improvement over, upon, connected with, or beneath the surface of any land or other real property, or excavate any land, or furnish materials for any of such purposes, or perform any labor or services upon such improvement; or perform any labor or services or furnish any materials in grading, seeding, sodding, or planting for landscaping purposes, or in equipping any such improvement with fixtures or permanent apparatus.

(8) Improvement means any building, structure, construction, demolition, excavation, landscaping, or any part thereof existing, built, erected, placed, made or done on land or other real property for its permanent benefit.

(9) Laborer means any person other than an architect, landscape architect, engineer, land surveyor and the like who, under properly authorized contract, personally performs on the site of the improvement labor or services for improving real property and does not furnish materials or labor service of others.

(10) Lienor means any person having a lien or prospective lien upon real property by virtue of this chapter and includes his successor in interest.

(11) Materialman means any person who furnishes materials under contract to the owner, contractor or subcontractor on the site of the improvement or for direct delivery to the site of the improvement or for specially fabricated materials off the site of the improvement for the particular improvement, and who performs no labor in the installation thereof.

(12) Owner means the owner of any legal or equitable interest in real property, which interest can be reached and sold by any legal process, who enters into a contract for the improvement of such real property.

(13) Perform or furnish when used in connection with the words labor or services or materials means performance or furnishing by the lienor or by another for him.

(14) Real property means the land that is improved and the improvements thereon, including fixtures, except any such property owned by the state, county, any municipality, school board, or governmental agency, commission or political subdivision.

(15) Site of the improvement means the real property which is being improved and on which labor or services are performed or materials furnished in furtherance of the operations of improving such real property. In cases of removal, without demolition and under contract, of an improvement from one lot, parcel or tract of land to another, this term means the real property to which the improvement is removed.

(16) Subcontractor means a person other than a materialman or laborer who enters into a contract with a contractor for the performance of any part of such contractor's contract.

(17) Sub-subcontractor means a person other than a materialman or laborer who enters into a contract with a subcontractor for the performance of any part of such subcontractor's contract.

(18) Commencement of the improvement means the time of filing for record of the notice of commencement provided in §84.131.

(19) Lienors giving notice means any lienor, except a contractor, who has duly served a notice to owner as provided in §84.061(2).

(20) Notice by lienor means the notice to owner served as provided in §84.061(2).

(21) Notice of commencement means the notice recorded as provided in §84.131, and the giving of notice shall be effective upon the filing in the clerk's office.

(22) Claim of lien means the claim recorded as provided in §84.081.

(23) Clerk's office means the office of the clerk of the circuit court of the county in which the real property is located.

(24) Post or posting means placing the document referred to on the site of the improvement in a conspicuous place on the front of said site and such documents shall be protected from the weather.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.
Similar provisions in former §84.01.

84.022 Types of lienors and exemptions.—

(1) Persons performing the services described in §84.031 shall have rights to a lien on real property as provided in that section.

(2) Persons performing services or furnishing materials for subdivision improvements as described in §84.041 shall have rights to a lien on real property as provided in that section.

(3) Persons who are in privity with an owner and who perform labor or services or furnish materials constituting an improvement or part thereof shall have rights to a lien on real property as provided in §84.051.

(4) Persons who are not in privity with an owner and who perform labor or services or furnish materials constituting a part of an improvement under the direct contract of another person shall have rights to a lien on real property as provided in §84.061.

(5) Any improvement to an existing improvement for which the contract price is five hundred dollars or less and which is completed within six months from actual commencement thereof shall be exempt from all other provisions of this chapter except the provisions of §84.051.

(6) In any direct contract the owner may require the contractor to furnish a payment bond as provided in §84.231 and upon receipt of such bond the owner shall be exempt from the other provisions of this chapter and of chapters 85 and 86. The owner may post said bond or a copy thereof.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.

84.031 Liens for professional services.—

(1) Any person who performs services as architect, landscape architect, engineer or land surveyor, subject to compliance with and the limitations imposed by this chapter, shall have a lien on the real property improved for any money that shall be owing to him for his services in preparing plans, specifications or drawings used in connection with improving the real property or for his services in supervising any portion of the work of improving the real property, rendered in accordance with his contract and with the direct contract.

(2) Any architect, landscape architect, engineer or land surveyor who has a direct contract and who in the practice of his profession shall perform services, by himself or others, in connection with a specific parcel of real property and subject to said compliances and limitations, shall have a lien upon such real property for the money owing to him for his professional services, regardless of whether such real property is actually improved.

(3) No liens under this section shall be acquired until a claim of lien is recorded.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.
Similar provisions in former §84.02.

84.041 Subdivision improvements.—Any person who, pursuant to a direct contract, performs services or furnishes material to real property for the purpose of making it suitable as the site for the construction of an improvement or improvements shall be entitled to a lien on the real property for any money that shall be owing to him for his services or materials. The work of making real property suitable as the site of an improvement shall include the grading, leveling, excavating and filling of land (including the furnishing of fill soil), the grading and paving of streets, curbs and sidewalks, the construction of ditches and other area drainage facilities, and the laying of pipes and conduits for water, gas, electric, sewage and drainage purposes, and shall also include the altering, repairing and redoing of all said things. When such services or materials are placed on land dedicated to the public use and are furnished under contract with the owner of the abutting land, the cost of such services and materials, if unpaid, may be the basis for a lien upon said abutting land. When such services or materials are placed upon land under contract with the owner of such land who subsequently dedicates portions of such lands to public use, the person furnishing the services or materials placed upon the dedicated land shall be entitled to a lien upon the land abutting the dedicated land for the unpaid cost of the services and materials placed upon the dedicated land, or in the case of improvements which serve or benefit real property which is divided by such improvements, to a lien upon each abutting portion for the equitable portion of the full amount due and owing. If the portion of the cost to be borne by each parcel of the lands subject to the same lien is not specified in the contract it shall be prorated equitably among the parcels served or benefited. No lien under this section shall be acquired until a claim of lien is recorded.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.

84.051 Liens of persons in privity.—A materialman or laborer, either of whom is in privity with the owner, or a contractor who complies with the provisions of this chapter and is subject to the limitations thereof, shall have a lien on the real property improved for any money that shall be owing to him for labor, services or materials furnished in accordance with the direct contract. No lien under this section shall be acquired until a claim of lien is recorded but, when so recorded, the liens shall take priority in accordance with §84.071. A lienor who, as a subcontractor, laborer or materialman not in privity with the owner, commences to furnish labor, services or material to such an improvement and who thereafter becomes in privity with the owner shall have such a lien for any money that shall be owing to him for such labor, services or materials furnished after he becomes in privity with the owner; provided, such a lienor may record one claim of lien to cover his work done both in privity with the owner and not in privity with the owner.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.

84.061 Liens of persons not in privity; proper payments.—

(1) A materialman or laborer, either of whom is not in privity with the owner, or a subcontractor who complies with the provisions of this chapter and is subject to the limitations thereof, shall have a lien on the real property improved for any money that shall be owing to him for labor, services or materials furnished in accordance with his contract and with the direct contract. The total amount of all liens allowed under this chapter for furnishing labor, services or material covered by any certain direct contract shall not exceed the amount of the contract price fixed by said direct contract except as provided in subsection (3) of this section.

(2) (a) All lienors under this section, except laborers, as a prerequisite to perfecting a lien under this chapter and recording a claim of lien, shall be required to serve a notice on the owner setting forth the lienor's name and address, a description sufficient for identification of the real property, and the nature of the services or materials furnished or to be furnished. This notice must be served before commencing or not later than forty-five days from commencing to furnish his services or materials but in any event before the date of furnishing the affidavit under subsection (3) (d) 1., of this section, or abandonment, whichever shall occur first. The serving of this notice shall not dispense with recording the claim of lien. This notice shall not be deemed to constitute a lien, cloud or encumbrance on said real property nor actual nor constructive notice of any of the same.

(b) If the owner, in his notice of commencement, shall have designated a person in addition to himself to receive a copy of such lienor's notice, as provided in §84.131(1) (g), the lienor shall mail a copy of his notice to the person so designated. Failure by the lienor to mail such copy, however, shall not invalidate an otherwise valid lien.

(c) The notice may be in substantially the following form:

NOTICE TO OWNER

To _____
(owner's name and address)

The undersigned hereby informs you that he has furnished or is furnishing services or materials as follows: _____

(general description of services or materials) for the improvement of the real property identified as _____ (property description)

under an order given by _____ Florida law prescribes the serving of this notice and restricts your right to make payments under your contract in accordance with §84.061, Florida Statutes.

Copies to _____.

(Lienor's signature and address)

(3) The owner may make proper payments on the direct contract as to lienors under this section, in the following manner:

(a) The owner shall not pay any money on account of a direct contract prior to recording of the notice provided in §84.131, and any amount so paid shall be held improperly paid.

(b) The owner at any time after recording the notice provided in §84.131, may pay to any laborers the whole or any part of the amounts that shall then be due and payable to them respectively for labor or services performed by them and covered by the direct contract, and shall deduct the same from the balance due the contractor under a direct contract.

(c) When any payment becomes due to the contractor on the direct contract, except the final payment:

1. The owner shall pay or cause to be paid, within the limitations imposed by subparagraph 2. the sum then due to each lienor giving notice prior to the time of said payment. The owner may require (and in such event, the contractor shall furnish as a prerequisite to requiring payment to himself) an affidavit as prescribed in paragraph (d)1. of this subsection, on any payment made or to be made on a direct contract; provided, the furnishing of any such affidavit shall not relieve the owner of his responsibility to pay or cause to be paid all lienors giving notice as aforesaid. Except laborers, the owner shall be under no obligation to any lienor from whom he has not received a notice at the time of making any such payment.

2. When the payment due is insufficient to pay all bills of lienors giving notice, the owner shall prorate the amount then due under the direct contract among the lienors filing notices pro rata in the manner prescribed in subsection (5) of this section. Lienors receiving money shall execute partial releases as provided in §84.202(2), to the extent of the payment received.

3. If any affidavit permitted hereunder recites any outstanding bills for labor, services or materials, the owner may pay such bills in full direct to the person or firm to whom they are due if the balance due on the direct contract at the time the affidavit is given is sufficient to pay such bills and shall deduct the amounts so paid from the balance of payment due the contractor.

(d) When the final payment under a direct contract becomes due the contractor:

1. The contractor shall give to the owner an affidavit stating, if that be the fact, that all lienors have been paid in full or, if the fact be otherwise, showing the name of each lienor who has not been paid in full and the amount due or to become due each for labor, services or materials furnished. The contractor shall have no lien or right of action against the owner for labor, services or materials furnished under the direct contract while in default by reason of not giving the owner such affidavit. The contractor shall execute said affidavit and deliver it to the owner at least five days before instituting suit as a prerequisite to the institution of any suit to enforce his lien under this chapter.

2. If the contractor's affidavit required in this subsection recites any outstanding bills for labor, services or materials the owner may, after giving the contractor at least ten days written notice, pay such bills in full direct to the person or firm to whom they are due, if the balance due on a direct contract at the time the affidavit is given is sufficient to pay them and lienors giving notice, and shall deduct the amounts so paid from the balance due the contractor.

3. If the balance due is not sufficient to pay in full all lienors listed in the affidavit given by the contractor at that time and other lienors giving notice, the owner shall pay no money to anyone until such time as the contractor has furnished him with the difference; provided, that if the contractor fails to furnish the difference within ten days from delivery of the affidavit or notice from the owner to the contractor to furnish the affidavit, the owner shall determine the amount due each lienor and shall disburse to them the amounts due from him on a direct contract in accordance with the procedure established by subsection (5) of this section.

4. The owner shall have the right to rely on the contractor's affidavit given under this subparagraph in making the final payment unless there are lienors giving notice who are not listed in said affidavit. If there are lienors giving notice who are not so listed, the owner may pay said lienors and any persons listed in said affidavit and shall thereupon be discharged of any further responsibility under the direct contract except for any balance which may be due to the contractor.

5. The owner shall retain the last payment due under a contract or ten per cent of the total contract price, whichever is larger, which shall not be disbursed until the contractor's affidavit under paragraph (d)1. of this subsection has been delivered to the owner.

6. When final payment has become due to the contractor and the owner fails to withhold as required by subsection (3)(d)5. of this section, the property improved shall be subject to the full amount of all valid liens of which the owner has notice at the time the contractor furnishes his affidavit.

(e) If the improvement is abandoned before completion, the owner shall determine the amount due each lienor giving notice and shall pay the same in full or prorate in the same manner as provided in subsection (5) of this section.

(f) No contractor shall have any right to require the owner to pay any money to him under a direct contract if such money cannot be properly paid by the owner to the contractor in accordance with this section.

(g) Except with written consent of the contractor, before paying any money directly to any lienor except the contractor or any laborer, the owner shall give the contractor at least ten days written notice of his intention to do so, and the amount he proposes to pay each lienor.

(h) When the owner has properly retained all sums required in this section to be retained but has otherwise made improper payments, the owner's real property shall be held liable to all laborers, subcontractors and materialmen complying with this chapter only to the extent of such retentions and such improper payments, notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (3) of this section. Any money paid by the owner on a direct contract, the payment of which is proved to have caused no detriment to any certain lienor, shall be held to have been properly paid as to such lienor, and if any of such money shall be held not properly paid as to any other lienors, the entire benefit of its being held not properly paid as to them shall go to such lienors.

(4) Liens under this section shall take effect from the recording of the notice of commencement provided in §84.131.

(5) In determining the amounts for which liens between lienors claiming under a direct contract shall be paid by the owner or allowed by the court within the total amount fixed by the direct contract and under the provisions of this section, the owner or court shall pay or allow such liens in the following order:

(a) Liens of all laborers.

(b) Liens of all persons other than the contractor.

(c) Lien of the contractor.

Should the total amount for which liens under such direct contract may be allowed be less than the total amount of liens under such contract in all classes above mentioned, all liens in a class shall be allowed for their full amounts before any liens shall be allowed to any subsequent class. Should the amount applicable to the liens of any single class be insufficient to permit all liens within that class to be allowed for their full amounts, each lien shall be allowed for its pro rata share of the total amount applicable to liens of that class; but if the same labor, services, or materials shall be covered by liens of more than one class, such labor, services, or materials shall be allowed only in the earliest class by which they shall be covered; and also if the same labor, services, or materials shall be covered by liens of two or more lienors of the same class, such labor, services or materials shall be allowed only in the lien of the lienor farthest removed from the contractor. This section shall not be construed to affect the priority of liens derived under separate direct contracts.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.

84.071 Priority of liens.—

(1) Liens under §§84.031 and 84.041 shall attach at the time of recordation of the claim of lien and shall take priority as of that time.

(2) Liens under §§84.051 and 84.061 shall attach and take priority as of the time of recordation of the notice of commencement, but in the event a notice of commencement is not filed, then such liens shall attach and take priority as of the time the claim of lien is recorded.

(3) All such liens shall have priority over any conveyance, encumbrance or demand not recorded against the real property prior to the time such lien attached as provided herein, but any conveyance, encumbrance or demand recorded prior to the time such lien attaches and any proceeds thereof, regardless of when disbursed, shall have priority over such liens, except as otherwise provided for liens under this chapter.

(4) If a contractor defaults and if all liens attaching prior to default are paid in full or pro rata in accordance with §84.061(5), prior to the recommencement of completion of the improvement after such default, the lien of all lienors after such default shall take effect from such recommencement and not from the prior commencement of the improvement. Such default shall not be effective as to lienors except the contractor until the owner has recorded notice of default in the clerk's office and posted a certified copy thereof.

(5) If construction is abandoned for any reason other than as provided in subsection (4) of this section, and if the owner desires to recommence construction he may record in the clerk's office and post a certified copy of an affidavit stating his intention to recommence construction and stating that all lienors giving notice except those listed in said affidavit have been paid in full. Thirty days after the recording thereof, the rights of any person, firm or corporation who shall acquire any interest, lien or encumbrance on said property or shall furnish labor, services or materials to the same shall be paramount to any existing lien under this chapter as to which there is no claim of lien recorded within said thirty day period. A copy of such affidavit shall be served on each lienor named therein. Before recommencing, the owner shall record and post a notice of recommencement as prescribed in §84.131.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.

84.081 Claim of lien.—

(1) For the purpose of perfecting his lien under this chapter every lienor, including laborers and persons in privity, shall record a claim of lien which shall state:

(a) The name of the lienor and the address where notices or process under this chapter may be served on the lienor.

(b) The name of the person with whom the lienor contracted or by whom he was employed.

(c) The labor, services or materials furnished and the contract price or value thereof. Materials specially fabricated at a place other than the site of the improvement for incorporation in the improvement but not so incorporated and the contract price or value thereof shall be separately stated in the claim of lien.

(d) A description of the real property sufficient for identification.

(e) The name of the owner.

(f) The time when the first and the last item of labor or service or materials was furnished.

(g) The amount unpaid the lienor for such labor or services or materials.

(h) If the lien is claimed by a person not in privity with the owner, the date and method of service of the notice to owner.

(2) The claim of lien shall be signed and verified on personal oath by the lienor, his agent or attorney acquainted with the facts stated therein.

(3) Such claim of lien shall be sufficient if it is in substantially the following form:

CLAIM OF LIEN

State of _____ County of _____

Before me, the undersigned authority, personally appeared _____, who, being duly sworn, says that he is (the lienor herein) (the (agent) (attorney) of the lienor herein) whose address is _____, and that in pursuance of a contract with _____, lienor furnished labor, services or materials consisting of _____ on the following described real property in _____ County, Florida: owned by _____ of a total value of $_____, of which there remains unpaid $_____ and furnished the first of the same on _____, 19____, and the last of the same on _____, 19____, and (if the lien is claimed by one not in privity with the owner) that the lienor served his notice to owner on _____, 19____, by _____.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this _____ day of _____, 19____.

Notary Public My commission expires:

(4) (a) The omission of any of the foregoing details or errors in such claim of lien shall not, within the discretion of the trial court, prevent the enforcement of such lien as against one who has not been adversely affected by such omission or error.

(b) Any claim of lien recorded as provided in this chapter may be amended at any time during the period allowed for recording such claim of lien, provided, that such amendment shall not cause any person to suffer any detriment by having acted in good faith in reliance upon such claim of lien as originally recorded. Any amendment of the claim of lien shall be recorded in the same manner as is provided for recording the original claim of lien.

(c) Failure to serve any claim of lien in the manner provided in §84.181, within ten days after recording shall render the claim of lien voidable to the extent that such failure or delay is shown to have been prejudicial to any person entitled to rely thereon.

(5) The claim of lien may be recorded at any time during the progress of the work or thereafter but not later than ninety days after the final furnishing of the labor or services or materials by the lienor; provided if the original contractor defaults or the contract is terminated under §84.071(4),(5), no claim for a lien attaching prior to such default shall be recorded after ninety days from the date of such default or ninety days after the final performance of labor or services or furnishing of materials, whichever occurs first. The claim of lien shall be recorded in the clerk's office. If such real property is situated in two or more counties the claim of lien shall be recorded in the clerk's office in each of such counties. The recording of the claim of lien shall be constructive notice to all persons of the contents and effect of such claim. The validity of the lien and the right to record a claim therefor shall not be affected by the insolvency, bankruptcy or death of the owner before the claim of lien is recorded.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.

Similar provisions in former §§84.14, 84.16 and 84.17.

84.091 When single claim of lien sufficient.—

(1) A lienor shall be required to record only one claim of lien covering his entire demand against such real property except where the amount demanded is for labor or services or materials furnished for more than one improvement on a single lot, parcel, or tract of land, or for a single improvement on contiguous or adjacent lots, parcels, or tracts of land, or for more than one improvement to be operated as a single plant but located on separate lots, parcels, or tracts of land, or for more than one improvement to be operated as separate units on separate lots, parcel or tracts of land but improved in one continuous building operation, such as, but not limited to, a housing or multiple unit dwelling project, or a multiple separate unit development, and made or to be made in each case under the same direct contract. The claim of lien shall then be applicable to such lots, parcels or tracts of land and the improvements thereon included therein but not previously released in writing, and proof of delivery of materials at the order of the purchaser to any of such lots, parcels or tracts of land shall be prima facie sufficient to support a lien on any or all of such lots, parcels or tracts of land so improved.

(2) In the event the project consists of six or more improvements or one improvement costing more than fifty thousand dollars, and delivery is to a place, other than the site of improvement, designated by the purchaser, such as, but not limited to, a warehouse, concentration point, cutting or fabricating plant, of materials ordered by the purchaser to be used on one or more of such improvements, there shall be served upon the owner a notice, signed and acknowledged by both the seller and purchaser, substantially as follows:

NOTICE OF DELIVERY

Notice is hereby given that materials having a value of $_____ have been delivered by the undersigned vendor to _____

(purchaser)
at _____, said materials to (address of delivery)

be used for construction of improvements upon the following described property situated in _____ County, Florida, to wit:

Vendor

Purchaser

The service of said notice shall not create a lien, but shall be proof of delivery of the materials referred to in said notice sufficient to support a lien therefor on any or all of such lots, parcels or tracts of land described in said notice; provided, however, that no lien shall attach to any one or more of such lots, parcels or tracts of land by lienors subject thereto until compliance with §84.061(2), when required, and §84.081, and provided further, that no lien shall attach to any one or more of such lots, parcels or tracts of land previously released in writing or upon which the improvement has been completed for a period of ninety days.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.

Similar provisions in former §84.15.

84.101 Extent of liens.—Except as provided in §84.121, liens under this chapter shall extend to, and only to, the right, title and interest of the person who contracts for the improvement as such right, title and interest exists at the commencement of the improvement or is thereafter acquired in the real property. When an improvement is made by a lessee in accordance with an agreement between such lessee and his lessor, liens shall extend also to the interest of such lessor. In the absence of fraud on the part of the lessor, the interest of the lessor shall not be subject to liens for improvements made by the lessee when the lease is recorded in the clerk's office and the terms of the lease expressly prohibit such liability.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.

Similar provisions in former §84.03.

84.111 Liens for improving land in which the contracting party has no interest.—When the person contracting for improving real property has no interest as owner in the land, no lien shall attach to the land, except as provided in §84.121, but if removal of such improvement from the land is practicable, the lien of a lienor shall attach to the improvement on which he has performed labor or services or for which he has furnished materials. The court, in the enforcement of such lien, may order such improvement to be separately sold and the purchaser may remove it within such reasonable time as the court may fix. The purchase price for such improvement shall be paid into court. The owner of the land upon which the improvement was made may demand that the land be restored substantially to its condition before the improvement was commenced, in which case the court shall order its restoration and the reasonable charge therefor shall be first paid out of such purchase price and the remainder shall be paid to lienors and other encumbrancers in accordance with their respective rights.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.

Similar provisions in former §84.11.

84.121 Liens for improving real property under contract with husband or wife on property of the other or of both.—When the contract for improving real property is made with a husband or wife who is not separated and living apart from his or her spouse and the property is owned by the other or by both, the spouse who contracts shall be deemed to be the agent of the other to the extent of subjecting the right, title, or interest of the other in said property to liens under this chapter unless such other shall, within ten days after learning of such contract, give the contractor and record in the clerk's office, notice of his or her objection thereto.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.

Similar provisions in former §84.12.

84.131 Notice of commencement.—

(1) An owner or his authorized agent before actually commencing to improve any real property, or recommencing completion of an improvement after default or abandonment, shall record a notice of commencement in the clerk's office and forthwith post a certified copy thereof containing the following information:

(a) A description sufficient for identification of the real property to be improved.

(b) A general description of the improvement.

(c) The name and address of the owner as defined in §84.011 of this chapter, his interest in the site of the improvement, and the name and address of the fee simple title holder, if other than such owner.

(d) The name and address of the contractor.

(e) The name and address of the surety on the payment bond under §84.231, if any, and the amount of such bond.

(f) The name and address within the state of a person other than himself who may be designated by the owner as the person upon whom notices or other documents may be served, and service upon the person so designated shall constitute service upon the owner.

(g) The owner, at his option, may designate a person in addition to himself to receive a copy of the lienor's notice as provided in §84.061(2)(b), and if he does so, the name and address of such person shall be included in the notice of commencement.

(2) If the improvement described in said notice is not actually commenced within thirty days after the recording thereof, such notice shall be void and of no further effect.

(3) Neither the recording of a notice of commencement nor the posting of a copy thereof shall constitute a lien, cloud or encumbrance on real property, nor actual nor constructive notice of any of the same.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.

84.141 Application of money to materials account.—

(1) Any owner, contractor, or subcontractor in making any payment under or properly applicable to any contract to one with whom he has a running account, or with whom he has more than one contract, or to whom he is otherwise indebted, shall designate the contract under which the payment is made or the items of account to which it is to be applied and if he shall fail to do so or shall make a false designation he shall be liable to anyone suffering a loss in consequence for the amount of such loss.

(2) When a payment for materials is made to a subcontractor, or materialman, such subcontractor or materialman shall demand of the person making such payment a designation of the account and the items of account to which such payment is to apply. In any case where a lien is claimed for materials furnished by a subcontractor or materialman, it shall be a defense to such claim to prove that a payment made by the owner to the contractor for such materials has been paid over to such subcontractor or materialman, and to prove also that when such payment was received by such subcontractor or materialman he did not demand a designation of the account and of the items of account to which such payment was to be applied or, receiving a designation of its application to the account for such materials, he failed to apply such payment in accordance therewith; provided this subsection shall be deemed to be cumulative to any other defenses available to the person paying said materialman or subcontractor.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.

Similar provisions in former §84.09.

84.151 Repossession of materials not used.

—If for any reason the completion of an improvement is abandoned or though the improvement is completed, materials delivered are not used therefor, a person who has delivered materials for the improvement which have not been incorporated therein and for which he has not received payment may peaceably repossess and remove such materials or replevy the same and thereupon he shall have no lien on the real property or improvements and no right against any persons for the price thereof, but shall have the same rights in regard to the materials as if he had never parted with their possession. This right to repossess and remove or replevy the materials shall not be affected by their sale, encumbrance, attachment, or transfer from the site of improvement, except that if the materials have been so transferred, the right to repossess or replevy them shall not be effective as against a purchaser or encumbrancer thereof in good faith whose interest therein is acquired after such transfer from the site of the improvement or as against a creditor attaching after such transfer. The right of repossession and removal given by this section shall extend only to materials whose purchase price does not exceed the amount remaining due to the person repossessing but where materials have been partly paid for, the person delivering them may repossess them as allowed in this section on refunding the part of the purchase price which has been paid.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.

Similar provisions in former §84.10.

84.161 Copy of contract and statements of account may be demanded.—

(1) A copy of the contract of a lienor or owner and a statement of the amount due or to become due if fixed or ascertainable thereon shall be furnished by any party thereto, upon demand of an owner or a lienor contracting with or employed by the other party to such contract. If the owner or lienor refuses or neglects to furnish such copy of the contract or such statement, or wilfully and falsely states the amount due or to become due if fixed or ascertainable under such contract, any person who suffers any detriment thereby shall have a cause of action against the person refusing or neglecting to furnish the same or wilfully and falsely stating the amount due or to become due for his damages sustained thereby. The information contained in such copy or statement furnished pursuant to such demand shall be binding upon the owner or lienor furnishing it unless actual notice of any modification is given to the person demanding the copy or statement before such person acts in good faith in reliance on it. The person demanding such documents shall be required to pay for the reproduction thereof and if such person fails or refuses to do so, he shall be entitled only to inspect such documents at reasonable times and places.

(2) The owner, at the time any payment is to be made by him to the contractor or directly to a lienor, may in writing demand of any lienor a written statement under oath of his account showing the nature of the labor or services performed and to be performed, the materials furnished and to be furnished, the amount paid on account to date, the amount due, and the amount to become due. Failure or refusal to furnish such statement within ten days after such demand or the furnishing of a false or fraudulent statement shall deprive the person so failing or refusing to furnish such statement of his lien.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.

Similar provisions in former §84.25.

84.171 Materials not attachable for debts of purchaser.—Whenever materials have been furnished to improve real property and payment therefor has not been made or waived, such materials shall not be subject to attachment, execution, or other legal process to enforce any debt due by the purchaser of such materials, except a debt due for the purchase price thereof, so long as in good faith the same are about to be applied to improve the real property; but if the owner has made payment for materials furnished and the materialman has not received payment therefor, such materials shall not be subject to attachment, execution, or other legal process to enforce the debt due for the purchase price.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.
Similar provisions in former §84.28.

84.181 Manner of serving notices, etc.—

(1) Service of notices, claims of lien, affidavits, assignments and other instruments permitted or required hereunder, or copies thereof when so permitted or required, unless otherwise specifically provided in this chapter, shall be made by one of the following methods:

(a) By serving in the manner provided by law for the service of process.

(b) By actual delivery to the person to be served; or, if a partnership, to one of the partners; or, if a corporation, to an officer, director, managing agent or business agent thereof.

(c) By mailing the same, postage prepaid, by registered or certified mail to the person to be served at his last known address, and receipt of the same by such person or, if a partnership, by one of the partners; or, if a corporation, by an officer, director, managing agent or business agent.

(d) If none of the foregoing can be accomplished, by posting on the premises.

(2) If the real property is owned by more than one person, a lienor may serve any notices or other papers under this chapter on any one of such owners and this shall be deemed notice to all owners.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.
Similar provisions in former §§84.14, 84.19.

84.191 Assignment of lien.—A lien or prospective lien, except that of a laborer, may be assigned by a written instrument signed and acknowledged in the manner provided for recording conveyances of real property by the lienor at any time before its discharge. The assignment may be recorded in the clerk's office. A payment made to the assignor on account of such assigned lien, without notice of such assignment, shall be valid and of full force and effect as against the assignee thereof. The failure to record an assignment shall not affect its validity, except as provided herein.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.
Similar provisions in former §84.22.

84.202 Waiver or release of liens.—

(1) The acceptance by the lienor of an unsecured note for all or any part of the amount of his demand shall not constitute a waiver of his lien therefor unless expressly so agreed in writing, nor shall it in any way affect the period for filing the notice under §84.061 (2), or the claim of lien under §84.081.

(2) Any person other than a laborer may waive his lien under this chapter at any time, either before or after furnishing services or materials. A laborer may waive his lien only to the extent of labor theretofore performed.

(3) Any person may at any time waive, release or satisfy any part of his lien under this chapter, either as to the amount due for labor performed, or for services or materials furnished or to be furnished, or as to any part or parcel of the real property.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.
Similar provisions in former §84.26.

84.211 Discharge of lien.—A lien properly perfected under this chapter may be discharged by any of the following methods:

(1) By entering satisfaction of the lien upon the margin of the record thereof in the clerk's office when not otherwise prohibited by law. This satisfaction shall be signed by the lienor, his agent or attorney and attested by said clerk. Any person who executes a claim of lien shall have authority to execute a satisfaction in the absence of actual notice of lack of authority to any person relying on the same.

(2) By the satisfaction of the lienor, duly acknowledged and recorded in the clerk's office. Any person who executes a claim of lien shall have authority to execute a satisfaction in the absence of actual notice of lack of authority to any person relying on the same.

(3) By failure to begin an action to enforce the lien within the time prescribed in this chapter.

(4) By an order of the circuit court of the county where the property is located, as provided in this subsection. Upon filing a complaint therefor by any interested party the clerk shall issue a summons to the lienor to show cause within twenty days why his lien should not be enforced by action or vacated and canceled of record. Upon failure of the lienor to show cause why his lien should not be enforced or his failure to commence such action before the return date of the summons the court shall forthwith order cancellation of the lien.

(5) By recording in the clerk's office the original or a certified copy of a judgment or decree of a court of a competent jurisdiction showing a final determination of the action.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.
Similar provisions in former §84.23.

84.221 Duration of lien.—

(1) No lien provided by this chapter shall continue for a longer period than one year after the claim of lien has been recorded unless within that time an action to enforce the lien is commenced in a court of competent jurisdiction.

(2) An owner or his agent or attorney may elect to shorten the time prescribed in subsection (1) of this section, within which to commence an action to enforce any claim of lien by recording in the clerk's office a notice in substantially the following form:

NOTICE OF CONTEST OF LIEN

Owner or Attorney

The lien of any lienor upon whom such notice is served and who fails to institute a suit to enforce his lien within sixty days after service of such notice shall be extinguished automatically. The clerk shall mail a copy of the notice of contest to the lien claimant at the address shown in the claim of lien or most recent amendment thereto and shall certify to such service on the face of such notice and record the notice. Service shall be deemed complete upon mailing.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.
Similar provisions in former §84.21.

84.231 Payment bond.—The payment bond required to exempt an owner under this chapter, chapters 85 or 86, shall be furnished by the contractor in at least the amount of the contract price before commencing the construction of the improvement under such direct contract. Such bond shall be executed as surety by a surety insurer authorized to do business in Florida and shall be conditioned that such contractor shall promptly make payments to all persons supplying him labor, material and supplies used directly or indirectly by said contractor, subcontractor or sub-subcontractor in the prosecution of the work provided in said contract. The owner, contractor, or surety, parties or obligees under any such bond, shall furnish a true copy at cost of reproduction thereof to any lienor demanding the same and if any such person fails or refuses to furnish such copy without justifiable cause, he shall be liable to the lienor demanding the copy for any damages caused to such lienor by such refusal or failure. Any person supplying labor, material or supplies used directly or indirectly in the prosecution of the work to any subcontractor or sub-subcontractor and who has not received payment therefore, shall, within ninety days after performance of the labor or after complete delivery of materials and supplies, deliver to the contractor written notice of the performance of such labor or delivery of such materials and supplies and the nonpayment therefor, and no action or suit for such labor or for such materials and supplies may be instituted or prosecuted against the contractor unless such notice has been given. No action or suit shall be instituted or prosecuted against the contractor or against the surety on the bond required in this section after one year from the performance of the labor or completion of delivery of the materials and supplies. Any lienor shall have a direct right of action on such bond against the surety and no such bond shall contain any provisions restricting the classes of persons protected thereby or the venue of any suit thereon. The surety shall not be entitled to the defense of pro tanto discharge as against any lienor because of changes or modifications in the contract to which the surety is not a party; provided that the liability of the surety shall not be increased beyond the penal sum of the bond. Except claimants in privity with the contractor and except laborers, no claimant shall recover on a bond or from the contractor unless he shall have complied with the provisions of §84.061(2).

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.

84.241 Transfer of liens to security.—

(1) Any lien claimed under this chapter may be transferred by any person having an interest in the real property upon which the lien is imposed or the contract under which the lien is claimed, from such real property to other security by either (a) depositing in the clerk's office a sum of money, or (b) filing in the clerk's office a bond executed as surety by a surety insurer licensed to do business in this state, either to be in an amount equal to the amount demanded in such claim of lien plus interest thereon at six per cent per year for three years plus one hundred dollars to apply on any court costs which may be taxed in any proceeding to enforce said lien. Such deposit or bond shall be conditioned to pay any judgment or decree which may be rendered for the satisfaction of the lien for which such claim of lien was recorded and costs not to exceed one hundred dollars. Upon making such deposit or filing such bond the clerk shall make and record a certificate showing the transfer of the lien from the real property to the security and mail a copy thereof by registered or certified mail to the lienor named in the claim of lien so transferred at the address stated therein. Upon filing the certificate of transfer the real property shall thereupon be released from the lien claimed and such lien shall be transferred to said security. The clerk shall be entitled to a fee for making and serving the certificate in the sum of two dollars. Any number of liens may be transferred to one such security.

(2) Any excess of the security over the aggregate amount of any judgments or decrees rendered plus costs actually taxed shall be repaid to the party filing the same or his successor in interest. Any deposit of money shall be considered as paid into court and shall be subject to the provisions of law relative to payments of money into court and the disposition of same.

(3) Any party having an interest in such security or the property from which the lien was transferred may at any time, and any number of times, file a complaint in chancery in the circuit court of the county where such security is deposited for an order to require additional security, reduction of security, change or substitution of sureties, payment or discharge thereof or any other matter affecting said security.

(4) If no proceeding to enforce a transferred lien shall be commenced within the time specified in §84.221, the clerk shall return said security upon request of the person depositing or filing the same, or the insurer.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.
Similar provisions in former §84.24.

84.251 Redemption and sale.—

(1) The right of redemption upon all sales under this chapter shall exist in favor of the person whose interest is sold and may be exercised in the same manner as is or may be provided for redemption of real property from sales under mortgages.

(2) Sales pursuant to any decree or judgment of foreclosure may be made by the clerk of the court which enters the decree or judgment in the same manner as prescribed for mortgage foreclosures in §702.02(2)-(5). This procedure shall be an alternative to any other method in existence prior to the adoption of this law.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.
Similar provisions in former §84.27.

84.261 Consolidation and intervention.—

Any party interested in any action for the enforcement of a lien hereunder may, as of right, make application to the court for a consolidation with such action of all pending actions or may join all parties interested or involving the contract or real property improved; provided, no consolidation or intervention shall be ordered whereby the court would lose jurisdiction of such action.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.
Similar provisions in former §84.22.

84.271 Interplead.—An owner or other person holding funds for disbursement on an improvement shall have the right to interplead such lienor and any other person having or claiming to have an interest in the real property improved or a contract relating to the improvement thereof, whenever there is a dispute between lienors as to the amounts due or to become due them. If the court decrees the interpleader, it may transfer all claims to the funds held by the plaintiff. In such case the court shall require said fund to be deposited in registry of court, and effective upon such deposit, shall decree the real property to be free of all liens and claims of lien of the parties to the suit.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.

84.281 Judgments in case of failure to establish liens; personal and deficiency judgments or decrees.—

(1) If a lienor shall fail, for any reason, to establish a lien for the full amount found to be due him in an action to enforce the same under the provisions of this chapter, he may, in addition to the lien decreed in his favor, recover a judgment or decree in such action against any party liable therefor for such sums in excess of the lien as are due him or which he might recover in an action on a contract against any party to the action from whom such sums are due him.

(2) In any action heretofore or hereafter brought a court may, either before or after the final adjudication, award a summary money judgment or decree in favor of any party. This shall not preclude the rendition of other judgments or decrees in the action.

(3) If, upon the sale of the real property under any judgment or decree there is a deficiency of proceeds to pay the amount of such judgment or decree, the judgment or decree may be enforced for the deficiency against any person liable therefor in the same manner and under the same conditions as deficiency decrees in mortgage foreclosures. Any payment made on account of any judgment or decree in favor of a party shall be credited on any other judgment or decree rendered in favor of that party in the same action.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.
Similar provisions in former §84.29.

84.291 Attorneys' fees.—In any action brought to enforce a lien under this chapter, the prevailing party shall be entitled to recover a reasonable fee for the services of his attorney, to be determined by the court, which shall be taxed as part of his costs.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.

84.301 Other actions not barred.—This chapter shall be cumulative to other existing remedies and nothing contained in this chapter shall be construed to prevent any lienor or assignee under any contract from maintaining an action thereon at law in like manner as if he had no lien for the security of his debt, and the bringing of such action shall not prejudice his rights under this chapter, except as herein otherwise expressly provided.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.
Similar provisions in former §84.32.

84.311 Remedies in case of fraud or collusion.—

(1) When the owner or any lienor shall, by fraud or collusion, deprive or attempt to deprive any lienor of benefits or rights to which such lienor is entitled under this chapter by establishing or manipulating the contract price or by giving false affidavits, releases, invoices, worthless checks, statements or written instruments permitted or required under this chapter relating to the improvement of real property hereunder to the detriment of any such lienor, the circuit court in chancery shall have jurisdiction, upon a complaint filed by such lienor, to issue temporary and permanent injunctions, order accountings, grant discovery, utilize all remedies available under creditors bills and proceedings supplementary to execution, marshal assets and exercise any other appropriate legal or equitable remedies or procedures without regard to the adequacy of a remedy at law or whether or not irreparable damage has or will be done.

(2) (a) Any lien asserted under this chapter in which the lienor has wilfully exaggerated the amount for which such lien is claimed or in which the lienor has wilfully included a claim for work not performed upon or materials not furnished for the property upon which he seeks to impress such lien or in which the lienor has compiled his claim with such wilful and gross negligence as to amount to a wilful exaggeration, shall be deemed a fraudulent lien.

(b) It shall be a complete defense to any action to enforce a lien under this chapter, or against any lien in any action in which the validity of the lien is an issue, that the lien is a fraudulent lien and the court so finding is empowered to and shall declare the lien unenforceable and the lienor shall thereupon forfeit his right to any lien on the property upon which he sought to impress such fraudulent lien.

(c) An owner against whose interest a fraudulent lien is filed shall have a right of action for his actual damages occasioned thereby and for punitive damages. Such action may be instituted independently of another action, or in connection with a summons to show cause under §84.211, or as a counterclaim or crossclaim to any action to enforce or to determine the validity of such lien. The lienor who files a fraudulent lien shall be liable to the owner in damages which shall include court costs, clerk's fees, and a reasonable attorney's fee for services in securing the discharge of the lien, the amount of any premium for a bond given to obtain the discharge of the lien or interest on any money deposited for the purpose discharging the lien, and punitive damages in an amount not exceeding the difference between the amount claimed by the lienor to be due or to become due and the amount actually due or to become due.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.

84.321 Insurance proceeds liable for demands.—The proceeds of any insurance which by the terms of the policy contract are payable to the owner of real property improved or a contractor or subcontractor and actually received or to be received by him because of the damage, destruction or removal by fire or other casualty of an improvement on which lienors have furnished labor or services or materials shall, after the owner, contractor or subcontractor, as the case may be, has been reimbursed therefrom for any premiums paid by him, be liable to liens or demands for payment provided by this chapter to the same extent and in the same manner, order of priority and conditions as the real property or payments under a direct contract would have been had such improvement not been so damaged, destroyed or removed. The insurer may pay the proceeds of any such policy of insurance to the insured named in such policy and thereupon any liability of the insurer under this chapter shall cease. Such named insured who receives any proceeds of such policy shall be deemed a trustee of such proceeds and such proceeds shall be deemed trust funds for the purposes designated by this section for a period of one year from the date of receipt of such proceeds. This section shall not apply to that portion of the proceeds of any policy of insurance payable to a person, including a mortgagee, who holds a lien perfected prior to the recording of the notice of commencement or recommencement.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.
Similar provisions in former §84.13.

84.331 Disbursing agent and others may rely on owner's notices.—When the proceeds of a construction or improvement loan or any portion thereof are being disbursed by a person other than the owner, any affidavit, notice or other instrument which is permitted or required under this chapter to be furnished to the owner may be relied upon by such other person in making such disbursements to the same extent as the owner is entitled to rely upon the same.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.

84.341 Misapplication of funds shall constitute embezzlement.—

(1) For the purpose of this section the net proceeds of a loan shall be deemed to be the amount remaining after deducting from the principal amount of the loan:

(a) Fees and charges legally incident to the procuring of the loan;

(b) The amount required to satisfy prior encumbrances against the real property which is security for such loan and the fees and charges legally incident thereto, if such encumbrances are paid or to be paid with the consent of the lender, from the proceeds of the loan; and

(c) The amount of fees and charges for professional services for which liens are not provided by this chapter and which are bona fide rendered in connection with the improving of the real property.

(2) Any person, firm, corporation or agent, officer or employee thereof who procures a loan secured by mortgage or other encumbrance on real property, representing that the net proceeds thereof are to be used for the purpose of improving such real property and who, with intent to defraud, shall use the net proceeds, as defined in subsection (1) of this section, or any part thereof for any other purpose than to pay for labor or services performed on, or material furnished for, this specific improvement, while any amount for which he may be or become liable for such labor, services, or materials remains unpaid or while any amount of which he has received notice of nonpayment prescribed by this chapter remains unpaid, shall be guilty of embezzlement and shall be prosecuted and, upon conviction, punished in accordance with the provisions of the laws of this state; provided, however, that failure to pay for such labor, services or materials furnished for this specific improvement after receipt of such loan shall constitute prima facie evidence of intent to defraud.

(3) Any person, firm, corporation or agent, officer or employee thereof who, with intent to defraud, shall use the proceeds of any payment made to him on account of improving certain real property, for any other purpose than to pay for labor or services performed on or materials furnished for this specific improvement, while any amount for which he may be or become liable for such labor, services, or materials remains unpaid shall be guilty of embezzlement and shall be prosecuted and, upon conviction, punished in accordance with the provisions of the laws of this state; provided, however, that failure to pay for such labor, services or materials furnished for this specific improvement after receipt of such proceeds shall constitute prima facie evidence of intent to defraud.

(4) The provisions of subsections (2) and (3) shall not apply to mortgage bankers or their agents, servants or employees, for their acts in the usual course of the business of lending or disbursing mortgage funds.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.

Similar provisions in former §84.07.

84.351 Making or furnishing false statement shall constitute perjury.—Any person, firm or corporation who shall wilfully make or furnish to another person, firm or corporation, an affidavit containing a false statement in connection with the improvement of real property in this state, knowing that the one to whom it was furnished may rely on it, and the one to whom it was furnished shall part with anything of value relying on the truth of such statement as an inducement to do so, shall be guilty of perjury and shall be prosecuted and, upon conviction, punished in accordance with the provisions of the laws of this state.

History.—§1, ch. 63-135.

Similar provisions in former §84.08.

84.361 Effective date.—Chapter 63-135 shall take effect at 12:01 a.m., October 1, 1963. The rights of all persons with respect to an improvement that has a time of visible commencement prior to October 1, 1963, shall be determined and enforced as provided in former §§84.01-84.35, as they existed prior to October 1, 1963. As to all other rights, former §§84.01-84.35, Florida Statutes, are repealed concurrently with the effective time of this chapter.

History.—§3, ch. 63-135.

- 85.28 Liens of owners, operators or keepers of camps; ejection of occupants.

85.01 Liens upon property.—Liens prior in dignity to all others accruing thereafter shall exist in favor of the following persons, upon the following described property, under the circumstances hereinafter mentioned, to-wit:

History.—§1726, 1730 (immediately preceding) RS 1892; §1, ch. 5143, 1903; GS 2190, 2196; RGS 2495, 3502; CGL 5349, 5363; §44, ch. 16042, 1933.

85.02 Liens for labor on railroads; telegraphs, etc.—In favor of any person performing by himself or others any labor upon any railroad, canal, telegraph or telephone line, wharf, mill, distillery or other manufactory, whether in the construction, operation or repair thereof; upon such line, wharf, mill, distillery or other manufactory, any and all franchises, machinery and equipments connected therewith or thereon and on the land upon which they stand.

History.—RS 1727; §3, ch. 5143, 1903; GS 2191; RGS 3497; CGL 5351.

85.03 Liens for materials furnished.—In favor of any person who shall furnish any building material for the construction, repair or use of any fence, railroad, canal or telegraph line, wharf, bridge, mill, distillery or other manufacturing work or structure; upon the said lines or other property, and upon the lands upon which they stand.

History.—§4, ch. 3747, 1887; RS 1729; §5, ch. 5143, 1903; GS 2193; §1, ch. 7313, 1917; RGS 3499; CGL 5353.

85.04 Liens for labor on farms, etc.—In favor of any person performing by himself or others any labor upon or in any farm, orchard, grove, garden, park or other grounds, whether in clearing up, fencing, ditching or draining, or in maintaining, improving or cultivating the same; upon such farm, orchard, grove, garden, park or other grounds.

History.—§3, ch. 3747, 1887; RS 1728; §4, ch. 5143, 1903; GS 2192; RGS 3498; CGL 5352.

85.05 Liens in favor of professional engineers and surveyors.—In favor of professional engineers, and registered land surveyors, who in the practice of their profession shall perform by themselves, or others, any professional engineering or land surveying as defined by law, upon or in connection with any property and also upon the land upon which any of said property may stand. Such liens shall be superior to all others accruing thereafter, except only the statutory liens of material men, mechanics, artisans and laborers. If such professional engineering or surveying shall be done or furnished by the procurement of the owner of the property or his agent, or from a person contracting with such owner to have the work done, the lien shall be upon the interest of such owner; but if the professional engineering or surveying be done by the procurement of a person having less than the absolute interest, or of his agent, or of any person contracting with him to have the work done, the lien shall be only upon the limited interest of such person.

History.—§1-3, ch. 7922, 1919; CGL §§5356-5358; §15, ch. 15657, 1931; CGL 1936 Supp. 4151(109).

85.06 Liens upon separate statutory property of married women; notice.—In favor of any person who shall have performed any labor upon or furnished any material used or to be used upon the separate statutory property of any married woman in this state, with her knowledge or assent or pursuant to a contract in writing with her, in the construction of buildings or repairs or improvements upon her separate statutory property. Such person so performing labor or furnishing said materials may at any time subsequent to the performance of the labor or the furnishing of the materials, or after the making of a contract in writing therefor with said married woman for the construction or repair of said buildings or improvements upon her separate statutory property, file in the office of the clerk of the circuit court, and have recorded in the record of liens required to be kept by said clerk, in the county in which the land is located, a notice of the performance of such labor or of the furnishing of such materials, or of the contract for the construction or repair of said buildings or improvements—the form of notice being herein-after provided—and from the date of filing of such notice the rights of all persons performing labor or furnishing materials, or purchasing or dealing with the property of said married woman, upon which said construction, improvements or repairs are made, or are to be made, shall be subject and subordinate to the claim set out in said notice.

The notice provided for in this section shall be substantially as follows: It shall be in writing and shall be sworn to by the person filing the same, or his agent. It shall state the name of the owner of said property, the nature and character of the improvements or repairs and the value thereof, and it shall also contain a description of the property upon which the improvements or repairs have been or are to be made.

The notice of lien herein provided for may be filed prior to the filing of the bill of complaint and must be filed within three months after the entire performance of the labor or the entire furnishing of the materials, provided that nothing herein shall prevent the filing of such notice at any time after a contract in writing has been entered into therefor. Suit in equity to enforce the rights of parties performing labor or furnishing materials as provided for herein, must be brought within twelve months from the filing of notice of lien.

History.—§§1-3, ch. 6926, 1915; RGS 2854; §1, ch. 9301, 1923; CGL 4551.

85.07 Liens for labor on and with machines, etc.—In favor of any person by himself or others performing any labor upon or with any engine, machine, apparatus, fixture, implement, newspaper or printing material or other property, or doing work in any hotel; upon such engine, machine, material, apparatus, fixture, implement, newspaper or printing material, or other property, and upon the furniture, furnishings and belongings of said hotel.

History.—§6, ch. 3747, 1887; RS 1730; §1, ch. 4583, 1897; GS 2196; RGS 3503; CGL 5364.

85.08 Liens for labor on logs and timber.—In favor of any person by himself or others cutting, rafting, running, driving, or performing other labor upon logs or timber of any kind; on such logs and timber, and on any article manufactured therefrom.

History.—§7, ch. 3747, 1887; RS 1731; GS 2197; RGS 3504; CGL 5365.

85.09 Liens for labor and services on personal property.—In favor of persons performing labor or services for any other person, upon the personal property of the latter upon which the labor or services is performed, or which is used in the business, occupation, or employment in which the labor or services is performed.

History.—§10, ch. 3747, 1887; RS 1732; GS 2198; RGS 3505; §1, ch. 8474, 1921.

85.10 Liens for labor in raising crops.—In favor of any person performing any labor in, or managing or overseeing, the cultivation or harvesting of crops; upon the crops cultivated or harvested.

History.—Ch. 1899, 1872; §9, ch. 3747, 1887; RS 1733; GS 2199; RGS 3506 CGL 5367.

85.11 Liens for labor on or for vessels.—In favor of any person performing for himself or others, any labor, or furnishing any materials or supplies for use in the construction of any vessel or watercraft; and in favor of any person performing for himself or others, any labor or service of any kind, on, to or for the use or benefit of a vessel or watercraft, including masters, mates and members of the crew and persons loading or unloading the vessel or putting in or taking out ballast; upon such vessel or watercraft, whether partially or completely constructed and whether launched or on land, her tackle, apparel and furniture.

History.—§1, ch. 3612, 1885; RS 1734; GS 2200; §10, ch. 7838, 1919; RGS 3507; CGL 5368.

85.12 Liens for manufacturing and repairing articles.—In favor of any person who shall manufacture, alter or repair any article or thing of value; upon such article or thing.

History.—§5, ch. 3747, 1887; RS 1735; GS 2201; RGS 3508; CGL 5369.

85.13 Liens for furnishing articles to be manufactured.—In favor of any person who shall furnish any logs, lumber, clay, sand, stone or other material whatsoever, crude or partially or wholly prepared for use, to any mill or other manufactory to be manufactured into any article of value; upon all such articles furnished and upon all articles manufactured therefrom.

History.—§7, ch. 3747, 1887; RS 1736; GS 2202; RGS 3509; CGL 5370.

85.14 Liens for furnishing locomotives, machinery, etc.—In favor of any person who shall furnish any locomotive or stationary engine, water engine, wind mill, car or other machine or parts of machine or instrument for any railroad, telegraph or telephone line, mill, distillery, or other manufactory; upon the articles so furnished.

History.—§9, ch. 3747, 1887; RS 1737; GS 2203; RGS 3510; CGL 5371.

85.15 Liens for furnishing material for vessels.—In favor of any ship chandler, storekeeper or dealer furnishing stores, provisions, rigging or other material to or for the use of any ship, vessel, steamboat or other water craft; on such ship, vessel, steamboat or other watercraft.

History.—§14, ch. 40, 1845; §§1-4, ch. 1128, 1861; RS 1738; GS 2204; RGS 3511; CGL 5372.

85.16 Liens for care and maintenance of animals.—In favor of all persons feeding or caring for the horse or other animal of another, including all keepers of livery, sale or feed or feed stables, for feeding or taking care of any horse or other animal put in their charge; upon such horse or other animal.

History.—§1, ch. 3618, 1885; RS 1739; GS 2205; RGS 3512; CGL 5373; §1, ch. 25048, 1949.
cf.—§86.08 Remedies against personal property only; all lienors.

85.17 Liens for feed, etc., for raising horses, polo ponies and race dogs.—In favor of any person who shall furnish corn, oats, hay, grain or other feed or feed stuffs or straw or bedding material to or upon the order of the owner, or the agent, bailee, lessee, or custodian of the owner, of any race horse, polo pony or race dog, for the unpaid portion of the price of such supplies upon every race horse, polo pony, or race dog which consumes any part of such supplies. All race horses and race dogs of such owner which are accustomed to consume supplies of the character delivered, which are at the time of the delivery of such supplies upon the premises to which delivery is made, shall be deemed prima facie to have consumed such supplies. Such lien shall remain valid and enforceable for a period of one year from the dates of the respective deliveries of such corn, oats, hay, grain, feed or feed stuffs, or straw; and such liens are to be enforced in the manner provided for the enforcement of other liens on personal property in this state. Said liens shall be superior to any and all claims, liens and mortgages, whether recorded or unrecorded, including, but not limited to, any lessor's or vendor's lien, and any chattel mortgage, which theretofore may have been or thereafter may be created against such race horse, polo pony or race dog, and to the claims of any and all purchases thereof.

History.—§1, ch. 17092, 1935; CGL 1936 Supp. 5373(1); §7, ch. 22658, 1945.

85.18 Liens for board, lodging, etc., at hotels, etc.—In favor of keepers of hotels, apartment houses, rooming houses, and boarding houses for the board, lodging and occupancy of and for moneys advanced to guests or tenants, upon the goods and chattels belonging to such guests or tenants in such hotel, apartment house, rooming house or boarding house, including garage and storeroom. Upon the non-payment of such sums in accordance with the rules of such hotels, apartment houses, rooming houses or boarding houses, the keeper thereof may instantly eject such guests or tenants therefrom.

History.—§6, ch. 1999, 1874; RS 1740; GS 2206; RGS 3513; CGL 5374; §44, ch. 16042, 1933.

85.19 Liens of hotels, apartment houses, rooming houses, boarding houses, etc.—In favor of any person conducting or operating any hotel, apartment house, rooming house, boarding house or tenement house where rooms or apartments are let for hire or rental. Such lien shall exist on all the property including trunks, baggage, jewelry and wearing apparel, guns and sporting goods, furniture and furnishings and other personal property of any person which property is brought into or placed in any room or apartment of any hotel, apartment house, lodging house, rooming house, boarding house or tenement house when such person shall occupy such room or apartment as tenant, lessee, boarder, roomer or guest for the privilege of which occupancy money or anything of value is to be paid to the person conducting or operating such hotel, apartment house, rooming house, lodging house, boarding house or tenement house. Such lien shall continue and be in full force and effect for the amount payable for such occupancy until the same shall have been fully paid and discharged.

History.—§1, ch. 12080, 1927; CGL 5375.
cf.—§212.03 Transient rentals tax.

85.20 Unlawful to remove property upon which lien has accrued.—It is unlawful for any person to remove any property upon which a lien has accrued under the provisions of §85.19 from any hotel, apartment house, rooming house, lodging house, boarding house or tenement house without first making full payment to the person operating or conducting the same of all sums due and payable for such occupancy or without first having the written consent of such person so conducting or operating such place to so remove such property. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall, if the property removed in violation hereof be of the value of fifty dollars or less, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by fine of not more than one hundred dollars or imprisonment in the county jail for not more than three months; and if the property so removed should be of greater value than fifty dollars then such person shall be deemed guilty of a felony and upon conviction shall be punished by fine of not more than one thousand dollars or imprisonment in the state prison for not more than two years.

History.—§2, 3, ch. 12080, 1927; CGL 5376, 7323.
cf.—§775.06 Alternative punishment.

85.21 Lien for service of stallions and other animals.—In favor of owners of stallions, jackasses or bulls, upon the colt or calf of the get of said stallion, jackass or bull, and also upon the mare, jenny or cow served by said stallion, jackass or bull in breeding thereof for the sum stipulated to be paid for the service thereof, by filing at any time within eighteen months after the date of service a statement of the account thereof, together with the description as to color and markings of the female served, and the name of the owner at the date of service, in the office of the county clerk of the county wherein the owner of the said female resided at the time of service. Neither the mare, jenny or cow, nor the get thereof, shall be sold within eighteen months after the date of service, unless the service fee shall be paid, unless such sale shall be agreed to and approved in writing by the owner of the stallion, jackass or bull at the time of the sale or transfer of the mare, jenny or cow, or offspring thereof. At any time after such mare, jenny or cow shall conceive, any one having the lien herein provided, may enforce the same in the same manner as is now provided by law.

History.—§1, ch. 4352, 1895; GS 2207; §1, ch. 7362, 1917; RGS 3514; CGL 5377.

85.22 Liens for loans and advances.—Any person who shall procure a loan or advance of money or goods and chattels, wares or merchandise or other things of value, to aid him in the business of planting, farming, timber getting or any other kind of businesses in this state, from any factor, merchant, firm or person in this state, or in the United States or in any foreign country, shall, by this law, be held to have given to the lender, lenders, or person making such advance, a statutory lien of prior dignity to all other incumbrances, saving and excepting liens for labor and liens in favor of landlords, upon all the timber getting, all the crops, and products grown or anything else made or grown by said person, through the assistance of said loan or advances; provided, that the lien above given shall not be created unless the person obtaining or procuring such loan or advance shall give to the person making such loan or advance an instrument of writing consenting to said lien; and the same shall be recorded in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of the county wherein such business of planting, farming or timber getting is conducted.

History.—§1, ch. 4163, 1893; GS 2208; RGS 3515; CGL 5378.

85.23 Liens of orchestral and band musicians.—In favor of any musician or leader of an orchestra or band performing labor or services for any other person, owning, operating or managing any premises, done and performed in pursuance of any contract duly authorized or ratified by such owner, operator or management, upon all the right, title or interest, of any nature whatsoever, of such owner, operator or management, making, authorizing or ratifying such contract, in and to the premises and personal property thereon, or used in connection therewith.

Performance by a musician involving the use of a musical instrument as commonly known and commonly used in orchestral or band work, or the services of an orchestra leader, when such performance or service is rendered pursuant to a duly authorized contract, shall be deemed and considered as labor done and performed, whether the said contract be written, oral, expressed or implied.

When musical services are contracted for by a lessee of real or personal property, or his duly authorized agent, the aforesaid lien shall not extend to the property of the lessor, nor to the leasehold, unless the lessor has agreed thereto in writing, or has become the surety of the lessee in such manner as to bind him to pay, or guarantee the payment of the sums due for the musical services, or where the lessor has a proprietary interest in the business conducted by the person contracting for musical services for said business. In no case shall any person be deemed to have ratified a contract for musical services made by another by mere knowledge that such services have or might be employed, or by failure to object thereto, but such ratification must be based upon some unequivocal affirmative act, statement or conduct, intended to cause the person claiming the lien to rely thereon, and upon which said person in fact relied.

If any part of the property subject to a lien under this law be removed from the premises where labor is done and performed before the discharge from the lien, such removal shall not affect the rights of lienors in respect to either the remaining property or the part removed.

History.—§§1-4, ch. 18035, 1937; CGL 1940 Supp. 5378(1)-5378(4).

85.24 Priority of foregoing liens.—Liens for labor and liens for material provided for by this law shall take priority among themselves according to the times that the notices required to create such liens respectively were given or were recorded in the cases where record is required; that is to say, each such lien which shall have attached to the property shall be paid before any such lien which shall have subsequently attached thereto, shall be entitled to be paid.

History.—§12, ch. 5143, 1903; GS 2209; RGS 3516; CGL 5379.

85.25 Acquisition of liens by persons in privity with the owner.—

(1) AS AGAINST THE OWNER.—As against the owner, absolute or limited, of the property, real or personal, upon which a lien is claimed, or person deriving through his death, or purchasers or creditors with notice, the lien hereinbefore provided for shall be acquired by any person, in privity with such owner, by the performance of the labor or the furnishing of the materials. Any purchaser or creditor whose title, interest, lien or claim in or to the property shall be created, or shall arise, while the construction or repair of such property as aforesaid is in progress shall be deemed and held to be a purchaser or creditor with notice.

(2) AS AGAINST PURCHASERS AND CREDITORS.—

(a) As to real estate.—As against purchasers and creditors of such owner without notice, such lien shall be acquired upon real estate only from the time of the record in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of the county where the real estate lies of a notice of such lien. Such notice shall contain a statement of the amount claimed, a description of the property upon which the lien is claimed, and a notice of the intention to hold a lien for the said amount, and shall be verified by the oath of the lienor or his agent. It shall be filed only after the labor has been entirely performed and the materials entirely furnished.

No such notice of a perfected lien shall be effectual against creditors or purchasers of the owner without notice unless it be filed within three months after the entire performance of the labor or the entire furnishing of the material.

(b) As to personal property.—There shall be no lien upon personal property as against purchasers and creditors without notice, unless the person claiming the lien be in possession of the property upon which the lien is claimed, in which case the lien as against creditors and purchasers without notice shall continue so long as the possession continues, but not for a period longer than three months after the performance of the labor or the furnishing of the material.

History.—§1742 RS 1892; §1, ch. 4582, 1897; §§8, 9, 11, ch. 5143, 1903; GS 2210; RGS 3517; CGL 5380.

85.26 Acquisition of liens by persons not in privity with the owner.—

(1) AS AGAINST THE OWNER.—A person entitled to acquire a lien, not in privity with the owner, as aforesaid, shall acquire a lien upon such owner's real or personal property as against him, and persons claiming through his death, and purchasers and creditors with notice, by the delivery to him or his agent, of a written notice that the contractor or other person for whom the labor has been performed, or the materials furnished, is indebted to the person performing the labor or furnishing the materials in the sum stated in the notice; but if a person who is performing or is about to perform, by himself or others, labor, or is furnishing or is about to furnish materials shall so desire, he may deliver to the owner, or his agent, a written cautionary notice that he will do certain work, or will furnish certain materials, or both. A lien shall exist from the time of the service of the notice for the amount unpaid on the contract of and by the owner to the contractor or the person for whom the work was done or the material furnished.

Such service shall also create a personal liability against the owner of the property in favor of the lienor giving such notice for the amount due him as aforesaid, but not to a greater extent than the amount of such original contract.

(2) AS AGAINST PURCHASERS AND CREDITORS.—

(a) Upon real estate.—As against purchasers and creditors of such owners without notice, such liens against real estate shall be acquired from the time of the recording (subsequent to the service of the notice provided for in subsection (1) of this section) in the office of the clerk of the court, in the county, of a notice of lien similar to that provided by §85.25. Any purchaser or creditor whose title, interest, lien or claim in or to the property shall be created or shall arise while the construction or repair of such property as aforesaid is in progress, shall be deemed and held to be a purchaser or creditor with notice.

(b) Upon personal property.—There shall be no lien upon personal property as against creditors and purchasers without notice, except under the circumstances and for the time prescribed in §85.25, and for the amount of indebtedness due to the lienor at the time of the service of the notice provided for by subsection (1) of this section.

History.—§1743 RS 1892; §2, ch. 4582, 1897; §§1, 15, ch. 5143, 1903; GS 2211; RGS 3518; CGL 5381.

85.27 Release of lien by filing bond.—Any lienor may release his property from any lien claimed thereon under this chapter by filing with the clerk of the circuit court a bond with two good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the clerk, payable to the person claiming the lien in double the sum claimed, and conditioned for the payment of any judgment which may be recovered on said lien, with costs.

History.—§8, ch. 1632, 1868; RS 1749; §19, ch. 5143, 1903; GS 2225; RGS 3532; CGL 5396.

85.28 Liens of owners, operators or keepers of camps; ejection of occupants.—Liens prior in dignity to all others except liens for unpaid purchase price shall exist in favor of owners, operators, or keepers of tourist camps or trailer camps for rent owing by and for money or other property advanced to any occupant thereof upon the goods, chattels or other personal property of the occupant of such camp. Upon the nonpayment of such sums in accordance with the rules of such camps, or for failure to observe any provision of this law or the rules and regulations prescribed by the state board of health, the owner, operator or keeper thereof may instantly eject such occupant therefrom; the liens created in favor of owners, operators, or keepers of tourist camps or trailer camps may be enforced in the same manner as is now or may hereafter be provided by law for the enforcement of liens in favor of keepers of hotels and boarding houses. Nothing in this section, however, shall prevent owners or operators of tourist camps or trailer camps from enforcing any claims for rent under and in the manner provided by landlord and tenant acts of this state.

PART II—FACTOR'S LIENS

85.29 Definitions.

85.30 Notice; filing with secretary of state.

85.31 Duration; satisfaction.

85.32 Filing certificate of satisfaction.

85.29 Definitions.—Whenever used in this law, the following terms shall have the meaning herein ascribed to them:

85.33 Filing fees.

85.34 Exempt transactions.

85.35 Recordation laws; election.

(1) Merchandise shall mean materials, goods in process, and finished goods intended for sale, whether or not requiring further manufacturing or processing, but not include machinery, equipment, or trade fixtures of the borrower;

(2) Factor and factors shall mean persons, firms, banks, and corporations, and their successors in interest, who advance money on the security of merchandise, whether or not they are employed to sell such merchandise;

(3) Borrower shall mean the owner of merchandise, or his agent, who creates a lien in favor of a factor, but shall not include mercantile establishments selling at retail.

History.—§1, ch. 59-350.

85.30 Notice; filing with a secretary of state.—

(1) If so provided by a written agreement with the borrower, a factor shall have a continuing general lien upon such merchandise of the borrower as is from time to time after the execution of said written agreement designated in one or more separate written statements dated and signed by the borrower and delivered to the factor, and upon any accounts receivable or other proceeds resulting from the sale or other disposition of any such merchandise, without such merchandise being taken into the constructive or actual possession or custody of the factor or of a third person for the account of the factor, and such lien shall secure the factor for all his loans and advances to or for the account of the borrower, together with interest thereon, and also for the commissions, obligations, indebtedness, charges, and expenses properly chargeable against or due from said borrower, and for the amounts due or owing upon any notes or other obligations given to or received by the factor for or upon account of any such loans or advances, interest, commissions, obligations, indebtedness, charges, and expenses. Such lien shall be valid from the time of filing the notice hereinafter referred to, whether such merchandise shall be in existence at the time of the execution of the written agreement providing for the creation of the lien or at the time of filing such notice or shall come into existence subsequently thereto or shall subsequently thereto be acquired by the borrower: Provided, that a notice of the lien is filed stating:

(a) The name of the factor; the name under which the factor does business, if an assumed name; the principal place of business of the factor within the state, or, if he has no place of business within the state, his principal place of business outside the state; and, if the factor is a partnership or association, the names of the partners, and if a corporation, the state under which laws it was organized.

(b) The name and address of the borrower; the name under which the borrower does business, if an assumed name, the principal place of business of the borrower within the state, or, if he has no place of business within the state, the principal place or places at which the merchandise shall be located or stored; and the interest of the borrower in the merchandise as far as known to the factor.

(c) The general character of merchandise subject to the lien, or which may become subject thereto, and the period of time, whether definite or indefinite, during which such loans or advances may be made under the terms of the written agreement providing for such loans or advances and for such lien.

(2) Such notice must be signed by the borrower and the factor and must be filed in the office of the secretary of state. The secretary of state shall cause each notice of lien filed to be marked with a consecutive file number and with the date and hour of filing, to be kept in a separate file, and to be noted and indexed in a suitable index, arranged according to the name of the borrower and containing a notation of the borrower's chief place of business as given in the notice of lien. Amendments of the notice may be filed from time to time in the same manner to record any changes in the information contained in the original, subsequent, or amended notices. The secretary of state at the time of filing such notice, or amended notice or notices, shall upon request issue to the person filing the same a receipt in writing setting forth the filing data. No mistake or omissions of the secretary of state shall impair the lien.

History.—§§2, 3, ch. 59-350.

85.31 Duration; satisfaction.—Such notice may be filed at any time after the making of the agreement and shall be effectual from the time of filing as against all claims of unsecured creditors of the borrower and as against subsequent liens of creditors, except any common-law or statutory liens of laborers, mechanics or others subsequently attaching to such merchandise by reason of work or services rendered thereon, but this law shall not obligate the factor personally for any debt secured by such lien. When merchandise subject to the lien provided for by this law is sold in the ordinary course of the business of the borrower, such lien, whether or not the purchaser has knowledge of the existence thereof, shall terminate as to the merchandise so sold and shall attach without further act, writing or formality to any obligation and to any other proceeds of such sale in the hands of the borrower. Provided there is full compliance with the provisions of §§524.01-524.06, and unless the factor and the borrower shall agree otherwise, the delivery by the borrower to the factor of a written agreement or separate written statement as hereinbefore provided for designating the merchandise which will be subject to the lien shall operate as an assignment of the accounts receivable which will result from the sale or other disposition of such merchandise, with the same effect as if an assignment thereof by the borrower to the factor had been duly perfected immediately after such sale or other disposition.

History.—§4, ch. 59-350.

85.32 Filing certificate of satisfaction.—Upon the payment or satisfaction of the indebtedness secured by the lien provided for by this law, the factor or his legal representative, upon the request of any person interested in the said merchandise, shall sign a certificate setting forth such payment or satisfaction. The secretary of state shall, on receipt of such certificate, file the same in the file in which the original notice of lien was entered. All notices of lien shall be deemed to be and remain in full force and effect without further or other filing until the certificate of discharge hereinabove referred to shall have been filed with such filing office.

History.—§5, ch. 59-350.

85.33 Filing fees.—The fee for filing any notice of lien, any amendment thereof or certificate under this law shall be one dollar for the first page and seventy-five cents for each additional page.

History.—§6, ch. 59-350.

85.34 Exempt transactions.—This law shall not apply to transactions of bailment, pledge, or consignment of merchandise in the actual or constructive possession or custody of the factor, or in the actual or constructive possession or custody of a third person for the account of the factor, and in such transaction and in any transaction under which the factor shall not comply with the filing requirements of this law, the factor shall have such security interest or lien rights in the merchandise as shall accrue to the factor under the statutory and common law as it otherwise exists.

History.—§7, ch. 59-350.

85.35 Recordation laws; election.—As to any transactions falling within the provisions both of this law and of any other law requiring or permitting filing or recording, the factor shall not be required to comply with both, but by complying with the provisions of either, at the factor's election, the factor shall have the protection given by the provisions complied with. In the event, however, the factor shall claim a lien on proceeds in the form of accounts receivable, compliance must be made with the filing provisions of §§524.01-524.06.

History.—§8, ch. 59-350.

|--|--|

86.01 Enforcement by persons in privity with the owner.—All liens provided for by the foregoing chapters, either upon real or personal property, except where otherwise provided, shall be enforceable by person in privity with the owners as follows:

History.—§1744 RS 1892; §13, ch. 5143, 1903; GS 2212; RGS 3519; §1, ch. 12079, 1927; CGL 5382.

86.02 Retention of possession.—By a retention of possession for a period not exceeding three months of the property upon which the lien has attached, by the person entitled to such lien, if he were in such possession at the time the lien attached.

History.—§1744 RS 1892; §13, ch. 5143, 1903; GS 2212; RGS 3519; §1, ch. 12079, 1927; CGL 5382.

86.03 By suit in equity.—By a suit in equity; provided, however, that this shall be the exclusive remedy for the enforcement of claims and liens upon the separate statutory property of married women and against estates by the entireties.

History.—§1744 RS 1892; §13, ch. 5143, 1903; GS 2212; RGS 3519; §1, ch. 12079, 1927; CGL 5382; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

86.04 Ordinary suit at law.—By an ordinary suit at law and the levy of the execution obtained therein on the property on which the lien is held.

History.—§1744 RS 1892; §13, ch. 5143, 1903; GS 2212; RGS 3519; §1, ch. 12079, 1927; CGL 5382.

86.05 Special proceeding at law.—By a suit at law in which the complaint shall state the manner in which the lien arose, the amount for which the lien is held, the description of the property, and a prayer that the property be sold to satisfy the lien. In such suit the judgment for the plaintiff shall be a personal judgment against the defendant as well as declare the lien upon the property describing it and shall direct execution against such property, as well as against the property generally of the defendant.

History.—§1744 RS 1892; §13, ch. 5143, 1903; GS 2212; RGS 3519; §1, ch. 12079, 1927; CGL 5382; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

86.06 Summary proceeding.—By any person claiming a lien for labor performed, his legal representative, agent or assign making or filing in the court having jurisdiction of the amount of the lien claimed, a petition under oath describing the premises or property on which a lien is claimed and stating the facts which authorize or create the lien.

(1) PETITION FOR ENFORCEMENT OF LIEN.—Upon filing such petition the clerk of such court, or judge thereof, shall issue a summons describing the premises or property on which the lien is claimed, the amount of such lien and requiring the person against whom such lien is claimed forthwith to pay such claim or to show cause before such court within five days why such claim should not be paid. Such summons shall be served forthwith by the sheriff of the county in the manner providing for serving of summons ad respondendum.

(2) DEFENDANT MAY MOVE TO QUASH OR FILE TRAVERSE; ISSUES TRIED BY JURY.—The person against whom such lien is claimed or against whom summons is directed, or any other person claiming any interest in the property described in the petition and summons, at or before the time appointed in said summons, may file a motion to quash the same or may file an affidavit denying the facts on which such summons was issued, or any of such facts, and such matters therein controverted shall constitute without further pleadings the issue to be tried; and such issues may be tried by jury if either of the parties so desires, otherwise such issues shall be tried by the judge of said court.

(3) PARTIES DEMANDING JURY TO DEPOSIT COSTS.—Should either party desire such issue to be tried by jury, such party shall, on or before the return day of such summons, file a notice in writing with the clerk of said court, or the judge thereof, and shall, at the same time, deposit sufficient money to pay jury fees, provided that if such issue be tried in regular term, and trial by jury be so desired, it shall be tried by the regularly empaneled jury for such term, and, in such case no deposit shall be required.

(4) DEFAULT AND JUDGMENT; HEARING ON MOTION TO QUASH.—If, on the day appointed for such summons, no such affidavit be filed, or motion to quash said writ be made, the clerk of such court, or the judge thereof, on application of the petitioner, shall cause a default to be issued against the defendant, and thereafter the files of such case shall be produced before the judge of said court, and, if he shall find the proceedings regular, judgment of the court shall be entered that the petitioner recover the amount of the lien claimed and set out in the petition, together with attorney's fee of fifteen per cent of amount claimed in petition and cost of court. If motion to quash such writ be filed it shall be heard by the judge on the day following the return day of such writ, unless such hearing be continued by the judge, upon good cause shown, until some time definite, which time shall not be more than five days from the date of the return of the summons. Upon the overruling of such motion to quash, judgment shall be entered immediately as in case of default, unless the party defendant has on or before the return day mentioned in the summons, filed his affidavit denying the facts on which the summons was issued, or any of such facts. In all actions brought under this subsection the judgment for the plaintiff shall be a personal judgment against the defendant as well as declare the lien upon the property, describing it, and shall direct execution against such property, as well as against the property generally of the defendant.

(5) SETTING DOWN CASE FOR TRIAL; JURY SUMMONED; JURORS.—Whenever affidavit shall be filed by defendant within the time herein provided, the judge of said court shall make an order setting such case down for trial, giving only such time as is reasonably necessary to summons a jury unless a term of said court shall be in session or shall convene in five days or less, in which case the issue so made shall be tried by the jury in attendance on such regular term, providing that in no case shall the time for the trial of the issues raised by the pleadings be continued for a period of more than five days from the date of the return of the summons, as hereinbefore provided, and in case the judge before whom such matter is pending is absent, sick or in any other way disqualified or prevented from acting on such petition, the judge of the circuit court or the county court, as the case may be, shall have jurisdiction of such cause of action or the parties may agree on a regular practicing attorney residing in the county where the petition is filed, who shall upon the filing of a written stipulation have full jurisdiction to try such issues, issue such orders and sign such papers as are necessary for the completion of the files of such cause in all respects, the same as if he were the judge of such court. If such cause is not heard at a regular term, and a jury is demanded, the judge of said court shall, at the time of setting such cause for trial, direct that a jury be empaneled for such purpose. Such jury shall consist of six persons having the qualifications of jurors serving in the court having jurisdiction of the amount claimed in the petition and they shall receive the same fee as paid to jurors in the justice of the peace court.

(6) JUDGMENT ON TRIAL OF ISSUES; GRANTING NEW TRIAL, ETC.—If, on the trial of such issues, whether by judge or jury, the issues be found for the petitioner, unless new trial be granted, judgment shall be entered thereon by the court for the amount found by such judge or jury to be due the petitioner, together with fifteen per cent attorney's fee and the cost of the court, and the judgment shall be a prior lien on the premises or property described in the petition over all other liens accruing or that may be filed subsequent to the day the lien for such labor performed accrued but if on the trial of such issues, they be found for the defendant, unless new trial be granted, judgment shall be entered dismissing such proceedings; and new trial shall not be granted either party unless motion therefor be made within two days after verdict; and, if new trial be granted, the same shall be brought on for hearing within two days thereafter, unless further time be granted by the court for sufficient reason.

(7) EXECUTION.—Upon the entry of a judgment, as hereinbefore provided, the petitioner may sue out his writ of execution, as in the case of other executions on judgments of suits at law.

(8) APPEALS; TIME; SUPERSEDEAS; COSTS; BONDS.—Appeals may be taken from any final judgment entered by virtue of proceedings had under this section in the manner as provided by the Florida appellate rules for appeal from any judgment of the court having jurisdiction of the amount of lien claimed in the petition filed under this section; provided, however, that such appeal must be taken out within ten days from the rendition of such judgment, and provided further that before such appeal be issued the party suing out the same shall first pay all costs which shall have accrued and enter into a good and sufficient bond with two sureties, in a sum equal double the amount of such judgment, conditioned to pay the full amount of such judgment and the costs of such appeal in case such appeal be dismissed or judgment be affirmed.

History.—§1744 RS 1892; §13, ch. 5143, 1903; GS 2212; RGS 3519; §1, ch. 12079, 1927; CGL 5382; (8) §2, ch. 29737, 1955; (8) §15, ch. 63-559.
cf.—Ch. 55, judgments and executions.

86.07 Enforcement by persons not in privity with the owner.—A person not in privity with the owner may resort to any of the remedies prescribed by §§86.02, 86.03, 86.04 and 86.06; but in every suit at law or in chancery the contractor or the person for whom the labor was performed or the materials furnished must be made a party defendant to the suit; and the judgment or decree may provide for the recovery from the contractor or other person as aforesaid of the amount due by him, and from the owner of the amount due by him to the contractor or other person as aforesaid, at the time of the service of the notice provided for by §85.26, as well as decree and enforce the lien against the property of such owner for such amount; but only one satisfaction of such judgment shall be had. And although no lien be found to exist and no judgment may be rendered against the owner, judgment may be rendered against the contractor or other person for whom the labor was performed or the materials furnished for the amount due by him. If personal service in such suit cannot be made upon any defendant, constructive service may be made in the manner and under the rules prescribed for such service in chancery cases.

86.08 Remedies against personal property only; all lienors.—

(1) BY INJUNCTION AND ATTACHMENT.—If any person entitled to a lien under chapter 85 upon personal property shall have reason to believe that the same is about to be removed from the county in which it may be, he may enjoin the removal of the same, in the manner provided for enjoining the removal of property subject to a mortgage or, if the lien shall have been perfected, may attach the same in the manner provided for attachment in aid of foreclosure of mortgages.

(2) BY SALE WITHOUT JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS.—Whenever any person shall entrust to any mechanic or laborer materials with which to construct, alter or repair any article of value, or any article of value to be altered or repaired, such mechanic, or laborer, if such article be completed and not taken away, and the fair and reasonable charges not paid, may, after three months from the time such charges become due, sell the same, and such sale shall be at public auction for cash; but before any such sale such mechanic or laborer shall give public notice of the time and place thereof, by advertisements posted for ten days in three public places in the county, one of which shall be at the court house, and another in some conspicuous part of his shop or place of business, and the proceeds of such sale, after payment of charges for construction or repair, with the cost of such sale, shall, if the owner be absent, be deposited with the clerk of the circuit court for such county, where the same shall remain, subject to the order of the person legally entitled thereto, and the clerk shall be entitled to receive from all proceeds so deposited with him five per cent on such proceeds for the care and disbursement thereof; provided that any person claiming a lien under the provisions of §85.16, may enforce the same by sale without judicial proceedings in the manner set forth herein after one month after the time the charges for which a lien is claimed become due.

(3) MOTOR VEHICLES.—Any motor vehicle which is stored in a garage or storage space subject to instructions by any law enforcement agency and which remains unclaimed or for which reasonable towing and/or storage charges remain unpaid, may after seventy-five days from the time such vehicle is deposited in the garage or storage space, be sold by the owner or operator of such garage or storage space, and such sale shall be at public auction for cash. Notice of such sale shall be given to the person whose name the vehicle is registered in and to all persons claiming a lien on such vehicle as shown on the records of the state motor vehicle commission of this state or with the corresponding agencies in any other state. Said notices shall be by registered or certified mail, addressed to the owner of the vehicle and the person having a recorded lien on the vehicle at the address shown on the records of the registering agency and shall be mailed not less than fifteen days prior to the date of the sale. If, after diligent search and inquiry, the name and address of the registered owner and/or the owner of the recorded lien cannot be ascertained, the requirements of notice by mail may be dispensed with. In addition to the notice by mail, public notice of the time and place of such sale shall be made by publishing a notice thereof one time, at least ten days prior to the date of the sale, in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the sale is to be held or by advertisements posted for ten days in three public places in the county, one of which shall be at the court house, and another in some conspicuous part of the garage or storehouse, and the proceeds of such sale, after payment of reasonable towing and storage charges, and the cost of such sale, shall, if the owner be absent, be deposited with the clerk of the circuit court for such county, where the same shall remain, subject to the order of the person legally entitled thereto, and the clerk shall be entitled to receive from all proceeds so deposited with him five per cent on such proceeds for the care and disbursement thereof. The certificate of title issued under this law shall be discharged of all liens except those registered with the motor vehicle commissioner of the state.

History.—§1745 RS 1892; GS 2214; RGS 3521; CGL 5384; §2, ch. 25048, 1949; (3) n. §1, ch. 57-94.
cf.—§1.01(13) defines registered mail to include certified mail with return receipt requested.

86.09 Courts open.—The courts of this state shall always be open to hear and determine causes arising under this law.

History.—§12, ch. 4955, 1901; GS 2221; RGS 3528; CGL 5891.

86.10 Joinder of suits.—All persons who may have liens, as provided by chapters 84 and 85, may join together in suits to enforce their respective liens.

History.—§14, ch. 5143, 1903; GS 2224; RGS 3531; CGL 5394.

86.11 Time of bringing suit.—When there has been no record of a notice of lien, suit to enforce lien (if it exists without such record) must be brought within twelve months from the performance of the work or the furnishing of the materials, and if there has been such record, the suit must be brought within twelve months from the time of such record.

History.—§1748 RS 1892; §18, ch. 5143, 1903; GS 2223; RGS 3530; CGL 5393.

86.12 Process, when returnable; answers, when filed.—All process except in circuit court shall be returned to any date fixed by the court. The answers of defendants shall be filed upon return date of the writ.

History.—§2222 GS 1906; RGS 3529; CGL 5392; §17, ch. 29737, 1955.

86.13 Time of trials.—In any of the suits at law provided for in §§86.04 and 86.05, a trial may be had at any time after five days from the filing of the pleas of the defendant. Upon the written request of either party, the judge of the court in which the suit is pending shall fix the day of such trial, and upon like request, order the executive officer of his court to summons from the body of the county a jury to try the issues.

History.—§1746 RS 1892; GS 2215; RGS 3522; CGL 5385.

86.14 Execution to issue.—After judgment has been obtained under the provisions of this chapter, if the amount thereof and all costs be not paid within five days therefrom, execution shall immediately be issued to the sheriff of the county, and the property so attached or levied upon shall be advertised and sold at the regular sales day as now provided by law.

History.—§10, ch. 4955, 1901; GS 2219; RGS 3526; CGL 5389.

86.15 Failure to perform duty.—The sheriff or other officer who shall fail or refuse to properly execute any process directed to him under and in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, shall be liable for damages in double the amount claimed in such process, to the person or persons who may be injured by such failure or refusal to execute the same.

History.—§11, ch. 4955, 1901; GS 2220; RGS 3527; CGL 5890.

CHAPTER 87

DECLARATORY DECREES, JUDGMENTS AND ORDERS

- 87.01 Scope; jurisdiction of circuit court.
 87.02 Power to construe, etc.
 87.03 Before breach.
 87.04 Suits by executors, administrators, trustees, etc.
 87.05 Enumeration not exclusive.
 87.06 Review by appeal, etc.

87.01 Scope; jurisdiction of circuit court.—The circuit courts of the state are hereby invested with authority and original jurisdiction and shall have the power upon a filed complaint, to declare rights, status and other equitable or legal relations whether or not further relief is or could be claimed or prayed. No action or procedure shall be open to objection on the ground that a declaratory decree, judgment or order is prayed for. The circuit court's declaration may be either affirmative or negative in form and effect and such circuit court declaration shall have the force and effect of a final decree, judgment or order. The circuit courts may render declaratory decrees, judgments or orders as to the existence, or nonexistence:

(1) Of any immunity, power, privilege or right; or

(2) Of any fact upon which the existence or nonexistence of such immunity, power, privilege or right does or may depend, whether such immunity, power, privilege or right now exists or will arise in the future. Any person seeking a declaratory decree, judgment or order may, in addition to praying for a circuit court declaration, also pray for additional, alternative, coercive, subsequent or supplemental relief in the same action.

History.—§1, ch. 21820, 1943; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

87.02 Power to construe, etc.—Any person claiming to be interested or who may be in doubt as to his rights under a deed, will, contract or other article, memorandum or instrument in writing or whose rights, status or other equitable or legal relations are affected by a statute, or any regulation made under statutory authority, or by municipal ordinance, contract, deed, will, franchise, or other article, memorandum or instrument in writing may have determined any question of construction or validity arising under such statute, regulation, municipal ordinance, contract, deed, will, franchise, or other article, memorandum or instrument in writing, or any part thereof, and obtain a declaration of rights, status or other equitable or legal relations thereunder.

History.—§2, ch. 21820, 1943.

87.03 Before breach.—A contract may be construed either before or after there has been a breach thereof.

History.—§3, ch. 21820, 1943.

87.04 Suits by executors, administrators, trustees, etc.—Any person interested as or through an executor, administrator, trustee, guardian, or other fiduciary, creditor, devisee,

- 87.07 Supplemental relief.
 87.08 Jury trials.
 87.09 Costs.
 87.10 Parties.
 87.11 Construction of law.
 87.12 Adequate remedy does not preclude.
 87.13 "Person" defined.

legatee, heir, next of kin, or cestui que trust, in the administration of a trust, or of the estate of a decedent, an infant, lunatic, or insolvent, may have a declaration of rights or equitable or legal relations in respect thereto:

(1) To ascertain any class of creditors, devisees, legatees, heirs, next of kin, or others; or

(2) To direct the executor, administrator, or trustee to abstain from doing any particular act in his fiduciary capacity; or

(3) To determine any question arising, in the administration of the estate or trust, including questions of construction of wills and other writings.

History.—§4, ch. 21820, 1943.

87.05 Enumeration not exclusive.—The enumeration in §§87.02, 87.03 and 87.04 does not limit or restrict the exercise of the general powers conferred in §87.01, in any proceeding where declaratory relief is sought; also, any declaratory decree, judgment or order given or made in pursuance of this chapter may be given or made by way of anticipation with respect to any act not yet done or any event which has not yet happened, and in such case the said decree, judgment or order shall have the same binding effect with respect to that future act or event, and the rights or liability to arise therefrom, as if that act or event had already been done or had already happened before the said decree, judgment or order was given or made.

History.—§5, ch. 21820, 1943.

87.06 Review by appeal, etc.—All decrees, judgments or orders under this chapter may be appealed to or reviewed by the appropriate district court of appeal in the manner and within the time prescribed by the Florida appellate rules, unless appeal to the supreme court is authorized by Art. V of the state constitution.

History.—§6, ch. 21820, 1943; §16, ch. 63-559.

87.07 Supplemental relief.—Further relief based on a declaratory decree, judgment or order may be granted whenever necessary or proper. The application therefor shall be by petition to the circuit court having jurisdiction to grant the relief. If the application be deemed sufficient, the circuit court shall, on reasonable notice, require any adverse party whose rights have been adjudicated by the declaratory decree, judgment or order, to show cause why further relief should not be granted forthwith.

History.—§7, ch. 21820, 1943.

87.08 Jury trials.—When a proceeding under this chapter involves the determination of an issue of fact, such issue may be tried and determined in the same manner as issues of fact are tried and determined in other civil actions in the circuit court in which the proceeding is pending. In order to settle questions of fact necessary to be determined before judgment can be rendered, the circuit court may direct their submission to a jury. When a declaration of right or the granting of further relief based thereon shall involve the determination of issues of fact triable by a jury, such issues may be submitted to a jury in the form of interrogatories, with proper instructions by the court, whether a general verdict be required or not. Neither this section nor any other section of this chapter shall be construed as requiring a jury to determine issues of fact in equity cases.

History.—§8, ch. 21820, 1943.

87.09 Costs.—In any proceeding under this chapter, the court may make such award of costs as in its sound judicial discretion may seem equitable and just.

History.—§9, ch. 21820, 1943.

87.10 Parties.—When declaratory relief is sought, all persons may be made parties who have or claim any interest which would be affected by the declaration, and no declaration shall prejudice the rights of persons not parties to the proceedings. In any proceeding which involves the validity of a county or municipal charter, ordinance or franchise, such county or municipality shall be made a party, and shall be entitled to be heard, and if the statute, charter, ordinance or franchise is alleged to be unconstitutional, the attorney general of the state or the state attorney of the judicial circuit in which the action is pending shall also be served with a copy of the proceedings and be entitled to be heard.

History.—§10, ch. 21820, 1943; §1, ch. 59-440.

87.11 Construction of law.—This chapter is declared to be substantive and remedial; its purpose is to settle and to afford relief from insecurity and uncertainty with respect to rights, status and other equitable or legal relations; and is to be liberally administered and construed.

History.—§11, ch. 21820, 1943.

87.12 Adequate remedy does not preclude.—The existence of another adequate remedy shall not preclude a decree, judgment or order for declaratory relief. The circuit court may order a speedy hearing of an action for a declaratory decree, judgment or order and may advance it on the calendar. When a suit for declaratory decree is filed as provided in this chapter the court shall have power to give as full and complete equitable relief as it would have had if such proceeding had been instituted as a suit in equity.

History.—§12, ch. 21820, 1943; §2, ch. 29737, 1955.

87.13 "Person" defined.—The word "person" wherever used in this chapter shall be construed to mean any person, partnership, joint stock company, unincorporated association or society, or municipal or other corporation of any character whatsoever.

History.—§13, ch. 21820, 1943.

CHAPTER 88

UNIFORM RECIPROCAL ENFORCEMENT OF SUPPORT LAW

- 88.011 Short title.
- 88.021 Purposes.
- 88.031 Definitions.
- 88.041 Remedies additional to those now existing.
- 88.051 Extent of duties of support.
- 88.061 Interstate rendition.
- 88.071 Relief from the above provisions.
- 88.081 Choice of law.
- 88.091 Remedies of a state or political subdivision thereof furnishing support.
- 88.101 How duties of support are enforced.

- 88.151 Costs and fees.
- 88.161 Jurisdiction by arrest.
- 88.171 State information agency.
- 88.181 Duty of the court of this state as responding state.
- 88.191 Further duty of responding court.

88.011 Short title.—This chapter may be cited as the “uniform reciprocal enforcement of support law.”

History.—§1, ch. 29901, 1955.

88.021 Purposes.—The purposes of this chapter are to improve and extend by reciprocal legislation the enforcement of duties of support and to make uniform the law with respect thereto.

History.—§2, ch. 29901, 1955.

88.031 Definitions.—As used in this chapter unless the context requires otherwise:

(1) State includes any state, territory or possession of the United States and the District of Columbia in which this or a substantially similar reciprocal law has been enacted.

(2) Initiating state means any state in which a proceeding pursuant to this or a substantially similar reciprocal law is commenced.

(3) Responding state means any state in which any proceeding pursuant to the proceeding in the initiating state is or may be commenced.

(4) Court means the circuit court of this state and when the context requires, means the court of any other state as defined in a substantially similar reciprocal law.

(5) Law includes both common and statute law.

(6) Duty of support includes any duty of support imposed or imposable by law, or by any court order, decree or judgment, whether interlocutory or final, whether incidental to a proceeding for divorce, judicial separation, separate maintenance or otherwise.

(7) Obligor means any person owing a duty of support.

(8) Oblige means any person to whom a duty of support is owed.

History.—§3, ch. 29901, 1955.

- 88.201 Procedure.
- 88.211 Order of support.
- 88.221 Responding state to transmit copies to initiating state.
- 88.231 Additional powers of court.
- 88.241 Additional duties of the court of this state when acting as a responding state.
- 88.251 Additional duty of the court of this state when acting as an initiating state.
- 88.261 Evidence of husband and wife.
- 88.271 Hearings and rules of evidence.
- 88.281 Application of payments.
- 88.291 Effect of participation in proceeding.
- 88.301 Repealer.
- 88.311 Uniformity of interpretation.
- 88.321 Additional remedies.
- 88.331 Registration.
- 88.341 Registry of foreign support orders.
- 88.351 Petition for registration.
- 88.361 Jurisdiction and procedure.
- 88.371 Effect and enforcement.

88.041 Remedies additional to those now existing.—The remedies herein provided are in addition to and not in substitution for any other remedies.

History.—§4, ch. 29901, 1955.

88.051 Extent of duties of support.—Duties of support arising under the law of this state, when applicable under §88.081, bind the obligor, present in this state, regardless of the presence or residence of the obligee.

History.—§5, ch. 29901, 1955.

88.061 Interstate rendition.—The governor of this state may demand from the governor of any other state the surrender of any person found in such other state who is charged in this state with the crime of failing to provide for the support of any person in this state and may surrender on demand by the governor of any other state any person found in this state who is charged in such other state with the crime of failing to provide for the support of a person in such other state. The provisions for extradition of criminals not inconsistent herewith shall apply to any such demand although the person whose surrender is demanded was not in the demanding state at the time of the commission of the crime and although he had not fled therefrom. Neither the demand, the oath nor any proceedings for extradition pursuant to this section need state or show that the person whose surrender is demanded has fled from justice, or at the time of the commission of the crime was in the demanding or other state.

History.—§6, ch. 29901, 1955.

cf.—§941.02 Fugitive from justice; duty of governor.

88.071 Relief from the above provisions.—Any obligor contemplated by §88.061 who submits to the jurisdiction of the court of such other state and complies with the court's order of support, shall be relieved of extradition for desertion or nonsupport entered in the courts of this state during the period of such compliance.

History.—§7, ch. 29901, 1955.

88.081 Choice of law.—Duties of support applicable under this chapter are those imposed or impossible under the laws of any state where the obligor was present during the period for which support is sought. The obligor is presumed to have been present in the responding state during the period for which support is sought until otherwise shown.

History.—§8, ch. 29901, 1955.

88.091 Remedies of a state or political subdivision thereof furnishing support.—Whenever the state or a political subdivision thereof furnishes support to an obligee, it has the same right to invoke the provisions hereof as the obligee to whom the support was furnished for the purpose of securing reimbursement of expenditures so made and of obtaining continuing support.

History.—§9, ch. 29901, 1955.

88.101 How duties of support are enforced.—All duties of support are enforceable by complaint irrespective of relationship between the obligor and obligee. Jurisdiction of all proceedings hereunder shall be vested in the circuit court.

History.—§10, ch. 29901, 1955.

88.111 Contents of complaint for support.—The complaint shall be verified and shall state the name and, so far as known to the plaintiff, the address and circumstances of the defendant and his dependents for whom support is sought and all other pertinent information. The plaintiff may include in or attach to the complaint any information which may help in locating or identifying the defendant including, but without limitation by enumeration, a photograph of the defendant, a description of any distinguishing marks of his person, other names and aliases by which he has been or is known, the name of his employer, his fingerprints, or social security number.

History.—§11, ch. 29901, 1955.

88.121 Official to represent plaintiff in proceeding initiated in this state.—The state attorney, upon the request of the court, or of the state department of public welfare, or of the state welfare director, or of the district board of public welfare, shall represent the plaintiff in any proceeding initiated in this state under this chapter.

History.—§12, ch. 29901, 1955.

88.131 Petition for a minor.—A complaint on behalf of a minor obligee may be brought by a person having legal custody of the minor without appointment as guardian ad litem.

History.—§13, ch. 29901, 1955.

88.141 Duty of court of this state as initiating state.—If the court of this state acting as an initiating state finds that the petition sets forth facts from which it may be determined that the defendant owes a duty of support and that a court of the responding state may obtain jurisdiction of the defendant or his property, it shall so certify and shall cause three copies of the complaint, its certificate and this chapter to be transmitted to the court in the responding state. If the name and address of such court is unknown and the responding state has an information agency comparable to that established in the initiating state it shall cause such copies to be transmitted to the state information agency or other proper official of the responding state, with a request that it forward them to the proper court, and that the court of the responding state acknowledge their receipt to the court of the initiating state.

History.—§14, ch. 29901, 1955.

88.151 Costs and fees.—

(1) Where the action is brought by or through a state, or an agency thereof, no clerk's fees shall be required of it, but if an order be entered requiring the defendant to pay the costs, as hereinafter authorized, such order shall be deemed to include the clerk's fees for services rendered in an action so brought.

(2) Regardless of whether this state is the initiating state or the responding state, an individual plaintiff shall be entitled to have performed in this state the necessary services of the clerk, sheriff and court reporter in any proceedings under this chapter including contempt proceedings, without paying any costs or fees or giving any security therefor.

(3) If this state be the responding state and if the court enters an order requiring the defendant to furnish support or reimbursement therefor, the court may also by order or orders require that the defendant pay all costs, charges and fees in the proceedings incurred in this state, including costs, charges and fees incurred in contempt proceedings. If no order requiring the payment of the costs by the defendant is made under this subsection, or if such an order is made and the court thereafter finds that compliance therewith cannot or should not be compelled, the court may in its discretion order that the costs, charges and fees, except clerk's fees incurred in an action brought by or through the state or an agency thereof, to be paid by the county.

(4) If this state be the initiating state the court may in its discretion order that the costs, charges and fees incurred in this state be paid by the county.

History.—§15, ch. 29901, 1955; (1), (2), (4) §1, ch. 57-405.

88.161 Jurisdiction by arrest.—When the court of this state, acting either as an initiating or responding state, has reason to believe that the defendant may flee the jurisdiction it may as an initiating state request in its certificate that the court of the responding state obtain the body of the defendant by appropriate process if that be permissible under the law of the responding state; or as a responding state, obtain the body of the defendant by appropriate process.

History.—§16, ch. 29901, 1955.

88.171 State information agency.—The state department of public welfare is hereby designated as the state information agency under this chapter, and it shall be its duty:

(1) To compile a list of the courts and their addresses in this state having jurisdiction under this chapter and transmit the same to the state information agency of every other state which has adopted this or a substantially similar law.

(2) To maintain a register of such lists received from other states and to transmit copies thereof as soon as possible after receipt to every court in this state having jurisdiction under this chapter.

History.—§17, ch. 29901, 1955.

88.181 Duty of the court of this state as responding state.—When the court of this state, acting as a responding state, receives from the court of an initiating state the aforesaid copies, it shall docket the cause, notify the state attorney, whose duty it shall be to carry on the proceedings, set a time and place for a hearing, and take such action as is necessary in accordance with the laws of this state to obtain jurisdiction.

History.—§18, ch. 29901, 1955.

88.191 Further duty of responding court.—If a court of this state, acting as a responding state, is unable to obtain jurisdiction of the defendant or his property due to inaccuracies or inadequacies in the complaint or otherwise, the court shall communicate this fact to the court in the initiating state, shall on its own initiative use all means at its disposal to trace the defendant or his property, and shall hold the case pending the receipt of more accurate information or an amended complaint from the court in the initiating state.

History.—§19, ch. 29901, 1955.

88.201 Procedure.—The court shall conduct proceedings under this chapter in the manner prescribed by law for an action for the enforcement of the type of duty of support claimed.

History.—§20, ch. 29901, 1955.

88.211 Order of support.—If the court of the responding state finds a duty of support, it may order the defendant to furnish support or reimbursement therefor and subject the property of the defendant to such order.

History.—§21, ch. 29901, 1955.

88.221 Responding state to transmit copies to initiating state.—The court of this state when acting as a responding state shall cause to be transmitted to the court of the initiating state a copy of all orders of support or for reimbursement therefor.

History.—§22, ch. 29901, 1955.

88.231 Additional powers of court.—In addition to the foregoing powers, the court of this state when acting as the responding state has the power to subject the defendant to such terms and conditions as the court may deem proper to assure compliance with its orders and in particular:

(1) To require the defendant to furnish recognizance in the form of a cash deposit or bond of such character and in such amount as the court may deem proper to assure payment of any amount required to be paid by the defendant.

(2) To require the defendant to make at specified intervals to the clerk of the court or the obligee such payments as are specified by the Florida court and to report personally to such clerk at such times as may be deemed necessary.

(3) To punish the defendant who shall violate any order of the court to the same extent as is provided by law for contempt of the court in any other suit or proceeding cognizable by the court.

History.—§23, ch. 29901, 1955.

88.241 Additional duties of the court of this state when acting as a responding state.—The court of this state when acting as a responding state shall have the following duties which may be carried out through the clerk of the court:

(1) Upon the receipt of a payment made by the defendant pursuant to any order of the court or otherwise, to transmit the same forthwith to the court of the initiating state, and

(2) Upon request to furnish to the court of the initiating state a certified statement of all payments made by the defendant.

History.—§24, ch. 29901, 1955.

88.251 Additional duty of the court of this state when acting as an initiating state.—The court of this state when acting as an initiating state shall have the duty which may be carried out through the clerk of the court to receive and disburse forthwith all payments made by the defendant or transmitted by the court of the responding state.

History.—§25, ch. 29901, 1955.

88.261 Evidence of husband and wife.—Laws attaching a privilege against the disclosure of communications between husband and wife are inapplicable to proceedings under this chapter. Husband and wife are competent witnesses and may be compelled to testify to any relevant matter, including marriage and parentage.

History.—§26, ch. 29901, 1955.

88.271 Hearings and rules of evidence.—Hearings shall be conducted before the judge without a jury. They shall be conducted in such informal manner as will best conduce to the ends of justice, and the judge shall not be bound by the technical rules of evidence.

History.—§27, ch. 29901, 1955.

88.281 Application of payments.—Any order of support issued by a court of this state when acting as a responding state shall not supersede any previous order of support issued in a divorce or separate maintenance action, but the amounts for a particular period paid pursuant to either order shall be credited against amounts accruing or accrued for the same period under both.

History.—§28, ch. 29901, 1955.

88.291 Effect of participation in proceeding.—Participation in any proceedings under this chapter shall not confer upon any court jurisdiction of any of the parties thereto in any other proceeding.

History.—§29, ch. 29901, 1955.

88.301 Repealer.—Chapter 27996, laws of Florida, acts of 1953, (Former §§88.01-88.12), known as the "uniform support of dependents" law, is hereby repealed, except, however, that support actions heretofore commenced may be carried forward either under said law or under this uniform reciprocal enforcement of support law.

History.—§31, ch. 29901, 1955.

88.311 Uniformity of interpretation.—This chapter shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it.

History.—§32, ch. 29901, 1955.

88.321 Additional remedies.—If the duty of support is based on a foreign support order, the obligee has the additional remedies provided in §§88.331-88.371.

History.—§1, ch. 59-393.

88.331 Registration.—The obligee may register the foreign support order in a circuit court of this state in the manner, with the effect and for the purposes herein provided.

History.—§1, ch. 59-393.

88.341 Registry of foreign support orders.—The clerk of the circuit court shall maintain a registry of foreign support orders in which he shall record foreign support orders.

History.—§1, ch. 59-393.

88.351 Petition for registration.—The petition for registration shall be verified and shall set forth the amount remaining unpaid and a list of any other states in which the support order is registered and shall have attached to it a certified copy of the support order with all modifications thereof. The foreign support order is registered upon the filing of the complaint subject only to subsequent order of confirmation.

History.—§1, ch. 59-393.

88.361 Jurisdiction and procedure.—The procedure to obtain jurisdiction of the person or property of the obligor shall be as provided in civil cases. The obligor may assert any defense available to a defendant in an action on a foreign judgment. If the obligor defaults, the court shall enter an order confirming the registered support order and determining the amounts remaining unpaid. If the obligor appears and a hearing is held, the court shall adjudicate the issues including the amounts remaining unpaid.

History.—§1, ch. 59-393.

88.371 Effect and enforcement.—The support order as confirmed shall have the same effect and may be enforced as if originally entered in the court of this state. The procedures for the enforcement thereof shall be as in civil cases, including the power to punish the respondent for contempt as in the case of other orders for payment of alimony, maintenance or support entered in this state.

History.—§1, ch. 59-393.

90.01 Oaths, affidavits and acknowledgments; who may take or administer; requirements.—

(1) IN THIS STATE.—Oaths, affidavits and acknowledgments required or authorized under the laws of this state (except oaths to jurors and witnesses in court and such other oaths, affidavits and acknowledgments as are required by law to be taken or administered by or before particular officers), may be taken or administered by or before any judge, clerk or deputy clerk of any court of record within this state, including federal courts, or before any United States commissioner, any justice of the peace or any notary public within this state. The jurat, or certificate of proof or acknowledgment, shall be authenticated by the signature and official seal of such officer or person taking or administering the same; provided, however, when taken or administered before any judge, clerk or deputy clerk of a court of record, the seal of such court may be affixed as the seal of such officer or person.

(2) IN OTHER STATES, TERRITORIES AND DISTRICTS OF THE UNITED STATES.—Oaths, affidavits and acknowledgments required or authorized under the laws of this state, may be taken or administered in any other state, territory or district of the United States, before any judge, clerk or deputy clerk of any court of record, within such state, territory or district, having a seal, or before any notary public or justice of the peace, having a seal, in such state, territory or district; provided, however, such officer or person is authorized under the laws of such state, territory or district to take or administer oaths, affidavits and acknowledgments. The jurat, or certificate of proof or acknowledgment, shall be authenticated by the signature and official seal of such officer or person taking or administering the same; provided, however, when taken or administered by or before any judge, clerk or deputy clerk of a court of record, the seal of such court may be affixed as the seal of such officer or person.

(3) IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES.—Oaths, affidavits and acknowledgments, required or authorized by the laws of this state, may be taken or administered, in any foreign country, by or before any judge or justice of a court of last resort, any notary public of such foreign country, any minister, consul general, charge d'affaires, or consul of the United States resident in such country. The jurat, or certificate of proof or acknowledgment, shall be authenticated by the signature and official seal of the officer or person taking or administering the same; provided, however, when taken or administered by or before any judge or justice of a court of last resort, the seal of such court may be affixed as the seal of such judge or justice.

History.—§1, ch. 48, 1845; RS 1299; GS 1730; RGS 2945; CGL 4669; §1, ch. 23156, 1945; §7, ch. 24337, 1947.

90.011 Oaths, affidavits and acknowledgments; taken or administered by commissioned officer of U. S. armed forces.—

(1) Oaths, affidavits and acknowledgments required or authorized by the laws of this state may be taken or administered within or without the United States by or before any commissioned officer in active service of the armed forces of the United States with the rank of second lieutenant or higher in the army, air force or marine corps or ensign or higher in the navy or coast guard when the person required or authorized to make and execute the oath, affidavit or acknowledgment is a member of the armed forces of the United States, the spouse of such member or a person whose duties require his presence with the armed forces of the United States.

(2) A certificate endorsed upon the instrument which shows the date of the oath, affidavit or acknowledgment and which states in substance that the person appearing before the officer acknowledged the instrument as his act or made or signed the instrument under oath shall be sufficient for all intents and purposes. The instrument shall not be rendered invalid by the failure to state the place of execution or acknowledgment.

(3) If the signature, rank and branch of service or subdivision thereof of any commissioned officer appears upon such instrument, document or certificate no further proof of the authority of such officer so to act shall be required and such action by such commissioned officer shall be prima facie evidence that the person making such oath, affidavit or acknowledgment is within the purview of this act.

History.—§§1-3, ch. 61-196.

90.02 Affirmation equivalent to oath.—Whenever an oath shall be required by any law of this state in any proceeding, an affirmation may be substituted therefor.

History.—§1300 RS 1892; GS 1731; RGS 2946; CGL 4670.

90.04 Witnesses; competency of wife or husband.—In the trial of civil actions in this state, neither the husband nor the wife shall be excluded as witnesses, where either the said husband or wife is an interested party to the suit pending.

History.—§1, ch. 3124, 1879; §1, ch. 4029, 1891; GS 1502; RGS 2702; CGL 4369.

cf.—§932.31 Competency of witnesses in criminal cases.

90.05 Witnesses; as affected by interest.—No person, in any court, or before any officer acting judicially, shall be excluded from testifying as a witness by reason of his interest in the event of the action or proceeding, or because he is a party thereto; provided, however, that no party to such action or proceeding, nor any person interested in the event thereof, nor any person from, through or under whom any such party, or interested person, derives any interest or title, by assignment or otherwise, shall be examined as a witness in regard to any transaction or communication between such witness and a person at the time of such examination deceased, insane or lunatic, against the executor, or administrator, heir at law, next of kin, assignee, legatee, devisee or survivor of such deceased person, or the assignee or committee of such insane person or lunatic; but this prohibition shall not extend to any transaction or communication as to which any such executor, administrator, heir at law, next of kin, assignee, legatee, devisee, survivor or committeeman shall be examined on his own behalf, or as to which the testimony of such deceased person or lunatic shall be given in evidence.

History.—§1, ch. 1983, 1874; RS 1095; GS 1505; RGS 2705; CGL 4372.

90.06 Witnesses; atheists may testify.—Atheists, agnostics, and all persons who do not believe in the doctrine of future rewards and punishments, shall be permitted to testify in any of the courts of this state. They may solemnly affirm instead of taking an oath, and false testifying by said persons shall be perjury, as in case of other witnesses, and shall be punished as now prescribed by law.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 4036, 1891; GS 1503; RGS 2703; CGL 4370.

90.07 Witnesses; conviction of perjury disqualifies.—A conviction of perjury shall make incompetent any person to testify in any court in this state, even if such person has been pardoned.

History.—§72, Act Nov. 23, 1828; §6, Act Mar. 10, 1845; §54, ch. 1096, 1861; §1096 RS 1892; §1, ch. 4966, 1901; GS 1504; RGS 2704; CGL 4371.

90.08 Witnesses; conviction of other crimes as disqualification.—No person shall be disqualified to testify as a witness in any court of this state by reason of conviction of any crime except perjury, but his testimony shall be received in evidence under the rules, as any other testimony; provided, however, evidence of such conviction may be given to affect the credibility of the said witness, and that such conviction may be proved by questioning the proposed witness, or, if he deny it, by producing a record of his conviction. Testimony of the general reputation of said witness may likewise be given in evidence to affect his credibility.

History.—§72, Act Nov. 23, 1828; §25, Act Mar. 15, 1843; §6, Act Mar. 10, 1845; §54, ch. 1096, 1861; §§1096, 1097 RS 1892; §1, ch. 4966, 1901; GS 1506; RGS 2706; CGL 4373; §7, ch. 22858, 1945.

90.09 Impeachment of witness by party producing.—A party producing a witness shall not be allowed to impeach his credit by general evidence of bad character, but he may, in case the witness prove adverse, contradict him by other evidence, or prove that he has made at other times a statement inconsistent with his present testimony; but before such last mentioned proof can be given, the circumstances of the supposed statement, sufficient to designate the particular occasion, must be mentioned to the witness, and he must be asked whether or not he made such statement.

History.—§52, ch. 1096, 1861; RS 1101; GS 1510; RGS 2710; CGL 4377.

90.10 Impeachment of witness by adverse party.—If a witness, upon cross examination as to a former statement made by him relative to the subject matter of the cause and inconsistent with his present testimony, does not distinctly admit that he has made such statement, proof may be given that he did in fact make it; but before such proof can be given, the circumstances of the supposed statement, sufficient to designate the particular occasion, must be mentioned to witness, and he must be asked whether or not he made such statements.

History.—§53, ch. 1096, 1861; RS 1102; GS 1511; RGS 2711; CGL 4378.

90.11 Witnesses; procurement, subpoena, etc.—When the attendance of any person shall be required as a witness in any court, in any cause pending therein, the clerk of the said court, or the court if it has no clerk, on application, shall issue a writ of subpoena, directed to the person whose attendance shall be required, when such person resides in the state; provided, however, in justice of the peace courts, such witness must reside within twenty-five miles of the place where the court sits.

History.—§38, Nov. 23, 1828; RS 1098; §1, ch. 4397, 1895; GS 1507; RGS 2707; CGL 4374.

90.14 Witnesses; pay.—Witnesses in all cases, civil and criminal, in the circuit courts, county courts, county judge's courts, criminal courts of record now or hereafter created, and witnesses summoned before any referee, arbitrator or master in chancery, shall receive for each day's actual attendance three dollars, and also five cents per mile for actual distance traveled to and from the courts; in courts of justices of the peace, one dollar per day and the same mileage as in the circuit court.

History.—§5, ch. 3106, 1879; RS 1103; §1, ch. 4387, 1895; GS 1512; §2, ch. 5649, 1907; §1, ch. 6905, 1915; §1, ch. 7280, 1917; RGS 2712; CGL 4379; §1, ch. 29927, 1955.

90.141 Law enforcement officers; per diem, expenses.—Any law enforcement officer of any municipality, county or the state who shall appear as an official witness to testify at any hearing or law action in any court of this state as a direct result of his employment as a law enforcement officer shall be entitled to per diem and traveling expenses at the same rate provided for state employees under §112.061.

History.—§1, ch. 63-508.

90.15 Manner of obtaining compensation.—Compensation shall be paid to the witness by the party in whose behalf he is summoned, and the prevailing party may tax the same as costs against his adversary; but no person shall be compelled to attend court as a witness in any civil cause unless the party in whose behalf he is summoned shall first pay him the amount of compensation to which he would be entitled for mileage and per diem for one day, or the same is deposited with the executive officer of said court, and he shall not be compelled to attend thereafter unless paid in advance. But if any witness should serve without payment in advance, at the completion of his services he may exhibit his account for compensation, and when the same shall have been taxed and approved by the court wherein the services have been rendered, such bill shall have the force and effect of judgment and execution against the party in whose behalf the witness was summoned, and be collected by the sheriff as in other cases of execution. Any witness who shall charge and receive more than is really due shall forfeit and pay to the party injured four times the amount so unjustly claimed; and if he shall willfully make out his account for more than is lawfully due, he shall forfeit his compensation.

History.—§41, Nov. 11, 1828; RS 1104; §4, ch. 4387, 1895; GS 1513; RGS 2713; CGL 4380.

90.23 Witnesses, expert.—

(1) The term "expert witness" as used herein applies exclusively to a person duly and regularly engaged in the practice of his profession, who holds a professional degree from a university or college and has had special professional training and experience, or one possessed of special knowledge or skill in respect of the subject upon which he is called to testify.

(2) The testimony of any expert or skilled witness may be taken at any time before the trial of any civil cause in any of the courts of this state, in equity or at common law, upon reasonable notice, in the manner now provided for taking depositions de bene esse, notwithstanding the residence of the witness. Provided, however, that the court may, upon proper objection by opposing counsel, pursuant to due notice, disallow the taking of such deposition, and require the attendance of such witness in person at the trial of the cause, if the court finds that the personal appearance of such witness at the trial shall be necessary to insure a fair and impartial trial. Such objection shall be made to the court prior to the taking of the deposition, otherwise the same may be used in evidence, if otherwise admissible.

(3) An expert or skilled witness, whose deposition is taken, shall be allowed a witness fee in such reasonable amount as the trial judge may determine, and the same shall be taxed as costs.

(4) Nothing herein contained shall prevent the taking of any deposition as otherwise provided by law.

History.—§§1-4, ch. 23896, 1947; (1)-(3), §18, ch. 29737, 1955.

90.231 Expert witnesses; fee.—

(1) The term "expert witness" as used herein shall apply to any witness who offers himself in the trial of any civil action as an expert witness or who is subpoenaed to testify in such capacity before a state attorney in the investigation of a criminal matter, or before a grand jury, and who is permitted by the court to qualify and testify as such, upon any matter pending before any court.

(2) Any expert or skilled witness who shall have testified in any cause shall be allowed a witness fee including the cost of any exhibits used by such witness in the amount of ten dollars per hour or such amount as the trial judge may deem reasonable, and the same shall be taxed as costs.

History.—§§1, 2, ch. 25090, 1949; §19, ch. 29737, 1955; §1, ch. 59-201.

cf.—See City of Daytona Beach v. Humphreys, 53 So. 2d. 871.

90.241 Ministers as witnesses; confidential communications.—

(1) No minister of the gospel, no priest of the Catholic church, no rector of the Episcopal church, no ordained rabbi, no practitioner of Christian Science, and no regular minister of religion of any religious organization or denomination usually referred to as a church, over the age of twenty-one years, shall be allowed or required in giving testimony as a witness in any litigation, to disclose any information communicated to him in a confidential manner, properly entrusted to him in his professional capacity, and necessary to enable him to discharge the functions of his office according to the usual course of his practice or discipline, wherein such person so communicating such information about himself or another is seeking spiritual counsel and advice relative to and growing out of the information so imparted.

(2) Such prohibition shall not apply to cases where the communicating party, or parties, waives the right so conferred by personal appearance in open court so declaring, or by an affidavit properly sworn to by such a one, or ones, before some person authorized to administer oaths, and filed with the court wherein litigation is pending.

(3) Nothing in this section shall modify or in anywise change the law relative to "hearsay testimony."

(4) It shall be the duty of the judge of the court wherein such litigation is pending, when such testimony as herein prohibited is offered, to determine whether or not that person possesses the qualifications which prohibit him from testifying to the communications sought to be proved by him.

History.—§§1-4, ch. 59-144.

90.25 Uniform foreign depositions law.—

(1) This section may be cited as the uniform foreign depositions law.

(2) Whenever any mandate, writ or commission is issued out of any court of record in any other state, territory, district or foreign jurisdiction, or whenever upon notice or agreement it is required to take the testimony of a witness or witnesses in this state, witnesses may be compelled to appear and testify in the same manner and by the same process and proceeding as may be employed for the purpose of taking testimony in proceedings pending in this state.

(3) This section shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purposes to make uniform the law of those states which enact it.

History.—§§1-3, ch. 59-250.

92.01 Statutes; acts and resolutions of this state as evidence.—Printed copies of all statutes, acts and resolutions of the legislature of this state, whether of a public or private nature, which shall be published under the authority of the government, shall be admitted as sufficient evidence of such statutes, acts and resolutions, in all courts and on all occasions whatsoever. And such copies of private acts shall be so admitted without being specially pleaded.

History.—§6, Nov. 21, 1828; §27, Mar. 15, 1843; RS 1105; GS 1514; RGS 2714; CGL 4381.

92.02 Written laws of the United States and of the several states.—Printed copies of the statute laws of the United States, and of any of the several states and territories thereof, if purporting to be published under the authority of the respective governments, or if commonly admitted and read as evidence in their courts, shall be admitted in all courts and on all other occasions in this state as prima facie evidence of such laws.

History.—§28, Mar. 15, 1843; RS 1106; GS 1515; RGS 2715; CGL 4382.

92.03 The unwritten law of the United States and of the several states, etc.—The unwritten or common law of the United States, or any of the states or territories thereof, may be proved as facts by parol evidence; and the books of reports in cases adjudged in their courts may also be admitted as evidence of such law.

History.—§29, Mar. 15, 1843; RS 1107; GS 1516; RGS 2716; CGL 4383.

92.031 Judicial notice of foreign laws; uniform act.—

(1) Every court of this state shall take judicial notice of the common law and statutes of every state, territory and other jurisdiction of the United States.

(2) The court may inform itself of such laws in such manner as it may deem proper, and the court may call upon counsel to aid it in obtaining such information.

(3) The determination of such laws shall be made by the court and not by the jury, and shall be reviewable.

(4) Any party may also present to the trial court any admissible evidence of such laws, but, to enable a party to offer evidence of the law in another jurisdiction or to ask that judicial notice be taken thereof, reasonable notice shall be given to the adverse parties either in the pleadings or otherwise.

(5) The law of a jurisdiction other than those referred to in subsection (1) shall be an issue for the court, but shall not be subject to the foregoing provisions concerning judicial notice.

(6) This section shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it.

(7) This section may be cited as the uniform judicial notice of foreign law act.

(8) This section shall be deemed cumulative and in addition to all other laws governing proof or judicial notice of the laws of other jurisdictions.

History.—§§1-8, ch. 25110, 1949.

92.032 Foreign documents; procedure for admitting in evidence.—A copy of any official foreign document or record or entry therein, certified by the lawful custodian thereof, shall be admissible in evidence in all courts of this state in all cases now pending or hereafter commenced to prove the contents thereof when accompanied by a certificate of an official of such foreign government that such lawful custodian has certified such copy in his official capacity and in accordance with the laws of such foreign country and when this accompanying certificate is authenticated by a certificate of a consular officer of the United States resident in such foreign country, under the seal of his office, that the person signing such accompanying certificate is such official of such foreign government and the signature appearing on such accompanying certificate is genuine.

History.—§1, ch. 26842, 1951.

92.04 Foreign laws.—The existence and the tenor or effect of all foreign laws may be proven as facts by parol evidence; but if it shall appear that the law in question is contained in a written statute or code, the court may, in its discretion, reject any evidence of such law which is not accompanied by a copy of such code or statute.

History.—§30, Mar. 15, 1843; RS 1108; GS 1517; RGS 2717; CGL 4384.

92.05 Final judgments and decrees of circuit court.—All final judgments and decrees, heretofore or hereafter rendered and entered in the circuit courts of this state, and certified copies thereof shall be admissible as prima facie evidence in the several courts of this state of the entry and validity of such judgments and decrees.

History.—§1, ch. 4723, 1899; GS 1522; RGS 2722; CGL 4390; §7, ch. 22858, 1945.

92.06 Judgments and decrees of U. S. district courts as evidence in state courts.—All final judgments and decrees heretofore or hereafter to be rendered and entered in the United States district courts of this state and certified copies thereof are declared to be admissible as prima facie evidence in the several courts of this state of the entry and validity of such judgments and decrees.

History.—§1, ch. 14748, 1931; CGL 1936 Supp. 4391(1).

92.07 Judgments and decrees of this state as evidence.—The recitals in all judgments and decrees of the supreme court and of the several circuit courts of this state, when such judgment or decree appears regular and has been recorded as provided by law for more than twenty years, shall be admissible in evidence as prima facie proof of the truth of the facts so recited. Either party to any suit at law or equity may offer a properly certified copy of such judgment or decree entered and recorded more than twenty years prior to the institution of the suit in which the same is offered, and such copy shall be admissible in evidence as prima facie proof of the facts in said judgment or decree set forth; provided, however, the party offering the same shall at least ten days before the trial of the suit in which this copy is offered in evidence give notice to the opposite side of the intention to offer such copy in evidence and the purpose for which the same will be offered, and deliver with such notice a copy of the judgment or decree; provided, that nothing in this law shall render admissible in evidence any instrument of writing based on any judgment, deed of conveyance or power of attorney included in this law where any such instrument of writing has heretofore been brought in question in any action at law or in equity in any suit now pending or heretofore decided.

History.—§1, ch. 10111, 1925; CGL 4391.

92.08 Deeds and powers of attorney of record for 20 years or more as evidence.—The recitals in any deed of conveyance or power of attorney shall be admissible in evidence when offered in evidence by either party to any suit at law or in equity as prima facie proof of the truth of the facts therein recited, provided such deed of conveyance or power of attorney appears regular on its face and is a muniment in the chain of title under which the party offering the deed claims, and has been recorded as provided by law for more than twenty years prior to the institution of the suit in which it is offered; and provided further, that the party offering the deed of conveyance or power of attorney for such purposes shall at least ten days before the trial of the suit in which the said copy is offered in evidence give notice to the opposite side of the intention to offer such copy in evidence and the purpose for which the same will be offered, and deliver with such notice a copy of the deed or power of attorney. The original deed or power of attorney shall be offered unless the party offering the certified copy shall show that the original is not within the custody or control of the party offering the copy.

History.—§2, ch. 10111, 1925; CGL 4392.

92.09 Effect of reversal, etc., of such deeds, etc.—No copy of a judgment or decree shall be admitted in evidence as aforesaid when it shall be made to appear that such decree has been reversed, annulled, vacated, or set aside, or that the same in collateral proceedings has been successfully attacked. No deed shall be admitted in evidence as hereinbefore provided if it shall appear that the execution or validity of said deed has been successfully attacked in any proceedings to which the grantee therein named or those or any of them holding under such grantee has been a party or parties.

History.—§3, ch. 10111, 1925; CGL 4393.

92.10 Copies of records of courts.—Copies of the records and judicial proceedings of any court in this state, or of another state or territory, or of the United States, shall be admissible in evidence in all cases in this state, when authenticated by the attestation of the officer having charge of the records of such court, with the seal of such court annexed. And the recital by the person attesting that he has charge of such records shall be prima facie evidence that he has such charge.

History.—§26, Mar. 15, 1843; RS 1109; GS 1518; RGS 2718; CGL 4385.

92.11 Copies of wills and probates.—Copies of all wills and letters testamentary or of administration, recorded in any public office of record in this state, when duly certified by the keeper of said records, shall be received as evidence in all the courts of record in this state; and the probate of wills granted in any of the United States or territories thereof, or in any foreign state, duly authenticated and certified according to the laws of the state or territory, or of the laws of the foreign country or state where such probate may have been granted, shall likewise be received in evidence in all the courts of record in this state.

History.—§12, Nov. 20, 1828; RS 1110; GS 1519; RGS 2719; CGL 4386.

92.12 Copies of evidence of records of public officers in general.—In all cases where any record, pleading, document, deed, conveyance, paper or instrument of writing is, or may be, required or authorized to be made or filed or recorded in any public office of this state or of any county thereof, a copy thereof, duly certified under the hand and seal of office (if there be seal of office, and if there be no seal of office, then under the private seal of the officer having the custody or control of the same), to be a true and correct copy of the original, on file or of record in his office, shall in all cases and in all courts and places be admitted and received in evidence with the like force and effect as the original thereof might be. Nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to prevent any court or judge before whom such copies may be offered in evidence from requiring the party offering the same to produce or account for the original of such copy, if the same shall be deemed necessary or proper for the attainment of justice.

History.—§1, ch. 81, 1846; RS 1111; GS 1520; RGS 2720; CGL 4387.

92.13 Certified copies of records of certified copies as evidence.—Certified copies of the record of certified copies of deeds, mortgages, powers of attorney and other instruments referred to in §695.19 shall have the same effect as to notice and all other purposes whatsoever as the record of the original has or can have; and certified copies of the record of such certified copies shall be admissible and may be used in evidence in the same manner and with like effect and under the same conditions as certified copies of the record of the original instrument.

History.—§2, ch. 11989, 1927; CGL 4388.

92.14 United States deeds and patents and copies thereof as evidence.—Deeds and patents issued by the United States government and photographic copies made by authority of said government from its records thereof in the general land office, embracing lands in this state, and certified copies of the record thereof made in this state may be used in evidence in the courts of this state subject to the same rules that are applicable to the admission in evidence of other deeds and certified copies of the record thereof.

History.—§3, ch. 8565, 1921; CGL 5716.

92.15 Receipts in cases involving title from United States.—A receipt of a receiver of a United States land office shall in all cases be prima facie evidence that the title to the land covered by said receipt has passed from the United States to the person named in the receipt as having paid for the said land.

History.—§1, ch. 3915, 1889; RS 1119; GS 1537; RGS 2737; CGL 4409.

92.16 Certificates of commissioner of agriculture respecting the ownership, conveyance of and other facts in connection with public lands.—A certificate of the commissioner of agriculture, under his official seal, with respect to the present or past ownership by the state or by the school, seminary or internal improvement funds of any lands in this state, or of the conveyance or transfer of any such lands by said trustees of the internal improvement fund or of the state board of education or other officers or boards of the state having power to convey any such lands, or any facts shown by the public records of his office with respect to any of such lands, or the transfer, ownership or conveyance of the same, shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein certified, and every such certificate shall be admissible in evidence in all of the courts of this state. All such certificates shall, without other or further proof, be admitted to record and recorded in the deed books of the respective counties of this state where the lands mentioned in such certificates lie, and the record of every such certificate shall have the same force and effect for all purposes as the record of deeds.

History.—§1, ch. 2063, 1875; RS 1112; GS 1524; §1, ch. 7381, 1917; RGS 2724; CGL 4395; §7, ch. 22858, 1945.

92.16 Certificates of trustees of the internal improvement fund respecting the ownership, conveyance of and other facts in connection with public lands.—A certificate of the trustees of the internal improvement fund under their official seal, with respect to the present or past ownership by the state or by the school, seminary or internal improvement funds of any lands in this state, or of the conveyance or transfer of any such lands by said trustees of the internal improvement fund or of the state board of education or other officers or boards of the state having power to convey any such lands, or any facts shown by the public records of his office with respect to any of such lands, or the transfer, ownership or conveyance of the same, shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein certified, and every such certificate shall be admissible in evidence in all of the courts of this state. All such certificates shall, without other or further proof, be admitted to record and recorded in the deed books of the respective counties of this state where the lands mentioned in such certificates lie, and the record of every such certificate shall have the same force and effect for all purposes as the record of deeds.

History.—§3, ch. 63-294.

Note.—This section amended by Ch. 63-294 subject to ratification of amendment to §26, Art. IV, state constitution at 1964 general election.

92.17 Effect of seal of commissioner of agriculture.—The impression of the seal of the commissioner of agriculture upon any deed, agreement or contract, purporting to have been made by the trustees of the internal improvement fund, or by the members of the board of education, or by the commissioner of agriculture, shall entitle the same to be received in evidence in all courts and in all proceedings in this state.

History.—§1, ch. 3127, 1879; §§1, 2, ch. 3877, 1889; RS 1114; GS 1526; RGS 2726; CGL 4397.

92.17 Effect of seal of trustees of internal improvement fund.—The impression of the seal of the trustees of the internal improvement fund upon any deed, agreement or contract, purporting to have been made by the trustees of the internal improvement fund, or by the members of the board of education, shall entitle the same to be received in evidence in all courts and in all proceedings in this state.

History.—§4, ch. 63-294.

Note.—This section amended by ch. 63-294 subject to ratification of amendment to §26, Art. IV, state constitution at 1964 general election.

92.18 Certificates of state officers.—The certificate of any state officer, under his seal of office, as to any official act occurring in the course of the official business of the office in which he presides, shall be prima facie evidence of such fact.

History.—§1, ch. 3250, 1881; RS 1113; GS 1525; RGS 2725; CGL 4396.

92.19 Portions of records as evidence.—In all cases where any certified copy of any record, pleading, document, deed, conveyance, paper or instrument in writing, involving the title to real estate shall be lawfully admissible in evidence in any of the courts of this state, a certified copy of such portions of such instrument as shall contain the essential parts thereof and only such portion of the descriptive matter thereof as shall be involved in the case on trial, shall likewise be admissible in evidence; and in no case shall it be necessary to include in such certified copies descriptive matter not involved in the case in which such copy is offered in evidence.

History.—§1, ch. 10237, 1925; CGL 4400.

92.20 Certificates issued under authority of congress as evidence.—Every certificate issued under authority of the congress and every duly certified copy thereof under the seal of the United States governmental department having the authority to issue such certified copy, relating to the grade, classification, quality or condition of agricultural products shall be accepted in any court of this state as prima facie evidence of the true grade, classification, condition or quality of such agricultural product at the time of its inspection.

History.—§1, ch. 13568, 1929; CGL 1936 Supp. 4400(1).

92.21 Certificate of health officer in certain cases.—Every owner, agent or lessee of any building or buildings used for the purpose of providing board and lodgings for the entertainment of guests, containing ten rooms or more, who shall have obtained and posted a certificate as provided by law, may present the same as evidence in his defense in any suit in any of the courts in this state in which damages are claimed for injuries from alleged unsanitary conditions of said buildings and premises.

History.—§4, ch. 4606, 1899; GS 1527; RGS 2727; CGL 4398.

92.22 Use of former bills of exceptions as evidence; use of evidence given on former trial.—In the event it be made to appear to the satisfaction of the court that any evidence used at a trial of a civil case, whether oral or written, and incorporated in a bill of exceptions, or incorporated in the record proper can not be had, then the bill of exceptions taken at the trial, or the evidence incorporated in the record of the trial, may be used as evidence upon any subsequent trial or hearing of the case, or in any other civil cause or civil proceeding, as to any matter in issue at a previous trial or hearing; and, further, in the event that such evidence is not so preserved as before stated, then the same may be used at a subsequent trial or hearing, or in any other civil cause or civil proceeding involving substantially the same issue; if (1) such evidence has at such former trial been reported stenographically or reduced to writing in the presence of the court; (2) that the party against whom the evidence is offered, or his privy, was a party on the former trial; (3) that the issue is substantially the same in both cases; (4) that a substantial reason is shown why the original witness or document is not produced; and, (5) that the court is satisfied that the report of such evidence taken at such former trial is a correct report.

History.—§1, ch. 4135, 1893; GS 1523; §1, ch. 5897, 1909; §10, ch. 7836, 1919; RGS 2723; §1, ch. 8572, 1921; CGL 4394.

92.23 Rule of evidence in suits on fire policies for loss or damage to building.—In all suits or proceedings brought upon policies of insurance on buildings against loss or damage by fire, hereafter issued or renewed, the insurer shall not be permitted to deny that the property insured was worth, at the time of insuring it by the policy, the full sum insured therein on such property.

History.—§2, ch. 4677, 1899; GS 1528; RGS 2728; CGL 4399.

92.24 Certain tax deeds prima facie evidence of title.—All tax deeds issued under and pursuant to the provisions and in the form prescribed in and by the following acts and statutes of this state, to-wit: §10, chapter 4888, acts 1901 and said section as amended by §1, chapter 5152, acts 1903; §577 of the general statutes of Florida, 1906; §779 of the revised general statutes of Florida, 1920, and said section as amended by §12, chapter 14572, acts 1929; are declared to be prima facie evidence of the regularity of the proceedings from the valuation of the land described in such deeds respectively, by the assessors, to the date of the deed or deeds inclusive, and shall be so received in evidence in any and all the courts of this state, without regard to date of execution.

History.—§1, ch. 5150, 1903; §1, ch. 5152, 1903; GS 1521; §12, ch. 14572, 1929; RGS 2721; CGL 4389.

92.25 Records destroyed by fire; use of abstracts as evidence.—Whenever in the trial of any suit, or in any proceeding in any court of this state, it shall be made to appear that the original of any deed or other instrument of writing, or of any record of any court relating to any land, the title thereof or any interest therein being in controversy in such suit or proceeding, is lost or destroyed, or not within the power of the party to produce the same, and that the record thereof has been heretofore destroyed by fire, and that no certified copy of such record is in the possession or control of such party, it is lawful for such party, and the court shall receive as evidence, any abstract of title, or letter press copy thereof made in the ordinary course of business prior to such loss or destruction; and it is also lawful for any such party to offer, and the court shall receive as evidence, any copy, extract or minutes from such destroyed records, or from the original thereof, which were at the date of such destruction in the possession of any person or persons then engaged in the business of making abstracts of titles for others for hire.

History.—§1, ch. 4951, 1901; GS 1529; RGS 2729; CGL 4401.

92.26 Records destroyed by fire; use of sworn copies as evidence.—A sworn copy of any writing admissible under the above section made by the person or persons having possession of such writing shall be admissible in evidence; provided, the party desiring to use such sworn copy, as aforesaid, shall have given the opposite party a reasonable opportunity to verify the correctness of such copy; and provided, that no abstract of title or letter press copy thereof, extract or minutes or copy made admissible in evidence by this section, shall be so admitted by virtue hereof unless a copy thereof shall have been served on the opposite party, or his attorney or counsel, at least ten days before the same is offered in evidence. Nothing herein shall be construed to prevent the impeachment of such evidence, or its exclusion by the court for good and sufficient cause.

History.—§1, ch. 4951, 1901; GS 1530; RGS 2730; CGL 4402.

92.27 Records destroyed by fire; effect of abstracts in evidence.—In all cases in which any destroyed abstracts, copies, minutes, extracts, maps or plats, or copies thereof, purchased and placed in the clerk's office, as provided by law, or which are made admissible in evidence under any of the provisions of this revision, whether purchased or placed in such office or not, shall be received in evidence under this law, all deeds or other instruments of writing appearing thereby to have been executed by any person or persons, or in which they appear to have joined, shall (except as against any person or persons in actual possession of the land or lot described therein at the time of the destruction of the record of such county, claiming title thereto, otherwise than under sale for taxes or special assessments) be presumed to have been executed and acknowledged according to law; and all sales under powers, and all judgments, decrees and legal proceedings, and all sales thereunder (sale for taxes and assessments, and judgments and proceedings for the enforcement of taxes and assessments excepted) shall be presumed to be regular and correct, except as against the person or persons in this section above mentioned and excepted.

History.—§4, ch. 4951, 1901; GS 1531; RGS 2731; CGL 4403.

92.28 Records destroyed by fire; land title suits; what may be received in evidence.—In all suits or proceedings concerning any land, or any estate, interest or right in, or any lien or incumbrance upon the same, when it shall be made to appear that the original of any deed, conveyance, map, plat or other written or record evidence has been lost or destroyed, or is not in the power, custody or control of the party wishing to use it on the trial to produce same, and the record thereof has been heretofore destroyed by fire, the court shall receive all such evidence as may have a bearing on the case to establish the execution or contents of any deed, conveyance, map, plat record, or other written evidence so lost or destroyed; provided, that the testimony of the parties themselves shall be received only in such cases, and subject to all the qualifications in respect to such testimony as now provided by law; and provided further, that any writing in the hands of any person or persons, which may become admissible in evidence under the provisions of this section, or any part of this law, shall be rejected and not admitted as evidence, unless the same appear upon the face thereof without erasure, blemish, alteration, interlineation or interpolation in any material part, unless the same shall be explained to the satisfaction of the court, and appear fairly and honestly made in the ordinary course of business.

History.—§5, ch. 4951, 1901; GS 1532; RGS 2732; CGL 4404. cf.—§831.04 Penalty for changing record.

92.29 Photographic copies as evidence.—Photographic reproductions made by any federal, state, county or municipal governmental board, department or agency, in the regular course of business, of any original record, document, paper or instrument in writing, which is, or may be, required or authorized to be made or filed or recorded with said board, department or agency shall in all cases and in all courts and places be admitted and received as evidence with a like force and effect as the original would be, whether said original record, document, paper or instrument in writing is in existence or not.

History.—§1, ch. 20866, 1941.

92.30 Presumption of death; official findings as evidence.—A written finding of presumed death, made by the secretary of war, the secretary of the navy, or other officer or employee of the United States authorized to make such findings, pursuant to the federal missing persons act (56 Stat. 143, 1092, and P. L. 408, Ch. 371, 2d Sess. 78th Cong.; 50 U. S. C. App. Supp. 1001-17), as now or hereafter amended, or a duly certified copy of such finding, shall be received in any court, office or other place in this state as evidence of the death of the person therein found to be dead, and the date, circumstances and place of his disappearance.

History.—§1, ch. 22866, 1945.

92.31 Missing persons; prisoners; etc.; official reports as evidence.—An official written report or record, or duly certified copy thereof, that a person is missing, missing in action, interned in a neutral country, or beleaguered, besieged or captured by an enemy, or is dead, or is alive, made by any officer or employee of the United States authorized by the act referred to in §92.30, or by any other law of the United States to make same, shall be received in any court, office or other place in this state as evidence that such person is missing, missing in action, interned in a neutral country, or beleaguered, besieged or captured by an enemy, or is dead, or is alive, as the case may be.

History.—§2, ch. 22866, 1945.

92.32 Official findings and reports; presumption of authority to issue or execute.—For the purposes of this law, any finding, report or record, or duly certified copy thereof, purporting to have been signed by such an officer or employee of the United States as is described above, shall prima facie be deemed to have been signed and issued by such an officer or employee pursuant to law, and the person signing same shall prima facie be deemed to have acted within the scope of his authority. If a copy purports to have been certified by a person authorized by law to certify the same, such certified copy shall be prima facie evidence of his authority so to certify.

History.—§3, ch. 22866, 1945.

92.33 Written statement concerning injury to person or property; admission as evidence.—Every person who shall take a written statement by any injured person with respect to any accident or with respect to any injury to person or property shall, at the time of taking such statement, furnish to the person making such statement a true and complete copy thereof. Any person having taken, or having possession of any written statement or a copy of such statement, by any injured person with respect to any accident or with respect to any injury to person or property shall, at the request of the person who made such statement or his personal representative, furnish the person who made such statement or his personal representative a true and complete copy thereof. No written statement by an injured person shall be admissible in evidence or otherwise used in any manner in any civil action relating to the subject matter thereof unless it shall be made to appear that a true and complete copy thereof was furnished to the person making such statement at the time of the making thereof, or, if it shall be made to appear that thereafter a person having possession of such statement refused, upon request of the person who made the statement or his personal representatives to furnish him a true and complete copy thereof.

History.—§1, ch. 26482, 1951.

92.35 Uniform photographic copies of business and public records as evidence law.—

(1) If any business, institution, member of a profession or calling, or any department or agency of government, in the regular course of business or activity has kept or recorded any memorandum, writing, entry, print, representation or combination thereof, of any act, transaction, occurrence or event, and in the regular course of business has caused any or all of the same to be recorded, copied or reproduced by any photographic, photostatic, micro-film, micro-card, miniature photographic, or other process which accurately reproduces or forms a durable medium for so reproducing the original, the original may be destroyed in the regular course of business unless held in a custodial or fiduciary capacity or unless its preservation is required by law. Such reproduction, when satisfactorily identified, is as admissible in evidence as the original itself in any judicial or administrative proceeding whether the original is in existence or not and an enlargement or facsimile of such reproduction is likewise admissible in evidence if the original reproduction is in existence and available for inspection under direction of court. The introduction of a reproduced record, enlargement or facsimile, does not preclude admission of the original.

(2) This section shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose of making uniform the law of those states which enact it.

(3) This section may be cited as the uniform photographic copies of business and public records as evidence act.

History.—§§1-3, ch. 26901, 1951.
cf.—§119.04 Photographing and destruction of public records; alternative procedure.

§321.23 Department of public safety records, photographing; use as evidence.

92.36 Business records as evidence; uniform act.—

(1) The term "business" shall include every kind of business, profession, occupation, calling or operation of institutions, whether carried on for profit or not.

(2) A record of an act, condition or event, shall, in so far as relevant, be competent evidence if the custodian or other qualified witness testifies to its identity and the mode of its preparation, and if it was made in the regular course of business, at or near the time of the act, condition or event, and if, in the opinion of the court, the sources of information, method and time of preparation were such as to justify its admission.

(3) This section shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it.

(4) This section may be cited as the uniform business records as evidence act.

(5) This section shall be deemed cumulative and in addition to all other laws governing shop books, books of account and business records as evidence.

History.—§§1-5, ch. 25111, 1949; tr. §90.24.

92.37 Books of account as evidence.—In all suits the shop books and books of account of either party, in which the charges and entries shall have been originally made, shall be admissible in evidence in favor of such party; but the credibility of such evidence shall be judged of by the jury in case of a trial at law, and by the court in case of a hearing in equity.

History.—§1, ch. 662, 1854; RS 1120; GS 1538; RGS 2738; CGL 4410; tr. §90.21, 1959.

92.38 Comparison of disputed writings.—Comparison of a disputed writing with any writing proved to the satisfaction of the judge to be genuine, shall be permitted to be made by the witnesses; and such writings, and the evidence of witnesses respecting the same, may be submitted to the jury, or to the court in case of a trial by the court, as evidence of the genuineness, or otherwise, of the writing in dispute.

History.—§55, ch. 1096, 1861; RS 1121; GS 1539; RGS 2739; CGL 4411; tr. §90.20, 1959.

92.39 Evidence of individual's claim against the state in suits between them.—In suits between the state and individuals, no claim for a credit shall be allowed upon trial, but such as shall appear to have been presented to the comptroller for his examination, and by him disallowed in whole or in part, unless it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the court that the defendant is, at the time of the trial, in possession of vouchers not before in his power to procure, and that he was prevented from exhibiting a claim for such credit at the comptroller's office by unavoidable accident.

History.—§4, Feb. 10, 1837; RS 1122; GS 1540; RGS 2740; CGL 4412; tr. §90.22, 1959.

95.12 Real actions; limitations, generally.—No action for the recovery of real property, or for the recovery of the possession thereof, shall be maintained unless it appear that the plaintiff, his ancestor, predecessor or grantor, was seized or possessed of the premises in question within seven years before the commencement of such action.

History.—§2, ch. 1869, 1872; RS 1287; GS 1718; RGS 2932; CGL 4652.

95.13 Real actions; possession by legal owner presumed.—In every action for the recovery of real property, or of the possession thereof, the person establishing a legal title to the premises shall be presumed to have been possessed thereof within the time prescribed by law; and the occupation of such premises by any other person shall be deemed to have been under and in subordination to the legal title, unless it appear that such premises have been held and possessed adversely to such legal title for seven years before the commencement of such action.

History.—§4, ch. 1869, 1872; RS 1289; GS 1720; RGS 2934; CGL 4654.

95.14 Real actions; limitation upon action founded upon title.—No cause of action or defense to an action founded upon the title to real property, or to rents, or to service out of the same, shall be effectual unless it appear that the person prosecuting the action, or making the defense, or under whose title the action is prosecuted or the defense is made, or the ancestor, predecessor or grantor of such person, was seized or possessed of the premises in question within seven years before the accruing of the right of action or defense in respect to which such action is prosecuted or defense made, or unless it appear that the title to such premises was derived from the United States or the state, within seven years before the commencement of such action; and the period of limitation shall not begin to run until the passage of the title from the state or the United States.

History.—§3, ch. 1869, 1872; RS 1288; GS 1719; RGS 2933; CGL 4653.

95.15 Real actions; no adverse possession against the state and its agencies.—Adverse possession shall not run against the state, or any state board or state agency, holding a purchase money mortgage on lands conveyed by the state, or any state board or state agency.

History.—§1, ch. 17107, 1935; CGL 1936 Supp. 4656(1).

95.16 Real actions; adverse possession under color of title; requirements.—Whenever it appears that the occupant, or those under whom he claims, entered into possession of premises under claim of title exclusive of any other right, founding such claim upon a written instrument as being a conveyance of the premises in question, or upon the decree or judgment of a competent court, and that there has been a continued occupation and possession of the premises included in such instrument, decree, or judgment for seven years, the premises so included shall be deemed to have been held adversely, except that, where the premises so included consist of a tract divided into lots, the possession of one lot shall not be deemed a possession of any other lot of the same tract; provided, that adverse possession commencing after December 31, 1945, shall not be deemed to be adverse possession under color of title unless and until the instrument of conveyance of the premises in question upon which such claim of title is founded shall be duly recorded in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of the county in which the premises are situated.

History.—§5, ch. 1869, 1872; RS 1920; GS 1721; §1, ch. 19253, 1939; RGS 2935; CGL 4655; §1, ch. 22897, 1945.

95.17 Definition of possession and occupation under color of title.—For the purpose of constituting an adverse possession by any person claiming a title founded upon a written instrument, or a judgment or decree, land shall be deemed to have been possessed and occupied in any of the following cases:

(1) Where it has been usually cultivated or improved; or

(2) Where it has been protected by a substantial enclosure. All contiguous land protected by such substantial enclosure shall be deemed to be premises included within the written instrument, judgment, or decree, within the purview of §95.16; or

(3) Where (although not enclosed) it has been used for the supply of fuel, or of fencing timber for the purpose of husbandry, or for the ordinary use of the occupant; or

(4) Where a known lot or single farm has been partly improved, the portion of such farm or lot which may have been left not cleared or not enclosed according to the usual course and custom of the adjoining country shall be deemed to have been occupied for the same length of time as the part improved or cultivated.

History.—§6, ch. 1869, 1872; RS 1290; GS 1721; RGS 2935; CGL 4655; §2, ch. 19253, 1939; §2, ch. 22897, 1945.

95.18 Real actions; adverse possession without color of title; requirements.—Where it shall appear that there has been an actual continued occupation for seven years of premises under a claim of title exclusive of any other right, but not founded upon a written instrument, or a judgment or decree, the premises so actually occupied, and no other, shall be deemed to have been held adversely; provided that during the period of seven years aforesaid the person so claiming adverse possession without color of title shall have within a year after entering into possession made a return of said property by proper legal description to the assessor of the county wherein situated and has subsequently, during each year paid all taxes theretofore or thereafter levied and assessed against the same and matured installments of special improvement liens theretofore or thereafter levied and assessed against the same by the state and county and by city or town, if such property be situated within any incorporated city or town, before such taxes become delinquent.

History.—§7, ch. 1869, 1872; RS 1291; GS 1722; RGS 2936; CGL 4656; §1, ch. 19254, 1939.

95.19 Definition of possession and occupation without color of title.—For the purpose of constituting an adverse possession by a person claiming title not founded upon a written instrument, judgment or decree, land shall be deemed to have been possessed and occupied in the following cases only:

(1) Where it has been protected by substantial enclosure; or,

(2) Where it has been usually cultivated or improved;

(3) Provided, however, no such land shall be deemed to have been held adversely under the provisions of subsections (1) and (2) above unless within one year after the entry by such adverse owner, he has returned the said property by proper legal description to the assessor of the county wherein situated, and has subsequently, during each year, paid all taxes theretofore or thereafter levied and assessed against the same and matured installments of special improvement liens theretofore or thereafter levied and assessed against the same by the state and county and by any city or town, if such property be situated within any incorporated city or town, before such taxes become delinquent, except that provision (3) shall not be applicable to suits pending on June 5, 1939.

History.—§8, ch. 1869, 1872; RS 1291; GS 1722; RGS 2936; CGL 4656; §2, ch. 12954, 1939.

95.20 Real actions; adverse possession against persons under disability.—If a person entitled to commence any action for the recovery of real property, or to make an entry or defense founded on the title to real property, or to rents or services out of the same, be, at the time such title shall descend or accrue, either: (1) within the age of twenty-one years; (2) insane; or (3) imprisoned, the time during which said disability shall continue shall not be deemed any portion of the time in this chapter limited for the commencement of such action, or the making of such entry or defense; but such action may be commenced, or entry or defense made, within the period of seven years after such disability shall cease, or after the death of the person entitled who shall die under such disability; but such action shall not be commenced, or entry or defense made, after that period.

But adverse possession as hereinbefore defined for thirty years shall confer title even as against persons under the disabilities mentioned in this section.

A married woman may prosecute any action concerning her land, in her own name, and without joining her husband.

History.—§9, ch. 1869, 1872; RS 1292; GS 1723; RGS 2937; CGL 4657.

95.21 Real actions; adverse possession against lands purchased at sales made by executors, etc.—The title of any purchaser, or his assigns, who shall have held possession for three years, of any property, real or personal, purchased at any sale made by an executor, administrator, or guardian, shall not be questioned by any heir, distributee, or ward, upon the ground of any irregularity in the conveyance or of any insufficiency or irregularity in the court proceedings authorizing the same, whether jurisdictional or not; nor shall such title be questioned at any time by anyone who has received the money to which he was entitled, arising from such sale; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be deemed to bar an action for fraud, nor an action against the executor, administrator, or guardian for personal liability for loss or damage to any heir, distributee, or ward.

History.—§1, ch. 3134, 1879; RS 1293; GS 1724; RGS 2938; CGL 4658; §1, ch. 20954, 1941; §3, ch. 22897, 1945.

95.22 Limitation upon claims by remaining heirs, when deed made by one or more.—When any person owning lands, or any interest in lands in Florida, shall die, and a conveyance or conveyances shall be made by one or more of his or her heirs or devisees purporting to convey either singly or in the aggregate the entire interest of the deceased in such lands, or any part thereof, or the entire title thereto, then no person shall after seven years from the date of the record thereof, in the county where the lands lie, claim or recover the whole, or any part, of the real estate so conveyed.
